Times May Change, But The Need To Support A Free Press Has Not

BY KATHY KIELY
Courtesy of National Newspaper Week

Once upon a time, having a job at a newspaper meant working in one of the most imposing buildings in town, inhaling the acrid aroma of fresh ink and the dusty breath of cheap newsprint and feeling mini-earthquakes under our feet every time the presses started to roll. For those of us old enough to remember those days, National Newspaper Week could be one big, fat elegiac nostalgia trip.

Today, many newspapers are ditching the imposing buildings for low-rent storefronts and have outsourced the printing. Those could be the newspapers that are left. My hometown had three daily newspapers when I was a kid. Now it's down to one that shows up in print just three days a week. Youngstown, Ohio became the first major American city without any newspaper at all. As University of North Carolina professor Penny Abernathy has documented in her groundbreaking research on the news desertification of America, upwards of 1,300 communities that had newspapers of their own in 2004 now have none.

But if we ink-stained wretches fall prey to the temptation to spend National Newspaper Week crying in our beers, we'd be wasting an opportunity.

Real newshounds don't wallow in the cozy memories of a sepia-stained past. We are about the now and the next. Our job has always been to help our communities recognize the today's challenges of today and turn them into the tomorrow's promise.

Yes, it's awkward that one of today's biggest challenges involves us — the newshounds. We've always been better at telling your story than telling our own. Yet this is your story too: The future of democracy is inextricably bound up with the future of a free press.

So here, dear readers, are some facts you need to know:

Newspapers Are More Than A Medium

Increasingly, for both younger and older readers, that low-grade paper with come-off-on-your-hands ink is being replaced by bits and bytes that light up your phone or tablet or computer.

What can't be replaced, however, and what should never be made obsolete is the primary function that newspapers have traditionally performed: Deploying small armies of reporters, photographers and editors to find and produce stories on everything from natural disasters to political scandals to your neighbor's golden wedding anniversary, to catch the mistakes before they make it into print and to correct them when they do (hey, we're human).

"There are still plenty of sources of whole-grain news out there. Some of them, are non-profit news organizations; some are launching web start-ups to fill the gap left when legacy media outlets folded. And some are still at those legacy outlets, trying hard to find new revenue streams."

You Never Paid For News

That 25 or 35 cents you used to plunk into a newspaper box didn't come close to covering what it cost to produce what we newsroom denizens like to call "the daily miracle."

The high cost of public service journalism has always been subsidized by advertisers.

And the big dogs in the economic equation were not the car dealers or department stores who bought those big, full-page displays.

At most newspapers, classified ads produced the lion's share of revenues.

The Internet broke that model.

Newspaper advertising revenue has nosedived to levels that are less than one-third of what they were in 2005, a study from the Pew Research Center found. The result is all too sadly predictable: newspapers employed fewer than half the number of people in 2016 that they did at the beginning of this century, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Social Media ≠ News. And It's Not Free.

Readers might not notice the hollowing out of newsrooms because today, we have, if anything, too much information at our disposal.

The same digital revolution that blew a hole in newsroom budgets and turned Craigslist and eBay into advertising behemoths also created new paths to publication. According to a 2018 survey by the Pew Research Center, more Americans now get their news from social media than from newspapers.

But not everyone who's publishing via smartphone and YouTube is a promising writer or videographer giving voice to underserved communities. A lot are peddlers of propaganda, snake oil, disinformation and dis-sension.

Nor is social media as free as it seems: We pay by providing our personal data every time we log on and, often, every time we make a purchase IRL (in real life). Social media sites use that data to deliver information that's likely to keep you on their sites: A resident of Moberly, Missouri who shops at Cabela's and is Facebook "friends" with Donald Trump supporters is likely to get a very different news feed on Facebook than one who lives in New York City, listens to NPR and "likes" former President Barack Obama's page.

It's a recipe for never having your received opinions challenged or your mind changed.

You Can Do Something About This

OK, I will cop to waxing sentimental for the rumble of the printing presses underfoot. But I'm not arguing that we should turn off the Internet and replace it with ink and paper. What I do think readers can do this National Newspaper Week is become more mindful about their information diet.

Right now, a lot of us are living on nutrition-free snacks.

There are still plenty of sources of whole-grain news out there. Some of them, are non-profit news organizations; some are launching web start-ups to fill the gap left when legacy media outlets folded. And some are still at those legacy outlets, trying hard to find new revenue streams.

Here are some ways to recognize purveyors of real news:

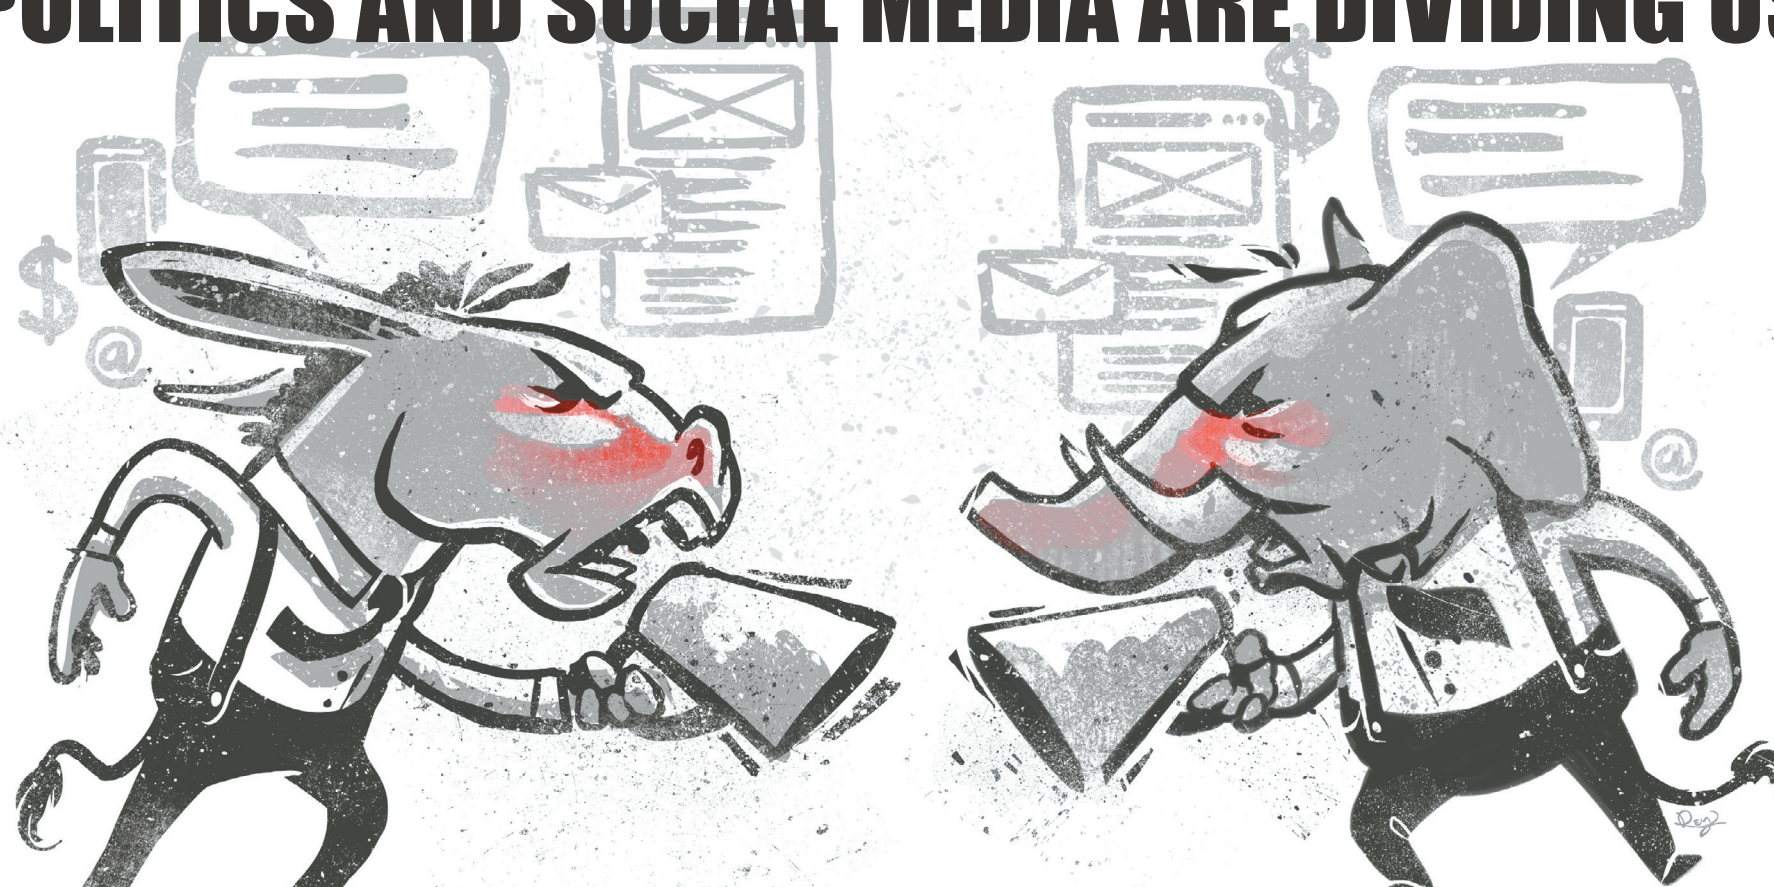

- Do they sometimes make you a bit uncomfortable by raising doubts about what you thought to be true?
- Do they make it easy for you to reach a real human being if you have a question or a complaint?
- Do they correct their mistakes?
- Do they ask you to subscribe or donate? Because gathering facts costs.

Yes, supporting real news is a more expensive proposition for readers than it used to be, but it's cheap when you consider what you're really paying for.

As my former Gannett News Service colleague, University of Kentucky journalism professor Al Cross put in a bumper sticker he had commissioned a couple years back, "Support Democracy: Subscribe."

$3,100; LPRF Grant (Walking Trail Project) $228,150; Principal and Interest Payments $739,075. A $10 annual wheel tax on Carroll County automobile owners will continue until beyond the year 2034. According to information coming from the Carroll County Watershed Authority in the year 2016. The tax has been collected from the year 2003 to 2021 and generated in excess of $4.4 million. Originally, the proposal indicated the county motorist’s portion would not exceed $3 million of a lake that was first estimated to cost $10 million. Carroll County voters approved the $10 wheel tax on each motorized vehicle in a referendum on November 7, 2000, when the vote was 5,441 “for” and 4,851 “no” to add the wheel tax and pay 30 percent of the total estimated cost of $10 million. The wheel tax started after the Watershed Authority received its 404 permit for construction from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. An estimated 70 percent was projected to be paid by state and federal grants. Additionally, the County of Carroll granted the Watershed Authority the real estate taxes on the ‘improved’ value of the privately-owned lake area property until the debt is retired. The county will retain the share of taxes on the value of the land before it was “improved” with a structure. In 2020-21, the county of Carroll voted to limit the “growth tax” to a maximum of $50,000 annually. Last year, after repeated failed attempts to arrange a meeting with the CCWA, the Carroll County Budget Committee took the action to limit the funding. Carroll County Watershed Authority is not a division of the county of Carroll and the County is not obligated on the more than $10 million indebtedness of the CCWA. The Town of Huntingdon did commit to serve as the guarantor of the CCWA’s bonds, making the city liable for the bonds and notes of indebtedness. The CCWA’s financial audit is available for inspection on the Tennessee Comptroller’s website. According to the audit, the CCWA had net losses in 2020 of $387,000 compared to $381,000 in 2019. In other business, Authority members approved a change in rates at the RV park. The daily rate is $35 (senior $30), weekly rate is $175 ($150 senior), Monthly Rate is $350 ($300 senior) and Annual Rate is $2,000 ($1,700 senior). The camping season is March 1 to October 30. A maximum number of people is eight per campsite.

Included in the assessment center were the parks and recreation director from Jackson and Paris along with the Human Resources and Risk Management consultant for Public Entity Partners. The process included two MTAS consultants one is in charge of Human Resources for MTAS in West TN. The candidates were scored in nine areas. Hollowell was the only candidate to excel in all nine areas. After the candidates were scored, the council members were invited to arrange a time when each could come in and review the scores and resumes and make their recommendations. Although Hollowell does not have a background in parks and recreation, he was highly recommended by the assessment board and the MTAS staff. October 12 is his official start date and will begin attending various conferences and working towards the necessary certifications.

In new business, there was no one at the meeting to comment on the zoning map amendment. So the board moved on to the second and final reading to rezone two properties located at 22000 East Main Street from B-2 (General Business) to M-2 (Heavy Industrial) in order to place a landscape business at that address. Another ordinance was the first reading of an amendment to the city budget which increased the budget for Economic Development Activities from $61,500 to $541,500. That is an increase of $480,000, which will be transferred to the Carroll County Watershed Authority for the 1000-Acre Lake. It also increases the total estimated operating expenses to slightly over $5.5 million dollars and creates an estimated deficit of $475,680 in the city’s operating budget. With no discussion or questions, the board approved the ordinance on first reading and will vote on the second reading at next month’s board meeting.

THE MCKENZIE BANNER
Weekly 150
E: jmartin@mckenziebanner.com By Jason R. Martin
Celebrating McKenzie's oldest business and historical record

Mary Ruth Devault

Librarian, Historian and Curator

Outside of Dr. James Potts, Mary Ruth Devault may have been the most knowledgeable of local history in Carroll County. Indirectly, either through her research or curation, she was a treasure trove of knowledge in my work on the Weekly 150. She is best remembered as the librarian for the McKenzie Memorial Library along with being the curator and generalist for the Gordon Browning Museum. Surprisingly enough through the databases and files very little was written about Mary

Ruth; she wrote more about everyone else than she did about herself. Much to my surprise, her story doesn't start in Carroll County but rather in Truax, Saskatchewan, Canada. Her parents, James Alonzo (1878-1963) and Ethel Coleman Trawick (1892-1967) were living in the Saskatchewan providence where J.A. was farming. The Trawicks moved from the McLemoresville area to North Dakota and Canada sometime after 1911 following the death of J.A.'s first wife, Annie Harness (1882-1911). A year after Ruth's birth in 1917, the Trawicks were back in Carroll County where the family had been since 1828 after leaving North Carolina. J.A. purchased a farm in McLemoresville and later owned a grocery store. In 1941, Julian and Mary Ruth were married. Julian work for H.I.S. and Wilker Brothers before retiring in 1975. They had three children: James (1943-2008), Mary Julian (1947-1947) and Frances Elaine (1954-2016). For several years, the Devaults called McLemoresville home. When McLemoresville was incorporated in 1951, Julian was elected mayor. The family later moved to Hohenwald and then McKenzie. Mary Ruth attended Bethel College and was a former cafeteria employee of Bethel College and McKenzie School System before becoming the librarian at McKenzie's public library. Son, Jim, attended Bethel College before graduating from Tennessee Technological University in 1965 with a degree in Electronic Engineering. After graduation was employed by the US Air Force in Mobile, Alabama from 1965 to 1968 and by NASA at Kennedy Space Center from 1968 to 2002, as a communications engineer for the Space Program. Daughter, Elaine, graduated from Bethel College with a business degree and was in the Carroll County Historical Society. Mary Ruth founded the Carroll County Historical Society and the Gordon Browning Museum, which was chartered in McKenzie in 1971. The museum began as an annex to the McKenzie Memorial Library. It was known as the Tennessee Room and encouraged an interest in Tennessee history and genealogy. Soon genealogy classes were being taught, which led to the creation of the Carroll County Historical Society. For over 25 years, she procured funds and worked on a shoestring budget with the help of volunteers to make the Gordon Browning Museum and Genealogical Library one of the strongest archival depots in the state outside of the State Archives in Nashville. Her and Julian's friendship with Governor Gordon Browning led to the accusation of the late governor's memorial and subsequent relocation from Huntingdon to McKenzie. "Gordon Browning left his memorabilia to Mary Ruth Devault to take care of it. She didn't have a place large to display everything he had given her," explained former Browning Museum curator Jere Cox. She wanted the former post office to display his most precious items. Cox explained, "We bought it back in 1987, Mary Ruth was the director at this time, she bid on it, $10,000 and the post office said we'll let you have it for $20,000... So she kept the money." After working with state and local government officials, Mary Ruth was able acquire the old post office and moved the memorabilia and genealogical records to their new home. She was named Carroll County Historian by the county commission. She was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a past member of the Business and Professional Women's Club of McKenzie and a member of the Bethel College Alumni Association.

In 2001, Mary Ruth died after battling cancer. She was buried next to Julian in Mount Olivet Cemetery in McKenzie.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Former Residents, Business Owners Enjoyed Return Visit to McKenzie

It was with joy and excitement to have visited McKenzie the Tea Festival weekend. The city looked vibrant and fresh. Both the business and residential areas visually looked well cared for. We attended both the high school and university football games which were very enjoyable. The Tea Festival and Farmer's Market were a hoot. I purchased a carton of 18 green eggs at the market for a very reasonable price. We had good meals at the local restaurants that have sprung up the last few years. The overall experience made me remember how McKenzie was a fantastic place to have been raised in and it still seems like a wonderful small town to be parents. We can all be proud of this little city. The City Park was nicely decorated and inviting, however one of the vendors was selling F..Biden flags-this park is not the place to promote their agenda. We do not need Confederate, F..Trump, or F..Biden flags in our park where we have so wonderfully promoted the diversity and history of our city and county's veterans. The City of McKenzie and the McKenzie Banner are doing a great job. Carry on, Jack and Judy Hall 215 Westchester Dr. Fairfield Glade, TN 865-271-8870

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES ...But Then Face To Face

Temple Watson reminded me a lot of Mr. Ed Wiley. Both were fairly quiet. Both were very thoughtful. Both knew a lot more than I did. Both were remarkable Christian men. And to my everlasting good fortune, both took "a liking" to me... and both had a profound impact on my life! Of course, on closer examination of these two men, it becomes overwhelmingly obvious that I wasn't the only one they took a personal "liking" to. Not by a wide country mile! And we don't know this side of Heaven the "profound impacts" they tossed out like blue ribbons at the county fair. Good gracious alive, they each made a career out of sharing, giving, helping and loving. One showed up early in my earthly journey, one waited until I got old enough to really need help. Both were so humble they would never take credit for, or even seem to notice, the helping hand they extended so willingly. Mr. Wiley taught the youth Sunday School class at the Baptist Church in my hometown. Now, some of y'all know me pretty well. You reckon I needed help back in those days... I was one of those backsliding, heathen, selfish, proud, ne'er-do-wells, way-faring strangers that Brother L. H. Hatcher preached about each Sunday. Mr. Wiley didn't seem to notice my errant ways. He quietly and unflaggingly pointed me toward a better way. I don't remember each lesson or every specific talk we had. But the message was branded on my heart. Mr. Wiley loved me. But more importantly, Jesus loves me.

I start off on some sinful thinking path today, 60 years later, and Ed Wiley jumps in front of me with his hands up. I met Temple Watson in 1969. I showed up at Port St. Joe High School ready to teach and coach the world into submission. Mr. Watson was the head of the history department. And he was as organized...as I was disorganized. To his credit, he never once questioned my knowledge of the subject matter. But he recognized my shortcomings on having a plan to go about it. And he cared that I got it right. He patiently explained that I wasn't "just" teaching history, I was sharing it with 30 individual young people in each class. That, in itself, was a sobering thought. AND the key to the rest of my teaching career! I'm telling you, Temple had more "walking around sense" than the rest of the world put together. He didn't shout if from the rooftops. He didn't flaunt it or even exploit it. He just quietly went about the business of using it to the benefit of everyone around him. Temple saved me time. And worry. On many occasions! I will give you one example. I get ready to retire. I'm in the Florida Retirement System, as was he. The options were mind boggling. They have a DROP program which I didn't understand. And you had to pick among several preferences that would affect your potential benefits. I asked Temple what he had chosen; and immediately signed up for the exact same thing! And went to bed and slept like a baby. I knew he had done the due diligence—for both of us! And good gosh Almighty, what a world we could live in if we would all emulate his spiritual character. You ever wonder what "the pillar of the church" looks like... If you have seen Temple you have the answer. Of course, he would be the last guy to say that or even think it! That was part of his greatness. He joined the Gideon Ministry in 1989. I lost count years ago of the number of times we toted Bibles into every hotel and motel in Gulf and Franklin Counties. Temple did it with a smile and a prayer of hope...for someone he would never meet. And oh, how Temple Watson could pray! As Gideons, we met each Monday morning for prayer. You listen to a guy, on his knees, praying every week for 32 years and you get an insight into his heart and soul. Temple was the Nathanael of the Bible for me. His "home going" has left a hole in the First Baptist Church here. And the Gideon Ministry. And in our community. I saw numerous individuals at the funeral that I had heard Temple call out their name before the throne of God on many occasions. What a blessing for them! Common knowledge and history tell us we are all expendable and replaceable. That someone will come along and pick up the mantle. But this is one time I'm not so sure that is correct... Respectfully, Kes

Clarksburg's City Hall Renovation Delayed

CLARKSBURG (September 27) — Clarksburg's Mayor and Aldermen met and Mayor Howell Wayne Todd said the bid opening for the city hall renovation project did not yield a successful bidder.

"When we began this project three years ago, we had no way of knowing that our bidding schedule would coincide with the terrible bidding climate we currently face. Interested contractors cannot get stable quotes on materials, their labor force is thin, and COVID further complicates the situation," Todd said. "If they can't get pricing, they cannot formulate a bid. We had one bid, and it was almost double our projected cost." He said if efforts fail to negotiate the price to be within range, the City would re-bid the project in a few months and hope that the bidding and building climate will be improved. Todd said "Our grant from Rural Development gives us several months to complete the project, and contractors are hopeful for a more stable supply chain and workforce in the coming months." The Aldermen agreed with Mayor Todd to go ahead with some immediate work to renovate the kitchen area in City Hall.

In other business, the Mayor informed the aldermen of a couple of lots on Highway 22 in need of mowing. One owner has responded, and the property will be mowed by week's end. Attempts to contact the other at 3300 Highway 22 have not been successful to date. If contact cannot be made, according to the City's zoning policies, the City will have the properties mowed and a lien attached to the properties. The August financial reports were approved during the meeting. There was brief discussion concerning the recent inconsistency in operating hours at the local post office. Mayor Todd said "Of course, we have no authority over the operation of the post office, but it is rather frustrating for local residents with the varying hours of opening each day, sometimes as late as ten o'clock. COVID is always mentioned as the issue, and I have been told that a new postal clerk has been employed. We can only hope that things improve."

Clarksburg's Fall Festival is Saturday October 16 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the City Park. Activities include a Classic Car Cruise In, live music, cake walks, lots of vendors, and children's activities. City Recorder Leigh Grice and Sabrina Peterson are organizing the event, and the Mayor and Aldermen expressed appreciation for their efforts.

The next regular meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen is October 25.

HCMC's Orthopedic Center Earns Re-Certification

PARIS — Henry County Medical Center was notified by The Joint Commission in August that its Center for Orthopedic Wellness had been re-certified in Disease Specific Care for hip and knee replacement surgeries.

The Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval for Advanced Certification for Total Hip and Total Knee Replacement is an advanced certification for Joint Commission-accredited hospitals, critical access hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers seeking to elevate the quality, consistency and safety of their services and patient care.

HCMC earned certification as a Center for Orthopedic Excellence in 2018 and certifications must be reviewed every two years by the TJC. Wendy Barnhart, HCMC's Director of Education and Employee Health, said the hospital had to provide data to TJC that it was still exceeding standards in its orthopedic program.

"Re-certification means that we are continuing to give the best available orthopedic care to the community," said Barnhart.

"We are following the best practices and have the latest technology, which ensures the best outcomes for our orthopedic patients."

According to Barnhart, the centerpiece to HCMC's orthopedic program continues to be the Mako orthopedic robot, which arrived at HCMC in 2015. HCMC was the third hospital in the state of Tennessee to have an orthopedic robotics program. To date, the hospital has performed approximately 1,000 hip and knee replacements robotically.

Established in 2016 and awarded for a two-year period, the advanced certification was developed in response to the growing number of patients undergoing a total hip or total knee replacement surgery, as well as the increased focus on clinical evidence-based patient care as it relates to pain management, quality of life issues, functional limitation in mobility and the return to normal daily activities.

Carroll County Sheriff’s Reports

Theft — Charges are pending against a Henderson County man for allegedly stealing over $2,000 in tools from a worksite in Carroll County.

Deputy Michael Taylor reported that contractors were working on a house on Fisherman’s Cove near the 1,000-Acre Lake on Sept. 23 and that a disgruntled employee walked off the job. Shortly thereafter it was found that a lift and a pallet of tools on the lift were found to be missing from the worksite. The lift was found the next day in the parking lot of New Liberty Church, but the pallet of tools was gone. Investigations by deputies found that the suspect, who lives in Henderson, was at Country Side Grocery in Leach with the lift on Sept. 23 getting gas. The report did not name the suspect.

Simple Assault — Tanner C. Matheny, 25, of 99 Holmes Street, Trezevant, was charged with simple assault following a Sept. 26 incident at his residence.

Deputy Steven Scott reported that he responded to a call about a fight at Matheny’s residence. Upon arrival, Scott spoke with Trent Hardin, who said that he and Matheny got into an argument, Matheny started hitting him in the chest, and a physical fight ensued, during which Hardin hit Matheny back in self-defense. Scott observed that Hardin had visible injuries on his arm, hand, and neck.

Aggravated Assault — Edward Michael Birdwell, 47, of 81 Fowler Circle, Hollow Rock, was charged with aggravated assault and domestic assault following a Sept., 26 incident at his residence.

Deputy Scotty Davis reported that deputies responded to a domestic call at Birdwell’s residence. Upon arrival, deputies spoke with Birdwell’s girlfriend, who said that Birdwell broke her cell phone with a walking stick when she tried to call 911 and then raised the stick at her, causing her to fear for her safety and the safety of her son. Davis noted that Birdwell has prior domestic charges involving his girlfriend.

Domestic Assault — George Clinton Hill III, 41, of 3250 Highway 70 East, Cedar Grove, was charged with domestic assault following a Sept. 29 incident at his residence.

Deputy Scotty Davis reported that Hill assaulted Elizabeth Randow by striking her multiple times, knocking her to the ground, and hitting her head on a door facing, causing her to fear for her safety and the safety of her minor son.

Davis noted that Randow had visible marks of assault on her body consistent with her statements and that Hill has prior domestic assault charges.

McKenzie Police Reports

Disorderly Conduct/ Assault — McKenzie Police received a call from a Sonic employee last Wednesday evening, September 29, stating that a female customer came into the building and threw bbq sauce all over the store and cursed at her. The employee stated the customer left with a female driving a white Nissan Altima. The Altima was later spotted and stopped by another officer. Three female subjects were identified. Mariah Cook, 19, of Jackson, admitted to throwing the bbq sauce at the Sonic employee. Officer Cody Coleman reviewed Sonic’s security footage and did see Cook throw the bbq sauce. Cook was cited for Simple Assault and Disorderly Conduct.

Domestic Assault — Investigator Justin Brister was dispatched to a Walnut Lane residence last Tuesday night, September 27, in regards to a domestic assault that occurred there. The victim advised she came home and found Thomas Harris, 67, of McKenzie, to be highly intoxicated and angry. While attempting to calm him, the victim was pushed multiple times. Harris admitted to pushing the victim and was arrested and charged with domestic assault and was transported to Carroll County Jail.

Criminal Trespass — On Wednesday night, September 29, Officers were called to the Relax Inn concerning a person that had been escorted off the property earlier in the day. Robert Jarvis, 67, of Paris, had entered a room just prior to Officer Darren Davis’s arrival. Davis contacted two other officers to verify they had earlier escorted him off the premises. After learning they had escorted him off the property, Davis arrested Jarvis and charged him with Criminal Trespassing.

Disorderly Conduct — According to a report by Officer Cody Coleman, he responded to a call last Thursday night, September 30, from Tierra Diggs, 37, of McKenzie in reference to a male not letting her back into her Ruth Street residence. Coleman and two other officers responded to the call. Officers learned that the male was there to retrieve his father’s belongings and the landlord had said that Diggs couldn’t return until the male was gone. Diggs became very aggressive and began yelling and cursing about the situation. Due to it being a residential area and it was late at night, Coleman arrested Diggs for Disorderly Conduct.

Shoplifting — Last Thursday, September 30, Gerry Sharp, manager of Dollar General, reported to police that she had a shoplifter in the store. According to a report by Officer Andy Weaver, He confronted Jessica Doster, 39, of McKenzie, and she denied concealing the lotion in her purse and claimed she purchased it days prior and had a receipt. Doster failed to produce the receipt and was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for Shoplifting. She was verbally banned from the store by Officer Weaver and the store manager.

Public Intoxication — Early last Thursday morning, September 30, a female, flagged down a police officer and reported that she had lost her boyfriend, later identified as Patrick Oliver. According to a report filed by Sgt. Cody Coleman, several officers got involved in the search for Oliver and found him walking near Old West Steakhouse. Oliver, 30, of Dyersburg, appeared to be under the influence of some form of intoxicant. Coleman charged Oliver with Public Intoxication and cited him into Carroll County General Sessions Court.

DUI — According to a report by Officer Justin Brister, he was dispatched to McDonalds in regards to a possible intoxicated driver. Brister arrived to find a white Dodge Ram pickup parked in a space and found the driver, identified as Levi Miller, 24, of McKenzie, passed out in the seat. Brister observed a half-empty bottle of Jack Daniels whiskey and a Bud Light beer can in the back seat of the truck. After Miller was awakened, he was asked to perform field sobriety tests on which he did poorly. He was arrested and charged with DUI-First Offense and transported to Carroll County jail.

Huntingdon Winning Streak at Six

DYER (October 1) — After losing in week one to McKenzie, the Huntingdon Mustangs have wreaked havoc against their opponents. Friday night, Huntingdon traveled to Dyer picking up their sixth consecutive win on the season. After four quarters of play and a running clock, Huntingdon easily defeated the Gibson County Pioneers 49-8.

In typical Mustang football, Huntingdon's ground game dominated the Pioneers scoring 30 of its 49 unanswered points. Cade Wood had seven carries for 102 yards and two touchdowns. Aden Hutcherson had six carries for 116 and two touchdowns.

Defensively, the Mustangs held the Pioneers to minimal yards allowing only seven first downs. Landon Gordon lead Huntingdon in tackles with 11; while Wood followed with 10. The Mustangs accumulated four sacks on the night; Elijah Flowers(2), Wood (1) and C.J. Pelonero (1).

Huntingdon won the coin toss and deferred to the second half. Pioneer tailback Colton Lumpkin was able to move the ball down the field before the opening possession stalled. Senior quarterback John Phillips punted for Gibson County on fourth down, but Huntingdon fumbled the return. The Pioneers recovered and took over on the Mustang 35-yard line.

With a fresh set of down, Gibson County picked up a big first down on an end-around from tight end Ethan Turner. On third-and-eight, Lumpkin crossed the goal line from 17 yards out on the counter trap. Anthony Smith picked up the two-point conversion with 6:28 on the clock in the first quarter.

Huntingdon quickly tied the game at 8-8 with 3:26 to play in the first. Wood picked up his first TD of the night from 36 yards out. Hutcherson picked up the two-point conversion.

After a Pioneer three-and-out, the Mustangs scored for the second time as Hutcherson broke free for a 70-yard run. Hunter Britt's extra-point was good as the Mustangs took the lead 15-8.

Gibson County was forced to punt and Huntingdon came away with excellent field position. Working from the Pioneer 40-yard line, the Mustangs moved closer to the goal line. Hutcherson scored on first-and-goal from the five with 8:12 to play in the opening half. Britt's extra-point was good putting Huntingdon up 22-8.

A Pioneer three-and-out put the Mustangs on another scoring drive. In two plays, Huntingdon crossed the goal line. This touchdown came by way of Wood from 38 yards out. Britt tacked on the PAT increasing the Mustang lead 29-8.

Under pressure to score before the half, Gibson County worked the ball to midfield. On fourth-and-two, the offense stayed on the field and turned the ball over on downs.

One first-and-ten from the Pioneer 43-yard line, Gray Eubanks' pass to Blane Fields resulted in Huntingdon's fifth touchdown of the night. The extra-point was ruled no good as the Mustangs led 35-8 at the half.

The third quarter opened with another Huntingdon touchdown. The Pioneers looked to catch the Mustangs flat-footed with a midfield squib kick. Blake Reeves fielded the ball and turned up field 60 yards for the Huntingdon touchdown. Hutcherson picked up the two-point conversion inducing the mercy rule for a running clock with a score of 43-8.

The final points in the game came at the 1:26 mark of the third quarter. As the Mustangs began making substitutions, Gordon came in at running back along with Ashton Hutcherson. The duo moved the ball down field after six plays, Gordon crossed the goal line on second-and-goal from the Pioneer five-yard line. The extra-point kick was ruled no good as Huntingdon led 49-8.

Next Friday, Huntingdon makes the trek to Weakley County to take on the Westview Chargers (6-1) in Region 7-2A play. Game time is 7 p.m.

West Carroll Drops Second Straight Game to Lake County

BY MICHAEL ODOM
The Milan Mirror-Exchange

One week after losing to McKenzie, West Carroll had a chance to rebound with a Region 7-1A win against a rival.

But for the second straight week, the War Eagles suffered a loss. West Carroll did put up more of a fight before losing 26-20.

"We had a lot of opportunities to do what we needed to do to walk away with a win," West Carroll coach Clayton Morris said. "The kids battled, played hard in a game where many people didn't give us a shot to be in the game. We had two or three times to capitalize on somethings and score, and we didn't do that."

West Carroll (5-2, 2-1 7-1A) has Week 8 off before returning home in Week 9 to host Greenfield in another key region matchup.

The two traded touchdowns in the first half before offense picked up in the second half. Lake County scored first on a 29-yard touchdown run by Jeremiah Williams with 9:02 remaining in the half, but West Carroll responded with an 80-yard touchdown pass from Xander Moon to Jay Long with 59 seconds remaining.

The teams traded touchdowns again in the third quarter as Williams scored his second touchdown on a 43-yard run for the Falcons, but Moon hit Long with a 24-yard touchdown pass to tie the game back up 12-12.

Williams led Lake County with 273 yards rushing as the Falcons finished with 432 yards of offense.

Lake County's Achilles heel was penalties as they had 19 for 150 yards.

The Falcons scored back-to-back touchdowns in the middle of the second half to try and pull away. Jahmyan Geanes scored from seven yards out, and Jeremy Ceasar hit Malachi Clay for a 56-yard touchdown pass.

West Carroll did score with 47 second remaining as Moon ran it in from five yards out, but the War Eagles ran out of time to score again.

Moon threw for 199 yards and rushed for 11 to lead the offense. Long had 104 yards receiving, while Malik Lee led the rushing attack with 40 yards.

"We have got to learn how to capitalize on other teams' mistakes," Morris said. "I am proud of the fight in our kids, and I feel like we are going to hit our stride when we need to."

Tim Airline found running room and scored on a 57-yard touchdown run. Eli Vinson completed the two-point conversion run to make it 22-6

The Rebels struck again after forcing the Pioneers to go four plays and turn the ball back over to McKenzie in Gibson County territory. McKenzie scored quick with a Cole Brown pass to Xander Johnsey for a 22-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 30-6 in favor of the Rebels.

McKenzie scored again just seconds later when Tim Airline scooped up a Gibson County fumble and took it 33 yards for another score. The two-point conversion pass was no good but McKenzie led 36-6 late in the second quarter.

Gibson County got their second score with under a minute to play until halftime on a 57-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 36-12 heading into halftime.

The second half got started with a bang when Airline returned the kickoff 75 yards for a touchdown only a Rebel penalty nullified it. Airline took a pitch 60 yards off the right side for a touchdown on first down. The two-point conversion pass was no good but the Rebels opened their lead to 42-12.

McKenzie got younger players into the game at this point and got another score on the board this time on a 1-yard touchdown run by Jacobi Melton after he had two 20+ runs to set up a first down and goal at the one. The two-point conversion run was no good giving the Rebels a 56-26 lead.

The Pioneers got one last score late in the final quarter on a 46-yard touchdown pass with the two-point conversion good to make the final score 56-34.

Bethel Sports Management Students Work World Cup Qualifier in Nashville

COURTESY BETHEL SID

McKENZIE — A group of Bethel University Sports Management students traveled to Nashville last week to volunteer at the United States versus Canada World Cup 2022 qualifying match at Nissan Stadium.

The match was the first on home turf for the U.S. Men's National Team in this cycle of qualifying. The team of six students worked hospitality at the event.

"Working at Nissan Stadium for the first time was a great experience for me. It's always a great time getting to see how everything is actually done and then getting to participate and help out with whatever you can," said Jeffrey Lee, a junior from Arlington, Tennessee.

This is the latest trip to be led by Program Coordinator and Assistant Professor of Sports Management Dr. Josh Greer. Providing students in the program with real-world experiences and making new connections is integral to a student's success.

"We also ran into a Bethel University alumnus that works for the Nashville Soccer Club. He invited us to a match," Greer said.

Greer led a group in February to volunteer at Super Bowl 55 in Tampa, Florida.

"This experience was a blessing. I'm so grateful for Greer paving the way and doing everything he can to get us hands-on experience working these events on the biggest stages of sports," said Matthew Ellis, a junior from Huntingdon, Tennessee.

Bethel Drops Conference Game Against Cumberlands

COURTESY BETHEL SID

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. — The Bethel Wildcats returned to the road Saturday visiting the University of the Cumberlands in Williamsburg, Kentucky. It was the first MSC divisional game for both squads. After the Wildcats held their own in the first half, the Patriots proved why they are the nation's leading scoring team at 59.0 points per game. A second half scoring binge by CU was too much for the Wildcats to overcome as Bethel would lose 47-15.

Bethel took a first quarter lead on an Austin Abbott 32-yard field goal. The kick at the 5:57 mark topped off a nine play 51-yard drive.

That score held until Ben Nixon hit Eli Evans on a two-yard pass to give the Patriots the lead. Trip Holloway's point after gave UC a 7-3 lead with 2:09 left in the half. After turning the Wildcats over, the Pats scored with four seconds left. Nixon connected on a seven-yard pass to Devin Jones to make it 14-3 at the half.

Devious Christmon picked off a Patriot pass in the third. The interception appeared to give the Cats renewed energy as they drove the ball 73 yards for a score. De'Ontay Tate capped the drive off with a two-yard run to make it 14-9. Abbott's point after failed and UC led 14-9.

Nixon put the Pats up 21-9 at the 6:09 mark of the third with a one-yard scamper. The score was a prelude of what was to come in the quarter. Devin Jones ran two yards four minutes later and Bethel trailed 27-9. Bethel fought back with a Nolan Chowbay strike to James Dixon from 65 yards out. The Bethel two-point conversion failed, and it was 27-15 with 1:32 left in the quarter.

Nixon scored again on a short run early in the fourth quarter and CU led 33-17 after the point after failed. With 11:51 left, Brandon Stuckey scored on a five-yard run and Bethel trailed 40-15. Jamar Nuby would add a late score on a short touchdown run and CU led 47-15.

Bethel had a 253-103 margin in passing yards, but UC had a 219-129 advantage in rushing yards.

Chowbay was 14-of-29 in the air for 252 yards. He threw for one touchdown but threw three interceptions on the night. Tate had 119 yards on 16 carries. Dieuly Aristilde caught six passes for 97 yards. Jakobe Griffin led Bethel with eight total tackles. Jerwin Young had two sacks.

Both squads struggled with penalties. Bethel had 12 for 104 yards. UC had 10 for 103 yards.

The Wildcats return home Saturday to meet MSC rival Georgetown at noon.

McKenzie Beats Dresden in Close One 23-14

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

#4 ranked McKenzie played host to #6 ranked Dresden in what turned out to be the closest contest the Rebels have had all season. Despite a rash of penalties called against the Rebels, they kept their cool and played their game and eventually won 23-14 to remain undefeated at 7-0.

McKenzie won the toss and deferred to the second half giving Dresden's Lions the ball first to start the contest. The Lions moved steadily downfield into McKenzie territory keyed by a 26-yard pass completion. Dresden got on the scoreboard first on a 3-yard touchdown run by quarterback Tatum Oliver. Mark Maddox's extra point attempt was good for a 7-0 Dresden lead with 9:27 left in the first quarter.

The Rebels, also, wasted no time moving the ball downfield. Marquez Taylor scored on a run that was nullified by a holding call. A few plays later, on fourth down, Jackson Cassidy struck on a touchdown pass that was also nullified by a holding call against McKenzie. The ball was turned over on downs leaving Dresden at their own two yard line.

A couple of plays later Dresden completed a pass in which Etijay Tharpe stripped the ball causing a fumble that the Rebels recovered near midfield. The Rebels drove into Lion territory starting with a 22-yard completion from Jackson Cassidy to Zach Aird. A few plays later, Marquez Taylor scored on a 9-yard run. Aird's extra point was good tying the game 7-7 with 2:30 left in the opening quarter.

Dresden's next possession rolled into the second quarter where they turned it over on downs with an incomplete pass on fourth down at the McKenzie 19. McKenzie took the ball from their own 19 and moved it to midfield before having to punt to the Lions. The Rebel defense forced the Lions to punt it back to the Rebels from their own 24-yard line. Jackson Cassidy got a 15-yard punt return back to the Rebel 46-yard line.

McKenzie drove the next possession inside the Dresden 10-yard line before another penalty pushed them back. Cassidy got the yards back plus some setting up a 2-yard touchdown run by Rashad McCreary with 15 seconds left in until halftime. The extra point attempt was no good but McKenzie had their first lead 13-7 heading into halftime.

McKenzie took the ball first to start the third quarter and got a good kickoff return but were not able to do much with the possession and got off a booming 40-yard punt backing Dresden deep in their own territory. Dresden fumbled the ball a couple of plays later with McKenzie recovering it at the Dresden 9-yard line. The Lions' goal-line defense held the Rebels out of the end-zone forcing a fourth down play. Zach Aird nailed a 22-yard field goal to extend McKenzie's lead to 16-7 with 7:24 left in the third quarter.

Dresden went three plays and punted their next possession while the Rebels drove all the way to the Dresden 5-yard line where a pair of penalties against McKenzie backed them up. They went for a pass on fourth down which was incomplete turning the ball over on downs.

Dresden started their next possession from their own 24 and moved the ball to near midfield where Andrew Cole sacked Tatum Oliver for an 8-yard loss but a McKenzie personal foul penalty on the next play gave Dresden an automatic first down at the Rebel 24-yard line. From there, the Lions moved inside the McKenzie 10 and scored on a four-yard run by Trey Eddings. Maddox was good on the extra point cutting the McKenzie lead to 16-14 with 7:23 left in the fourth quarter.

Dresden attempted an on-side kick which McKenzie recovered near midfield. The Rebels gave the Lions a heavy dose of Marquez Tharpe as he completed runs of 18, 10, 8, and 14 yards. The 14-yarder was for a touchdown with 3:23 left in the game. Aird's extra point was good for a 23-14 lead.

McKenzie's defense took care of business on Dresden's ensuing possession allowing next to nothing on the possession. The Lions went for a fourth down play and threw an incomplete pass turning the ball back over on downs inside their own territory.

McKenzie drove the ball inside the Dresden 5-yard line where they went into victory formation and Jackson Cassidy took a knee to run out the clock on the win.

Despite double digit penalties for over 100 yards plus, McKenzie rolled up 389 yards offense. 276 on the ground and 113 through the air. Marquez Taylor had 20 carries for 131 yards and two touchdowns. Jackson Cassidy ran for 79 yards and Rashad McCreary had 49 yards rushing with one touchdown. Cassidy was 8 of 17 for 113 yards spreading the ball out to several receivers.

The Rebels travel to Gleason next week for another region contest before taking a week off.

MHS Students Provide Canned Food for United Neighbors

During Homecoming, the McKenzie High School Student Council sponsored a canned food drive for United Neighbors. Students were asked to bring in non-perishable food items such as crackers, cereal, bottled water, canned foods, etc. On Homecoming day, the students had 10 minutes to build a tower out of their donations. While all classes were successful with building a tower, the senior class was able to build the tallest tower during the competition. The MHS student body and faculty greatly exceeded expectations with an overwhelming amount of donations for United Neighbors.
