McKenzie Graduates 91 in Sunday Ceremony

The Class of 2016 at McKenzie graduated Sunday, May 15 in the school gymnasium as parents and friends filled the facility to capacity.

It was the 92nd graduating class from McKenzie Special School District and the 107th from McKenzie. A total of 91 graduated during commencement exercises.

Students proceeded into the auditorium to the sound of Pomp and Circumstances and took their seats in chairs on the gymnasium floor.

The event was filled with tradition of the ladies reading the red colored caps and gowns while the men wore the gray colors.

Aiden Gonzalez led the gathering in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Annias Haney performed the National Anthem on the saxophone and Kelsey Spivey, class president, provided the remarks to welcome everyone to the ceremony.

Laura Ashleigh Cole provided the Salutatory Address and Kensley Horner, the Valedictory Address.

MHS Principal Tim Watkins announced a list of scholarships and other honors prior to presenting the class to receive their diplomas.

Sheila Ridley, guidance counselor, announced each graduate's name as he or she crossed the elevated platform to receive his or her diploma from John Austin, chairman of the Board of Education and Tim Watkins.

Distinguished Scholars include: Christine Grace Aden, Lindsey Michelle Balias, Lexie Nicole Bolin, Andre James Carter, Laura Ashleigh Cole, Aiden

Alexander Gonzalez, Hunter Lynn Harris, Kensley Brooke Horner, Nathan Bradley Jones, Joshua Ray Keenan, Chase Matthew Kelley, Brooklyn Leann Kelly, Charles Joseph Austin Lindsey, Esmeralda Mejorado, Mitch Hale Merrick, Cameron William Oakley, Conner Kingsley Pinson, Cecelia Rae Pomphrey, Jennifer Lauren Riley, Kelsey Hope Spivey, Jack McKendree Surber, Cecelia Grace Sutton, and Antonio Vega.

In the President's Address, Spivey said, "We never thought this day would come but here we are. I want to look at our years in school from Kindergarten to twelfth grade as a game. For the past 13 years we have been preparing for this moment. Everything that our teachers have put us through has all led up to this point. We have been taught how to persevere when things got hard. We have learned to focus on things that are important. We've been practicing skills like working with others and overcoming whatever obstacles come our way. All of our hard work has led us here on May 15, 2016. Here we are ready to take on life."

She told of Thomas Edison, Walt Disney, and J.K. Rowlings, who each had some failures in their path to greatness.

"These people never gave up," said Spivey. "They endured the hardships and pressed on. At many points in their life, they could have settled for what was easier. But they overcame their failures and when life decided to knock them down, they got back up. That's what I encourage all of you to do. Whether it is in college, the military, or the workforce, do not settle for anything other than the best. Strive to get that promotion. Work to improve your rank. You only limit yourself. Write your own award winning book series, invent something new, become a millionaire, but don't forget the small people like your senior class president."

Salutatorian Cole told the graduates they had achieved the status of high school graduate, a level achieved by many. The real challenge is to forge ahead and take the challenge to distinguish oneself from others.

"The statistics and numbers do not love you," said Cole. "To quote Neil Degrasse Tyson, an astrophysicist and director of the Hayden Planetarium in New York City, 'If your ego starts out, 'I am important, I am big, I am special,' you are in for some disappointments. You're small in time and in space.' In a traditional graduation speech, I would tell you that you will go forth and succeed. Unfortunately, I can only promise that you will fail sometimes. There have been many times in my life where my 'best' was not good enough. Failure is defined as: the state or condition of not meeting a desirable or intended objective, and may be viewed as the opposite of success. However, I believe failure is more beneficial than success. Failure is not the end; failure is a teacher and a means of motivation. If you are waiting for success to be handed to you, it won't. However, every opportunity is a gift and it is your choice whether you take advantage of what is presented or not. Taking risks is hard scary work, but regret is much worse. Looking back on high school, we all could have taken more chances. Maybe we could have taken more challenging classes or spent more time with our family and friends. We are about to begin a new journey in life filled with new opportunities that we can choose to take or ignore. What I am speaking about today is as much advice to myself as it is to you. Life constantly hands us opportunities to experience new things, learn, and even fail. It is wonderful to have big dreams, but if you spend all your time sleeping, you will never even get the chance to succeed. Go out and try, but don't get caught waiting. You can plan your future all day however you cannot live there. If you don't live in the present and take the opportunities you are given, you will never make anything happen in the future. So try in everything you do. Give each opportunity and each experience your full attention. You will probably fail more times than you will succeed, but keep picking yourself up and dusting yourself off. That is the only way to achieve your goals in life."

Valedictorian Horner said, "The list of important things we've learned in high school goes on and on. But there's one major lesson that I hope we'll all remember as we begin to write the next chapter of our lives. "And that is that we are in charge."

"We are in charge of ourselves. We are in charge of what we do. We are in charge of where we go from here. And, above all, we are in charge of who we become. As we make our decisions about these things for ourselves, it is important that we consider our own opinions. "Don't let the opinions of other people keep you from pursuing your passions. You are responsible for making yourself happy, and only you can truly know what will.

"Some of us are lucky enough to already have it all figured out, but many of us have yet to discover our passion- to discover what inspires us. Something that makes us want to work. It is true that most people find out what that is through experience, so never turn down a new task..."

"So, what if your dream isn't something that will take years to reach? Not everyone is meant to go to college for twelve years, become the CEO of a company, or lead the nation. Furthermore, working an average job does not make you any less important. There is no such thing as small jobs. In a sea of people doing the same work, you get to decide if you will be the one who makes a difference. Abraham Lincoln put it best in saying, "Whatever you are, be a good one."

Whatever you choose to do in life, I challenge you to do it because it makes you proud of yourself. You're going to want to be able to look back on your life and say, "Yeah... I was the person that I was meant to be." Because that is the key to your success," concluded Miss Horner.

MHS Principal Tim Watkins said, "Of the 90 graduating seniors, 53 plan to enroll in a 4-year college or university; nine plan to attend a two-year college; 17 plan to enroll in a vocational/technical school; two have enlisted in the military; and five will join the work force and four are undecided."

Many of these graduates who will pursue post-secondary education have applied for and have received scholarships. The amount to date is $1,983,249 to attend 21 different colleges, universities, or technical schools.

Congrats, Graduates! This Edition Honors You

The McKenzie Banner and our advertisers are proud to again present this special graduation section. As in years past, this section features area seniors from McKenzie, Huntingdon, Central, West Carroll, Clarksburg and Gleason High Schools.

This section was made possible by the many local businesses who are extending congratulations and best wishes for a bright future for every student.

They also express gratitude for your continued support of their business.

The Banner urges you to read each advertisement and the message it extends.

We also ask that you remember these advertisers and show them your support.

The McKenzie Banner extends our sincere appreciation to all area schools for providing names and photographs of each graduating student.

Thank you to the teachers who educated these seniors from kindergarten through high school. You have changed their lives in more ways than you may realize. Your tireless effort and patience has made the difference in our community. You've shaped our doctors, lawyers, teachers, engineers, military, firefighters, police officers, and so many countless others. Thank you teachers. Thank you to the parents that helped with homework and school projects. You made late-night runs to the store for school supplies. You attended parent-teacher conferences and took an interest in your child's dreams and hopes.

A big thank you to all parents for everything you have done and will do for your children.

Without great businesses, teachers and parents, our community would not be what it is: a great place to live.

Huntingdon Graduates 94 on Sunday

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (May 15) — A standing-room-only crowd of family, friends and supporters gathered at Huntingdon High School Sunday afternoon to see 94 seniors complete commencement exercises and become proud alumni.

The HHS Band performed “Pomp and Circumstance” as the graduates entered the gymnasium. Graduate Macon Bullock gave the invocation, and the band performed the National Anthem. Class President Allyn Swenson welcomed those gathered, thanking educators, friends and family for support and imploring her classmates to follow their dreams, accomplish their goals and always remember where they come from.

Dr. Jonathan Kee, HHS Principal, then recognized the top ten graduates: Valedictorian Allyn Elizabeth Swenson, Salutatorian Parker Scott Birdwell, Sara Ellen Churchwell, Jordan Harris Allen, Jessa Brooke Potts, Kaitlyn Elaine Smith, Elizabeth Denise Dayhuff, Mary Carolynn Smith, Sarah Elizabeth Katelynn Barnhart and Justin Lewis Miller.

Salutatorian Parker Birdwell then delivered his address, beginning by thanking the faculty, his family and friends, and Jesus. He admitted to being nervous, and noted the humor that the reward for his achievement is public speaking, one of the biggest fears in the world. With that as a segue, he said, “There are two things I want to talk about today, and fear is one of them. As we graduate today, it's very exciting... But it's also a little scary. We face a difficult reality today. Whether it's college, trade school, the military, the workforce, a lot is about to change. Many of us will be moving away from home. We'll have to make new friends, essentially start over. It's a culture shock.” He pointed to God as reason to have no fear. “It's silly how fears impact our lives so much, but as we start this next chapter, we need to be fearless, live passionately, and not let our fears stop us from accomplishing our goals.”

Birdwell's second point of discussion was failure. He noted that his goal was to be the valedictorian. “I came pretty close but didn't quite make it. When something doesn't go my way, my mom always tells me, ‘It just wasn't meant to be.’ That's hard to accept sometimes, but it's true.”

He continued, “As we go out into the world, we're going to fail a lot. But we cannot let our failures define us. We must learn from them, gather ourselves back together, and move on. We are not defined by failure, ACT scores, ranking, or scholarships. We're defined by life's experiences, relationships, friends and family.”

Birdwell concluded, “We may not have tomorrow, but we have this moment right now, and it's all about us. Today is our day. Today we are one. Today we are the Class of 2016.”

Valedictorian Allyn Swenson spoke next, beginning with Merriam-Webster's definition of success: the fact of getting or achieving wealth, respect, or fame. “My four years at Huntingdon High School, however, have taught me success in so much more than what kind of car I drive or how big of a house I live in... I have learned that true success comes when you can look at the things and people around you and say, ‘I have done everything I can to better those around me.’ As I stand here today, I know that, as a whole, the Class of 2016 has truly succeeded. Together, we are leaving our school and community better than what we found them.”

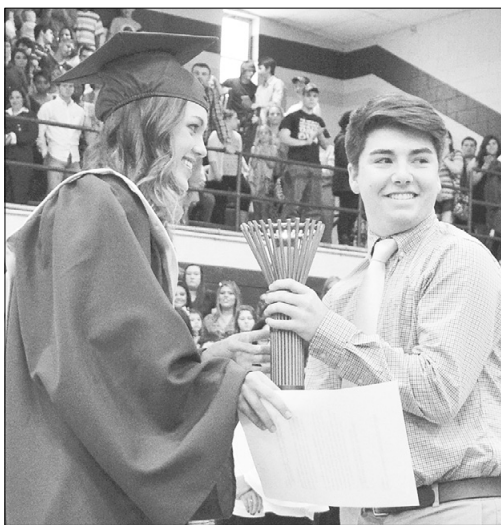

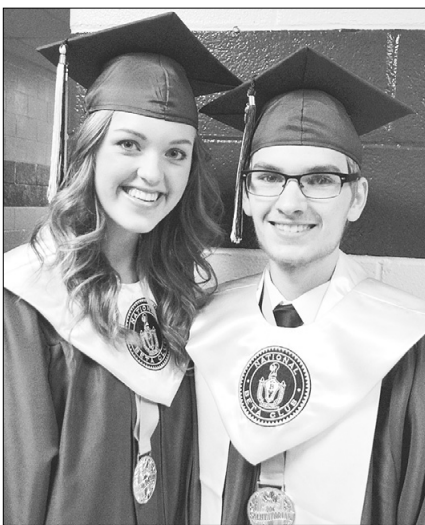

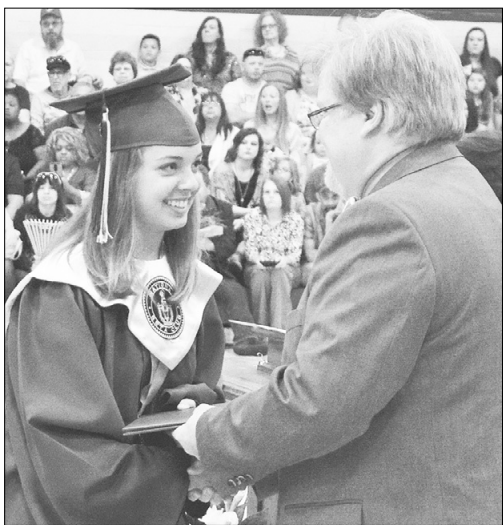

She continued, “Now, as we go our separate ways, we must, individually, show this success wherever, and to whomever, we meet next.”

She concluded, “So, to my fellow classmates, I wish you nothing but success. Success in your job, yes. Success in your finances, yes. But more importantly, success in your character, success in your happiness, success in your impact on others. And I urge you to be brave enough to leave a part of yourself everywhere you go. A piece of all of us has already been left in Huntingdon, Tennessee, and I look forward to the day I can come home to see the positive impacts Huntingdon High School's Class of 2016 has made on the world.”

Birdwell returned to the podium to recognize senior Beta members: Jordan Allen, Kaitlin Belew, Parker Birdwell, Savannah Pratt, Macon Bullock, Sara Churchwell, Elizabeth Dayhuff, Sara Beth Hayes, Libby Maxwell, Jessa Potts, Courtney Smith, Mary Smith, Allyn Swenson, Sarah Taylor, Kathryn Thomas, Chesney White and Danielle Williams.

Dr. Kee and a bevy of special guests then presented numerous awards before the graduates received diplomas.

Next, a time-honored tradition continued as Swenson passed the torch to Wyatt Stokes, president of the Class of 2017.

Then, Dr. Scotty Portis of the Alumni Association congratulated the graduates and encouraged them to become and remain part of the organization for years to come.

The band performed the Alma Mater, and graduate Chase Jones delivered the benediction.

Dr. Kee gave closing remarks, and the Class of 2016 flung their mortarboards triumphantly into the air.

HUNTINGDON— Eleven Huntingdon High Schools seniors graduated with a red cord from Lifeline Blood Services for donating blood at least three times. Two bloodmobiles have visited the school this school year, which has allowed the students to meet the donation requirement. This is the first Huntingdon class to graduate with cords. The red cord students hope this will inspire other students to donate blood for those in need.

West Carroll Graduates 67

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

A TWOOD (May 12) — Family, friends and educators gathered Thursday evening to watch as 67 West Carroll High School seniors arrived at the end of a 13-year journey of growth and enlightenment.

The graduates entered the packed gymnasium as the WCHS Band played “Pomp and Circumstance.” The band also played the National Anthem, and graduate Steven Trevor Foster delivered the invocation. Principal Dexter Williams welcomed those gathered to “a night to remember.” “A night to remember the past,” he continued, “a night to celebrate the present, and a night to anticipate the future.” He congratulated the seniors, parents, family members, friends, faculty and administrators on a day that they could all be proud.

He charged the graduates to live life to the fullest. “You may fumble, you may fall, but because you come from greatness, we expect you to get back up again and keep in mind: There will be obstacles, but obstacles can’t stop you. There will be problems, but problems can’t stop you. And most of all there will be some people who will doubt you, but other people can’t stop you. We will always care about you and your well-being. Now go out there and make us all proud!”

Class President Colin Hudgins then delivered the welcome address, beginning by thanking guests for their presence and support. He continued, “This is one of those nights that you think will never get here. You talk for years about it and say how ready you are, but then when it’s here you’re not so sure if you’re as ready as you thought you were.”

Hudgins thanked the teachers, “for helping each of us reach this milestone in our lives.” He thanked the current staff and administrators, but also paid homage to those who had been with his class for many years but have moved on to other things.

To his fellow classmates, he pointed out, “Most of us have been together since Kindergarten. It’s hard to believe this is the last night we will all be together.” He concluded by congratulating his fellow graduates and welcoming those gathered.

Salutatorian Kristen Bradley then spoke, first thanking those in attendance. She then said, “To my mom and my dad: without your guidance, your support, and your love, I would not be standing at this podium presenting a speech tonight. I could not have asked for two better people to carry me through this journey and to send me off on the journey that I am about to embark upon.” She extended gratitude to her family and friends as well.

“To our faculty and staff,” she continued, “I was going to thank some teachers individually, but I realized that the list was too long. Some of you have amazed me with how much you have supported our class this year... and some of you were the best teachers that I could have ever asked for, and I owe a lot of my success to you.”

She offered a special thanks to Ms. Michelle Hudgins for helping the seniors’ year go smoothly.

Bradley concluded by addressing her fellow graduates, “We can finally say that we made it. It seemed like it took a lifetime to get to this point, and now that we’re actually here, it seems as though it has come a little too soon... Never again are we going to walk the halls of West Carroll and see every single one of our classmates’ faces.”

“It is time for us to branch out and go our separate ways,” she continued. “Regardless of where we end up, we will always be connected. Throughout the years, we have grown together; we have gotten to know each other and even ourselves; and we have built various friendships that we could never forget, regardless of where everyone does end up. Remember each other and everything we have accomplished in the past thirteen years.”

Valedictorian Kendall Davidson spoke next, first thanking family, friends and “amazing teachers.”

we did it. We’ve worked long and hard for this moment. It seems like it has taken forever to get here, but our time is here and now. Tonight, we walked in as students, but we will leave as alumni... We have had to go through many trials and tribulations to find out who we are, and where we fit into the big world we are about to be thrown into. We all have unique qualities that we possess. These qualities determine where we will go in life, not what others think of us. You determine who you will be in this crazy thing called life.”

She went on to say, “Today does not mark the goodbyes from our class. Thirteen years of friendship do not need to go to the wayside because we are all moving on in our lives and finding our place in the world. Something I learned in Carroll County Youth Leadership this year was that Carroll County has many job opportunities available. If we all come back here to work and live our lives, we can make this place better than it was when we left.”

Davidson concluded, “Teachers, parents, faculty and staff, thank you for your continuous support and love. Class of 2016, thank you for the best senior year possible. Eleanor Roosevelt voiced, ‘The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.’

Next, graduates Kalee Jo Fountain and MiKayla Morris sang a duet, “Wherever I Go.”

Principal Williams then presented awards, announced scholarships and recognized special achievements of the graduates.

Director of Schools Eric Williams then offered congratulations, saying, “This is a celebration for you,” pointing out that that is true for not just the seniors, but for everyone in attendance. He then relayed to the graduates three guiding principles. First, “Good is not good where better is expected.” Second, “If your presence fails to have an impact, your absence will go unnoticed.” Finally, “Never forget: Keep your faith first, no matter what it is; keep your family second; and keep your career third.”

Diplomas were then presented by school and district administrators.

Next, each graduate presented their parents and guardians with a rose and a hug.

Graduate Jacob Keen delivered the benediction, and the new alumni proudly tossed their mortarboards into the air.

The West Carroll High School Class of 2016 is: John Austin Adams, Erik Andrews, Ebony Nicole Belew, Brennon Chase Birdwell, Kyle Bodwell, Kristen Rita Bradley (Honors and Distinction), Kalena Mereia Bragg, Taylor Annice Bridges (Honors and Distinction), Summer Renea Brown, Jacob R. CLARKSBURG (May 13) — Commencement for the Clarksburg High School Class of 2016 was held Friday night in the gymnasium. Thirty seniors received their diplomas to end their K-12 education.

The ceremony began with the processional followed by Principal Angela Bartholomew welcoming the audience. A slide show of senior pictures was done in tribute to those graduating as their senior song played in the background.

Class Historian Meagan Gooch addressed the class and thanked family, friends, educators and administrators. She concluded her speech with a quote by Jimmy Lovine, “That diploma you hold is really just a learner’s permit for the rest of the drive through life. Remember you don’t have to be smarter than the next person; all you have to do is be willing to work harder.”

Salutatorian Kelsie Singleton took the podium and reminisced with her class on experiences about their time together in school. She advised her classmates to “always do what makes you happy, put your heart into everything you do and don’t let anyone bring you down.”

Valedictorian Madison McClure spoke about remembrance and change. She told the class that they must leave a new mark on the world. She featured a quote by Mark A. Cooper, “Life has no remote. Get up and change it yourself.”

Special awards and scholarships were presented. Stokes Surveying Scholarships were awarded to Layla Byrum and Rebecca Roberts. Waylon Segraves Memorial Scholarships were awarded to Madison McClure, Kelsie Singleton and Dillon Todd. The Clarksburg Alumni Service Scholarships were awarded to Brett Altom, Layla Byrum, Madison McClure and Autumn Denning. The Ray and Wilma Smith Scholarship was awarded to Meagan Gooch. Madison McClure received the First Bank Scholarship and the Baptist Memorial Hospital-Huntingdon Scholarship. The AmVets Post 33 of Parkers Crossroads Scholarship was awarded to Jordan Melson. Dillon Todd and Kelsie Singleton were awarded the Wildersville Beaver Ruritan Scholarship. Kelsie Singleton was chosen as the Clarksburg High School 2015-2016 Student of the Year, and she received the Tennessee Association of Conservation Districts Scholarship. The Scholar Athlete Award was given to Brett Altom.

In addition to scholarships members of the senior class received various awards; subject awards, college-specific scholarships, Hope Lottery scholarships, honors and distinction, Honor Roll recognition and completion of the Foreign Exchange Experience.

The top ten in the class, from tenth to first, were Patechua Hue Lor, Dillon Todd, Jordan Melson, Christopher Heuss, Mandy Thomas, Rebecca Roberts, Layla Byrum, Meagan Gooch, Kelsie Singleton, and Madison McClure.

After the presentation of diplomas, the graduates, taking part in a Clarksburg tradition, presented roses to their parents and other family members.

The commencement ceremony ended with the singing of the alma mater and the tossing of the mortarboards.

2016 Clarksburg graduates were Brett Jakob Altom, Lucas Austin Azbill, Munkh-Orgil Battulga, Layla Dawn Byrum (distinction,

1. Gleason Class of 2016. 2. Valedictorian Autumn Faulkner, Class President Grady Stafford, and Salutatorian Emily Bell. 3. Cody Williams, a member of the 2015 graduating class at Gleason, received his diploma as part of special recognition at the Gleason graduation. GHS Principal Trish Price made the presentation. 4. Colby Suzanne Brooks receives her diploma from Trish Price. 5. Tracy Allen Perry receives his diploma from Trish Price.

Gleason Graduates 32 During Ceremony

Gleason High School graduated 32 from the class of 2016 and one from the class of 2015 during the Friday, May 13 commencement exercises held in the Gleason Gymnasium.

Cody Williams, a member of the 2015 class, received his diploma as part of a special recognition. Williams was severely injured in an automobile accident in January 2015 in McKenzie. He spent months in the hospital and was unable to graduate with his fellow classmates.

Gleason High School honored Williams prior to others receiving their diplomas on Friday. Trish Price, principal at Gleason School, asked Cody, seated in the audience, to come to the podium to receive his diploma. The audience erupted in applause as Williams made his way up the steps to receive his diploma. Months earlier, he was unable to walk, but on this night, he accomplished a goal of walking to the podium and receiving a high school diploma. He was appropriately dressed in a cap and gown.

Following the special presentation, the class of 2016, along with their family members, friends and others wishing them well, heard the salutatory address by Emily Bell, the valedictory address by Autumn Faulkner, and the senior class president's address by Grady Stafford.

Price recognized each student for individual accomplishments and told of their future plans.

The Top Ten included: Autumn Faulkner, Emily Bell, Carson Stafford, Chelsea Beasley, Taylore Jo Melton, Drew Flowers, Collin Niegocki, Austin Shafer, Daniel Grissom and John Huismann.

Graduates included: Kory Peyton Barker, Chelsea Elizabeth Beasley, Lacy May Belcher, Emily Mackenzie Bell, Colby Suzanne Brooks, Taylor James Brundige, Timothy Ryan Cooper, Marissa Lenae Creveling, Clayton Wayne Davidson, Autumn Anne Faulkner, Drew Allen Flowers, Deena Sue

Graham, Daniel Isaac Grissom, Sarah Michelle Hampton, Kasey Scott Hatley, John Scott Huismann, Benito Rey Jackson, Taylore Jo Melton, Shania Kay Mingle, Collin Addison Niegocki, Dakota Lee Pence, Tracy Allen Perry, Jaymz Ann Ramsey, Lawson Michael Roberts, Bucky Allen Russell, Austin Michael Shafer, Kayla Renee Shell, Kasie Summer Smith, Carson Andrew Stafford, Grady Connell Stafford, Abigail Jane Upchurch, Barbara and Anne Vallery.

Good Luck Class of 2016!

When you were younger, you would pretend at being anyone you wanted to be, from a firefighter to a president and anything else you could imagine. Now that you're older, it's still that you can be whomever you want to be. So on your graduation day, dream big dreams and don't be afraid to go after them.

The City of McKenzie

IT'S OFFICIAL!

You've graduated, and today is the first day of the rest of your life! With your diploma in hand, you'll go far. We hope you'll continue to take pride in everything you do and continue to make the same kind of responsible decisions that have gotten you here today. We applaud your accomplishments and wish you all the best as you move forward into the next stage of your life.

Our Grandson

We watched you grow from a baby to a toddler, to a pre-schooler to kindergarten, then 1st grade and all through elementary. Now as you celebrate the last days of your senior year, we can't tell you how proud we are of the fine young man you have become. May God grant you health, happiness and wisdom to meet each future challenge with great success!

Thanks for letting us take this amazing journey with you!

BRUCETON (May 13) — A large assembly of family, friends, teachers, school administrators and media joined Hollow Rock-Bruceton Central High School seniors inside the school gymnasium for the CHS Class of 2016 graduation ceremony.

Following senior processional into the gym to Elgar's Pomp and Circumstances and invocation, Class of 2016 President Kayla Woods welcomed attendees.

She said, "From diapers to diplomas, we finally made it. Tonight marks not only the end of a chapter in our lives, but a new beginning, as well. It is time for us to say farewell to the ones who have impacted our lives: our parents, friends, educators, and community. We have come this far because of the kindness, gratitude, love and support they have shown us."

CHS Principal Joe Norval recognized Honor Scholar Graduates who had taken the most rigorous classes offered at CHS and scored an 18 or above on the English section of the A.C.T., a 22 or above on the mathematics section, a 22 or above on the Reading section, and a 23 or above on the Science section average for four years. They were: Chase Bratton, Josh Gentry, Trevor Hall, Carl Joyner, Jon-Austin Welsh, Haley Williams, and Kayla Woods.

Norval then recognized student graduating with distinction with an overall B average or above. They were: Chase Bratton, Josh Gentry, Jayca Gregory, Carl Joyner, Channa Ragsdale, Kelsey Runions, Jada Strickland, Kaitlyn Wilson, and Kayla Woods.

Norval announced the following Class of 2015 Top Ten: 1-Carl Joyner; 2-Kayla Woods; 3-Trever Hall; 4-Haley Williams; 5-Kelsey Runions; 6-Kayla Bennett; 7-Chase Bratton, 8-Kasey White; 9-Kaitlyn Wilson; 10-William Keith Butler.

Lifeline Bloodmobile Red Cord recipients included: Will Butler, Hunter Wortham, Dalton Whyte, Starla Crocker, Jada Strickland, Steven McMackins, Matt Robbins, Tyler Moore, Dalton Caswell, Trevor Hall, Jayca Gregory, and Cody Knuutila.

During Salutatorian's Address, Kayla Woods urged her fellow graduates to embrace compassion and hopefulness amid life's changes.

She said, "Put your heart into everything you do. You have to be passionate about things in life. Do what makes you happy. Don't rely on other people to make the major decisions in your life. I urge you to also have compassion for others. Offer as much to other people as you want offered back to you."

She concluded, "Fellow graduates. I wish you all the best of luck in your lives. Chase your dreams, because there is no limit. Above all, love you-life-it is the only one you've got. Thank you."

After thanking parents, school administrators and teachers, and supporters, Valedictorian Carl Joyner addressed his classmates, "After tonight, we are going to have to face reality. We are going to have to stop relying on parents and start figuring things out on our own. The world is not going to wait for you to do something. If you have something inside of you that you know can change everything, seize the moment, and offer it to the world. Only you can propel your life forward."

He concluded, "I hope that each of you realizes your dreams and that you never give up. The future is for those who take it and the best things in life aren't free-they are the hardest. God bless and farewell on your journey through life."

Following presentation of awards and special honors, Central Director of Schools David Duncan asked retiring, 30-year Central Elementary School educator Cathy Pardue to address the Class of 2016.

Pardue said, "Forty years ago on a muggy night in May, a scared young 17-year-old girl on this very stage waiting to receive her diploma. Well, that girl was me. It is hard for me to imagine how fast time has gone by.

I encourage all of you to seek your dream like I did. I watched all of you from your first day of kindergarten until now, and I am proud of you. May God bless you all."

Director Duncan presented the Class of 2016 to the Board of Education.

Duncan and Central School Board Chairman Tim Runions presented diplomas to the following Class of 2015 graduates: Jacob Daniel Baker, Sabrina Alicia Beardsley, Logan Daniel Belew, Kayla Elizabeth Bennett, William Chase Bratton, Kaylee Brooke Butler, William Keith Butler, Dalton Blane Caswell, Chana Hope Christman, Rachel Lynn Cole, Preston Daniel Cooper, Kaitlyn Michelle Cox, Starla Jean Crocker, John William Ervin, Joshua Daniel Gentry, Emily Rose Gillum, Brittany Ann Greene, Jayca Nicole Gregory, Trevor Allen Hall, Austin Trevor Hardin, Ryan Alexander Hughes, Teyia Nicole Johnson, Carl William Joyner, Cody James Knuutila, Steven Elkins McMackins, Hannah Lea McWilliams, Kristen Hope Mitchell, Wilbert Trey Montgomery III, Tyler Wesley Moore, Christina Rae Owens, Iteonia Gabrellia Pearson, Autumn Skye Pierce, Channa Larame Ragsdale, Matthew Kyle Robbins, Kelsey Layne Runions, Jada Alexis Strickland, Levi Hunter Thompson, Dustin Lee Turner, Matthias Reynolds Vick, Jon-Austin Welsh, Kasey Marie White, Dalton Taylor Whyte, Haley Brooke Williams, Allyson Ryan Wilson, Elise Marie Wilson, Kaitlyn Celeste Wilson, Kayla Marie Woods, Hunter-Chase Forrest Wortham, and Thomas Brazil Forrest Wortham.

Following the singing of the Alma Mater and closing prayer, Class of 2016 graduates formed two receiving lines before casting their mortar boards skyward in celebration.
