Dogs Make Flight To Northeast

CARROLL COUNTY (March 28) — Five puppies boarded a Cessna 205 airplane Saturday at Carroll County Airport en route to Wisconsin via three-hour, 15-minute flight. The mixed-breed pups were adopted from the Huntingdon/Carroll County Animal Shelter and were transported by Pilots N Paws, a volunteer organization that transports pets.

Lisa Oatsvall, Trisha Crowley, and Steve Oatsvall cared for the five pups and carefully transferred the adopted pets to Don Rieser and Ray Damijoniatis of Pilots N Paws.

Lisa said the pups were picked up from a feral mom on State Route 423 near McKenzie. The pups are a border collie mix. The Memphis Area Golden Retriever Rescue helped facilitate the adoption. The northeast has strict spay and neuter laws, which creates a need for adoptions from the south, where the laws are less strict. Mrs. Oatsvall said the Huntingdon Pound needs donations of food and funds to help spay and neuter and feed the animals. Phone 731-986-3693 or e-mail friendsofhuntingdon-pound@gmail.com.

McKENZIE (March 21) — Johnson Temple Church hosted the Pioneers Banquet at Webb School on Saturday afternoon to honor Carroll County's African American senior citizens for their contributions to black history. Though many were unable to attend, nearly a hundred were honored at the event, which had been delayed from February due to winter weather. Johnson Temple Pastor Wilma Pearson was the emcee for the afternoon, and opened the event by leading all guests in singing "Lift Every Voice", with Jeannie Haney on piano. James Milam then led a prayer and blessing of the meal.

Pastor Pearson then spoke about the purpose of the banquet. Normally, the annual event features a guest speaker, but Pearson explained that she realized that "there is black history right here in McKenzie and all across Carroll County." She offered that it was her goal to honor those in the county over the age of 75, saying, "We are celebrating you today for paving the way." Cory Tharpe then sang a moving rendition of "I'll Fly Away".

Guests were then treated to a delicious meal prepared and served by the Johnson Temple food committee. Gospel music played as the meal was enjoyed and fellowship shared. Honorees were then recognized, with Reverend George Nolen presenting certificates to those that served in the military, Mayor Jill Holland to those who were teachers in Carroll County, and Pastor Pearson to all others.

After all were honored, Pearson offered thanks again for their countless contributions and sang "Give Them the Roses". Mayor Holland thanked Pearson for the invitation, saying, "I'm honored to be in the presence of so many who have made such a difference." Several attendees offered thanks to

Huntingdon Presents Two Pinnacle of Excellence Awards

Courtesy of the Carroll County News-Leader

Two Pinnacle of Excellence awards were presented during the Huntingdon Town Council meeting March 24.

Mayor Dale Kelley and council members recognized Brig. General Tommy Baker and Tennessee Highway Patrolman Michael Sullivan with plaques for the outstanding honors they have recently received.

"We're always pleased to see people excel whether it's an individual or a group of people," said the mayor. "We don't give Pinnacle of Excellence awards without people doing great things and bringing recognition to our community and its certainly true tonight."

Baker was recently appointed as brigadier general of the Tennessee National Guard and will also serve as assistant adjutant general of the Army, Tennessee National Guard.

The Pinnacle of Excellence award exemplifies extraordinary achievement, exceptional performance and exemplary standards.

"Tommy has received numerous awards throughout the years while serving in various commands and assignments with the Tennessee National Guard, including two deployments to Kuwait," said the mayor, who noted that only Baker and one other person, J.W. Noles, has been a general from this area and that he was privileged to attend the ceremonies of both. "Tommy has had an outstanding career."

Baker said he considered himself privileged to have grown up in a place that had good schools and a good government. Sometimes you don't know how to appreciate that until you go away because not all places have that. Thanks for the award."

Sullivan was recently honored as the State Trooper of the Year by the Tenn. Dept. of Safety. He is a 13-year veteran of the Tenn. Highway Patrol.

"Trooper Sullivan has distinguished himself in a great way and it's commendable for a person who's been on the Highway Patrol for only

Water Rates to Increase In Paris, BPU District

By Shannon McFarlin
WENK/WTPR News Director

PARIS — The Paris Board of Public Utilities Tuesday approved a new water rate schedule for customers that is needed to help finance a new water treatment plant for the utility district.

The new water rate schedule, according to Assistant General Manager Terry Wimberley, will be much simpler. "We're moving from a more complicated rate schedule to a more simple schedule. The new rate will have a base charge and a flat rate that makes things simpler in our office and simpler for our customers to follow."

The current treatment plant has been in operation since 1950 and, Wimberley said, "The technology has not changed since then. We have had no upgrades since then. We've just added capacity." Even though the water treatment plant has been in operation since 1950, he said, the building that the plant is in is even older than that.

Board Member Ralph Anderson said, "I don't like rate increases but I think we're facing something inevitable here. It's either now or later and the more you keep putting it off, the more it's going to cost. My main concern is that we can provide good safe drinking water to practically to everyone in Henry County."

Board Member Terry Fuller—who also is a member of the Paris City Commission—said, "I started beating this drum when I was on the board before six years ago.

We just have to do it. We have a dinosaur here that's going to be extinct someday."

The new rate schedule is effective July 1. According to figures distributed at the meeting, the base charge begins at $9.85 inside the city of Paris at a cost per 1,000 gallons of $2. In 2016, the base charge inside the city increases to $11 with a cost per 1,000 gallons of $2.25 and in 2016, it increases to $12 and $2.50.

Construction of the new water plant will be performed in three phases. Funding reported available through the State Revolving Loan is $3,450,000, with a total potential for funds through grants that have been applied for of $4,150,400.

Air Evac, Vanderbilt to Provide Air Ambulance Service from Henry County

By Shannon McFarlin
WENK/WTPR News Director

PARIS — Air Evac is actively searching for a permanent location for a local headquarters close to the Henry County Medical Center but in the meantime will be maintaining its local presence, according to Air Evac Program Director Mark Pierce of Paris.

As WENK/WTPR reported recently, Air Evac will be locating temporarily at the Henry County Airport and Pierce said, "The airport has been very welcoming to us. The airport is a little out of the way, though, and we'd like someplace closer to the hospital."

Air Evac will be holding a grand opening when a permanent location is found, Pierce said. He said Air Evac also may hold an open house while they are still at the airport, also.

Air Evac, which is headquartered in Martin, has been serving a large number of customers in Henry County for several years. The company had approached the Henry County Medical Center board will the prospect of locating a base at the hospital. After hearing presentations from Air Evac and Vanderbilt Lifeflight, the hospital board selected Vanderbilt to locate on the grounds of the hospital.

In addition, the board approved the hiring of A2H engineering firm to provide landscape architecture, engineering, topographical surveying, and construction of RV parking pads, and ADA assessable bath house with parking, and a gravel loop drive along with construction observation services necessary for the aforementioned project.

A2H's proposed total fee of $46,000 for the above mentioned scope of services is as follows: construction documents and specifications-$32,000; bidding and negotiation-$3,000; construction observation-$10,000; reimbursable expenses allowance (printing, plotting, courier, mileage)-$1,000.

During an interview, Carroll County 1,000-acre recreational lake manager David Rush said that construction of the 30-slip marina and fueling station should be underway soon.

He said, "Paul Hayes Construction won the fueling station bid and will commence construction soon. The marina and fueling station will be located behind the lake headquarters building on a grassy banked area with a big beach. We are hoping to have that project completed by mid-June."

He continued, "The RV Park will be located on the Highway 70 side of the dam on an elevated plain above the spillway to provide campers with a full view of the water. Weather permitting, we are hoping to have that project completed by this fall. I am excited about the projects. They will provide needed services to our customers and generate additional interest and revenue for the lake."

and Benton County Electric utilize and recommended rate consultant Keith Wilkins.

Wilkins initial engagement fee is $200 per hour and $190 per hour via continuing contract.

Howell responded, "My concern is the number of hours the rate consultant would work and the overall cost we would pay for his services."

In other business, Brawner requested the board to continue employing McKenzie Tree Service of Parsons for system brush removal services.

He said, "We've used McKenzie Tree Service since 2008. Although the current bid they have submitted of $115 per hour is slightly higher than last year's bid, they have done an excellent job for us over the years and I would like for us to continue with them."

Brawner said the $115 cost includes a Hydro-Axe bush hog ($85 per hour) and a support truck ($30 per hour).

Brawner said that Davey Tree will present a bid for similar services soon.

The board authorized Brawner to compare the two bids and select the lowest bid.

Prior to adjournment, the board approved a joint picnic with West Tennessee Public Utility District employees and families at the Carroll County 1,000-acre Recreational Lake.

Brawner commended WTPU Director Brent Dillahunt for suggesting the picnic.

He concluded, "The cost of the joint picnic will probably be less than $1,000. I think it is a great idea. It is great for our companies to continue great relations with one another."

The next CCED Board meeting is set for Thursday, April 30.

and attempted to talk her into surrendering. Dickson arrived with a British-made FN303, non-lethal handgun, and joined the other officers.

The report indicates she looked up, starting praying and raised the gun in the directions of the officers upon which Ms. Munoz was shot three times by Sheriff Dickson. He said the first shot hit her in center mass, the second shot was slightly off center mass and the third was in the face. She fell to the floor and officers quickly removed the handgun from her reach. She was arrested and taken to the hospital, where she was treated and released. The lone injury was to her face, where medical personnel applied an adhesive bandage. She was then transported to the Carroll County Jail. Carey Counseling Center was called to assess Ms. Munoz. She faces three counts of aggravated assault.

Dickson said she moved from a northern state about a year to 1.5 years ago. He praised both Wallace and Decanter for using discretion with their lethal handguns.

Dickson said the department has three of the British-made non-lethal guns, which cost approximately $1,000 each. He found a source for the Sheriff's Department to receive the non-lethal guns free of charge. He expects to receive 35 new weapons this week — one for each of the patrol officers and for use at the jail. The lone cost was shipping at $370.

The non-lethal weapon proved to be an effective tool, said the sheriff.

Trezevant Man Bound Over on Attempted Murder

HUNTINGDON (March 30) Judge John Whitworth, sitting in place of General Sessions Larry Logan, waived Phillip W. Howell's, 52, preliminary hearing and bound him over to the May term of the Carroll County Grand Jury. The appearance day is May 11.

Howell is charged with criminal attempt to commit second-degree murder after a domestic incident at the couple's home at 3395 Highway 77, Trezevant. He was charged by the Carroll County Sheriff's Department on Sunday, March 8 after he reportedly shot through the driver's side door of the car in which his wife was attempting to flee the scene. The bullet or shrapnel hit the leg of Peggy Howell, said Sheriff Andy Dickson.

Mrs. Howell presented herself at the Milan hospital with a gunshot wound. The sheriff said he believes she was treated and released.

Officers recovered the spent casing and the bullet from the car. Several guns were taken from the residence for forensic examination.

Mr. Howell was taken into custody at a residence on Old Lavinia Road. He is free under $50,000 bond.

Huntingdon Will Stand Good for RV Park Funds

Courtesy of the Carroll County News-Leader

The Town of Huntingdon will stand good for the $250,000 being borrowed by the Carroll County Watershed Authority for a RV Park, according to a resolution passed at the March 24 meeting of the Town Council.

The Watershed Authority is borrowing that amount through the Tennessee Municipal Bond that will be used as the required match for the 2014 Local Parks & Recreation Fund grant for the construction of an RV Park at the Carroll County 1,000 Acre Recreation Lake.

"The note will be a 12-year capital outlay note and will be supported by the adoption of the resolution as the town has done on all other prior debt, pledging an ad valorem (property) tax in the event of default," said Mayor Dale Kelley.

Over the 12-year period, $69,664 in interest will be paid.

The Public Safety Department will be getting a drug dog and several pieces of equipment, according to approval given by the Council.

"A dog has been located, but is not through with all of it's training," said the mayor.

The equipment is being acquired through the Dept. of Homeland Security surplus property. The equipment includes: a semi low-bed heavy equipment trailer, scoop type wheeled loader, road grader and an all terrain heavy forklift truck.

"These items will be used to maintain the Police Department's firing range and the roadway to the range," said the mayor. "It will be used to construct a fire training facility for the Fire Department."

Kelley also noted that the Public Safety Department has submitted applications for two grants for the Police and Fire Departments.

"The grant requests are $10,000 each and are for first responder training," said the mayor.

In other business, council members:

- Passed the first reading on an ordinance that provides for the routine review and amendments on various funds for the Fiscal Year 2014-2015. The ordinance provides for routine changes and the addition of the FEMA and insurance claims for the July 2014 flood.

- Passed a resolution to authorize additional personnel to sign disbursement checks in the absence of the mayor or the town recorder. Council member John Sanders and Finance officer Carla Jeffries were authorized for the job.

- Granted a request to sell three police vehicles as surplus property that was purchased through the drug fund.

Hunker Down with Kes

He That Hath An Ear.....

There's a new reverend in town. He seems o.k. But you know how those Baptist ministers can be. It's hard to tell about their disposition, take on life or relationship with the Almighty without some hint of their evangelical upbringing. And I haven't heard him preach that sermon where he's standing on Jordan's stormy banks and casting a wishful eye over to Canaan's fair and happy land.

He hasn't had time to "take off" on John Calvin or defend Martin Luther. I'm sure he can chase rabbits, stomp toes and eat fried chicken like it's the last supper... he is a Baptist! And I'm kinda hoping he's a pan-millennialist when it comes to that end-times thing.

We don't know yet if he's going to let that doctorate degree get in the way of his preaching. I'm not as interested in knowing the Hebrew word for "prostitution" as I am how that fourth man got down there in the fire.

I ain't even heard him pronounce "God" yet. Reverend Duff Huntley, when he was railing against those stiff-necked and wayward Israelites dancing with those golden calves, could get about three and a half syllables out of it. "Gggoddda" was coming to save the righteous and punish the wicked! Brother Huntley always looked over at me when he was speaking to the fallen.

That was at Bethel Church way out on the Steadman Ridge Road. It was light years before air conditioning and pew cushions! When he got down to that part (and he always did) about Hell being real and hot, sweat would be gushing down my little back. I was ten that summer and just beginning to worry about my eternal prospects.

Brother Duff would race back and forth down the center aisle of that small country church like he was parting the Red Sea. I thought the waves actually billowed over on me a few times until I realized it was just sweat flying off Brother Huntley. He'd near 'bout work himself into a frenzy exhorting us to honor "Gggoddda", humble ourselves and get busy bringing in the sheaves.

My mind would sometimes drift out the window to the cemetery stretching across the side lawn. I'd wondered how many saints it held. Had a few rascals slipped in amongst them? You don't suppose there could be a Confederate general resting out there. I, of course, had no idea on those hot summer Sundays so long ago that my grandparents, so many aunts, cousins and uncles would join those interred there. It's where I go today to lay a flower and offer up a prayer of thanks to Mom and Dad.

Brother L. H. Hatcher was the pastor I remember the most. He "worked us over" at the First Baptist Church in McKenzie, Tennessee, during my formative years. Let me tell you, he could preach hot Hell or freezing snow with the best of them. But he seemed to know exactly when to do which. Now there is the mark of a real man of God!

If the First United Methodist Church had a revival back in those days, Mother had us on the front row. I can remember Brother J. K. Stuart introducing the guest speaker like it was yesterday. I spent most of the revival thinking these people are preaching out of the same book the Baptist do. And I worried over the "United" part of their name. All I could reckon was there must be some Methodist churches that were not "in one accord".

Brother Cody preached at the Presbyterian Church right next to us. It was a known fact all around town that he was kin to Buffalo Bill Cody. We snuck over there one Sunday to hear some wild tales about his famous ancestor. Brother Cody sounded just like the Baptist and Methodist to us... except his "Ggodda" didn't have but two syllables. He near about wore us out with scribes, Pharisees and their unrepentant ways. He didn't mention Buffalo Bill one time and he kept looking over at me when he went to stomping on the unremorseful!

Leon took me to the Primitive Baptist Church once because he thought they handled snakes. Now, folks I was sweating more than I did back in the Duff Huntley days! I was also thinking there's not a greedy bone in my body... They can give my snake to the next guy in line! It was all for naught. They sang the best songs I've ever heard in church. I mean to tell you, they shucked some corn down the Jericho Road! And you should have heard Brother Reynolds pronounce "Gggggooooooh!" But they didn't bring forth one snake the whole service. Brother Reynolds did glance over at me when he was marching through Sodom and Gomorrah.

I wish the new pastor well. I know a lot of those folks over at First Baptist. Brother Evans has got his work cut out for him. I'm hoping it ain't nothing his evangelical upbringing and a couple of miracles from God can't overcome.

Repentantly,
Kesley Colbert

Let There Be White by Clayburn Peeples

Well, crisis has been narrowly averted at our house, thanks to the United States Postal Service and second-day delivery. My lovely young wife, as is her custom, is making Easter dresses for our three young daughters, and, as in each spring, there is a race to see whether she will finish them in time.

This year she was far ahead of the game at one point, but then she took on another project that took about twice as long as she thought it would, so when she got back to the dresses there was just enough time, but no more, to finish them before Easter.

So she thought, but a week or so ago she found that she couldn't find white silk organza in any of the fabric stores in the area.

Now I've heard the term "silk organza" all my life, but I've never known what it was until last week. (It's a gauzy, yet crisp and strong, translucent fabric.) She could find off-white and ivory silk organza, but she had to have white. "It's Easter," she said. "It's the season for white." And finally she found a supplier in Chicago who sold her enough for her project and rushed it to our house just in time.

Her plight got me to thinking about Easter and why we wear new clothes on Easter morning. (Or at least, we used to.) Going back as far as medieval England and France, you find references to wearing new clothing and hats on Easter. Poor Robin, an 18th-century almanac maker, even put it to verse:

"At Easter let your clothes be new,
Or else be sure you will it rue."

There was a superstition during those times that if you didn't wear some new article of clothing on Easter morning (if nothing else, a glove or a ribbon) then you would have bad luck the following year. If you didn't wear new clothing on Easter, went one superstition, moths would eat your old clothing.

Indeed, going all the way back to ancient times, even pagan worshipers would wear new clothes in spring to signify renewal and optimism. In 300 A.D. Roman Emperor Constantine decreed that everyone had to wear new clothes on Easter.

At some point, wearing new clothes on Easter became a symbol to mark the end of Lent, when believers, who had worn the same old clothes for weeks, discarded them for new ones.

This Easter finery tradition did not come to America with the settlers, however, early Puritan and Protestant churches seeing no reason for religious celebrations. But after the Civil War, churches began seeing Easter as representing hope. They began calling it the "Sunday of Joy," and women began using the day to trade the dark, winter colors of mourning for the happier colors of spring. The idea evolved that we should wear our very best on Sunday, especially Easter Sunday, to pay homage to the glory of God. The idea of brand-new clothing on Easter, especially white clothing, was encouraged as symbolic of rebirth since early Christian converts wore white baptismal robes.

Thus, the pious 19th-century woman could show reverence and respect to God and get a great-looking dress to boot, wearing her finery as a marker of moral rectitude and a symbol of her earnest faith.

In the 1870s, New York women became so caught up in the fashion aspects of the day that the famous New York Easter parade came into being, and Macy's began, in 1878, to advertise clothing specifically for Easter. Other stores quickly followed suit and stoked the public's desire for Easter fashions. By the 1890s, Easter had become the preeminent festival of the dry goods trade.

The custom waned somewhat during the new century, but it roared back in the prosperous 1950s, as more and more people entered the middle class and could afford new clothing.

And they could also afford, some of them, to wear white clothing during the summer, which rich people always had, but poor people never could, and this brought up the question of when you should wear white clothing.

Well, the rich and fashionable set an unwritten rule about that. Since white is a cooler color, it became customary in the North to wear white only between Memorial Day and Labor Day.

Well that's fine, but here in the South it gets hot long before Memorial Day, and Memorial Day, set up in remembrance of Union soldiers, was for years a Northern holiday only.

In the South, we celebrated Confederate Memorial Day, on different days in each state. Consequently, the white dress/white shoes or whatever rule here became, generations ago, "no white before Easter."

Thus, there is no set rule except that of etiquette, which, up until 40 or so years ago, was like a religion in the South, and vestiges of it still set the boundaries of fashion and decorum. While there are many people who follow the Northern rule and wait until Memorial Day to wear their pretty white dresses and white buck shoes, here in West Tennessee, we don't. We follow the sound traditions of our grandparents and say that Easter is the time at which the summer fashion season begins.

So ladies, if you're in a quandary about what to wear this Sunday, worry no more. It's Easter! Let there be white.

GENERAL

Town of Bruceton Water Quality Report for 2014

Is my drinking water safe?

Yes, our water meets all of EPA's health standards. We have conducted numerous tests for over 80 contaminants that may be in drinking water. As you'll see in the chart, we only detected 8 of these contaminants. We found all of these contaminants at safe levels.

What is the source of my water?

Your water, which is ground water, comes from the Memphis Sand Aquifer. Our goal is to protect our water from contaminants and we are working with the State to determine the vulnerability of our water source to potential contamination. The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) has prepared a Source Water Assessment Program (SWAP) Report for the untreated water sources serving water to this water system. The SWAP Report assesses the susceptibility of untreated water sources to potential contamination. To ensure safe drinking water, all public water systems treat and routinely test their water. Water sources have been rated as reasonably susceptible, moderately susceptible or slightly susceptible based on geologic factors and human activities in the vicinity of the water source. The McKenzie Water Dept. sources rated as reasonably susceptible to potential contamination..

An explanation of Tennessee's Source Water Assessment Program, the Source Water Assessment summaries, susceptibility scorings and the overall TDEC report to EPA can be viewed online at www.tn.gov/environment/dws/dwassess.shtml or you may contact the Water Dept. to obtain copies of specific assessments.

A wellhead protection plan is available for your review by contacting Brian Edwards at the Town of Bruceton between 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. weekdays.

Why are there contaminants in my water?

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. Community water systems are required to disclose the detection of contaminants, however, bottled water companies are not required to comply with this regulation. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Este informe contiene informacion muy importante. Traduscalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

For more information about your drinking water, please call Brian Edwards at 586-2401.

How can I get involved?

Our Water Board meets on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the conference room at City Hall, which is located at 209 Cheatham St. Please feel free to participate in these meetings.

Is our water system meeting other rules that govern our operations?

The State and EPA require us to test and report on our water on a regular basis to ensure its safety. We have met all of these requirements. Results of unregulated contaminant analysis are available upon request. We want you to know that we pay attention to all the rules.

Other information

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA and the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation prescribe regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Do I Need To Take Special Precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about not only their drinking water, but food preparation, personal hygiene, and precautions in handling infants and pets from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Water System Security

Following the events of September 2001, we realize that our customers are concerned about the security of their drinking water. We urge the public to report any suspicious activities at any utility facilities, including treatment plants, tanks, fire hydrants, etc. to 1-800-818-3189.

Presence of Lead in Drinking Water

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Town of Bruceton is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Water Quality Data

What does this chart mean?

- MCLG - Maximum Contaminant Level Goal, or the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
- MCL - Maximum Contaminant Level, or the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology. To understand the possible health effects described for many regulated constituents, a person would have to drink 2 liters of water every day at the MCL level for a lifetime to have a one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect.
- MRDL - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level or MRDL: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for the control of microbial contaminants.
- MRDLG - Maximum residual disinfectant level goal. The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
- AL - Action Level, or the concentration of a contaminant which, when exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
- Below Detection Level (BDL) - Laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present at a level that can be detected.
- Non-Defects (ND) - Laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.
- Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) - Explained as a relation to time and money as one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.
- Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - Explained as a relation to time and money as one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.
- TT - Treatment Technique, or a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Iron: Iron occurs naturally in our raw water and occasionally accumulates in the distribution system. Iron shows up as "red" or "rusty" water at your tap. Although you do not want to drink water that is not clear, iron is not considered to be a hazard to your health. During the most recent round of Lead and Copper testing, 0 out of 10 households sampled contained concentrations exceeding the action level.

Inglennook Book Club March Meeting

The Inglennook Book Club met in March at Lakeside Assisted Living Center with Zia Lock and Donna Ward serving as hostesses. St. Patrick's Day was the theme, and each member received a button commemorating the Irish holiday. (The writer's button said "Irish in training").

Refreshments were served, consisting of green-tinted congealed salad with tiny marsh mellow on a bed of lettuce, Donna Ward's delicious muffins, and assorted beverages.

President Zia Locke called the meeting to order and had members stand for the Pledge of Allegiance, an opening prayer, and the Club Aim and Motto. Zia thanked Donna Ward for serving as co-hostess.

The Recording Secretary called the roll and read the February minutes which were approved as read. Treasurer Donna Ward reported the bank balance.

Under Committee reports, Sunshine Committee Chairman Sheila Rogers was absent. Suzanne Howell reported that get-well cards had been sent to several members who had been ill.

There was nothing to report on membership.

Zia thanked all the committee chairmen for their efforts each month.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Jean McKinnie, Suzanne Howell, and Genia Sherwood (in absentia) who have March birthdays.

There was no Unfinished or New Business.

Vice-President Victoria Ard introduced our speaker, Suzanne Howell, who gave her program on Jan Karon, author of the Mitford series of novels set in North Carolina, Karon's home state. The novel's protagonist is Father Tim, an Episcopal priest who serves his parishioners in the small town of Milford, North Carolina. Father Tim carries the town's burdens in his heart, and each of the novels contains the same characters, who Suzanne said "are as endearing as Andy Griffith, Barney Fife, and Aunt Bea from Mayberry."

Born Joyce Meredith Wilson in the foothills of North Carolina, Karon's writing career began at ten years of age, winning a short story contest that year organized by the local high school. At eighteen, she began working as a receptionist for a Charlotte, North Carolina advertising agency. She advanced in the company after leaving samples of her writing on the desk of her boss, who eventually noticed her work.

Karon went on to a highly successful career in the advertising world, winning awards from Charlotte to San Francisco. In time, she became a creative vice president as a high-profile ad agency in Raleigh. All during her years of advertising, Jan Karon kept alive her childhood ambition to be an author and, at age 50, she left her career in advertising and moved to Blowing Rock, North Carolina to pursue that dream.

After struggling and failing to get a novel underway, she awoke one night with a mental image of an episcopal priest walking down a village street. He was her inspiration, and she began writing weekly installments about Father Tim in her local newspaper, which saw its circulation double as a result of her stories each week. These eventually became the novels now famously known as the "Mitford" novels.

When asked what advice she would give to those who maybe have a dream in their heart but for some reason haven't pursued it yet, she replies: "If God has given you a dream, you'd better get cracking because He wants you to use it. That's why He gives them to us in the first place... God wants us to think highly of the gifts He gives us...He gives everybody at least one gift."

At each club member's place, Suzanne had put a quote from one of Karon's books. One read "Lord, make me a blessing to someone today," from At Home in Mitford. Jan Karon's latest Mitford novel, Somewhere Safe, is currently circulating in our club this year.

There were no announcements. The April meeting will be held at Lakeside with Peggy Chappell and Suzanne Howell serving as hostesses.

After the book passing, the meeting adjourned.

Members present were Victoria Ard, Barbara Boyd, Juanita Finley, Carolyn Goodwin, Suzanne Howell, Geneva Johnson, Zia Locke, Gena Manner, Jean McKinnie, Carolyn Moore, Melinda Popplewell, Marilyn Putman, Cindy Summers, Sally Sutton, Donna Ward, and Elaine Williams.

Paris Post-Intelligencer MCCARTNEY SITE WORK UNDERWAY

The new McCartney Produce distribution center should open within a year. Site work is under way for the new state-of-the-art center off Culley Drive in Paris, according to a joint statement issued by the company, Henry County and the City of Paris. Built with an initial investment of about $7.8 million, the facility is expected to open in the fourth quarter of 2015 or early in 2016. The 52,000-square-foot facility is being constructed by ARCO National Construction Co. of St. Louis. The company distributes fresh produce and related commodities within a 400-mile radius of Paris. It has a workforce of about 100 at its facility in Paris, which has been in operation since 1953. McCartney Produce Co. initially opened in 1947 as a small produce wholesaler delivering to independent grocers and small restaurants in Tennessee and Kentucky.

The Courier STOWE SPEAKS OUT ON CRIME IN HARDIN COUNTY

In his first six months on the job, 24th Judicial District Attorney Gen. Matt Stowe has been a busy man. Despite a demanding schedule, he stopped by the Savannah Rotary Club's meeting recently to share his thoughts on his new position, the problems that plague Hardin County, and possible solutions that he and his team are working on. "I think it is important to have 'feet-on-the-ground' approach," he said. "I know there is the reputation here that if you want to kill someone come to Hardin County," he said. "We are working to change that." Stowe said he has added prosecutors Carthel Smith and Josh Turnbow to his team and the two will become familiar faces in the Hardin County Courthouse. "I have the utmost confidence in both of these men. They both bring different styles that mesh well together," he said. Despite a well-publicized spat with Tennessee Bureau of Investigation officials about the Holly Bobo murder case in Decatur County of which he is no longer a part, Stowe says his half year as district attorney has been beyond rewarding. "Best job I've ever had," he said with a smile.

The Jackson Sun BANK WORKER HOME AFTER TRAUMA

Pamela Janeice Frisbee returned home to Humboldt a day after she was kidnapped and shot multiple times by a man who wanted to rob the bank where she works, according to her son. Zachary Frisbee said his mother was released from Regional Medical Center in Memphis, where she was treated for gunshot wounds to her chest. Meanwhile, her accused attacker, Dominic Williams, made his first appearance in U.S. District Court in Jackson. After his arrest, Williams told an FBI agent that he watched Frisbee open the day on another day and made note of her arrival and departure times, according to an affidavit filed in federal court.

American Cancer Society Relay for Life

1,658,370. This is the projected number of people who will sit in the doctor's office in the United States in 2015 and will hear the dreaded phrase, "You have cancer."

As a previous Relay of Life Team Captain and now a Carroll North Relay Committee Chair, I am always asked to tell why I strongly support the Relay for Life. For me, it is a simple answer. When a cancer patient hears "You have cancer", I want the following sentence they hear to be, "we have a cure." The more our communities reach out and support their local Relay for Life teams and events, the more chances we get to hearing "We have a Cure."

The American Cancer Society (ACS) is set up to help us stay well, get well, find a cure, fight back, and have access to Healthcare and have another birthday.

There are approximately 200 types of cancers. The ACS does not choose to research or focus on just a few types of cancer. The ACS goal is to find a cure for every type of cancer and to offer hope to every cancer patient.

When you donate your time, money, and support to ACS RFL teams and events, you are helping your family member, friend, co-worker or neighbor-wherever they are-to have the ability to receive access to free programs like the Hope Lodge. The Hope Lodge provides cancer patients a free place to stay while getting treatments away from home. Tennessee is the only state that has two Hope Lodges. One lodge is in Nashville and the other is in Memphis. You give a local cancer patient a chance to get free beauty products and skin care and knowledge to help them feel better during the hardest times of treatments through the Look Good... Feel Better program. The ACS can even help a woman receive a free wig. For patients who are struggling with their diagnosis and treatments there are programs like the Patient Navigator (a personal cancer guide) and the I Can Cope (an online cancer education class) and many other Online Communities and support. Then ACS supports strides for breast cancer, St. Jude research, and even fights for us on the legislative level through the ACS CAN. Right now the ACS through the ACS Can program is in Washington fighting for cancer patient rights to healthcare and life-saving treatments. This is all just a fraction of what ACS does and how they use the money you donate to Relay for Life events and teams. I have not even touched on how your money has helped research and bring knowledge to preventive tests, early detection, and treatments. I encourage every person who has doubted that their hard-earned money has positively and directly affected their community, to go to cancer.org. Research for yourself and see just how much your dollars can accomplish and help a cancer patient in your community.

The Carroll North Relay for Life needs your help to raise awareness, to raise funds, and show local cancer survivors our love, our support, and to offer them HOPE. Your time, your money, and your sacrifice do count. You can get involved by becoming a sponsor, join the Carroll North Relay Committee and help plan events, sign up to help fight on the legislative level through ACS CAN, volunteer at Relay events, or create a Relay for Life Team with co-workers, friends and/ or family.

There is a place for EVERYONE and EVERY dollar counts. Please contact Melissa Baker at 1-731-358-4362 (Carroll North Event Leader) for more information.

Remember, don't take away HOPE...Be the HOPE.

Lady Rebels Overpower Westview, 4-0

MCKENZIE (March 28) — Lady Rebel Audrie Washburn doubled in the third inning and tripled in the fourth inning as McKenzie blanked Westview 4-0 in four innings on Saturday.

Lady Rebel hurler Holly Potts struck out one, walked one, and surrendered four hits in four shutout innings for the win.

Lady Charger Ussery lasted just two innings, walked none, struck out two, and allowed two runs to absorb the loss.

MHS jumped out to an early 2-0 lead via Autumn Pratt double and added two runs in the bottom of the third as Carla Craddock crushed a homer to plate Washburn.

Mustangs Overtake Peabody, 10-9

With the score tied at nine, Mustang Josh Furr came to the plate and doubled, bringing home Kade Pearson for the winning run as Huntingdon came from behinds to beat Peabody, 10-9.

Josh Furr racked up three RBIs on two hits to lead Huntingdon to victory.

In a classic offensive slugfest, the Mustangs and Golden Tide combined for 19 runs and 18 hits, including three extra base hits.

Mustang Elijah Wilkerson pitched 2 1/3 innings and allowed no runs in relief for the win.

Peabody mounds man Woods lasted 2 1/3 innings, walked three, struck out four, and allowed four runs for the loss.

In the bottom of the second, Huntingdon grabbed a 1-0 lead as Kolton McMinn singled, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and plated via wild pitch.

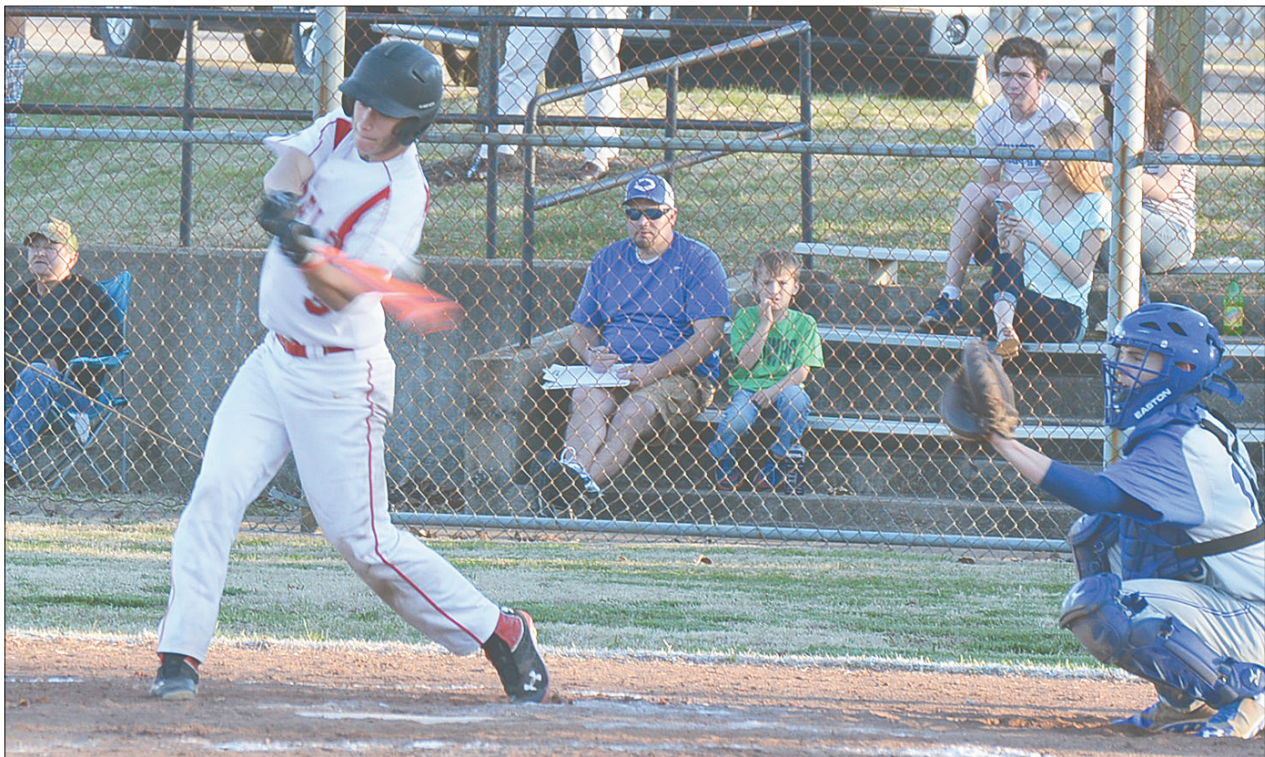

Peabody answered with three runs in the top of the third and four runs in the fourth to widen their lead to 7-1

Holding Huntingdon scoreless, Trenton added two more runs in the top of the sixth to stretch their lead to 9-1 and appeared to be cruising to victory.

Digging deep, the Mustangs responded with eight runs in the bottom of the sixth via a RBI single by Wilkerson, an RBI single by Ben Clift, an RBI single by Josh Coleman, a two-run single by Zack Dodson, a two-run single by Josh Furr, and a wild pitch score by Baker to knot the contest, 9-9.

Following scoreless seventh innings for both squads, Mustang Cade Pearson led off the bottom of the eighth by ripping a single to center. Baker struck out swinging before Furr smashed a double to center to plate Pearson for the emotional win.

With the victory, Huntingdon improves to 5-8 on the season.

Seven-Run Fourth Lifts Rebels Over Tigers

By Brad Sam

banner@mckenziebanner.com

MCKENZIE (March 24) — Rebel pitcher Noah Lowrance overcame a shaky start Tuesday afternoon, giving up five earned runs to the Central Tigers in the first two innings before allowing only one baserunner the rest of the way to a 16-5 victory. McKenzie batters, fresh off a 22-run performance the previous evening, were relatively ineffective in the early innings, but the offense found its rhythm with a seven-run fourth. Lowrance led the way with three hits and four RBIs, including the game-ending hit.

After inducing a lead-off grounder, Rebel pitcher Noah Lowrance gave up a single to Tiger Matthew Dillingham, who was forced out as Logan Belew reached on a fielder's choice. A single by Josh Gentry led to an error that scored Belew, and CJ Noles drew a walk. Jon-Austin Welsh followed with a single to drive in Gentry, but Lowrance struck out the next batter to end the inning. Rebel Jack Surber led off the home half with a single and advanced to second on an error. Tiger pitcher Grant Davis walked Mitchell Lunn, and Lowrance drove in Surber with a single. Chase Kelley hit another to knock in Lunn and knot the game at 2-2. Davis retired the next three in a row, including a strikeout, to end the threat.

Davis helped his own cause at the mound by hitting a single to lead off the second frame. Lowrance struck out the next batter, but issued a walk to Tiger Jacob Ervin. Dillingham singled again, and Davis crossed the plate on an error. Belew also singled for the second consecutive at-bat, and a wild pitch and an error plated Ervin and Dillingham, respectively. Lowrance stopped the damage at three runs with a flyout and a strikeout. Trailing 5-2, Rebel Dalton Barger drew a lead-off walk, and Noah McEwen reached on an error that sent Barger to third. Surber notched an RBI on a groundout to score Barger, and Lunn drew a walk. Lowrance drove in McEwen with a single to cut the deficit to a run, but Davis induced two routine outs to keep the Tigers out front, 5-4.

In the third, Lowrance struck out the lead-off batter and induced a grounder for two quick outs. He issued a six-pitch walk to Davis, but struck out the next batter to hold Central scoreless for the first time in the game. Davis walked Rebel Bransen McCaleb on four pitches to lead off the bottom half, and the runner advanced on a passed ball. A grounder resulted in the first out, but McCaleb advanced to third. Davis hit Barger with a pitch, and Noah McEwen drove in McCaleb on a groundout. Davis got out of the inning with a flyout to keep the game tied 5-5.

Lowrance retired the Tigers in order to start the fourth, including a strikeout. Davis' first pitch in the home half got a piece of Mitchell Lunn, and Lowrance drew a traditional walk. Chase Kelley reached on an error to load the bases, and Brandon Baucum was hit to score Lunn and give the Rebels their first lead of the game. McCaleb drew an RBI walk, scoring pinch-runner Michael Floyd, and James Stephens reached on another error as pinch-runner Austin Travis scored. Dalton Barger broke things open on a full count with a base-clearing triple before

MCKENZIE (March 30) — Jack Surber was perfect, Brandon Baucum threw a no-hitter, and the offense was running on all cylinders as the Rebels swept the Big Sandy Red Devils in a Monday afternoon double-header. Surber pitched a perfect three-inning Game 1, striking out eight in a 15-0 win. Baucum also struck out eight and didn't allow a hit in Game 2, but gave up an unearned run via a walk, a wild pitch, and an error. A third-inning Rebel surge also ended the nightcap early, 19-1.

Excelling as well in the classroom, Justin is currently completing four honor classes and four dual enrollment classes.

Justin feels one of his biggest strength is his confidence in his iron play.
Coach Monte Cunningham was excited about the signing. "We are thrilled Justin has decided to continue his career as a student athlete with our golf program. He excels on and off the course, and he will be a big part of our program for the next four years."

Katherine Koestner to Speak at Bethel on Wednesday, April 8

MCKENZIE — Katherine Koestner, a national expert on student safety and wellness issues, will speak at Bethel University Wednesday night, April 8 at 7:30 p.m. in Crisp Arena. The event, sponsored by the school's Department of Housing and Student Life, is part of a month-long celebration to commemorate Sexual Assault Awareness Month in April. The event is free and open to the public, and high school students as well as church youth and adult groups are encouraged to attend.

Ms. Koestner has presented to more than one million students in the U.S. As the first victim of date rape to speak out nationally and publically about her experience at The College of William and Mary, she appeared on the cover of TIME Magazine in June of 1991. HBO made a movie about her story in 1993. Ms. Koestner has appeared on The Oprah Winfrey Show, Geraldo, NBC Nightly News, CNBC Talk Live, Larry King Live, Good Morning America, Later Today, CNN, Entertainment Tonight, MTV, Lifetime Television, Italian TV, The Jane Whitney Show, The Big Idea with Donny Deutsch, and dozens of other news programs. She has given interviews for the Washington Post, New York Times, Chicago Tribune, Los Angeles Times, Philadelphia Inquirer, The Journal of Higher Education, and countless other national and regional publications.

Ms. Koestner's appearance and press conference on Capitol Hill with Congressman Jim Ramstad helped to encourage Congress, and later President George H. Bush, to pass the Campus Sexual Assault Victim's Bill of Rights into law in 1992. Ms. Koestner has keynoted over 200 conferences including the East and West Coast 4th Annual Student Conferences on Campus Sexual Violence in 1995, as well as on behalf of the New Mexico School Boards Association, the association of Maryland Independent Schools, the Pennsylvania State Educators' Association, and the U.S. Department of Defense. She has presented at the national conferences for the American Association of School Administrators (AASA), the National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS), the National School Boards Association (NSBA), the American College Personnel Association (ACPA), The Association of Boarding Schools (TABS), and the Association for Student Judicial Affairs (ASJA).

At age 21, Ms. Koestner was asked to present to the incoming students at MIT, Dartmouth University, West Point, the US Naval Academy, Brown University, Amherst College, Williams College, Colorado College and many other top universities. She continues to regularly present for students and is under contract with public and private secondary and post-secondary schools throughout the country, ranging from Phillips Andover Academy and the Lawrenceville School to Brown University and Colorado College. To date, she has presented on student safety issues at over 1,500 schools in forty-nine states, Canada and numerous other international locations.

Ms. Koestner has served as a consultant to schools on the revision and development of their sexual misconduct and technology policies and response protocols. She is the architect of The Complete Sexual Misconduct Reduction and Response System and The Customizable Model Acceptable Use Policy in place at schools across the country. She has partnered with the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars' Foundation to work with students in twenty-four public schools in Jacksonville, Florida. The U.S. Department of Education asked Ms. Koestner to work with Tipper Gore and Bonnie Campbell in its initiative to help women at risk for sexual violence. She founded "The I Club," a national high school peer leadership organization focusing on respectful relationships, and she directs the foundation for Take Back the Night, an international organization dedicated to ending sexual violence.

In 2002, Ms. Koestner worked with MIT to create "LifeLessons: Sexual Assault 101," an interactive CD ROM for high school and college students. In 2003, she wrote and directed two films with national award-winning Top Hat Productions: "Please Write Back: Sexual Assault among America's Students" and "Helping a Sexual Assault Survivor." These thirty-minute educational videos are used by schools and rape crisis centers across the country to educate students in health classes and other community awareness programs, as well as to train faculty, police officers, coaches and other responders on the appropriate steps to take in assisting a student who reports a sexual assault experience. In 2008, Ms. Koestner developed the first Virtual Sexual Assault Response Training Center for schools, utilizing subject matter experts from Colorado College, Harvard University, the University of San Diego, Franklin and Marshall College, the University of Texas at San Antonio, and top education attorneys. This online platform enables any school to provide affordable, consistent, high-quality training and resources for their staff.

Ms. Koestner's latest energies have focused on the risks and responsibilities for students and schools with respect to technology in its many forms. She has assisted schools and school districts in developing proactive policies, procedures, risk management strategies, and educational programs around such topics as social networking sites, video phone usage, text and instant messaging, boundary setting for faculty and staff members, online gaming, identity theft, defamation of character, bullying, harassment, sexual exploitation, and a myriad of other ramifications of technology.

In 2006, Ms. Koestner developed an online education series, Parent-Connect, a powerful program that brings together parents nationwide through the internet to hear from national experts on a variety of student wellness and parenting issues, such as depression, learning differences, harassment, substance use, and high risk drinking. Additionally, her foray into the benefits of technology has also enabled her to direct an annual program to assist schools in updating their policies and procedures on an emerging issue each spring in order to stay ahead of the fast-paced curve of today's ever-changing educational landscape. She has been asked to assist fortune 500 companies, the U.S. Military, large public school districts, national public television groups, Canadian university presidents, and numerous other groups with their technology education programs.

In 2009, the U.S. Ambassador to India asked Ms. Koestner to lead the first campaign to raise awareness about violence against women in India. Ms. Koestner also keynoted the First National Take Back the Night Conference at Columbia University in November 2009, and has since become a highlight for boarding schools in annually reviewing top risk issues.

April 2010 became the first year for Take Back the Night to hold its Ten Points of Light to Take Back the Night Campaign. Her tireless campaign for safety and respect continue to lead her down new avenues toward that end. In 2010, she launched Dragonfly learning, an online educational series for parents, students and schools.

In 2011, Ms. Koestner's Foundation, Take Back the Night, was chosen by the TV Show, The Good Wife, as their charity of choice for their first ever Celebrity Golf Tournament. In November 2011, the Girl Scouts of America selected Ms. Koestner, Katie Couric, and a handful of others as honored women leaders to present for their 125th Anniversary Celebration. January 2012 marks the first Thaw Out the Night Benefit for Take Back the Night.

MES Celebrates 'Spring Into Reading'

McKENZIE (March 26) — Because some of the activities for February's "Read Across America" were cancelled due to winter weather, McKenzie Elementary held "Spring Into Reading" on Thursday, with festivities during the school day and into the evening.

Approximately 300 students and nearly every teacher dressed as their favorite book characters, and displayed their costumes for the whole school in the gymnasium. The Scholastic Book Fair was in the library all week, and open late on Thursday, with a buy-one get-one-free sale.

That evening, The Cat in the Hat, Thing 1, and Thing 2 were roaming the halls to greet students and pose for photographs. Kids enjoyed free cookies and juice and decorated bookmarks. There was a pancake dinner and there were "Smencils" for sale, both benefitting Relay for Life.
