Rebels Outlast Tide To Punch State Ticket

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

A full house crowd, chilly football weather, and two great football teams equals a game for the ages that came down to the very last play.

Last year, McKenzie and Trenton were both in Class AA and met in the quarterfinal round that went two overtimes before the Tide kicked a field goal to win and go on to their third straight championship.

This year both teams fell back into Class A after reclassification and had tremendous regular seasons. McKenzie ran the table undefeated while Trenton had the nation's second longest win streak going at 44 games until Huntingdon snapped it this season. The Tide went into the playoffs with a 9-1 record. Both teams took care of business in the first three rounds of the playoffs setting up the semi-final meeting between the two at McKenzie Friday night, November 26. To add to the excitement, both teams also have a Mr. Football Finalist in Trenton's Khalik Ganaway and McKenzie's Marquez Taylor.

McKenzie won the toss and elected to defer to the second half giving Trenton the ball first to start the contest. Trenton's offense started moving slowly but got a 20-plus yard screen pass into McKenzie territory at the Rebel 45. Trey Cook dropped Ganaway for a four-yard loss on first down that helped stall their drive and force a punt on fourth down.

Trenton's punt was good for 33 yards with no return giving McKenzie the ball at their own 12. Two plays later, the Rebels were in Trenton territory after a 51-yard pass completion from Jackson Cassidy to Marquez Taylor. Cassidy went to Taylor again on the next play and found him wide open for a 33-yard touchdown pass putting the Rebels on the board first. Zach Aird was good on the extra point with 8:09 remaining in the first quarter.

Trenton wasted no time answering the Rebels score with a 69-yard

Woman Airlifted After Self-Inflicted Gunshot Wound

HUNTINGDON (November 27) — On Saturday, November 27, 2021 at approximately 2 p.m., two Huntingdon Police Officers responded to a call from a Carroll County Deputy Sheriff that a woman had pulled a gun and pointed it at him as he attempted to talk to her on or near Lexington Street in Huntingdon. This was near the Huntingdon Missionary Church.

According to Huntingdon Public Safety Director Walter Smothers, as the officers arrived on the scene they observed a white female behind some of the residences in that area and that she was holding what appeared to be a black-colored handgun. The female subject ran from them and the deputy. After a lengthy foot pursuit across a field and into a wooded area the subject stopped and sat down beside a tree.

As the first officer approached her, he told her to "put down the gun" at which time she stated that she "wasn't going with us." Subsequently she put the gun to the right side of her head and discharged a single shot. An air ambulance was summoned as she was still alive and was airlifted from nearby the scene.

Additional information might become available subject to review of this incident by the District Attorney General's Office.

touchdown pass with the extra point good tying the game 7-7 with 7:05 left in the first quarter.

McKenzie went three plays and out on their next possession and punted with Trenton's Ganaway getting a big return back to the Rebel 45-yard line. After a few rushing efforts, The Tide went to the air for a 34-yard touchdown strike with 2:08 left in the period. Their extra point was good for a 14-7 Trenton lead.

The Rebels got a decent kickoff return to the McKenzie 36. From there, Marquez Taylor got three yards on the ground and hauled in a 61-yard touchdown pass from Jackson Cassidy on second down. Aird was good on the extra point tying the game at 14-14 with 1:11 left in the opening quarter.

Trenton ran out the first quarter clock with a short possession and opened the second quarter facing fourth down and long having to punt back to the Rebels.

McKenzie took possession at their own 33 and rolled into Tide territory with several runs by Jackson Cassidy including one run nearly 20 yards. Taylor capped off the drive with a 22-yard touchdown run with 7:33 left in the second quarter. Aird nailed the extra point but there was a penalty against Trenton and his second attempt was blocked leaving the score 20-14 in favor of McKenzie.

Trenton took their next possession at their own 16 and didn't get very far. The Tide lost a yard on second down and threw an incomplete pass that was nearly intercepted on third down. McKenzie brought pressure on the Tide punter on fourth down and he was forced to throw the ball rather than get a punt blocked and it fell incomplete.

The Rebels took over on downs at the Trenton 18 and lost yards on first down. Cassidy was sacked on third down forcing a fourth down and long from the Tide 22. Zach Aird nailed a 39-yard field goal to extend the Rebel lead to 23-14 with 3:30 left in the second quarter.

Trenton answered the field goal with a two-play drive capped by a 45-yard Khalik Ganaway touchdown run. The extra point was no good with McKenzie holding a 23-20 lead. McKenzie went three plays and out punting it right back to the Tide with little time left before the half. Trenton attempted to throw their way down the field but Jackson Cassidy ended that possession with an interception. McKenzie took a 23-20 lead into halftime.

McKenzie received the second half kickoff in great field position after Trenton attempted an onside kick that the Rebels recovered near midfield. The Rebels kept it on the ground and were not able to convert and punted. Trenton's Khalik Ganaway fumbled the punt return and McKenzie recovered it at the Tide 14-yard line. Three plays later, Marquez Taylor hit the right side for a 7-yard touchdown. The Rebels attempted a two-point conversion which failed but the Rebels led 29-20.

Trenton's Malik Ganaway returned the ensuing kickoff all the way to the McKenzie 37 from where the Tide ground out a seven-play drive capped by a 1-yard touchdown with the extra point good to make it a 29-27 contest with 5:05 left in the third quarter.

The Rebels took the ball from their own 37 and used nearly the remainder of the third quarter clock on a drive that resulted in a 3-yard touchdown by Marquez Taylor with 10 seconds remaining in the quarter. Aird's extra point was good for a 36-27 lead.

Trenton launched a time-consuming drive of their own that chewed over seven minutes off the fourth quarter clock and were held to a 17-yard field goal that made the score 36-30 with 5:34 left in the game.

Trenton's kickoff went out of bounds giving McKenzie good field position near midfield. Trenton's defense forced the Rebels into three plays and out giving Trenton the ball with 4:08 left in the game. The Tide took over at their own 21 and were in McKenzie territory behind two big runs from Tide quarterback Sam Driggers. Khalik Ganaway reached the McKenzie 17 but a 5-yard penalty pushed Trenton back to the Rebel 22. After a no gainer, Ganaway was dropped for a 2-yard loss on second down. On third down, David Cheney broke through his block and sacked Driggers for a huge loss back to the McKenzie 36. Driggers was forced to throw a Hail Mary pass to the left corner of the end zone where Zach Aird came down with the ball to seal the victory for the Rebels.

The numbers for both teams were impressive with Trenton rolling up 402 yards of offense while the Rebels rolled up 313 yards of offense. Trenton had 218 yards rushing while getting 184 through the air. McKenzie rushed for 156 yards and had 157 yards through the air.

Trenton's Khalik Ganaway had 25 rushes for 147 yards and a touchdown. Sam Driggers was 7-16 for 184 yards and two touchdowns with two interceptions.

McKenzie's Jackson Cassidy threw 5-10 for 157 yards and two touchdowns. Marquez Taylor touched the ball 16 times for 69 yards and three touchdowns while hauling in three passes for 145 yards and two touchdowns. McKenzie improves to 14-0 while Trenton's season ends at 12-2.

McKenzie Head Coach Wade Comer was proud of the kids. "Trenton came in here as three-time state champions. Both sides played hard and our kids took care of business and won themselves another week. We had a great effort on offense, defense and special teams forcing a turnover when we needed it." When asked if he expected the game to be close, Comer said "I did expect it to be close. We have had some real battles with Trenton over the years."

McKenzie moves on to the State Championship game in Chattanooga next Friday at 3 p.m. (Eastern) to face South Pittsburg for the Class A Title.

US Brick Expands to Gleason

Charleston, SC — US Brick Holdings, LLC announced the expansion of the US Brick family of companies to Indiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Michigan, making it one of the largest brick companies in the United States. In this expansion, US Brick purchased three residential brick manufacturing facilities and multiple distribution centers in two of the most booming and competitive housing markets in the nation. The manufacturing plants include the General Shale Mooresville, Indiana; Gleason, Tennessee; and Bessemer, Alabama facilities. Also included in the agreement are storefront locations in the surrounding service markets. US Brick is a closely held brick manufacturer, owned and operated out of Charleston, South Carolina. Prior to the purchase of these additional locations, US Brick was known as one of the leading commercial brick manufacturers in the Southeast from their Columbia, South Carolina, facility. “This decision allows the US Brick family of companies to provide its customers with quality residential and commercial products through distributors or directly to the customer through convenient locations throughout the Southeast and Midwest.”

Marquez has had a big year rushing for 1,285 yards and 26 touchdowns while receiving for 220 yards and two more touchdowns in just nine regular season games. On defense, he returned an interception for a touchdown giving him 30 total touchdowns for the season. This does not include what he has done in the playoffs. The other two Class A nominees are Khalik Ganaway from Trenton and De'Andre Kelly of South Pittsburg. One other local Mr. Football Finalist is Class AA's Ty Simpson of Martin Westview.

Huntingdon Town Council

The Huntingdon Town Council met for a very brief session with only one action to take on the agenda. TOSHA (Tennessee Occupational Safety and Health Program) is requiring an update to the town's Occupational Safety and Health Program which has not been updated since May 2014. This update includes a couple of changes starting with an updated

24-hour reporting requirement wording and changes to the Work Location/Organizational Chart. The ordinance to make the changes was passed unanimously. Mayor Dale Kelley advised the councilmembers of last week's announcement from the state that VP Racing Fuels will invest $14.2 million to expand its Huntingdon operations and acquire a new facility in McKenzie near the Carroll County Airport. The project in total will create 150 new jobs and comes less than three years after the company invested more than $4 million to establish its Huntingdon operations. With no other actions or discussions on the agenda, the council adjourned until their next meeting on Tuesday, December 28.

The Banner to Begin Digital First Initiative

News, Photographs, Videos to Be Added Throughout Week

BY JOEL WASHBURN
washburn@mckenziebanner.com

The McKenzie Banner is rolling out its Digital First initiative beginning December 7. News stories, photographs and videos will be uploaded and appear at mckenziebanner.com often prior to the publication of the printed issue of The Banner. Online subscribers will have the opportunity to read stories and see galleries of photos that sometimes do not appear in print because of space limitations. Journalism is the lifeblood of a community newspaper. While many people post a photo on social media of an event, that posting often lacks the basic tenants of journalism - who, what, when, where and why. The McKenzie Banner has a larger audience than in its recent history if one considers both the print and digital editions. While the number of printed pages has declined, the number of online subscribers has increased. The Banner will offer many daily updates on www.mckenziebanner.com, which includes years of archives replica editions of the full newspaper. There is no doubt the printed edition has suffered as in a national trend. More than 1,000 communities are now 'news deserts' because the local publication ceased publishing. In the year 2021, postage costs for The McKenzie Banner increased 10 percent. The mail service also 'slowed' its delivery time to save the USPS money. Our pledge is this: The Banner will continue to print weekly while providing frequent updates of news to www.mckenziebanner.com.

Newspapers and other traditional media outlets including radio and television, have seen great shifts in their audiences. Many TV viewers now watch streaming services instead of traditional television or listen to satellite radio or streamed radio other than listen to terrestrial radio. The Banner's online replica edition offers features impossible in print — readers can enlarge the type, some stories are enriched by multiple photos, and video is available for some stories. Now for another enhancement, coming in the 2022, The Banner will offer management of social media for businesses and organizations. We have the professional graphic design staff, we have professional photographers, professional writers and know the laws concerning fair use and copyright. The newspapers are the lone source of news from city and school boards, county commission, Watershed Authority, and many other events.

McKenzie Police Reports

Multiple Charges — According to a report filed by Sgt. Kyle Beauchamp, he made a traffic stop on a vehicle Thursday, November 18, due to potential violation of a protection order. The driver was known to be Ben Goodwin, 33, of McKenzie, who has a Temporary Order of Protection against him and had the "protected person" with him. Goodwin was initially arrested for Violation of Protection Order and was additionally charged with Driving On Revoked License-Second Offense. He was transported to Carroll County Jail while his vehicle was impounded by McKenzie Police. Order Of Protection Violation — Sgt. Cody Coleman observed Jonathan Goodrum, 35, of McKenzie, walking with a female on a local street. Coleman had knowledge Goodrum had been served with an order of protection in late October that also involved the female he was with. Goodrum also had other active warrants against him according to a status check. Sgt. Coleman arrested Goodrum on the Protection Order Violation along with the other active warrants that included Aggravated Criminal Trespassing, Vandalism Under $1,000, and a Probation Violation out of Obion County.

THE MCKENZIE BANNER
Weekly 150
E: jmartin@mckenziebanner.com By Jason R. Martin
Celebrating McKenzie's oldest business and historical record

Gordon Browning
Soldier, Politician, Statesman (Part I)

One of, if not the, most distinguished Carroll Countians has to be the late former Governor Gordon Weaver Browning. From a humble birth in a log cabin to a lawyer, military officer, congressman, governor and statesman very few lived a more interesting life than Browning.

The second Tennessee governor from Carroll County was born to James Harvey (1859–1949) and Melissa Brooks Browning (1864–1940) on a farm near Atwood, Tennessee on November 22, 1889. The Browning family came to Tennessee from South Carolina in 1830, and legend has it his great-grandfather helped build the brick walls of Andrew Jackson's home the, Hermitage.

The Browning moved from Carroll County to Gibson County near Milan (the home still stands on property held by Milan Army Ammunition Plant). After graduating from Milan High School, Brown- ing enrolled at Valparaiso University in Indiana. He returned to Gibson County and started teaching with- in the rural school system. It wasn't long before he changed his career path and enrolled in law school at Cumberland University in Lebanon, Tennessee.

After graduating in 1915 and being admitted to the bar in Tennessee, he began practicing law with George McCall in Huntingdon in March. His time practicing law was paused with his enlistment in Company D of the First Tennessee Field Artillery in June 1917, with the United States' entry into World War I.

Browning's unit was ac- tivated as the 114th Field Artillery of the 30th Infan- try Division, under the com- mand of General Lawrence Tyson (namesake of Camp Tyson in Henry County, Tennessee). Browning was promoted to captain and transferred to Company A. In Europe, he was stationed in northern France, where he and his men fought numerous campaigns. It is noted that Browning "was decorated for gallantry and earned the distinction of being an able leader."

After World War I drew to a close in 1919, Browning returned to practicing law in Huntingdon and soon married Ida Leach. Back in his serene life as husband and lawyer in Carroll County, he grew restless and was looking for a challenge. He found his resolve through politics. His first attempt at running for office came in 1920 and ended in defeat. Browning ran for the Eighth District congressional seat in the U.S. House of Representatives, but lost to his former law school classmate, Lon Scott, by a 50% to 49% margin.

In 1922, he ran against Scott and won. Browning represented the eighth district for five consecutive terms and represented the seventh district for one term (1933–1935) following redistricting. During his final term in the House, Browning was one of the managers/prosecutors in the impeachment hearings of California judge Har- old Louderback (alleging corruption in bankruptcy cases and a general charge of bringing his Court into disrepute; he was acquitted by the Senate).

After twelve years in Washington, D.C., Brown- ing had his eyes on a Senate seat. In 1934, he campaigned for the Senate seat vacated by Cordell Hull who was appointed Secretary of State under Franklin Roos- evelt. Nathan L. Bachman, who received the appoint- ment and was supported by Boss E.H. Crump, defeated Browning from the Dem- ocratic Party nomination 166,293 to 121,169.

It wasn't long before Browning set his sights on becoming governor. In the 1936 governor's race, Browning's main oppo- nent for the Democratic nomination was Campbell County School Superinten- dent Burgin Dossett. Boss Crump originally declared neutrality through his sup- port behind Browning as it was clear he would re- ceive the nomination. In the general election, Browning easily defeated the Repub- lican candidate, Pat Thach, 332,523 to 77,392.

His first term as gover- nor was described "as one of the most active in first terms of any governor in the history of the State of Tennessee." When he took office the state had a $143 million debt and no provi- sions to pay it. Within the two-year timetable, Brown- ing made sure the debts were funded and provisions were made for them off through the Debt Reorga- nization Act, which consol- idated the state's debt, and enacted several taxes. Over the next 10 years, these ef- forts reduced the state's debt by 40% saving over $60 million in interest.

It wasn't long before he tackled other problems within the state including increasing school funding, creation of the state civil service program, creation of a state conservation program, building a state penal system, and making corrections to the state's overlapping bureaus. He also made powerful en- emies along the way in- cluding Boss Crump, as he tried to put an end to the political machines and corruption within the state government.

In 1938, Prentice Coop- er, with Boss Crump's endorsement, challenged Browning for the Dem- ocratic nomination for gov- ernor. After learning that Crump had registered over 100,000 voters in Shelby County, Browning sought to replace the primary system with a "county unit" sys- tem, which would equalize votes by county, thereby reducing the influence of Shelby. The bill passed but was declared unconstitutional by the Tennessee Supreme Court before the election.

Browning also formed a commission to investigate voter fraud in Shelby Coun- ty, and managed to have over 13,000 voters purged. His efforts fell short and he was handily defeated by Cooper, 231,852 158,854.

Following his defeat in the primary, Browning re- turned home to Hunting- don to practice law. In 1942, he was elected Chancellor of the Eighth Chancery District without opposition. Shortly after the United States entered into World War II, he asked for a commission to re-enlist in the Army. His political enemies worked to block his every move. Eventually, Governor Browning went to the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D.C. to make his request.

His determination was rewarded and also came at a cost. Instead of being given a commission as a major or higher he agreed to take the rank he had after World War I, captain. He attended the School of Military Gov- ernment in Charlottesville, Virginia, which trained military officers in matters related to governing occu- pied territories, and was eventually promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Next week, I'll go further with Governor Browning's story and his triumphant return to politics.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES
We Didn't Have To 'Leave It To Beaver'

The first week of Decem- ber used to be the pits. I'm talking the very bottom! Lis- ten, they gave us two days off from school at Thanks- giving...and fed us pretty well. We were living large, enjoying the freedom the hol- iday provided. We didn't even mind that the grown-ups got to eat first (well, maybe just a little).

We had two days with no spelling bees; no identifying the multiplier; no reading the Ann Morrow Lindbergh biog- raphy; no memorizing state capitals; and no standing in front of the blackboard with the chalk in your hand but nothing in your head...

Good gosh gravy and sweet potato yams! No one did any shopping the day after Thanksgiving! Mostly we just sat around the house and belched...until Buddy and Yogi showed up. Then we'd go outside and kick an old football around.

Thanksgiving always went way quicker than it came.

THEN, we had to go back to school; carrying our cold turnip green and cornbread sandwich lunch in a paper sack. This was 1957. Way before Black Friday was in- vented

And there wasn't nothing Cyber (a term we'd never heard) about the following Monday. Black would have been a more apt moniker but we didn't think about that either.

We dragged ourselves out of bed and back to school on a cold, damp, foggy, dreary, disenchanting second day of December. We likened it to prison or the third shift in the salt mines...which was quite visionary for a group of fifth graders, seeing as how not a one of us had ever been to prison or worked in a salt mine.

And don't let your mind leap ahead to jingling bells, one horse open sleighs or brightly wrapped presents snuggling under a tree. No- body was thinking about buy- ing something for Christmas on the days surrounding the last weekend in November. It just never crossed our minds. Back in the '50's, Thanksgiv- ing and Christmas were still two separate holidays.

You see our dilemma right off. We had to survive a "pit- filled" week or two till Mr. J. A. Abernathy and Bailey Moore Wrinkle started put- ting out their "Christmas stuff" in the basements of their respective hardware stores.

It was worse than you could ever imagine—

I heard the steel ball bear- ing before I saw it. There is no other sound like one of those things rolling across a wooden floor. The classroom went dead still quiet; which, of course, intensified the re- sounding noise. Yogi, without a doubt, was the instigator here.

I tried to stop it with my foot. Missed! And the ball rolled all the way up to Mrs. Cox's desk, where, as if guid- ed by some unseen source, it thundered to a stop. She snatched it up and squinted sternly over the top of her "horn rims" at a group of the most innocent young school children that had ever assem- bled in one room.

You could cut the silence with a knife.

"Bobby (she wasn't privy to Yogi's real name) and Kes- ley, come up here!" It wasn't exactly her polite voice...

"Miss Cox, I didn't do noth- ing, I promise." It was pretty lame. But I WAS innocent!

"Miss Cox, I don't know anything either. I was study- ing my math problems. Hon- est." Yogi looked and sounded way more convincing. But most assuredly he was not more innocent!

"Does anyone in the class have something to tell me?" You could have cut the si- lence with a dull knife.

She gave us several licks across the palm of our hand with her trusty 12 inch ruler.

We were both heroes at recess. And I hadn't done anything...except let every- one gander at my slightly swollen appendage. Yogi had single handedly taken our minds off the "first day back at school" blues.

He was "on me" as soon as the last bell rang. "I rolled it right at you; I didn't think there was anyway on earth you'd miss it!"

I was thinking, "Well then, I'd been the only one in trouble," but before I could say anything, Yogi was off in another direction. "I've got some cherry bombs leftover from the 4th of July. There ain't nothing going on, let's break'em out and pop one or two in a few mailboxes along Paris Avenue."

The next morning he came to school with a better than average green treefrog slight- ly hidden in his pocket...

I'm not sure anyone today understands how slow time moved during Eisenhower's second term. Especially when life was "between" events. We needed something or some- one to bridge that gap like a baby needs Gerber, crops need rain, Homer needed Je- thro...

Thankfully, we didn't have to drown in our own doldrums or be subjected to the fickle winds of fate, Yogi always rose to the occasion.

Respectfully,
Kes

His senior year was cut short as he and several classmates enlisted in the United States Navy near the end of World War II where he served on the minesweeper U.S.S. Thompson on October 6, 1963 to Herman and Marie Shell.

MCKENZIE TO FACE SOUTH PITT FOR STATE TITLE

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

This years' version of the McKenzie Rebels has become the epitome of overcoming challenges. Each scrimmage they participated in and each game they played in can be viewed as a challenge. Their first close challenge was the 23-14 win over Dresden that saw four touchdowns get called back on penalties. The next interesting challenge came three weeks later when region foe Bruceton had to cancel and McKenzie scheduled playoff-bound Sequatchie County on short notice and overcame that challenge in a big way. They closed out the regular season with a strong performance against a stubborn McEwen team. Along the way, these Rebels defeated two Class 4A teams shutting one of them out. Out of the ten regular season games seven of the opponents made the playoffs and the Rebels overcame them all.

Into the playoffs, they went! First round at home against Moore County went 63-12. Second round was against a one-loss Cornersville team. Rebels shut them out 28-0. They hit the road in the third round to Fayetteville who won the Class A title last year. This was a close 14-8 battle in near freezing temps but again the Rebels found a way to overcome. Last week was a highly anticipated matchup with Trenton. (see related game story). Trenton had knocked the Rebels out of the playoffs in 2019 in the second round. Last year, the two tangled in the quarterfinals with Trenton winning on a field goal in double overtime. This year, the Rebels found a way to overcome one more time in a 36-30 contest that came down to the final play.

ONE MORE CHALLENGE

Now there is one more challenge ahead. On Friday, December 3, McKenzie takes on South Pittsburg for the Class A State Title. The Rebels played the Pirates in the State Finals in 2007 falling on the short end of that contest. Let's take a look at this year's version of South Pittsburg. The Pirates have a balanced offense featuring Mr. Football Finalist De'Andre Kelly taking care of the ground game with over 1,200 yards rushing along with 17 touchdowns. Kelly has two kickoff returns for touchdowns. Senior quarterback Richard Hunter has over 1,300 yards passing and 21 touchdowns with one of his main targets being twin brother Reginald Hunter with over 620 yards receiving and 15 touchdowns. In the playoffs, six different players have combined for double digit scores of 35-yards or more. South Pittsburg has a tough defense especially against the run and has good size up front on both sides of the ball. Is McKenzie set to overcome one more challenge? We will find out Friday afternoon in Chattanooga. See You There!

Heading into the playoffs, they rolled Freedom Prep 42-6 and defeated Memphis Fairly in week 2 of the playoffs. The quarterfinal matchup was a 16-0 shutout over MAHS before having to travel to Riverside for the semifinal matchup. Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Huntingdon High School's basketball teams tipped off their season at Adamsville, Tuesday, November 16, and came home with a pair of wins. They hosted their first home contest Saturday afternoon, November 20, against Summertown and lost both contests.

Lady Eagles 65, Fillies 48

Summertown opened up an 8-2 lead halfway through the first period and extended the lead to 17-8 by the end of the first period. The Lady Eagles made it a double-digit contest with a 24-12 lead with three minutes left in the second period. The Fillies came back outscoring the Lady Eagles 8-4 in the final minutes of the first half making it a 28-21 contest at halftime.

Huntingdon got closer in the first minute of the third period nailing a three to close it to 28-24 before Summertown went on a 17-4 run to lead 45-28 heading into the fourth period. The final period was high scoring with both teams scoring 20 points each in the period but the Fillies ended up on the short end of the contest.

Lilly Kee and Sophie Singleton led Huntingdon with 13 points and 10 points respectively. Lia Fuller and Delaney Byars added six points and five points each. Annabelle Singleton had four points while Josey Stokes had three points and Sydney Anderson had two points. Ashlyn Rich chipped in a point for the Fillies.

Summertown was led by Katie Burdette with 20 points followed by Ansley Burleson with 16 points. Karlle Campbell added nine points while Reese Wilson had eight points. Emily Brazier had four points while Alivia Riggs and McKenzie Runnels had three points each. Bradley Burleson chipped in two for the Lady Eagles

Eagles 53, Mustangs 27

The boys contest started out slow with Summertown gaining a 9-6 advantage by the end of the first period. Huntingdon briefly took the lead 10-9 with two quick baskets to start the second period but the Eagles outscored the Mustangs 7-2 the rest of the period to lead 17-12 at halftime.

The third period started with both teams trading baskets but Summertown pulled ahead 26-16 halfway through the period and held a 33-19 lead by the end of the period. The fourth period put the game out of reach for Huntingdon with the Eagles outscoring the Mustangs 20-8 during the period to put the contest away.

Huntingdon was led by Jeb Atkinson with 14 points. Elijah Flowers added four points while Ty Kelley, Keller Smith, and Aden Hutcherson had two points each.

Greyson Burleson led Summertown with 23 points. Kaden Trotter added eight points while Cole Campbell and Harrison Gobble had four points each. Gavin Burleson had five points. Jake Smith had three points while Weston Pigg and Ty Bryant chipped in two points each.

The Fillies and Mustangs stayed home with games against Dresden on Monday, November 22 and Camden on Tuesday, November 23. Huntingdon split games with Dresden with the Fillies winning and the Mustangs losing a heartbreaker. They swept Camden in two physical contests.

Fillies 60, Dresden 59

The Fillies trailed for much of the game before pulling out the win at the end. Dresden led 14-8 at the end of one and continued to lead at halftime 28-25. Dresden would lead through the third period and into the fourth period but it was the Fillies that pulled out a 60-59 win at the end.

Sophie Singleton and Lia Fuller led the Fillie scoring with 16 and 15 points respectively. Sara Beth Smith added nine points while Lilly Kee added eight points. Josie Stokes had six points. Delany Byars had five points with Ashlyn Rich chipping in a point.

en points each while Keely Mathis had four points. Kaylee Jarred and Keely Swatzell had three points each for the Lady Lions.

Dresden 39, Mustangs 37

The boys contest was a barn burner too with the Mustangs losing a heartbreaker at the end. The Mustangs led 8-4 at the end of one period and led 13-10 at halftime. The game remained close in the third period with Huntingdon holding a slim 24-22 lead at the end of three periods. Despite the Mustangs hitting three fourth period three pointers, Dresden outscored Huntingdon 17-13 in the final period to defeat the Mustangs 39-37.

Jeb Atkinson led the way for Huntingdon with 18 points. The rest of the Mustang scoring was balanced among several players. Jeremiah Irvine had four points. Ty Kelley, Keller Smith, and Kaleb Pearson had three points each. E.J. Lewis, Landon Gordon, and Elijah Flowers all chipped in two points each for the Mustangs.

Fillies 80, Camden 65

Huntingdon opened a 7-1 lead in the first two minutes of the opening period extended it to 25-11 by the end of the period. The Fillies maintained a double-digit lead through the second period despite a 6-0 Camden run late in the period. Huntingdon led 41-30 at halftime.

The third period was high scoring for both teams with the Fillies outscoring the Lions 21-16 to hold a 62-46 lead heading into the final period. The final period was also high scoring with Camden outscoring the Fillies by a slim 19-18 margin but Huntingdon had enough of a lead to finish the contest with a win.

Lilly Kee had a huge game for the Fillies with 34 points while Sophie Singleton and Lia Fuller added 14 and 10 points respectively. Annabelle Singleton had nine points while Josey Stokes had five points. Sydney Anderson had four points with Ashlyn Rich and Sarah Smith chipping in two points each.

Camden was led by Bailey Morris and Jaclyn Staggs with 22 and 19 points respectively. Lauren Bennett added nine points while Rylee Rushing had five points. Farth Wallace and Trinity Woodard had three points each and Adalyn Furr chipped in two points for the Lady Lions.

Mustangs 47, Camden 39

In a much closer physical game, the Mustangs found themselves trailing 7-0 halfway through the first period but came right back scored 10 unanswered the rest of the period to take a 10-7 first period lead.

The two teams played to an 18-18 tie at halftime. After a slow start to the third period, the Mustangs rang up a 7-0 run over a 1:30 period during the third to take a 28-20 lead and were up 30-20 by the end of the third period.

A 17-point fourth period coming mostly from free throws clinched the game for the Mustangs.

Kaleb Pearson led the Mustangs in scoring with 12 points followed by Jeb Atkinson with nine points and Jeremiah Irvine with eight points. Elijah Flowers added seven points while Keller Smith had five points. Tayshawn Rivers had four points and Aden Hutcherson chipped in two points for the Mustangs.

Camden was led by Alan Zyla with 11 points while Wizdum Laws and Beau Smith added eight points each. Gabe Fosnot had six points and Kanen Story had five points for the Lions.

Huntingdon will play host to McKenzie on Tuesday, November 30 and hit the road for three straight games at Dresden, Gleason, and Camden.

Henry County Investigator Graduates TBI Academy

Two dozen Tennessee law enforcement officers, including a Henry County Sheriff's Investigator, have become the newest graduates of the TBI State Academy, built as a professional and specialized training ground for public safety professionals who want to expand their education and training in the criminal justice field.

Henry County Sheriff's Investigator David Wayne Andrews is among the group who recently were graduated from the TBI Academy.

Modeled after the FBI's National Academy, the TBI State Academy includes specialized coursework in the areas of leadership, constitutional law, communications intelligence, and crime scene and undercover investigations. Throughout the four-week course, attended learned advanced investigative techniques, science, and strategy; skills they can take back with them and immediately put into practice at their home agencies. Candidates were nominated by their department heads and were required to have five years of experience as a full-time commissioned officer of a Tennessee law enforcement agency.

Each year, one student is honored with the prestigious Director's Award. The officer selected for that award is the individual with the highest cumulative scores in academic tests, physical fitness, shooting competition, leadership presentation, and case presentation. This year's recipient is Investigator Sam Davidson, from the Franklin County Sheriff's Office.

The Academy runs four days a week for four weeks and is held at Tennessee Fire Service and Codes Enforcement Academy in Bell Buckle. This was the tenth class to graduate from the TBI State Academy.

McKenzie Splits With Bruceton

BY JIM POTTS
jpotts@mckenziebanner.com

McKenzie Middle basketball teams played host to Bruceton in their final home contest of the season coming away with a split of two close games.

Lady Rebels 22, Lady Tigers 17

Neither team was hitting baskets very well early and played to a 6-6 tie in the opening period. The second period saw both teams score just three points each to reach a 9-9 tie by half-time. The third period was low scoring like the first two periods with Bruceton leading 11-10 heading into the final period. Both teams got a bit hotter in the last period but it was a Jaycee Stafford three-pointer that put McKenzie ahead late in the game. The Lady Rebels outscored the Lady Tigers 12-6 during the last period to secure the close win.

McKenzie was led by Charli Weatherford and Jaycee Stafford with eight and seven points respectively while Sarah Luci added three points. Madeline Gotshall and Sanoah Dennie chipped in two points each for the Lady Rebels.

Scarlett King led Bruceton with seven points followed by Olivia Scott and Mikayla Bass with four points each. Ava Finley chipped in two points for the Lady Tigers.

Tigers 55, Rebels 44

The Rebels and Tigers went toe to toe in the first period with several lead changes and the period ended with a 12-11 McKenzie lead. The Tigers retook the lead and surged ahead to a 29-23 halftime lead. Bruceton made it a double-digit lead by the end of the third period with a 44-31 lead. The Rebels did outscore Bruceton in the fourth period but it wasn't enough to win the contest.

Luke Toombs and Jacobi Melton led the Rebels with 11 points each while Cole Brown added six points along with Eli Vinson and Nolan Fawcett with five points each. Fletcher Holt and Avery Brown had three points each for the Rebels.

Bruceton was led by Thratcher Crews with 17 points followed by Parker Finley with 13 points and Nick King with 10 points. Brady Roberts added nine points and Seth Thomas had six points for the Tigers.
