

Beating Hearts Hosts Annual Fund-Raising Banquet

HUNTINGDON (September 5) — Beating Hearts Help Center hosted its annual fund-raising banquet at the Carroll County Civic Center on September 5.

Approximately 350 persons filled the Civic Center to hear about the work of Beating Hearts, a center that provides multiple services for pregnant woman, new families, and education on abortion risks and procedures. The McKenzie-based center operates on a bare minimum budget and depends on many volunteers and donors to continue to operate.

Kathy Ham is the director and is assisted by Felicia Patterson, operations manager. Members of the volunteer board of directors help raise funds and help provide for the needs of the center.

All services are provided free of charge to families. It provides private, non-judgmental advice in a caring environment. The center had 300 client visits last year.

It operates a Blessing Boutique to help with the supply needs of families or expectant mothers. The Center hopes to add a medical component to provide ultrasound services. Statistically, after a pregnant mom sees the formed human baby on the scan, they choose life instead of abortion.

The Center needs medical personnel to donate their services for this expansion of services. The ultrasound equipment was donated to Beating Hearts.

Gary Bynum of Memphis was the guest speaker for the evening and students from Bethel's Renaissance provided the musical entertainment.

Bynum provided a passionate speech about saving the lives of unborn children. A former Air Force officer and aviator told of how he and his wife had miscarriages. Finally, they had the opportunity to adopt. The medical personnel told them a newborn just delivered to a mom addicted cocaine. The baby would obviously be addicted as well, they were told. He had a malformed esophagus, which would require surgery to correct. The baby would also suffer from half brain dead, according to that early assessment. The Bynums adopted the child. Their new son Mitch grew up and is presently stationed in Syria with the U.S. Armed Forces. Mitch was misdiagnosed, said Bynum. He questioned how many aborted children were misdiagnosed.

Bethel's Nursing Program Ranked Second in State

McKENZIE — President Walter Butler is pleased to announce Bethel University's College of Health Sciences School of Nursing Registered Nursing Program has been named number two in the state of Tennessee by RNCareers.org.

RNCareers.org reported, "The guidelines in the Affordable Care Act require registered nurses to be health leaders and provide health prevention to the masses. Registered nurses are encouraged to pursue higher education to meet the challenges of the complex and evolving healthcare system. The new responsibilities of nurses are challenging but can present wonderful opportunities and rewards."

Tennessee has 44 RN nursing programs, Bethel University is ranked second in the state. The rankings are based on the average NCLEX passing rates over a period of three years, tuition cost, accreditation, program of offerings, retention and graduation rate. Bethel's average score for first-time pass rate is 98.52%. The Tennessee average rate is 88.77%. The national average is 87.22%.

Dr. Jenny Webb, director of Nursing at Bethel, was pleased but not surprised about the ranking. She stated, "Our Bethel University faculty and staff work incredibly hard to help our students achieve their highest potential. We pride ourselves on thinking outside of the box and coming up with creative ways to enhance our students' learning experiences. We are a small program which allows us to work closely with our nursing students to ensure they develop the essential clinical reasoning skills needed to be excellent at what they do. Our graduates are well prepared to practice as registered nurses in a variety of healthcare settings. Additionally, Bethel nursing graduates have exceptional placement rates at hospitals throughout Tennessee."

Further, Dr. Joseph Hames, M.D. added, "As Vice President and Dean of the College of Health Sciences at Bethel University, I am extremely proud of the performance of our BSN graduates. They have a reputation for excellence and are eagerly recruited by hospitals throughout Tennessee. I would encourage anyone who is contemplating nursing as a profession and interested in learning in a Christian environment to apply to our Bethel program."

Bethel University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church located in McKenzie, TN offering both on-campus and online courses.

"I can't tell you how many women I talk to who go through the same struggles of juggling work, family, and other obligations and don't take time for themselves. In order for us to stay healthy, we have to not just take care of ourselves physically, but mentally and spiritually. In today's world we have to be available at the drop of the hat thanks to technology, and taking time to break away and refocus is important more today than it ever has been. I am excited that this event allows us to take that time, and shows the strength and power that women possess and the resiliency we can have in tough times."

stories, and photographing. He was later tapped to work at Associated Publishers, Inc. in 1973 when the new web press was installed at Huntingdon. That sister company printed nine community newspapers, including Dresden and McKenzie. In 1973, Jeff and Kenneth Kee were the press operators for a new five-unit web press. Kenneth Kee, of McKenzie, along with other pressman, still operate that press. Kee has printed the Enterprise and Banner for sixty years. Jeff is the mayor of Dresden, the city judge in McKenzie, owner of Poppi's Pizza in Dresden, and law partner in the firm of Washburn and Hutcherson in Dresden. His many obligations are in great part why he chose to sell the publishing company. Jeff wrote, "During my career here, I have seen, wrote about, and edited literally thousands of stories about the good, bad, and ugly of the everyday occurrences involving the residents of this great county. This job has afforded me the opportunity to celebrate up close and personal the great accomplishments of our citizens and likewise grieve with individuals and families in times of loss and suffering. I have been tremendously blessed by God as he has afforded me the good fortune to come to know and love Weakley Countians from east to west and north to south. "Over the past few months, as I approached my 65th birthday, I began to realize and accept that the time was right for me to begin getting some of my irons out of the fire as many people have often told me that I have "too many irons in the fire. "My brother, Joel, and I began talking about me selling my interest in Tri-County Publishing, Inc. and other publishing-related assets to him. The corporation publishes the Dresden Enterprise and McKenzie Banner newspapers as well as operates a commercial print shop and sells advertising specialties. "Just this week we reached an agreement for that transaction to take place and we focused our efforts on wrapping up that agreement as quickly as possible. September 6 is the day when I will no longer be an owner of Tri-County Publishing and each day reporting for work at the newspaper office. "It doesn't necessarily mean that you won't see me in the future on the sidelines of ballgames and present at other events across Weakley County with my camera in hand taking photographs and writing stories to continue telling the story of Weakley County. In my new role of helping my brother work to build a better newspaper for Dresden and Weakley County, I have the good fortune of getting to be selective about my assignments and number of hours worked per week. I will no longer have the burden and stress of seeing that the newspaper makes it to the newsstands and subscriber mailboxes week in and week out. This new opportunity also will allow me to sleep later in the morning and spend more time at home at night with my wife. Some of you may be already aware that I have already eased back on my law practice and have focused exclusively on transactional law areas such as real estate transfers, estate planning, business formation, contracts, social security disability, and other areas that do not involve intense litigation. This new direction for me today is another step back from that proverbial fire; one that I embrace with enthusiasm to see what the future holds. Some of you, especially those of you who know that it is not in my nature to not be working, might inquire what my plans are for the future. To answer that, Jennifer and I will continue working to make our restaurant, Poppi's Pizzeria, a designation place for local fine dining. Additionally, I am planning to become active in mission work through our church and Weakley County Baptist Association. I also foresee that we will enjoy traveling and enjoy this wonderful nation and world that God has given us. You just never know, we just might sign up for the next senior citizen's bus trip and become regulars on their journeys. I also will have more opportunity to serve the citizens of Dresden as mayor by working to make our city a better place to live and raise children. In this new role, I will have more time to interact one-on-one with the citizens of Dresden and explore more opportunities for our community to grow economically and culturally. In regard to the future of the newspaper, my brother had this to say in a written statement to be published in the print edition of the newspaper this next week: "The Dresden Enterprise will continue as a community newspaper serving Weakley County, said Joel Washburn, publisher. This week, the newspaper has a new design and a new flag - the nameplate at the top of page 1. "My brother, Jeff and I have been in the publishing business for more than 40 years. "I thank Jeff for his many years of service to the community and the industry. I will rely on his continued support to improve your community newspaper," said Joel. "I hope to build on the tradition of the printed newspaper and add new online offerings. "A community newspaper relies on the support of local citizens and businesses. We thank you for your support in the past and hope to earn your support in the future," concluded Washburn. Jeff continued, "In bringing this personal note and announcement to a conclusion, I'd like to close by saying "Thank You" to the citizens of Weakley County for indulging me and helping to guide me as I grew from a very young man new to Weakley County in 1974 to a senior citizen now reaching retirement that has had the opportunity of a lifetime right here and enjoyed every minute and mile of that journey from start to finish. God bless each and everyone!"

to capacity, King was administered the oath of office by Circuit Court Judge Donald Parish. Judges Parish and Creed McGinley served as acting chancellors in McGee's absence. Parish welcomed the crowded and lauded the state's nominating committee and Governor Lee for appointing King as chancellor.

King commented it was as surprise to see a full courtroom in her support. She added, "It is an honor to be appointed, and it's an once in a life time opportunity." The new chancellor said she plans to hit the ground rounding as she assumes the bench.

Derogatory comments were made on social media regarding her past political affiliation with the Democratic Party and recently changed political parties to receive the nomination from the governor. When asked for comment, Chancellor King was quick to state the comments about her were untrue and she has been a long time member of the party. She added that her husband, Dusty, is the secretary of the Carroll County Republican Party.

King is the daughter of Lynn and Debra Twyman, and graduate of Huntingdon High School. She graduated magna cum laude from David Lipscomb University in Nashville, Tenn., and graduated from the University of Memphis, School of Law in 2002. She is the co-founder and partner of King and King, PLC with her husband. King's practice focused on family law, estate planning and family law mediations. She is a member of the Tennessee Board of Professional Responsibility Hearing Committee. Jennifer was listed by the Tennessee Supreme Court as a Rule 31 Family Law Mediator in 2008. The 24th Judicial District covers Benton, Carroll, Decatur, Hardin and Henry counties.

City of McKenzie to Host Downtown Historic Tour

The City of McKenzie has planned free historic tours of the downtown area. The guided tours will highlight such events as the Bank of McKenzie robbery, the U.S. President that visited McKenzie, mule day and the saloons around the square that were the scene of carousing, fighting and murders. The tour will be led by five McKenzie High School and Bethel College graduates. The event is Sunday, September 15, 2 p.m. The rain date is Sunday, September 22, 2 p.m. Participants will meet at the Park Theatre to begin the tour.

Bank of McKenzie Robbed!

A Sheriff Must Not Have Fear

Growing up I heard a tale of two gun-toting outlaws from out west robbing the little bank on the square. Which in my mind gave way to the romanticized idea of a John Dillinger or Bonnie and Clyde sweeping into town with tommy guns blazing followed by a high speed chase; woe the imagination of a child. Needless to say, this week I set out to find what I could of the real story. Even though it wasn't Bonnie and Clyde that knocked over the bank, it was still a pretty darn interesting story.

On November 28, 1923 at approximately 12:30 p.m. two men entered into the Bank of McKenzie. One of the men pointed a pistol at the 23 year-old book-keeper, Anna Ray Sedberry, and ordered her into the bank vault. Sedberry was struck in the head with the butt of the pistol when she lunged for the telephone.

Sedberry, the only employee in the bank at the time, and two bank customers, Reverend F.E. Durham and Van Dillinger, were forced into the vault while the two armed men cleaned out the cash drawers. The captives were released within five minutes of the heist's conclusion.

Shortly after the robbers' exit, the alarm was sounded and a search for the bandits was underway. Carroll County Sheriff Sam Carroll Kennon took control of a large posse that formed to search Henry, Carroll and Weakley counties.

Kennon was just 30 years-old at the time of the robbery but had a reputation for catching criminals. In 1917, he served as superintendent of the County Farm until being elected sheriff in 1922 to 1928. (A county farm or poorhouse was a local government-run residences where mainly elderly and disabled people were supported at public expense. Some county farms were part of an economic complex as a prison farm and other penal institution.)

The first night resulted in no clues. The first clue came from James Pope. He reported two men on his farm near Paris, Tenn. Pope said the pair would not speak to him or make eye contact.

A second man, Frank Porter said he followed behind two unfamiliar men in a car on a country road near Paris but lost sight of them. Kennon and his posse rushed to the area, about three miles south of Paris, to find a large abandoned car. The car had plunged six feet into a ravine after falling through an old dilapidated bridge.

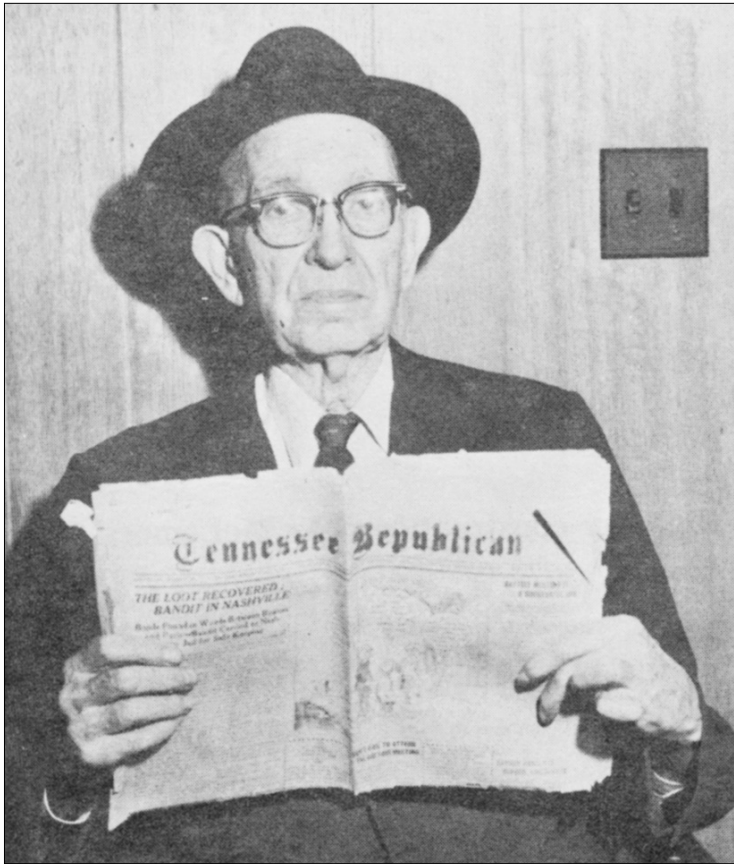

A member of the posse, Fred Hill, a Jackson, Tenn. taxi-driver, arrived on the scene and identified the car as the one he had used while driving two men from Jackson to within two miles of McKenzie before he was put out of the car. Hill had been bound and gagged. He was released several hours later after being found.

Sheriff Kennon sent groups in all directions looking for the two criminals. After no avail, the sheriff refused to give up and had all trains passing through McKenzie searched. The searches paid off.

In a newspaper article from the Tennessee Republican, Sheriff Kennon recalls his tale of the capture:

"A group searched a freight train that stopped in McKenzie and found a man huddled in a coal car. They covered him with a gun before he could reach for his. Taking him to the city hall in McKenzie, we found him bulging with money. He had $9,000 in bills in his waistband and a small set of burglar tools on his back. It was the tools that made officers think that he was a professional bandit.

When questioned, he confessed that he robbed the McKenzie bank but stoutly refused to name anyone with him. He refused the offer to take us to where the remainder of the money and bonds he had taken from the bank were hid until I told him that feelings were running high in McKenzie and if anything happened to Miss Sedberry, I would turn him over to them.

Frightened, he said he would go with me and some others to show us where the rest of the money was. We went to a place near Routon, Tenn. and we found a black bag by a cedar tree lightly covered with leaves. The posse had searched the area before but the robber had hovered down out of sight. Later he said that if they had taken one more step they would have seen him. He gave his name as Buck Lacy but would not talk about himself.

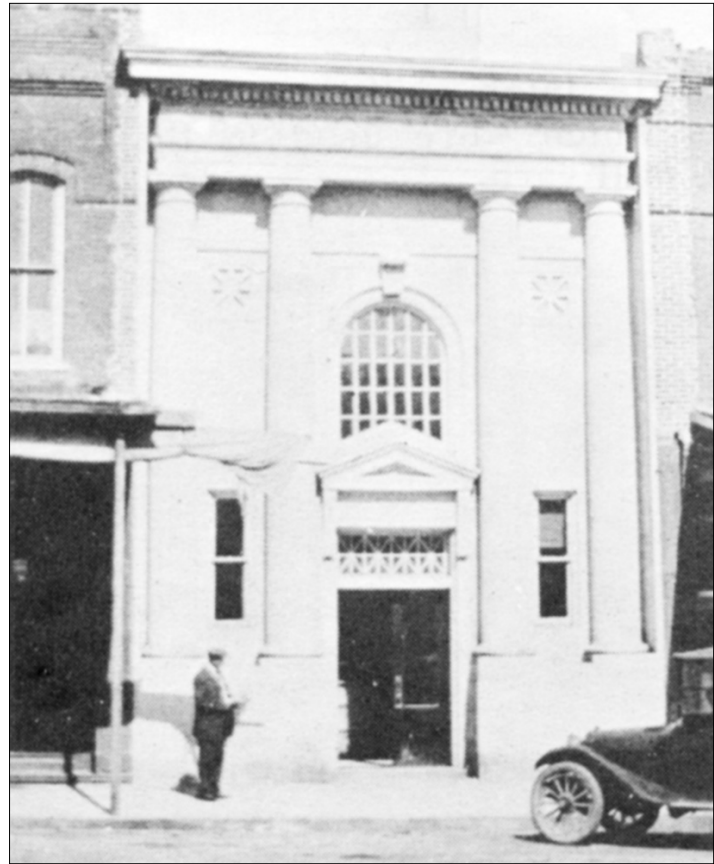

We rushed him to Huntingdon, bypassing McKenzie because of the upsurge of feeling there. After a magistrate's hearing, Lacy was put under a $25,000 bond, then we took him to the city jail in Nashville for safe-keeping and interrogation."

The sheriff went to work searching for the second man. A break came when Lacy telegraphed a boarding house in Memphis. He requested clothes he left following his stay. Memphis officers raided the boarding house and gather information. Through the raid, Sheriff Kennon and his chief deputy, Lloyd Smith, received information that a man named Lee Allen was the second bandit. The only issue, Allen was hiding out in the Badlands of Oklahoma.

Allen was apprehend by Sheriff Kennon and Smith, but they faced the arduous task of returning Allen to Carroll County. Rumors swirled that members of Allen's group were going to stop the train in order to free the wanted man.

The lawmen worried Allen would try to escape but Kennon lived through his creed "a sheriff must not have fear." Throughout the trip, the sheriff or his loyal deputy held a chain that was fastened to Allen's handcuffs.

As the train neared McKenzie, the conductor sent his flagman ahead to clear the track. McKenzians has learned the sheriff had captured the fugitive and were eager for their arrival, so eager in fact that downtown was full of people wanting to get a look at the man.

They got their chance as Sheriff Kennon and Deputy Smith changed trains with Allen at the depot so they could make their way to the jail in Huntingdon.

Allen and Lacy were reunited in Nashville and would receive prison sentences of five to ten years for bank robbery. Their time would be served in the state penitentiary.

For his work on the case, Sheriff Kennon was given a black Stetson hat by the president of the Bank of McKenzie. He had promised Kennon that if he kept the prisoner and delivered him to the penitentiary, to select any hat in the store he wanted, regardless of price.

Near the end of his life, Kennon donated his prized Stetson to the Carroll County Historical Society.

A Pictorial History of McKenzie, Tennessee

Pictured is a hearse as it appeared in the 1969 Centennial Parade. The owner, Charles Penick, pictured on the right riding on the seat, purchased it when he bought Scates Undertakers and was used in his early years as funeral director in McKenzie. It was stored in a barn on his property, cleaned by the family of Mr. Penick and friends who walked as mourners. It was sold to an undertaker in New York who saw it in the parade and later asked to purchase it. It is enclosed in glass and displayed in front of the business. It is in use today for special funeral requests in New York City. File photo originally published in "A Pictorial History of McKenzie, Tennessee," by The McKenzie Banner in October 2004.

McKenzie School Board Re-elects Officers

BY JIM POTTS

banner@mckenziebanner.com

The McKenzie School Board met for its August session and re-elected the current officers for another term in their positions. School Director Lynn Watkins presided over the election and before any nominations were made, board member Norman French made a motion to reelect the current officers by acclamation. The motion was seconded and approved unanimously. The school board officers are: John Austin-chairman, Jan Latimer-vice-chairman, Jon Davis-treasurer, Lance Rider-Tennessee legislation network member and LaShonda Williams-alternate TLN member.

Eighth grade reading teacher Cassie Ellis made a presentation to the board about Vocabulary.com, A free program being used to help students with their vocabulary and reading skills. Ellis announced that out of 39,702 schools across the U.S. using this program MMS ranked 126, 45th of all elementary and middle schools participating, 4th of all Division III schools and MMS ranked first in Tennessee.

Board members approved a memorandum of understanding related to collaborative conferencing and heard from McKenzie Education Association representative Malissa Anderson who read a thank you statement from the MEA.

"On behalf of the McKenzie Education Association, we would like to thank Mr. Watkins and our board members for working with us to create our first PECCA Agreement. To those who don't know what PECCA stands for, Professional Educators Collaborative Conferencing Act. We are fortunate to live in a community where we all know each other and have the kind of relationship where we can sit down and discuss important matters that involve the future of our schools. Mr. Watkins has always had an open door policy and has always been willing to listen to our concerns. With this being said, we have the utmost faith and trust that our director of schools and our board will make the best decisions for all the stakeholders in our school system and honor McKenzie Education Association's request to attach an updated salary schedule each year as well."

In other action, the board approved the second reading of several amendments to the McKenzie Special School District Board of Education Policy Manual. The amended sections include Minutes, Graduation Requirements, Testing Programs, Separation Practices for Tenured and Non-Tenured Teachers, and Students from Military Families. Board members also approved budget amendments pertaining to federal monies to the McKenzie Special School District.

The director's report included four new substitute teachers recently hired. They are Valerie Blyler-Gurley, Olivia Forgy, Tammie Dailey, and Kelly Henry. Watkins' report also included a reminder of the Fall District meeting Tuesday, September 24 at Westview High School.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Mr. Arvie Set The Tone

Anita Hale died.

My heart stopped when I heard the news. Not in surprise mind you. She had, after all, survived two full years after the century mark. But my heart understood what my mind was trying to grab a hold of. She was the last one... the end of an era.

I thought of Ricky, of course. We had graduated together. And his older brother, Gene. And little Randy. The Hale family had paralleled ours. We all understood the specialness of a mother of three boys!

But today Miss Anita transcended even that. She represented the last vestige of those parental grown-ups that guided, shaped and fashioned a whole generation of clueless youths stumbling through the Rock & Roll era.

Thoughtful, loving leadership was a team event in our little town.

Robert and Kate Hall had preceded her in death by years and years. Mr. Hall owned and operated the Western Auto up on the square. We'd go in there and talk fishing or baseball with him. We'd handle every rod and reel, try on baseball gloves and practice catching ground balls right there in the aisle.

Robert Hall always had time for us. He never rushed us or hurried us along. He also knew we didn't have a penny to our name. We weren't buying anything! But he'd ask about Mom and Dad, laugh about something that happened at church and pat us on the back like we were real customers.

He never failed one time in all my growing up days not to treat us boys like "we counted to". That something you don't ever forget!

Miss Hazel Brewer had two wonderful traits. She cooked the best spaghetti I ever tasted and she could smile down at you like you were the most special person on earth. She died way too young.

Mr. Jack Cantrell and Red Melton are no longer with us. Both could be a little rough around the edges. They'd linger over coffee at the City Café and argue about some trivial matter like it was the most important thing in the world. But both stopped in mid sentence, in every instance, to speak to the "boys" that came in for a Coke and some fries.

They'd ask about our day. They'd want to know if we were "working" or "playing". And they were full of friendly advice whichever way we were headed. They wouldn't let us get out the door without a "be careful"—they sounded like Mother at times! But they made us feel important.

Mr. Ed Wiley is long gone. He taught Sunday School during my high school years. You talk about a beacon of light for a confused teenager! A day hardly goes by in my life that I don't think of him... his teachings and his kindness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mitchum were ancient even back then. They near 'bout demanded that I bring any girl I was dating to their house. It was like I needed their approval or something. I thought it was strange, even weird at the time...they were not even kin to me! But I have come to realize over the years how they honored me by those actions.

I could never forget Roe and Belle Alexander. They gave me a job at the swimming pool when I desperately needed work.

Dr. Holmes, rest his soul, sewed me up more times than I could count.

Mr. and Mrs. Purvis, Aunt Jessie, Mr. Paul Pinson, Pete Joyner, Chandler and Jerry King, all the Manley's, James Williams, Woodrow Kennon, Bro. L. H. Hatcher, Bailey Moore Wrinkle... I could go on. But you catch my drift. It's a virtual Hall of Fame of special folks that raised a "town-full of youngins".

And you can understand why Miss Anita's passing is so noteworthy. I feel somehow all alone this morning. Sad.

BUT I am not lost! I have direction, purpose, a strong feeling of self-worth—in the most humble way...all droned into me by the selfless, caring love of a whole generation of folks that went before me.

Miss Anita fixed us cereal and let us eat in front of the TV. Mr. Arvie didn't say much unless me and Ricky got to picking on Randy or getting a little rowdy. He'd walk over, lean down close where we couldn't miss a word and say, "You boy's start acting right or I'm going to whip you just as sure as God made little green apples."

I'm telling you, you can't love, care and guide any better than that!

Respectfully,
Kes

West Carroll School Board Approves Student Trips

BY JIM POTTS

banner@mckenziebanner.com
©2019 Tri-County Publishing, Inc.

ATWOOD — West Carroll's School Board elected school board officers for the school year. All of the current officers were re-elected to their positions including William Robinson as chairman, Mike Foster as vice-chairman, Kyle Foster as secretary/treasurer, and Misty Mitchell as Tennessee legislative liaison.

The board heard spotlights on people and groups in the school system. Principal Jackie Wester spotlighted Kay Story and Jackie Poole for going above and beyond in their duties at West Carroll Primary. Elementary principal Tracy Foster spotlighted the fifth and sixth grade Student Advisory Committee that was formed this

Board members approved several trips for various school groups. They approved the first reading of a two-day softball trip to Brentwood next April. An FFA trip to Indianapolis, Indiana to the FFA National Convention was approved on first reading for 10/29-11/2. A Beta Club trip to the state Beta Convention in November was approved on first reading.

School Director Dexter Williams advised the board plans had been altered on equipment for the completion of the high school gymnasium, which would result in some savings. Williams recommended taking some of that money and lay a new design in the floor. A motion was made and approved on the recommendation.

In other action, the board approved $89,600 in budget amendments along with approving a certification of compliance for student access to textbooks and instructional materials.

Williams announced the evaluation of the director of schools had been completed and thanked the board for their input. He told the audience anyone who wanted to see the results could come to his office and view the report. He also announced applications had been accepted for the second school resource officer position recently funded by a grant. He advised the same process would be used to select this one that was used to hire Officer Joey Hedge.

Williams reminded board members the fall district meeting is at Westview High School on September 24 and the TSBA Leadership Conference and Convention is November 14-17 in Nashville.

GUEST DEVOTIONAL Mindsets, Attitudes

BY DR. DENNIS PRUTOW

What gets into serial killers and rapists? Are they uncontrollable, unmanageable, and incorrigible? "The mind set on the flesh is death, but the mind set on the Spirit is life and peace, because the mind set on the flesh is hostile toward God; for it does not subject itself to the law of God, for it is not even able to do so" (Romans 8:6-7). The word "mind" does not refer to our thinking apparatus. It relates to our bent of mind. It concerns our inclinations. It refers to our mindset. The mindset of the flesh, the attitude leaning away from God, takes us further from God and thus closer to eternal death. Such a disposition is antagonistic toward God. It is actually at enmity with God. Such a bent of mind does not submit to the Ten commandments. It is unable to do so. It cannot because it will not.

We all have such a bent of mind, although it may not be as aggravated as that of the serial killer. We need a mindset inclined to follow the Holy Spirit speaking in the Bible. God can exercise power over us. The Holy Spirit can change our attitudes and make us willing to follow God. "Your people shall be willing in the day of Your power" (Psalm 110:3). Oh God, please make me willing.

Huntingdon Elks Lodge Hosts Open House

HUNTINGDON (August 31) — Huntingdon Elks Lodge #2152 hosted an all-day open house Saturday, inviting the public to enjoy food, fellowship and fun activities while learning about the wide reach of the organization's charitable efforts.

From noon through the evening, the event was family-friendly and included a free potluck lunch and fish fry dinner, face-painting, a bounce house, cornhole, horse-shoes and other games and activities. Elroy the Elk, the club's mascot, made an appearance to the delight of the kids.

Then, from late evening on, the kids were dismissed while the grown-ups enjoyed some adult time, including a concert by One Nyte Stand.

Throughout the day, guests could learn, through reading materials and conversations with members, about the extensive charity and community outreach that the Elks provide on a local, state and national level.

In an interview with The Banner, Lodge #2152 Exalted Ruler Alan Martin summed up the organization's mission: "Anything we can do to help the community, especially kids and veterans."

The lodge hosts annual Easter egg hunts, lunches with the Easter Bunny, Mother's Day luncheons and lunches with Santa. Members contribute to the Angel Tree program, as well as providing Christmas baskets for needy families and gifts to foster children. They also do back-to-school shopping for kids in need, and they participate in drives for the Carl Perkins Center.

The Elks offer kids ages 8-13 the opportunity to compete locally all the way up to the national level with the annual Hoop Shoot Contest. The Huntingdon lodge has sent a competitor to the national competition three of the last four years. Martin noted that the Elks are second to only the government in awarding scholarships. In Tennessee, the scholarships focus on nursing and trade schools, and funds are awarded partly through essay competitions.

The Elks have an active drug awareness program, including essay, video and poster competitions.

Martin said that to the Elks, "Veterans are second to none." They have a Veteran's Day program each year, including a meal. They also take meals to and visit with veterans at nursing homes and the Tennessee State Veterans' Home in Humboldt.

Past State President Hershel Wilkes told The Banner that, nationally, in the previous two years, the Elks have contributed $1 billion in money, time, travel, goods and services to the various causes.

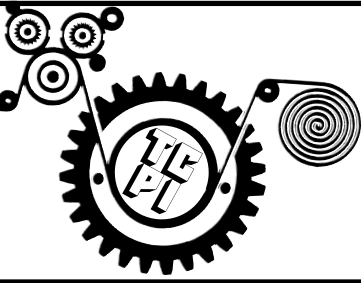

The Huntingdon lodge, chartered December 12, 1959, currently has 153 members. The next local Elks event will be the Veterans Day luncheon. All veterans are invited to attend, along with a guest. Check The Banner for more details as the event approaches.

Coworkers in the Service of God

"For we are co-workers in God's service; you are God's field, God's building."
—1 Corinthians 3:9 NIV

The creation of the world and the salvation of the souls therein is a work in progress. Every dawn is, in some ways, a vestige of creation, but more than just a vestige, it is indeed a new creation. The world is clearly in the process of becoming what it will be, and we are co-creators with God in determining how things will work out. Just as the physical universe is in flux, so too the moral universe. Good and evil are locked in mortal combat, and we are all called to do our part on the side of God and the angels. It can sometimes be discouraging to see how depraved people can be. Governments, which should serve their people, sometimes seem more bent on subjugating or otherwise taking advantage of them. Wars and rumors of wars there will always be, but we can take heart that most of us cringe when we see people acting cruelly, and the human heart is more moved by pity, compassion and kindness than by cruelty and evil. And while there may be a bit of larceny in every heart, most of us are more desirous to become better human beings and to help our fellow human beings than to fleece them. So take up your cross (or your shield), and help God and your fellow man fight the good fight.

Pillowville Community Builds Helipad

washburn@mckenziebanner.com

PILLOWVILLE (September 5) — The hard work of the residents of the Pillowville Community, between McKenzie and Greenfield, paid off recently when the first patient was transported from the brand-new helipad.

Derek Galey, a volunteer with the Pillowville Rural Fire Department, said Tuesday, September 3, a community resident in respiratory distress was airlifted from the community-funded helipad.

It was a community effort to install a helipad. It is located on S&S Farms near the intersection of State Route 124 and 190.

Galey said phase 1 was a 40-foot by 40-foot concrete pad, some six to 12 inches thick and built to the standards established by AirEvac. It also has a six-foot by 25-foot sidewalk to the pad. The copter landed and had plenty of room to spare on the pad, said Galey.

The community raised $7,000 through a raffle for a shotgun for the first phase. Phase two includes a windsock, painting, and lighting. AirEvac plans to donate the lighting.

A second fundraiser is a yard sale on September 13 and 14 at the Pillowville Fire Department. It begins each day at 7 a.m.

Galey said the medical helicopters previously had to land in a flat grassy area that was clear of overhead power lines and trees. The local first responders previously had to establish a makeshift landing zone for the helicopter. The new pad eliminates the need for a makeshift landing zone. Firefighters still dispatch a fire apparatus to the helipad as a safety precaution.

Morning Glory Garden Club Meets

The Morning Glory Garden Club held its September meeting in the Chapel at Lakeside Senior Living Community with 13 members present.

President Judy Davis called the meeting to order and members recited the Club Collect. Chaplain Julia Winters then gave the "Thought for the Day," a selection titled "Assurance" by Joseph Parker, and "Little Unfolding Flower" (author anonymous).

President Davis then gave the treasurer's report. She also gave a report regarding the new flag bunting used for the July Fourth park bench decorations. Sunshine Chair Robbie Barker stated that she had a wonderful 90th birthday on August 4, and members sang "Happy Birthday" to her and President Davis, who will celebrate her birthday on September 22.

Membership reported that two ladies have evinced an interest in the club and may decide to join at a later date. The Yard of the Month Award went to Phillip and Carol Morrisett. There was no unfinished business.

Under new business, President Davis reported that we could not meet in the same area where we have met at Lakeside in the past because the Rotary Club will be meeting there every Tuesday. Members then discussed possibly meeting on an alternate day or in members' homes. The decision was made to keep the meeting on Tuesday at 10 a.m., and Joe and Sara Fitzgerald offered their home for the majority of the meetings. Garden therapy at Lakeside is usually held in November and the club will meet on a Thursday for that meeting.

Members who wish to access The Volunteer Gardener online may now do so using the address tfgconline.org. Any members who do not wish to do so will still receive the Tennessee Federation of Garden Clubs' publication.

There will be a district meeting on October 24 at the Memphis Botanic Garden, and members are asked to bring item for a White Elephant Sale - a fundraiser for TFGC.

President Davis then noted the addresses and phone numbers of our two newest members, Joe Fitzgerald and Larry Scott.

With no more business to be brought before the club, President Davis turned the program over to Donna Hodge, who had designed a scarecrow for display in Veterans Park subject to members' approval.

A motion was made and the motion passed. Donna did ask that members help determine a catchy name for the "lady." Last year's name was "Lady Greensleeves," and the club won an award for the scarecrow.

Horticulture was presented by Joe and Sara Fitzgerald, who brought a huge sunflower, zinnias, purple Caladium, blue Beautyberry, Iliithium, Red Geranium, Petunia and a "mystery" flower.

President Davis announced that on Wednesday, September 11, the club will plant a memorial tree at McKenzie High School at 10 a.m. Mayor Jill Holland will address the group. Joel Washburn will make the photo for the paper.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 1 at the home of Sara and Joe Fitzgerald. The guest speaker will be Jeff Heyduck of Carroll County Recycling.

Following these announcements, members recited the club's benediction and the meeting was adjourned.

Present at the meeting were Robbie Barker, Judy Davis, Joe Fitzgerald, Joan Gibson, Donna Hodge, Zia Locke, Sandra McMahan, Lucille Russell, Sally Sutton, Larry Scott and Julia Winters.

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Stolen ATV — The Sheriff's Department is investigating the recent theft of an ATV.

According to the report by Deputy Frank McGee, a red Honda Rincon 650 ATV was taken from a residence at 400 Wortham Loop in Huntingdon sometime between 6 p.m. on August 29 and August 30. The ATV was valued at $11,000.

Simple Possession — Amber Crider, 18, of 134 Pine Street, Bruceton, was cited for simple possession of a schedule VI drug during an August 30 traffic stop in Hollow Rock.

According to the report by Deputy Cody Walker, he pulled over a pickup truck driven by Joseph Moudy due to a non-functioning tag light. Crider was a passenger in the vehicle. The deputy asked Moudy for permission to search the vehicle after detecting the odor of alcohol, but Moudy would not give permission. K-9 Officer Michael Krause arrived on the scene, and his dog indicated the presence of an illegal substance. During the search, deputies found approximately seven grams of a substance believed to be marijuana, as well as a grinder with marijuana residue in it, in Crider's purse. Moudy was given field sobriety tests, and it was determined that he was okay to drive.

Drug, License Violations — Dakota Lynn Pardue, 28, of 280 King Loop, Buena Vista, was charged with a driving on a revoked license and a drug/narcotics violation during an August 31 traffic stop in Bruceton.

According to the report by Deputy Scotty Davis, deputies, while conducting a sobriety check point on Broad Street, observed Pardue make a U-turn in his vehicle into oncoming traffic. A traffic stop was conducted, and a computer check showed that Pardue's license was revoked for a prior DUI conviction. A gum wrapper containing a substance believed to be methamphetamine was found in one of Pardue's pants pockets.

Driving Violations — Dillon Michael Mangan, 22, of Pamlyra was charged with driving on a suspended license, driving an unregistered vehicle, and failure to show proof of insurance during an August 31 traffic stop in Bruceton.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he pulled over a vehicle driven by Mangan due to a failure to maintain lane. A computer check showed that Mangan's license was suspended and that the vehicle he was driving was unregistered. Mangan was also unable to provide proof of insurance.

Assault — Lester Stephen Smith, 74, of 1835 Fesmire Road, Cedar Grove, was arrested September 1 on a charge of simple assault after allegedly threatening another Cedar Grove man.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he went to a residence on Fesmire Road and spoke with Roger Rollen, who said that Smith had been threatening him, saying that he was "going to get him." Rollen said that Smith has threatened to shoot him in the past and that he is in fear for his life.

Vehicle Theft — A Huntingdon man is suspected of stealing a vehicle.

According to the police report, Robert Lange of Huntingdon told deputies on September 3 that his 2014 blue Chevrolet Camaro had been stolen and that he believed Mark Douglas Wortham, Jr., 25, who had been staying at his residence, had taken it. Lange said that he fell asleep around 6 p.m. on September 2, and when he woke up at around 4 a.m. on September 3, he discovered that his car keys and his car were gone, and so was Wortham. Lange said there was no one else at his home who could have taken the car. Later that day, the missing car was found by a deputy parked in a nearby driveway. The car was locked, and neither the keys nor Wortham had been located as of the date of the report.

Drug Possession — Andrew Edgar Arnold, Jr., 37, of Sharon was arrested for possession of a schedule II drug during a September 5 traffic stop in McMoresville.

According to the report by Deputy Jason Walker, dispatch received a call about someone passed out in a vehicle in front of Hometown Grocery. Deputy Tommy Decanter conducted a traffic stop on that vehicle and spoke with Arnold, who was the driver. Arnold refused to give consent to search his vehicle, but after Deputy Jason Walker's K-9 dog indicated the presence of illegal substances, Arnold's vehicle was searched. During that search, officers found a small amount of methamphetamine in a cigarette pack in the front passenger's seat.

Multiple Charges — Eric Ray Hampton, 18, of 16105 State Route 114, Buena Vista, was arrested on charges of felony evading, reckless driving, unlawful removal of a registration decal, and driving an unregistered vehicle following a September 5 high-speed pursuit.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he was patrolling on Buena Vista Road when a red Ford Mustang driven by Hampton topped a hill partially across the center line while traveling in the opposite direction. Scott turned around, activated his blue lights, and pursued the Mustang with speeds reaching 90 mph before Hampton pulled over near the intersection of Moore Creek Road. When asked why he was evading, Hampton told Scott that he was scared because he didn't have a license. A computer check showed that the vehicle's license plate was expired and that the 2020 sticker on the plate was from a different vehicle.

TRENTON — McKenzie's Rebels made the trip to face defending State AA Champion Trenton in their first region contest and came away on the short end of a 42-0 contest.

The scoring started quickly with Noah Halbrook taking the kickoff and dashing 78 yards for a touchdown with just 11 seconds gone on the clock. The PAT was good for a 7-0 Trenton lead. The Rebels did move the ball some in their first possession but ended up punting as the drive stalled. Trenton took the ball and drove deep into McKenzie territory and ended up attempting a field goal which missed. The Rebels found themselves punting again and this one was partially blocked giving the Tide good field position in Rebel territory. Trenton struck on a first down pass to Halbrook resulting in a 26-yard touchdown. The PAT was good with 2:50 left in the first quarter for a 14-0 Tide lead.

McKenzie went 3 plays and out on their next possession punting the ball back to Trenton with just seconds left in the opening quarter.

Trenton tacked on their third touchdown on the first play of the second quarter on a 28-yard touchdown run by quarterback Cooper Baugus with 11:53 left in the second quarter. The PAT was good for a 21-0 Tide lead.

The Rebels launched their best offensive drive of the night moving the ball into Trenton territory before Evan Jarrett had a pass picked off ending the possession. Three plays later Trenton was in the endzone again on a 3-yard touchdown run by Baugus. PAT was good for a 28-0 deficit for the Rebels with 4:01 left before halftime.

McKenzie got nowhere with the ensuing possession and punted again to Trenton. Three plays later Baugus had his third touchdown on a 10-yard run with 1:05 left in the first half. The PAT was good for a 35-0 Tide lead going into halftime.

McKenzie opened the second half with the ball but again found themselves having to punt the ball back to the Tide. Three plays later Trenton had their final score of the night on a 2-yard touchdown by Jacquez Wilkins. The PAT was good for a 42-0 score.

Both teams swapped possessions for the remainder of the game with no further scoring. McKenzie has this week off before playing host to Halls for another region contest and Homecoming.

War Eagles Rout Vikings, 42-0

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com
© 2019 Tri-County Pub., Inc.

ATWOOD (September 6) — The West Carroll War Eagles began their Region 7A schedule Friday as they hosted Humboldt. The War Eagles scored on their first three possessions en route to a 42-0 shutout over the Vikings.

West Carroll won the toss and elected to receive the opening kickoff. Jarrius Weatherford caught the kick deep and returned it to the 28. He rolled out of a tackle on first down to turn a loss into five yards. Quarterback Jeremiah Bryant then threw across the backfield to Bryce Bolton for a short gain. Humboldt jumped offside to give the War Eagles a first down at their own 40. Bryant kept for 14 yards to move the chains again, then another Viking offside gained five more. Devin Rader ran twice for another first, then Bryant kept for four. Weatherford gained four more, then gained ten after pushing through a pile of defenders near the line of scrimmage. Bryant then kept and stiff-armed a defender on his way to an 18-yard touchdown. West Carroll lined up to kick the PAT, but Xander Moon ran with the snap and was stopped short of the goal line. With seven minutes remaining in the opening frame, the War Eagles led 6-0.

The Vikings began their first drive with decent field position near midfield. Two penalties led to a second-and-long, but then a penalty against West Carroll gave them a first down in War Eagle territory. A high snap doomed the drive, and Humboldt punted out of bounds at the 17.

Bryant started the drive with a pass to Jack Barrow for nine yards, then Weatherford ran for 13. Rader gained three, then Bryant kept for six. On third-and-one just short of midfield, Weatherford pushed forward into Viking territory for a first down. Bryant threw incomplete, then found Cody Wildridge for a short gain. Bryant kept for seven to move the chains as the first quarter ended. He started the second with an incomplete pass, then Weatherford evaded multiple defenders for a 25-yard run. Extra yards from a Humboldt personal foul made it first-and-goal at the 7. War Eagle Wyatt Hays dove on a fumble to save the drive, then Rader was stopped for no gain. Bryant kept for a short gain, then tossed to Weatherford for a nine-yard touchdown. Another pass found Wildridge for the two-point conversion, and West Carroll led 14-0 with nine minutes to play in the half.

Viking Joe Johnson fell on a squib kick to start the drive at the Humboldt 48. In need of points to stay in the game, the Vikings soon faced third-and-long thanks to a holding penalty. Quarterback Gabe Bracamonte threw to Cai Knox for 42 yards down to the 19. Zaccheus Coleman gained four, the Bracamonte threw incomplete. He kept the next snap, but lost four yards to War Eagles Logan Winberry and Jacob Blankenship. Bracamonte threw incomplete in the end zone on fourth down, but a pass interference call made it first-and-goal at the 9. The QB threw incomplete again, then Coleman gained a pair. Another incomplete pass brought up fourth down, and Bracamonte threw across the backfield to Coleman. Wildridge was there to make the stop, and West Carroll took over at the 4.

Weatherford started the drive with a 24-yard run, then Bryant had a 14-yard scramble negated by a penalty. He repeated and moved the chains to the 41, then drew the Viking defense offside for a five-yard penalty. Weatherford gained three, the Bryant threw to Barrow for 15. The two connected again, and Barrow battled down to the 7. Bryant kept and was stopped just short of the goal line, then a delay penalty moved the ball back to the 6. He kept again for the score, then threw to Seth Edwards for two points. With a minute and a half to play before intermission, the War Eagles led 22-0.

Another squib kick gave Humboldt decent field position, but three incomplete passes and two penalties made it a three-and-out. Bracamonte punted out of bounds at the War Eagle 39 with just under a minute left.

Bryant threw across midfield to Edwards, who made a falling catch. The QB then rolled out to look for a receiver, but was tripped for a ten-yard loss. He had to spike the ball to stop the clock with 15 seconds to go, then kept for 23 and a first down. After a timeout, Bryant took one more snap with six seconds on the clock. He threw to a wide-open Edwards near the 13, and Edwards was grabbed at the 2. He slid across the goal line, but was down just short as time expired. At the half, West Carroll led 22-0.

Humboldt received the second-half kick and started at the 35. Coleman made two short gains to bring up third down. Bracamonte fired a pass, which was deflected first by a War Eagle defender, then by a would-be Viking receiver before finally being intercepted by Bryant and returned to the Humboldt 26.

Weatherford made a short gain, then repeated for eight. On third-and-one, Moon (in at quarterback) kept for a first down, then Weatherford ran for a 13-yard touchdown. Moon was stopped on the two-point attempt, and the War Eagles led 28-0 with 8:34 left in the third.

The Vikings started near midfield, but Bryant picked off Bracamonte again on the first snap, this time returning it to the Humboldt 28.

Moon kept for 21 yards, then threw to Barrow for a seven-yard score. Weatherford rushed for two points, and the lead was 36-0 just 35 seconds after the previous touchdown.

The West Carroll defense forced a three-and-out, but the Vikings did the same in response. The War Eagle punt was returned to the 36.

Coleman ran for nine, then for 22 to give Humboldt a first-and-goal at the 6. Bracamonte lost a yard on a keeper, then had to fall on a high snap for a loss of ten. Bobby Johnson, Jr. made short gains on consecutive carries, and West Carroll took over on downs at the 5.

War Eagle Tyler Shaddon was stopped for no gain, then repeated for seven. Moon kept for nine and a first down, then Shaddon ran twice for a net loss of one. Moon kept again for 33, then Shaddon gained six. Malik Lee ran for nine to move the chains, then had to fall on a fumble for no gain. Moon kept for four, then Shaddon carried for 12 and a first down. West Carroll took a timeout to stop the clock with 41 seconds left in the contest, then Shaddon scored from 13 yards out. There was confusion abound as the officials discussed the play. Several War Eagle players were sent off of the field as they were preparing for the two-point conversion, and an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty was announced. Eventually Moon took a knee on a long point-after attempt. Humboldt received the kickoff, and time expired on a 42-0 West Carroll win. The War Eagles (2-1, 1-0) will host region foe Dresden Friday. Kickoff is 7 p.m.

Johnathan Moore shot 76, followed by Logan Green with a 92, Nathan Nanney with a 93 and Nolan Renfro with a 103 for a total team score of 364. Match record for the tournament 5-7.

While neither team placed in the top three, the boys and girls gained valuable experience playing in the 18-hole event as the greens were fast and challenged them.

On Thursday, September 5, the Rebel Golf Teams traveled to the Humboldt Golf Course. The greens had been recently aerated, which is a preventive maintenance. It's an annual process, typically preformed in mid-summer. The process involves punching little holes into greens (and sometimes fairways) to open up growing room for grass roots and helps keep the turf grass healthy.

Playing at Humboldt along with McKenzie was TCA, South Gibson, USJ and Madison.

The ladies lost by 1 stroke to South Gibson but claimed the win over Madison. Maggie Glass shot 36, followed by Juleyanne Weatherford's 40, Whitley Smith's 46 and Kristin Bradberry's 53.

The gentlemen lost by 13 strokes to TCA but claimed wins over South Gibson, USJ and Madison. Johnathan Moore, Logan Green and Nathan Nanney each shot a 38 in today's match, Matt Espy and Nolan Renfro coming in with a 46 and Ben Dillon shot a 47.

This year, to celebrate McKenzie's 150th birthday, the show included a focus on the city and was even emceed by founder James Monroe McKenzie (portrayed by Joe Sam).

Things kicked off with some humorous music by Anna and Jon Eaton, later joined by Ed Long as "Edvis."

In several sketches, cast members delivered one-liners including pick-up lines, funny country music song titles, tips for "Yankees" moving south and a plethora of corny jokes in the cornfield.

Annual favorites returning were the Gossip Girls, the Old Folks and the downtrodden fellows singing "Gloom, Despair and Agony."

Also during the show were "advertisements" for a southern home security system and a new smartphone with a truly enormous display.

Gomer Pyle (Wayne Bannister).

The audience took a trip to Mayberry, and looked in on a visit to the hospital by characters from "Mama's Family."
