Full Moon Pickin' in Downtown Huntingdon

Scattered Grass, a bluegrass band, delighted the audience with a variety of stringed instruments.

Music and food were on the agenda for a full-filled evening in downtown Huntingdon.

On Saturday, June 30, under the full moon, the Dixie Carter Performing Arts Center hosted Full Moon Pickin' with musicians on the four corners of the Court Square. The musicians would rotate around the square to perform in acoustic sets.

Performing were: the Carl Byars Band, Anna and Jon Eaton, Jagger Stockdale and Josh Middleton, Dalton Burns along with Ian and Whitney Bennett, and Scattered Grass bluegrass.

Michelle Mitchell with The Dixie said the event was a huge success. Many food vendors sold out, and pop-up shops and downtown businesses enjoyed a steady stream of foot traffic.

The temperatures started in the low 90's and cooled as the evening progressed. The event started at 7 p.m. and ended at 10 p.m.

McKenzie Police Department Receives First Aid Kits

McKENZIE — McKenzie Police Department received 22 packs with emergency medical supplies recently from the Watch 7 Healthcare Coalition.

Justin Cook, vice-chair of Watch 7, presented the packs to MPD officers Sergeant Andy Weaver, Assistant Chief Richard Sawyers, and Investigator Jasmin Burgess. Cook is the director of Carrol County Ambulance Service, based in McKenzie.

One kit will be placed in each of the 22 officers' patrol cars and ready for use in an emergency. Most times, the police are on the scene prior to the arrival of EMS crews.

Cook said his staff can provide training class to the officers in the near future.

Huntingdon Approves Budget, Tax Rate

HUNTINGDON (June 26) The Mayor and Council of the Town of Huntingdon approved the 2018-2019 fiscal year budget and tax rate during its Tuesday, June 26 meeting.

On the second and final reading the Council unanimously approved a tax rate of $1.34 per $100 assessed value on real property for both residential and commercial property and ad valorem tax on commercial equipment and furnishings.

During the first reading of the budget on June 12, Mayor Dale Kelley listed items of note included in the FY 2019 budget: purchase of two vehicles for various departments; sidewalk construction in the area near the middle school (with 100 percent Safe Routes to Schools grants); Phase II of the Kelley Sports Complex addition; sewer system improvements; replacement of the Buena Vista Road sewer pumping station; street paving; and a $.15 per hour raise for employees with an additional $.15 on the hire date anniversary.

He said, "As mayor and town council, it is our goal through Fiscal Year 2019 to continue building infrastructure and laying the groundwork to secure the needs of future generations. The 2019 budget continues our efforts for economic growth and development by support of the Huntingdon Industrial Development Board and the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce."

In the FY 2019 budget, General Fund estimated revenues and transfers total $5,405,300 and expenses and transfers out total $5,393,020. Drug Control Fund estimated revenues total $12,050 and expenses total $27,600, with the deficit funded from prior year reserves. Solid Waste Collection Fund estimated revenues and expenses each total $255,000. Dixie Carter Performing Arts Special Project Fund estimated revenues and transfers in total $779,650 and expenses total $779,300. Carroll County Watershed Special Project Fund estimated revenues total $50 with no expenses. Utility Fund estimated revenues total $3,150,337 and expenses and transfers out total $2,743,670. Public Improvement Fund estimated revenues total $50 and expenses total $124,500, with the deficit funded from prior year reserves.

Bids for the construction of a concession building at Kelley Sports Complex Phase II included electrical work and masonry work. Jones Electric and Automation of McKenzie was awarded the bid at $79,790 for the electrical work over Miller Contractors of Jackson with a bid of $89,538. The lone masonry bid from Miller Contractors at $71,575 was rejected and the project will be rebid.

A municipal election to elect three councilpersons on November 6 was approved for submission to the Carroll County Election Commission. The elective four-year terms of John Sanders, Melissa Powell, and Jeff Bailey expire in November.

MCKENZIE SPECIAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Tax Rate Unchanged in $12 Million Budget

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com
Copyright 2018 - Tri-County Pub

McKENZIE (June 26) — The McKenzie Special School District Board of Education approved a budget of just over $12 million with an unchanged tax rate for Fiscal Year 2018-19 during the regular monthly meeting Tuesday.

The tax rate remains $1.277 per $100 assessed property value. Tax revenues are distributed between the General Fund ($.7256) and Debt Service Fund ($.5514).

The budget includes a two percent across-the-board raise and $1,000 November bonus for all district employees.

Estimated revenues and other funds total $11,774,304: $9,411,995 to the General Purpose Fund; $814,054 to the Federal Projects Fund; $819,000 to the Central Cafeteria Fund; and $729,255 to the Debt Service Fund.

Estimated expenditures total $12,058,195: $9,550,317 from the General Purpose Fund; $814,054 from the Federal Projects Fund; $840,008 from the Central Cafeteria Fund; and $853,818 from the Debt Service Fund.

The deficit of $283,894 will come from reserve funds, leaving an estimated $2,719,465 in reserves at the end of the fiscal year.

The 2018-19 salary schedule includes a starting salary of $37,600 for a first-year teacher with a bachelor's. Each additional level of education and year of service increases the salary, with a 20-year teacher with a Doctorate earning $62,570.

Of McKenzie's 108 instructors, 36 have at least 20 years of experience, and 66 percent hold at least a Masters.

The total outstanding principal and interest on the district's bonded debt is $3,446,400 with the final payment due on April 1, 2022.

Notable in the budget is the addition of nine more carts of 25 Chromebooks each to be acquired before the start of the school year.

The board also approved several amendments to the current budget. These were mostly end-of-year "housekeeping" to replace estimates with actual costs on items such as food commodities, but one amendment accounts for a new HVAC unit in the high school cafeteria.

Also approved was the FY 2019 Consolidated Application, which includes grants for Title IA, II, III and V under ESSA, IDEA Part B, IDEA Preschool, IDEA Discretionary and Carl Perkins. Director of Schools Lynn Watkins was authorized as the board's representative to file the application and Supervisor Ladona Herrin as the contact person for carrying out the duties of the application.

General Fund Expense Accounts were approved for the three schools.

Director Watkins was designated as the district's fiscal agent.

2018-19 food service charges were approved, with no meal price changes, and the cafeterias will again provide free breakfast.

Food service bids were approved, again reflecting no change from the previous year: HPS/GFS for produce, Prairie Farms for milk and milk products, Turner Dairy for ice cream products, HPS for food/non-food supplies and Flowers Baking Company for bread.

The board approved Physical Education as a focus of study, which will provide flexibility for some student athletes in fulfilling state requirements for a focus of study.

Two courses were approved as for-credit classes at the high school. ACT Prep will now count for half a credit and will factor into students' grade point averages. Director Watkins hopes this will add some accountability for students and improve the effectiveness of the course. Plant Science and Hydroculture will be a state dual-credit course.

Director Watkins' report to the board included a dozen resignations and 21 new personnel hires. He also supplied a report, as required by board policy, of all bullying cases brought to the attention of school official during the previous year, of which there were none.

He announced that the fall school district meeting would be Tuesday, September 18 at Trenton Special Schools.

He also relayed that, per new Tennessee legislation, the phrase "In God We Trust" must be prominently displayed in each of the three schools.

As usual, there will be no board meeting in July. The next meeting is Tuesday, August 7.

Board members Greg Barker, Elaine Brown and Jan Latimer were absent.

West Carroll Schools Keep Same Tax Rate

BY JIM POTTS

West Carroll's School Board voted to keep the tax rate at $1.3486 per 100 dollars of assessed real property during a June 28 called meeting but served notice unofficially that there may have to be a tax increase as early as next year to keep the schools adequately funded. Along with the tax rate, the Board passed the budget for the 2018-19 fiscal year with little discussion. School Director Dexter Williams noted prior to the vote that last year's budget was based on 890 students while this year's budget was based on an estimated 852 student enrollment. He also indicated that this budget was a "very tight budget" due to the nearly 40 student estimated decrease from last year. The board also approved amendments to the 2017-18 budget with the fiscal year coming to a close in a few days. Williams commented that most of the amendments dealt with salaries.

Director Williams recommended an amendment to the Class Rank Policy which in the past has read that the GPA of graduating students would not include senior year second semester grades. Williams proposed to change it to include the full senior year. The board approved that recommendation on first reading.

In other action, the board approved the consent agenda which included two more resignations, Molly Vann-6th grade science teacher and Lee Ann Coleman-3rd grade math teacher. The board approved the second reading of a change to the attendance policy. The policy regarding Bids and Quotations was approved to increase the bid amounts from $10,000 to $20,000 before advertising for competitive bids. The School Handbooks for the upcoming year were approved on second reading. A lone bid for a serving line for the Elementary school was accepted after Janet Winchester indicated the bid was within estimated costs.

West Carroll announced the recent hires. The new band director is Michael Nelson, from the Henry County School System. Non-faculty coaching positions are Gayle Kendrick assistant high school girl's basketball coach and head coach of the junior high girls, and Scott Guymon head coach of both high school and junior high baseball programs.

Watershed Authority Approves Budget, Hears Complaint of Rules Violations

HUNTINGDON (June 26) — Carroll County Watershed Authority members approved the 2018-19 fiscal year budget during its Tuesday, June 26 meeting. The board heard complaints from Walt Reaster, a lakefront resident, who said boaters ignore the no wake zone rules.

The $1,050,759 budgeted expenditures are funding through $944,750 in revenues including an anticipated $500,000 state grant, $55,178 pulled from reserves and $36,358 revenues over expenses carried forward from the previous fiscal year. The anticipated revenues over expenses are $1,598.

Each licensed vehicle in Carroll County has assessed $10 annually on a wheel tax, which nets $245,000. A property tax of $60,000 generated from appreciated value of the real estate in the lake area is also added to revenues. Other revenues include $47,100 from permits and licenses, up from $40,650 last year and $37,000 two years ago; marina revenues of $43,500, boat dock fees of $15,000, concessions of $2,500, RV park rentals of $20,000, miscellaneous sales of $2,500, and gasoline sales of $5,000.

Expenditures are: operating expenses of $155,450; monitoring station $800; sale of fuel $4,000; concession/pavilion expenses $9,050; marina operations, $3,300; RV park expenses $16,700 and meeting/conference room $17,500, and principal and interest payments of $843,959. The debt retires in the year 2055 and the wheel tax is anticipated to end in 2034. In 2016, the actual cost was approximately $26 million.

In other business, the board approved a request from Lakewood Capital Group to cut and grind trees and saplings in the 50-foot lakeside buffer area adjacent to property owned by the developers. Tennessee Department of Conservation approved the request as long as the vegetation roots are not destroyed. The buffer zone is owned by the Watershed Authority, not adjacent landowners.

Walt Reaster made one of his regular monthly appearances at the meeting to complain about boaters disregarding the rules concerning no wake zones in the upper end of the lake. He said the boaters are speeding and throwing big wakes and destroying the habitat of wildlife. The overhead TVA powerlines serve as the boundary between the area for pleasure boating and fishing-only, no-wake zone. Reaster showed board members a video of a boater who totally disregarded the rules. As in past meetings, Reaster asked the board to place a staff member in a boat to at least record the boat's registration numbers and then ban them from the lake.

As in the past, Reaster was told the associates of the Watershed Authority have no law enforcement authority.

In the past, Sheriff Andy Dickson told Reaster the CCSO cannot enforce the lake's rules. The CCSO only enforces laws.

Reaster asked the board to request additional patrol by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency, which has the authority to enforce safety and fishing rules.

"You are not getting anywhere by doing nothing," concluded Reaster.

Reaster also alerted the board of a shallow sandbar on the lake.

Board members in attendance were Tommy Surber, Dale Kelley, Bob Clark, and Joe Smothers. Absent were Kenny McBride and Natalie Porter.

McKenzie Receives TNECD Retail Academy Grant

NASHVILLE — The Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development recently announced 30 recipients of the Retail Academy Grant including McKenzie. The grant is designed to provide funding to communities to participate in two retail training programs.

"I want to congratulate the 30 recipients of the Retail Academy Grant," TNECD Commissioner Bob Rolfe said. "With the assistance of these grants and the Retail Academy program, communities across the state will be taking the steps to improve their retail landscape, which will in turn promote economic growth."

Jill Holland, mayor of McKenzie, and Frank Tate, executive director of the McKenzie Industrial Board applied for the grant to host Retail Academy 201, a focused course for retail development. McKenzie recently acquired 67 acres of land on State Route 22 across from McKenzie High School. The land is designed for mixed-use, including retail, lodging, and housing.

The Retail Academy Grant fully funds participation in the Retail Academy program in September of 2018. The goal is to provide cities and towns with the resources and education necessary to grow their retail, which will lead to higher sales tax and property tax collections for the communities. The Retail Academy, developed by leading national retail advisory firm Retail Strategies, educates communities on best practices to attract new retailers while providing resources to support and grow existing local businesses.

"We are excited to expand what has already been a successful program that equips communities will resources to grow existing businesses and attract new retail opportunities," Assistant Commissioner of Community and Rural Development Amy New said. "With these tools, communities can tailor retail recruitment to meet local needs by creating jobs, strengthening the local economy and broadening the local tax base."

The selected communities for Retail Academy 101 include: Alamo, Bolivar, Decatur, Dunlap, Dyersburg, Greeneville, Henderson, Humboldt, Jasper, Loudon, McMinnville, Mosheim, Portland, Pulaski, Somerville and White Bluff.

The selected communities for Retail Academy 201 include: Athens, Erin, Erwin, Jamestown, Lexington, Maynardville, McKenzie, Mountain City, Ripley, Spring City, Tracy City, Tullahoma, Waynesboro and Whitwell.

The Retail Academy 101 program is an introduction to retail recruitment for local leaders, and the Retail Academy 201 program offers advanced retail site selection training to communities who have completed the 101 program. TNECD supported communities completing the Retail Academy in 2016 with a pilot round in west Tennessee and with distressed communities from across the state in 2017. Since those academies, new retail establishments have opened in 41 percent of the participating communities with an estimated annual economic impact of $1.7 million in new local tax revenue.

Each application was supported by the community's senator and representative in the Tennessee General Assembly.

Retail Academy is a program developed from a leading national retail advisory firm, Retail Strategies. The program assists communities in strengthening their retail landscape. Communities will be trained and equipped with the tools and education necessary to attract new retailers to their markets, while providing support to their existing local businesses.

Williams

Judge Williams was appointed to the Court of Criminal Appeals by Gov. Don Sundquist in November 1998 and is one of the court's longest-serving members.

Three years ago, the University of Tennessee at Martin Department of Behavioral Sciences presented Judge Williams with the first Distinguished Criminal Justice Alumni Award.

As a member of the Tennessee Court of Criminal Appeals, Judge Williams has stood for retention election in state-wide elections in 2000, 2006 and 2014. In his last election, he received more votes to be retained than any member of his court and the least votes to be replaced than any member of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals or Court of Criminal Appeals.

When asked his feelings about the new role, Judge Williams said he was both humbled and appreciative of the support he had been given by his colleagues. "Not only are they my colleagues, but each and every member of the court are outstanding individuals, and I feel honored to be chosen to lead them at this time."

As chairman of the Tennessee Lawyers Assistance Program, Judge Williams headed one of the nation's best lawyers assistance programs, as recognized by the American Bar Association.

Judge Williams is a frequent lecturer in the state and nation.

Carroll Countians enjoy seeing Judge Williams as the magic man, performing on the Huntingdon Court Square or for various charitable events. He also loves portraying Mark Twain. He has served as judge for The Dixie's Dancing With the Stars and Miss Dixie PAC.

One bar chairman in East Tennessee said, "Renaissance men are becoming a rare breed in America, even rarer among barristers in the legal profession. That would make John Everett Williams, a Court of Criminal Appeals judge in Tennessee, one of the rarest jewels in the halls of American justice."

The Presiding Judge makes case assignments and docket decisions, designates special judges to complete panels, monitors all capital cases, oversees and provides agendas for all court meetings and serves as a liaison to the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and among the three grand divisions.

the position on June 14.

Hampton, 41, began his U.S. Postal Service career in 1998 as a clerk in Jackson. After two years, he took the same position in McKenzie, where he worked for around eight years. He then spent ten years as the supervisor of customer services at Paris up until his return to McKenzie last month.

In an interview with The Banner, Hampton said that he wanted to come back to McKenzie because in the years he spent here, he enjoyed the people and the employees.

He said, "My goal is to serve the community and give them the best service we can provide."

He added that if customers have any problems or complaint, they can contact him at the post office.

When asked what drew him to the Postal Service, he said, "It's a good organization to work for, with a history of being able to establish a good career."

Hampton lives in his native Hollow Rock with his wife, April, and two children, Noah and Addison.

Journalists' Jobs Are Not 8 to 5

Five journalists died last week in Maryland at the hands of a gunman, who was disgruntled over a story written about him concerning his arrest and conviction.

Journalism is not an easy profession and it is certainly not 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Banner's journalists work days, nights, weekends, and holidays to provide news for the readers. We write about meetings of the government, sports, graduations, criminal court cases, police reports, festivals, special events, and business.

In Carroll County, it is the staffs of the two newspapers who attend these and many other functions so that the readers are informed.

The Banner staff lives in the community, our children attend the local schools in Carroll County, and shop locally.

Many times, the newspaper representatives are the lone ones at meetings of the governmental body. That is probably 90 percent of the time. Occasionally, an item on the published agenda sparks the interest of citizens, who will attend.

And while some online pundits pontificate, they do not attend the meetings. The pundits are simply repeating what they read in the newspaper.

The newspaper industry has sustained recent assaults by the President about fake news and worse, his tariffs (taxes) on newsprint, which increased the operating costs of this and other newspapers in the United States. As a member of an association that prints six community newspapers in Huntingdon, the tariffs increased costs by $1,000 monthly so far. The adverse effects of tariffs make a planned $100,000 expansion in Huntingdon just a bit more daunting.

This year marks the 70th year the Washburn family has been in publishing in McKenzie.

A Pictorial History of McKenzie, Tennessee

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

And To The Republic For Which It Stands

I had a crazy thought about this 4th of July thing. Do the people in America who don't respect the flag get to celebrate the holiday? Do they get the day off from work? Do they get the same sale prices at Sears and Lowes that we get? Is it illegal for them to cook out or spend the Fourth at the beach? Can they watch the fireworks show?

Is there any penalty at all in this country for NOT respecting the American Flag?

And let's not bore each other with ex post facto, jurisprudence, writ of habeas corpus delicti legal talk. The short answer is...you bet your Stars and Stripes there is! And it is much worse than any police department, constitutional law or court of public opinion can hand down.

Can you imagine reading the life and death struggles of the birth of this nation at Lexington Green, Bunker Hill, Valley Forge...and only understanding the cold hard history of it? Those same people would think a Civil War soldier crazy to drop his rifle to pick up a fallen American Flag in the midst of battle. They wouldn't understand the week after Pearl Harbor when hundreds of thousands left the farm, quit their job at the bank, withdrew from college, lied about their age, gave up a major league baseball career...and sprinted to the nearest induction center.

The disrespecters would argue quickly, loudly and often that Bunker Hill, the Civil War and being attacked by the Japanese had nothing to do with the American Flag. That is really the sad part of this whole story.

It's all in the Pledge.

I believe, with all my heart, that a bacon and egg sandwich tastes better if red, white and blue are your favorite colors. The morning sun peeping out from the eastern sky holds more promise to those who truly lift the Banner high. A correct relationship with the Stars and Stripes ought to start friends, family and opponents singing together in perfect three part harmony.

Can you imagine watching an eagle soar over the Grand Canyon and NOT relating it to the majesty and wonderment of this great nation, entwined with freedom, liberty and justice, resting safely under the protection of the best looking Flag on earth! To see it any other way...it's just a bird flying over a big ditch.

Maybe these dissenters weren't lucky enough to stand as a boy on the square across from the Western Auto and cheer as the 4th of July parade passed by. Maybe they didn't get any of the free chicken and barbeque. Maybe they didn't notice that every father in the crowd had served in the last war. So they might not have quite understood why everybody snapped to ramrod straight attention as the big Flag was raised over the World War Monument. I'm telling you, the wind didn't even breathe for a few minutes.

Can you imagine singing "Oh, say can you see"...and you really couldn't!

Good people have been taking care of me since I was knee high to a grasshopper. I've seen my share of peaceful sunsets. My belly is full. The wind stays at my back. I don't think it is by accident or blind luck. And it didn't just happen this morning. Somebody somewhere paid a price for me to live like this!

Let's not separate our good fortune into parents, big brothers, pastors, elementary school teachers, coaches, friends, mentors, soldiers, concerned neighbors, past experiences, blessings from above, land of the free or the Star Spangled Banner. It's all of them rolled into one—we call it life in these United States. And I believe ours is a story worth sharing with any that might have lost the way.

Can you imagine turning down Main Street on the 4th of July, seeing a hundred American Flags waving on every tree, utility pole and street light from the Methodist Church all the way passed City Hall out to the intersection with the state highway... and not feeling anything!

So please, let's not get mad at these few naysayers. Don't cause a scene. And for goodness sakes don't get on TV and say anything bad about them. There's not a group in the world that needs our help more...and our sympathy. It is so difficult to spend all your waking hours swimming up a crippled creek. I'm for throwing out a lifeline to every single one of them. How about, instead of barbs, we offer an understanding hand.

It's the American way. And it would do our Flag proud...

Respectfully,
Kes

United Way Invests in Carroll County Agencies

JACKSON (June 20) — The month of June brings a lot of excitement for United Way of West Tennessee as their Community Impact process comes to a close and grants are awarded to area nonprofits.

United Way spends most of the year in fundraising campaigns that support programs run by their partner agencies. But April through June is Community Impact season, when volunteers from each county gather to review grant applications and make funding decisions. "One of the special parts about United Way is that all of our funding decisions are made by local volunteers. They know best what problems are facing their community, and they get to decide where to invest the money we've raised in that county," says Scott Conger, President & CEO of United Way of West Tennessee.

This year in Carroll County, United Way is investing $23,395, up more than $13,000 from last year, which will support programs run by seven local agencies. This kind of investment has far reaching impact. Last year, Carroll County agencies served more than 4,000 people of all ages in a wide variety of issues within the fields of health, education and financial stability. "When you make a donation to United Way's Community Impact Fund, you are able to give to more than just one specific cause. United Way-funded programs address issues ranging from child abuse prevention, legal services, after-school programs, disaster assistance and more," says Ashley Gooch, United Way Resource Director for Carroll County.

In addition to local investments, Carroll County funds also help to support regional United Way programs like the 2-1-1 helpline, where people in need can be connected to the appropriate agency when they are not sure where to find help, and Volunteer Income Tax Assistance, which provides free tax preparation services by a certified specialist. During this year's campaign season, Carroll County raised more than $32,000, which also includes funds that are designated out of the area. Carroll County came on board with United Way of West Tennessee in 1992 and has raised more than $2 million since that time. To see a complete list of agencies supported by United Way of West Tennessee, visit their website: www.uwwt.org.

Domestic Assault — Officer Mark Boaz charged Jessica Rose Curtis, 31, of Walnut Circle, McKenzie with domestic assault after an incident with her Terrence Roy, 49, of Park Cove, McKenzie.

On June 29 at 10:12 p.m., Curtis and Roy were in the rear parking lot of McKenzie Police Department when dispatch called for officers to come to the scene. According to the report, the two had traveled to Jackson, picked up some food, and were traveling back home when an argument ensued. Roy, who was driving, stated Curtis was striking him in the head and his side and yelling at him. She was seated in the rear seat with her child. Roy decided to pull into the MPD parking lot. When officers arrived, she was outside the vehicle and Roy refused to let her enter. He had phoned the dispatcher from the car. He stated he was paralyzed from the waist down, and could not defend himself.

Curtis told officer Beauchamp that she did place her hand on Roy's cheek but did not actually strike him. She reported Roy had drugs in the car, but a search of the car and Mr. Roy produced no drugs. Curtis was charged with domestic assault and was allowed to phone someone to come get the child.

Driving While Suspended/ Cancelled — Officer Kyle Beauchamp charged Douglas Hurst, 48, Bradford, Arkansas with driving on a suspended license after a 1:20 a.m. traffic stop on June 26. According to the report, Beauchamp stopped the vehicle because the driver's side headlight was not working. Hurst's passenger was allowed to drive the car with Hurst as a passenger.

McGrath to Open for Eric Clapton

Kelly McGrath will be the opening act for Eric Clapton on Sunday, July 8 at Hyde Park London. McGrath, daughter of a McKenzie native and graduate, performed at McKenzie Fried and Sweet Tea Festival in August 2017. Her father and sister both attended Bethel University in McKenzie.

She will open for the sold out concert of Eric Clapton and will share the stage with Carlos Santana, Steve Winwood, Gary Clark, Jr., Lukas Nelson, The Americans, The Wandering Hearts, Ryan Kinder and Eric Paslay.

Last year, McGrath said, "The city of McKenzie holds a special place in my heart. I have strong roots in McKenzie as my mother was born and raised there."

Her mother is Jan King, who grew up on Stonewall Street. Jan's parents and Kelly's grandparents were Jerry and Darrell King and her uncle, Jimmy King still lives in McKenzie. Her great-grandfather was Glenn King, former mayor of McKenzie.

Kelly McGrath is an established Americana pop-country artist and songwriter with a sound all her own. This Nashville-based starlet has certainly paid her dues as respected nationally-touring artist and songwriter. Kelly's unique voice has been compared to Janis Joplin, Dolly Parton and Patty Griffin. With an astounding talent, an unconquerable spirit, Kelly continues to inspire and win the hearts of listeners, and is definitely the artist to watch.

McGrath 's single, "All That I Want," is about moving on after breaking up with a loved one. The video for "All That I Want," was released last year.

Butler, Dillahunty, Tate Graduate From WestStar Leadership Program

JACKSON (June 21) — Members of the WestStar Leadership Program's class of 2018 graduated Thursday during WestStar's closing event held at the DoubleTree Hotel. The University of Tennessee at Martin sponsors the WestStar Leadership Program.

This marked the program's 29th class and brings the total to 827 graduates since WestStar was established in 1989. The 2018 class included 30 members who were competitively selected to learn new leadership skills and develop strategies for assisting communities in solving problems and maximizing potential.

Each WestStar class is chosen annually by the program's board of trustees. Selection is based on individual leadership achievements and potential to contribute to West Tennessee's development. The class members, selected from all occupations and levels of community and regional involvement, complete eight sessions covering topics including agriculture and transportation, public policy issues, education and tourism.

Dr. Charley Deal, WestStar executive director, welcomed more than 150 class members, alumni and guests to the graduation ceremony. He thanked the program's corporate sponsors, reviewed WestStar-sponsored conferences and activities since the start of the year and joined the program's board of trustees to congratulate graduates and present graduation plaques.

Deal also announced WestStar's most recent scholarship recipients, as well as three major awards presented annually during the program's graduation.

Seth Bowers of Gleason was among several special honorees who received awards. Bowers received RisingStar Leadership Scholarships. The scholarship is awarded to students who attended WestStar's RisingStar Leadership Program held for selected high school juniors and seniors each fall and who plan to attend UT Martin. Selections are made by a university committee.

Following recognition of the graduates, Deal closed the event by reminding the audience that leadership is about impact, influence and inspiration. "Impact involves getting results, influence is about spreading the passion that you have for your work, and you have to be able to inspire those around you," he said. "Let us all leave here tonight committed to making a positive impact in our community, influencing positive changes in West Tennessee and inspiring the next generation of leaders to commit to making our state even better than it is today."

The 2018 WestStar graduating class members and their hometowns are: Tommy Allmon, Dyersburg; B.W. Beasley, Milan; Leigh Anne Bentley, Jackson; Yvette Blue, Brownsville; Rico Bryson, Jackson; Joseph Butler, Huntingdon; Alex Bynum, Dresden; Tony Childress, Dyersburg; Michael Creasy, Decaturville; Ashley Dennis, Savannah; Brent Dillahunty, Huntingdon; Stephanie Fowler, Jackson; Richard Griggs, Covington; John Hughey, Trenton; Brett Lashlee, Camden; Andrew Long, Jackson; Julian McTizic, Bolivar; Charlie Moore, Alamo; Jeff Parham, Martin; Theresa Powell, Alamo; Rodney Reynolds, Lexington; John Rountree, Millington; Heidi Shafer, Memphis; Brandy Stutsman, Jackson; Portis Tanner, Union City; Kara Tapp, Somerville; Frank Tate, McKenzie; Bob Turner, Somerville; Katie Weatherford, Selmer; and Charles West, Paris.

Gleason Rotary Installs 2018-2019 Officers

GLEASON (June 25) — The Gleason Rotary Club held its annual officer installation on Monday, June 25 at Simply Southern Café. Gary Vandiver assumed the position as president on July 1 as Immediate Past-President Jason Martin began his duties as Assistant District Governor for District 6760.

Martin administered the oath of office to Vandiver of Paris. Vandiver a former resident of Gleason works as a children's crime investigator for the Henry County Sheriff's Office.

Vandiver administered the oath of office to President-Elect David Esch and board members Treasurer Charles Bookout, Secretary Cil Weddington, Sergeant-at-Arms Jacky Esch, Jason Martin and Delois Shaw.

The 2017-2018 was marked as a successful year for the 16 member club. Two members Shaw and Martin were named Paul Harris Fellows; the award indicates a contribution of at least $1,000 was gifted to the Rotary Foundation. The club was noted as a Star Club every member per capita contributed over $100 to the Rotary Foundation along with donating to PolioPlus Fund.

Since Rotary and its partners launched the Global Polio Eradication Initiative nearly 30 years ago, the incidence of polio has plummeted by more than 99.9 percent, from about 350,000 cases a year to just 37 cases in 2016. To sustain this progress, and protect all children from polio, Rotary has committed to raising $50 million per year over the next three years in support of global polio eradication efforts. The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation will match Rotary's commitment 2:1. Without full funding and political commitment, the paralyzing disease could return to previously polio-free countries, putting children everywhere at risk.

The Park is stunning with its abundance of American flags, both large and small, as well as patriotic bunting around the gazebo and on the park benches. The gorgeous hanging baskets of red begonias, vincas, sweet potato vines and bacopa are a joint effort of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Carol Morrissett and the McKenzie Middle School students who planted the baskets as a community project. The decorative pots of red geraniums and ivy are planted each year by the Morning Glory Garden Club. McKenzie, Paris Rotary Meet at Sweet Jordan's

PARIS — McKenzie Rotary Club met at Sweet Jordan's Restaurant in Paris on Tuesday, June 26 for its regular weekly meeting.

The club enjoyed the hospitality of the hosts and the special recognition from the staff on mostly special needs adults. Club members decided to meet at the restaurant after hearing a presentation from Brad and Jordan St. John several weeks ago.

Several members of the Paris Rotary Club joined the McKenzie members. Travis McLeese, director of the Paris-Henry County Chamber of Commerce also attended.

On the website, Jordan describes his life as follows: "I was given less than five percent chance of living. That's what the doctor told my mom and dad when my mom was just four months pregnant with me. Looking back now it is so evident to my family and I that God had other plans for me. You see, not only did I have major medical issues going on with me that would need special attention, but my parents were also told that I had Downs Syndrome. Several people advised my young parents that I should just be aborted, after all what kind of life did I have to look forward to right? Perhaps that's what the world thinks but thank God, my parents knew better. They knew that God has a special plan for ALL His children…even me. God used my life to change their minds and hearts and I believe that 26 years later, He is using my life again to change something else…my community. I believe I and others like me can do anything if given the chance."

Gasoline Prices Rise Before Holiday

TAMPA, Fla. (July 2, 2018) — Gas prices are are facing upward pressure as Independence Day quickly approaches. AAA forecasts nearly 47 million Americans will travel for the holiday. The 39.7 million - who will drive - will find gas prices 50-60 cents more than last year.

Sunday's average of $2.60 is 60 cents more than this time last year.

"Gas prices will inch higher before July 4, on renewed concerns of global oil supply shortages," said Mark Jenkins, spokesman, AAA - The Auto Club Group. "Oil prices are back to multi-year highs. Another 5-10 cent increase at the pump would not be out of the question this week, but prices will not rocket high enough to ruin travel plans."

Motorists will find the most expensive Independence Day gas prices in three years. In 2015, holiday motorists paid $2.74 per gallon; a huge difference from 2014, when a gallon of regular averaged $3.45.

The most expensive gas price averages in Tennessee are in Nashville ($2.65), Jackson ($2.65), and Memphis ($2.63).

The least expensive gas price averages in Tennessee are in Cleveland ($2.47), Clarksville-Hopkinsville ($2.53), and Chattanooga ($2.53).

Oil Prices Drag Gas Prices Higher

The rising price of crude oil restored upward pressure on prices at the pump. After trading around $65 per barrel two weeks ago, oil rocketed to $74.15 on Friday. That is the highest daily settlement since November 2014.

Oil prices rose due to the following factors:

Weekly EIA data showed record high exports of U.S. crude

EIA also reported a significant drop in U.S. inventories

The U.S. asked allies to stop buying Iranian crude by November 4

OPEC and Russia agreed to raise production by a lower amount than what was expected

Crude production challenges in Canada

Gasoline futures prices rose 11 cents last week on the NYMEX. Wholesale gasoline also rose nearly 10 cents. The higher prices will make it more expensive for retailers to fill their pumps. That added cost is typically passed along to the consumer.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.
