Two Killed in Fatal Weekend Accident Near Greenfield

BY DAVID FISHER

david@dresdenenterprise.com

GREENFIELD (November 26) — Two Weakley County men lost their lives in a single-vehicle accident over the weekend.

According to Lt. Brad Wilbanks of the Tennessee Highway Patrol, at approximately 8:48 a.m., on Sunday, November 24, Brian Roney, 46, of Greenfield and his passenger, 39-year-old Scottie Kelley of Sidonia, were traveling east on Beech Springs Road near Greenfield in a 1991 Honda Civic, when the accident occurred.

The report states Roney failed to negotiate a curve and ran off the left side of the roadway, then re-entered the highway and exited the right side of the road. The left-front area of the vehicle struck a tree and came to final rest off the right side of the road wrapped around a tree facing west.

One of the accident victims was found outside of the vehicle and pronounced dead at the scene. The other man was still breathing when emergency personnel arrived and was transported to West Tennessee Health Care Volunteer Hospital, but succumbed to his injuries.

Neither occupant of the vehicle was wearing a seatbelt at the time of the accident.

In addition to the THP, other emergency personnel working the scene of the accident included those from: Weakley County Ambulance Service, Greenfield Fire Department, Weakley County Rescue Squad, Greenfield Police Department, Sharon Fire Department, Bradford Fire Department and the Weakley County Sheriff's Department.

According to Greenfield Fire Chief Bob Dudley, 10 Greenfield firefighters arrived on the scene with a pumper truck, while Sharon and Bradford fire departments provided mutual aid by supplying rescue equipment to extricate the victim from the vehicle.

Lt. Wilbanks said, "This week begins a busy holiday traffic time. Please buckle up and drive safely."

Carroll County Electric Board Alters Employee Insurance

HUNTINGDON (November 20) — Employee insurance was the main focus of the monthly meeting of the Carroll County Electric Board of Directors.

The company was notified the employees' premiums would increase by 13.2 percent on January 1. A new option, with BlueCross BlueShield remaining as the carrier, was also presented. This option held employee benefits to a similar standard as the renewal when paired with the Health Reimbursement Account that was implemented in 2018. The net out-of-pocket maximum increased and the coinsurance benefit decreased by 10 percent resulting in some loss of benefits. The estimated impact of the renewal option is at 1.3 percent to the company. The board chose to approve the renewal option at 1.3 percent vs the renewal at 13.2 percent.

In other business, the board heard a report concerning the installing of self-reporting electric meters throughout the county. There are approximately 90 meters remaining to be changed out to complete the AMI transition countywide. The final shipment of needed new meters arrived Friday to complete the transition from the former analog, manually-read meters to the new meters.

McKenzie Police Reports

Robbery — A McKenzie woman was robbed in the parking lot of E.W. James on November 12. According to a report filed by Officer Dalton Raspberry, Ms. Mary Eubank came the Police Department and advised that she had bought some groceries at Save-A-Lot and went to Dollar Tree where she observed a white male in a blue hoody and blue tobaggan attempting to open her passenger door where her groceries were located. She drove to E.W. James and purchased more groceries and came out and was approached by the same male who demanded her bag. She threw it to him. The incident remains under investigation.

Contempt of Court/Financial Responsibility Law — On November 18, Officer Kyle Beauchamp observed a blue Chevy pickup truck that had lights not working properly. Beauchamp initiated a traffic stop after discovering the license tag belonged to another vehicle. The driver, Dustin Whitson of Greenfield, was found to be driving on a suspended license and had an active warrant out of Benton County. Whitson also had no proof of insurance and had a prior for no insurance on his record.

Whitson was arrested on the active warrant and cited into McKenzie City Court for Driving Without Insurance-Second Offense. He was turned over to Benton County Authorities and his vehicle was impounded.

Aggravated Burglary — A McKenzie man was arrested for Aggravated Burglary on November 19 after a citizen called 911 advising he had seen someone go into his neighbor's garage. According to a report filed by Officer Kyle Beauchamp, he and Officer Dalton Raspberry found James Simmons on the property and detained him pending investigation. The citizen identified Simmons as the man he saw go into his neighbor's garage and wrote a statement to officers that he witnessed the incident.

David Pryor, the property owner, stated he knew Simmons and personally had told him not to be on his property in the past. Simmons was arrested and charged with Aggravated Burglary and transported to Weakley County Jail.

Multiple Charges — On November 20, multiple officers initiated a traffic stop on a silver Chevy due to the driver being known to have active warrants in Tennessee and Kentucky. According to the report filed by Officer Dalton Raspberry, the driver was confirmed to be Corey Runkle who had active warrants in Weakley County and Kentucky. An inventory search of the vehicle turned up a baggie of crystal-like substance field tested to be methamphetamine. A sawed-off 12 gauge shotgun was found under the driver's seat. Runkle was arrested for his outstanding warrants and charged with being a Fugitive From Justice, Possession of Methamphetamine, Unlawful Possession of a Weapon, Prohibited Weapons, and Driving on a Suspended License-First Offense. Runkle's vehicle was impounded due to the charges.

Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — Officer Cody Coleman observed a vehicle with expired tags traveling on Walnut Avenue on November 20 and initiated a traffic stop after confirming the expired tags through dispatch. The driver, Charles Halliburton of McKenzie was found to be driving on a suspended license and had no proof of insurance. Halliburton was cited into General Sessions Court for Driving While Suspended, Expired Registration, and Violation of Financial Responsibility Law.

Sale/Delivery of a Controlled Substance — Officer Justin Brister witnessed a white Toyota Tacoma pull up to Heritage Hall and an individual later identified as Demarco Joy of South Fulton, was seen making a hand to hand transaction with the driver of the vehicle. Brister turned around to stop the vehicle but was unable to locate it. Bethel Security later located Joy and inquired about illegal drugs in his dorm room. A search turned up a large amount of marijuana in a Planters jar along with a digital scale. Joy was arrested and charged with Sale/Delivery of a Controlled Substance and Possession of Unlawful Drug Paraphernalia. He was transported and booked into the Carroll County jail.

District Governor Visits McKenzie Rotary Club

MCKENZIE (November 19) — McKenzie Rotary Club welcomed Rotary District Governor Robert "Bob" Huffman of Clarksville to the local service club's weekly meeting on Tuesday, November 19. It is tradition that the district governor visit each of the clubs in his district during the Rotary year. District 6760 stretches from middle to west Tennessee.

Huffman was honored to participate in a ceremony to honor three Rotarians along with a retired community leader.

Three persons were named as McKenzie Fellows. A minimum of $1,000 was given in their names to the Rotary Foundation to provide aid and comfort to people throughout the world. The funds are used for humanitarian and education programs. A Paul Harris Fellow is the largest single honor the local club bestows.

Saudia Akin, executive director of the McKenzie/Carroll County United Neighbors was honored in two ways. She became a Paul Harris Fellow recognizing her contribution as a servant leader in the community with her daily mission to serve the community's underprivileged. Saudia is a member of the local service club. A $1,000 donation was given to the Rotary Foundation in her honor. The donation was part of a contribution given in the memory of Demetra Perkins, her committed her life to service as a teacher, mentor, and an advocate for children. Mrs. Perkins was stricken with polio at an early age but lived her life as a person of inspiration.

Akin's second honor came when she received a $3,000 check from the Fanny Baxter Moore Fund to United Neighbors. The Moore Fund was established by the late Fanny Baxter Moore over 50 years ago and the Rotary Club serves as trustees for the fund. It can provides funds to serve worthy, needy McKenzians.

Ramona Washburn, publisher emeritus of The McKenzie Banner, was honored for her community service with a Paul Harris Fellow designation. The financial contribution was given in memory of Demetra Perkins to honor Washburn, who is the widow of James L. Washburn, a former Rotarian.

Mark Warren, city president of Carroll Bank and Trust also received a Paul Harris Fellow recognition. Warren serves his church and community through volunteer service. The funds for his award were provided by an anonymous donor.

Ed Perkins, a former Rotary district governor and member of the McKenzie service club, was honored with his third Paul Harris Fellow award.

President Joel Washburn presented a facimile check in the amount of $1,200 to Rotary International's Polio-Plus campaign to eradicate polio worldwide. McKenzie club's local initiative is called the Demetra Perkins Polio-Plus campaign. The check represent a $40 contribution for each of the 30 members.

Huffman said the live polio virus is now limited to two countries: Pakistan and Afghanistan, where warlords and other leaders restrict case workers from administering the vaccine. Nigeria will soon be declared free of polio, said Huffman.

The international organization of Rotary takes on the world's most vexing problems, said the district governor.

Meet Keb' Mo' at The Dixie for Christmas

You are invited to celebrate Christmas on December 21 with Keb' Mo' and The Dixie! The Dixie Carter Performing Arts and Academic Enrichment Center in Huntingdon, is the last stop on Keb' Mo's Jingle Bell Jamboree, a holiday tour that features the four-time Grammy Award-winning contemporary blues and Americana artist performing songs from Moonlight, Mistletoe, and You, his first-holiday album.

Keb' Mo', a modern master of American roots music, plays with all the honesty and truth of a soul from the Delta. A singer, guitarist and songwriter, Mo' draws heavily on the old fashioned country-blues stylings of Robert Johnson and mixes it with a heavy dose of here and now storytelling. Sometimes his songs are feel good. Sometimes they are important. But they all are real. He believes that "music should speak to the world." And there is no doubt that he does.

But his legendary reputation as a bluesman doesn't stop there. His skill and love for a good, red guitar have inspired leading instrument makers like Gibson to issue the Keb' Mo' Signature Bluesmaster acoustic guitar and Martin Guitars to issue the HD-28KM Keb' Mo' Limited Edition Signature model.

Whether performing at the White House or live with Garth Brooks, Keb' Mo' does more than just keep the Blues alive. It thrives under his careful craft. B.B. King, Buddy Guy, the Dixie Chicks, Joe Cocker, Robert Palmer and Tom Jones have all recorded his songs while his list of collaborators includes Bonnie Raitt, Jackson Brown, Cassandra Wilson, Amy Grant, Solomon Burke, and more.

Keb' helps the Blues stay alive in other ways too. He has been involved with Playing For Change, a program created to inspire, connect and bring peace to the world through music, since its beginning in 1996. Keb' is also a mentor with the Kennedy Center's Turnaround Arts program, a highly successful program where artists work as mentors with teachers, students, parents and the community to help build sustainable arts education programs. With interests so similar to the heart of The Dixie, it's no wonder we'll be seeing Keb' on her stage in December.

Keb' Mo' never intended to do a holiday album, "It's been a long time coming, and I did something I said I would never do... Of course, 'never say never' is the rule, so here it comes, a holiday album and a tour to go along with. Happy Holidays, Everyone!"

Every pair of tickets purchased includes a digital download or CD of Keb' Mo's new album "Moonlight, Mistletoe, and You."

Additionally, The Dixie Carter Performing Arts & Academic Enrichment Center is one of the select venues to offer a VIP Meet and Greet Experience with Keb' Mo' (sold online only). This experience includes premium reserved seating in the first four rows, a meet and greet photo opportunity with Keb', a Q and A session, Christmas cookies and hot cocoa, one Keb' Mo' Christmas ornament and early venue entry for merchandise shopping.

Tickets for Keb' Mo's Jingle Bell Jamboree with special guest Alicia Michilli and for the VIP Experience at The Dixie Carter Performing Arts & Academic Enrichment Center are available now. Visit The Dixie online at DixiePac.net or call The Dixie Box Office at 731-986-2100,

Carroll County Hunters Can Feed Hungry This Holiday Season

NASHVILLE (November 12, 2019) — With deer season in full swing and the holidays quickly approaching, Tennessee Wildlife Federation's Hunters for the Hungry program is accepting donations in Carroll County to help feed local families in need. Statewide, more than 75 processors are collecting donations to feed fellow Tennesseans.

In Carroll County, that includes CMR Processing and Kendall's Deer Processing. Contact information and a full list of processors is available at tnwf.org/processors.

Thanks to the generosity of hunters, Hunters for the Hungry has provided more than 7 million meals of healthy, lean protein to hungry Tennesseans. This is important all hunting season long but takes on special meaning during this time of year.

"Hunters for the Hungry had its second-best year in 2018—providing more than 581,000 meals to families in need," said Matt Simcox, Hunters for the Hungry manager. "We are looking to keep that momentum going during the holidays and into the New Year. Carroll County hunters can play a big part."

When hunters harvest a deer, they can donate it—in part or whole—to the program at a participating processor. The deer is processed, and the venison is delivered to local hunger relief organizations. One deer provides as many as 168 meals.

In an abundance of caution, Hunters for the Hungry is partnering with the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency (TWRA) to test every deer donated within Unit CWD for the disease. Hunters for the Hungry will also test many of the donations made outside Unit CWD in Region 1.

There is no evidence CWD is transmitted to humans, but the CDC still recommends against eating CWD-positive meat. So, all donations that test positive for CWD will be discarded.

Only whole deer donations will be accepted in Region 1, which includes Unit CWD. Pound or Pack donations, which allow hunters to give a portion of their harvest, will continue to be accepted in the rest of the state.

Currently, hunters can drop off a whole deer donation at no cost to them. Each year, Hunters for the Hungry covers tens of thousands of dollars in processing fees for donations. If deer donations surpass available funding for this season, hunters can pay a reduced, $50 processing fee or redeem a Deer Coin.

For more information about Hunters for the Hungry or to purchase a Deer Coin, visit tnwf.org/HuntersForTheHungry.

Bethel, Eastside FCE News

November 14 — The Bethel/Eastside FCA meeting was opened by President Penny Mays. She led with the thought for the day which was "always think you can and you will; you will accomplish so much more in your lifetime."

We all read the club creed in unison and then the inspirational moment was given by the hostess, Danita Laman. The roll call was answered with – Looking back on this year... What do have to be thankful for? The minutes were read and approved. Treasury report was given.

Under old business: 8 pumpkin centerpieces were made and given to Harmony Hill. The fidget matt workshop will be re-scheduled. The toiletries for the State program were purchased from the Dollar Tree by Mary and Penny Mays. 90 items were purchased making it a little over $100.00 donation. The bears for Carl Perkins will be November 30 at the Mays house. Our Christmas dinner will be at Mallard's on December 12th at 12:00.

New business: A motion was approved to purchase 10 blankets while Wal-mart had them on sale to donate to the Carl Perkins Center. Danita is to purchase said blankets and bring to the Cookie Exchange on Dec. 9 at ten in the Senior Citizen's kitchen. We voted to change meeting times, starting in January, to 4:30 pm on the second Thursday of the month. All meetings will be at the Mays house.

The educational program was on the Chinese zodiac. Attendees each learned what one's Chinese sign was based on the year one was born. There will be no report for the month of December. The January hostess will be Penny Mays.

The meeting was adjourned and an add-a-dish meal was enjoyed by the 11 people present.

Hoover said, "I especially want to thank my Henry County Republican friends for making it happen and setting the standard for the district. It is my desire to help the people of the 24th Judicial District of Tennessee one family at a time. I also want to thank Brent Bradberry and Vance Dennis for running a clean race. Big thanks to the Tennessee GOP for a well run district caucus. I look forward to seeing everyone on the campaign trail."

The 24th District Chancery Court represents five counties: Henry, Carroll, Benton, Decatur and Hardin.

The Chancellor vacancy was created by the appointment and confirmation of Judge Carma Dennis McGee to the Court of Appeals, Western Section. McGee announced her resignation in April to accept the Court of Appeals position.

After an interview process earlier this year, Governor Bill Lee appointed Huntingdon Attorney Jennifer King of Huntingdon to the Chancellor position. King resigned after two weeks amid controversy over the caucus process and allegations by King of 'meddling' in the election process by local and area GOP officials.

The Democrats plan to hold a primary during the March 2020 Presidential Preference Primary to select their candidate for the Chancellor's race during the August election to fill the unexpired term of McGee.

CELEBRATING 150 1869-2019 MCKENZIE, TENNESSEE

Mr. Leon Purvis (Part I)

Country Boy, Grocer and Musician

Thumbing through the archives this week, I came across a feature about Leon Purvis from 2004. I vaguely recollect Mr. Leon in the local grocery store, but a few years ago I met his son Keith through the Washburn family. Deborah Turner's feature was packed with numerous stories about Mr. Leon, and I felt it fitting to include the majority over a two-week period.

Ivy Leon Purvis was born October 16, 1930 to sharecroppers Bernie and Susie Brown Purvis in a log cabin near Trezevant, on a farm Purvis called the "Jim Green Place". Leon was the fourth child in a family of seven children: two girls and five boys.

When he was just a few months old they moved to the Harvey Quinn near Walker's School, one-room schoolhouse located four miles north of Atwood, where five of the children attended school. Flora May Pendergrass and Bertha Lynn Walker where two of the three teachers who taught 30-plus students each from first to eighth grade.

"One teacher with 30 students or more made it hard to learn," Purvis said. "I had to rely on my brothers and sisters to help teach me at home, besides, Dad and both Mother had very little time to help; besides, they both had very little education, if any, but they could still sign their names, count money and figure cotton weights."

"By this time there were five of us children big enough to help Dad and Mom on the farm," said Purvis. "We were a very poor family as far as money was concerned, however, I can't ever recall going to bed hungry. My mother was an excellent cook and could always come up with three meals a day, maybe two in the winter months."

"In the spring and summer, we always had a good garden that provided plenty of fruit and vegetables. In the fall and winter, we had canned fruit and vegetables along with cured pork meat from the smokehouse, plus canned tenderloin and sausage."

"One of the first things I remember at school was swapping my sausage and biscuit lunch for some peanut butter and crackers. We never could afford peanut butter. In fact, there was never any in the cupboard until I married and went to work in a grocery store in the early '50s in Trezevant."

The family's nearest neighbor was Clip arid Bertie Palmer, who owned the first radio in the community. "It was a huge radio, about two and a half feet wide and half as tall as a modern refrigerator," recalled Purvis.

"The dial was about the size of a tea cup and it had about eight or 10 buttons for tuning. This is where I first heard the Grand Ole Opry out of Nashville."

Neighbors gathered at the Palmers waiting for the "Sol-emn Ole Judge" George D. Hay, to blow, "something like a fog horn" and say "Let Her Go Boys!"

From 8 p.m. until midnight, hands kept busy pulling cotton from the cotton bolls the Palmer family had piled high as the ceiling in an empty room.

What a good fellowship!" Leon recalled. No one thought about going home 'til the Opry went of at 12; they only talked during commercials.

Leon and his brother Glynn enjoyed tagging along with their father on trips to Curtis Tate's small grocery store in Trezevant on Saturdays, where their absolute needs were purchased "on the credit." Arriving in their two-horse wagon, the boys would play marbles and spin tops until around 4 p.m. when it was time to go home.

"Wait a minute," the boys would say, scrambling to the store to spend their nickels each had been carrying all day. On the way home, they'd rummage through the grocery box while their dad drove the wagon.

"We found no goodies, just necessities like flour, sugar and coal oil for the lamps, as we didn't get electricity in our area until about 1944 or 1945."

Leon and Gynn were the only Purvis children still in school when, in 1941, the family moved to the Cobb Place, about two miles east of the Hollyleaf community. Lloyd was in Europe in the Army; Mildred was married and her husband, Bill Smith, was fighting the Japanese in the Pacific; Billy Joe had died at 17 months old with colitis in 1938; Imogene quit school when she was 13; and the youngest, Jimmy Lee, born in 1941 was just a baby.

Argo School, better known as "Cross-eye" was about a mile across the fields. Legend had it several women teachers had been run off by some of the -older boys, who at around 20 years old were more interested in mischief and meanness than either learning or work, and got their kicks out of seeing how fast they could run each new teacher. The problem was finally solved when a "big, tall, ugly cross-eyed man" took the job and got their attention.

"The students said they couldn't tell who he was watching, so they all learned to behave," Leon laughed, "Thus the school was referred to as Cross-eye until it was torn down in the mid-'40s and everyone then was bused to the city schools."

Leon ranked first in his class when he graduated from the eighth grade in 1944, and also last, since he was the only student in his class. His teachers, Rachel Coleman Akin and, later Mozelle Pinson -both of whom he was very fond - boarded with people who lived near the school as "it wasn't feasible to go back and forth to Trezevant or Jarrell Switch five days a week."

After moving to the Carl Wallace place, then back to the Cobb place for a time, the family in 1945 moved "into our own home built by Dad with a hammer, handsaw and a square, little more. Leon graduated from Trezevant High School in May 1948 and immediately went to work in a grocery store for Curtis and Marg Tate called H and T Grocery, making $12.50 per week.

A couple of years later, Roy Watkins asked if he would like to cut meat for him in a larger store just down the street.

"I told him. I had no experience at this and he said, 'I know that, that's why I want you; I'll teach you the trade. The last two or three butchers thought they knew how, but they were just botchers.' My starting pay was $25.00 a week. I thought I would fill up a corner in the local bank."

When he wasn't busy in the butcher shop, he helped bag beans and other grocery items to load on John Bunt Adams' "Doodle Wagon," a rolling grocery store mounted on a wagon pulled by two big horses, through different routes, five days a week. Later, a bob truck was able to make the runs faster.

A few years later, Glynn King and Ben Everett, owners of the U-Tote-Em grocery chain and KECO Milling Company, bought the Watkins' store and retained Leon as their butcher. After several months, he became the chain's youngest manager at the age of 24, a position he held for about ten years.

Leon continued living on the family's 65-acre farm until, in 1954, he married Wanda Gay Castleman of Gleason, and moved to Trezevant. The couple had one child, Leon Keith, born in 1957, and also raised Leon's niece, Donna, from the age of three.

Between the years of 1947 and 1950, Leon and several of his friends formed a country music band with Leon singing, Hilliard Mann on mandolin, J.L. Rodgers on steel guitar, and Millie Frances Burpe on rhythm guitar.

They played at community centers, picnics and "just any where we were asked that didn't sell or allow alcohol on the premises," as well as radio programs as far away as Humboldt.

Leon and Hilliard later formed a gospel quartet called the "Rhythmairs" with Leon singing first tenor, Fred Gowan singing tenor and sometimes lead, Richard Welch singing lead and other parts, and Mann singing bass. Fred's wife, Patricia, was a pianist.

"We had a good time singing at homecomings, revivals, and community events and did a Sunday morning radio broadcast over McKenzie's WHDM radio station for two or three years, with the studio being under the old McKenzie Hotel (now where McKenzie Banking Company is) in a small section of the basement," Leon says. "After this group, I filled in for other members of the McKenzie Quartet while some were out due to illness. One long period was when Gillman Presson was out with a throat problem."

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Talk About The Short End Of The Pulley Bone!

I've always been on the wrong side of Thanksgiving. Don't misunderstand here. I love the holiday. I would, and did, give genuine and grateful thanks for anything that got me out of the fifth grade for two days!

And this is mostly a history lesson. I don't think anyone enjoying the turkey and dressing on Thanksgiving today is old enough to remember when they made the kids wait until all the grown-ups had stuffed their faces. We were told to "Go out and play. We'll call you when it's your turn to eat!"

They wouldn't even let us in the kitchen or dining room! And Heaven help us if we asked for a cold biscuit...

It was excruciating and blatantly unfair. And surely broke at least seventeen child labor laws...and you talk about a kick in the gut to our young self esteem! It was like kids were suppose to "know their place" or something. If there was a teaching moment here, it completely escaped us.

You want to know the "stranger than fiction part", my very own dear, sweet, loving Mother was the ring leader! And it didn't matter if we ate at our house or Pa and Gran's, Uncle Clifford's or Aunt Beatrice's... She would turn aside to (rather sternly I thought) remind us that we were to wait until all the grown-ups had finished before coming to the table.

That's the same Mother who read a bedtime story to me every night, cried when she picked the Como Road gravel out of my knee after a bad spill, warmed the ear medicine so it would be less of a shock to my system, leaped off the couch to make a peanut butter and banana sandwich at my mere suggestion that I might be hungry an hour after supper...

The meal never started at noon. It was mostly Aunt Ruby Nell and Granny's fault. Course, they had help from Aunt Adell and Beatrice. They'd start cooking and talking before daylight. It appeared to me they did more talking and laughing than cooking! Or maybe it just takes a long time when you're preparing for fifty-seven people.

The grown-ups would sit down around 1:30. I'd had nothing since two bites of a link sausage at breakfast. Uncle Womack didn't eat, he grazed. Uncle Hugh didn't allow he was giving proper "Thanks" until he'd eaten through six helpings of everything! F. D. would take one bite and tell two stories. And then one more bite and two more stories...

That Margaret Mitchell lady wrote "Gone with the Wind" in less time than it took those old people to eat one Thanksgiving meal!

Now remember, all of us kids are outside playing (and starving). But we'd check by the dining room window from time to time and marvel at how rapidly the turkey, dressing, ham, green bean casserole and marshmallow topped sweet potatoes were disappearing.

When they finally called us in a little before dark there wasn't nothing left but some pork shank, one chicken neck and a handful of Brussels sprouts.

It was enough to scar a young fellow for life! The only "light at the end of the tunnel" was knowing we'd all be adults someday. I would drop off to sleep on Thanksgiving night dreaming about growing up enough to make the first shift.

Time cures lots of ills. I was polite and mindful of Mom's wishes. I didn't rebel or "kick against the pricks". I ate cold turkey and dressing without any cranberries. I never one time got the last piece of apple pie.

Life never stops. And it is mostly fair. I paid my dues. I relished in the knowledge that my DAY was coming.

And it did!
I went to sleep one night and woke up with a steady job, a wife and two children....adulthood! And the first thing I realized...when Thanksgiving rolled around...danged if they are not LETTING THE KIDS EAT FIRST NOW!

You've got to be kidding me! How did this happen? When did the children take over? How are they ever going to learn patience, perseverance, fortitude and resiliency? It's hard to "give thanks" meaningfully when everything is handed to you from the get-go...

Those young punks ought to wait their turn! I take back what I said about life being fair! I'm telling you, the cold hard facts of life...are cold and hard!

I guess there is a small silver lining here, I have developed a taste for pork shank and Brussels sprouts...

Happy Thanksgiving, Kes

Controlling Our Tongues

From listening comes wisdom; from speaking, remorse often follows. Silence is rarely punished, whereas we are often chastened for what we say. Of course, there are times when it takes moral courage to speak up in the face of injustice, but even then, it is wise to consider carefully what we should say. We have all had the experience of speaking too hastily and then regretting it, but only rarely do we regret holding our tongues. We simply cannot take back our words. Once spoken, they are there forever. But we can, if we hold our tongues and decide later that the thing really needs to be said, decide to say it, and to say it with caution, tact, and charity. There is an old adage which says that before speaking we should consider if the thing is true, if it is necessary, and if it is done for the benefit of the other person, and if you can answer yes to all three, then say it, but consider carefully how best to do that. Of all the parts of the body, surely our tongues are the most unruly and difficult to control. A well-controlled tongue is a sign of a disciplined mind and keeping silent is often rewarded with the added benefit of learning something new. Resolve to be a better listener and a quiet observer rather than a loquacious babbler, a gossipmonger, or the person who feels that every silence must be filled with words.

HUNTLAND (November 21) — The Huntingdon Mustangs traveled Thursday for a TSSAA Class 1A State Football Quarterfinal against the Huntland Hornets. The host team struck first with a field goal, and the Huntingdon offense got off to an uncharacteristically slow start, but they scored late in the first and early in the second for a 13-3 halftime lead. The Mustangs returned to form in the second half, dominating both sides of the ball to claim a 42-10 win.

Huntingdon will host Lake County in a semifinal battle of undefeateds on Black Friday, November 29 at 7 p.m. for a chance to go to the Class 1A title game in Cookeville on December 6.

Huntland received the opening kickoff and started at the 29. Hornet Kolbi Stewart ran for a first down, but it was quickly third-and-long. Quarterback Payton Reed threw to Garrett Jernigan for 36 yards to extend the drive, but the Mustang defense stifled it there. On fourth down, Abraham Morris kicked a 37-yard field goal to give Huntland a 3-0 lead with eight minutes to play in the first frame.

An onside kick attempt by Morris was recovered by Mustang Austin Baker at the Huntingdon 44. A holding penalty backed the ball up to the 34, and the Mustangs went three-and-out. Cole Edwards punted from midfield, and the Hornets took over at their own 25.

Three false starts doomed Huntland to a three-and-out. Deep in his own territory, Morris's punt was blocked by Mustang Bo McLemore, recovered by Devin McClerkin and returned to the 15.

Huntingdon scored on two plays, the latter a seven-yard run by Brandon Lawton. Edwards kicked the PAT, and the Mustangs took a 7-3 lead with 2:51 left in the first quarter.

Edwards kicked into the end zone for a touchback to pin Huntland at the 20. The Hornets gained just enough for a first down, but then went backward on the next play as the frame ended. P. Reed threw to Stewart for 12 to start the second, but Morris had to punt on fourth-and-five at the 36.

Mustang quarterback Hunter Ensley fielded a strong punt near the 25 and returned it to the 33.

Lawton ran for three, then a false start backed the ball up. On second-and-12, Konnor Pearson took it 69 yards to paydirt. Edwards had a rare miss on the PAT, and Huntingdon led 13-3 with just over ten minutes remaining before intermission.

Hornet Bryson Turner returned Edwards's kickoff from the 1 to the 18. It was quickly fourth-and-two at the 26, and Huntland gambled and lost, turning the ball over at the 27. The Mustangs suffered a false start on first down and soon faced fourth-and-six at the Hornet 23. Huntland made the stop and took over on downs.

The Hornets moved the ball well, earning three first downs to the Huntingdon 35. Hornet Cameron Reed was then dropped for a ten-yard loss by Ethan Reliford. On second-and-20, P. Reed threw to Jernigan for 19 yards, but the play was negated by a penalty. Two plays later, Morris punted from near midfield. The kick went out of bounds at the 25.

Ensley ran for 12 yards as time expired. A Huntland personal foul penalty on the play would be assessed on the second-half kickoff. At the half, Huntingdon led 13-3.

Morris kicked from the 25 to start the third quarter. A squib kick was picked up by McLemore and returned to the Huntland 41. Ensley ran for eight, then threw to Pearson for 13. Pearson then rushed for seven, and Ensley took it 13 for the touchdown. He kept for two points, and the lead was 21-3 with 10:34 to play in the third.

A Huntingdon penalty on the kickoff return set the Hornets up at their own 40, but the Mustang defense kept them from reaching midfield. On fourth-and-four, Stewart was stopped short for a turnover on downs.

Lawton started the drive with an eight-yard run. Then, a long touchdown was negated by penalty. Huntingdon earned a first down on three plays, then another on two snaps. From the 16, Pearson gained two, then Ensley scrambled for five. On third down, Pearson ran for nine down to the 1. On first-and-goal, Ensley punched it in. Edwards kicked the extra point, and the Mustangs led 28-3 with 4:31 left in the third frame. The Hornets and Mustangs swapped punts in the remaining minutes of the third, and Huntland went three-and-out early in the final frame.

Starting at the Huntingdon 12, the Mustangs advanced to the Huntland 12 on ten plays. From there, Ensley threw to Noah Belew for a touchdown. Edwards kicked, and Huntingdon led 35-3 with just over seven minutes remaining in the contest. The Mustang defense forced another three-and-out, and Morris's punt was downed at the Huntingdon 35. Lawton lost a yard, then Ensley threw to Reliford for a 66-yard score. Edwards's PAT made the lead 42-3 and a running clock at 3:50.

Edwards kicked for a touchback. C. Reed gained ten, then Stewart ran for seven. A penalty made it second-and-long, but P. Reed threw to Jernigan for a long touchdown. Morris hit the PAT, and the deficit was cut to 42-10 with a just over a minute to play, stopping the running clock. Huntingdon's reserves ran a couple of plays before time expired.

The Mustangs had 397 yards of total offense, including 306 rushing yards on 38 carries. Quarterback Hunter Ensley was three-for-six for 91 yards in the air.

The Hornets had 229 yards of offense, 82 rushing on 42 carries. Quarterback Payton Reed was five-for-eight for 147 yards.

TIPTONVILLE (November 22) — The West Carroll War Eagles ended their season Friday with a 46-0 loss to the undefeated Lake County Falcons in the TSSAA Class 1A State Football Quarterfinals. West Carroll finishes with an 8-5 record and the team's first quarterfinal appearance since 2012. It was the Falcons that eliminated the War Eagles last year, only one round earlier.

The loss was the final high school football game for West Carroll seniors Wyatt Baker, Bryce Bolton, Jeremiah Bryant, Zach Perry and Jarrius Weatherford.

West Carroll won the coin toss and elected to defer possession to the second half.

Lake County started the opening drive at the Falcon 43 and scored on seven plays, capped by a 19-yard run by Larry Tubbs. Tubbs also ran it in for two points, and the Falcons led 8-0 with 7:27 to play in the first frame.

War Eagle Jeremiah Bryant made an excellent return from near the 15 out to the Falcon 43. Jarrius Weatherford gained five on a pair of runs, but the next play resulted in a fumble recovered by Falcon Keyshawn Gross.

Starting at the far 38, Lake County kept it on the ground with Tubbs and quarterback Tanner Snyder trading carries until Snyder threw to Izaiah Matheny for a 24-yard touchdown. Snyder kept for two points, and the Falcons led 16-0 with a minute and a half remaining in the first.

West Carroll went three-and-out as the game moved into the second quarter. Bryant's punt was downed near midfield.

Lake County mixed in the passing game on an eight-play scoring drive ending in a 12-yard keeper by Snyder. He kept for two points to up the lead to 24-0 with 7:30 to play in the first half.

The War Eagles went three-and-out again. Bryant's punt was fair-caught at the Falcon 38.

The Falcon ate up the rest of the clock, scoring on ten plays. Snyder threw to Cayden Puckett for the touchdown, then kept for the two-point conversion. With seven seconds to play in the half, Lake County led 32-0.

The Falcons kicked for a touch-back, and West Carroll managed one play before intermission.

The War Eagles received the second-half kick and started deep at their own 16. Bryant's first-down throw was picked off by Matheny and run back for a touchdown. Snyder threw to Jamarius Williams for two points, and Lake County led 40-0 for a running clock.

West Carroll started the ensuing drive at the far 35. Bryant ran for a short gain, then scrambled for seven yards. On third-and-two, he made a short gain, then had a short loss on fourth down.

Lake County took over at the War Eagle 42 with Puckett at quarterback. He kept for seven yards, then Tubbs earned back-to-back first downs. He repeated for five, then Puckett kept for an eleven-yard touchdown. He threw incomplete on the two-point try, and the Falcons led 46-0 near the end of the third.

The War Eagles received the kick as the quarter ended and started the final frame at their own 19. They quickly faced fourth-and-ten, but Bryce Bolton ran for eleven to earn the team's first first down of the contest. Bryant threw incomplete, then kept for a gain of nine. On third-and-one, Weatherford broke through for a 34-yard run. On first down at the 26, Bryant had a touchdown run negated by a penalty. Weatherford was victim to a face mask penalty by Lake County, and West Carroll was threatening again. A fumble on the next play doomed the drive as the Falcons recovered.

Lake County ran three plays before time expired.

Teen Summit Focuses On Bullying

COURTESY MANDY DREWRY
Director, Coordinated School Health

HUNTINGDON (November 13) — Carroll County Coordinated School Health hosted its eleventh annual Teen Summit on Wednesday at the Carroll County Civic Center for approximately 350 freshmen from all five special school districts. This year's goal was to change school climate. Coordinated School Health raised money for the event. They thank the following sponsors for making this event possible: Apex Bank, Baptist Memorial Hospital, Bill's Flowers & Gifts, One Chiropractic, Life Care Center of Bruceston, Huntingdon Termite & Pest Control, McKenzie Banking Company, Nicky Joe Stafford Real Estate, McKenzie Medical Center, Huntingdon Lions Club, G & C Supply Co. Inc., Taylor Real Estate & Auction, Watson Lumber Company, Carroll Bank & Trust and Centennial Bank. CSH also thanks superintendents, principals, bus drivers and school cafeteria staff for supporting the event. The speakers this year were from STARS of Nashville. STARS is a nonprofit organization that supports young people through the social and emotional barriers they face every day. The goal of this anti-bullying program is to increase school attendance and improve grades, change school climate in a positive manner, boost individual resilience and reduce school suspension, bullying, violence, delinquency, and substance abuse. The presenters conducted a program called "Move 2 Stand," which explains the who, what, when, where and why of bullying. One part of the program is the bullying circle. This is where students re-enact a bullying incident. The roles include the bully, bystander, victim, followers of the bully, supporters, onlookers and defenders. Each person plays a role in how the bully is treated. A portion of the program called "Cross the Line" is a series of questions used to create empathy for others. For example, "If you don't like the way you look and feel physically unattractive, please cross the line." Many of these questions can be very personal and emotional. Students were provided support from school counselors, coaches, teaching staff, Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network, Youth Villages and Carey Counseling. Other agencies who were there to support this event were the Carroll County Health Department, Carroll County Sheriff's Department, Becky Keith and Huntingdon Public Safety Director Walter Smothers. Lastly, students reflected on how to make changes individually and school-wide. Students were asked questions to help them understand why bullying takes place and what they can do to stop it. Leaders can stand up for the victim and make change. Also, students focused on how they treat peers as well as teachers. The students left with a new perspective on how to change the climates in their schools. They also reflected on individual change and how to build resilience in themselves and trust that it can happen. It is only takes one person to make a difference in someone's life.

David Johnson Chorus to Perform 'Come Celebrate Christmas!'

Once again, it's time for the David Johnson Chorus to ring in the Christmas season with its annual "Come Celebrate Christmas" concerts.

For twenty years, families across west Tennessee have looked forward to enjoying songs of the holiday season performed by the highly acclaimed chorus.

This year's concert features familiar songs like I'll Be Home

There will be spirituals, such as Amen and Ain't Dat A Rock-in' All Night and light-hearted songs like You're A Mean One, Mr. Grinch.

As usual, there will be surprises in the show. For the first time ever, six members of the chorus will direct songs they have chosen for the chorus to perform.

The Dresden High School Little Theater is the venue for DJC to perform on Saturday, December 7.

The concert begins at 7. Admission is $10 for adults; children and students are admitted free of charge.

For more information on the chorus, visit their Facebook page or contact general manager, Gail Jercinovich, at 731-514-0167.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.
