

Henry County Medical Center Announces New Construction

PARIS (February 2020) — As Henry County Medical Center continues to grow to meet the healthcare needs of the community, new construction begins that affects patients, families and visitors for the next month as 2 East enters its final phase of work prior to opening for patients.

Beginning Saturday, February 8, the hallway for the CCU from the second floor will close. The project is estimated to take about four weeks to complete. Because of this closure, the public restrooms and the CCU waiting room on the second floor are closed to the public. During this time, the CCU waiting room is relocated to the first-floor surgery waiting room and those needing restrooms are directed to the public restrooms on the first floor. Entrance to the CCU is now from the elevators and stairwell located on Hallway E of the first floor, or the original elevators in the facility.

Maps to patients, family, and visitors are available at the front desks, the surgery waiting area, and both ER and central registration. The elevators and stairs to CCU are marked with an orange Tennessee flag. Signage is posted in multiple areas to guide family and visitors as well.

“We apologize for the inconvenience, but once the project is complete, we believe the community will be excited to have the new progressive care unit to serve our patients,” said DeAnn Berry, director of Critical Care/Cardiac Rehab. “Please do not hesitate to ask any partner in the organization for help as we go through this transition. We are here to make sure you, your family, and our visitors are taken care of during this time of transition.”

For more information on our construction and how we continue to grow forward at HCMC, please visit our website at www.hcmc-tn.org.

Bethel University Sets New Record in College Fishing

Courtesy Bethel University

BAINBRIDGE, Ga. — The Bethel University Bass Cats set a new record in the sport of college Bass fishing by finishing first, second and third in the Fishing League Worldwide (FLW) Yeti Series held in Bainbridge, Georgia on Lake Seminole. No school has ever had three teams finish in the top three spots during a national fishing tournament.

Bethel's Brad Ableman and partner Wilson Smith stepped to the scales with a huge bag while weighing in with their five-fish limit of Bass. Those five fish weighed in at 19 pounds, one ounce. That weight gave the pair of Bethel anglers a two-pound plus lead over the second place team of Dax Ewart and Kyle Palmer also of Bethel. Ewart and Palmer had five fish that weighed 16 pounds, 13 ounces.

Rounding out the third place position for the Bethel squad with a weight of 15 pounds, 1 ounce were Cody Huff and Dakota Pierce. Huff and Pierce won a tournament a couple of weeks prior to this event for Bethel. Cody finished in first place a week later in his first semi-pro fishing tournament. Both of those events were on Lake Toledo Bend in Louisiana.

“We fought through very tough conditions this morning on Lake Seminole,” said Smith, “High winds and cold temperatures played a huge role in making this one of the toughest tournaments that I have ever fished.”

Bethel partner Brad Ableman

concurred the extreme drop in temperature the night before the tournament and the high winds plus the fact that due to bad weather the team was not able to get much practice time played a part in making it even tougher. “We just put our heads down and went fishing,” said Ableman.

The pair earned a spot and punched their ticket to fish the FLW Yeti National Championship in 2021 along with their teammates Ewart, Palmer, Huff and Pierce.

Also fishing the FLW Lake Seminole event for Bethel were Ryan Winchester, Joe McCloskey, Tristan McCormick and Nathan Portch. Bethel is ranked number one in the Team of the Year points for FLW with this record-breaking win.

Combine Decadence with Refreshment this Valentine's Day

Chocolate is often described as “decadent,” and rightfully so. Few foods can make people feel as if they’re being indulgent as well as chocolate. Perhaps that’s what makes chocolate such a great fit for Valentine’s Day. When giving that special someone some chocolate on February 14, you’re not just giving them something delicious, but also a chance to indulge in a forbidden fruit.

But chocolate desserts can be more than merely decadent. In fact, this recipe for “Pasticcio di Cioccolato con Lampone (Individual Chocolate Cakes With Fresh Raspberries)” from Michael White and Joanna Pruess’ “Fiamma: The Essence of Contemporary Italian Cooking” (Wiley) is both decadent and, thanks to the fresh raspberries, refreshing. The individual cake is an ideal Valentine’s Day gift, as it serves to emphasize how that special someone is the only one for you.

Pasticcio di Cioccolato con Lampone
(Individual Chocolate Cakes With Fresh Raspberries)
Makes 8 servings

1 1/3 cups cake flour, sifted
1/3 cup plus 2 tablespoons cocoa powder, sifted
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
6 tablespoons unsalted butter
6 large eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream
1/4 cup confectioners’ sugar, sifted
1 pint fresh raspberries
Vegetable cooking spray
Pinch of sea salt
Preheat the oven to 325 F. Spray a standard muffin tin with nonstick spray or fill 8 of the cups with paper or foil liners.

Sift the flour, 1/3 cup of cocoa, salt, and baking soda into a bowl and set aside. Melt the butter in a small saucepan and set aside.

Combine the eggs and sugar in the bowl of an electric mixer fitted with a whisk attachment. Set the bowl over a pan partially filled with simmering water. The water should not touch the bowl. Using a whisk, beat the egg-sugar mixture until it feels very warm to the touch and all of the sugar has dissolved. Immediately remove the bowl from the heat and transfer it to the electric mixer.

Whip the egg-sugar mixture on medium speed for 3 to 4 minutes until it triples in volume and is very thick and light colored. Add the vanilla and whip 2 to 3 seconds longer to blend. Remove the bowl from the mixer and gently fold in the flour-cocoa mixture.

Place about 1 1/2 cups of the batter in a separate bowl and fold in the melted butter. Do this gently, as you do not want to overwork the batter. Fold this into the remaining batter. Divide the batter evenly among the cupcake tins. Bake in the center of the oven for 20 to 25 minutes, or until a toothpick or knife inserted in the center of one cupcake comes out clean. Remove and cool completely on a rack.

While the cupcakes are cooling, combine the heavy cream with the confectioners’ sugar and the remaining 2 tablespoons of cocoa, beat into soft peaks, and set aside.

Remove the cupcakes from the tin and place them on dessert plates. Spoon the whipped cream on top, divide the raspberries among the plates and serve.

Impress with Homemade Sweets

Few people can imagine Valentine’s Day without chocolate. While heart-shaped boxes of chocolate might be ubiquitous in February, those who want to truly impress that special someone this Valentine’s Day can try their hand at baking up their own batch of decadent treats.

This recipe for “Chocolate Coconut Meringues,” courtesy of EatingWell.com, makes for a perfect indulgence. Loaded with flavor but not too heavy, these sweet treats can be enjoyed after a Valentine’s Day dinner or even as a snack the day after.

Chocolate Coconut Meringues
Yields: 30 cookies
4 large egg whites
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 teaspoon coconut extract or imitation coconut extract
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
2 tablespoons semisweet chocolate chips or finely chopped chocolate
2 tablespoons trans-fat-free white chocolate chips or finely chopped white chocolate, such as Sunspire pastry bag fitted with a 1/2-inch tip). Seal the bag, pressing out as much air as possible. Cut a 1/2-inch hole in one corner of the bag. Pipe the meringue into 2-inch circles, about 1 inch apart, on the prepared baking sheets.

5. Bake on the upper and lower racks for 50 minutes. Turn off the heat and let the meringues stand in the oven with the door closed until completely dry, about 11/2 hours.

6. Melt semisweet and white chocolate (see below) and drizzle or pipe onto the cooled meringues. Let stand until it sets.

Tips and techniques: To melt the chocolate, place it in a bowl and microwave on medium for 45 seconds. Stir; continue microwaving on medium in 20-second intervals until almost melted, stirring after each interval. Continue stirring until completely melted. Or place in the top of a double boiler over hot, but not boiling, water. Stir until melted. To decorate cookies with melted chocolate, use a pastry bag fitted with a fine writing tip to pipe the melted chocolate or dip tines of a fork in chocolate and drizzle. You can improvise a pastry bag with a small plastic bag. Add melted chocolate to the bag, cut a tiny hole in one corner and squeeze the chocolate out.

J.T. and Robye Lindsey
The Hallmark of Kindness

In 2014, I met the kindest and sweetest couple, I believe, to ever live in McKenzie. When I married Brittany, Robye and J.T. Lindsey didn't know me from Adam's cat, but they were so warm and inviting it was as if they were family. I honestly believed they were some distant aunt or uncle on the Washburn side I'd missed.

From weddings to baby showers to church events the Lindseys were there for us. As I've told this story to others, it is always returned with a nod or smile and with an affirmation of their kindest to everyone. This week I feel it is time to share the story of the Lindseys.

James "J.T." Lindsey was born November 12, 1930, to James Ewell Lindsey and Clara Thompson in Danville, Alabama. Robye McCalla Lindsey of Brighton, Tennessee was born to Otis and Ella McCalla. After graduating from high school, Robye moved to South Carolina to attend Erskine College. Returning home to Brighton with her degree she took employment in the Civilian Personnel Office at the Millington Naval Air Station.

J. T. enlisted in the Marine Corps and was stationed at the Millington Naval Air Station. He became friends with a Marine from Brighton and met Robye while visiting the friend's home. J. T. and Robye were married on May 29, 1954, and moved to Birmingham, Alabama. In Alabama, J.T. received his degree from Howard College School of Pharmacy.

In 1959, the Lindseys noticed an advertisement in a newspaper that read "Cannon Drugstore in McKenzie, Tennessee For Sale". They wanted to move back to Tennessee. So they decided to visit McKenzie and check things out. The Lindseys knew immediately McKenzie was where they wanted to live.

In September 1959 they moved to McKenzie. Cannon's Drugstore was located on the west side of the square on Broadway Street in what is now Carroll Insurance. Robye said, "The Turner Cannon family was so helpful and kind in helping us get 'settled in' at the store. They introduced us to everyone who came in and told us a little about them."

"Nell Brush and Byron Pate were employees who had worked there for several years and continued to work for us. They were so much help."

J.T. had worked in Rexall stores which had soda fountains before purchasing Cannon's store so he decided to use one corner of the store as a "coffee bar."

The Lindseys along with their 2-year-old son, Keith, moved into the upstairs apartment of the big two-story house on Stonewall across the street from what was Brummitt Funeral Home. Within a week, the newly arrived family made lifelong friends.

"A day or two after we moved in, Keith wanted to go outside to play. I had just sat down on the front porch to watch him when this lady walked up, introduced herself as Elizabeth Burroughs and explained that Stonewall was a very busy street and it was dangerous for a child to play so close to the street.

"I thanked her and from that day the Lindseys and Burroughs became friends. To be a friend of Dean Burroughs you were a friend to Bethel College. We have enjoyed all sports, musical programs and all events at Bethel for 60 years."

In September 1961, the Lindsey's second son, Tim, was born. Robye was the bookkeeper for the drugstore and did most of her work from home so she could be with her boys until they were school age.

When the young couple lived in Birmingham they had been Cumberland Presbyterians so they transferred their membership to the McKenzie Cumberland Presbyterian Church where they would eventually serve as elders, Sunday school teachers and would work with the youth groups.

The drugstore's name was changed to Lindsey's Rexall Drugs when it was relocated to Cedar St. in February 1965. The new drugstore went into what was the U-Tote-Em grocery store on, two buildings down from the Park Theatre.

It was a pharmacy but more importantly, it had a soda fountain. Many high schoolers would "hang out" there but between classes, Bethel students walked down the railroad track to have a milkshake.

At the beginning of the fall semester, a guest book for Bethel students was placed out front for them to sign when they entered the drugstore. "That old book tells many stories and brings back many memories," lamented Robye.

The relation between Bethel and the Lindseys was cemented in 2014 as the university inducted JT and Robye into the school's sports hall-of-fame. In their induction it notes the following:

"The 'old soda fountain' was a major gathering place for Bethel students and faculty. The Lindsey's became mentors to most all they came in contact with. Life-long relationships were formed that exist until today.

"JT and Robye have 'adopted' Bethel students and coaches from all sports through the years and have always been passionate supporters at home and on the road. They have taken students into their home and been stand-in parents for many international students.

"Their services have varied. They have greeted and sold tickets for various sporting events. Whether it was old Dishman and Baker Fieldhouse, the old McKenzie High School, the new Dishman and now the new Crisp Arena, the Lindseys have always been there. It hasn't mattered what conference or who the opponent has been, they have always supported their beloved Bethel student-athletes."

Lindsey's Rexall Drugs was sold in 1979 but the friendships made at the store were very special to Robye and J.T. Lindsey. The drugstore had many employees throughout the years, and the Lindseys were also thankful for them.

Next week, I will share a few memories from past employees that Robye still calls her kids.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Talk About A REAL Cupid!

To understand the importance of this Valentine miracle, we've got to start in Eau Claire, Michigan. In the summer of 1960, I was thirteen. It was only the second time I had ever been out of the state of Tennessee.

And if my granddad hadn't a'taken a job managing an apple farm in the "fruit belt" of Michigan, I wouldn't have been up here at all. While the grownups talked about living through the Great Depression, I moseyed down a winding dirt road till I found myself ensconced on the front porch of a small country store.

Listen, I didn't have a nickel for a "soda" as they called it in this neck of the woods. But I went inside anyways, figuring I might at least entertain a few of the locals with my southern drawl.

Before I could get out one "hey, howdy" or a "how y'all doing" I saw it, just sitting there, waiting for me. They had it up on a shelf, behind the cash register. It wasn't running.

I eased up on my tip-toes and leaned across the counter to get a better look. It was stuck in between the cigarette selections and the BC Powders. The dust resting comfortably over it told me they hadn't had many offers.

"How much for the clock?" The cashier sat what looked like a potted meat sandwich down and smiled. "That old thing has been sitting there for years. 'How about,' she paused for a long second, "twelve dollars."

Might have well been twelve million I thought to myself. "Does it run?"

"It did when Dan sat it up there."

I liked the dark colored wood. And the wide opening in the face around the hands that showed a smidgen of the brass gears behind. And best of all was the Roman head on the pendulum.

I traced back down that twisting road, "Dad, can I have twelve dollars?" It was some serious hope springing forth.

"Son," I remember the puzzled look like it was yesterday, "what in the world do you want with twelve dollars?"

"There's this antique clock....." He paused a bit longer than the clerk back at the store. "What in the world do you want with an old clock?"

My heart was sinking past my left kneecap when he finally reached for his billfold. We're talking twelve dollars in 1960! For a clock nobody had to have!

Maybe he saw the pleading in my eyes. Perhaps he'd wanted something with all his heart as a thirteen year old. Maybe I'd never asked for much. I'm not sure it was exactly a father/son moment. But I have never forgotten it.

It turned out to be an old 1890's Waterbury Clock. The top crown was missing. And it had had at one time an alarm mechanism that was long gone. It didn't matter. After I got it home and gave it a good cleaning, it started ticking!

It was only the beginning. As soon as I got a house of my own, I went to filling it with clocks. Of course, at first, they were few and far between. The days of twelve dollar antiques were over. And I had children of my own.

I bought a Coca-Cola advertiser clock from the early '20's. Then I bought another one. I found a grandfather clock in Hollow Rock, Tennessee. And a nice Ithaca in Hannibal, Missouri. And an E. N. Welch calendar clock.... And one or two.....or ten more!

Cathy was so gracious over the years. She truly didn't mind.... until we ran out of room. She HAD to put her foot down, "No more, that's it. We're not building another house, and we have no more empty shelves, counters, bookcases or wall space."

My lifetime clock acquiring has been on a suspended hiatus.

I had mentioned once, several years back, how much I liked the Seth Thomas No. 3 Fashion Clock. I couldn't find one. And to be honest, I'd never actually seen one. That's how rare they are.

You can see this ending coming. Six months or so ago—completely behind my back—Cathy got in touch with a great clock guy up in Cleveland, Georgia, and sent him on a mission. He lives just 30 miles from our grandchildren.....

She came home this week from visiting the kids. With an extraordinary, excellent conditioned No. 3 Fashion Clock in her arms! "Here's your Valentine present."

Talk about true love! Me and that little fat cherub with the arrows are both overjoyed.

And I have reciprocated in kind. I got her a card that reads, "Be Mine for all "TIME".

Respectfully,
Kes

Breast Cancer Lunch, Learn Event is February 26

Breast cancer is the second most common kind of cancer in women. Approximately 1 in 8 women in the United States will get breast cancer at some point. The good news is most women can survive breast cancer if it is found and treated early.

Women, age 40-49, should talk with their doctor about when to start getting mammograms and how often to get them.

Women, age 50-74, should get a mammogram every two years or more frequent.

Women should talk to their doctors about the risk for breast cancer, especially if a close family member had breast or ovarian cancer. Doctors can help decide when and how often to get mammograms.

This February, UT Extension Service-Carroll County is participating in National Cancer Prevention Month by hosting a free breast cancer awareness event.

What: PINK! Lunch and Learn Breast Cancer Awareness Event

When: February 26 at noon (doors open at 11:30 a.m.)

Where: Baptist Memorial Hospital-Carroll County Community Room

Attend an educational session about breast cancer and learn more from Robbie Robertson about the Tenn. Breast and Cervical Screening Program. Also hear about "what to expect" when getting a mammogram. Plus, don't miss a special guest speaker, Benita Giffin, and her survivor story.

A free lunch is provided for all registered participants. There are take-home resources and giveaways.

This is a free event and registration is required. Space is limited. Please call the UT Extension office at 731-986-1976 by February 21 to register.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.

Driving While Suspended — On February 5, Officer Jeffrey Lowden charged Andrew Edgar Arnold of McKenzie with driving on a suspended license.

Lowden stopped a Dodge Ram after recognizing the driver had a suspended license. Arnold was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court.

Driving While Suspended — On February 5, Officer Justin Brister charged Raymond Earl Lockett, 41, of McKenzie with his seventh offense of Driving on a Revoked License. Officer Brister saw a Kia at the intersection of Hamilton and Stonewall streets. The officer followed him to a Linden Heights address where he parked. Lockett said he was in the process of getting a divorce and was trying to get his clothes from that apartment. The vehicle was towed from the scene and Lockett was transported to jail.

Simple Possession or Exchange — Officer Dalton Raspberry stopped a vehicle with illegal window tint. The vehicle was driving by Jeffery Ball, Puryear. Officer Raspberry smelled marijuana and discovered a baggie of green leafy substance weighing 30.6 grams. He was cited into court on a charge of Simple Possession of Schedule VI and warned about the illegal window tint.

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

License Violation — Jeremy Scott Vinyard, 31, of 609 W. Main Street, Atwood, was arrested for driving on a suspended license (second offense) and cited for failure to show proof of insurance and driving an unregistered vehicle during a January 31 traffic stop in Atwood.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he pulled over a vehicle driven by Vinyard due to brake lights not working. A computer check showed that Vinyard's license was suspended with a previous charge for the same offense out of Milan City Court.

License Violation — Malkik D. Rawlings, 20, of Madison was charged with driving on a suspended license and violation of financial responsibility following a February 1 traffic accident on Old Manor Road in McKenzie.

According to the report by Michael C. Seavans, he responded to a call about a traffic accident with no injuries on Old Manor Road, and upon arrival, he found a gold Kia Rio stuck in a ditch. Rawlings, the driver, told Seavans that he did not have a driver's license. A computer check showed that Rawlings' license was suspended. Rawlings could not provide proof of insurance.

Domestic Assault — Steven Thomas Pinkston III, 36, of 146 Lexington Street, Bruceton, was arrested for domestic assault following a February 1 incident at his residence.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he went to Pinkston's residence after receiving a call about domestic violence. Pinkston's son told Scott that his father had tried to beat him up. Pinkston's girlfriend, Melissa Hancock, told the deputy that Pinkston had grabbed her by the arms and hair, pulled her to the floor, and hit her in the back of the head with a cellphone. Scott observed that Hancock had visible bruises on her arms and a knot on the back of her head.

License, Drug Violations — Wilburn Guy Edwards, 40, of Big Sandy was cited for driving on a suspended license (first offense) and simple possession of methamphetamine during a February 2 traffic stop in Bruceton.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he pulled over a vehicle driven by Edwards due to a failure to dim his headlights. A computer check showed that Edwards' driver's license was suspended. After getting Edwards' consent to search the vehicle, Scott found a needle, approximately 0.7 grams of a substance that field tested positive for meth, and alcohol prep wipes.

Stolen Vehicle — A vehicle was reported as being stolen on February 5.

Mitchell Hunt of Jackson told deputies that his Ford F-150 had been stolen the night before. Hunt said he had been driving to visit his girlfriend in Huntingdon when his truck broke down and he left it on the side of Highway 70 near Quality Service Center in Cedar Grove, intending to come back and get it the next day. Hunt said the truck was not there when he returned. Hunt described the truck as repainted from gray to black with no wheel well chrome and a 4 X 4 sign on the tailgate. The vehicle was valued at around $1,000.

Assault — Michael Smith, 46, of 4195 Highway 105, Trezevant, was charged with simple assault following a February 5 incident at his residence.

According to the report by Deputy Christopher Adams, he went to Smith's residence after receiving a call about an assault. Upon arrival, Adams found Smith's wife, Tonya Smith, in her vehicle outside the home. Mrs. Smith told Adams that she and her husband had gotten into a fight over her losing her job, and when she refused to take her name off their joint checking account, Mr. Smith slapped her twice on the face and once on the neck. She said her husband then threw a coffee table at her, but she blocked it with her foot. She then ran out of the house and locked herself in her car. Adams observed that Mrs. Smith had marks on her face and neck and that the coffee table had a hole in it.

MCKENZIE (February 5) — A signing ceremony was held Wednesday in the McKenzie High School theatre as senior Micah Austin put pen to paper to continue his football career with the Bethel University Wildcats. He was joined by coaches, teachers, classmates, teammates and family members.

McKenzie Head Coach Wade Comer welcomed everyone and expressed his pride in Micah and the football program. He noted that it's becoming a regular occurrence to have players signed to play at the next level. He added that "the good thing is he'll be right across the road and we can see him play."

Before he put his name on the bottom line, Micah thanked his family, friends and God.

In an interview with The Banner, Comer called Micah an "outstanding player." He said that he was proud to have the senior back on the team after missing his sophomore and junior seasons. Comer praised his play at running back and on defense.

Micah told The Banner he chose football over basketball because it's "always been my sport" and that it comes naturally to him. He hopes to go and make a difference at Bethel, which he chose because it's in his hometown. "I want to try to be a hometown hero. Everything's about home."

He'll play for the Wildcats at running back and major in criminal justice.

On being a Rebel, he said, "I've gone to McKenzie since Kindergarten. I've grown up around the sports here and seen top players. It feels good to be a Rebel."

McKenzie High School Beta Club Hosts Fundraiser

McKENZIE (February 8) — The McKenzie High School Beta Club hosted a series of well-attended fundraising events Saturday at the school.

Following up on last year's success, the club reprised the Empty Bowls fundraiser.

Patrons received a clay bowl handcrafted by the MHS Art Department and Art Director B.J. Hardwick and enjoyed a variety of soups, chilis and stews.

All proceeds from this event are allotted to the Community Action Center to fund activities such as job training, Christmas gifts for children of low-income families and the Carroll County Community Action Center's Baby Supply Closet.

Meanwhile, in the MHS Theatre, the club hosted the inaugural Miss Southern Sweetheart Pageant.

Approximately 30-35 participated in eight divisions.

Baked goods and other concessions were available in the lobby throughout the event.

Funds from the pageant and concessions go toward expenses for MHS Beta Club members to compete at the Leadership Conference in Gatlinburg in March and at Nationals in Ft. Worth in June.

The club plans to hold the joint event annually around Valentine's Day.

TCAT-McKenzie Celebrates SkillsUSA Week

Tennessee College of Applied Technology McKenzie celebrated SkillsUSA week on February 3-7 with some friendly competition between the programs.

SkillsUSA is a partnership of students, teachers, and industries working together to ensure America has a skilled workforce.

A favorite among the programs is the Door Decorating Competition. Students design and build a SkillsUSA themed display to fit on their door. The doors are then judged by staff.

Automotive Technology, led by instructor Dan Townsend, came in first place receiving a donut party and 1,000 pennies to go towards the program in the Penny Drive Competition.

The Automotive door decoration was completed as a class effort.

Lyle Lovett Performs To Sold-Out Audience

HUNTINGDON — The Lyle Lovett concert at The Dixie on Friday, February 7 was a huge success. It was a great night of music and humor as Lyle Lovett and his Acoustic Group took the stage at the Dixie Carter Performing Arts Center in Huntingdon. The show was sold out the same day — in just a few hours — that tickets went on sale in the fall. Photo by Joel Washburn/The Banner
