McKenzie Medical Center Closes OB Department

McKenzie Medical Center announced today it plans to close its obstetrics department following last week's announcement of the closure of McKenzie Regional Hospital.

"With heavy hearts we regret to announce our OB Department will be closing. The OB Department closing is a direct result of the closure of McKenzie Regional Hospital and there is no other hospital located close enough to us that offers OB care.

"We will continue to provide our other services: primary care, pediatric care, walk-in clinic/urgent care, counseling, diabetic care, weight loss clinic and more to help ensure our community and surrounding areas has access to quality care.

"MMC has delivered babies for 40 years and we have anguished over the decision to close our OB department. Please know we researched, had hours of conversations, and numerous meetings discussing ideas on how to save our OB Department, sadly to no avail.

"At this time, we are working on contacting our OB patients to personally let them know, but please call our OB Department at 731-352-8745 if you have more questions."

Trey McKinney and Carter Wijangco of the Bluegrass Jr. Bassmasters

West Carroll Team Of Nelson, Ricketts Placed 11th

HUNTINGDON — By the smallest of margins, Trey McKinney and Carter Wijangco of the Bluegrass Jr. Bassmasters outlasted the 54-team field to win the 2018 Bassmaster Junior Championship on Carroll County 1,000 Acre Recreational Lake. Their two-day total of 17 pounds, 6 ounces, gave them a 1-ounce advantage over first-round leaders Jeremy Monda and Will Boyd of Florida.

On what was a tougher day on the Tennessee reservoir, the duo scrounged up a five-bass limit weighing 8 pounds, but that was enough to win the championship title. With water temperatures in the 80s, the

Weakley County: Mayor Bynum, Sheriff Wilson Win

After weeks of candidates campaigning for public office at the local and state levels, the voters have cast their ballots and the results are in for the August 2, 2018 Weakley County General Election and State Primary. Out of 15,928 registered voters, a total of 6,863 ballots (43.09 percent) were cast in the Weakley County Aug. 2 General Election and State Primary. Of this number, 5,040 votes were cast by Republicans, 1,508 were Democrats and 314 were non-partisan. In the Aug. 2 Weakley County General Election, incumbent Weakley County Mayor Jake Bynum (I) of Dresden, now in his first term of office, won re-election with 3,972 votes. Challenger, Jason Plunk (R) of Sharon, who currently serves as a member of the Sharon City Board, came in second with 2,750 votes. Sheriff Michael A. Wilson (D), who has held his job for the past 36 years, won re-election with 3,490 votes, while former Martin Police Chief David Moore (R) came in a close second with 3,286 votes. Candidates elected to the Weakley County Commission are as follows (two seats per district): In District 1, the top two vote getters are incumbent Donald J. Doster (R), who received 481 votes; and challenger Bobby Dunlap (R), who garnered 480. Losing his bid for re-election was incumbent James F. Bynum (D), who received 302 ballots cast in his favor. Incumbents Larry Hudson (I) and Eric Owen (I), who were unopposed, won re-election in District 2 with 515 votes and 448 votes respectively. In District 3, incumbents Greg Usery (I) and James Roy Pope (I) were unchallenged in their bid for re-election. Usery received 586 votes and Pope 511 votes. The only candidates on the ballot in District 4 were incumbent Gary Eddings (R) and newcomer Colton A. Nanney (R). Eddings, who was appointed after Commissioner Carmen Chandler moved out of Weakley County, garnered 815 votes; and Nanney, received 730 votes. District 4 Commissioner Tommy Jones did not seek re-election. In District 5, Larry Wayne Taylor (R) garnered 466 votes and Scott Fortner (R) received 397 votes. Both men are incumbents. In a three-way race for the two available seats in District

6, David R. Bell (R) received 217 votes; and Dale Overton (D) won re-election with 179 votes. Joey Mehlhorn (R) came in last with 158 votes. Incumbent District 6 Commissioner Earl Wright chose not to seek re-election. In District 7, incumbents Roger Vancleave (R) and David Hawks (R) ran unchallenged, with Vancleave receiving 677 and votes Hawks 640 votes. Incumbents Roger Donaldson (R) and Jack Vincent (D) ran for re-election unopposed in District 8. Vincent garnered 516 votes and Donaldson received 507 votes. In District 9, incumbents Jimmy Westbrook (D) and Donald Doster (R) were challenged in their re-election bid by newcomer Donnie R. Essary (R). Westbrook received 581 votes; and Essary 512 votes. Doster lost his re-election effort with 453 votes. Department heads, running unopposed received the following complimentary votes: Trustee – Marci Floyd (I), 6,312 votes; Register of Deeds – April Wright Jones (I), 6,155 votes; Circuit Court Clerk – Jennifer Tharpe Killebrew (I), 6,183 votes; County Clerk – Kim Hughey (R), 6,195 votes; and Road Supervisor – Charles Ross (I) 5,864 votes. The winners in School Board races are as follows: In District 2, Beau Atkins of Gleason, who was appointed to complete the unfinished term of retiring member Lindell Roney, ran unopposed and was elected to his first full term in office with 565 votes. Incumbent Jeffery L. Floyd of Greenfield, representing District 3, was completing the unexpired term of John H. Liggett, who resigned to assume the Finance Director's job. Floyd, who ran for the seat unopposed in his first election bid, received 639 complimentary votes. In the District 4 School Board race, challenger David Martin Hamlin of Sharon, who garnered 537 votes, won the School Board slot with 537 votes. District 4 School Board member Ali Stalter of Sharon, who was appointed to the post by the Weakley County Commission following the resignation of retiring School Board Chairman Gordon Morris, lost her bid for the office with 419 votes. Incumbent Steven Vantrease of Martin, who represents District 6 and currently serves as School Board Chairman, ran unchallenged. Vantrease received 326 votes. In District 8, incumbent John R. Hatler of Martin won re-election without opposition, with 651 ballots cast in his favor. Incumbent Joshua Moore of Dresden, representing District 9, has been serving out the unfinished term of Kevin McAlpin, who resigned his post. Moore, who ran unopposed, won his first full term in office with 889 votes. Candidates in the Aug. 2 General Election elected constables in their respective districts are as follows: Results in contested constable races are: In District 1, Terry Odle (I) won with 572 votes, while Anthony Tony Wilson (D) placed second with 192 votes. Votes cast for the three candidates vying for the constable's seat in District 9 resulted in Brandon Odle (I), winning with 369 votes. John G. Hilliard, Sr. (R), received 271 votes and Keith Summer (I), 231 votes. Candidates received the following number of votes in uncontested constable contests: District 2 - Richard Black (D), 505 votes; District 3 - Tony Trimble (I), 603 votes; District 4 - Mike Beal (R), 884 votes; District 5 - no candidate qualified; District 6 - John Cook (I), 307 votes; District 7 - Freddie Brasfield (D), 767 votes; and District 8 - Scott Norris (R), 586 votes. Normally, city elections are every four years in November. However, there was an exception in this year's General Election. A single alderman's seat was on the Aug. 2 ballot, instead of being held in 2020, when Gleason is scheduled to have its regular municipal election. In the 2016 election, Marcus Hopper was elected to the Gleason City Board. However, he soon resigned his post and the Board appointed Keith Radford to fill his seat. Because the law requires the job be filled by the voters at the next General Election following an appointment, the alderman's position appeared on the Aug. 2, ballot, instead of on November 6, when other municipal elections will be decided. In the single City of Gleason alderman's race, newcomer James Mayor Hines lost his bid to unseat incumbent alderman appointee Keith Radford for the job. Radford garnered 197 votes, winning re-election, while Hines came in second with 53 votes.

Butler Remarks on Victory, Plans

Joseph Butler was ecstatic Thursday evening after the results were announced and declaring him the victor in his first-ever political campaign.

The Colonial Tea Room was filled with excited supporters who celebrated his victory.

Butler said he chose the top local elective position. His message was one of unity and growth. He assumes office on September 1.

“I have always been in the private sector. I follow my father, who served as county mayor and county trustee.

I have been in higher education my entire professional career, which gave me the experience.”

He said he grew up seeing his father in leadership roles and served so well and seeing what he meant to his community and how people looked to him for help.

He said he and wife, Meagan, were very prayerful about their decisions and very mindful of the pros and cons.

“I looked at it with a lens with a wife and three young kids. I just saw a Carroll County, that I was worried whether or not it was built for them. I am very mindful of the future and really building something special for them and for future generations,” said Butler.

Speaking of whether this office is a stepping stone for future offices, Butler said, “Not for me, this is what we are focused on. We want this to the area where we can serve and others can benefit from our service. I have no desire to go to Nashville. This is home. I love home. I want to be a servant of Carroll County. “

As for his win over a 20-year incumbent, Butler said, “We are a very fiscally conservative county and I give credit to Mayor McBride and his commission for that. He deserves a lot of credit for that. But it's that eye for the future. People are very worried about the trajectory of the county. Population-wise, we have seen a decline over the years. A county of less than 28,000 people now, the rate we are losing people and losing quality jobs is rather frightening for our county. That was people's biggest concern.”

“We are going to figure out how my experience and the experience of many other bright individuals and groups in the community can drive this thing forward together. I have lots of plans for things we want to build upon and lots of things to come together on. Those are the things we will start working on immediately. Coming together, leveraging our assets together, we have so many smart, talented, passionate people around here who want to be involved. That will be a constant focus of ours.”

“We are going to work on drawing people together, empowering each other, and uplifting each other. We talked about unity this whole process. It has been received really well.”

offshore bite was the primary pattern for most of the teams, including McKinney and Wijangco.

“We were a bit nervous because the Florida team of Monda and Boyd were the leaders, and we had heard they caught another limit today,” McKinney, 13, said. “It was so nerve-racking on the ‘hot seat.’”

McKinney and Wijangco fished numerous baits this week and throughout practice, but their best lure was a Bizz Baits Dizzy Diamond stickbait rigged on a shaky head jig. They fished it slow on the bottom of numerous offshore spots. They learned from their experience in the 2017 Bassmaster Junior Championship, also held on Carroll County 1,000 Acre Recreational Lake, and used that knowledge to their benefit to win on their second try.

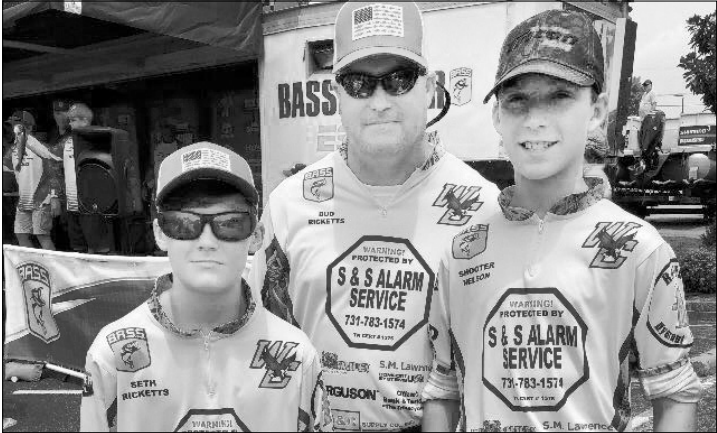

“I finished 27th last year, and Trey finished 13th with a different partner,” Wijangco, 14, said. “We fished offshore with the shaky head yesterday, but today we also used a jig and Carolina rig. Keeping our head up and staying positive was important.”

The team stayed patient as they only had three fish before 11 a.m. each day. In the final two hours, they were able to visit enough spots to find active fish.

“It seemed that most of the field was fishing the same 10 spots offshore, so we went to the vacant areas,” said Rick Cheatem, who served as boat captain for the pair. “Fishing spots by ourselves was important, and I'm proud of how Trey and Carter stayed in the game. In 15 minutes or so, they caught four or five fish and culled to their winning weight.”

After leading Tuesday with a 10-3 catch, Monda and Boyd only managed to catch a small limit weighing 7-2 and fell short of the title.

Representing Florida's Quincy Junior Bassmasters, the duo concentrated on the mid-depth region of the lake and caught most of their fish with swim jigs, a bait that wasn't a factor in the practice rounds but paid off when competition began.

“We used drop shots and other baits throughout practice,” Monda said. “We saw a pocket that looked great for a swim jig, so we threw it and caught a bunch of bass, and we kept using that in the tournament.”

Rochester Junior Bassmasters Rein Golubjatnikov and Matthew Pitcher placed third with a two-day total of 16-14. Golubjatnikov finished in the runner-up position in 2017 when he fished solo. This year the New York duo took home more hardware for their third-place finish.

The Big Bass of the tournament was caught by Terrance Wiseman and Isaac Shock of the Southern West Virginia Junior Bassmasters who brought a 7-1unker to the weigh-in stage on Day 2. The Big Bass of the tournament also vaulted them from 38th on Day 1 to 4th place overall.

The win netted McKinney and Wijangco $2,000 in scholarship money along with Abu Garcia rods and reels. Second place took home $1,000 in scholarship prizes along with Abu Garcia Veritas rods.

The event was sponsored by the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce and Bassmasters. It brought anglers from throughout the United States to Carroll and Henry counties for the Junior High and High School Bassmaster tournaments in the respective counties. While here, the visitors practiced fished over the weekend ahead of the tournament opening on Monday. Motels, restaurants, fueling stations, and retail establishments benefited from the event.

$50,600, McKenzie Special School District will lose $41,638, and the City of McKenzie will lose $35,720.

McKenzie Regional Hospital was a for-profit entity and subject to taxation. Baptist Memorial Health Services is a non-profit entity and is not subject to real estate and ad valorem taxes. Baptist also owns a closed medical clinic in McKenzie, located on State Route 22 near McKenzie High School. It was built in the late 1990s.

McKenzie Regional Hospital plans to close its doors on September 15 and sell all its real estate and equipment to Baptist Memorial Health Services, which operates Baptist Memorial Hospital of Carroll County (previously Baptist Memorial Hospital of Huntingdon). Baptist's plans are to continue operating the Diagnostic Center and the Sleep Center in McKenzie. Both are located inside McKenzie Medical Center, a privately-owned medical clinic.

Once McKenzie Regional Hospital closes, there will be no facility in the county to deliver babies. McKenzie Regional delivers over 300 babies annually. The nearest facilities delivering babies are Henry County Medical Center, Jackson-Madison County Hospital, and the Martin hospital, recently purchased by the West Tennessee Healthcare, parent company of Jackson-Madison County Hospital.

McKenzie Regional Hospital is one of many rural hospitals to close in Tennessee. Regionally, the hospitals in South Fulton, McNairy County (Selmer), Haywood County (Brownsville), Fayette County (Somerville), Trenton, and Humboldt have closed. Trenton and Humboldt were purchased by West Tennessee Healthcare. Humboldt maintains an emergency room, diagnostic services, and physical therapy.

Trenton's facility provides primary care, physical therapy and a pharmacy.

Tennessee House Minority Leader Craig Fitzhugh was in McKenzie last week as the last stop in his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination for governor. Fitzhugh said Tennessee failed to expand Medicare, which resulted in billions of lost dollars to Tennessee hospitals.

Fitzhugh said the ambulance services in the rural communities now serve as the emergency room and provide initial care while transporting the patient to facilities such as Memphis or Jackson.

While McNairy and Fayette, and Haywood counties lost their lone hospitals, Carroll County will still have one hospital, Baptist Memorial Hospital of Carroll County.

Baptist purchased Carroll County Ambulance Service, formerly McKenzie Ambulance Service, and pledges to maintain a base in McKenzie.

West Carroll School Board Honors Outgoing Chairman

Meeting Included Closed-Door Consult With Attorney

ATWOOD (August 2) — The West Carroll Special School District Board of Education met Thursday with a full agenda. It was the final such meeting for Chairman Jimmy Halford, who declined to seek reelection.

To honor Halford for his 28 years on the board, including 20 as chairman, Director of Schools Dexter Williams surprised him with a plaque. Board members and others present at the meeting, including several of Halford's family members, gave him a standing ovation, and several individuals complimented him on his lengthy service. Halford called his time on the board “an honor and a privilege.”

The meeting also included another rare occurrence, an executive session in which the board adjourned to a private room with the school district's attorney for approximately 20 minutes. No indication was given as to the subject of the closed-door discussion.

Another round of resignations was reported, including Angie Morris (first grade), Beth Bridges (color guard), David Grisham (seventh grade Social Studies), Stephanie Kyle (elementary Special Education), Keri Hathcock (district-wide nurse), Susan Barrow (bass fishing team sponsor), Wendy Wilson (eighth grade Math) and Amy Martinez (elementary education assistant).

The three school principals introduced new staff, many of which were present at the meeting.

Junior-senior high Principal Tim Stratton introduced Lori Bigham (instructional assistant), Mary Bragg (guidance), Megan Gotshall (Chemistry), Scott Guymon (head baseball coach), Doug McCaslin (eighth grade Social Studies/Junior high football coach), Jordan McDade (History), Nathan Miles (seventh grade Social Studies), Michael Nelson (band director), Crystal Polinski (interventionist) and Sydni York (Algebra).

New elementary Principal Tracy Foster introduced Kim Allen (third grade ELA), Brittany Fowler (fifth grade ELA), Lindsey Jowers (fifth grade Math), Emily Bloodworth (fifth grade Social Studies), Kelly Maynard (sixth grade Science/Social Studies), Brittney Wixon (Special Education), Gayle Kendrick (paraprofessional) and Michael Nelson (band).

Primary Principal Jackie Wester introduced Debra Keeton (counselor), Jennifer Hames (first grade) and Krystle McCall (second grade).

The board approved on second reading a board policy amendment that counts grades from the second semester when determining class ranking for seniors. Previously, those grades did not figure into final rankings of graduates.

Board members rejected a proposal to amend the policy on recruitment of employees that would have required the district to wait five days after a job posting before filling the position.

Approved on first reading were a dozen policy updates. One notable update brings the district into compliance with a new law requiring all employees, contract worker and volunteers to undergo a background check every five years. Another prevents the district from entering into non-disclosure agreements with employees or former employees. Furthermore, the Director of Schools is now required to report felony convictions to the state board of education.

Also approved was the district's membership in educational associations TSBA, TSSSE, TOSS and AIMS.

New junior high football Coach Doug McCaslin requested funding for new uniforms, citing extreme wear and tear on many of the team's 10-15 year old jerseys. He presented two options, including photos and prices, for sets of 40 uniforms to include pants and home and away jerseys. Of the two, Principal Stratton recommended Under Armor uniforms through BSN Sports, which could provide a quicker turnaround and wouldn't require a down payment. McCaslin and the board concurred. The items will be ordered immediately, and the board verbally agreed to approve at the next meeting funding for the uniforms, less what the program can provide from fundraising efforts.

The board approved the creation of two new positions at the junior-senior high, a Special Education teacher and an educational assistant, needed because of the closure of the Carroll County Special Learning Center and the subsequent absorption of displaced Special Education students to West Carroll. Funds did not figure into the allocation to the center.

A request was approved to declare obsolete technology equipment as surplus, and athletic practice during the school day was approved as required annually.

Director Williams reported on the results of his annual evaluation. He was judged on five domains and given a score of 1-4, with 4 being the highest. He received an overall average of 3.0, including a 3.2 for his relationship with the board, a 2.7 for his financial management, a 2.9 for his staff relationships, a 3.0 for his instructional leadership and a 3.3 for community and public relations. Per his request, the individual comments in the evaluation will be made available to the public through the board office.

The three principals gave updates, each expressing his or her satisfaction with the first two days at the respective schools and each reporting an uptick in enrollment.

Principal Stratton reported that the West Carroll Fishing Team of Shooter Nelson and Seth Ricketts (a Huntingdon student) participated in the Junior Bassmaster National Championship at the Carroll County Thousand Acre Recreational Lake and earned an 11th place finish out of 54 boats.

Director Williams reported on several topics. Candidates for school resource officers will be interviewed in the coming week. Signs bearing the national motto “In God We Trust” are in the works for all three schools and the central office as required by a new state law. The Tennessee School Board Association (TSBA) Leadership Conference and Annual Convention is November 1-4. Finally, the new concession stands were toured recently and everyone is “pretty satisfied.”

The meeting adjourned in just over an hour.

Mayor Kenny McBride, Phil Williams is the recommendation of Baptist Memorial Hospital of Carroll County, and Dr. Howell Todd is the recommendation of the Indigent Care Board.

The Indigent Care Fund has approximately $3.2 million in a trust to provide medical care for the residents of Carroll County. Eighty-percent of the earnings each quarter of the year can be used for medical care. The fund is exclusive to the local Baptist Hospital.

Commissioners convene at 7 p.m. Monday, August 13 in the Conference Room at the Carroll County Office Complex. The public is invited to attend.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

You Talk About Some Roots!

Another school year is about to break out. That automatically whips me into an educational state of mind. And that somehow brought me around to the old expression, “Those who can, do; those who can't, teach”...

Listen, I can't name two of the original astronauts, but I remember every crease in Miss Carolyn Blades' face. I remember how her hair was pulled back, how her dark rimmed glasses framed her face and how every dress she wore came down almost to her ankles. I also remember how kind and soft spoken she was that first day when my heart was leaping against my chest cavity. I will never forget her patience. Or how much time we spent with the faded “A-B-C Chart” that lined the classroom walls above the blackboards. And when I finished the year with perfect attendance, she called me up to the front of the class and gave me a flashlight.

Miss Carolyn was my first grade teacher. Believe me, she could...and did!

I can't tell you who won the World Series year before last, but I remember Miss Dorothy Booth telling us we could be anything we wanted to be. She was big on Spelling Bees, Multiplication Tables and taking turns at the water fountain. She gave me a brand new softball for not missing a day in the second grade.

I don't know who is president of CBS today, but I remember Miss Belle Alexander sitting in one of those little chairs in the Blue Bird Reading Class nodding an affirmation as I correctly pronounced galoshes. There was not a word in the world that Miss Belle didn't know! And she was determined to teach every one of them to us before we graduated from the third grade!

I can't name the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, but I remember Miss Mildred Dinwiddie loved the fourth grade into us.

I don't know who the governor of California is, but I remember how Miss Thelma Cox, the next year, played like she was mean and we'd better do what she said. But she was really an old sofite at heart.

I can't name one Miss America contestant in the last ten years, but I remember Mary Ann Jackson telling us the sixth grade would help prepare us for junior high. She was well on the way to being my favorite teacher...until she made us memorize that poem about “Little Boy Blue.”

I have no idea what movie won “Best Picture” at this years Academy Awards, but I can name every single teacher I had in high school. From Miss Barbara Clark, whose love of reading opened up a whole new world of adventure for us, to Mr. Arlie C. “Chuck” Berry (and his rocking amoebas), who got us though chemistry lab without blowing up anything or anybody, my hat is eternally off to them.

I can't name either of the Bush's Vice-Presidents, but I can talk all day long about Coach Louis Scott running me till I dropped dead. And then getting up and giving him two more laps. Chick King taught me to roll that top hand right at contact, a technique I've passed on to a thousand young baseball players. Coach John Camp demanded nothing but my best effort on every free throw, rebound, defensive drill, classroom test, taking out the garbage at home...

I won't live long enough to repay any of them for the service they rendered to me.

Here's another old expression, “If you can read this, thank a teacher.” That is true of course. But it's about two subjective adjectives and a dangling participle past narrow minded!

How about, “If you can think a lick, thank a teacher.” “If you see the world beyond the tip of your nose, thank a teacher.” “If you immediately think who, what, when, where and how, thank a teacher.” “If you don't fall for the first guy who comes along handing out ‘almost completely free’ oil wells, thank a teacher.” “If you've got enough ‘education’ to get a real job, thank a teacher.” “If your journey on this earth has been enhanced with a thoughtful process that allows for an intelligent understanding of life around you, thank a teacher.” I could go on and on and on, but if you've had just one single, solitary genuine teacher cross your path—you get my drift.

McKenzie, Tennessee, is not where I was born and raised or, as we say down south, “where I came from”...IT'S WHO I AM!

Today's story is a nod to the people who made that so.

Respectfully,
Kes

McKenzie Police Reports

Burglary/Theft — Early Tuesday morning, July 31, Sgt. Kyle Beauchamp along with Officer Dalton Raspberry were on a call in the parking lot across from Fred's Dollar Store when a call came in from an alarm company stating there was a motion alarm activated at 15300 Highland Drive.

According to the police report, both officers approached Maverick's Gas station and could hear an audible alarm and noticed the front door was shattered as they pulled into the store's lot. They turned and sped back down Barksdale Avenue catching up with a black male they had seen running down the street while completing their earlier call. The male, identified as Sean B. Gilbert of McKenzie, immediately surrendered and handed over a bag of cigarettes.

After Gilbert was taken to Carroll County Jail for booking, Maverick's manager, Audrea Vaughn, arrived and the security footage was seen. Gilbert was seen on the footage throwing a cast iron skillet through the door and heading to the cigarette display where he was seen loading the cigarettes into a bag and left through the broken door.

Gilbert was charged with burglary and theft with a total bond of $1,500.

Domestic Assault/Aggravated Assault — According to a report filed by Officer Billy King, Olivia Scott of McKenzie came to the McKenzie Police Department on Sunday, July 29, to report that while she was in the process of breaking up with her boyfriend, Jason Anderson of Huntingdon, he began hitting her in the face and started putting his hands around her throat cutting off her airway. Scott indicated he only stopped when he saw blood start to run down her face. Anderson was later picked up and arrested at a Walnut Circle apartment and charged with domestic assault.

Theft — Johnny Hightower of McKenzie reported a theft to police on Thursday, August 2. According to Officer Billy King, Hightower reported that his television had been taken from his Cole Street house. He believes someone may have come in through the window but no evidence was found to support that statement. The matter remains under investigation.

Driving on a Suspended/Revoked License — Officer Steven Scott stopped a vehicle on University Drive, Sunday, August 5 for a brake light not working. The driver, William Bolen of Hollow Rock, stated he did not have a license because it was taken a long time ago for not paying a fine. Bolen was charged with driving on a revoked license.

Driving on a Suspended/Revoked License — According to a report filed by Officer Jeremiah Brooks, Brandon Melton of Paris was stopped by Chief Moates on Hwy 22 near Allegion for speeding. While assisting Moates, Brooks interviewed Melton and learned his license was suspended and cited Melton into Carroll County General Sessions Court for driving on a suspended license first offense.

Public Intoxication — On Friday, August 3, Officer Jeremiah Brooks received a call to Walnut Avenue to search for Zachary English of McKenzie after getting a report that he was highly intoxicated. According to the report filed, English was found and was asked to attempt some field sobriety tests. He was found to be a danger to himself and the general public. English was arrested and charged with public intoxication and taken to Carroll County Jail.

UT-Martin Dedicates Michelle Horton Tribute Garden

MARTIN, Tenn. — Family, friends, colleagues and former students gathered late Friday afternoon, July 27, to dedicate the Michelle Horton Tribute Garden at the University of Tennessee at Martin. The garden is located on the quadrangle side of the Sociology Building where the late educator both studied as a student and taught as a faculty member. Horton died of cancer May 20, 2016. More than $10,000 was raised to create the garden in her memory.

UT-Martin Chancellor Keith Carver welcomed those attending and thanked the project's supporters, including the UT Board of Trustees for approving the naming. He noted that Horton was both a UT Martin graduate and later a faculty member, "But her impact on her students is what's been immeasurable, especially given the large demographic of first-generation college students that she taught right here in rural West Tennessee."

Alicia Maya Donaldson, UT Martin Social Work Program director and Horton's friend and colleague, followed Carver on the program and briefly recalled Horton's life and career. Among Horton's professional accomplishments, she worked at UT Martin from 2002 until 2015, serving both as Social Work Program director and earning the rank of professor. In 2008, she was appointed by Gov. Phil Bredesen and reappointed by Gov. Bill Haslam to the Tennessee Social Work Board of Licensure. Horton was also elected in 2012 to the McKenzie Special School District Board of Education.

"Michelle was one of a kind, always looking to serve others to make a better life for all that she touched," Donaldson said.

Among those attending the dedication was Dr. Donna Massey, professor of criminal justice, who led efforts to establish the tribute garden. Massey said that the garden is important "because Michelle was important, and the work she did was important, and we miss her."

Thanks to the efforts of Massey and others, Barrett Michelle Horton will be remembered by future generations as her legacy lives on through the tribute garden that bears her name.

MCKENZIE (August 4) — A huge crowd turned out Saturday for the annual McKenzie Middle School Football Jamboree at Randy Thomas Field.

The event featured teams from McKenzie, West Carroll, Huntingdon, Inman, Dresden, Martin, Milan, Henderson North, Decatur County, Lake County, Lexington, Camden and Trenton facing off in ten contests, including some junior varsity battles, during five quarters of 40-yard, split-field action. Each quarter consisted of two 18-minute halves with a running clock.

Quarter One: Milan Bulldogs JV 22, Henderson North Tigers JV 14

Milan's JV started strong with a touchdown and two-point conversion early. The Tigers answered with a TD, but failed to convert the points-after. The Bulldogs responded with another eight points before the end of the first half to lead 16-6.

Henderson North struck first after the break and converted for two to pull within two points. Milan ate some clock and sealed the win, 22-14, with a late touchdown.

Quarter One: Decatur County Panthers 20, Lake County Falcons 6

The Panthers blanked Lake County 14-0 in the first half, scoring two touchdowns and adding the points-after on the latter.

The Falcons got on the board early in the second but failed on the two-point conversion. Decatur County added a late TD for a 20-6 win.

Quarter Two: Milan Bulldogs 6, Henderson North Tigers 6

The Tigers struck first but Milan answered, neither team converting on points-after. At the break, the contest was knotted at 6-6.

Both defenses locked down the second half, and the game ended in a stalemate.

Quarter Two: Inman Bulldogs JV 16, Decatur County Panthers JV 0

Inman's JV controlled the first half. Evan Richardson scored the first touchdown, with Caden Marshall adding the two-point conversion. Marshall ran in the second score, and Camron Phillips added the points-after.

Quarter Five: Martin Chargers 22, McKenzie Rebels 14

The Chargers scored and converted for two on their first pos-

Rebel quarterback Jackson Cassidy scored on a keeper early in the second, but the two-point try failed. In the final minute, the Chargers added another TD for a 22-14 victory.

LuLuBelles: A Work in Progress

BY JIM POTTS
banner@mckenziebanner.com

Those who are wondering what is going on or what's going to happen to LuLu Belle's Florist may be waiting for a while. No prospective dates are in the works for a grand reopening in the near future. A complete remodeling inside and outside is underway at the site. The building has been stripped to the original façade outside and stripped inside all the way to the original brick walls. The ceiling has been stripped to reveal the original wooden ceiling beams. According to owner Tessa O'Brien, the plan right now (it changes day to day) is to continue stripping the inside to an original look and install new lighting and new flooring while cleaning up the original walls. The outside is to be restored to a historic facade. "We still will be a florist but want to bring in a lot of new items. We just aren't sure yet what else we will have," says

O'Brien. She indicated she has been doing her due diligence and talking to people in town to gauge what they are interested in seeing. Clothing items and antique items have been mentioned the most so far, according to O'Brien. The building itself has a long history in McKenzie. It was a Ben Franklin store for many years. Arnold's was there for a time as well as several other short term tenants. It also went through several periods of being unoccupied.

Keith Priestley, Treasurer

Thank You

Dear friends,

Thursday night was the culmination of a wonderful 7+ months. It is an absolute honor that the people of Carroll County voted me as the next Mayor of Carroll County. I am humbled.

First I would like to thank God for his grace and mercy. I am thankful He saw fit for me to step into this role, and I look forward to the responsibility of serving Him and my fellow Carroll Countians through it.

I would like to thank Mayor McBride, for both his service to our great county and his class through the campaign season. In a political sphere where we are bombarded with negativity and gossip, both of our campaigns were positive and focused on improving Carroll County. I'm grateful for he and his family.

Our success simply would not be possible without the love and sacrifice of my family - my precious wife, Megan and three children, Easton, Harlon, and Joie. It would not be possible without the love and guidance of my parents - Walter and Jennifer. I could go on for days discussing those that have contributed significantly.

A tribe of people came together many months ago and said we were going to make this happen. Each of you grew stronger, louder, and more passionate with each day. Your prayers and support paved the way. It will be this same mentality that Unites All of Carroll County for a Brighter, Prosperous Future. That will be our goal each day. I hope you will use your unique gift, talent, and passion to join us in that cause.

Let's get to work! God bless each of you, God bless our great nation, and God bless Carroll County.

Yours In Service

McKenzie Memorial Library News

BY JEAN ALEXANDER
Librarian

Hard to believe that Summer Reading was in June and we had the best attendance and participation from the community in over five years!

School has resumed and things are getting back to normal with new books on the shelves for your reading enjoyment. Technology is moving at such a fast pace that we have a calendar full of training dates through our Regional Office to keep us up to date for our patrons.

We were very fortunate in May to have an internationally-known library consultant willing to donate his time and expertise to give us some ideas about better arrangement of our current library facility. He also gave us a presentation of what a 21st Century library has become! We were all amazed at how much technology has changed the face of libraries!

What does a library with no bookshelves look like? The folks in Murfreesboro can tell you. On August 1, the new Technology Engagement Center opened to the public and features makerspaces, 3D printers, a recording studio and so much more! If you are in the Rutherford County area, stop by and see them.

We are in the planning stages of arranging story times for the little ones, and we have had inquiries about Legos and forming a teen advisory board. Any suggestions are welcome.

We have not received our computers to date for the computer classes, but I received confirmation that they should arrive any day and we will start our classes promptly.

We have an upstairs area full of "books to sell."

Our "New Books" are listed on our Facebook page.

A Library Board Meeting is scheduled for Thursday, August 16 at 5 p.m. at the Library. Meetings are open to the public. If anyone has something to discuss, please contact the Library and have your name added to the agenda. Come check us out!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

The UT Extension is promoting overall health of the community by partnering with Coordinated School Health to host this year's Walk Across Tennessee event.

Walk Across Tennessee is an eight-week walking program designed to encourage friends and family to join a walking team and walk as many miles as one can. Teams are comprised of six people, of any age. Anyone can participate: youth groups, bible study groups, athletic groups, businesses, etc.

The goal is for each team to collectively walk 500 miles - equal to the length of Tennessee from east to west - during the eight-week period.

The names of each and every team that walks 500 miles or more is eligible for a random drawing for great prizes donated by Co-ordinated School Health. Drawings will take place on Friday, November 9.

Why Walk?

Walking is one of the easiest ways to be physical active. One can do it almost anywhere and at any time. Walking is also inexpensive. All that is needed is a comfortable pair of shoes and a little time to add a few steps to daily! One mile is about 2,000 steps, or a 20-minute walk. Studies suggest people who increase their walking to 10,000 steps daily experience health benefits.

Here are a few of the many reasons why you should get walking by joining Walk Across Tennessee:

- Helps control or reduce body weight by burning calories.
- Improves your heart fitness by improving your circulation and by making your heart stronger. This reduces your chances of a heart attack and stroke.

- Helps you sleep better
- Helps control appetite
- Helps lower blood pressure

Teams can register at the UT Extension Office or obtaining downloading the form from the county website. Please submit by September 7. Get your team registered by August 31st to be in the early bird prize drawing! A maximum of six members were team are allowed with one member serving as the team captain. Team captains will serve as the communication between the Extension office and team members.

Individuals can walk to add miles for their team, or they can walk as a team to add to the fun.
