County Commission Hears Broadband Proposal, Complaint About Wheel Tax

HUNTINGDON (October 14) — On Monday, Carroll County Resolutions Commission approved the agenda for the October 14 meeting of the Carroll County Commission. On the agenda were appointments to committees, financial matters, a presentation on broadband internet, and matters concerning the Watershed Authority, the owner of the Carroll County 1000-Acre Recreational Lake.

Representatives of TEC of Mississippi addressed commissioners concerning a proposal to add fiber optic lines to provide broadband internet to the rural areas of McMoresville and Buena Vista at no cost to the county. TEC asked and received support of an application for a state grant of $2 million to build out the fiber network. The company plans to expand into other areas of the county, if state and federal grant funds are available for the initial and subsequent requests.

MHS Beta Club Inducts 42 New Members

BY BRAD SAM

MCKENZIE (October 6) — Parents, teachers and current Beta Club members gathered in the McKenzie High School Theatre Sunday afternoon to officially induct 42 new member into the club.

Parliamentarian Isabella Colotta called the ceremony to order, and President Braxton Hobson welcomed all. Vice President Nathan Rorer led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Secretary Lydsey Summers, Treasurer Jackey Zheng and Reporter Will Gallimore spoke about the National Beta Club and its mission and vision. Rorer, Colotta and Summers explained the significance of the Beta Emblem.

Zheng, Gallimore, Rorer and Hobson then recited the Beta Club Creed, which highlights the principles of honesty, justice, service, cooperation, responsibility, industriousness, humility and charity.

At the point in the program where the president would normally introduce the guest speaker, Hobson said that the club "decided to do something different this year," and asked Kevin Gallimore to come to the stage.

Before accepting a position this year at Jackson State Community College, Gallimore was a teacher at MHS for 23 years and a Beta sponsor for eleven years. He was presented a plaque in appreciation for his service to the club and spoke briefly. "Beta has had a huge role in my life for the last several years," he said. He expressed his pride in the inductees and implored the current members to inspire the younger ones.

He added, "I've seen the Beta Club do some wonderful things. I know you will get the best out of this club."

The ceremony continued with the candle-lighting ceremony. Hobson lit the white candle, which signifies light, purity and faith. Rorer lit the red candle, which signifies pure love, wisdom and bravery. Summers lit the blue candle, which signifies truth, constancy and fidelity. Zheng lit the black candle, which signifies dignity, restraint and seriousness. Will Gallimore lit the gold candle, which signifies warmth, friendship and faithfulness.

Rorer lit an extra candle, baby blue, in honor of Chris Rogers. Rogers was a National Beta Representative from Alabama who befriended Rorer at a Leadership Summit in Washington, D.C. He was killed in an automobile accident in August, and Rorer, Hobson and sponsor Lizz Gonzalez attended Rogers' funeral.

The McKenzie club designed its club trading pin in his honor. Clubs design and enter pins into competition at the state convention. Each member gets one pin to keep and another to trade with members from other schools at the convention. Each members of Rogers' club will also receive the pin.

Rorer said the baby blue candle (Rogers' favorite color) was to "remind us to always lead by serving others and leave a positive impact."

Next, sponsors Gonzalez and Gina Pate led the inductees in the Pledge of Membership. Certificates were awarded to each inductee by Principal Kelly Spivey, Pate, Hobson and Rorer.

Spivey then delivered the Principal's Challenge. He encouraged inductees to live the club's pillars of character, service and leadership and also challenged family members. "Support your students. Help them be the best they can be."

Finally, Colotta closed the ceremony and welcomed guests to enjoy refreshments in the lobby.

Inductees included: senior Desteyana Allen; juniors Kandice Ward and Lydia Warren; and sophomores Emma Barnett, Jaden Barton, Wynter Baucum, Gracie Blount, Wesley Bynum, Shannan Cheney, Andrew Cole, Trey Cook, Dharma Dutton, Dani Dyer, Will Essary, Sydney Fornera, Bethany Gallimore, Taylor Hall, Jonah Hampton, Hayden Hudson, Raina Jones, Zayden McCaslin, Collin McLearen and Madison Minard, Olivia Nolin, Sadie O'Brien, Duane Patrick, Andrew Pershell, Garrett Pettingill, Meya Prather, Claire Price, Blair Putman, Rhilee Roberson, Anna Robinson, Anna Grace Spivey, Natalie Stephens, Ashlyn Swinea, Rachel Umstead, Connor Viana, Juleyanne Weatherford, Landon Winchester, Hadley Woodruff and Isabelle Wright.

Weakley County Democrats Host Ned Ray Day

WEAKLEY COUNTY — The Weakley County Democrat Party is hosting its annual Ned Ray Day event on Thursday, October 24 at the McWherter Civic Center, 589 Evergreen Street in Dresden.

Governor Ned Ray McWherter contributed much to his native Weakley County and to the people of Tennessee. He represented his county in the Tennessee State House of Representatives for nine terms, 1969-87, serving as Speaker from 1973-87. He was twice elected Governor of the state, serving from 1987-95. He instituted a policy of open government, and emphasized advances in education, highways, health care, infrastructure, environment, and economic development. He was widely recognized as one of our nation's leading governors, interacting effectively with presidents of both parties.

Each year the Weakley County Democratic Party holds its Ned Ray Day Dinner to honor its favorite son. This year's dinner at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 24, Rural Roots, will bring prominent members of the Democratic Party to Dresden to join in celebration along with everyday people from counties across northwest Tennessee.

The keynote speaker is traditionally someone who worked with Governor McWherter and who can relate fascinating accounts of that experience. This year this will be Dr. Charles E. Smith, who was Governor McWherter's Commissioner of Education, and who also served as Chancellor of the University of Martin. He additionally provided leadership in several senior positions of the University of Tennessee, and as an editor on commercial newspapers. Dr. Smith is the author of the highly regarded book, Journal of a Fast Track Life, which provides examples of life lessons learned from a wide range of people. He also is well-known as a captivating speaker and a valued friend of Weakley County.

Another featured speaker is James Mackler, a 2020 Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate seat currently held by Lamar Alexander. Born in Tennessee, Mackler dropped his Nashville law practice following the September 11 attacks and enlisted in the U. S. Army. Serving in the 101st Airborne Division, Mackler was deployed to Iraq in 2005 and 2006, flying Black Hawk helicopters. He pledges to use the values that he learned while serving our country to represent, protect, and work for the benefit of Tennesseans, and to be dedicated to the best of our American ideals in both word and deed..

A third speaker is Gloria Johnson, a retired Knox County school teacher with 27 years of experience in educating special needs students. She is currently the Democratic representative for District 13 in the Tennessee House of Representatives. Her substantial advocacy work with health care and education energized her to run for her office to give a needed voice for students, teachers, and working families in Tennessee.

Prior to the dinner, at 4:30 p.m. there is a free reception at the Ned Ray McWherter Library and Museum at 341 Linden Street in Dresden. This event provides an excellent opportunity for all area residents and those coming from other counties to see this outstanding museum exhibiting the life of our late Governor, and to meet and visit with dignitaries and everyday citizens of northwest Tennessee.

The dinner starts at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 24 at the McWherter Civic Center, 589 Evergreen Street in Dresden. Basic tickets for the dinner are $25 and those may be obtained by contacting County Chair Deane Arganbright (731-588-0681) or any member of the county party. Commission

Commissioners approved a resolution requesting the designation of a broadband-ready community to support TEC's request.

Cyril and Janis Ostiguy addressed the full county commission concerning the annual $10 wheel tax first implemented in 2003 for the construction and development of a 1000-acre recreation lake.

Janis Ostiguy, a private citizen, made the following address to the Commission.

"Good evening to you all and thank you for the opportunity of addressing you tonight.

"As we talked about the lake with our neighbors and friends, we were astounded by all the negative rhetoric surrounding the lake, and the fact the people feel they have no say in this tax.

"As interested citizens, we began to research the Lake to find out why there is so much negativity.

"As I begin to research a topic, I often look to Our founding fathers as a source of great wisdom.

"One quote that I hold to be true and helpful to remember as I research topics relates to our talk tonight.

"Facts are stubborn things; and whatever may be our wishes, our inclinations, or the dictates of our passion, they cannot alter the state of facts and evidence." "The first amendment of our Constitution guarantees that right to every American citizen to speak out and question our government openly and peacefully.

"So, we began circulating this petition -simply to gather the thoughts and concerns of the people of our county.

"As I am sure you can imagine we certainly got an earful of information.

"The lake itself that is not the problem- however, the wheel tax imposed upon the citizens is and then having to pay to use the lake just does not sit well with most we spoke with.

"I know taxes are necessary, it is how our government takes care of us.

"Even the good book teaches us to render to Caesar that which is due to him.

"What I do mind is not understanding the way those taxes are spent and feeling I have no say in that..

"I have concerns about the sustainability of the Watershed Authority Business plan.

"Having reviewed the audits of the Watershed Authority for the past several years I also have concerns about some of the expenditures, such as $6,800 for a flag pole or $9,800 for a telephone. "I believe any business budget should be balanced and as I practice with my home budget never spends nor borrows more than I can repay.

"In 2015 the State Attorney General Herbert Slatery, III specifically addressed the wheel tax issue.

"In his analysis, the Attorney General cited SB.197 passed by the 93rd Gen Assembly in 1983 as the precedence for his opinion.

"In support of that bill Rep. Bragg stated the bill would allow county commissions to ("increase, decrease or cancel a wheel tax") and passed in first regular session March 22, 1983 and was signed by the governor.

"Wheel taxes have been removed in our state in the past. Just two years ago in Smith County did it in 2017. I believe you as Carroll County commissioners have that authority and should address this issue for the people of our county. Thank you."

Commissioner Brian Winston said, CTAS attorneys have opined the referendum is the authority document over any other documents that were signed at the time of the lake's creation.

Commissioner Darrell Ridgely said, it appears the Watershed Authority and the county disagree about the meaning of constructing the lake and developing the lake. We have now invested more than $4 million with no end to the tax.

Originally, the lake was estimated to cost $10 million but now is closer to $30 million. Motorists must pay 30 percent of the cost of construction and development through a wheel tax.

Commissioners voted whether or not to establish the county's Budget Committee as the liaison between the county of Carroll and the Carroll County Watershed Authority. Presently, any expenditure of funds for the development of the lake by the CCWA is a future liability of the motorists who pay the wheel tax. The county has to collect the revenue but has no say in the matter.

The commission elected Mayor Joseph Butler as chairman and John Mann chairman pro tempore for the legislative body for a one-year period.

Approved committees assignments, as recommended by the mayor, are as follows:

McKenzie Receives $525,000 Grant for Wastewater Upgrades

NASHVILLE — State Senator John Stevens (R-Huntingdon) and Representative Andy Holt (R-Dresden) announced today the City of McKenzie will receive $525,000 through a Community Development Block Grant from the Department of Economic and Community Development (ECD). The grant will be used to make improvements to the sewer and wastewater system.

"I am pleased the City of McKenzie will receive this major grant and appreciate the excellent work by our local officials in securing the funds," said Senator Stevens.

"These funds will help improve the health of our residents and the overall quality of life by ensuring access to clean water, as well as proved new methods to effectively dispose of wastewater. I am grateful to Governor Lee and Commissioner Rolfe for helping our local officials address some of the important needs in our community."

"Access to clean water is vital for our communities," said Rep. Holt. "This much-needed grant funding will ensure our citizens continue to have access to clean water and dispose of wastewater more efficiently. I am proud to have worked with Senator Stevens and our local officials to secure this competitive grant funding, and I will continue to fight for additional resources to better address the needs of our growing community."

The funds were allocated under a procedure authorized by the Tennessee General Assembly. ECD administers the grant program based on priorities set at the local level where community needs are best known.

The grant complements an ongoing sewer system rehabilitation program within the city.

In May, the McKenzie City Council unanimously approved a pair of bids for the sewer and wastewater treatment plant improvements. Bids were accepted on two separate contracts with Contract A focusing on Sanitary Sewer Improvements and Contract B focusing on Wastewater Treatment Plant Improvements. Ensco, LLC won the bid for Contract A-Sanitary Sewer Improvements bidding $889,640 on the work. Miller Contractors, Inc. won the bid for Contract B-Wastewater Treatment Plant Improvements totaling $667,634.

McKenzie is restricted in its economic development growth because of the aging wastewater system. The improvements will clear the way for the city to recruit industries requiring significant water usage and add residences and businesses to the system.

McKENZIE (October 10) — During the October meeting of the McKenzie Board of Mayor and Council, the board agreed to have the Tennessee Association of Utility Districts to provide a rates study. The study would provide accurate fees for city services such as turning on the water services and establishing proper late fees. A recommendation on a possible rate increase would be included.

Following training on utilities, the city will no longer require a water deposit. Instead the moneys collected will go as service fees. The deposits on file will remain in effect until collected at the time of water shutoff.

The council was updated on the burned out property on Woodrow Avenue; the condemnation board inspected the property and recommended razing the residence. Council members agreed to move forward with the demolition and place a lien on the property for the accrued cost.

Under department reports, Water Superintendent Billy Wood stated the new residential digital water meters are nearly all installed and crews are moving towards installing the larger commercial meters. The sewer lining rehab has been completed, and the excavation and replacement of collapsed lines will ensue.

Public Workers Director Johnny Mercer said leaf pickup will be scheduled once leaves begin to fall. Currently, his department is servicing vehicles and wrapping up brush pickup. He added the new LED street lights are being installed but was not sure of the exact status as the crews had left for the day before receiving an update.

Parks and Recreation Director Mike Beasley's department will be winterizing the splash pad and making preparation for the city's Boo Bash on October 24.

Police Chief Craig Moates informed the council of his department's final hire to fill the seventeenth officer position. The new hire will join the McKenzie department following graduation from the academy.

During a workshop prior to the meeting, the council was addressed by Rick Whitehead of Tennessee Municipal Technical Advisory Services on the significance of the city possibly moving towards the hiring of a city administrator. Whitehead's presentation outlined the benefits of an administrator running the day-to-day operation of the city. Doing so allows the mayor or board executive to focus more on economic development and city improvements. If the city were to move towards hiring an administrator, the position would be held accountable to the McKenzie Board of Mayor and Council.

Also during the workshop, the council learned of possibly ending the city's lease with Verizon Wireless for the cellular tower on the water tower near city hall. Bryan Mauro a lease consultant for Cellular Lease Consultants sent an email to Mayor Jill Holland on the possibility of finding a better lease for the city. The current lease is approximately $1,300 a month. According to Mauro he believes his company can broker a better deal for the city. Mauro wrote, "I assure you that we can get a much more attractive lump-sum offer on the table for the City's consideration. Also, if any of the leases are within 5 years from expiry, I can negotiate a better lease rate in exchange for a lease extension."

The next regular meeting of the council is November 14 at McKenzie City Hall.

ATWOOD — West Carroll's School Board met in their regular session Thursday, October 3 at the high school cafeteria due to higher than normal attendance at the meeting.

The board opened the meeting approving the amended agenda and consent agenda which included acknowledging the resignation of Education Assistant Sally Arnold.

Board members tabled the first reading of multiple board policy updates. Board member Patrick Lindsey introduced an update to the system's nepotism policy. Board members voted 5-1 to keep the current policy.

The board approved a request to hire three additional special needs education assistants for the remainder of the current school year.

he would have to increase the building seating capacity to 75 persons.

Enang went on to say he has closed his business because he was not able to draw enough patrons in with food sales and hookah usage. He added the landlord has released him from the lease, and he is currently looking for a larger building.

The business's sales taxes are not current because of an incorrect address on file with the State of Tennessee. Enang told the board he was working with the state to correct the issue and would pay the taxes once the state issued bills arrived.

Previously, the business, previously located on Cedar Street, had multiple violations that were brought before the board. Included in the list was over crowding, with an incident reports 84 persons in the building with a capacity that should not have exceed 48. Under the International Fire Code, since the building only has one exit in case of an emergency, its seating capacity is limited to 48 persons. Under the city's alcohol ordinance, a seating capacity of 75 is required to consume alcohol on premises.

The city's ordinance indicates patrons must purchase food to also be served an alcoholic beverages. The manager, Keyarra Williams, was unaware of the stipulation.

The on-premise permit is to be turned over to the City of McKenzie within a week's time. If a larger building is used to reopen the cafe/hookah lounge, the owner can apply for a new on-premise permit.

"The expansion in Huntingdon marks the next step in our strategic growth plan for the North American market. Granges has built a strong reputation in the aluminum rolling industry, and this expansion allows us to further support our customers' growth. Today we reached an important milestone as we ran the first test coil and I am very satisfied that all is going according to plan," says Granges CEO Johan Menckel.

The expansion includes investment and expansion in all areas - buildings, melting/holding furnaces, caster, cold-rolling mill, annealing furnaces, and slitter.

This further positions

Huntingdon as one of the most modern and efficient rolling mills in North America. When completed, the capacity in Huntingdon will increase from about 160 ktonnes to nearly 200 ktonnes per year.

"The investment represents a long-term commitment to our customers, employees and shareholders as we grow our capacity in support of our strategic markets," says Granges Americas President, Patrick Lawlor.

Dr. Harold Russell, D.D.S. McKenzie's Country Dentist

Growing up I always heard children are supposed to be scared of the dentist. I guess for some bizarre reason I was the exception to the rule or maybe I just had a really good dentist. A few weeks back, I had a broken tooth and was in a really bad way for a dentist. I figured I ought to give the guy across the street a try, Dr. Travis Russell. When I walked into the office, I was flooded with memories of Travis's grandfather, Dr. Harold Russell. The caring and compassion the elder Dr. Russell provided his patients set him apart from others. No matter what kind of a day he might have had, he always treated me with kindness. It is only fitting to add his feature to the Weekly 150. Harold Lee Russell was born November 23, 1932, to Charles W. and Mary Freeman Russell. His father was a farmer and cattle trader. Born the second son, behind Charlie, he attended the McKenzie school system, graduating in 1950. He spent six years serving in the Tennessee National Guard. Russell attended the University of Tennessee at Martin for two years before enrolling with the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry, graduating in 1956. After graduation, Dr. Russell returned home to McKenzie to open his dental practice. Former banker, "Doc" Bell directed him to Dr. Howard Smith, who was practicing on Lee Street. Dr. Smith extended the invitation to Dr. Russell to join him. This stated a partnership and friendship that spanned decades. In an article from the Banner archives Dr. Russell told his story about opening his practice: "My daddy wanted me to open an upstairs office over Covington Drug Store, but I told him I didn't want to because older patients would have to climb those tall stairs every time they came to see me," remembered Harold. He laughingly said his daddy replied, "Do whatever you think, you're big enough." He said "Doc" Bell directed him to Dr. Howard Smith, who operated a local optometry practice in a former grocery store building on Lee Street. "Dr. Smith was only using a small portion of the building and said he would be glad to have me join him at his office," said Dr. Russell. The doctors shared a business partnership and friendship that spanned decades. "We never had a disagreement in all those years," said Harold. In January 1960, the two doctors moved to Main Street. There was an old white duplex house located at the site, which they relocated to the back of the lot to make way for the new offices. An older woman lived in the duplex at the time, and they told her she could live in the house as long as she wanted. As the business grew, they needed the space where the duplex was situated to build a parking lot, but they wouldn't make her move because they had promised her she could stay. It was not until the lady died that the new parking lot was built. In the archives it notes another story from Dr. Russell: "In the early days, we (he and Ann Cozart) used to work on Saturdays and wouldn't get through until midnight," said Harold. "That's because the farmers came to town on Saturday to get groceries and that's when they wanted to get a tooth pulled." Over the years, situations changed and night doctoring was no longer required. Dr. Russell had the ability to attract and retain great employees. Many of which were long serving employees, including Ann Cozart - 45 years, Lottie Choate, 43 years, and Norma Cooper, 35 years. In 1970, Dr. Russell contracted hepatitis from eating raw oysters forcing him to step aside from the practice for six months. He said he couldn't get out of bed without assistance for four months. "If I had been a drinker, I'd be dead," he said, remembering the extreme weakness the disease caused. In 1990, Dr. Russell went home for lunch to find his wife, Fay had died suddenly. They had two sons together, Marshall and Steve. Marshall and late wife, Cindy have a son, John, and Marshall and wife Robin have a daughter, Elizabeth. Steve and wife, Cherry have two sons, Lee and Travis. In 1993, Dr. Russell found love again in the former Suzanne Heath, a retired educator. Now, Dr. Russell's grandson, Travis is a practicing dentist in the same location and Dr. Tom Smith and Dr. Mark Smith practice optometry on the side previously occupied by Dr. Howard Smith. Tom is the son and

Mark, the grandson of Howard. When Dr. Travis Russell opened his practice, Suzanne Russell, speaking for ailing Dr. Harold, said he "is so proud of Travis he can't stand it." The clinic still has the photograph of Dr. Harold dental school graduating class on display. Dr. Harold Russell was always willing to "work in" a patient with immediate needs or "work out" payments for those who needed a little extra time paying. "McKenzie has been mighty good to me," said Dr. Russell. "The people have been wonderful." Dr. Russell was a quiet contributor to his church and to nearly all local fundraising events. His benevolence had touched thousands of people both in the practice of dentistry and compassion for friends in need. He was a member of First United Methodist Church, a Mason, selected Carroll County 2012 Business Person of the Year, a member of the American Dental Association, Tennessee Dental Association and a member of the 7th District Dental Society. He was selected as the 2012 Reader's Choice as the best dentist in the 2012 contest conducted by The McKenzie Banner. He was also the grand marshal at the 2012 McKenzie Christmas Parade. Dr. Russell was the true definition of a country doctor. All his patients are his friends. He was caring, committed and dedicated to his patients and he wanted everyone to be free of pain and have a good smile. These are a few reasons he enjoyed a career that spanned half a century. Longtime McKenzie dentist Harold Lee Russell died Sunday, November 11, 2018. He as buried Mt. Olivet Cemetery in McKenzie. A special thank you to Linda Bolton, our associate editor emeritus, for supplying much of the work for this story and conducting the interview with Dr. Russell in 2012.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

It's A Collaborative Effort!

Let's talk literary this morning. I have had more people lately asking me about "my" book than you can shake a stick at. They want to know when I'm writing one. Or when am I going to put my little blurbs into book form. You don't know how much I appreciate the sentiments. It truly honors, and humbles me. But let's get something perfectly straight here... John Milton could write a book. His prose, grasp of word usage, graphic descriptions made "Paradise Lost" leap off the page at the reader. The thought provoking subject matter didn't hurt either. In "Paradise Regained" Milton wrote "childhood shows the man as morning shows the day". I couldn't touch that with my absolute best effort! Ernest Hemingway could write a book. He jots down a simple tale of a Cuban fisherman hooking a "big one" while thinking about baseball great, Joe DiMaggio. You can feel the saltwater splashing over you. Your eyes burn from glinting into the sun. You get angry and strike the water as sharks eat the flesh off the old man's catch. I get seasick stepping over a puddle. Mark Twain could write a book. I recall "Life on the Mississippi" today and I have this tremendous urge to sell my house, buy an old fashioned paddle wheeler and "batter down by Baton Rouge, River Queen, roll it on"... And listen, no one really believes Tom Sawyer or Huck Finn are imaginary characters. How about that kind of writing! I can't even convince people I'm not making up LaRenda Bradfield and Graylene Lemonds. Louie L'Amour could write a book. He painted the high desert plains a thousand hues of purple, orange and various browns as the sun danced across the western sky. When his horses thundered down the page dust settled on your reading lamp. When lead flew in his novels, you dove for cover with the rest of the innocent folks. That's writing way above and beyond my reach. Charles Dickens could write a book. He would take the most unexpected down and out character (think Pip in "Great Expectations") and turn him into a hero. Dickens' depiction of Victorian era England is like a walking encyclopedia. Without question his deprived and difficult childhood was a springboard for his runaway success as an author. Of course, his talent didn't hurt either. Perhaps I was too happy as a youth to write a book. Edgar Rice Burroughs could write a book. He introduced the world to Tarzan of the Apes. I've swung through trees with the jungle hero, fought alligators in water so clear you could see the whole thing in your mind, fallen into quick sand, scaled escarpments that reached near 'bout to the sky and even made the trip into Nairobi one time. Maybe I'm too tired to write a book. Miss Barbara Clark taught us sophomore English and Literature. She introduced us to Milton, Dickens, Henry David Thoreau, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Carl Sandburg, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Sinclair Lewis...

I read everything she put in front of us. At no time did it cross my mind that I might could do that some day. IT STILL DOESN'T! You don't have to be a real writer to jot down some things you remember about growing up back home. You just have to think of something funny Patty Gaines said or did and inscribe it right quick on something before it gets away. Buddy Wiggleton lived just a few blocks from the house. He was a "story a minute" all by himself. You could fill a blank canvas in no time if you kept your ears open up on Woodrow Kennon's front porch. And just imagine the macabre stories Edgar Allan Poe could have written if he had grown up with my older brother! So I don't really write my articles. Pam Collins does. Or Ricky Hale. Jane Hill. Yogi, Charlotte Melton. Jackie and Paul David. Mr. John Motheral. J. A. Abernathy. Rollin Trull. The Paschall brothers. David Mark. Deake Bradley. It's a cast of thousands... The whole town gets involved. And I'm mighty grateful they do. It has been so much fun keeping up with them. They don't always remember it exactly like I do. But I've never missed the truth or hurt anyone or presented it slightly different than it actually occurred...in my heart! But this book idea would create a dilemma for the publishing company. Just think of all the folks they would have to send royalty checks to... Respectfully, Kes

GUEST DEVOTIONAL

Covenant Love

BY DR. DENNIS PRUTOW

Covenants are agreements. Sometimes they are one way streets. When you buy property, you agree to applicable covenants. This may mean you cannot build a store, drill a well, put up a fence, or sell water from a stream on the property.

God's arrangement with us is a covenant. First, God loves His people. "The Lord did not set His love on you nor choose you because you were more in number than any of the peoples, for you were the fewest of all peoples, but because the Lord loved you and kept the oath which He swore to your forefathers" (Deuteronomy 7:7-8).

Second, God desires the response of love from His people. "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might" (Deuteronomy 6:5).

Third, God gives His people a way to display their love. "He declared to you His covenant which He commanded you to perform, that is, the Ten Commandments" (Deuteronomy 4:13).

When we come to God through Jesus Christ, we agree to the covenant. We trust the death of Christ as the only adequate payment for our sins, mistakes, and errors. "This is My blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many" (Mark 14:24). We also follow Jesus. "If you love Me, you will keep My commandments" (John 14:15).

MORNING GLORY GARDEN CLUB

Wards Have October Yard of the Month

The Morning Glory Garden Club awarded Yard of the Month for October to Jim and Edie Ward of 75 Laurelwood Lane. The Wards' lawn is like a beautiful carpet with Bermuda sod. Potted Kimberly Queen ferns grace the entrance of the front door. The yard is tastefully landscaped with box wood plants across the front of the house. Other plantings include beautiful foster hollies with creeping juniper ground cover in front. On each corner of the house are two yaupon hollies surrounded by dwarf mandinas complete the setting of this lovely home. Edie takes great pride in keeping her yard meticulously manicured. She does all the watering, feeding and trimming of the shrubs. Submitted photo

Being Childlike

"Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, love for the Father is not in them. For everything in the world—the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life—comes not from the Father but from the world."
1 John 2:15-16 NIV

In the eighteenth chapter of the Gospel of Matthew, the disciples ask Jesus who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. As Jesus often does, he both shows them and tells them the answer. Jesus calls a child to come over, sets the child in their midst and says "Truly I tell you, unless you change and become like little children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Therefore, whoever takes the lowly position of this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 18:3-4 NIV) Jesus calls explicit attention here to the humility and obedience of the child, who came and sat with them without asking questions. And as usual, the kingdom of heaven reverses the values of this world. In the kingdom of heaven, the lowly and humble shall be first. Pride and arrogance, and self-serving ambition may get you the highest position here on earth, but in the kingdom of heaven, the highest position is for the humble and lowly, and those with the simple faith and obedience of a child. The fact that the disciples are even asking the question reveals to Jesus how much they are stuck in the mindset of this world, thinking of hierarchies and pecking orders. Jesus wants them to re-evaluate their worldly values and consider that things in heaven will be quite different. Consider how much your own values (materialism, ambition, pride, etc.) are really the values of this world and not the values of the kingdom of heaven.

FCE News

The Bethel/Eastside FCE meeting was called to order in the home of Mary and Pennyne Mays. The devotion was given by the hostess for the evening, Miss Pennyne Mays. She read an article by Helen Steiner Rice entitled, "Count your gains, not your losses," this went along with the thought for the day, "Do not save what is left after spending, but spend what is left after saving." -Warren Buffet. We then read the Family and Community Education Club Prayer in unison. Roll call was answered with a kitchen safety tip. There were 7 members present plus our agent, Lacy Yeley, and two guests, Colin and Cooper Yeley. The minutes were read and approved. The treasury report was given by Mary Mays, treasurer. Old business was next on the agenda. A date was set for the busy blankets for Alzheimer's patients. Saturday, October 26 will be a workshop for the bears also. The county council meeting is October 28 at 10 a.m. New business: We drew names for secret sister. This is to be just cards through the year and culminating with a $2 gift for Christmas in July. It was suggested we make pumpkin centerpieces. Everyone was for this idea. Danita is to get the supplies and bring them to the workshop on the 26th. For the education session, we took the quiz provided with our fair board on Thank a Farmer. An educational tip was given, put screens in your bathroom sink and tub drains to keep your drains from getting so clogged. Our Christmas dinner will be at Mallard's on December 12 at 12 p.m. Next month, the hostess is Danita Laman.

Inglenook Book Club October News

Twenty members of The Inglenook Book Club met in October at Lakeside Senior Living Community with Jean McKinzie and Elaine Williams serving as hostesses. After refreshments, Zia Locke called the meeting to order and thanked the hostesses. Zia presided in the absence of President Donna Ward and Vice President Sally Sutton. Members recited the Club Aim and Motto. The Nominating Committee will soon prepare a slate of officers for 2020. Members of the committee are Victoria Ard, Carolyn Potts, and Marilyn Putman. After the business meeting, Pedie Pedersen gave the program on American author, Daniel Silva. Silva's novels all fall within the "thriller" genre, or what Pedie calls "mystery, murder, and mayhem," and are filled with complex plots and multi-dimensional characters. They also contain detailed specifics about history, music, and art—subjects one would not expect to find in books about cloak & dagger stuff. These are subjects that have always interested him, and his novels reflect this interest as well as his enjoyment of research and the knowledge he has gained through his travels abroad. Daniel Silva was born in Detroit, Michigan in 1960. When he was seven, his family moved to a small town in California where both of his parents were teachers. He received his Bachelor's degree, then began graduate school to study international relations with a focus on Russia and the Soviet Union. However, Silva did not finish his Master's because in 1984 United Press International (UPI) offered him a position covering the Democratic National Convention in San Francisco. Although it was a temporary assignment, a short time later UPI offered him a full-time position which he accepted, and that was the end of his formal education. For two years he was on the Washington, D.C. desk, then went to the Middle East to be a correspondent in Cairo and the Persian Gulf. There Silva met Jamie Gangel, national correspondent for NBC television's

"Today Show." They fell in love and married in 1987. Upon returning to the US, Silva was hired by CNN and became executive producer of several shows including "Crossfire" and "Capital Gang." Near the end of 1995, when Daniel and Jamie were both at CNN, he decided to fulfill a lifelong desire to be a novelist. With Jamie's backing, he began working on his first novel, The Unlikely Spy, a novel of love and deception set around the Allied Invasion of France in WWII and published in 1997. The book became a great success, a New York Times best-seller, and Silva left CNN to focus full-time on writing. Despite Silva's interest in the arts and history, he says that since he was a young child his favorite reading material has always been spy and espionage thrillers. He also prefers to write in longhand, in a room as cool and dark as possible, while he stretches out on the floor and just lets the story flow. With a yellow legal pad and #2 pencil, he simply writes. He likes the quiet, and the pace of writing longhand means he seldom has to make a revision. When he starts a book, Silva writes every day, and nearing a deadline, he may write 12 to 14 hours a day. He does type the pages for the publisher, and his wife is his editor. In his fourth book, The Kill Artist, we are introduced to Gabriel Allon, an artist and art restorer. Gabriel's German parents survived Auschwitz in the holocaust and migrated to Israel after WWII. Gabriel's father was killed in Israel's Six-Day War and his mother still resides in Israel. Both his mother and grandfather are both well-known artists. Gabriel Allon is recruited by Ari Shamron, head of Mossad, Israel's intelligence agency, to join other operatives in avenging the deaths of Israeli athletes occurring at the 1972 Munich Summer Olympics attack by the PLO terrorist group called "Black September." In the actual event, the PLO terrorists were killed in Munich, but in the book they escaped, and it's the operative's job to find them. What was meant to be a stand-alone novel has turned into a series of 20 books, all on the New York Times Best-Seller list, all international best-sellers, and translated into over 30 languages. In all Silva has authored 23 books, about one book per year during his writing career. Daniel Silva and wife, Jamie, live in Florida and are the parents of twins, Lily and Nicholas. Our November meeting will be Lakeside with Linda Edge and Debbie Riley as hostesses. Suzanne Howell has the program. After the book passing, members recited the club benediction and the meeting adjourned. Members present were: Victoria Ard, Peggy Chappell, Juanita Finley, Carolyn Goodwin, Geneva Johnson, Zia Locke, Shirley Martin, Jean McKinzie, Sandi McMahan, Carolyn Moore, Mary Newman, Pedie Pedersen, Carolyn Potts, Marilyn Putman, Debbie Riley, Shelia Rogers, Gayle Rowan, Suzanne Russell, Genia Sherwood, and Elaine Williams.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Burglary — The Sheriff's Department is investigating the recent burglary of a home and outbuilding in Hollow Rock.

Susan Petko told deputies on October 5 that someone broke into her house and shed at 2965 New Hope Road and took multiple items sometime on October 4 or the early morning hours of October 5. Reported as stolen were a Glock 17 handgun valued at $600; a Black Opps pellet rifle with scope, $250; an 18-volt cordless Dewalt combo kit, $500; an 18-inch chainsaw, $200; a steel chainsaw, $100; a Dremel toolset, $200; a Robo kit, $200; a Leather Man, $150; various Cabalas hunting clothes, $850; a Hitachi nail gun, $300; and a Hitachi pass load, $300.

Warrant — Authorities are looking for a Cedar Grove man regarding an outstanding warrant and other possible charges. According to the report by Deputy Ethan Parham, he went to 1755 Highway 220 on October 5 to look for Charles Joseph Baker, 30, of 382 Griggs Chapel Road due to a warrant for violation of probation. Upon arrival, Parham observed Baker standing beside a 1993 Ford Explorer; but when Baker saw the deputy, he ran into a nearby wooded area. Parham pursued Baker on foot for a short distance but then returned to the vehicle. Parham observed a handgun, which turned out to be loaded, sitting out in plain view in the vehicle. A file folder containing letters and documents belonging to Baker were also found in the vehicle. The matter is still under investigation.

Burglary — Deputies are investigating the recent burglary of a vehicle in Atwood. Chris Chunn told deputies on October 6 that someone had broken into his Ford Fiesta, which was parked at his residence at 23 Highway 79 Lane, sometime between 10 p.m. on October 5 and 9:45 a.m. on October 6 and had taken several items from the vehicle. Reported as stolen were a $600 money order, social security cards, a portable cable saw valued at $150, a neck gaiter valued at $25, and a service vest for a dog.

Burglary — The Sheriff's Department is investigating the recent burglary of an Atwood home.

Jessica Estas told deputies on October 6 that someone had broken into her home at 1550 State Route 77 through a back window and had taken numerous items valued altogether at over $5,000.

Theft of Services — A warrant has been issued against Adam Simmons, 39, of 13355 Highway 114, Buena Vista, for allegedly stealing utility services.

According to the report by deputy Tony King, Simmons used jumper wires to gain access to electricity at the meter box and was using electricity without paying for it.

Domestic Assault — Ashley Taylor Gurley, 25, of 28 Highway 79 Lane was charged with domestic assault on October 9 for allegedly striking a Cedar Grove man. According to the report by Deputy Cody Walker, he responded to a domestic disturbance at Gurley's residence and spoke with Gurley and resident Jessie Ray Beshires. Beshires told Walker that Gurley had hit him in the mouth during an argument. Gurley told Walker that she did hit Beshires and that it felt good when she did it.

Huntingdon Police Reports

Domestic Assault — Eron L. Dunagan, 38, of Huntingdon was charged with domestic assault following an October 1 incident at his residence.

According to the report by Officer Christopher Cole, he responded to a domestic situation at 1054 Buena Vista Road and spoke with Dunagan's wife, Julie Dunagan, who told the officer that her husband had slapped her across the left side of her face. Cole observed that Mrs. Dunagan had a large red mark on her face.

Drug Violations — Bradley Wayne Douglas, 51, of Bruceton was charged with unlawful drug paraphernalia and falsifying a drug test during a September 17 traffic stop in Huntingdon.

Officer Labe Ezell reported that he pulled over a black PT Cruiser driven by Douglas because the vehicle's plate was listed as not being on file. Douglas told Ezell that he had just purchased the vehicle and had just put some tags on it to drive it home, and he showed Ezell the car title to confirm this. Douglas also gave Ezell permission to search his car, and during that search, Ezell found empty syringes and a bottle of synthetic urine.

License Violation — Kathy Ann Harrington, 48, of Huntingdon was cited into court for driving on a suspended license and failure to show proof of insurance during a September 17 traffic stop in Huntingdon.

Officer Labe Ezell reported that he pulled over a blue 2002 Ford Explorer driven by Harrington in the Dollar General parking lot, and a computer check show that Harrington's driver's license was suspended. Harrington could not show proof of insurance.

MCKENZIE (October 8) — The McKenzie Lady Rebels kicked off the soccer playoffs Tuesday with a dominant, 8-1 home win over Gibson County in the District 13A semifinals. The win set up a Thursday rematch with Westview for the district championship and hosting rights in the opening round of the Region 7 Tournament. The Lady Chargers handed the Lady Rebels their only district loss of the season, 4-3, two weeks prior.

Gibson County controlled the ball for much of the first half and scored the first goal from near the corner on a sharp angle. The Lady Rebels gained the momentum with about 15 minutes to play in the first half and tied the contest with 13:56 on the clock as Savannah Nesbitt's kick was deflected by a Lady Pioneer player into the net. Just 19 seconds later, Allie Chappell gave McKenzie the lead with a long goal shot through several defenders. Nesbitt and Haley Brasfield each added a goal in the first half.

The Lady Rebels maintained near-complete control in the second half, pressuring Gibson County relentlessly with shot after shot on goal. Nesbitt added another goal, and Maggie Aird, Savannah Hill and Isabella Colotta each scored. Goalkeeper Gracie Dillingham recorded six saves in the rout and prevented several other shots with aggressive defense.

Nesbitt had three total goals and an assist. Chappell finished with one goal and four assists. The lone goals by Brasfield, Aird, Hill and Colotta rounded out the McKenzie scoring.

Mustangs Dismantle Wildcats 70-8, Move to 8-0

HUNTINGDON (October 11) — The Huntingdon Mustangs remain undefeated on the season after a home win Friday against region foe Wayne County. The Mustangs dominated every part of the game from start to finish, scoring 28 points in each of the first two quarters en route to a 70-8 blowout of the Wildcats.

Wayne County received the opening kickoff, but Huntingdon set the tone immediately by forcing a three-and-out. After the punt, the Mustangs took over at the Wildcat 35.

Brandon Lawton made two consecutive three-yard carries to start the first Huntingdon drive, then gained 12 to move the chains.

Quarterback Hunter Ensley then kept for a 17-yard touchdown. Cole Edwards kicked the PAT, and the Mustangs took a 7-0 lead with 8:33 to play in the first frame.

The Wildcats fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and Mustang Konnor Pearson recovered it at the Wayne County 24. Ensley kept the first snap for a touchdown, and Edwards kicked to double Huntingdon's lead to 14-0 in just 18 seconds.

Wayne County started deep and moved the chains on the first play, but the drive stalled and the Wildcats punted again.

Taking over at their own 42, the Mustangs quickly moved deep into Wayne County territory as Lawton ran for 15, then 13 yards. Ensley then threw to Pearson for a 30-yard touchdown. Edwards kicked the extra point, and Huntingdon led 21-0 with just under six minutes to play in the first.

Edwards drove the kickoff into the end zone for a touchdown to start the Wildcats at their own 20. They quickly faced third-and-long and fumbled the ball away to Mustang Devin McClerkin, who returned it 15 yards for a touchdown. Another Edwards PAT made it 28-0 with just over four minutes left in the first.

Wayne County started at the 30 and got a first down from a Huntingdon penalty, but were again driven back and forced to punt.

The Mustangs took over at their own 35. Runs by Pearson and Lawton moved the chains to the Wildcat 41, and Pearson made a short gain as the quarter ended. Ensley threw incomplete, then Pearson ran 38 yards to paydirt. Edwards kicked, and the score was 35-0 early in the second frame.

The Wildcats started at their own 7 and immediately fumbled. Mustang Blake Bradley jumped on the ball at the 10. Lawton ran it in on first down, and Edwards' kick put the lead at 42-0 just 20 seconds after the previous score.

Edward's kickoff went out of bounds inside the 1 yard line, and Wayne County started at the 35. The Huntingdon defense forced another three-and-out, and the punt was reeled in by Ensley and returned to the Mustang 37.

Ensley kept for a run down to the 2, then punched it in on a sneak. Edwards kicked to make it 49-0 with nine minutes to play in the first half.

A great return on the kickoff spotted the Wildcats at midfield. Four short carries moved the chains, but Wayne County stalled and turned the ball over on downs at the Huntingdon 33.

Bradley took over at quarterback, and runs by Malek Cannon earned back-to-back first downs. A 43-yard touchdown run by Ethan Reliford was negated by a penalty, and another penalty against the Mustangs followed. Reliford ran for six, then Cannon for eleven. On third-and-one, Bradley kept for a 12-yard touchdown. The PAT by Edwards pushed Huntingdon's lead to 56-0 with under a minute to play before intermission.

The Wildcats ran three plays to earn a first down as time expired.

The second half was reduced to two ten-minute quarters with a running clock. Mustangs received a short kick to start at the far 44. Aden Hutcherson ran three straight times for 18, 16 and 22 yards. Elijah Flowers ran for nine, then Hutcherson took it twice for a first-and-goal at the 2. Grant Bartholomew punched it in, and Edwards kicked for a 63-0 Huntingdon lead with five to play in the third.

Wayne County's next drive resulted in a quick third down and an interception by Mustang Blane Fields at the Wildcat 32.

Bartholomew ran for eight as the third quarter ended, and Hutcherson started the final frame with a 23-yard touchdown run. Edwards finished a perfect ten-for-ten night on extra points, and Huntingdon led 70-0.

With time quickly running out, the Wildcats mounted a ten-play, 78-yard effort to get on the board. Austin Whitson capped the drive with a three-yard touchdown run. Eli McClain ran for two points, and the Mustang lead was cut to 70-8 with under three minutes remaining.

Huntingdon ran three plays before time expired.

The Mustangs (8-0, 4-0) travel to Perry County Friday for another Region 6-1A contest. Kickoff is 7 p.m.

McKenzie Defeats Dresden, 42-7

DRESDEN (October 11) — McKenzie made the short trip to Dresden Friday night and put together a dominating performance defeating the Lions 42-7 despite very wet field conditions.

Dresden won the toss and elected to take the ball first. Penalties and lost yardage left the Lions no choice but to punt to the Rebels. The punt was short and left McKenzie with good field position in Dresden territory. Six plays later, The Rebels were on the board on a two-yard touchdown run by Micah Austin. The extra point was good for a 7-0 McKenzie lead with 6:52 left in the first quarter.

Dresden settled down on their second possession and moved the ball into McKenzie territory but a Marquez Taylor interception ended the drive on Dresden's first pass attempt.

On the next play, Taylor took a screen pass 65 yards for a touchdown with the extra point good for a 14-0 lead just before the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter opened with Dresden in control of the ball but the drive ended the same way the other one did with a McKenzie interception. The Rebels ended up punting after an offensive pass interference call stalled their drive.

Dresden went three and out on their next possession. McKenzie went to their short passing game and quickly moved downfield with the clock heading towards halftime. Evan Jarrett hit Marquez Taylor for a 35-yard touchdown with the extra point good for a 21-0 lead with 37 seconds left in the half.

The Lions got on the board one play later after the kickoff when Divers Lockhart threw a halfback pass to Nolan Johnson for a touchdown. The extra point was good for a 21-7 score.

Marquez Taylor took the ensuing kickoff 80 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown as the clock ran out on the half. The extra point was good for a 28-7 Rebel lead at halftime.

McKenzie got the ball to start the second half and went into Dresden territory on a 32-yard pass from Jarrett to Will Latimer. Two plays later Taylor had his third touchdown of the night on a 14-yard scoring run. The extra point was good for a 35-7 lead with 9:40 left in the third quarter.

The two teams swapped possessions both attempting to convert fourth down plays and coming up short. Dresden fumbled their next possession back to the Rebels and two plays later Logan Lyles scored on a 10-yard run. The extra point was good for a 42-7 lead shortly before the third quarter ended.

The fourth quarter began with a running clock and younger players in the contest. The two teams caught cases of fumbleitis turning the ball over several times before McKenzie settled down and ran the clock out on the victory.

McKenzie improves to 4-3 while Dresden falls to 2-6 on the year.

The Rebels rang up 370 yards offense with 164 yards rushing and 206 yards passing. Evan Jarrett completed 7 of 12 passes for 206 yards and two touchdowns. Logan Lyles and Micah Austin combined for 103 yards rushing and a touchdown each. Marquez Taylor had four touchdowns on the night for the Rebels

Dresden finished with 173 yards offense, 117 on the ground and 56 through the air. Quea Taylor led Dresden in rushing with 51 yards followed closely by Chandler Turnbow with 43 yards for the Lions.

McKenzie plays host to Union City in region action this week while Dresden has the week off before closing out the season against Gleason and Humboldt.
