Dr. Finley Receives Preceptor of the Year Award

PARIS — Henry County Medical Center announces Amanda Finley, DO FACOI, FACP, Hospitalist — Internal Medicine, was recently recognized by the Tennessee Academy of Physician Assistants (TAPA) with the Preceptor of the Year award for her dedication and support toward the PA profession and the students she oversees.

Each year, TAPA recognizes individuals who are shining stars in the PA profession. These individuals go above and beyond the call of duty to care for patients, represent the profession and train future PAs.

Nominations are accepted from PAs, collaborating physicians, PA students and program faculty. Awards are presented at a celebration held in conjunction with TAPA's annual fall conference, FallFest. This year's event was held in Gatlinburg in October.

The Awards Committee seeks individuals who demonstrate professional accomplishment, professional involvement, community service and other qualities that promote the PA profession.

Dr. Finley is originally from McKenzie, Tenn., and graduated from McKenzie High School. She studied biochemistry at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, and attended medical school at West Virginia School of Osteopathic Medicine in Lewisburg, West Virginia. Dr. Finley completed her residency at Magnolia Regional Health Center in Corinth, Miss.

In addition to her hospitalist role, Dr. Finley serves as HCMC's Director of Medical Education and Medical Director of Student Affairs. She has served as clinical faculty and associate professor of medicine for WUCOM, NSUCOM, UP-KYCOM, LMUDCOM, and ICOM since 2013 and was chosen as Preceptor of the Year in 2016. She is active in research and has two publications in the BMJ.

Dr. Finley resides in Paris with her husband and two daughters. She enjoys spending time with her family, exploring the outdoors, and traveling. She is looking forward to getting involved in the community and introducing her children to Henry County.

"I am thankful for each student I teach," said Dr. Finley. "It is a privilege and a responsibility to ensure that we equip the next generation. Bethel University is teaching physician assistants who will go out and take care of communities often outside of the resources that are available in large cities. To equip the front line of medicine with the knowledge to care for a large often underserved population is a huge burden. Access to care, timely diagnosis and treatment, collaboration, and appropriate referrals is the foundation to building our healthcare community."

Penick Funeral Home (Part II)

Charlie and Betty Lou

Charlie Penick married Betty Lou McDonald on Wednesday evening, November 27, 1935, at Reverend G. L. Johnson's Presbyterian Church parsonage in McKenzie. The witnesses were Guy Robert Kirk and Nelle Moody. As newlyweds, their first home was the Virginia Hotel in downtown McKenzie where Charlie had lived before the marriage.

It was noted when Charlie and Betty Lou lived in the hotel, the rooms did not have air conditioning. Charlie bought a large block of ice and rigged an electric fan to blow across the ice to cool the room.

In April 1937, he bought the R. B. Moore home at Magnolia and McTyeire Avenue from the Commercial Bank of McKenzie for $2,250.00 in cash and moved his business to the location. A year later, Charlie bought out Joe and changed the name to Penick Funeral Home.

Buford Dinkins provided the following anecdote found in the 1986 archives of The McKenzie Banner:

Back then the northwest part of town, down where Deck's Garage used to be, was called Reynolds Town. We didn't have a police car and we had this disturbance call down there, so some of the law got in the car with Mr. Charlie Penick, who was the undertaker around here then. Well, when the car came rolling up to the place where the disturbance was, everybody ran off except one old crippled man. They arrested him, and when he went before the judge the judge asked him what was going on. He said nothing was, and then the judge asked him why did everybody run off if nothing was going on. The man told the judge, 'Your honor, when the law comes up with an undertaker it's time to run.'

On September 4, 1938, their first child, Charlene, was born in the Penick Funeral Home. One year and one day later, on September 5, 1939, their second daughter, Jenny Lou, was born there also. Betty Lou and Charlie didn't let the addition of two children affect their business.

Funeral directing was a great love for Charlie but he developed migraine headaches. When he was incapacitated with a headache, Betty Lou would bed the two daughters in the back of the ambulance on the cot and take the call. As the headaches increased, Charlie was forced to retire from that occupation and to farm full time.

Charlie was a certified surveyor which was an asset when selling grave lots for the cemetery association. He continued to actively pursue the skill after his retirement from the funeral home business.

He was active in civic and service organizations, a charter member of the McKenzie Rotary Club; served on the City of McKenzie 1937 Flood Relief Committee to care for flood victims; and was committee head to organize Mule Day in 1937, a resounding success, which brought together large numbers of mules and buyers.

He was a member of the McKenzie First Methodist Church for 52 years where he served as a member of the Administrative Board. He served two terms as an alderman for the City of McKenzie in the late 1930s; he was elected as a magistrate from the 4th district of Carroll County and was active in the Carroll County Historical Association. He was a director of the Mt. Olivet Cemetery Association when it was organized in 1946 and served in various offices until his death in 1977.

When he sold the Penick Funeral Home to Jack Brummitt in February 1945 he paid $4,300 for the Lucas home across from the First Methodist Church on McTyeire Street a few houses from the funeral home and moved his family there.

In April 1946, he sold this home to Dr. Edwards for $7,500 and moved the family to a farm he had purchased on Bells Store Road, on the old Gleason Highway. The property was adjacent to Betty Lou's mother, Jennie Bell McDonald.

In February of 1946, shortly after moving the family to the farm and in the process of renovating the old two-story farmhouse, a fire destroyed virtually all the family's possessions. The Penicks were forced to live with Betty Lou's mother in two rooms of her house until Charlie bought the Curtis Moody house on Magnolia Street in December of 1952.

Charlie continued to farm the Huntingdon Highway and the Bells Store Road farms until his health failed. He sold the Huntingdon Highway farm in the 1970s and began to keep only cattle on the Bells Store Road farm. He eventually sold the cattle as his health further deteriorated.

After the death of Charlie's mother in 1946, his brother John 1951, sister Eliza in 1957, and sister Mary in 1967 the three remaining brothers agreed to keep the property in the family. Through the years shares were interchanged by the brothers.

Charlie died of congestive heart failure on Friday, July 1, 1977, and was buried at Mt. Olivet Cemetery in McKenzie, Tenn. Services were held in the old Penick Funeral Home (Brummitt Funeral).

Charlie was remembered as a quiet, unassuming, gentleman who loved to remember past days and possessed an amazing memory for dates, names and places. Many stories were told by older citizens in McKenzie of the good deeds he did for others. In Charlie's personal papers were records of payment of funeral expenses in the form of a hog, a stack of lumber, an old T-model Ford, etc. He showed where he wrote off hundreds of dollars in accounts receivable.

Dr. Marvin Downing, Associate Professor of History at the University of Tennessee at Martin, wrote in an article about Charlie "Along life's way we never know the impression we make on the people we meet. Mr. Charlie Penick made a lasting impression for good on the people he met. He was one of the most knowledgeable men in this part of the county on the history of the Tri-County area.

His memory for places, events and names was remarkable. In his business as a funeral director, he had a special compassion for the people he served and is remembered for the kindness shown to everyone. Mr. Charlie was a great man, we are honored to have had him as a member of the Historical Society and as a friend."

On a personal note, thank you Jenny for all the research and information you provided for this story. Your family's story is that greatly needed to be recorded in this series of articles. I knew very little the family's information until recently but with your help I learned so much.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

If I'd Married the Banker's Daughter...

I didn't get the Christmas gift I wanted. Life just sometimes doesn't turn out like you expect. Oh, I dropped hints galore. A five year old could have caught my drift. And Cathy, bless her heart, is way more intuitive than any preschooler.....

And this gift, or at least the responsibility of "coming up with it" fell on her shoulders. I started talking about Babe Ruth before Thanksgiving. I accidentally left the Babe Ruth Commemorative Bat that Jordan Todd had graciously given me several years ago on the kitchen table. I found an old picture of League Park in Cleveland and accidentally stuck it to the refrigerator door with a Monument Valley magnet. I accidentally spilled five hundred baseballs on the living room floor.

Cathy didn't bat an eye. She moved through her pre Christmas decorating, carol singing, Hallmark movies, grandchildren gift buying, cookie making.....oblivious to anything connected to the "The Sultan of Swat", "The Great Bambino", "The Colossus of Clout"!

By the second week of December I was getting desperate. I made the BIG push.... I accidentally left the Sports Illustrated article about how the bat Babe Ruth used to hit his 500th home run in League Park on August 11, 1929, was going up for sale.

What a great addition it would make for my locker room!

I have an old picture of Willis Hudlin in his prime. I could hang it on the wall beside the bat. Hudlin was the Cleveland pitcher that gave up the monumental blast. And it WAS memorable. Ruth was the first in history to reach 500 home runs.

You talk about the perfect venue for such a historical event! League Park was built, to the best of my memory, in the 1890's. It had been updated before the First World War with steel and concrete. It was an old neighborhood park built at the intersection of Lexington and 66th Street.

Like so many of the old stadiums, the outfield dimensions were set by the adjoining streets. It was a country mile down the left field line but a mere 290 feet to the right field wall. Ruth, batting from the left side of the plate, had only to lift a drive in the air to get it over the forty foot high wall. History or myth—or some combination of both—reports that Babe's record setting homer rolled several blocks down Lexington.

We know for sure that Babe gave the bat to his good friend, Jim Rice, in the mid 1940's. The Rice family has kept it for the ensuing seventy-five years. I have no idea why they decided to sell.

I figured their loss was my gain. The bat is a Louisville Slugger, made by the famous Hillerich and Bradsby Company in Louisville, Kentucky. It's just slightly over 35 inches long and weighs a very heavy (by today's standards) 38.4 ounces.

If Cathy would just get her eyes open.... This Christmas gift could top the Timex watch with the red sweep second hand I received in 1957. Shoot, it would be better than the Western Flyer bike me and David got a year later!

Cathy is a baseball fan.

So this is not necessarily all about me. And she loves me enough to go to about any lengths for me.....especially at Christmas time. And listen, baseball and Christmas is when Hope Springs Eternal!

I surmised something might be amiss when I spied the newspaper Cathy had accidentally left on the kitchen counter. The first page of the sports section had miraculously filtered its way to the top. Somehow Babe Ruth's name had been highlighted with a yellow pen. The article underneath proclaimed the bidding for Babe's 500th home run bat had begun at $500,000.

Um, that's a little bit more than a 1957 Timex!

I held an impromptu heart to heart talk with my heart! When my hands stopped shaking and my soul revived, I thought there's still a chance..... 'Cause you know, $500,000 ain't as much as it used to be.

I got out all the cash I had, Cathy checked to see exactly how much we had in the bank, we looked up the amount in our only savings account and she found the two U. S. Bonds we had for the boys. The total altogether was just a smidgen under $5,500.

The bat eventually sold for $1,000,800.

I'm going to live the rest of my life knowing I only missed owning an extraordinary piece of baseball history by a mere $995,300.....

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Attempted Burglary — The Sheriff's Department is investigating the attempted burglary of a Buena Vista residence.

Desiree Taylor told deputies on December 16 that someone tried to break into her home at 6585 Maytown Road through the carport door, causing damage to the doorknob, and also through a basement door using a steel file, but did not gain entry. A basement window was reported as being broken, as well.

Possession of Meth — Byron Lamont Greenhill, Jr., 29, of Camden was charged with possession of methamphetamine during a December 13 traffic stop in Bruceton.

According to the report by Deputy Michael Smith, he observed a vehicle in an alley behind Cedar Street. As he approached the vehicle, he saw someone start to get out and then shut the door, and then the vehicle drove off. After determining that the vehicle's license plate did not match the vehicle and seeing that the car had a broken taillight, Smith conducted a traffic stop. After observing drug paraphernalia in the car, Smith obtained permission from the driver, Stephanie Corbitt, to search the vehicle, and during that search, Smith found a plastic bag containing a substance that field-tested positive for methamphetamine in the seat where Greenhill had been sitting as a passenger. Greenhill was arrested and taken to the Carroll County Jail. Another passenger, Kievan Tharpe, was found to have an active warrant out of Benton County, so he was transported to the county line and placed in the custody of Benton County authorities. Corbitt was given a warning for a broken taillight and registration violation. Another female passenger was not charged with anything.

Theft — Deputies are investigating a recent case of theft at a Cedar Grove residence.

According to the police report, deputies went to 4275 Highway 70 at around 3:37 a.m. on December 15 regarding a larceny. Resident Jonathon Robinson told deputies that he had seen two people in his shed at around midnight, but they both ran away when he and other family members tried to make contact. While deputies were at the scene, Robinson discovered that someone had taken approximately $100 in change out of his vehicle, and it was also found that a Craftsman air compressor and two Craftsman nail guns, valued together at $500, had been taken from the shed.

Break-In — Deputies responded to a break-in at Need-ee Quik Mart in Atwood on December 16.

According to the report by Deputy Tony King, deputies met with a key holder at the store and observed that one side of the front double glass door had been busted out and the alarm system control mounted just inside the door had been torn from the wall.

Deputies confirmed that no one was still in the store, and found evidence that someone had tried to break into the ATM at the store.

Theft, Vandalism — Deputies are investigating a recent case of theft from a vehicle on Old Bruceton Road.

Breanna Oswald of Camden told officers on December 17 that her car stalled out after trying to drive through high water in the roadway, and she had to leave her car on the side of the roadway from about 6 a.m. to 10 a.m. When she returned, she found that items were missing from her car and the car's exhaust system had been damaged.

The stolen items included two Arizona all-season tires valued at $100, an Alpine sound system valued at $299, Memphis 12-inch speakers valued at $258, a JVC radio valued at $50, and a Delco battery valued at $100.

Criminal Trespassing — Summer Marie Springer, 23, of Huntingdon was arrested for criminal trespassing during a December 18 incident in Huntingdon.

According to the report by Sgt. Michael Smith, he responded to a call about an unwanted person at 716 Pea Ridge Road and spoke with Springer's mother, who said that Springer had come to the residence to visit her children. Smith noted in his report that Springer been previously warned by officers not to be on the property.

Deputies gave Springer the opportunity to leave the residence, but she refused to leave, so she was placed under arrest.

Huntingdon Police Reports

Shoplifting — Anna G. Quinn, 23, of McKenzie was cited for theft of merchandise under $1,000 on December 4 for allegedly stealing items from Walmart in Huntingdon.

According to the report by Officer Labe Ezell, Quinn concealed items valued at $124.98 and left the store without paying for these items. Quinn later returned damaged items, and restitution for these items is still due to Walmart.

Public Intoxication — Mark O. Reed, 40, of Huntingdon was charged with public intoxication during a December 4 incident in Huntingdon. According to the report by Officer Labe Ezell, he encountered Reed in the parking lot of the Heritage Inn on Lexington Street. As Ezell detailed, Reed's speech was erratic, his eyes were bloodshot, and he admitted to being under the influence of an intoxicant.

Criminal Trespassing — Samuel Gregory, 18, of Huntingdon was charged with criminal trespassing on November 28 at Walmart in Huntingdon.

According to the report by Officer Labe Ezell, Walmart security reported that Gregory was on Walmart property in spite of a court order banning him from the property. Ezell checked courthouse records and found that there was a no-contact order issued against Gregory in relation to a prior theft charge.

Rebel Witt Mitchum Signs with Kansas State Football

McKENZIE (December 18) — McKenzie High School senior football standout Witt Mitchum committed Wednesday to continue his career at Kansas State University. Coaches, teammates, teachers, friends and family gathered in the MHS Theatre for a signing ceremony.

Rebel Head Coach Wade Comer said, "We're proud of Witt. It's a big day for MHS. Witt is the second kid we've had sign with an FBS [NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision] school. Very few kids live this dream. Over a million play high school football, and only thousands play in the FBS."

Witt, the son of Sherry

Mitchum of San Antonio, Texas, played offensive tackle and defensive end for Comer's Rebels and will play offensive tackle for K-State's Wildcats. He moved to McKenzie for his senior year, having only previously played football as a freshman in Texas. He's also a member of the Rebel basketball team, another sport he had only played one year prior, as an eighth grader.

In an interview with The Banner, Witt explained his choice. "My heart was telling me it was the best fit to develop and get where I need to be. I prayed to God a lot." For a major, he's leaning toward Education.

On his time in McKenzie, he said, "It worked out. Everyone is nice and supportive. It's been awesome, and I have family here. It's what God meant for me to do."

K-State Head Coach Chris Klieman spoke on campus in Manhattan, Kansas, the same day about his early signing class. He said of Mitchum, "Witt was a tremendous defensive player on film but we saw with his length the ability to bend and his ability to be a really good athlete in space. We're projecting, and that is something that I think we've really done a good job of our staff of projecting guys, and [Offensive Line Coach Conor] Riley has done that a bunch, projecting guys that we think are long, good athletes that can run and we feel that with Witt. He is a physical kid. So we're going to plug him in at tackle, because he has enough length and enough height. Obviously, he needs to come here and gain weight and do those other things but we are excited about his athleticism."

Disorderly Conduct — McKenzie Police Department received a call December 21 from a local store regarding two women being disorderly inside the store. According to a report filed by Officer Mark Boaz, the two women were questioned. One of the women, Rhonda Mann of Cedar Grove, refused to answer questions from police officers and later began yelling at one of the officers on the scene. Mann was charged with Disorderly Conduct and transported to the Carroll County Jail.

Henry County Medical Center Spreads Christmas Cheer to Babies in December

PARIS — Catherine Langley, new mother to Jesse Wayne, took her baby home in a Christmas stocking made with love by members of the Henry County Medical Center Volunteer Auxiliary. The Auxiliary's tradition is to make a Christmas stocking for each baby born in the month of December at Henry County Medical Center.

Additionally, the Paris Q.U.I.L.T. Guild makes quilts and delivers the quilts to the hospital and then the nurses and staff distribute the quilts to the new babies and their families along with the stockings.

Each stocking is handmade by various members of the HCMC Volunteer Auxiliary. The stocking is made large enough so each baby may be photographed inside. It is a project that the group has been doing for several years to celebrate the season.

"He looks so cute," says Langley as photos were taken of her newborn son, Jesse.

HCMC is excited and honored to be able to spread Christmas cheer to families who deliver at HCMC and can't wait to give them to many more newborn babies during the month of December.

The Quilters Uniting in Lasting Traditions Guild is a "group of talented quilters that love to share our creations." The guild meets once a month to share their projects and has a membership of both beginners and experienced quilters. The guild's goal is to make quilts for the babies that are born at Henry County Medical Center.

HCMC Auxiliary volunteers are warm and caring individuals who give back to the community. Volunteers offer their time, talent and dedication throughout the hospital in patient care and clerical settings providing an extra dimension of care to our patients and families. Volunteers are a vital part of HCMC with more than 40 volunteers currently serving across the organization.

To learn more about volunteer opportunities at HCMC, contact our Volunteer Coordinator, Paige Malone, at 731-644-8267.

ACA Mandates Ruled Unconstitutional, Other Parts of Law Questioned By Appellant Court

NASHVILLE — The United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals declared the Affordable Care Act's (ACA) individual mandate unconstitutional. Whether any part of the ACA can remain considering the mandate's unconstitutionality is now up to the district court.

"This has always been a question of legality, not health care policy," said Tennessee Attorney General Herbert H. Slatery III. "The Fifth Circuit's opinion has provided the answer for which Tennessee, among other states, joined this lawsuit. The individual mandate is unlawful."

When the U.S. Supreme Court upheld the ACA in 2012, most of the justices agreed the law's individual mandate was constitutional only because its accompanying tax penalty could justify forcing individuals to purchase health insurance under Congress' taxing power. Devoid of that penalty, the ACA's intrusive individual mandate cannot be preserved as a tax, rendering it entirely unlawful.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.
