Tennessee State Veterans Cemetery Opens at Parkers Crossroads

NASHVILLE — Gov. Bill Haslam, Tennessee Department of Veterans Services Commissioner Many-Bears Grinder and U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Under Secretary for Memorial Affairs Randy Reeves announced the Tennessee State Veterans Cemetery at Parkers Crossroads recently began accepting online registrations for burial and opened Friday, July 6.

The 132-acre cemetery is located at 693 Wildersville Road and will serve more than 45,000 veterans and their families within 17 counties in west Tennessee.

"We are very proud of the reverence, service and legacy our state veterans cemeteries offer to veterans and their families," Haslam said. "This is the first rural veterans cemetery for the state and we believe it will be a valuable benefit and resource for west Tennessee."

There are currently two state veterans cemeteries in Knoxville, one in Nashville and one in Memphis. Additionally, there are national cemeteries in Knoxville,

McKenzie's Freedom Festival Packed with Events

McKENZIE (July 4) — Area residents celebrated Independence Day Wednesday with a day of events in McKenzie's Freedom Festival.

The schedule began in the morning with a Children's Parade on Waldren Street, featuring kids in patriotic garb walking or riding motorized scooters, bicycles and wagons decorated with red, white and blue. The parade was led by Uncle Sam, portrayed by Dan Grisham.

The event continued later at the Recreation Park. Food vendors were available throughout the evening. Opening ceremonies featured the posting of colors by Boy Scouts from McKenzie Troop 78, a welcome by Mayor Jill Holland, a prayer by Bro. James Hazelwood and the National Anthem performed by David Taylor.

Winners were announced for the parade and for Morning Glory Garden Club's Most Patriotic Window and Yard of the Month. Jonathan Chappell provided music up until dusk, when Taps was played and the colors retired.

Once darkness had set in, the lights in the park were turned off and a dazzling fireworks display was accompanied by patriotic music.

The Freedom Festival was sponsored by the City of McKenzie. Committee members included Mayor Jill Holland, Ricky French, Dan Grisham, Bridget Neisler, Jennifer Waldrup and park staff.

Goodwin Suspends Candidacy, Endorses Opponent

T. Richard Goodwin and Joseph Butler

(July 6, 2018) — T. Richard Goodwin, a candidate for Mayor of Carroll County, Tennessee issued the following statement:

"As of today, I am suspending my bid for Carroll County Mayor and endorsing Joseph G. Butler for Carroll County Mayor. I realize my name will remain on the ballot, but I will be encouraging and asking those that are considering voting for me to change their vote for Joseph G. Butler."

"Joseph and I share the same goal - economic growth for Carroll County. It is about jobs, jobs, jobs. I believe Joseph will work tirelessly to help our county grow again. We believe in equality for everyone and that includes the opportunity for good paying jobs, fair representation for all our citizens and a county that is not listed by the State of Tennessee as a Distressed County. I want to see us develop opportunities for children, and build a county that is good for them and their future. As I have heard Joseph say during this campaign, 'We can do better.' I want to spend time helping Joseph move us forward."

"As Joseph and I have said during this campaign, we have lost jobs, we have lost population, and one in five of our families are below the poverty level. We should not

Trezevant Pump Failure Prompts Precautionary Boil Order

TREZEVANT (July 4) — A minor pump failure Wednesday evening caused some water outages and prompted a temporary boil order to be issued to Trezevant water customers.

According to Water Supervisor Danny Connell, it was discovered just after 7 p.m. that one of the town's pumps had hung up and the pressure had dropped below a certain level.

Following state guidelines, the officials issued a boil order as a precautionary measure. The pump was replaced after approximately an hour and pressure restored shortly thereafter.

Trezevant sent a water sample to state officials, who tested it for 24 hours to ensure there were no contaminants.

Connell iterated that at no point was there a leak in the system and was therefore no serious threat of contamination. He monitored the system through the night after restoring pressure.

Upon receiving results from the state's test, the boil order was lifted early Friday afternoon.

McKenzie is Among Tennessee's Safest Cities, According to SafeWise

McKenzie is listed as the eighteenth safest city in Tennessee, according to the SafeWise website.

During the July report for the year 2018, McKenzie was identified because of its low crime rate as reported by the FBI.

According to SafeWise, "To compile this report, SafeWise analysts reviewed the most recent 2016 FBI crime statistics and population data. Cities that fell below identified population thresholds or failed to submit a complete FBI crime report were excluded from the ranking system. Our evaluation is based on the number of reported violent crimes (aggravated assault, murder, rape and robbery) in each city per 1000 people. If there was a tie, we also factored in the number of property crimes (burglary, arson, larceny-theft, and car theft)."

McKenzie, population 5,294, had the following statistics: violent crimes per 1,000: 1.70; Property crimes per 1,000: 27.77; Total crimes: 6.12% violent and 93.88% property.

The 20 safest cities in Tennessee include: Belle Meade, Pleasant View, Signal Mountain, Oakland, Brentwood, Collegedale, Germantown, Erwin, Loudon, Hendersonville, Whiteville, Collierville, Tiptonville, Mount Juliet, Lenoir City, Nolensville, New Tazewell, McKenzie, Sparta, Church Hill.

Mountain Home, Chattanooga, Nashville and Memphis. In 2011, the Department determined a portion of veterans living between Nashville and Memphis and Knoxville and Nashville did not have access to a veterans cemetery within a 75 mile radius of their communities and families.

"These pristine fields of honor are much more than a final resting place," Grinder said. "Each headstone will represent selfless service, courage, the volunteer spirit and a life of patriotic purpose. We are honored to be able to offer this place of peace, reflection and remembrance."

The National Cemetery Administration awarded $5,754,802.00 in federal funding for the construction of the cemetery, which started in 2016.

"Our state and tribal partners are critical in helping the National Cemetery Administration achieve its strategic goal of providing 95 percent of the Veteran population with convenient access to a burial option within 75 miles of their home," Reeves said. "We will continue to work with and support states like Tennessee to provide grants which reflect the needs, resources and preferences of the local veteran community."

U.S. Rep. Marsha Blackburn (R-TN), U.S. Rep. David Kustoff (R-TN), U.S. Sen. Bob Corker (R-TN), U.S. Sen. Lamar Alexander (R-TN), State Rep. Steve McDaniel (R-Parkers Crossroads) and State Sen. Dolores Gresham (R-Somerville) have been supporters of the Tennessee State Veterans Cemetery at Parkers Crossroads project.

According to the THP report, Cockrill failed to yield, striking the Aylors and causing heavy damage to both vehicles. Upon impact, the Aylors' vehicle rolled over and both vehicles came to rest on the side of the road.

Mrs. Aylor died at the scene, and Mr. Aylor was airlifted to Memphis with critical injuries. Cockrill was not injured.

charged David Herb Anderson, 59, in connection with the death of Ben Cole Birdwell, 64.

On Friday, at the request of 24th District Attorney General Matthew Stowe, TBI agents joined the investigation into the apparent shooting death of Ben Cole Birdwell, shortly after authorities found the body of the 64-year-old on a railroad easement near his School House Road property. During the course of the investigation, authorities developed information leading to David Anderson (DOB 11-17-58), as the individual responsible for the crime.

The two had reportedly disagreed over property. Anderson used a firearm in the commission of the crime.

Sheriff Andy Dickson said his department received the call at 7:53 a.m. about the incident on Rex Lane in Yuma. Responding units found Mr. Birdwell lying near Rex Lane, a graveled roadway created from removed railroad tracks. Anderson had been driving on Rex Lane at the time of the incident and Birdwell was "weed eating" on that morning.

Carroll County Sheriff's Department and Baptist-Huntingdon EMS responded to the scene. EMS personnel transported Birdwell to Clarksburg Church of Christ parking lot, where they were met by the AirEvac Team. He reportedly died before being airlifted. His body was transported to Baptist Memorial Hospital-Huntingdon, where the TBI, coroner and CCSO reviewed the body before sending it to the TBI Crime Lab in Nashville.

On Saturday evening, agents arrested Anderson and charged him with one count of Second Degree Murder and one count of Tampering with Evidence. Authorities booked Anderson into the Carroll County Jail on $150,000 bond. He is to be arraigned Wednesday morning in Carroll County General Sessions Court.

Sheriff Dickson said Anderson and Birdwell had had property disputes for several years and had been in Chancery Court several times. Birdwell was a retired DEA agent and had moved back to Carroll County to care for his mother.

Dilday-Carter Funeral Home of Huntingdon has charge of arrangements for Birdwell.

OPINION

McKenzie, Paris Healthcare Facilities Launch Program To Improve Quality Of Life

MEMPHIS (June 26) — Tennessee Health Management (THM), which operates 29 skilled nursing communities, recently launched an interactive program for patients and residents that combines on-line activities with restorative therapies to improve their quality of life. Approximately 770 skilled nursing patients in ten facilities in THM's Memphis region can participate in the Activities, Restorative and Therapy in Sync (ARTS) program.

"This program is changing lives right before our eyes and in just two months' time," said Heather Lansaw, regional director of operations for THM's Memphis division. "The examples are rolling in from all ten centers. One patient has doubled the time he can stand for therapy. Others are awaking in cognitive ways we did not expect. It's very inspiring."

The ARTS program, which was funded by a $493,550 grant from the Tennessee Department of Health, uses the It's Never Too Late (iN2L) computer-based system to engage residents in fun and meaningful activities. The iN2L touch-based technologies encourage users, even those unfamiliar with computers, to "touch their way" through programs to connect with loved ones via Skype, create "My Story" digital biographies, do simulated physical activities and play brain games.

"For years, activities, restorative care and rehabilitative therapies have been separate departments in a residential nursing facility," added Lansaw. "The ARTS program helps break down those divisions by creating individualized experiences for each patient. Using the iN2L platform has helped our therapy teams offer more personalized support for patients across all daily activities."

To date, the THM facilities that have implemented the ARTS program include: Applingwood Healthcare Center in Cordova, Covington Care Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Covington, Bright Glade Health and Rehabilitation Center and Harbor View Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Memphis, Dyersburg Nursing and Rehabilitation, Humboldt Healthcare and Rehab Center, McKenzie Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center, Paris Health Care Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, Union City Nursing and Rehabilitation Center and VanAyer Healthcare and Rehab Center in Martin.

As a requirement of the grant program, Lansaw and her team will be measuring and reporting on the program's results over the next 36 months, beginning from the launch date of April 1, 2018.

"We are so thankful for this grant," Lansaw said. "One resident who had been in the hospital for two months before coming to our center uses iN2L to watch travel videos and the live webcam. Now she is feeling hope about going home again. She also loves the casino games. This was a woman who could not walk or feed herself just two months ago. You cannot put a premium on that."

Tennessee Gas Tax to Increase One Cent July 1

Tennessee's gas tax rose a penny July 1 to 26.4 cents per gallon as part of the IMPROVE Act, proposed by Governor Bill Haslam and passed last year.

The increase was the second of three hikes to be implemented over three years. Last July 1 saw a four cent increase, and next July 1 will bring another one cent rise to 27.4 cents per gallon.

The IMPROVE Act, or Improving Manufacturing, Public

Roads and Opportunities for a Vibrant Economy Act, is helping to fund a $10 billion backlog in state road projects, estimated prior to passage to provide $250 million to the state Department of Transportation, $70 million to counties and $35 million to cities for transportation needs.

The tax on diesel fuel increased three cents, part of a staggered increase totaling ten cents.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Oscar Knew Where Everybody Lived!

Two thoughts startled me awake this morning. One was Lyndon Baines Johnson. And the other was this ever growing idea in our nation today that life is not fair. I couldn't possibly think there could be a connection.

At least six people in the last week have shared their burden with me on the unfairness of life as they see it. Some was political, naturally. The government was either doing too little for them...or regulating too much. Some was family infringement. Some was work related. You've heard the same stories.

I never met Lyndon Johnson of course. But I know for dead certain positive he was President in the summer of 1965. That's when Mr. Graden Featherstone, the postmaster of our little town, called Mom and told her to send me down to his office. I was mystified beyond words but I knew I was going to blame whatever it was on John Ingram or Bobby Brewer...

"Young Mr. Colbert," Mr. Featherstone was always formal, straight forward and to the point, "I have a letter before me that states you have received a Presidential Appointment to work with us at the post office this summer. It specifically spells out that you must be enrolling in a college in the fall to be eligible."

Well, I couldn't think of nothing to say, formal or otherwise. The President didn't know me from Adam's housecat and I'd never been appoint—

"Bailey Moore Wrinkle is listed as the local sponsor." Mr. Featherstone continued to read down through the fine print.

Mr. Wrinkle was high up amongst the Democrats in Carroll County and he really liked my Dad. I don't think he could have picked me out of a line up. I had a job at Tommie Hill's DX Station. And I didn't know diddly-squat about the mail business.

"It says here that you are to be paid two dollars and fifty-six cents an hour."

"I will take it!"

Minimum wage in 1965 was whatever Mr. Hill said it was. And he was paying me five dollars a day. And I was out in the hot sun except for when I was fixing a rear flat tire on Mr. Ellis' big John Deere in the service bay. Before that I'd worked years at the swimming pool for fifty cents an hour. I didn't know the government had this kind of money. And I don't know exactly where they were getting it. And I didn't care!

There wasn't any decision here. Besides, I bet Buffalo Bill wasn't a mail aficionado his first trip with the Pony Express.

They put me to work unloading the mail truck. It arrived around 2:30 AM. I didn't know there was time before chicken crowing. And you would not believe what "the mail brought in" that summer. I unloaded washers and dryers. Oriental rugs. Lots of lawnmowers. And one swing set. Now you tell me, who orders a swing set through the mail!

But mostly I unloaded heavy number 3 mail sacks full of letters, cards and magazines. I never got to "work the window" up front or "put up" the mail, either in the p. o. boxes or the rural route delivery trays. That was left to Oscar Owen, Porter Dunlap and "Hot Shot" Lewis.

I was intimidated as all get out around these older gentlemen...for about five seconds. That's how long it took for them to make me feel welcome. I never got a "what's this kid doing here" look. They never fussed, harangued, gave me an order or played some prank on me.

They helped me in every way possible. They asked about my life, baseball, college plans and my girlfriend. When I mentioned her daddy was a doctor, they all agreed I needed to keep her. When they found out about the bank, the hardware store, the farm and all the bottomland her family owned, they each tried to adopt me!

After a late baseball game, I'd slip into Mr. Featherstone's office and sleep on a stack of empty number 3 mail pouches. One of the men would wake me when the truck pulled in.

You talk about a wonderful summer: Oscar, Porter and Hot Shot took time for me, encouraged me, taught me...cared about me. The money was great and it did help me with college, but the lessons I learned were priceless.

For years after that, if I got a letter that had gone through the hometown post office, it would have Porter or Oscar or Hot scribbled across the envelope somewhere. They didn't forget me. Nor me them.

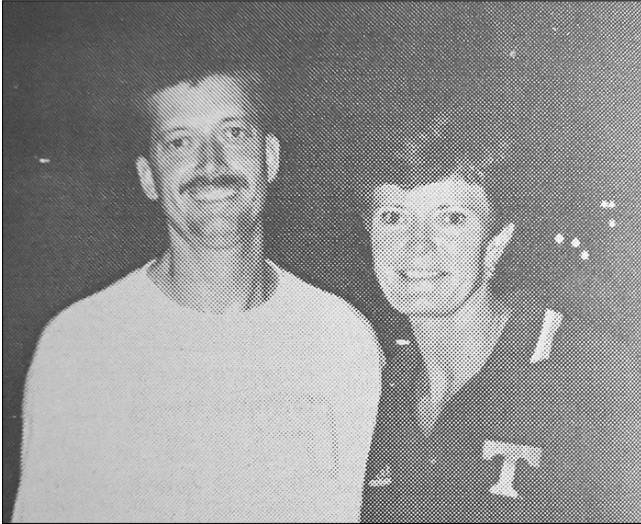

I would have worked with those guys for nothing!

Sometimes life is not fair...IN YOUR FAVOR.

Respectfully,
Kes

Stacey suffered a serious illness in September, 2017 which required a lengthy hospital stay and later rehabilitation at McKenzie Healthcare and Rehabilitation. She has not returned to her teaching position at Hollow Rock-Bruceton Special School District.

On Friday, June 15, Stacey suffered a seizure and was hospitalized. Ernie took off work to care for Stacey and has just accepted gainful employment at the Carroll County News-Leader.

Summer Heat Facts, Safety

For many people, summer-time is synonymous with trips to the beach, water sports and recreation.

Even though summer warmth is a welcome break from winter weather for many people, State Farm warns that heat is one of the leading causes of weather-related fatalities, resulting in hundreds of deaths each year in the United States alone. Ensuring summer recreation plans remain enjoyable means keeping an eye out for heat-related illnesses and other dangers.

Hot cars can be traps. It is never safe to leave a pet, child, elderly person, or disabled individual locked in a car. Temperatures can climb rapidly inside of a sealed vehicle, even if the windows are cracked.

Pay attention. Listen to or read weather forecasts to stay abreast of potential temperature changes as well as the heat index. Discuss safety precautions with members of the family and make sure everyone knows what to do in an emergency.

Stock up on fluids. The Red Cross says to stay hydrated by drinking plenty of fluids, even if you are not thirsty. Avoid drinks with alcohol or caffeine. Make sure the elderly also get plenty of water, as they often do not recognize dehydration as readily as others.

Limit strenuous activities. Reschedule outdoor activities if there is a heat wave, or move them to cooler times of the day. Spend the hottest portion of the day, usually between noon and 3 p.m., in the shade or inside in the air conditioning. People on job sites should take more frequent breaks and find shade whenever possible during these hours.

Recognize distress signals. Heat stress, exhaustion and heat stroke progress as symptoms worsen. Nausea, weakness, elevated body temperature, clammy skin, confusion, and delirium are some of the symptoms of heat-related illnesses.

Find ways to stay cool. Not everyone has air conditioning. On especially warm days, going to public places with air conditioning, such as libraries, can help. Be sure to check on the elderly or others who may have difficulty finding cool places to spend their day.

Days in the sun are meant to be fun, but hot days also require extreme caution.

McKenzie Police Reports

Drug Paraphernalia — Officer Kyle Beauchamp charged Brooke Alexandria Chandler, 28, Gleason with possession of drug paraphernalia on July 8 around 7 p.m.

The report indicates Ms. Chandler was unresponsive as she sat at a dining table in McDonalds. After several attempts to wake her, she realized the police were attempting to wake her. She did well on sobriety tests and a check of personal items revealed a glass smoking pipe. She was cited into court.

Burglary — Officer Kyle Beauchamp investigated a theft at the caboose on Waldren Street in downtown McKenzie on June 25.

The caboose is a business of- fice and was entered around 3:17 a.m. The burglary was identified by nearby surveillance cameras as Quincy Johnson, 21, of Walnut Circle, McKenzie.

The suspect entered through a window, discharged a fire extin- guisher, and dropped his knife inside the caboose.

Assistant Chief Sawyers and Patrolman Eddlemon took over the investigation when they came on duty for the day shift.

Sheriff's Deputy Chris Ad- ams had spoken to the suspect while Adams was patrolling and was able to provide informa- tion about the suspect's clothing, which helped in the identifica- tion of Johnson. Deputy Adams reviewed the video and positively identified Johnson.

Theft — Officer Paul Eddle- mon took a report from Romeo Shafi at A&H Mart on Highland Drive. Shafi said his employee, Sarah Marie Wilkerson, 40, of Henry, placed food in a bag for her boyfriend, Tarus Taylor, 36, Henry to take out of the store without paying for the merchan- dise.

Shafi saw the incident, fol- lowed Taylor from the store, and took the bag of food items from him. As Shafi re-entered the store, he locked Taylor outside. Shafi laid the stolen items on the counter and called the police.

Wilkerson admitted to taking the items and Taylor admitted he knew the items were in the bag. The value of the items was estimated at $200.

Theft, Criminal Trespass — Officer Jeremiah Brooks took a theft report from James Treva- than, Paris Street, McKenzie. Trevathan reported on July 4 around 3:21 a.m., his barking dog woke him and he looked outside and saw an unknown white male with a yellow hat attempting to steal gas from his work van. Trevathan chased the subject, who escaped Trevathan around Donnell Street. A check with the clerk at Casey's General Store revealed a subject match- ing that description had been in the store earlier. The employee did not have access to the store's surveillance system at that time.

Driving on Suspended Li- cense — Officer Brandon Leek charged Jacob C. Smith, 22, McK- enzie, with driving on a sus- pended license on July 5. Officer Leek stopped Smith's vehicle for the improper display of license plate. A status check revealed the suspended license for failure to appear in Mississippi.

Theft — Officer Brandon Leek investigated the theft of a Polaris side-by-side on July 6. Lorenzo Townes said his Polaris Ranger 900 was taken from his residence at 123 Chestnut. It was valued at $17,000.

Sergeant Brad Allen charged Krista Loren Corum, 22, of Troy, with possession of schedule IV and possession of drug para- phernalia. According to Allen's report, Corum was the passenger in a vehicle that was stopped for having a headlight out. Officers were given permission to search the vehicle, and found a grinder containing half a gram of mari- juana in it on Corum.

Last Annual Vol State Road Race Returns Thursday

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

It's the middle of July, that time of year again for scores of tough, possibly insane runners to pass through town over the course of about two days. McKenzie is one of dozens of towns along the route of the Last Annual Vol State Road Race, which traverses 314 miles of unforgiving Tennessee terrain. The 500-kilometer ultramarathon begins in the early hours of Thursday, July 12 in Dorena Landing, Missouri, and ends in Castle Rock, Georgia, winding through Tennessee by highway and country road. Over 30-plus years, the course has undergone several changes, and one reroute enacted several years ago brings the runners through downtown McKenzie, 56 miles into the journey. Runners compete in two classes, crewed and uncrewed, or "screwed." Crewed runners have a team that provides aid during the race, and the rest are at the mercy of the road and anyone they meet along the way. For the last two years, a small group of race enthusiasts have established an aid station at the McKenzie Farmers Market and gathered resources from volunteers and local organizations. Gary "Laz" Cantrell, the creator of the race, told The Banner in 2016, "McKenzie is a star in this race. People love coming through this beautiful little town." According to a press release by organizers, "the pre-race favorite has to be Course Record Holder Greg Armstrong from Lebanon, Tennessee. He's previously run the course in just 3 days, 7 hours, 9 minutes and 49 seconds...Nearly 100 miles per day! Former Champions Juli Aistars from Palatine, Illinois and Don Winkley from Corpus Christi, Texas are also in the field again this year. Grant Maughan, from Dudley, Australia, is here to race despite having summited Mount Everest in May of this year." Approximately 120 will begin the race, but, as always, some will not finish. The core members from McKenzie's group of "road angels" (as runners lovingly refer to such volunteers) are preparing to support the runners again and hope to further improve on last year's much-appreciated efforts, having gained tons of input from both participants and organizers each of the last two years. Last year, the first runner passed through McKenzie at 7:45 p.m. Thursday. The rest trickled through over the hours that followed, peaking during the first half of Friday. Aid station organizers have most of the needed supplies accounted for, but welcome others to join in their effort. Volunteers are invited to bring the following items: comfortable lawn chairs, phone chargers, Vaseline, salt, watermelon and any appropriate food. Those bringing hot or cold food will need to also provide a way to keep the items at an appropriate temperature. Outlets will be available, but limited. For more information, visit the Last Annual Vol State Road Race page on Facebook, where you can find photos and updates, as well as other links to track the progress of the runners.

GENERAL

Judge Snyder Elected to Position of Honor as Fellow

PARIS (July 6) — Henry County General Sessions and Juvenile Court Judge Vicki Snyder has recently been elected a Fellow of the Tennessee Bar Foundation. Some 855 attorneys across the state make up this association. The invitation is a position of honor and has been extended to 32 attorneys this year by the Board of Trustees. In May, Judge Snyder was introduced as a new Fellow during the annual Fellows' Dinner in Nashville.

The Bar Foundation's purpose is two-fold. They honor attorneys who have distinguished themselves in their professional community and they administer a grant-making program. The grants are awarded in excess of $21 million to law-related projects with an emphasis on public interest.

Judge Vicki Shepherd Snyder is a graduate of the University of Tennessee at Martin and Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law, Memphis. She clerked with the Shelby County Criminal Court judges from 1985-1986. Judge Snyder worked in the private practice of law and also served as an Assistant District Attorney General and Assistant District Public Defender for the 24th Judicial District of Tennessee before being elected Henry County General Sessions and Juvenile Court Judge in 2006.

She is a member of the Henry County Literacy Board and Lake-way Kiwanis Club. In 2009, she was selected as the Kiwanian of the year. In 2008, the Salvation Army selected her as its honorary chairman and she is a founding member of the REAL Hope Youth Center. Recently, Judge Snyder started a CASA program in Henry County for the benefit of children who have been abused and neglected and, thereafter, placed in foster care.

She is a member of the Henry County Bar Association, serving as past president, as well as the Tennessee Bar Association and the Anne Schneider Chapter of the Lawyer's Association for Women.

Judge Snyder is a member of the Tennessee General Sessions Judges Council and serves on the Education Committee. She is also a member of the Tennessee Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges and serves as Council Vice President, as a member of the Executive Committee and as Education Committee Chairman. Beginning in August she will serve as Council President.

In 2016, Judge Snyder was presented the McCain-Abernathy Memorial Award by the Tennessee Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges for exceptional service in advancing juvenile justice. She serves on the Tennessee Domestic Violence State Coordinating Council and represented the judicial branch by serving on the Three Branches Institute in West Tennessee.

Judge Snyder also served as a member of the Indigent Representation Task Force and served as a member of the Joint Ad-hoc Tennessee Blue Ribbon Task Force on Juvenile Justice. She is a member of Sulphur Well Church of Christ and works with the Sulphur Well Youth Ministry.

Re-Elect Joel T. WASHBURN

CARROLL COUNTY COMMISSIONER DISTRICT 9

My Opponents Are Good People.
There are four candidates for three seats to represent District 9 (McKenzie area) on the Carroll County Commission.

My goals if re-elected:

To better unify the county.

Before voting, to better assess recommended appointees to key committees in the county. A few people serve on many powerful committees.

Push for a major change in the county's economic development strategy, possibly with a partner different than the Chamber.

Push for a definite sunset date on the wheel tax on the 1000-acre lake as it relates to the 30 percent obligation to the motor vehicle owners in the county. It is now estimated to continue to the year 2034.

Why I should be one of the top three:

Lifelong resident of the county.

Publisher of The McKenzie Banner and attend governmental meetings within the county including school boards, city councils, watershed authority, electric department, and attend all types of events. That knowledge from other meetings helps in my decision-making on the Commission.

Business owner in McKenzie, Huntingdon, Dresden. I know the struggles facing the local businesses.

My family – mother, wife, daughter, son-in-law, grandson, aunts, uncles, cousins, and nieces – reside in the county.

Member – First Cumberland Presbyterian Church

Vice-President – McKenzie Rotary Club; previously served as a volunteer firefighter and as an EMT.

Former President of the Tennessee Press Association, the first-ever from McKenzie.

Brought – local dial-up Internet to Carroll County and was an original partner in Best Western-McKenzie (now owned by a different owner)

Voted to allow taxpayers to pro-rate their taxes and pay monthly instead of once annually. That helps the county's cash flow and helps taxpayers better manage their tax payments.

Voted against gifting of county roads to private developers around the 1000-acre lake. Two requests so far, I did not support either.

SUDOKU 7-10-18

Level: Beginner

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.

Bethel University Physician Assistant Graduates Achieve 98 Percent Pass Rate

MCKENZIE — Bethel University's Spring 2018 graduates from its Physician Assistant Studies Program have achieved a 98 percent pass rate on the Physician Assistant National Certifying Examination (PANCE), the licensing examination for PAs. The pass rate is based on the number of graduates who pass the examination on their first try. Of Bethel's 50 May 2018 graduates, 49 achieved passing on their first try.

"The five-year national average for first time takers of the PANCE is 96 percent," said Kerri Smith, Interim PA Program Director. "With last year's 100 percent pass rate and this year's rate, I feel that our maintaining continued pass rates that are above the national average is certainly testament to the quality of Bethel's program and the level to which we commit to produce physician assistant graduates who are fully prepared to take their licensing examinations and to serve the healthcare industry as PAs."

"This is very meaningful to students currently in our program as well as to those who are considering Bethel University for their preparation as a physician assistant," said Bethel President Walter Butler. "They can feel very confident that they are part of a comprehensive primary care training program that fully prepares them to be an effective physician assistant."

The Bethel University Physician Assistant Program confers a Master of Science degree in Physician Assistant Studies upon completion of the 27 month educational program. Bethel's program consists of 12 months of didactic education and 15 months of clinical experiences.

For more information about Bethel University's Physician Assistant program contact Kerri Smith at smithk@bethelu.edu or at 731-407-7663.

Headquartered in McKenzie, Tenn., Bethel University is associated with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and it offers bachelor's, master's and associate degrees through a variety of learning platforms. For more information about Bethel University programs, go to www.bethelu.edu.
