Armed Robbers Hit Huntingdon Domino's

HUNTINGDON (December 19) — Three masked male robbers entered Domino's in Huntingdon around 9:15 p.m. on Monday. They were wearing ski masks and wielding a revolver when they demanded money from one employee around 9:15 p.m.

According to a press release by Walter Smothers, director of Huntingdon Public Safety, the robbers attempted to find money in the office before taking an undetermined amount of cash from the register at the front of the business. As they fled from the business running east the 36-year old male store employee, (name withheld due to ongoing investigation) attempted to follow them once outside the business. The robbers shot an undetermined number of times at the employee, striking him once in the right lower leg. He was airlifted to Vanderbilt Medical Center for surgery.

The employee described the robbers as young black males but was unable to provide any further description.

More information will be released as it becomes available, said Chief Smothers.

Carroll Lake Expected to Begin Filling This Week

MCKENZIE — Carroll Lake, a 100-acre fishing lake owned and managed by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency, will undergo inspection this week and possibly begin the long process of reopening.

Tim Broadbent with Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency said TWRA and personnel from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation will meet at the lake Wednesday, December 21. TDEC officials will inspect the spillway and its new gates. If approval is granted by TDEC, the final sluice gate will be closed and the lake will begin to refill.

Carroll Lake was emptied after a June 2014 flood damaged the floodgates and partially overflowed the earthen dam. Diversified Contractors of McKenzie won the contract to construct the two new flood gates. Those were installed last month.

In the summer of 2016, an herbicide was applied via aerial application to kill the vegetation that had grown on the bed of the emptied lake. Last week, the Tennessee Department of Forestry burned that dead vegetation from the bed. The small willow trees dotting the bed of the lake, will remain, at least temporarily, to provide cover for the fish.

Broadbent said the foresters plowed the perimeter of the lake to contain the fire. Tree growth was also cleared to improve the visibility of the lake from

Beer Sales Cleared For New Dollar General Store

By Ernie Smothers

BRUCETON (December 13) — In a mid-day meeting of the Town of Bruceton Board of Aldermen, board members, following the swearing in of incumbents Scotty Higdon and Cliff Sturdivant, and first-term alderman Frank McGee, unanimously approved on second and final reading Ordinance 16-09, paving the way for beer sales at the future Dollar General store to be erected on a parcel of land located at 30520 Broad Street, formerly occupied by Melvin Walker Welding, Bruceton Auto Care, and Walker Service Station.

Addressing the board prior to the vote, Mayor Robert T. Keeton III said, "I cannot stress how vitally-important it is for you to approve Ordinance 16-09 on second and final reading. We must reduce the 250-foot distance requirement for beer sales near churches and school as specified in Title Eight, Chapter Two of the Bruceton Municipal Code to 100-feet, or

18 Goats Attacked In Cedar Grove

CEDAR GROVE — Eighteen goats were viciously attacked by some other animal or animals at 955 Gregg Chapel Road in Cedar Grove on Sunday.

Wes Arnold said the goats were at his grandmother's, Polly Arnold, when the goats' faces were "chewed off" along with their ears, noses and jaws. Four of the goats were dead, one was lost, and the others sustained various levels of injuries. The goats were not attacked for food; it was just a vicious attack.

"It was a gruesome sight," said West Arnold. The family suspected some area dogs and reported such to the Carroll County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Andy Dickson said his deputies investigated and interviewed neighbors. The suspected dogs were chained and had no signs of any fight. The sheriff said he saw photos of the attacked animals and it was not a usual animal that kills prey for food.

The department continues to investigate the matter.

Sheriff's Department Participates in Toys for Tots

CARROLL COUNTY — Carroll County Sheriff's Department participated in the national Toys for Tots program to provide toys for children in the county.

Jamie Summers spearheaded the program. Sheriff Andy Dickson said Summers starts in October to coordinate the program. Boxes (as pictured) are distributed and individuals drop toys inside to go to children, who might otherwise not have toys at Christmas. Cash donations also help purchase other toys.

Toys for Tots is a program operated by the United States Marine Corps Reserve, which distributes toys to children whose parents cannot afford to buy them gifts for Christmas. The program was founded in 1947 by reservist Major Bill Hendricks. Carroll County Sheriff's Department partnered to help the children of Carroll County.

Summers said 125 children, aged 0 to 14 years, will receive an average of 10 toys each. Families make application for assistance. The Department of Human Services reviews the list to reduce the chance of children being on multiple lists.

The Carroll County E911 dispatch center was filled with toys Monday as department personnel and inmate trusties sorted the toys into age and gender appropriate categories.

The children's families are asked to pick up the toys at the dispatch center on Paris Avenue in Huntingdon. Otherwise, the Sheriff's Department will deliver the toys to the families.

Trail of Tears Route Marked in Henry County

By Shannon McFarlin
WENK/WTPR News Director

PARIS — A joint project to mark the Trail of Tears' route through Henry County is nearing completion.

Henry County Historical Society President David Webb announced at Thursday night's meeting that the 50 road signs marking the Trail of Tears have arrived and are being stored at the county highway department until they are installed.

Webb brought one of the signs to the meeting for members to view. The signs are of different sizes and will be installed along the local route, which moved along Rison Street past what is now the Mt. Zion Baptist Church and then past the former city auditorium turning onto what is now Market Street and beyond through the rest of the county.

Webb emphasized the signs were provided through no cost to the Historical Society and that the project is a joint program involving the Henry County Tourism Authority, the National Historic Trail of Tears project and TDOT, which will be installing the signs.

The only cost to the county is the cost of the hardware and posts needed to install the signs.

Surrounding counties also are interested in joining with the project to mark the route the Trail of Tears took through their counties. Webb has already spoken with the Palmersville Historical Society in Weakley County and to two different groups in Benton County, with plans to speak in Waverly next.

The Trail of Tears involved a series of forced relocations of Native Americans from their ancestral homes during the administration of President Andrew Jackson. "The one that went through Henry County was the first one without military escort and it's called the Benge Route," Webb said.

The ultimate goal, Webb said, is that the public will be able to drive the entire route of the Trail of Tears, from Alabama to Oklahoma.

His research has revealed that the migration that moved through Henry County involved 60 wagons and teams, 480 horses, 1,132 Cherokee and their African-American slaves. Two of the Native-Americans on the Trail of Tears are buried in Weakley Co., he said. "Their graves have been identified," he said.

MPD Vehicle Exits Roadway, Officer Uninjured

During a Tuesday morning interview with The McKenzie Banner, McKenzie Police Department Chief Craig Moates said that a police cruiser driven by Patrolman Jasmin Burgess slid off the road into a ditch Monday afternoon on Forrest Avenue while responding to a domestic assault call.

Chief Moates said, "Patrolman Burgess and another MPD Officer were en route to the domestic call when she attempted to pass the other MPD cruiser. Patrolman Burgess did not realize the road's width lessened after crossing the bridge. The officer was not injured, and the patrol vehicle sustained minor damage to the undercarriage."

in both the Confederate and U.S. forces passing through the area.

Following welcoming comments by McKenzie Mayor Jill Holland and remarks by Carroll County Mayor Kenny McBride, McKenzie resident and 2016 Civil War Trails Project Coordinator Dale Cooper spoke about discovering about Forrest's December 27, 1862 trek to McKenzie and timely escape from approaching Union forces while assisting his grandson on a school project that led to his pursuing the placement of a second Civil War Trails marker at Downtown Memorial Park to chronicle the event.

Tennessee Department of Tourist Development Director Curtis thanked Mayor Holland and the citizens of McKenzie for actively working to preserve and promote the historical attributes of McKenzie.

She said, "Mayor Holland does an excellent job of promoting the history and heritage of McKenzie. Her endeavors on behalf of the city are exceptional."

During closing comments, Tennessee Tourist Development Commissioner Triplett said, "I want to thank everyone for coming out on such a bitterly-cold day for the unveiling of this interpretive marker that solidifies this city once more in the records of Tennessee Civil War history."

He said, "He continued, "I love coming to McKenzie and Carroll County because history matters to you. Many people think that music comprises the soundtrack of Tennessee history. For me, however, the soundtrack of our state is found on the 426 Tennessee Civil War Trail Markers that will stand in the ground as of January 1, 2017. "

He concluded, "Interpretive trail markers tell the stories of our state's past. They tell the stories of the people and the places that shaped us into who we are today. I thank all of you for preserving the stories of those who walked before us for generations to come."

Following the ribbon-cutting, Sons of Confederate Veterans Ortho French Strahl Camp 176 of Union City's Jerry Gray and John Abernathy, adorned in Confederate military uniforms, fired a Civil War-replica cannon as Tennessee Society Order of Confederate Rose of Gleason Chapter 5 members Charlotte Gray and Jen Hensley looked on while adorned in period-correct clothing.

A portion of the narrative on the interpretive marker entitled McKenzie's Station-A Strategic Junction states, "McKenzie's location put it squarely in the path of Confederate Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest's first West Tennessee raid in December 1862.

After capturing Union City, Forrest turned east on Christmas Day, burning trestles and destroying track between there and McKenzie. Forrest's troopers reached McKenzie Station two days later with captured wagons full of coffee, flour, and military supplies.

Here he learned that Federal forces had destroyed the bridges across the Obion River and were approaching from several directions.

As two of Union General Jeremiah C. Sullivan's infantry brigades closed in, local farmers told Forrest about an old bridge on a back road that spanned the Obion River and led to McLemoresville. After shoring up the rickety structure that night, the Confederates crossed the swampy Obion bottoms, slipped between the pursuing Federal columns, and headed south toward Parker's Crossroads."

The Civil War Trails program provides structured destination information for tourists traveling to the state's war-related destinations, affording more visitors and tourism dollars to flow into Tennessee towns and cities.

we will knock the town out of getting the expansive Dollar General Store that is planned to be built."

The proposed construction site for the new Dollar General store is located within 250 feet of Liberty Christian Academy, a private school located at 107 Lexington Street.

He continued, "The new ownership group seeking to lease the new DG store is not affiliated with the individual that leases the DG Store (located at 30951 Highway 70) across from First Baptist Church. The new ownership group's decision to lease the proposed DG building hinges on whether they can sell beer there. It is as simple as that. I ask you to please approve the amended distance reduction for the good of our town. We cannot afford to squander this great opportunity."

At the motion of Alderman Scotty Higdon and second by Jenna Young, board members unanimously approved Ordinance 16-09, reducing the distance requirement for beer sales near churches and schools to 100 feet.

Continuing, the board unanimously approved on second and final reading Ordinance 16-08, amending Title 17 of the Bruceton Municipal Code relative to Garbage and Refuse Service Fees.

Prior to the vote, Keeton said, "Approving Ordinance 16-08 will allow Apex Bank to have only one dumpster and streamline its rent collection from tenants occupying its new building (located at 30703 Broad Street).

During Financial Statement review, Vice-Mayor Sturdivant asked Keeton why the town had received only one-third of projected revenues six months into the current fiscal year.

He asked, "Are we writing fewer speeding tickets? What is causing the downturn in revenues? We changed city judges in order to do a better job of collecting revenues."

Keeton said, "Citations for driver school attendance has increased, but speeding ticket citations have decreased. We are still dealing with issues."

Alderman Cole asked Bruceton Police Chief Ronnie Stewart," Why is a police report not available for review by the board?"

Stewart responded, "We (Bruceton Police Department) have been very busy as of late. A lot has been going on. I'll try to have a report ready for you all for the January meeting."

Cole responded, "Chief, you didn't provide a police report to the board last month, either. As a result, we don't have the information available to see what you all are doing in regard to issuing traffic citations and so forth."

He added, "I am a real stickler when it comes to the board receiving reports that involve financial matters that we need to be aware of. You should have a report for us every month. That needs to happen."

Stewart replied, "Like I said, we have been very busy. I will try to have a report for you next month."

Cole asked Keeton, "Is budgeting for the Fire Hall (being constructed behind the new Apex Bank) on track?"

Keeton replied, "Budgeting is on track, and the building should be completed on schedule, barring no unforeseen circumstances."

Sturdivant asked, "Mr. Mayor, if budget money is available, can we blacktop the Fire Hall access road?

Keeton said, "We will pave the Fire Hall access road eventually, but it will probably remain graveled for some time. The access road will not take precedent over roadways that are in need for paving."

The meeting concluded with Keeton wishing the board, town employees, and citizens a Merry Christmas.

The Town of Bruceton's next regular meeting is Tuesday, January 10 at 7:00 p.m. at City Hall.

The Classic That Almost Wasn't

By Clayburn Peeples

If you are younger than 60, or have children under 60, it's almost certain you seen the half-hour Christmas program, A Charlie Brown Christmas, at least once, probably many times. That's because it became an instant classic the year it came out, in 1965, and has been shown every year since. It has also spawned dozens of other Charlie Brown specials over the past half century, virtually all commercially success. As a matter of fact, any new Peanuts program is almost guaranteed to be successful.

It wasn't always so. When the first one of them, A Charlie Brown Christmas, was in development, nearly everyone working on it expected it to be a colossal failure.

Charlie Brown, of course, was the featured character in the comic strip Peanuts, and in the 1950s and early 60s, everybody, it seemed, read newspapers, and if you didn't look at any other comic strip, you read Peanuts. It was a worldwide sensation.

Everybody loved it, and in 1963, a television producer got what he thought was a great idea to make a documentary about Charles Schulz, the strip's creator, and its success. Despite the huge popularity of the strip, however, no one no one wanted to buy the documentary to show on television.

But in April of 1965 the Peanuts gang was featured on the cover of Time magazine, and a couple of months later an ad agency executive called the producer of the earlier Peanuts program on behalf of the Coca-Cola Company. Coke was looking for a TV special to sponsor during the 1965 holiday season. Had the producer of the show and Schulz, he asked, ever considered doing an animated Christmas special featuring the Peanuts characters?

"Yes," the producer fibbed, and immediately called Schulz to tell him the good news. The bad news? They had to have a story outline ready in four days.

The other bad news was that Coca-Cola wanted to air the show in early December of that same year, meaning they would only have a bare six months to complete the entire project.

Schulz had very definite ideas on how the show should be done, and he insisted on implementing them. First, he refused to allow a laugh track to play over the actors' voices, preferring instead, he said, to allow the audience to find the humor in the actors' lines themselves.

And the actors? They weren't actors; they were kids from the area, some so young they hadn't even learned to read yet. The network boys didn't like that at all, and they also thought the cynical "big" words used by the characters (such as Lucy's statement ". . . we all know that Christmas is a big commercial racket.) sounded inauthentic, but what they didn't know was that Peanuts characters had always talked like that; it was part of their charm.

The edgy jazz soundtrack by young pianist, Vince Guaraldi, also caused all sorts of consternation among the brass as well, but the biggest problem network executives had with the show was the plot. Even in the faraway days of the 1960's, political correctness was influencing, if not dominating what was shown on television, and conventional Christian religion was clearly somewhat out of favor, even back then.

This was reflected in the fact that fewer than 9% of the Christmas television specials made during that decade had substantive religious themes, but Schulz was a Sunday school teacher at the time, a serious one, and his idea was to make a show about kids discovering the true meaning of Christmas in the midst of their own self-centered, cynical celebration.

That wouldn't have been too much of a problem of the network executives if Schulz had presented that theme subtly, but instead he hit him over the head with Linus reading an entire, minute long speech from the Gospel of Luke near the end of the program, the passage that ends "glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace and goodwill toward men." The producers had reluctantly agreed earlier to the inclusion of a nativity scene being shown, but when they realized he had included the Gospel passage as well, they were flabbergasted and aghast.

This is religion, they told Schulz; we can't do that on television. It's too controversial!

But on this, Schulz was adamant and refused to budge, saying to them, "If we don't do it, who will?"

And so they did, finishing the program less than 10 days before it was to air. Network programmers were horrified when they watched it the next day, and had they not already sold the time slot and announced the show on TV Guide ahead of time, they would've canceled it.

But to their astonishment, not only did nearly half the country tune in, but they loved it as well, and so did the critics. Positive reviews and letters of gratitude poured in, and suddenly the blockheads who tried to cancel the show became programming geniuses, quickly contracting for four more shows.

And as to that controversial passage from Luke that they were most anxious about? Everybody agreed it was the heart and soul of the program.

And of course it was, because, as Linus said immediately after reciting it, "that's what Christmas is all about, Charlie Brown."

And if we don't say it, who will?

Merry Christmas.

Hunker Down With Kes

Do You See What I See

IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE CHRISTMAS; pretty paper-pretty ribbons of blue, mistletoe, silver bells, wishing through the Sears and Roebuck catalog, dreaming of a white Christmas, candles, eggnog, nutmeg, chestnuts roasting by an open fire, being nice to your little brother, stockings hung with care, drawing names, the most wonderful time of the year, falling to sleep on a braided rug, visions of sugar plums...and Tonka trucks dancing in your head.

ROCKIN' AROUND THE CHRISTMAS TREE; one slightly bent red and green metal stand, moving furniture to make room, stinging popcorn, "turn the bad side to the wall", unboxing ornaments, untangling endless strings of lights, sweeping up pine needles, deck the halls, finding the "bad" bulb, tossing silver tensile as high up as possible, hanging the toy soldier with care, bubbling lights, fake snow, the big star on top, carefully picking up the broken ornament and running outside to see how "it looks" through the window.

JINGLE BELLS; Charlie Brown's Christmas special, the Grinch, five golden rings, Little Cindy Lou, a one horse open sleigh, four calling birds, Tiny Tim, Bah Humbug, candy cane, an old silk hat, peppermint sticks, three French hens, bob sledding, snow cream, Alvin and the Chipmunks, two turtle doves, Mattel toys, Salvation Army, Jack Frost, every Who in Whoville....and a partridge in a pear tree.

WALKING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND; all is calm, all is bright, Perry Como, snowballs, grandfather's flannel shirt, George Bailey, Hallmark Cards, memories of Christmas past, not even a mouse, Christmas wreath, Parson Brown, boiled custard, napkins with Christmas tree imprints, no payments till January, Nutcracker, nativity scenes, stick on bows, last minute Christmas shopping, anticipation, carolers outside the door, waiting for the kids to go to bed, put another log on the fire, Pa rum pum pum pum, Rum pum pum pum.

GRANDMA GOT RUN OVER BY A REINDEER; the Polar Express, on Dasher and Dancer, Prancer and Vixen, Clyde and Leroy, Cupid and Bubba.....and Rudolph, Ho Ho Ho, Kris Kringle, St. Nick, Pere Noel, Weihnachtsmann, Miracle on 34th Street, milk and cookies, elves, North Pole, magic dust, a busy night, the man with the bag, eyes that twinkled, a broad black belt, a stomach that shook when he laughed like a bowl full of jelly, a nod and a wink and I think I hear something up on the rooftop.....

HERE COMES SANTA CLAUS; up at the crack of dawn, open me first, a new Western Flyer, a gun and holster set, a Christmas morning hug, a Raggedy Ann doll, "did you get batteries", Slinky, a Lionel train, Barbie, Norelco shaver, oranges and walnuts don't count as gifts, Timex watch, anything with Gene Autry's name on it, putting a swing set together, turtle neck sweaters, striped ties, roller skates, "have you read the instructions", Ronco veg-i-matic, framed velvet picture of Elvis, Buck knife, Erector Set, Tinker Toys, Duncan yo-yos and don't tear the paper, we'll use it again next year!

I'LL BE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS; Pa's table grace, Grandmother's cranberry sauce, hot chocolate, the good silver ware, quiet reflection, kitchen abuzz with sweet aromas and ringing laughter, "pass the giblet gravy", It's A Wonderful Life, white tablecloth, peace on earth, football bowl games, fruitcake, cookie cutters, gingerbread houses, old friends, brothers, the family Bible, lingering around the table, a Norman Rockwell painting and the turkey wasn't the only thing that got stuffed.

O HOLY NIGHT; Augustus Caesar, espoused, no room in the inn, stable, away in a manger, lowing cattle, swaddling clothes, Joseph, prophesy fulfilled, Luke, Chapter Two, baby's first Christmas, star in the East, Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh, carpenter's son, holy infant, the first Noel, epicenter of human history, Mary pondered all these things in her heart...and Wise Men still seek Him.

HARK THE HERALD ANGELS SING; the first Christmas cantata, heavenly host, sore afraid, fear not, good tidings of great joy, to all people, and of His kingdom there will be no end, the Man from Galilee, Prince of Peace, Rose of Sharon, the Lily of the Valley, Everlasting Light, Chief Cornerstone, Wonderful Counselor, Messiah, Redeemer, Suffering Servant, Lion of Judah, only begotten Son, Rock of Ages, the Balm of Gilead, King of Israel, Lord of Lords, Lamb of God, Immanuel, the Bright and Morning Star, the Fourth Man in the fire, the Alpha and Omega...and every knee shall bow. And every knee shall bow.

Merry Christmas,

Looking Back Through Ornaments

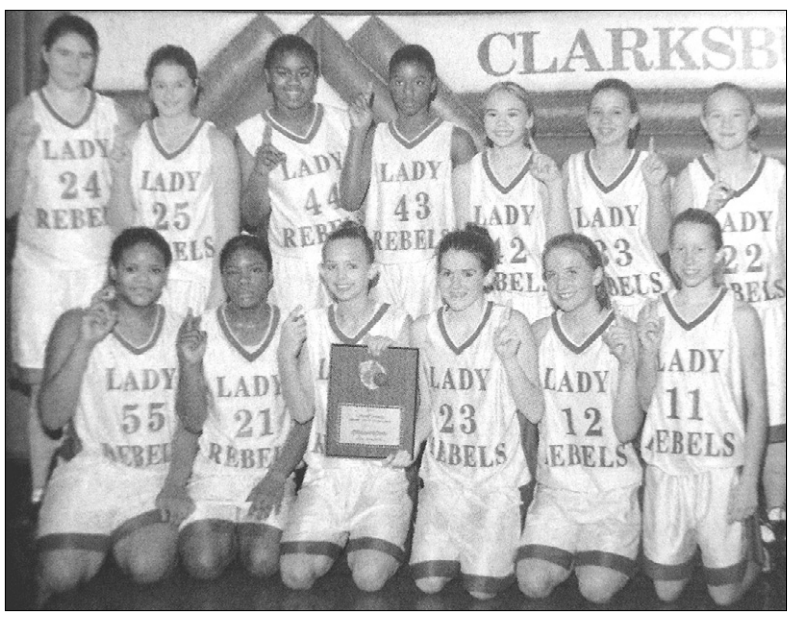

By Paula Watkins

I sat looking at our decorated Christmas tree feeling rather proud of my accomplishment. All the ornaments loaded with many memories were all the prodding I needed to remember when. So I share these special recollections with you.

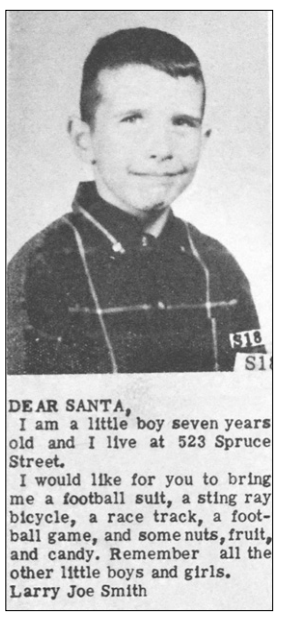

It began almost fifty-five years ago. Our first six ornaments were purchased with no thought of any of those decorations making it past the first few years of marriage. Five of those ornaments still hang at the very top of our tree, even with the original bobby pins that were transformed into hangers. They are faded, the glitter is no longer considered glowing. Fifty-five years of Christmas chaos and Heavenly peace is etched into each ornament.

Along came three beautiful children and all the help we needed to decorate a tree. One of the first memorable decorations was a small tin housing a lump of coal. It took a lot of history to explain what a lump of coal was. It was useless to try to explain how Daddy carried this fuel from the basement to begin a fire in our coal stove. And why in the world would getting a lump of coal for Christmas be so bad?? A youngster has enough sense of curiosity to wonder about seeing how coal would burn. Ornaments made from molds and felt still hang on the tree. Those were special ornaments made by children who just knew they would far outshine any bauble. And you know? They still do make me smile, probably more than any of the other ornaments. Memories of weddings and historical remembrances are there. UT sports and McKenzie Rebel ornaments will continue to be displayed as long as possible. Looking at all the ornaments given to us by friends create a sense of family that can never be replaced.

And lastly, the lower limbs of our beautiful tree continue to hold the child-proof ornaments. You can't slow down the romping and running created by little ones racing around the tree. Don't try! My goodness, they are excited! Watching tiny tots makes you wish for their energy. Watching those child-proof balls shake and sway causes you to realize how blessed you are. Where did time go?! Of course, all the recollections are still with me, shining right there on our family tree. To you and yours – may God bless you and may your treasure box of Christmas memories be bursting with love.

DEAR SANTA,
I am a little boy seven years old and I live at 523 Spruce Street.
I would like for you to bring me a football suit, a sting ray bicycle, a race track, a football game, and some nuts, fruit, and candy. Remember all the other little boys and girls.

McKenzie Garden Club News

The McKenzie Garden Club met November 18, 2016 at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church with President Donna Ward presiding. Donna Herrin gave the devotional entitled Gifts of Gratefulness. She said God does not expect our thanks so much as he expects gratefulness because of what it means to our souls-that his gifts are not due our worthiness but because of his love for us.

Donna Ward read the roll call of members who responded with quotes from the Spice of Life. Twelve members were present and three guests. Members elected to continue with their business meeting and program and enjoy refreshments while looking at the holiday arts and crafts sale being held in the church.

Linda Howton read the minutes of the last meeting. Cynthia Summers sent the treasurer's report. The minutes and treasurer's report were approved. Donna read a thank you note from Habitat for Humanity thanking the group for their donation. The group is working on their 20th house in Carroll County and their 6th one in McKenzie. They said the money sent by the garden club would be used to landscape the house currently under construction.

Marlene Kreuter reported that Glynda's husband was to be returning from treatment that day and members were asked to keep them in prayer.

Donna Ward asked members to choose a date to work on Christmas decorations for Triangle Park. Members chose to meet November 30 at 1:00. The nominating committee has met and their report will be given at the December meeting.

Members sang to Martha Peters whose birthday is November 29. Donna Herrin introduced the guest speaker, Paulette Crews of Huntingdon. She presented a slide show of a trip to England with Jason Reeves and the Master Gardeners group from Jackson. She talked about how she got into gardening and how healthy and happy she now feels. She had lovely photos of the many castles and their gardens they visited. Everyone enjoyed seeing that many of the palaces had not only formal flower gardens but also vegetable gardens as well. One home was the birthplace of Winston Churchill and one included the tomb of a former Queen of England.

Following the reading of the Collect members enjoyed lovely refreshments served by hostesses: Martha Peters and Sarah Brown.

West Carroll Students Learn About the Seven Wonders of the World

As a child, Elaine Hatch wondered "where does that road go?" The native Carroll Countian, who went to school in Atwood and McKenzie, said she always had the desire to travel. The backroads of west Tennessee would take her to Natchez Trace, Shiloh battleground, and Reelfoot Lake.

Elaine Hatch Christian was the guest speaker at West Carroll Elementary School in Trezevant at the request of Lex Suite. She spoke about the seven ancient wonders of the world and the seven modern wonders of the world.

Now, Elaine Hatch Christian and husband, Darrell travel the world to see magnificent sites and to learn about the people of the world. Her travels have taken her to the seven continents and places, such as the Great Wall in China, Petra in Jordan, the pyramids in Egypt, Chichen Itza in Mexico, Machu Pichu in Peru, Christ the Redeemer in Brazil, the Great Barrier Reef in Australia, and many other locations.

West Carroll sixth graders gathered in the Art Room to hear Mrs. Christian and to see a slideshow of her photographs. Students had studied about many of the places.

She encouraged students to learn about the world, the many cultures, and travel whenever possible. There are two websites she also suggested: new7wonders.com and her own blog, elaineanddarrell.blogspot.com.

Elaine Christian of Jackson (seated) spoke to sixth graders at West Carroll Elementary School in Trezevant. Pictured are Jamaf Roberson, Keagan Hinson, Kaylee Butler, Dylan Carey, Brock Polinski, Shooter Nelson, Hunter Holmes, Skylar Jones, and Lillie Dale.

Mr. Suite presented Mrs. Christian with a coffee mug imprinted with the West Carroll logo and some ink pens in appreciation for her presentation.

Once again, the Morning Glory Garden Club is delighted to continue its multi-year Christmas tradition of choosing the best traditional and novelty lighting in our beautifully-decorated town.

The novelty award and $100 given by the city was presented to Frank and Nancy White of 143 Diamond Drive. The White's home is situated on the corner and features Frank's expert hand-crafted designs all colorfully lit and visible from two angles.

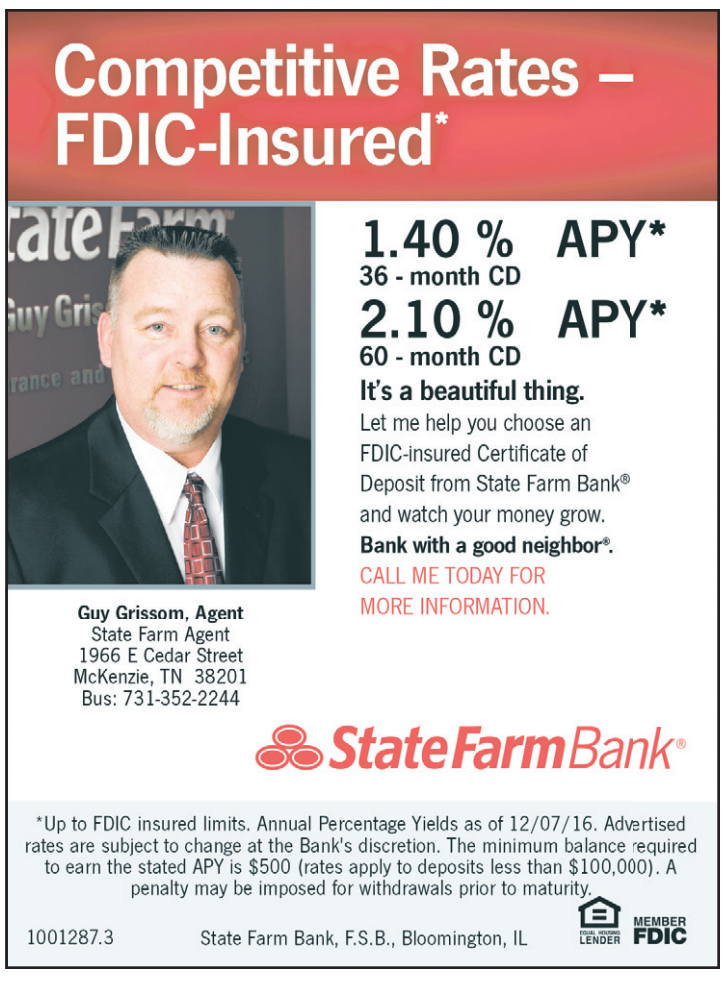

This year, Hayes Brummitt, who is a gifted floral designer, suggested that the businesses exhibit a wreath featuring their type of business. First place award and $100 was presented to Finishin' Touch located at 2387 Cedar Street. Second place and $50 was presented to Super Drugs, also located on Cedar Street.

The Morning Glory Garden Club thanks the businesses for their clever designs; and Hayes for his idea and generosity in awarding theses prizes.

By Dave McCulley
Bethel University Sports Information Director

MCKENZIE (December 14) — The Bethel Wildcats played their final contest before the Christmas break against former TranSouth Conference opponent Cumberland University in Crisp Arena, losing to the Phoenix, 87-85.

Bethel fell to 9-3 on the season while Cumberland improved to 6-5.

The Cats lost their third-straight and suffered its first loss at home (4-1) on the season.

Bethel is 58-16 all-time in Crisp Arena.

The Wildcats appeared to be in good shape with 10:30 left in the game, but Cumberland fought back to tie the game at 79 all with 2:52 left for the game's first tie.

The visitors took an 81-80 lead before Bethel's Darren Davidson banked a long three-pointer to give the Cats an 83-81 lead.

Reacting, Cumberland tied the game at 83 before Bethel missed and fouled Rhyan Townes who hit two free throws that proved to be the difference. As the game clock wound down, Bethel's Davidson missed a three-pointer and Marcus Burnett's tip attempt failed to go in as CU escaped with the victory.

In the first half, the Wildcats trailed 10-9 before netted 12 unanswered points to take a 21-10 lead, with Huntingdon standout Justice Scott scoring 10 of the 12 points.

The Wildcats led at half, 44-39, before falling at the end, 87-85.

It was the first loss of the season when Bethel led at the break.

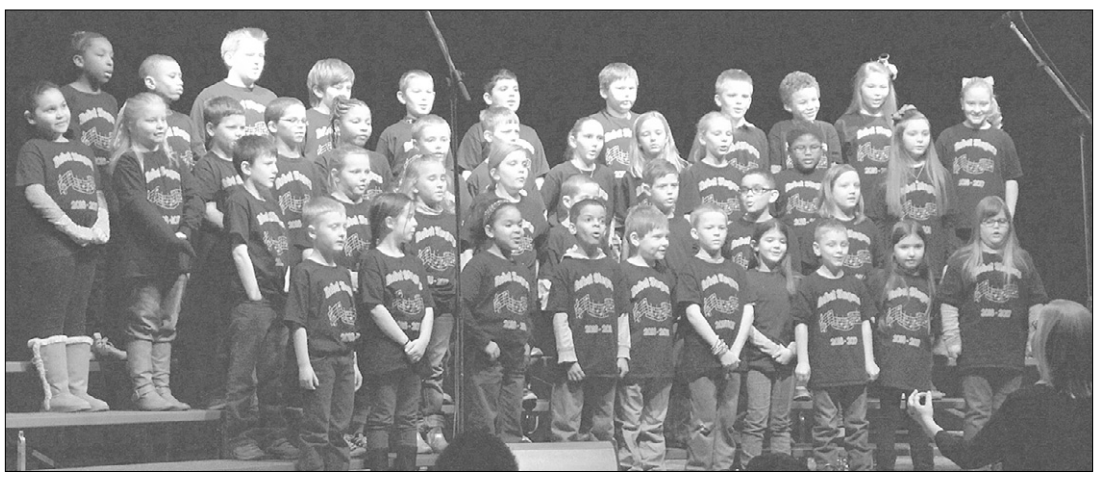

Both teams shot well with Bethel shooting 50-percent while Cumberland shot 54-percent from the field. Both teams had 35 field goals. CU hit seven three-pointers while the Wildcats netted six. CU hit 10-of-16 free throws while Bethel hit 9-of-16 from the line. Both teams had just 10 turnovers each. Bethel had a 39-34 rebound advantage.

Davidson led Bethel with 25 points. Isaac Edmondson followed with 20 points. Scott finished with 12 while Burnett netted 12 points and snared a game-high 14 rebounds.

Following the contest, Wildcat Head Coach Jeff Britt said, "We just did not get enough stops. We had the lead and let it get away, but credit Cumberland. They are well-coached and play hard. We did not stay in front of them, and they took advantage of that. After our three victories in Pulaski, everyone is gunning for us. Our guys have to understand we have to match the intensity we are seeing the opponents throw at us. I hope this loss affects our young men during this long break and teaches us what we have to do after the Christmas break."

He added, "We would like to wish our fans a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. We look forward to getting back in here on the 29th."

The Wildcats are off until December 29th and 31st when they return to host Coastal Georgia and Brewton-Parker in SSAC match-ups.

According to Hedge's report, Brinkman showed up at the home of Austin William's mother. When he was asked to leave, he refused and Brinkman and Williams began to tussle. Brinkman pushed Williams through a storm door, and Williams pulled Brinkman down with him. When officers arrived, Brinkman had suffered injuries from the fall. They also saw a spoon and syringe in the doorway of the home. Brinkman was not charged at the time, but charges were filed later and a warrant for his arrest was issued.

CITY OF MCKENZIE

Americans With Disabilities Act Transition Plan (ADA):
Pedestrian Facilities in the Public Right-of-Way

Introduction: The purpose of this plan is to ensure that the City of McKenzie creates reasonable, accessible paths of travel in the public right-of-way for everyone, including people with disabilities. The City of McKenzie has made a significant and long-term commitment to improving the accessibility of their pedestrian facilities. The Transition Plan will identify physical barriers and prioritize improvements that should be made throughout the City of McKenzie. This Transition Plan will describe the existing policies and programs to enhance the overall pedestrian accessibility.

Legal Requirements:
This federal legislation known as the American with Disabilities Act (ADA) enacted on July 26, 1990 provides comprehensive civil rights protections to persons with disabilities in areas of employment, state and local government services, and access to public accommodations, transportation and telecommunications. NYS Standards are followed.

Title II specifically applies to "public entities" (state and local government) and the programs, services and activities they deliver. Title II Article 8, requires public entities to take several steps designed to achieve compliance. The city plan will, at a minimum include:

- A list of the physical barriers in a public entity's facilities that limit the accessibility of its programs, activities, or services to individuals with disabilities.
- A detailed outline of the methods to be utilized to remove these barriers and make the facilities accessible.
- The schedule for taking the necessary steps to achieve compliance with Title II.
- The name of the official responsible for the plan's implementation.

The city is in the process of identifying and assessing obstacles in the public right of way through the use of an inventory tool. Barrier Removal Priorities based on location priority and accessibility conditions will be a part of the inventory process. It is very important that the public be aware that their involvement in this plan is a valuable component to the city in compiling a workable plan of compliance. Your involvement is solicited in developing the ADA Transition Plan.

PUBLIC COMPLAINT: Public complaints, suggestions and comments can also be an integral part of the transition plan. Public comments may often drive the prioritization of improvements. To file a comment or request please contact Ms. Terry McCoy, ADA Coordinator, for the City of McKenzie at McKenzie City Hall, 2470 Cedar Street or P.O. Box 160, McKenzie, Tennessee 38201 (731-352-2292).

Public Input:
Public comment and response forms are available at the city hall and on the city's website under ADA category. The City of McKenzie welcomes your participation and unique outlook as to how the city can meet and exceed ADA requirements and recommendations. Public involvement in the city's ADA plan has been a valuable component to the city in compiling a workable plan of compliance. We continue to solicit your additions to the ADA Transition Plan.

An inventory of the City of McKenzie's streets is included with this transition plan. The inventory is color coded to the status of ADA.

The plan to complete the ADA requirements is through an annual appropriations for materials to bring the sidewalk intersections into compliance. Plans are to complete the requirements as the city authorizes paving projects and the barriers as designated and appropriate intersection corrections will be made.

For the most part, sidewalks left that need to be brought into compliance are residential locations within the city. As stated above, the City of McKenzie will annually include ADA compliance with any paving projects.

McKenzie Police Department Reports

Aggravated Burglary — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Kyle Beauchamp, on December 13, Ashlynn Foster, Garland Street, McKenzie, came to MPD to report that someone had broken into her residence between the hours of 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, December 14 and 3:30 p.m., Thursday, December 15. The report noted that Foster, upon returning home on the afternoon of December 15, noticed that someone had used a small tire iron to pry open her kitchen door. The pry bar was lying on a chair beside the door, and pry marks were visible on the door jamb. Upon entering her home, Foster noticed that her son's silver-colored Xbox 360, a red-colored wired controller, and a Winchester brand hunting knife was missing from the living room. She then observed that her bedroom door and hallway closet doors were open. Foster said that her boyfriend's Compaq brand laptop computer was missing along with several Xbox games.

Theft — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Billy King, on December 16, the officer responded to a shoplifting call from Merchants Outlet Mall located on Highland Drive. Upon arriving at the scene, the officer spoke to a store employee who stated that the defendant, identified as Veronica Beckett, 36, Ralston Road, McKenzie, tried to leave the store with a $10 pair of black leggings she did not pay for and set off the security alarms. The report noted that the leggings were found in Beckett's purse. She was cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for the listed offense.

Driving on suspended / revoked license / financial responsibility / expired registration — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Jasmin Burgess, on December 15, the officer observed a brown-colored, 1982 Ford vehicle traveling along Cedar Street at a high rate of speed. Upon verifying via radar that the vehicle was traveling 45 mph in a 30 mph speed zone, the officer initiated a traffic stop. Approaching the vehicle, the officer observed that the tags were out of date, having expired in April of 2016. The driver of the vehicle, identified as Nancy A. Merkes, 54, Oak Lane, Trezevant, could not provide proof of insurance for the vehicle. A computer check of Merkes license revealed that they were revoked for failure to file owner / operator report as well as failing to comply with financial responsibility on June 9, 2016 by the State of Tennessee. After being unable to locate her insurance information, the officer advised Merkes to contact someone to come get her. The officer then issued a warning citation for speeding and issued citations for the listed offenses.

Simple possession or casual exchange / speeding — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Frank McGee, on December 14, the officer stopped a vehicle for speeding along Highway 22 South. The report noted that the vehicle driver, identified as Andre D. McNeal, 22, Watson Road, Wildersville, was very compliant and gave the officer permission to search the vehicle. Upon searching the vehicle's occupants, the officer discovered two hand-rolled marijuana cigarettes on the person of a juvenile. The juvenile was transported to MPD and released to the custody of her mother. The marijuana cigarettes were seized as evidence.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.
