City Council Appointee Does Not Reside in Correct Ward

McKENZIE (June 8) — Mason Powers, 155 Blackburn Avenue, McKenzie, served only one hour as the councilman for Ward II.

Powers made application to serve as the councilman to fill the unexpired term of David Hochreiter, who resigned in May after moving from the city limits. Mayor Jill Holland recommended Powers to complete Hochreiter's term and the council unanimously concurred. Powers was administered the oath of office and voted on several issues, including the 2017-18 budget. City officials were reportedly told Powers resided in Ward II by the Carroll County Election Commission.

However, following the meeting, city officials were alerted

HUNTINGDON (June 6) — Following weeks of weather-induced delays, Barsto Construction of Huntingdon commenced earthwork excavation and grading of the playing surface of Paul Ward Stadium's playing field in anticipation of the placing of a multi-purpose, synthetic playing field surface by Austin, Texas-based sports and stadium field construction specialist Hella Construction.

During an interview with The Banner, Huntingdon Special School District Director of Schools Pat Dillahunty said, "Excavation work at Paul Ward Stadium in underway and we are on track to meet the August 1 completion date for synthetic surface implementation."

She said, "Playing field demolition, earthwork and concrete is being donated by local construction companies and not added to the overall contract cost. Speaker Harwell Speaks to Lions, Rotarians

McKENZIE (June 12) — Beth Harwell, Tennessee Speaker of the House, was the guest speaker at the joint meeting of the McKenzie Lions Club and McKenzie Rotary Club on Monday, June 12 at Lakeside Retirement Center.

Mrs. Harwell is the first speaker of the house for the Tennessee General Assembly. She told the gathering of the accomplishments of the General Assembly during the 2017 session. She said being speaker of the house is similar to being a teacher, who must recognize any member before he or she can speak and she controls whether or not their microphones are activated.

She said the representatives come from all over the state with many diverse opinions on issues. Each member can enter legislation, which must pass through a committee before it comes to the House floor.

Tennessee has a balanced budget, said Harwell. Not all states can boast of that fact. Tennessee is the third lowest taxed state, the lowest debt state in the nation, and has a AAA bond rating, and a fully-funded pension program. This year, the state added to its rainy day fund (savings account) to better position itself against any disasters that might adversely affect the state.

Tennessee approved the IMPROVE Act, which raises taxes on gasoline to construct and maintain the transportation system. One-fourth of the tax on gasoline will come from out-of-state visitors and one-half of the diesel tax will come from out-of-state truckers passing through Tennessee, said Harwell.

The Act also reduces the franchise and excise tax on businesses and reduces sales taxes on groceries.

The General assembly also eliminated the inheritance tax and the gift tax, and reduced the Hall Income Tax rate. The Hall tax will eventually be phased out.

Tennessee's public education also earned the distinction of being the fastest improving in the nation, said Harwell. That follows new standards implemented by the General Assembly after ditching Common Core.

Tennessee History is now a required subject in the middle schools in Tennessee. Broadband internet availability in rural areas was boosted by a private/public partnership, in which the state will provide public funding to help internet service providers to expand into underserved markets. Public electric cooperatives were also granted authority to enter into broadband services.

Requirements for operating public school buses was also enhanced by requiring a minimum age of 25 to drive and mandatory training for drivers. Each public school bus service must have a superintendent, who is also required to undergo training.

She spoke about the state's opioid addiction, that must be addressed. The state established a database to monitor opioid prescriptions and also provides some literature with each prescription.

Work Continues on Water Tank

McKENZIE (June 12) — Crews from American Tank Maintenance of Georgia are sandblasting and repainting the downtown, 300,000-gallon elevated water tank.

Billy Wood, superintendent of the city Water and Wastewater Department, said the crew is blasting off the old paint, and applying a new coat of paint – all under a containment drape suspended from the top of the tank. The drape prevents the old lead paint, being removed, and the new paint from drifting with the wind.

Renovation is expected to take a total of eight weeks.

Mr. Wood said the tank was not in use for a few years, until about 18 months ago when the fire department needed additional water pressure for its ISO review. American Tank then blasted and repainted the interior to facilitate the use of the tank.

In all, McKenzie has 1.4 million gallons of water storage in four elevated tanks – located at city hall, the hospital, the airport, and the recreation park. Additionally, the city has 150,000 in its clear well inside its water treatment plant in downtown McKenzie.

County Taxes Remain Unchanged

CARROLL COUNTY (June 12) — Carroll County's property tax rate remains unchanged at $1.5519 per $100 assessed value. Carroll County commissioners convened Monday, June 12 to approve the 2017-18 fiscal year budget, which includes an $800 annual pay raise for employees and $369, 258 in new revenues for the Highway Department from the increase in gasoline and diesel fuels across the state.

The $27.194 million budget includes $11,521,183 in the General Fund, $92,362 in the Drug Control Fund, $3,649,009 in the Highway Fund, $8,022,235 in the General Purpose School Fund, $1,658,172 in the School Transportation Fund, and $663,683 in the General Debt Service Fund.

Donations to non-profit agencies include: $3,000 to the Rescue Squad, $4,000 to the Gordon Browning Museum, $6,000 to the McKenzie Memorial Library, $26,750 to the Carl Perkins Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse, $500 to the Tennessee Rehabilitation Center, $200 to the McKenzie Senior Citizens Center; $100 to the Atwood Senior Citizens Center, $10,000 to the Carroll County Shooting Sports Complex, $2,500 to the Tennessee Public Safety Network; and $200 to the Carroll County Museum.

The property tax rate of $1,5519 per $100 assessed value is comprised of the following appropriations: General Fund, $1.1219; School Transportation, $.14; Highway Department, $.08; General Debt Service , $.12; and Solid Waste, $.09.

Darrell Ridgely cast the lone vote against the budget appropriations and the donations.

Commissioners approved seven resolutions to transfer funds between accounts as a year-end housekeeping move to assure all accounts balance and do not exceed budgetary amounts.

Appointments to county boards are also approved. A resolution to appoint Geneva Johnson and Austin Maddox to the Carroll County Library Board and Jerry Atkins to the Carroll County Electric Board were approved unanimously.

McKenzie Council Approves Budget On First Reading, No Tax Increase

McKENZIE (June 8) — No tax rate increase is anticipated for the 2017-18 McKenzie budget following the first of two reading on the General Fund, Drug Fund, Water and Sewer Fund, and Debt Service Fund budgets.

During the Thursday, June 8, council members voted unanimously to approve property tax rates of $1.0955 per $100 assessed value in the municipal portions of Carroll and Henry counties and $1.1431 on the Weakley County portion of the city.

Local property taxes are expected to generate $676,000 in 2017. Local sales taxes will generate $829,000, beer taxes, $190,000; liquor taxes, $56,000; business tax, $40,000; cable T.V., $95,000, to name a few.

Intergovernmental revenues include: state sales tax, $440,000; Hall income tax, $31,000; state street aid, $150,000.

The ATS contract for redlight and speed cameras is estimated to generate $62,000.

Expenses in individual departments indicate a total of $641,450 in General Government; $1,402,302 in the Police Department; $382,000 in the Fire Department; $1,827,007 in the Street Department; $113,000 in Street Lighting; $193,950 in Parks and Recreation; $3,700 in Public Affairs; $36,000 in Tourism and Economic Development..

The Water and Sewer Department, which is a separate entity for city government, estimates revenue of $2,111,400 and expenses of $2,111,202.52 for a net result of $197.48 revenues over expenses.

The Park Theatre Fund estimates $72,000 revenues and $72,000 in expenses.

Debt Service is estimated at $240,250 in revenue and $224,150 in expenses.

In other business, the council approved:

*an ordinance of proper conduct at the city's parks. The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board has authority to conduct hearing and administer periods of suspension if necessary. A public hearing will be conducted on the issue prior to the second and final reading.

*the purchase of an e-mail server to be housed at city hall. The cost is $5,000.

*accepted the resignation of Councilman David Hocheiter, who moved from the municipal limits. Mason Powers was appointed to fill the unexpired term, however, it was later determined Powers does not reside in the appropriate city ward.

*established a Public Records Policy, concerning the cost of copying the documents for the public.

*paid invoices of $,6052.26 to Smith, Seckman, Reid for engineering to install street lighting along Waldren Street; and GRW in the amount of $12,000 for work with the Water Department for the three months of March, April, and May.

*heard from Frank Tate, executive director of the McKenzie Industrial Board, who has worked 100 days. He said there are several clients showing interest in McKenzie. He noted his wife and two daughters will soon relocate to and join him McKenzie. She is a pharmacist and has worked to expand her license to Tennessee. Mayor Jill Holland said Tate is working on both industrial and retail development.

*heard Councilman Randy Callahan speak about the flooding along South Main Street. He said the culverts and ditches need clearing near Block City Pizza and South Main Storage buildings. He also recommended a retention pond on city-owned property adjacent to Block City. The pond would help store some of the flood waters. A 20-foot by 40-foot pond could hold 30,000 gallons. Mayor Holland said engineers estimate a retention pond would lower the flood area by one-half inch. A concern for the Zika virus from mosquitoes is also a concern of building a retention pond, according to one city official.

*heard Callahan said the city could generate revenue for the City Park by charging $5 for parking at the Freedom Fest. Mayor Holland said the festival has always been free, and it would be difficult to charge for the event. Councilman Gene Hale said his son-in-law is a coach in Bartlett, and teams and coaches there hold fund-raisers to generate revenue for the parks. One fund-raiser is a barbecue event. He said they have the same problems with revenues as McKenzie. Frank Tate recommended charging for preferred VIP parking and possibly having the baseball players collect donations during the event.

*heard Callahan said the downtown parking problem could be alleviated with parking meters or reserved parking areas for businesses. One difficulty is the large number of Bethel students who participate in Renaissance at the studio and offices downtown. Frank Tate said time limits might be a better remedy for parking problems. He said the Industrial Board is working on a strategic plan on many aspects of the city.

*heard Callahan say the unmanned portable speed monitoring devices could be strategically moved throughout the city to indicate where manpower needs to be and at what times of the day.

*heard Callahan suggest the return of the city wheel tax as a revenue source. Mayor Holland said the revenue and expenses "are a wash" because of the considerable cost of selling the wheel tax stickers and the city's limited enforcement capability.

*heard Frank Tate say there are grants, such as one from Major League Baseball, to help improve baseball facilities.

*heard Jennifer Waldrup say the splash pad in downtown McKenzie will soon be complete. Much of the work has been performed by local contractors, said Waldrup.

*heard Mayor Holland say construction on the Dollar Tree has not yet restarted, but should be complete later this year. Part of the delay is the building was originally being constructed as a Family Dollar, but since Family Dollar and Dollar Tree have merged, it is now supposed to be a Dollar Tree.

Powers actually resides in the same ward as Councilwoman Cassie Allen, who was absent from the meeting. Allen resides at 25 Blackburn Avenue.

McKenzie is the lone city in Carroll County with wards, which also includes one minority ward. The boundary lines of the wards are extremely gerrymandered for wards II and III.

This is not the first time confusion over residency in a ward has occurred. A few years ago, it was discovered one councilman was elected and served in a ward, in which he did not reside. The boundary was the street in front of his house. The Carroll County Election Commission had certified his residency in the district, only to learn later he did not.

The Council had a bare quorum to conduct business Thursday. It first appeared the city lacked a quorum with only three of six council members in attendance. Councilmen Gene Hale, Jessie Townes, and Randy Callahan were in attendance at the 6:00 p.m. meeting time. With Hochreiter's resignation and Allen's absence, the city sent a police cruiser to Councilman Charles Pruneau's home to provide a ride to the meeting. Pruneau is recuperating from surgery on his shoulder and could not drive. He arrived at the meeting with his arm bandaged and secured and took his seat to gain the necessary quorum.

The city is again advertising to fill the vacancy of Hochreiter.

— Central, Midwestern, Western and Southern — qualify student anglers for the national championship. Top competitors from state high school championships and from sanctioned team trails also earn invitations to compete in the high school championship. The high school championship's full field compete on the first two days, after which the field will be reduced to the top 10 anglers on the final day.

The daily takeoffs and first two days' weigh-ins take place at Paris Landing State Park, with the final day weigh-in being held in downtown Paris.

"The Carroll County Chamber of Commerce, Bethel University and the Henry County Alliance have welcomed us for another great event," said Hank Weldon, B.A.S.S. College and High School Series senior manager. "And with the Costa Bassmaster High School program continuing to grow, we are expecting an even larger field at this year's tournament."

"We are excited to once again host the Costa Bassmaster High School National Championship on Kentucky Lake," said Henry County Tourism Authority CEO David Hamilton. "Our community looks forward to this tournament each year."

With more than 5,500 student athletes representing 600 schools in 45 states, the Bassmaster High School program is one of the fastest-growing initiatives within B.A.S.S. Both the High School and Junior National Championships kick off with an official welcome party for all contenders hosted by Bethel University on June 19.

"We are all honored to be a part of such a wonderful and prestigious event," said Dale Kelley, Bethel director of athletics. "This is an annual event that brings national exposure to our campus and all of our Henry and Carroll County communities. Bassmaster and ESPN being here allows us to showcase our university, this great part of our nation and the opportunities available in the area."

- General Fund: revenues = $686,650; expenditures = $590,090
- State Street Aid: revenues = $49,400; expenditures = $23,600
- Drug Fund: revenues = $11,300; expenditures = $3,500
- Water Fund: revenues = $904,090; expenditures = $483,287
- Solid Waste: revenues = $207,270; expenditures = $141,300

The ordinance stipulates that all unencumbered balances of appropriations remaining at the end of the fiscal year shall lapse and revert to the respective fund balances.

The FY 2017-18 budget passed with all board members except Alderman Keith Radford voting in favor of the ordinance. Alderman Radford questioned moving a secretarial position from the General Fund into the Water Department.

To prevent a property tax hike, the new budget moves Marsha Hatley's secretarial position from the General Fund to the Water Department. The Water Department has sufficient funds to pay Hatley's salary. Hunt explained that the majority of Marsha's work involves utility billing and receipts, so she is essentially a utility clerk.

The water rate structure will be revamped to charge customers for only what they use. It is intended to make it easier for the elderly on fixed incomes, who typically do not use a lot of water. For those falling into this category, 1-500 gallons will cost the consumer $3.50 for water, $3.50 for sewer, and $21.25 for garbage pickup, for a total monthly bill of $28.25.

The rates for water usage in various amounts vary as follows:

- 501-3,000 gallons = .0075 per gallon.
- 3,001-4,000 gallons = .0060 per gallon
- 4,001-5,000 gallons = .0050 per gallon
- 5,001-9,100 gallons = .0025 per gallon

Alderman Doug Johnson stated the new water rates are fairer than the existing rate system.

The first reading of an ordinance amending the current fiscal year's budget, which ends June 30, 2017, was also approved with Alderman Radford casting the only "No" vote. The below-cited amendments were deemed necessary to meet unexpected expenses in these funds. The ordinance amends appropriations for the various funds as follows:

- The General Fund budget appropriation, previously set at $625,485, is decreased to $615,907;
- The Water and Sewer Fund budget appropriation, previously set at $387,992 is increased to $473,316
- The Drug Fund appropriation, previously set at $10,000 is decreased to $545
- The Solid Waste budget appropriations, previously set at $181,370 is decreased to $166,478
- The State Street budget appropriations, previously set at $49,200 is increased to $38,970

Board members unanimously approved a resolution that amends the City of Gleason's Open Records Policy, as required by state law. It outlines the requirements and methods of inspecting and obtaining copies of public records. One of the changes in the policy requires proof of Tennessee citizenship in order to inspect or receive copies of public records.

Under old business, a letter has been received from MTAS advising the Board not to perform any work on private property. This precludes taking any action on repairing a ditch at a residence on Vinson Street, as requested by the property owner. The Board agreed to write the property owner a letter explaining the situation.

In department reports, Police Officer Todd Barber stated, during the month of May, there were two state warrants issued, including: one for domestic assault and one for violation of order of protection. Additionally, 45 city citations, including: 32 for speeding, two for driver's license violations, four for insurance violations, two for animal control violations, one for reckless driving, one for equipment violation, one traffic control device violation, one for improper backing, and one for failure to exercise due care.

Mayor Diane Poole stated a hole on Phelps Street has been cut out and filled back in, and a sinkhole was repaired on East Grove Road.

Deputy Fire Chief Mark Stafford stated, during the past month, firefighters responded to eight callouts. Additionally, there were in-house training classes held on emergency vehicle operations. Stafford reported that the new helicopter landing pad has been poured behind the Gleason Water Plant, located at 518 East Union Street. A 35 foot long gravel driveway has also been installed.

Stafford recommended the driveway to be covered with asphalt. This would allow ambulances to drive right up to the landing pad and transfer patients to medical helicopters. Alderman Johnson cautioned, to avoid injuries to emergency personnel or patients, an asphalt driveway needs to be installed. Johnson offered to donate $1,000 toward the cost of the asphalt driveway, which is estimated to cost approximately $9,000.

Mayor Poole speculated the Rotary Club might be willing to help with the cost of the new driveway, and donations might be solicited from other sources. The gravel for the current driveway was donated by Old Hickory Clay Company. Air Evac has agreed to install lights at the landing pad.

Alderman Jim Phelps mentioned that the memorial stone at the Legion needs to be moved, and received a cost estimate of $400 for the stone to be and placed on a poured concrete slab provided by the mover.

A called meeting of the Gleason Board is set for June 27 at 6 p.m. to consider approval of the second and final reading of the 2017-2018 budget and an ordinance making year-end budget amendments to the 2016-17 budget.

NO TAX INCREASE

McKenzie Council Approves Budget on First Reading

McKENZIE (June 8) — No tax rate increase is anticipated for the 2017-18 McKenzie budget following the first of two reading on the General Fund, Drug Fund, Water and Sewer Fund, and Debt Service Fund budgets.

During the Thursday, June 8, council members voted unanimously to approve property tax rates of $1.0955 per $100 assessed value in the municipal portions of Carroll and Henry counties and $1.1431 on the Weakley County portion of the city.

Local property taxes are expected to generate $676,000 in 2017. Local sales taxes will generate $829,000, beer taxes, $190,000; liquor taxes, $56,000; business tax, $40,000; cable T.V., $95,000, to name a few.

Intergovernmental revenues include: state sales tax, $440,000; Hall income tax, $31,000; state street aid, $150,000.

The ATS contract for redlight and speed cameras is estimated to generate $62,000.

Expenses in individual departments indicate a total of $641,450 in General Government; $1,402,302 in the Police Department; $382,000 in the Fire Department; $1,827,007 in the Street Department; $113,000 in Street Lighting; $193,950 in Parks and Recreation; $3,700 in Public Affairs; $36,000 in Tourism and Economic Development..

The Water and Sewer Department, which is a separate entity for city government, estimates revenue of $2,111,400 and expenses of $2,111,202.52 for a net result of $197.48 revenues over expenses.

The Park Theatre Fund estimates $72,000 revenues and $72,000 in expenses.

Debt Service is estimated at $240,250 in revenue and $224,150 in expenses.

In other business, the council approved:

*an ordinance of proper conduct at the city's parks. The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board has authority to conduct hearing and administer periods of suspension if necessary. A public hearing will be conducted on the issue prior to the second and final reading.

*the purchase of an e-mail server to be housed at city hall. The cost is $5,000.

*accepted the resignation of Councilman David Hocheiter, who moved from the municipal limits. Mason Powers was appointed to fill the unexpired term, however, it was later determined Powers does not reside in the appropriate city ward.

*established a Public Records Policy, concerning the cost of copying the documents for the public.

*paid invoices of $,6052.26 to Smith, Seckman, Reid for engineering to install street lighting along Waldren Street; and GRW in the amount of $12,000 for work with the Water Department for the three months of March, April, and May.

*heard from Frank Tate, executive director of the McKenzie Industrial Board, who has worked 100 days. He said there are several clients showing interest in McKenzie. He noted his wife and two daughters will soon relocate to and join him McKenzie. She is a pharmacist and has worked to expand her license to Tennessee. Mayor Jill Holland said Tate is working on both industrial and retail development.

*heard Councilman Randy Callahan speak about the flooding along South Main Street. He said the culverts and ditches need clearing near Block City Pizza and South Main Storage buildings. He also recommended a retention pond on city-owned property adjacent to Block City. The pond would help store some of the flood waters. A 20-foot by 40-foot pond could hold 30,000 gallons. Mayor Holland said engineers estimate a retention pond would lower the flood area by one-half inch. A concern for the Zika virus from mosquitoes is also a concern of building a retention pond, according to one city official.

*heard Callahan said the city could generate revenue for the City Park by charging $5 for parking at the Freedom Fest. Mayor Holland said the festival has always been free, and it would be difficult to charge for the event. Councilman Gene Hale said his son-in-law is a coach in Bartlett, and teams and coaches there hold fund-raisers to generate revenue for the parks. One fund-raiser is a barbecue event. He said they have the same problems with revenues as McKenzie. Frank Tate recommended charging for preferred VIP parking and possibly having the baseball players collect donations during the event.

*heard Callahan said the downtown parking problem could be alleviated with parking meters or reserved parking areas for businesses. One difficulty is the large number of Bethel students who participate in Renaissance at the studio and offices downtown. Frank Tate said time limits might be a better remedy for parking problems. He said the Industrial Board is working on a strategic plan on many aspects of the city.

*heard Callahan say the unmanned portable speed monitoring devices could be strategically moved throughout the city to indicate where manpower needs to be and at what times of the day.

*heard Callahan suggest the return of the city wheel tax as a revenue source. Mayor Holland said the revenue and expenses "are a wash" because of the considerable cost of selling the wheel tax stickers and the city's limited enforcement capability.

*heard Frank Tate say there are grants, such as one from Major League Baseball, to help improve baseball facilities.

*heard Jennifer Waldrup say the splash pad in downtown McKenzie will soon be complete. Much of the work has been performed by local contractors, said Waldrup.

*heard Mayor Holland say construction on the Dollar Tree has not yet restarted, but should be complete later this year. Part of the delay is the building was originally being constructed as a Family Dollar, but since Family Dollar and Dollar Tree have merged, it is now supposed to be a Dollar Tree.

Dillahunty said the school system has received $600,000 in secured donations and $115,000 in proposed pledges with more funding expected.

She said, "I am thankful for the generous support of our community. Now that the dream of a synthetic playing surface at Paul Ward Stadium is becoming reality, excitement is definitely building."

During the May 18 meeting of the Huntingdon Special School District Board of Education, board members, at the recommendation of Director of Schools Pat Dillahunty, unanimously approved the $748,405 complete bid submitted by Hellas Construction of Austin, Texas to construct a multi-use, synthetic turf playing surface and four-lane running track at Paul Ward Stadium.

Dillahunty informed board members prior to approval that Hellas bid includes the installation of concrete, field base, synthetic turf, asphalt track base and additional asphalt as needed, track surface and logos.

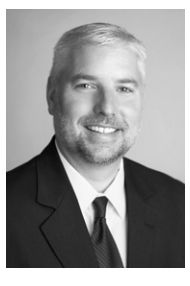

HSSD Chairman Dr. Lee Carter commended local businesses and individuals for their generosity in funding the new synthetic field surface.

He said, "As thankful as we are for the donations received so far, we want to encourage a spirit of perpetual donating so that money will be available when the time comes to resurface the field and pay for future school-related projects. I am proud of the financial support provided by our community to achieve this most-worthwhile endeavor. The new synthetic field will provide various usage opportunities for the school and the entire community."

McKenzie Postal Patron Requests Mailbox on Porch

McKENZIE — Mary Harris of Magnolia Street says her requests to have a U.S. Mail receptacle placed on her front porch have been unsuccessful. She said she has physical disabilities that limit her mobility without significant pain.

The adjacent homes, which were vacant for years and recently remodeled, were allowed to place mailboxes on the porches, instead of the roadside, where she is told she will have to place hers. It is a busy highway with a lot of truck traffic, said Harris, who has lived at the same location for 23 years. Presently, she has a PO Box, but desires to have her mail sent to her home. Her late husband preferred the PO Box, said Harris. She was told the placement of the mailboxes on the recently remodeled homes was grandfathered. Since she had no mailbox, hers will have to be placed at the side of the road.

She said a citizen's need should be considered first regarding where the mailbox is to be placed.

Paris Toughens Regulations On Temporary Vendors

BY SHANNON MCFARLIN
WENK/WTPR News Director

PARIS — After hearing the pros and cons from members of the public, the Paris City Commission Thursday night toughened the regulations governing temporary vendors.

During the public hearing prior to approval of the ordinance, Henry County Alliance CEO David Hamilton spoke out against roadside vendors who he said are taking business away from local businesses.

Attorney Chad Cox, representing Paris Fresh Market Produce, which does business in the parking lot of NAPA on Mineral Wells Ave., asked for an extension until September 1 before the new requirements take effect. The proposed ordinance had required changes by June 1 and City Manager Kim Foster said the proprietors of Fresh Market Produce had been notified of that deadline.

The ordinance allows on any commercial lot more than one principal business and requires that the principal businesses must all be housed in permanent buildings. The ordinance would allow limit a 'peddler's permit' to a maximum two week period twice during any calendar year. The ordinance further defines the definitions of seasonal vendors.

Foster noted, "The reason we are at this point where we are tonight is that every year as their inventory grew and the length of their season grew, they've grown out of being considered a temporary business. When they started organizing their business at the end of March this year, we realized they didn't qualify as a peddler in our ordinance. They're now in the category of a business, so we needed to change the ordinance to cover this scenario."

Foster said she had discussed the matter with the proprietors, who did acquire a business license. She said she notified them that the city was considering a change in the ordinance which would require a June 1 deadline for them to locate in a permanent structure. She said she also reminded them Tuesday of the June 1 deadline.

Cox said Paris Fresh Produce was respectfully requesting an extension to September 1 to allow them time to finish their current selling season. He said, "They have abided with the permits" and noted they are seeking a covered building for the future.

In his remarks, Hamilton said he supports the ordinance toughening the rules for temporary businesses and peddlers. "I don't feel the roadside vendors should be completely" done away with, but that they should be limited. "They are hurting our local businesses," he said. "Local businesses don't mind competition, but it should be fair competition."

He noted that the temporary businesses and peddlers do not have the overhead expenses that permanent businesses have.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

The Odd Professor...and Country Royalty

The last time I was in Lexington, Virginia, we were getting soundly thrashed in a baseball game by Washington and Lee University. Lyndon Johnson was president, nobody had walked on the moon and my little brother was preparing for a tour of Viet Nam.

I was back now to see the home, and final resting place, of Thomas J. Jackson... or, at least, where most of him is buried. I know he was a famous Civil War General and I appreciate his skills but that is not why I was here. He was by all accounts a wonderful husband, a devout Christian and a leading citizen of Lexington. I wasn't interested in that.

He organized and taught an African-American Sunday School class in the 1850's which, of course, was strictly illegal at the time. I found that intriguing but it was not why I made the nine hundred mile trip.

General Jackson believed that one arm was heavier than the other. He thought some of his internal organs were shifted slightly out of place. To counter balance these maladies he would stand ramrod straight for hours and lean slightly to one side so his internal parts could slide closer to their proper positions. He would raise his "heavy" arm for long periods so the blood could flow down to his body and lighten the offending appendage.

He ate very little. Mostly bread and buttermilk and the simple vegetables he grew out in his back yard. He took cold baths each morning, followed by a long brisk walk, rain or shine. He never leaned back in a chair or slouched. That rushed too many bad elements to his stomach area. If he had a sore throat, he was convinced the problem originated in his liver. He didn't take black pepper on anything because that added weight to his "heavy" leg.

How could you not drive a few miles out of the way to find out more about a fellow like this?

I don't know for a fact but at the first Battle of Manassas it has been reported that as the Yankees approached up Henry House Hill Jackson had one arm high in the air seeking balance. His troops thought it meant stop backing up, stand here and fight, so they did. Confederate General Bernard Bee, taking all this in, rallied his troops by shouting "look at Jackson standing like a stone wall".

The name stuck. And so did the legend.

Jackson was a West Pointer. He was a veteran of the Mexican War, where he served with distinction. He found his way to Lexington in 1851, accepting a position at the Virginia Military Institute. He became Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy...ye gads! Those poor cadets!

He turned a chair to the wall each night in his house on East Washington Street and sat laboriously studying the next day's lesson; then he recited it verbatim the following morning to the disinterested students. If one of them asked a question, he started at the top and recited the entire lesson again. There were few questions.

He taught Artillery in the afternoon with a little more success. When the Civil War broke out he was ordered to march the VMI Cadets to Richmond to help train the young southern recruits. Jackson turned out to be a better General than he was a school teacher.

I decided to follow his 1862 trail up the Shenandoah Valley. I know he lost his left arm in the fighting at Chancellorsville and I was wondering if I could find where it was buried and if it was the "heavy" one and if the war might have turned out differently if he hadn't been accidently shot by his own men when I saw the Patsy Cline sign.

I slid the car to a halt right in the middle of the Interstate—and backed that thing up to make sure I'd read it right. We were coming into Winchester, Virginia, and the billboard proclaimed it to be the hometown of the one and only PATSY CLINE! The sign directed us to the next exit where you could visit her girlhood home.

Man, I had to see where she went "Walkin' After Midnight"! It was a four room house smaller than Stonewall Jackson's place. No plumbing, no facilities, not hardly enough room to turn around... it could drive you "Crazy" or make you "Fall to Pieces".

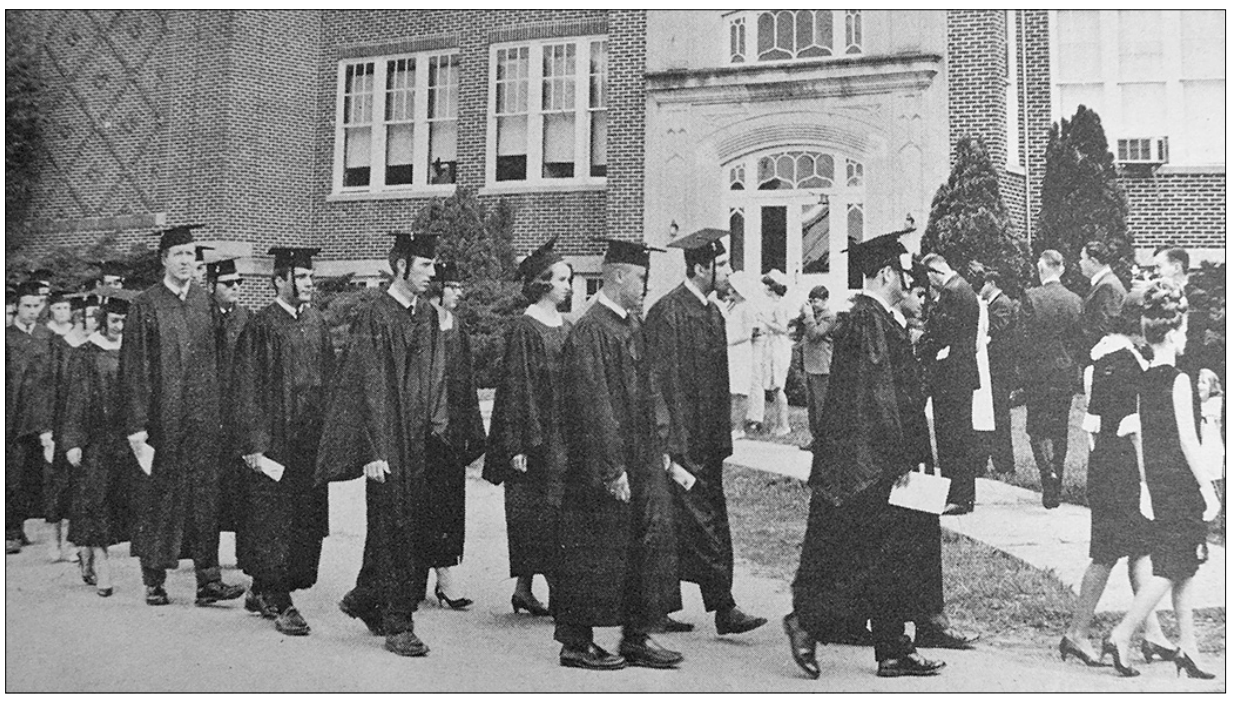

I got to telling the guide about Patsy's childhood and her first husband and how she got on the Arthur Godfrey Talent Show in 1957 and how Willie Nelson wouldn't even go into her house and her friendship with Loretta Lynn and about the terrible plane crash near Camden, Tennessee, that took her life. The lady asked if I would stay and explain all of this to the next tour.

"I'm sorry ma'am. I can't, I've got to get going. I'm looking for an arm."

Respectfully,
Kes

DPAC Presents School of Rock Camp July 17-21

Courtesy Michelle Mitchell

The School of Rock – Nashville is partnering with the Dixie Carter Performing Arts and Enrichment Center (DPAC) in Huntingdon to offer a one-week Rock and Roll Camp for 3rd-12th graders from Monday, July 17 through Friday, July 21.

Cost is $250 per student with a limit of 20 students only. No cancellations. Students bring bottled water and a packed lunch each day.

From 9 a.m. 4 p.m., students will experience what it's like to be in a Rock and Roll Band. They will learn how to be a team player/band member, build confidence, meet some great new friends, and, most importantly, have fun making music!

Group rehearsal, music trivia, song casting, one-on-one attention from instructors, gear education and band-related activities are all aimed at helping kids learn a new set of songs and be totally ready to rock them by the end of the week!

All levels of musical experience are welcome, whether you play drums, sing, shred guitar or bass or play keyboard - you will have a blast!

Dresden native, School of Rock franchise Nashville and Franklin owner and Hamilton Ryker President Kelly McCreight said, "We're excited to be partnering with The Dixie to offer a summer camp in West Tennessee. Our goal at the School of Rock is to teach music through performance, and there's no better way to learn than by playing on stage."

He added, "Similar to sports, students learn by practicing but by also playing in games. That's what our summer camp is about—coming together to learn music and then perform it on stage with lights, sound, and a live audience. Playing music live teaches teamwork and collaboration, builds confidence, but mostly-it's just a lot of fun!"

This one week camp culminates in a full-on rock concert by the students on Friday, July 21 at 7 p.m.

‘Casting for a Cure’ Lures Many Young Anglers

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (June 10) — Over 140 young anglers gathered Saturday morning at McKenzie Recreation Park for the 17th annual Steve McCadams’ Casting for a Cure Kids Fishing Rodeo. The event benefits Carroll County Relay For Life and the American Cancer Society.

Beautiful weather made for a pleasant day as the youngsters and their families lined the banks of the lake for several hours.

McCadams, a McKenzie native and professional outdoors guide, served as emcee for the rodeo, while volunteers from the community, including members of Carroll County Relay and the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency, assisted with the event. The TWRA stocked the lake with fish several days before, and agents were on-hand Saturday for the official weigh-in of each kid’s catch.

Following the final weigh-in, McCadams presented awards and prizes.

First, Kennedy Doggett, 7, of Danville, Illinois earned the award for being the angler who traveled the farthest (346 miles) to participate.

Then, awards for Biggest Fish and Most Fish were presented in each age group. Besides a plaque, each winning angler received a bicycle.

Ages 1-5: Landon Harrison (Biggest); Kaylee Anne Ferguson (Most).

Ages 6-8: Analeese Arnold (Biggest); Brody Davis (Most).

Ages 9-12: Crystl Eis (Biggest); Jaxon Mims (Most).

Ages 13-15: Kylan Borneman (Biggest); Brandon Moore (Most).

The Nashville Predators of the National Hockey League donated several items to the event, and McCadams drew names to randomly award the valuable memorabilia. Winning a jersey autographed by the team was Boo Cary of McKenzie, while three pucks, each signed by a Predators player, went to Jackson Hamilton of Medina and Ty Scott and Bryan Stone, both of McKenzie. The Predators also donated dozens of the team’s rally towels to be given to participants.

The contribution was apt, as the team, who on Saturday were still competing for a championship in the Stanley Cup Finals, is known for its fans’ tradition of throwing catfish onto the ice during home games.

To close the event, each participant was presented with several prizes.

Members of the Morning Glory Garden Club were guests of the McKenzie Garden Club during its 90-year anniversary open house.

McKenzie Garden Club Hosts 90-Year Anniversary Event

McKenzie Garden Club is celebrating its 90th anniversary in McKenzie. The event was celebrated with an open house on May 26.

McKenzie Garden Club President Donna Ward called the meeting to order at the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. She thanked hostesses Myra Sasser and Judy McCadams and all who worked on decorating the previous afternoon. Willie Mae Forester gave the devotional based on the 67th Psalm. She stated that our lives are often like stained glass. We are made of broken pieces that when forged together become stronger than before.

Members answered the roll call with thoughts taken from the Spice of Life. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer’s report was given and approved as read.

Donna reported on the project at Bethel in conjunction with the summer youth camp. Members discussed some plans for the flower beds in front of the Vera Low building on campus. Members who worked at the Triangle Park work day were thanked for their help.

Correspondence included a thank you from Victoria Ard’s husband for a card sent from the club and also a note from Glynda Rich thanking members for their support during the illness and death of her husband. Members sang to Willie Mae Forester who had had a birthday on May 19 and Donna Hodge whose birthday was May 22. Victoria Ard will have a birthday on July 20.

Donna thanked members for making the Open House possible. Myra Sasser made a motion to adjourn the meeting and Victoria Ard seconded it. Members recited the Collect to close the meeting.

Following the meeting an Open House was held to commemorate the 90th year of the club. Members of the Morning Glory Garden Club and former members of the McKenzie Garden Club were invited and special guest Mayor Jill Holland was also invited and attended. Mayor Holland’s great-great grandmother was a founding member.

Gena Manner, of the Morning Glory Garden Club, spoke about how in 1891 twelve ladies in Athens, Georgia and Chattanooga began the formation of clubs in their area. Later, in 1927, 17 of those charter clubs met and as a result McKenzie Garden Club was one of the clubs started.

Members and guests enjoyed refreshments and looked over the 90 years of membership books and other memorabilia on display.

Comer Signs with Lady Wildcat Softball

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (June 6) — Anna Comer, standout for the Lady Rebel softball and basketball teams, has chosen the diamond over the hardwood to continue her athletic career at the next level.

Tuesday, Comer signed with Bethel University's Lady Wildcats, joined in the Vera Low Center by her parents, several former teammates and new Bethel Head Coach Ellen Reed.

In an interview with The Banner, Comer said, "I'm excited that Coach Ellen gave me the opportunity. I'm glad to be staying in my hometown and to be playing for such an accomplished coach [referring to Reed's illustrious playing career]."

When asked about the tough choice between two sports she's played for many years, she admitted she had always wanted to play college basketball. Then, she said, over the last few years, she began to really enjoy softball in a new way and also became very close to her teammates.

"I've had the best experiences. The other players and their parents have been like family."

Comer added that she hopes to become more consistent at the plate at the next level.

Coach Reed said of her first signing as a head coach, "I'm excited for Anna to join our program," citing her desire to compete. "You can't teach that. It has to come from within."

The new coach had the opportunity to see Comer play in the Lady Rebels' recent substate appearance and in the West Tennessee All-Star Game in Jackson.

She sees some big potential value in Comer's ability to play multiple positions and plans to try her out as a utility player and "see what she earns her way into."

Bethel Bass Cats Net Third at Yeti FLW College National Championships

Ranked #1 in Nation

Courtesy Garry Mason

ROGERSVILLE, Ala. (June 4) — Bethel University Wildcat Anglers K.J. Queen and partner Evan Owrey took third place in the Yeti FLW College National Championship this past week at Lake Wheeler near Rogersville, Alabama.

The Wildcat team had a three-day total of 42 pounds, 11 ounces to finish just two pounds shy of first place behind Kansas State and South Carolina.

Queen commented, "It was a tough three days of competition. We fished hard each day, but on our third day we just could not come up with that one big fish that we needed to move into first place and take the lead."

The third place finish was the second top-twenty finish in consecutive weeks in two different national championships as the pair of Bethel anglers had just placed eleventh in the Cabela's Boat US National Championship the week before at Florence, Alabama on Pickwick Lake.

"The effort of all of the season's hard work has really paid off, "said Head Bass Fishing Coach Garry Mason. "We have had a record-breaking season so far, and this upcoming week we head to the Bassmasters College Wildcard event on Lay Lake near Sylacauga, Alabama."

Mason added, "This past weekend the new national rankings came out from Bass Rankings.com, and the Bethel Wildcats are ranked number one in the nation for the second time in three years. To gain a number one ranking in any collegiate sport is huge and very tough to do in the highly competitive sport of bass fishing."

He concluded, "We are so very proud of our team and our Bethel University anglers. They are at the top of the college fishing world and are known throughout the nation's top college and professional Bass fishing ranks as one of the top teams in America."

After the Wildcard event, the Wildcats traveled to Minnesota to fish in the Bassmasters College National Championship where they won second place last season and Bethel Angler John Garrett won the Bassmasters College Classic Bracket for the opportunity to fish the Bassmasters Classic.

The Wildcat team also finished fourth in the American College Anglers School Points of the Year program which judges each of over 220 college fishing team by their season performance through a points system.

Shooting Hunger Clay Shoot Benefits Second Harvest Food Bank

BY ERNIE SMOTHERS
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (June 8) — On a beautiful, sun-drenched afternoon, thunderous and repetitive shotgun fire filled the air as hundreds of shooting enthusiasts from West Tennessee and states as far away as Minnesota gathered at Carroll County Shooting Complex at West Tennessee's first-ever Shooting Hunger Sporting Clays Shoot sponsored by Tennessee Farm Bureau, Farm Credit Mid-America, and Tennessee agriculture to benefit the Second Harvest Food Bank.

Watching the festivities, Second Harvest Food Bank West Tennessee Development Manager Donna Vick, joined by Second Harvest of Middle Tennessee's Jaynee Day and Vivian Bowmen, spoke enthusiastically about the event and the Second Harvest's ongoing mission to evolve services to feed West Tennesseans.

A Camden native, Vick said she was proud of the turnout for the first-ever West Tennessee Shooting Hunger Clays Shoot event.

She said, "The first group of 52 competitive teams just finished the first flight and enjoyed a delicious barbeque meal of chicken quarters perfectly prepared by Tyson Foods grill team. Now, we are preparing to deliver the remaining food to pantries in the area to feed area folks."

She continued, "We are thankful members of the National American Federation of Farmers are on hand along with West Tennessee Second Harvest's first platinum sponsor, Tosh Farms. We are thankful for Jimmy Tosh and his company for assisting us in bringing Second Harvest's service to families in this area."

Day added, "We are excited about the turnout today. The weather is excellent, and we are delighted to have reached many potential new donors. We are also so thankful for our farmers. None of this could be done without them. They grow the food that feeds the people. With their help as partners with Second Harvest, we will be able to feed many hungry people and continually grow our service area."

Bryant Rhodes of Dresden shoots a target during West Tennessee's first-ever

Day said, "The hunger situation in our state is very real. One in six adults is at risk of hunger and one in four children in Tennessee do not know where they will get their next meal."

Vick responded, "Compounding the problem of hunger in West Tennessee is the loss of businesses to towns like Bruceton. Once a thriving community, Bruceton experienced a great loss when H.I.S. moved away. As a result, several businesses closed and the population decreased. Times got tough for a lot of good, hard-working people."

She continued, "A few years ago, however, my friend and Hollow Rock-Bruceton High School educator Christy Bratton and I worked to create a food distribution program for needy children that attend school there. Many of those children had little to eat on weekends. Now they receive a backpack of nutritious food to take home on weekends."

She added, "It is a blessing to provide food to the hungry, but we could not do it without donations from the public and great events like Shooting Hunger Sporting Clay Shoots."

Vick said that the Department of Economic and Community Development had chosen a site in the Benton County Industrial Park in Camden to erect a future food distribution warehouse for Second Harvest Food Bank's West Tennessee mission. She said, "We have embarked on a $3 million fundraising project to fund construction of Second Harvest's 35,000-square-foot Western Branch distribution center in Camden. When it opens, the center is projected to serve about 48,000 citizens the first year in 13 at-risk West Tennessee area counties that include Carroll and Henry. I am so excited about the possibility of helping my neighbors."

Day concluded, "The mission of Second Harvest is to collect food that would otherwise be wasted, inspect and sort this food, and distribute it to soup kitchens, pantries, and shelters serving the hungry. Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee and Mid-South Food Bank has recognized the need of economically-disadvantaged families in Carroll, Henry and Benton Counties and responding by reaching out to these and many hunger-affected communities throughout West Tennessee. We are all in this together."

Dr. Johnson Goes Greener with Geothermal System

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE — Dr. Roger Johnson, Professor of Physics and Computer Science at Bethel University, recently took the next step in making his home more energy efficient and less dependent on fossil fuels by installing a geothermal heating and air conditioning system.

The project improves on the efficiency and independence provided by Johnson's solar panels, which have been providing his home with electricity for several years.

In an interview with The Banner, Johnson explained that the geothermal system is basically an electric heat pump and air conditioning system. Water and wood alcohol are circulated through a closed loop of pipe that goes 250 feet straight down into the ground.

Dr. Roger Johnson (left) observes as workers from Total Service Company drill two 250-foot holes in his backyard for the geothermal system. Photo by Brad Sam/The Banner

"The temperature at that depth is about 55 degrees Fahrenheit all the time," he said. "In the winter, the system operates like a heat pump, but it uses the circulating water at 55 degree instead of the cold winter air. In the summer, the system dumps heat from the house into the circulating water at 55 degrees instead of the hot outside air."

The result, he said, is a system that is more energy efficient than a standard system and thus uses less fossil fuel.

In April, Total Service Company of Mississippi drilled the two 250-foot holes in Johnson's backyard for the pipes and HydroTemp of Arkansas installed the system. Johnson's older home had to be retrofitted to receive the new system.

Johnson hopes his efforts and investments can do more than just save himself money in the long run. "The point is to show that we can be independent of fossil fuels," he said.

Attorney Reveals The Only Realistic Way To Protect Your Home and Life Savings

Why You MUST Plan Ahead to Eliminate Government Intrusion

Nothing is more frustrating than knowing that everything you've worked for will be gone when you get sick or pass away…unable to leave your home and life savings to your loved ones. Attorney John Stevens thinks he can fix that. Attorney John Stevens developed a free educational event that's helped thousands of families preserve and protect everything they've acquired and worked for. Regardless of your family and financial status, you can now preserve what you have during your lifetime, and pass it along to your loved ones without the typical government interference of taxes, nursing home poverty, and probate. Here's how…

One of the great-est fears of our seniors is that they end up in a nursing home, resulting in a great loss of personal autonomy, but also at a catastrophic financial price. Depending on your level of care, nursing homes cost between $60,000 and $100,000 a year. Most people end up paying for nursing home care out of their savings until they run out. Then they qualify for Medicaid to pick up the cost. When you die, Medicaid exercises its Estate Recovery rights forcing your home to be sold.

Your heirs get nothing…nada…zip. The last thing on your mind when you're healthy is considering what life might be like when you aren't. But as you age, you're likely to need costly help, like nursing home care. The wealthy can afford to pay for it, and the poor can immediately qualify for coverage through the Medicaid program. It's the middle class that has worked a lifetime and saved but can lose it all due to the exorbitant high cost of long term care. Years ago long term care planning was not considered in the estate planning process, but the cost of any needed care today can destroy most estate plans. To protect from being forced to surrender your estate to the government, you MUST put legal strategies in place now...FIVE YEARS BEFORE you wind up in the nursing home...before its too late.

Attend A Free Event And Discover How To:

- Stop worrying that you'll fail at leaving your estate intact to loved ones;
- Keep Estate Settlement Simple;
- Find out if you should have a Last Will or Trust (or both!);
- Protect your spouse in case of your illness, disability, or death
- Keep the government out of your estate settlement;
- Avoid losing your home and life savings to nursing home poverty.

McKenzie Police Reports

Driving on suspended license/speeding — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Austin Jones, on June 11 at 6:56 p.m., the officer noticed a blue four door car traveling at a high rate of speed on Main Street. Jones confirmed by radar that the driver and sole occupant of the vehicle was traveling at 33 in a 20 mile per hour zone. After stopping the vehicle and checking the driver's license, Jones identified the man as Jesus Garza. A computer check revealed Garza's license was suspended on April 6, 2017 indefinitely for failure to appear on case number 35633. Garza was charged with driving on a suspended license first offense and speeding.

Public Intoxication — According to a report filed by MPD Officer Coleman, the officer was parked near the electrical department when he noticed an individual staggering down the street, walking to his residence at 502 Walnut Avenue. The officer asked the individual, who was identified as Brian Sawyer, to perform some field sobriety tests. After Sawyer declined and told the officer to leave him alone, Coleman arrested Sawyer for public intoxication and transported him to the Carroll County Jail. Sawyer was cited into the General Sessions Court and was released after eight hours in custody.

Driving on Suspended, Revoked License/Expired Registration/Financial Responsibility — On June 5 at approximately 8:35 p.m., a traffic stop on a red 1996 Ford Explorer on Walnut Avenue was conducted for expired registration. The driver, Ricky King, could not provide proof of insurance or an updated registration. A check revealed King's license is currently revoked for failure to satisfy fines in Carroll County General Sessions on March 8, 2016. King was cited into General Sessions Court for driving on revoked first offense, expired registration, and financial responsibility.

Driving on Suspended/Revoked License — On June 8 at 10:06 p.m., an officer noticed a vehicle traveling above the speed limit and used the radar to confirm the vehicle was traveling 56 in a 40 mile per hour zone. The officer conducted a traffic stop and found the driver, Sabrina Davis, was driving on a suspended Kentucky drivers license from December 4, 2015 on a DUI charge. Davis was cited into General Sessions for her first driving on suspended license charge.

Driving on Suspended/Revoked License/Financial Responsibility/Lights on Motor Vehicle — According to a report filed by MPD Officer Coleman, he was parked at Exxon when he noticed a vehicle pull into the parking lot with its passenger side headlight not working. After a traffic stop, the driver, Robert Freeman, told Coleman he did not have a drivers license or insurance. A check revealed Freeman's license to be revoked for failure to satisfy fines in Weakley County. Coleman arrested Freeman since this was his second offense on driving with a revoked license. The vehicle was towed and Freeman was cited for financial responsibility, light law violation, failure to change address on drivers license, and failure to change address on registration.

DUI/Simple Possession or Casual Exchange/Driving on Suspended, Revoked License — On June 10 at 7:30 p.m., a concerned citizen called MPD about a silver Dodge truck that was driving recklessly on Highway 79 coming from Trezevant. MPD Officer Coleman conducted a traffic stop and found the driver, Jerry D. Gilbert, had no insurance or registration. A computer check revealed Gilbert's license to be revoked. Gilbert admitted he was under the influence of marijuana and Coleman found a bottle of unprescribed Amitriptyline in the vehicle. It was also discovered that Gilbert's license plate belonged to another vehicle. Coleman arrested him for DUI first offense, financial responsibility, simple possession, unlawful removal of decal, violation of vehicle lacking vin and failure to maintain lane.

Criminal Simulation — On June 10, Emily K. Lowe, secretary at E.W. James, brought a counterfeit $20 bill to MPD with a Ser. # of JH29434442. The bill was received at E.W. James on June 9.

Driving on Suspended, Revoked License/Financial Responsibility/Light Law Violation — According to a report filed by MPD Officer Coleman, Coleman initiated a traffic stop on June 11 at 10:46 p.m. after noticing a silver Chevrolet car's passenger tail light was broken. The driver, Dean Brush, was driving on a suspended drivers license for failure to appear in Milan City Court. The proof of financial responsibility that Brush provided Coleman was not valid so Coleman cited Brush with driving on a suspended license first offense, financial responsibility, and light law violation.

Driving on Suspended, Revoked License/Light Law Violation/Driving an Unregistered Vehicle — On June 11 at 9:22 p.m., MPD Patrolman Austin Jones was traveling on Walnut Avenue when he noticed a black lawn mower traveling on the road. The lawn mower had no rear warning device and was outfitted with speakers, an amp, and numerous batteries but lacked a mowing deck. The driver, Thomas Manuel, explained that it was a personal transportation device or vehicle. The lawn mower was seized and a license check revealed Manuel's license was revoked. Manuel was cited for driving an unregistered vehicle, violation of Tennessee light law, and second offense of driving with a revoked license.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
