McKenzie City Council Hears Report on Proposed Library

A Library for the Future

BY MONA BATCHELOR

McKENZIE (August 10) — On August 9, before Mayor Jill Holland, the McKenzie City Council, and an audience of citizens, members of the McKenzie Public Library Enrichment Foundation, a 501(c) (3) corporation, revealed their goal of building a new public library facility for McKenzie.

The foundation group comprises Mark Warren, Frank Tate, Nola Hobbs, Brent Bradberry and Mona Batchelor. They began meeting in the summer of 2017 driven by a shared vision of developing and building a new library and community learning commons. Over the past year, the group has met regularly defining intentions, establishing goals, and developing a plan. After researching various options and possibilities throughout the city, they have chosen to focus their attention on an area just off the town square and adjacent to the McKenzie City Hall.

During Thursday's presentation, Batchelor described a modern public library/community learning commons as an open, modern learning space that includes areas for information technology, programming for all ages, remote or online education, tutoring, employment counseling and assistance, collaboration, multimedia content creation, meeting rooms, and spaces for reading or study. With the necessary permissions and funding, the final plan would also include a FEMA Safe Space. Such a facility offers many elements of the "community center" of days gone by, but is retooled and equipped to serve the needs of a modern, evolving 21st Century population.

In speaking to the monetary requirements and fundraising necessary to turn vision into reality, Warren assured the council that the group was not seeking to take funding away from any other community projects or endeavors, but rather will seek grant monies and private contributions for the build.

The foundation group feels that McKenzie and the surrounding area would benefit for generations to come from the augmented services a facility such as this would provide. They hope their vision for a heightened sense of community, programming for all ages, enhanced safety, and inclusion will resonate with citizens as a worthy ideal.

WEAKLEY COUNTY

Economic Development Board Names New Director

BY DAVID FISHER
Dresden Enterprise News Writer

Members of the Weakley County Economic Development Board and Executive Committee voted to approve a new director, during their Monday, July 30 meeting at the Weakley County Municipal Electric System.

Shelby Spurgeon of Jackson was unanimously selected from a field of five finalists after a formal search was conducted by Center Point Business Solutions.

After hearing a unanimous recommendation from the Search Committee to hire Spurgeon to fill the position of outgoing WCEDB director, Ronnie Price, the WCEDB approved her appointment.

Chairman of the Weakley County Economic Development Board Alex Bynum commented, "The Weakley County Economic Development Board is thrilled to have voted unanimously to hire Shelby to lead economic development activities for our community. It was evident by her interview that she not only has a passion for the future of Weakley County, but also a knowledge base to make both her and our organization extremely successful."

Spurgeon, who was the top candidate from a pool of 61 applicants, comes to Weakley County with a background in economic development.

As economic development director, Spurgeon will assist in the development and marketing of Weakley County. She will also maintain relationships with site selection consultants, national real estate brokers, the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development, and the Tennessee Valley Authority Economic Development team. Additionally, Spurgeon will develop, design, and maintain a Weakley County tourism strategy.

"I am excited and ready to take on this role as economic development director and look forward to working with the Weakley County team to set and achieve new economic development goals," says Spurgeon.

She expressed her appreciation to the board for having the confidence in her to do the job.

"I especially look forward to getting to know and work with you all," Spurgeon said. "I can't be more excited to move to Weakley County to begin my career here. Weakley County has recently experienced a tremendous amount of economic development success. I look forward to getting to work and building relationships that will enable us to build upon those successes."

A native of Jackson, Tennessee, Spurgeon, who is a senior at Mississippi State University, is finishing up her Bachelors of Arts degree in Communication with a concentration in public relations, and will graduate in the fall semester of this year. She only lacks two classes and has those arranged on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and is available to work on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Spurgeon has gained valuable work experience in the economic development field at Tennessee Valley Authority, The Jackson Chamber of Commerce, and Mississippi Development Authority. She will begin working part-time on August 20 while she is finishing up her degree. She will work full-time starting January 2, 2019.

Spurgeon will receive a weekly salary of $600 for a minimum of at least 24 hours per week. Her salary will increase to $55,000 annually, beginning January 1, 2019, at which time she will begin working full time. At that time, she will have access to begin using a vehicle provided by the WCEDB. Assuming all goes well and she meets the expectations of the position, her annual salary will increase to $60,000 on July 1, 2019.

On a motion by Martin Mayor Randy Brundige, the board voted to retain Price until December 21 at his full salary to help Spurgeon make the transition to her new position.

"We really need somebody full time, with what's going on," Brundige said.

Price stated, although he doesn't know Shelby, he has known her father, Kyle Spurgeon, for the past 25 years. Kyle is president/CEO of the Jackson Chamber of Commerce and a native of Henry County.

"I talked with Shelby and she seems like a very bright young lady," Price said. He added that she needs a new computer system, because the current system is outdated.

"Everything we do now is electronic. It's all email, text messages and scanned items."

Price stated the computer will need to tie into Martin's new high-speed internet recently installed by the service provider West Kentucky & Tennessee Telecommunications Cooperative. Mayor Brundige confirmed it is already available at the REED Center on Lindell Street in Martin, where Shelby's office is located.

The next WCEDB meeting is scheduled for 7 a.m. on Monday, September 24, at the Northwest Tennessee Development District building located at 124 Weldon Drive in Martin.

Paris Landing Inn Closes, New Hotel To Open in 2020

BY SHANNON MCFARLIN
WENK/WTPR Radio

BUCHANAN, Tenn. (August 5) — Sunday was the last day for the Paris Landing Inn to be open and crowds were there to eat breakfast, lunch and dinner in the popular dining room for the last time. Actually, people had been crowding to the Inn for the past several days to visit "one last time" and have been posting photos of themselves and their families making those last sentimental visits.

A spokesperson for the Inn told WENK/WTPR that demolition is set to begin in October and that the furniture and other items from the interior are being transferred to other state parks in Tennessee. The Paris Landing Inn will be demolished and replaced with a more modern, but smaller facility.

The sign at the entrance to the Inn welcomed visitors yesterday with the message, "See you again in 2020."

Revel Enterprises, Inc. Expanding In Paris

NASHVILLE — Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development Commissioner Bob Rolfe and Revel Enterprises, Inc. officials announced today that the automotive parts retailer and distributor will invest $2.3 million to expand its operations in Paris and create 64 jobs over the next five years.

"Revel Enterprises' expansion is yet another sign that Tennessee is a place where our existing businesses can thrive and create jobs," Rolfe said. "I'd like to thank the leadership of Revel Enterprises for the confidence it has in the people of Henry County. By doubling its headcount with this expansion, Revel Enterprises will make a valuable contribution to the health of Paris and Henry County's economy."

Revel Enterprises (dba AutoTruckToys.com) is a leading aftermarket distributor of automotive, truck and SUV accessories. The company offers more than 40,000 products from the industry's top manufacturers.

Revel Enterprises will convert the 60,000-square-foot speculative building in the Paris-Henry County Industrial Park into a warehouse and distribution facility, which is expected to be operational in the first quarter of 2019.

"Tennessee continues to prove it's the best state in the country for a current or prospective business owner. We feel that a large contributing factor for this success is a direct result of communities like the Paris-Henry County area and the environment the community cultivates and maintains for business owners," Barry Revel, president of Revel Enterprises, said. "We are grateful for the knowledge, resources and support we received from our local government and elected officials. We are excited about the future, this special partnership and what it will bring to the area for many years to come."

Local officials and the Tennessee Valley Authority applauded Revel Enterprises on its expansion in Henry County.

"Expansion of our workforce through our existing industries has always been our primary focus," Henry County Mayor Brent Greer said. "We know our local industries and helping them expand is critical to the overall health of our local economy. Revel Enterprises has been a great corporate citizen and we are extremely pleased to have a part in its continued growth."

"We are excited for the growth and creation of these job opportunities in Paris," Paris City Mayor Carlton Gerrell said. "Being a part of the big picture in the age of e-commerce shows that Paris has the ability to serve another market segment beyond traditional industry."

"TVA and Paris Board of Public Utilities congratulate Revel Enterprises on its decision to expand in Henry County," TVA Senior Vice President of Economic Development John Bradley said. "We are pleased to partner with Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development and the Paris Henry County Industrial Committee to support existing business and industry growth in the Valley."

Paris and Henry County are represented by Sen. John Stevens (R – Huntingdon) and Rep. Tim Wirgau (R – Buchanan) in the Tennessee General Assembly.

T-N-T Pizza Now Open

BY JIM POTTS

McKenzie has a new place to eat as of August 1. T-N-T Pizza opened on 37 Broadway, downtown in the former T'Bird's restaurant building. T-N-T stands for Tom and Teresa Van Selow.

Tom is a Navy veteran who got into the pizza business out of necessity to make a little extra money and move on to a bigger job, as he puts it, he never left. He began with Domino's Pizza 15 years ago and is no stranger to the McKenzie community managing the McKenzie Domino's from 2003 – 2012. Van Selow was promoted to Area Manager opening new stores in the area and stepped back from that to manage the Murray Domino's store setting all kinds of sales records in Kentucky.

He got the idea for T-N-T Pizza after deciding he wanted to work for himself and opened the first T-N-T in Buchanan in March 2017. According to Tom, it does well in the summer and slow in the winter so he began looking for a second site to offset the slow months and chose McKenzie for the location.

T-N-T Pizza's best seller is a $5.99 pizza buffet from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. seven days a week. There are specialty pizzas or you can build your own choosing from four different sizes up to 20" But it's not just a pizza place, the menu features appetizers, pasta dishes, wings, sandwiches, and desserts. You can dine in or take it home. If you choose to pick up dinner, give T-N-T Pizza a call at 731-207-1324.

On August 9, the McKenzie Alcohol Control Board granted a permit for T-N-T to sell beer on premises.

B17 Crash Memorialized with Historic Marker

BY JOEL WASHBURN/BRAD SAM

McKENZIE (August 9) — A roadside marker was recently erected by the Tennessee Historical Commission to designate the site of a fiery B-17 crash east of McKenzie that claimed the lives of eight crewmen during a training mission in 1943.

On the 75th anniversary, last Thursday, the members of one of the families traveled to McKenzie to commemorate the tragedy. August 9, 1945 was also the date the atomic bomb was dropped on Nagasaki, Japan, ending World War II.

The marker is located on Fields School Road near Liberty Church, adjacent to the field where, on the foggy Monday morning of August 9, 75 years ago, the B-17 (also known as a Flying Fortress) crashed after suffering a structural failure that rendered it uncontrollable. Part of the tail of the plane was found over a mile away near Lake Isabel.

Killed in the crash were Second Lt. George L. Moles of Kansas City, Missouri; Second Lt. Thorniel O. Haugen of Madison, Wisconsin; Second Lt. George T. DeCesare of Brooklyn; Second Lt. Ivan W. Oaks of St. Louis; Col. Walter G. Sancomb of Schenectady, New York; Sgt. Frank Rye of Detroit; Sgt. James D. Kenney of Cumberland, Maryland; and Sgt. Roy E. Snyder of Wellsville, Ohio.

According to the Friday, August 13, 1943 edition of The McKenzie Banner, the sound could be heard and the fire seen for many miles. Residents attested that the plane circled the field as though the pilot was attempting a forced landing, but at some point the effort failed and the plane nosedived.

The McKenzie Fire Department fought the fire, allowing the bodies to be extricated by members of the military.

William Smith of McKenzie said he came to the scene shortly after the crash. He said the fire kept everyone at bay. Firefighters from McKenzie worked to extinguish the fire and soon firefighters and soldiers from nearby Camp Tyson arrived to extricate the victims.

Paul Toombs, who was six days old and still in a Nashville hospital, said his family resided across the street from the crash. Every window in the house was blown out, said Toombs.

George Snyder said the marker was made possible with very supportive help of local residents, the Tennessee Historical Commission, and the support of the Halls Veterans Museum.

George said he was assisted by Paul Toombs, Jere Cox, Jennifer Waldrup, and Robbie Story. George and Robbie walked the field and found a small piece of the crash – 75 years after the incident.

Purse-Snatcher Reported to MPD

McKENZIE (August 12) — The McKenzie Police Department received a complaint Sunday of a "purse-snatching" on Stonewall Street.

According to an MPD press release, the victim stated that she and her husband had just returned home from grocery shopping when the theft occurred. Her husband let the victim out in front of their residence before parking their car in the garage.

The victim said as she was getting out of the car, she noticed a black male in a small, blue or black car driving slowly by her house. As the victim was walking up the sidewalk, she noticed this car stop in a neighbor's driveway, turn around and drive back toward her residence. The driver pulled into her driveway and stopped. The driver of this car got out and quickly walked toward her as he asked for directions to Jackson. As the victim was preparing to give him directions, the driver suddenly grabbed her purse from her shoulder, ran back to his car and fled the scene.

The victim immediately ran inside and called the police department. The victim's husband did not see the incident, because he was parking their car in the garage.

The victim described the suspect as a slender-built, light-skinned black male, approximately 22-23 years old. He had short hair and was clean shaven.

If anyone has any information about this information or the identity of the suspect, please contact the McKenzie Police Department at 731-352-2264.

sewer system because of the disrepair of the underground supply lines and lift stations. The funds will be provided by the United States Department Agriculture-Rural Development and bear an interest rate not to exceed 2.125 percent.

The city has made repairs to the underground piping through the years by adding an inner-liner to the existing piping. Those repairs were made through Community Development Block Grants issued in the amounts of $500,000 each occurrence. Repair crews are presently making limited repairs on the city's sewer system, said Billy Wood, Water Department supervisor.

Billy Carter on Triangle Drive presented the lone sealed bid to purchase a city-owned land parcel on Forrest Avenue. His bid was $2,525 for the former Linda Lewis property. The city recently contracted Anderson Construction to raze the house on the property. The council accepted the offer for the unimproved land.

An invoice in the amount of $5,500 was approved for additional concrete work around the splash pad. The additional concrete eliminates the muddy condition on the perimeter of the pad.

An invoice in the amount of $4,275 was approved to replace a roadside guardrail damaged by a motorist. If the motorist has insurance, then the city will be reimbursed for the damage when the motorist struck the guardrail on Forrest Avenue.

Campbell Water Well Repair of McKenzie was paid $25,841 to repair one of the city's water wells.

In Department Reports, Fire Chief Brian Tucker said the department had 33 calls during July.

Assistant Police Chief Richard Sawyers said he department had 1,291 calls during July.

Parks Director Mike Beasley said staff members have been preparing for soccer and the fall softball season. New benches were added at the soccer field by Kiwanis.

Street Department Director Johnny Mercer said staff members have been removing brush caused by the recent storm and performing maintenance on equipment.

Water Department Director Billy Wood said staff members have been making repairs to numerous water leaks.

Mona Batchelor and Mark Warren of the McKenzie Public Library Enrichment Foundation, Inc. made a presentation about a proposed new library and community learning commons in downtown McKenzie. (see separate news story).

having to tighten their financial belts and likely would not have happened without this grant.

After being introduced, Randy Boyd told the crowd, the idea for the dog park and other dog parks across the state came from an insult. He was attending an event out of state where Tennessee was mentioned as one of the lowest ranking states in how pets were treated. He came home and did his due diligence and found the information was true and helped begin initiatives in his hometown of Knoxville. His goal is to help make Tennessee the most dog friendliest state in the country.

Dog Park Dash is the program which McKenzie won the grant for the park. Dog Park Dash is an initiative of the Randy Boyd Foundation that is giving $1 million per year for three years broken down into one grand prize grant of $100,000 and 26 grants of $25,000 each per year. Jackson was this year's $100K winner. McKenzie competed against 50 other cities across the state who applied for these grants. Mayor Holland noted that recent Bethel graduate and current intern Bridget Neisler was responsible for writing the winning grant.

Following the presentation there were treats for humans and pooches alike along with t-shirts. Construction will begin soon and a grand opening for the park will be scheduled and announced at a later time.

during the August term of the McKenzie Mayor and Council meeting. Family, friends, and fellow firefighters were in attendance.

Perkins was honored for dedicated service, who began his career as a volunteer firefighter and then as a full-time night firefighter on April 1, 1988.

Perkins began his service during Mayor H.B. "Swat" Scarbrough's administration in the former firehouse behind McKenzie United Neighbors. He served under Scarbrough, Joe Morris, Bob Putman, Gene Anderson, Patty Edwards, Walter Winchester, and Jill Holland. His first fire chief was Bobby Ridley, followed by interim Bailey Moore Wrinkle, Billy Sexton, Larry Cook, and Brian Tucker. Perkins is one of the assistant chiefs of the department.

Tucker told Perkins during the presentation, "We are all better off for your service." Tucker said he was just a kid when Perkins first started as a firefighter. He told Perkins he is an inspiration.

Perkins is owner of Jerry's (named for his late father) Repair Shop, where he works during the day.

Letters
The Readers Speak...

Dear McKenzians,

I am begging you to please contact your state/federal representative, senator, and Govenor about the closing of the McKenzie Hospital! Below is a letter that I have sent to Representative Holt. I have sent similar letters to Representatives Halford and Wirgau, Senator Stevens, Governor Haslam, Deputy Governor Henry, Bill Jolley Vice President of Rural Health Issues for the Tennessee Hospital Association (THA), Nicolas P. Lewis Chair of the THA Small or Rural Hospital Constituency Section Exec Committee, Bill Dobbins Contract Lobbyist for Rural Health Association of Tennessee (RHAT), and RHAT. So far I received responses from Haslam, Halford, and Dobbins. The Tennessee Academy of Physician Assistants (TAPA) is also asking its members to do what they can to help. If you are part of an association see if you can get them involved.

To find your legislator go to http://wapp.capitol.tn.gov/Apps/fmlv3/districts.aspx. If you know someone in leadership for Tennova or Baptist Hospital please contact them, or write to the two gubernatorial candidates, Karl Dean (info@karldean.com) and Bill Lee (https://www.billlee.com/contact-us). If more people write then there is more hope! One letter, someone can ignore. Several letters have to be taken seriously. My conscious won't let me do less.

Do this for your neighbors and yourself!

I stand with you! We can make a difference!

Dear Representative Holt:

I am a former resident of McKenzie and professor for the Bethel University Physician Assistant Program. I am writing to express my concern for the closing of the McKenzie Hospital. My concerns are twofold.

First and foremost, as a pro-life Christian and Physician Assistant, I am deeply concerned for the pregnant TNCare women of the area. As far as I can tell, McKenzie is the only hospital that has OB/GYNs and Nurse Midwives who accept TNCare. The next closest areas are Martin and Jackson. You know how rural and poor our area is. I fear that for many of these women the loss of the hospital in McKenzie will mean that they cannot get the prenatal care they require. The OB/GYNs and nurse midwives cannot practice in an area where they cannot safely deliver and will therefore leave. This will result in more complications for both the mother and baby, as numerous studies have shown. According to an article this year from the Journal of the American Medical Association, "Loss of hospital-based obstetric care in rural counties not adjacent to urban areas was significantly associated with increases in births in hospitals without obstetric units (3.06 percentage points), and preterm births (0.67 percentage points), compared with counties with continual obstetric services." If a mother is on TNCare she is already poor. Asking her to take more time from work and to spend more money on gas to get to a prenatal visit may be more than she can afford to do. It may be a choice between providing for the child already here at the expense of the child yet to be born. I believe these complications will result in greater poverty in the area. As a member of the TN Right to Life and a Christian, I felt that you will share my concerns. As we say in medicine, "the best way to protect the baby, is to take care of the mother."

Secondly, I am professor for the Bethel University Physician Assistant program. You may not be aware but there is a national shortage of training sites (residencies/rotations/etc.) for Medical Schools, PA schools, and Nurse Practioner schools. Our school is the only PA School in a rural area in west or middle Tennessee. In February of 2016, Bethel University's Physician Assistant Program was recognized by the Rural Health Research Center as number 6 of the top 15 PA programs that graduated proportionally more PAs who practice in a rural setting. Every year we have students from other parts of the country who move to TN because of this program. Many of them stay! As I am sure you are aware rural west Tenn. is a medical field desert. My program is trying to change that. We have relied heavily on the McKenzie hospital and the McKenzie Medical Center OB/GYNs and Nurse Midwives for Emergency Department and Women's Health rotations. With the hospital leaving we are losing those rotations! Placing students in this area is what draws them to stay and work here once they graduate. Lastly there is the loss of jobs. Carroll County and McKenzie are poor. This county is in the top 10 for highest unemployment in the state. Losing that many jobs will only make it worse!

I ask you to please look into this issue. You are a member of Long Heights Baptist Church. Your fellow church members will be hurt by this. At the very least, please see if you can get Huntingdon or Paris to start accepting TNCare for OB care. This area cannot afford to lose this hospital.

I am looking forward to your response.

Sincerely,
Katherine Cummings

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

They Got The Ball Rolling...

I read it again. And again. And one more time. It was two sentences under the "Today in History" column of a local newspaper. It carried me instantly miles and years away from the kitchen table...

It was the August 7 paper and the highlighted year was 1942. The brief synopsis read, "U. S. and other allied forces landed at Guadalcanal, marking the start of the first major allied offensive in the Pacific during World War II. (Japanese forces abandoned the island the following February.)"

It left out the part about the seven thousand allied troops, mostly U. S. Marines, who died there. Or the eight thousand that were wounded or the twenty-nine ships we lost or the six hundred American airplanes that fell from the sky...

The Japanese "circle" of control in the South Pacific was ever widening in the early 1940's. They were growing bolder with each expanding conquest. Pearl Harbor was just one aspect of the overall plan. Japanese forces had captured the Philippines, Singapore, Wake Island, Thailand, the Gilbert Islands and Guam.

Early in the summer of 1942 they moved to secure the Solomon Islands, a string of small islands lying alarmingly close to the northeast coast of Australia. Any Japanese bases here, especially a landing strip, would directly interfere and threaten vital troop movement between the U. S. and its stanch ally, Australia.

The Japanese picked Guadalcanal as the Solomon Island on which to build their airbase.

The problems were innumerable. First and foremost, we didn't have much of an army. We had lots of recruits! They had come running from all across the nation to sign up in the wake of Pearl Harbor. But we had few training facilities, antiquated weapons and not enough space for the hundreds of thousands of eager young Americans getting off the buses.

The plain truth is, by August 7, 1942, America had not engaged any large opposing land forces as the war expanded around us. Hitler had to be contended with in Europe. Even as the troopships steamed toward Guadalcanal, we were also readying another American force for a North Africa landing. Quick now, how many countries can you name in the history of mankind that have successfully waged war on two separate fronts ten thousand miles apart?

Many in high command worried that our troops were "under trained" and "ill prepared" for an all out assault on a fortified enemy position. No one knew for certain if we were ready or not...

They were green alright, untested, apprehensive and, if they had any sense, scared half to death...but they were United States Marines! And somebody had to do something before the Japanese could finish that airstrip!

They waded onto the beaches of Guadalcanal on that fateful August 7, armed with a bolt action M1903 Springfield rifle—an outdated World War I weapon! Each soldier carried a ten day supply of ammunition.

The early news reports shocked America. It was somewhat heroic, even romantic, to send young men off to defend our nation. There was nothing gallant or courageous about the death tolls coming out of a tiny place nobody had ever heard of! We also realized the Japanese were going to fight with a frenzied craziness to the very end. This "thing" wasn't going to be over in a couple of months!

History records the jungle fighting was ferocious at times, hand to hand, eye ball to eye ball, no quarter asked, nor given. The Japanese withdrew their forces February 9, 1943; six months and two days of horrific warfare had ended in a U. S. victory.

The Japanese myth of invincibility was proven to be just that. And, boy howdy, did we ever learn that our farm boys, teachers, New England clerks, college kids and depression era youths could fight like American Soldiers when the chips were down!

It also marked the beginning of the end for the Japanese. Oh, they were not going to go quietly. It would take another two and a half years... But their sphere of control would be ever shrinking from Guadalcanal on. America took the offensive in the South Pacific on the merit of that battle and they marched with it all the way to Tokyo.

You can understand why a one liner in a "Today in History" column can't do it justice. It wasn't meant to do so. But it does give us the opportunity to pause, appreciate, remember, and be thankful all over again for those young warriors.

It's a trip we need to take every chance we get!

Respectfully,
Kes

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Rebels Open Season with Win Over Lions

McKENZIE (August 9) — The McKenzie Middle School Rebels kicked off the football season Thursday with a big home win over the Dresden Lions, 38-14. After a slow start, the Rebels scored three times in the final five minutes of the first half. The defense held strong throughout, faltering just twice to allow the Lions to avoid a shutout.

McKenzie received the opening kickoff and drove 50 yards on a dozen plays, including a big fourth-down conversion, before turning the ball over on downs.

Dresden's first possession took the game into the second quarter. The Lions managed one first down, but the Rebel defense then made a big stop on fourth-and-inches to take over near midfield.

Marquez Taylor started with a pair of carries to move the chains. Then, Etijay Tharpe got two touches for another first down. Taylor followed with a 23-yard run, then, two plays later, walked into the end zone untouched. Quarterback Jackson Cassidy threw to Rashad McCreary for the two-point conversion, and the Rebels led 8-0 with 4:31 to go in the first half.

Dresden started the ensuing possession with good field position and converted a fourth-and-four with an eleven-yard keeper by quarterback Tatum Oliver. On the next play, Oliver's pass was picked off by Rebel Zach Aird at the McKenzie 20.

On the first snap, Taylor jetted 80 yards for another McKenzie touchdown. He also got the hand-off to convert for two and give the Rebels a 16-0 lead with just under two minutes on the clock.

Lion Raymond Johnson made a solid kickoff return to midfield and, on second down, moved the chains with a 14-yard run. Dresden's progress was halted again as an Oliver pass was intercepted, this time by Cassidy at the Rebel 34.

McKenzie marched down the field with three straight first downs. Taylor ran for 14, then Tharpe followed for 25. Cassidy threw to Aird for 19 yards and a first-and-goal at the eight, then the quarterback kept, pushing the pile the last five yards to fall across the goal line. Cassidy found McCreary for the two-point conversion, and the Rebel lead was 24-0 with 23 seconds to play in the half.

Starting at the far 42, the Lions gained seven on runs by Johnson and Oliver. With five seconds on the clock, Oliver threw to Mace Wilson for five yards and a first down. The scoreboard showed all zeroes, and the Rebels headed for the locker room. The referees called them back, declaring that Dresden had called a timeout with one second remaining. The Rebel defense rushed out and managed to get set before the Lions snapped the ball, but Oliver found DeAngelo Lambert open for a 40-yard touchdown. Johnson ran it in for two points, and the half ended with McKenzie leading 24-8.

Dresden seemed to carry momentum into the second half, moving the ball well on three carries each by Oliver and Lambert for a first-and-goal at the Rebel 10. Lambert gained just a yard, stopped by Christopher Beck. Wilson took the next hand-off, but lost a yard on a Cassidy tackle. Cassidy made another stop, holding Lambert at the line of scrimmage. On fourth down, Oliver kept, but Ty Anderson brought him down in the backfield to give the ball back to the Rebels.

Taylor started the McKenzie drive with a four-yard run, then broke through for 72 yards before slipping at the Lion 13. Tharpe took a toss from Cassidy eight yards, then took a hand-off the final five for the touchdown. Another pass from Cassidy to McCreary added two points, and the Rebels led 32-8 in the waning seconds of the third quarter.

The Lions began at their own 37. After Oliver threw incomplete twice, he kept but managed just a pair as the quarter ended. The quarterback started the final frame with another incomplete throw, broken up by Aird, to turn the ball over on downs.

McKenzie fumbled on the first play, and Dresden recovered.

Oliver threw to Johnson for three yards on first down and then was sacked on second by McCreary for a loss of nine. On third-and-long, Dresden fumbled and the Rebels recovered.

Cassidy kept the first snap, running 33 yards before being driven out of bounds at the five. On first-and-goal, the Rebels fumbled again but this time managed to recover. Cassidy kept for a short gain, then neared the goal line before the Lion defenders forced the ball out and into the end zone for a touchback.

Both teams sent in reserves for Dresden's possession. The Lions went three-and-out, punting from their own 10.

New Rebel quarterback Drew Chappel started at the 25, keeping for a five-yard loss. On second down, he scrambled and ran up the sideline for a 30-yard touchdown. A fumble doomed the two-point attempt, but McKenzie led 38-8 with just under two minutes left in the game.

Oliver returned the ensuing kick to the Dresden 33. Lion Tristen Jett took the first-down hand-off 67 yards to paydirt. A two-point pass by new quarterback Cameron Schlicht fell incomplete, and the score was 38-14 with just over a minute to go.

Cassidy returned at quarterback for McKenzie, and took a knee twice in victory formation to run out the clock.

The Rebels (1-0) will host Huntingdon Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Frank Gibson, wife Kathy, and daughter, Amy celebrate with Frank's classmates and teachers at Simply Southern restaurant in Gleason.

Gibson Honored by Classmates, Teachers After Hall of Fame Induction

GLEASON (August 8) — It was a welcome-home celebration with classmates and high school teachers on Wednesday for Frank Gibson. Just one day earlier, the Gleason native was inducted into the Tennessee Journalism Hall of Fame in an afternoon ceremony in Murfreesboro.

Meeting at Simply Southern restaurant, fellow members of the class of 1965 and teachers Edgar Floyd and Suzanne Russell enjoyed a brief time of reuniting. Gibson, now residing in Florida, had returned three years earlier to celebrate a fiftieth class reunion during the annual Tater Town Days.

It was a time to share memories, look at photos, and celebrate a classmate's accomplishments. His career started locally while in high school and blossomed as he used his writing talents in the Army and later with a distinguished career at The Tennessean, working with John Seigenthaler.

In his acceptance speech, Gibson said, "A little over 53 years ago – in the darkness of 4 o'clock -- I climbed into the cab of a truck hauling brick from Gleason, my small hometown in West Tennessee, to Nashville.

"My "dream" was to be a sports writer. But, I was looking for any job that would allow me to go to college.

"A sports writer from The Tennessean had told me to look him up if I ever got to Nashville. I came knocking three weeks after graduation.

"After lunch he introduced me to his sports editor, Raymond Johnson, who very politely explained that The Tennessean was not hiring 18-year-old sports writers that week…

Six months after Mr. Johnson dashed those hopes I landed the assignment as weekend police reporter. Jerry Thompson was the regular beat reporter and got stuck training me. Jerry was fondly nicknamed "Tub." That earned me, the 19-year-old kid from the country, the moniker of "Tub's Cub."

When high school basketball tournaments rolled around, Mr. Johnson borrowed me for 2-3 weeks to take scores on the phone. At the end of that assignment, he brought me the "good news." I was getting my wish. The managing editor was transferring me to sports permanently.

I have an embarrassing admission. By then, "Tub's Cub" had had dozens of bylines in news. Several were on the front page. A few were above the fold in a big Sunday paper.

Sports reporting looked less glamorous.

A few days after Mr. Johnson broke the news, I mustered enough courage get in to see "Mr. Seigenthaler" – the editor. He heard my appeal and over-ruled the ME, telling him covering sports and my class schedule at UT-Nashville were not a good fit."

Fate worked to his benefit as he continued his career in news, but not in sports.

Frank Gibson's career in journalism was marked as much by his work as a First Amendment champion and extraordinary contributions to open government as it was for its longevity.

Before the clock started on five decades as a professional, Gibson had been a "paperboy" for the former Memphis Press-Scimitar, had written dozens of school news columns for the Dresden Enterprise and McKenzie Banner, and reported hundreds of high school basketball and football game results to daily papers in Memphis and Nashville.

His 40-year career as reporter and editor at The (Nashville) Tennessean began four months after graduating in 1965 from Gleason High School in rural West Tennessee. That first assignment, as weekend police reporter, was interrupted by Army service with the Armed Forces Radio and Television Service in Panama.

After his military discharge, he finished college at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, where he was editor of the UT Daily Beacon in his second year.

Gibson returned to Nashville to become The Tennessean's City Hall reporter. He worked other government beats and had stints as investigative reporter, winning Associated Press and UPI awards as well as the Society of Professional Journalists Green Eyeshade Award for Investigative Reporting.

His reporting career culminated as the newspaper's Washington correspondent.

His 35 years of advocacy for open government and the First Amendment began immediately after returning to Nashville as a city editor in 1982. He developed legislation adopted by the General Assembly to improve enforcement of the state public records law.

After studying First Amendment law as a Journalism and Humanities Fellow at the University of Michigan, Gibson was elected national president of the Society of Professional Journalists. He chaired SPJ's national advertising campaign commemorating the bicentennial of the First Amendment in 1991. Called "Project Watchdog," the theme was "If the Press Didn't Tell Us, Who Would?"

Retiring as political editor of The Tennessean, Gibson organized and co-founded the Tennessee Coalition for Open Government, a collaboration of news media, civic and citizen groups and First Amendment lawyers. The organization is still operating robustly 15 years later.

He authored "Keys to Open Government – a citizen's guide," edited by current TCOG director Deborah Fisher. The title came from legendary editor and publisher John Seigenthaler, a Gibson mentor who once introduced him as "the holder of the keys to open government in Tennessee."

Seigenthaler explained Gibson's motivation and commitment as an open government advocate at his retirement from the newspaper.

"He was better than anyone I had ever known in tracking a paper trail," Seigenthaler wrote. "He was better than I, and once I was good at it. So it was natural he would assume that role to keep records from being secret."

During his tenure as executive director of TCOG Gibson answered more than 1,000 hotline calls for assistance and information from reporters and citizens. He served as president of the National Freedom of Information Coalition during that period.

He chaired TPA's Freedom of Information Committee for 17 years until the press association named him fulltime public policy director in 2011.

A state Senate Proclamation noted his leadership in helping persuade Gov. Phil Bredesen to fund and the legislature to create the Office of Open Records Counsel to answer records law questions from citizens and public officials and to provide training for record custodians.

It cited his "long and distinguished career in journalism and advocacy for the public's right to know," noting that "Mr. Gibson regards journalism as the highest form of public service and has remained true to that precept throughout his exemplary career."

Paul Tinkle, president of Thunderbolt Broadcasting, a TCOG member, characterized Gibson's contributions more succinctly: "Frank Gibson retiring is like a library going to shorter hours."

Jimmy Tosh Discusses Pork Industry, Farming

McKENZIE (August 7) — Jimmy Tosh of Tosh Farms, Henry, was the featured speaker at the McKenzie Rotary Club on Tuesday, August 7.

Tosh said the Henry-based farming operation began in 1913 and now operates under three brands: Tosh Farms, Tosh Pork, and Bacon By Gosh (trucking operation).

It is a family-owned, award-winning operation with 385 employees, 20,000 acres either owned or leased for crop production, 33,500 sows in production, and sells 770,000 hogs annually. It owns and operates its own production barns plus has 80 contract family-owned barns. The topped-out hogs are transported mainly to Louisville, Kentucky for processing.

Tariffs had depressed the pork and row crop business, said Tosh. Also, the increase in the price of steel has greatly affected the price of erecting new hog barns, such as the Crutchfield site just outside of McKenzie. One portion of that construction project will be not be completed at this time, said Tosh.

McKenzie School Board Honors Brown for Service

BY JIM POTTS

Director of McKenzie Schools Lynn Watkins administers the oath of office to Isabella Colotta, this year's student representative to the McKenzie Board of Education.

McKenzie's Board of Education met Tuesday afternoon, August 7, with a brief agenda. The Board approved the first reading of several amendments to the Board of Education policy manual.

The first amendment concerned background investigations of applicants and employees. The policy now reads; "To ensure the safety and welfare of students and staff, the district shall require criminal history background checks and fingerprinting of applicants for teaching positions and any other positions that require proximity to children. Further, applicants who (1) have been identified by the Department of Children's Services as perpetrators of child abuse, severe child abuse, child sexual abuse, or child neglect, or who pose an immediate threat to the health, safety, or welfare of children; or (2) who are listed on the state's abuse of vulnerable persons registry maintained by the Department of Health shall not be employed. Any costs incurred to perform these background checks and fingerprinting shall be paid by the applicant. The Board shall reimburse the applicant if the position is offered and accepted. Background checks shall be required of these employees at least once every five (5) years after the date of hire."

The truancy section of the Board's attendance policy was amended to read that the Director of Schools or a designee will provide written notice to parents or guardians that attendance at school is required. Students are to be present at least 50 percent of the scheduled school day to be counted present. Students may attend part-time days, alternating days, or for a specific time indicated in their Individualized Educations Plan (IEP) and will be considered present for school attendance purposes. If a student is required to participate in a remedial instruction program outside of the regular school day where there is no cost to the parents or guardians and the school system provides transportation, unexused absences from these programs shall be reported in the same manner.

A student who is absent five days without adequate excuse will be reported to the Director of Schools or a designee who will in turn provide written notice to parents or guardians of the absences. If documentation is not provided within adequate time period excusing those absences, or request an attendance hearing, then the Director of Schools shall implement a three-step progressive truancy intervention plan prior to referral to juvenile court.

The last approved amendment change concerned the corporal punishment section of the board's policy manual to bring it in line with state regulations. All of the amendments will have to pass a second reading at the next meeting to become a permanent part of the school system's policy manual.

In other action, the board approved a three-year computer equipment lease with Lenovo. Senior Isabella Colotta was administered the oath of office as the student representative to the board.

School Director Lynn Watkins honored Elaine Brown for her service to the McKenzie Special School District in his report and announced that a Fall District Meeting will be held at Trenton Special Schools on Tuesday, September 18.

MARTIN (June 17-22) — Students from Carroll County recently joined 490 youth leaders from across the state at the Tennessee Teen Institute held on the campus of the University of Tennessee at Martin.

The Tennessee Teen Institute (TTI) is a five-day youth leadership and prevention camp sponsored by the Jackson Area Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency (JACOA). This year marked the 30th Anniversary of the Teen Institute Program in Tennessee. The program addresses teen issues such as bullying, violence, suicide, teen pregnancy, distracted driving, teen health and substance abuse prevention through a five-day, peer-led prevention camp designed to provide teen participants with the skills and education necessary to develop and implement alcohol and drug abuse prevention programs in their own communities.

This is a comprehensive program that trains, mobilizes and empowers youth to prevent the illegal use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs and self-destructive behaviors in themselves and their peers. TTI prepares students to not only make positive changes, but to be proud advocates of those changes. Students have the opportunity to grow and learn as individuals, while enhancing their leadership abilities. Because TTI is peer-led, teens are given a unique opportunity to have a "voice" in addressing issues important to them. Giving youth some ownership in this type of program is one of the key factors in the success of enforcing a substance-free lifestyle.

The mission statement for the Teen Institute Program is: "To empower Tennessee's youth to lead by example and take an active role in bringing about positive changes by giving them the skills, knowledge, and support they need make healthy choices, build positive relationships and live substance free lives."

Henry County Hosts McDonald's Jamboree

BY JIM POTTS
banner@mckenziebanner.com

The 2018 football season is officially here with several local teams participating in the McDonald's Jamboree in Henry County, Friday, August 10. Ten teams played a half of football against each other getting their kids playing time for the season to come.

West Carroll vs Murray

The Jamboree kicked off with West Carroll facing Murray High School. The War Eagles showed a stingy defense against a talented Murray squad. West Carroll scored first on a quarterback keeper by senior Trace Fuller with 1:18 left in the first period. The extra point attempt was no good giving West Carroll a 6-0 lead. Murray answered with a touchdown pass with 9:02 left in the second period. Extra point was good giving Murray a 7-6 lead. After swapping possessions, the War Eagles found the endzone again with 4:12 left on a scoring run by # 24 Jarrius Weatherford. West Carroll went for a 2-point conversion attempt which failed but still left them with a 12-7 lead. Murray answered with a long drive resulting in a winning touchdown pass in the back of the endzone with :36 seconds on the clock. A 2-pt conversion attempt failed but gave Murray the win 13-12 in what would be the closest score all night.

Martin-Westview vs Stewart Co.

Martin Westview's Chargers posted a 27-0 win in a turnover-filled contest. Stewart County fumbles set up all but the first score for the Chargers. They took the ball first and quickly scored in less than two minutes on a run by Marquis Taylor. Extra point was good by J.T. Carver to make it a 7-0 contest. The Rebels fumbled at their own 24 a few plays into their first drive giving the Chargers a short field to work with. Marquis Taylor found the endzone again with J.T. Carver's extra point good for an early 14-0 lead. The Charger defense forced Stewart County into a 3 and out on their next possession and the efficient offense went right back to work with a drive ending in a touchdown catch by Parker Bell. Carver's extra point was good for a 21-0 lead to close out the first period.

Both teams substituted freely in the second period with Martin Westview's second team getting a touchdown on a quarterback keeper by Ty Simpson. Extra point was no good for a final score of 27-0.

Dresden vs Hickman Co.

Dresden took the field against Hickman County in the third matchup of the night. The Bulldogs took the ball first driving to the Dresden 28 before fumbling the ball away. Dresden marched downfield posting the first score with an 18-yard TD by Tyrone Jones with 5:19 left in the first period. Point-after was good by J.B. Newsom for a 7-0 Lion lead. Hickman County moved the ball out to their own 38 before turning the ball over again. This time Divers Lockhart picked up the fumble and took it home for a touchdown with :50 seconds left in the first period. Newsom was good on the extra point for a 14-0 Dresden lead. Hickman County's third turnover set up another Dresden score with 10:12 left in the second period on a touchdown reception by Drake Yates. Newsom's extra point was no good giving Dresden a 20-0 lead which turned out to be the final score.

Henry County vs Waverly

The fourth matchup brought the most fireworks as Henry County took on Waverly. This contest featured big plays by both teams. Waverly drew first blood early scoring with the extra point no good for a 6-0 lead. The Patriots answered on a touchdown pass by Ethan Thompson. Extra point was good for a 7-6 Patriot lead. A short time later Henry County blew up a Waverly drive with an 8-yard sack. Very next play, Henry County's Jayln Foster took off for an 81-yard TD. Extra point was no good giving the Patriots a brief 13-7 lead. Waverly answered on the next drive with a 73-yard touchdown catch by JD Dixon. Extra point was good tying the contest at 13-13 near the end of the first period. Both teams subbed quite a bit in the second period. Henry County took the lead for good with 7:35 left in the contest on a 23-yard TD by Jayden Kendall. Extra point was good for a 20-13 Henry County lead which was the final score.

McKenzie vs Milan

McKenzie's Rebels took on Milan in the nightcap contest. There were a number of good individual efforts by the Rebels but not enough to stop the Bulldogs on this night. Milan scored first on a 63 yard TD pass by Malachai Allen. Extra point was good for a 7-0 Bulldog lead. A McKenzie turnover set up Milan's next score which came with :30 seconds left in the first period on a 20-yard TD by Isaiah Pearson. Extra point was good for a 14-0 Milan lead. McKenzie recovered a Milan turnover and threatened to score but ended up turning the ball over on downs after failing to convert a fourth down attempt. Milan found the end zone one last time on a 20-yard score by Anferney Lambert. Extra point was good for the final score of 21-0 Milan.
