Bethel Loses State Certification for School of Education

University Will Challenge Decision

Bethel University is preparing to take steps to advocate for its students working toward professional teacher licensure after the Tennessee State Board of Education voted Friday, July 22, to deny approval of Bethel's Professional Education and Licensing Program – a decision that could potentially affect as many as 500 of Bethel's 5,600 students. The recommendation follows the Tennessee Department of Education's recommendation to deny.

Bethel's School of Education has been approved as an educational preparation provider by the State of Tennessee for as long as the State Board of Education has required teacher training programs be approved to recommend graduates for teacher licensure. Under the current policy, programs that have been approved must undergo a comprehensive review every seven years to maintain

Governor Bill Haslam Announces Eurotranciatura to Expand in Paris

Manufacturer To Create Over 170 New Jobs

PARIS — Tennessee Gov. Bill Haslam, local Henry County officials, State Representative Tim Wirgau and State Senator John Stephens along with Eurotranciatura USA officials today announced the manufacturer is investing $12.6 million to expand its operations in Paris over the next five years.

Eurotranciatura, a subsidiary of the world's largest steel lamination company for electrical rotating machines, will create more than 170 new jobs as part of the expansion.

Eurotranciatura's investment includes upgrades and new equipment for its existing manufacturing plant in Henry County, on Highway 54 in Paris. Eurotranciatura will also build a roughly 30,000 square foot distribution warehouse near its current plant to accommodate growth and reduce transportation costs.

"Advanced manufacturing runs deep in Tennessee. Time and time again, when manufacturers choose to locate in our state, Tennesseans are up to the task," Haslam said. "Tennessee's highly-skilled workforce and dedication to innovation continue to attract leading manufacturers like Eurotranciatura. We thank them for choosing to expand

Carroll County

Awarded $50K Tourism Grant

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

NASHVILLE — Tennessee Governor Bill Haslam and Economic and Community Development Commissioner Randy Boyd announced today that Carroll County and 28 other communities will receive over $999,000 in Tourism Enhancement Grants to assist communities with tourism infrastructure assets.

During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, Carroll County Mayor Kenny McBride said that the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce successfully applied on behalf of the county for $50,000 in funds to be allocated for enhancement upgrades to the Carroll County Shooting Sports Complex.

He said, "Economic and Community Development Commissioner Boyd has visited the Carroll County Shooting Sports Complex numerous times and accompanied his son at the State Shooting Championships held at the complex in June of this year. Commissioner Boyd realizes how vital the Carroll County Shooting Sports Complex in attracting shooting sports teams from all over the United States to our area. Texas A&M's shooting sports

Gränges AB

Noranda Bankruptcy Court Decision Delayed

Although Gränges AB won the court-supervised auction to acquire Noranda Aluminum Holding Corporation's U.S.-based downstream aluminum rolling business on July 8, 2016, the completion of proceedings approval by the US Bankruptcy Court expected by mid-July has been adjourned to July 28, 2016.

A decision regarding sales finalization is now expected in the end of July at the earliest.

According to Gränges website, the company's view is that the adjourned hearing will not affect the outcome in Court.

Closing of the reported $324.2 million deal between Gränges and Noranda that includes purchase of the Huntingdon Plant is expected during third quarter of 2016.

Carroll County Mayor Kenny McBride noted that he has not conversed with Gränges since speaking with them prior to the company's purchase of Noranda's downstream aluminum rolling business.

He said, "I am sure that Gränges officials will be very busy for some time processing the voluminous paperwork that accompanies a purchase of this magnitude. My conversation with Gränges officials prior to the sale involved Carroll County's willingness to provide everything possible in terms of incentives in order to reinforce our commitment to the company relative to their potential purchase of the Huntingdon Plant. I am thankful Gränges won the auction. I am excited and looking forward to helping Gränges prosper and expand their business in Carroll County."

Gränges is a leading global supplier of rolled products for brazed aluminum heat exchangers. The company develops, produces, and markets advanced materials that enhance efficiency in the customer manufacturing process and the performance of the final products; brazed heat exchangers. The company's geographical markets are Europe, Asia and the Americas. Its production facilities are located in Finspång, Sweden, and Shanghai, China, and have a combined annual capacity of 220,000 metric tons. Gränges has some 950 employees. Company net sales in 2015 totaled $5,494 million. Its shares have been listed on Nasdaq Stockholm since October, 2014.

Carroll Lake Restoration Set to Start

JACKSON — The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency is making final preparations to restore Carroll Lake, making fishing possible again.

The 100-acre lake, located between Huntingdon and McKenzie, has been unable to hold water after its floodgates were irreparably damaged by rain-deluged flood waters in 2014.

During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, TWRA Biologist Tim Broadbent of McKenzie spoke about the Agency's plan to re-open Carroll Lake.

He said, "The first step to re-opening Carroll Lake involves the rebuilding and placing of the lake's water flow and containment gates. Diversified Contractors of McKenzie should complete the gate installation process later this summer. While Diversified is restoring the water containment gates, TWRA will spray chemicals to kill vegetation and small trees that have grown on the surface of the dry lake bed."

Broadbent noted that, although TWRA does not have the funds or the ability to fully extricate the lake bed to original 1949 construction depths, the Agency is exploring the possibility of building a peninsula with extricated channel near the boat ramp and fishing pier to allow fishermen added angling opportunities.

In the next few months the heavy equipment crew will determine if additional peninsulas can be installed. This step will depend upon soil consistency. In early fall, we expect to close the gates, begin refilling, and stock bluegill and catfish when the lake is refilled. Largemouth bass will be stocked in the spring. Fishing will not be allowed for at least three years to allow growth of stocked species

Carroll Lake will be restored at no cost to Carroll County."

Washburn Completes Term on TPA Board

Joel Washburn, publisher of The McKenzie Banner, completed nine years of service on the statewide Tennessee Press Association Board of Directors. His tenure of service ended July 22 during the presidential installation ceremony of Ron Fryar, publisher of the Cannon Courier in Woodbury, Tenn. Tennessee Press Association has approximately 120 member newspapers.

During his tenure, Washburn served as a director, treasurer, vice president, president (2014-15), and immediate past president.

Jack McElroy, editor of the Knoxville News-Sentinel served as president during 2015-16.

Huntingdon Special School District

School Budget Includes Computers for Students

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (July 21) — During the regular monthly meeting of the Huntingdon Special School District Board of Education, board members, at the recommendation of HSSD Director of Schools Pat Dillahunty, approved the following HSSD 2016-17 Budget: total budget-$10,922,355; General Purpose Budget-$8,945,411 (increase of $203,462 from 2015-16 budget) including a four-percent salary increase for certified and non-certified teachers with a one-time bonus of $750 for certified employees and $500 bonus for non-certified employees and a six-percent projected increase in insurance rates based on certified property tax rate of $1.2282 per $100 assessed property value ($0.8932 General Purpose / $0.3350 Debt Service).

A significant program includes $92,000 for the One to One Computer Program, which will provide portable computers for student-use on a one computer to one student basis. The program is a significant investment by the school to provide educational resources with up-to-date sources through cloud-based databases.

The increase of the property tax rate from $1.0729 per $100 assessed property (2015-2016) to $1.2282 (2016-2017) resulted from miscalculation by the state's property tax assessor's office.

Dillahunty noted that the school systems' General Purpose Budget also includes a $92,000 one-to-one device lease agreement.

Board members, following lengthy discussion, unanimously approved the motion of board member Dr. Tim Tucker to eliminate the $500 fee paid by non-resident students to attend Huntingdon Special School District.

Prior to the vote, HSSSD Chairman Dr. Lee Carter asked if tuition waivers should be granted to non-resident students if their families owned property in Huntingdon.

Dr. Tucker responded, "The introduction of variables like this muddies up the waters on how we interpret the procedure for providing tuition waivers. Does owning property mean the same as paying taxes in town? The reason we introduced non-resident students fees was to recoup tax dollars."

HSSD Director Pat Dillahunty interjected, "Really, it depends on what people own. We charge $500 in non-resident student tuition rates, but there are people in town that pay less than $500 in property taxes."

Board member Jerry Morris added, "Some folks buy small pieces of property in town so that their children can attend our school system."

Board member Paul Stokes replied, "I want families of students to pay taxes in Huntingdon. I make the motion that we provide non-resident tuition waivers only to students whose families own businesses in town."

Stokes' motion died for a lack of second.

Board member Vicki Williams asked if discussion of the non-resident student voucher could be tabled for consideration at a later date.

HSSD Board Vice-Chairman Jason Culbreath said, "I see the merit in Tim (Tucker) and Paul's (Stokes) points regarding the waiver issue. There are a lot of different this issue can be interpreted."

Chairman Carter said, "I don't foresee a long line of non-resident students lining up to seek enrollment at our school. Ms. Pat, how many non-resident students did we have last year?"

She replied, "Six. Three of the non-resident students graduated last year, and I expect the three students that attended last year to return."

Dr. Tucker responded, "If we can leave the application stipulations in place allowing Director Dillahunty to review each student's application and verify that it is in the best interest of the student to transfer to our school system without negatively impacting our school system, I make the motion that we do away with tuition rates for non-resident students with the understanding that said tuition rates can be reintroduced in the future if deemed necessary. I also include to the motion that non-resident students seeking to enroll in the Huntingdon School System do so at the first of the school year unless Ms. Pat determines that it is in the best interest of the student to transfer here during the school year. "

The motion was unanimously approved.

Dillahunty noted that non-resident students seeking to enroll in the Huntingdon School District would still pay a one-time, $50 application fee.

Dillahunty added, "Our school system is doing well economically. The decrease in enrollment we are experiencing is tough, but we still have the lowest tax rate and the highest teacher pay rate in the county."

In other business, Dillahunty acknowledged the resignation of Madeline Matheny-third grade; and the employment of A.J. Hall-sixth grade Social Studies; Leah Partridge-third grade; Brady Teague-HHS Spanish; and Joe Davis-HMS Band.

Dillahunty noted that Huntingdon school students will attend a half-day of classes on Thursday, August 4 from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. prior to commencement of full-day school sessions on August 5.

In final business, the board approved the following consent agenda:

A. Approved the June balance sheets and minutes from the June 16, 2016 meeting.

B. Acknowledged the resignation of the following: Erika Coomer, Daniel Duncan, and Kacee Reynolds.

C. Acknowledged the employment of the following: Kathryn Adams and Christal Reed-West Tennessee School for the Deaf.

D. Acknowledge the transfer of the following: Jeaneen Blakeman to third grade and Sherry McGee to second grade.

E. Acknowledged a leave of absence for Jamie Sanders for August 29-October 21, 2016.

F. Next school board meeting is August 18 at 7:00 p.m.

Three County Commission Seats on November Ballot

HUNTINGDON (July 25) — In addition to the election of a U.S. president, congressman, state representatives, state senator, and some local elections, there will be three commissioners for the Carroll County Commission on the ballot.

Two commissioners have died while in office and a third one resigned after moving from the county.

Kenny McBride, mayor of Carroll County, said one seat in each of district 1, 5, and 8 will be filled during the November election.

District 1 representative Wayne Kirk of Lavinia died last week after a brief illness. Mayor McBride said seat will be declared vacant during the August meeting of the Commission. The seat will remain vacant until the November election.

The qualifying deadline for the November election is September 14. The district includes Cedar Grove, Atwood, Terry, and Lavinia.

District 8 representative Harold Vinson of McKenzie died last year. Gaylon Sydnor was appointed by the Commission to fill that position. Deadline for qualifying for the November election is August 18.

District 5 representative Buster Barger of Huntingdon moved from the county earlier this month. His seat was declared vacant during the July meeting of the Commission. An interim will be appointed by the Commission in August. Any registered voter in that district can seek the nomination to serve until the November election. August 18 is the qualifying deadline for the November election.

Carroll County Commission meets the second Monday of each Monday at 7:00 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Carroll County Office Complex, High Street, Huntingdon.

CCHS Targeting Feral Cat Population, Seeks City Support

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (July 18) — Dr. Sarah Kidd of the Carroll County Humane Society spoke to the McKenzie City Council during last Monday's meeting, addressing the growing problem of feral cats.

"McKenzie, Carroll County, and West Tennessee are drowning in cats," Kidd began. She explained that CCHS has been "enormously aggressive" with the problem, offering a pair of low-cost spay/neuter programs to cat owners in the area.

The standard program allows anyone to apply to have a cat "fixed" for $30 at select veterinarians.

The other program offers even steeper discounts to low-income residents who qualify. Families can have one cat fixed for $10, and additional cats fixed for just $5 each. The cats (around 60 at a time) are transported by humane society volunteers to Nashville for the low-cost procedures. One such trip was made in June, and another planned at the end of July was booked solid in less than a day. Funds have been secured for another round in September, and an October trip is in the works as well. CCHS has received more than 300 applications for the project.

Kidd pointed out to the board that these are cats that someone owns, but real progress means dealing with the feral population that contributes to the problem.

To combat the issue head-on, CCHS has instituted a Trap-Neuter-Return strategy, which is endorsed by the ASPCA and other national organizations. According to Kidd, TNR is the only statistically proven way to reduce the feral population. The old method of "capture and euthanize" simply does not work. Kidd explained that when feral cats are removed from a habitat, more will undoubtedly come to fill the vacuum. But, she says, if the cats are fixed and returned, they won't be able to reproduce en mass, but will still defend their turf from other feral cats.

On behalf of the CCHS, Kidd asked Mayor Jill Holland and the council for the city's support and cooperation. The group's volunteers need access and permission to city-owned properties to set and check traps, and also hope that city officials will help inform their constituents about the project.

In an interview with The Banner, Kidd offered this advice to the public: "If you feed it, fix it. If you don't, you'll be feeding a lot more."

She added that anyone with tips on where feral cats are pervasive can call the CCHS shelter at 731-352-9950.

Inmate's Escape is Short Lived

CARROLL COUNTY – An inmate's escape was short lived Monday after he was taken into custody on the same day.

Becky Keith, information officer for the Carroll County Sherriff's Department, said Charles Edward Bright, 45, white male, walked away for a work detail in McKenzie. The trusty was incarcerated on violation of probation stemming from traffic offenses, said Keith. He was a non-violent offender, just as all inmates, who have the privilege of working outside the jail.

Officer Keith phoned The Banner at around 7:00 p.m. to say Bright was back in custody. She was unaware of where he was or how he was captured.

Carroll County Sheriff's Department allows a limited number of inmates to work outside the jail. Only non-profit and governmental agencies are eligible for assistance by inmates. The City of McKenzie recently estimated the city saved $50,000 in annual labor costs, thanks to the program.

A trusty inmate must wear the traditional striped pants when on a work detail.

According to Bethel University President Dr. Walter Butler, the Tennessee Department of Education's recommendation to deny approval came as a shock to Bethel administration after it learned in May of 2016 its initial teacher preparation and advanced preparation programs received full accreditation by the Council for the Accreditation of Education Preparation ("CAEP"), a national accrediting agency approved by the United States Department of Education to accredit educator preparation providers. The decision to grant Bethel national accreditation was made even though CAEP found two of the six standards, developed by CAEP's predecessor agency, the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education ("NCATE"), were not fully met.

"Even though there were issues with two of the six standards for accreditation, CAEP granted accreditation for our professional education program giving us time to address issues before a return site visit in the fall of 2017," Butler said. "With our getting this accreditation, we thought the state board approval would remain since the State Department of Education had said publicly they would rely on the CAEP recommendation."

The Department's recommendation for denial of approval was based on the fact CAEP found Bethel did not meet two of the six standards. However, despite the Department's reliance on the NCATE standards, the Department refused to adopt the national accrediting agency's decision to grant accreditation. In addition, the Department itself conducted an on-site visit in April, 2015, and determined Bethel met all six NCATE standards. As such, the Department recommended the Board grant continuing approval to Bethel in July, 2015, but then unexpectedly asked the Board to defer action on Bethel's approval status to let the CAEP process play out.

The Board's action to adopt the Department's recommendation and deny approval of Bethel's program appears to be unprecedented as the Board has never denied approval to any other education preparation provider who has achieved national accreditation.

"We plan to do everything we can to challenge the denial of approval," Butler said. "We will work within the parameters of the judicial process, and we feel confident that we will ultimately prevail." Butler said that the University is hoping for a quick resolution that will minimize any detrimental impact on its students. If the Board's decision to deny approval stands, Bethel would operate as usual for the next 12 months giving those close to graduation the opportunity to complete the courses they would need to graduate and gain licensure. After that period of time, Bethel would be unable to recommend candidates for licensure for at least a two-year period.

Butler said the University will take reasonable steps to help all other students in Bethel's Professional Education and Licensing Program find ways to gain licensure.

"We really are scratching our heads on this one," Butler said. "We were told one thing by CAEP, and now without hardly any notice, we are being given this news. It just doesn't make sense that CAEP would grant accreditation and the State Board not follow suit."

According to Butler, the two standards not fully met dealt with candidate knowledge, skills and dispositions and with assessment systems and unit evaluations. "From the information provided to us, it appears not so much that our students don't meet a level of standard in these areas but that we have not adequately documented that they meet these standards," Butler said. "We have put into place a very committed and very competent leadership team and we are documenting that our education students are indeed meeting the standards they need to meet." Butler pointed out that much evidence shows the quality of teachers prepared by the nearly 175-year-old school. "Our students have a 100 percent pass rate on the PRAXIS Principles of Learning and Teaching examination in three of the last five years with no pass rate below 93%."

"We have good relationships with schools in the region with many of them continually hiring our graduates year after year. "We understand the purpose of standards," he said. "We set them for our University and its various programs every day. It seems to me that the actions taken by the Tennessee Department of Education and State Board of Education do not appear to be made in a manner that was consistent with Tennessee law. By challenging these actions, we are hoping we will gain the opportunity continue to improve our program and continue to produce quality professional educators," concluded Butler.

team is returning to shoot at the complex soon. Michigan State's shooting team has also utilized the facility. Twenty shooters from Wisconsin have shot at the complex, and shooters representing 20 states competed on site at the State Shooting Tournament this spring."

He added, "The boost to Carroll County's economy via lodging, dining, and shopping by people coming to the complex for shooting events is welcome and needed. The whole Carroll County community has embraced the facility. I am especially proud that local shooters are benefitting by having access to such an exceptional shooting facility. The Carroll County Shooting Sports Complex is drawing a lot of positive attention to our area nationally, and will continue to do so."

Via statewide press release, Governor Haslam congratulated Carroll County and the other 28 communities on receiving Tourism Enhancement Grants.

He noted that the Tourism Enhancement Grants showcase the great partnership existing between tourist development and economic development.

Economic and Community Development Commissioner Boyd added, "It is always exciting when communities choose to invest in economic development initiatives to grow and succeed in our state. Tourism development is economic development, and with the assistance of the Tourism Enhancement Grant and our partnership with Commissioner Kevin Triplett and the Department of Tourist Development, each community will be able to invest in their assets and grow their local economy."

Each grant application was supported by the community's senator and representatives in the Tennessee General Assembly.

The Tourism Enhancement Grants were funded by the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development and the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development.

An advisory committee made up of staff from the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development, the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development, the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation and the Tennessee Department of Agriculture selected the 29 communities from a pool of 61 grant applications.

works, school administrators and concerned citizens for the riveting presentation dealing with the sudden and often unpredictable acts of mass murder perpetrated by deranged individuals and groups.

Following welcoming comments by MPD Chief Craig Moates, Hudgins informed attendees that the purpose of the seminar was to make people aware that catastrophic events like the recent mass killings at a nightclub in Orlando, Florida; police assassinations in Dallas, Texas; or the deadly onslaught at Columbine High School in Colorado are something that one cannot predict.

He said, "A typical gun crime is carried out by the perpetrator to gain money or a car from a victim. An active shooter attack is not built on negotiation. It is done for the purpose of killing as many people as possible in a short period of time. People that perform these atrocities want their acts to be remembered. They want infamy. It has nothing to do with rational behavior. It is savage and it is real, and it can happen here just like it has happened in other parts of this state, nation and world."

Hudgins continued, "It is imperative that law enforcement train unceasingly in order to respond instantly in crisis. Law enforcement is trained to think the worst and work toward making things better. The public's first response in an active shooting situation is denial. Law enforcement must react. During the massacre at Columbine, SWAT and law enforcement gathered outside the high school and waited for 47 minutes while the horror unfolded inside. Law enforcement did not kill the two students that killed their fellow students and teachers, the suspects killed themselves. Law enforcement learned a lesson that day: We can't wait around anymore. If a shooter came into this theatre and opened fire, McKenzie Police would engage that person or persons immediately. There is no negotiation in a mass killing scenario that is ongoing. You have to take the killer out."

Hudgins encouraged attendees to formulate a plan of action in the event an active shooter situation arises in a public gathering.

He concluded, "This world we live in is not always a safe place. Awareness of your surroundings and quick response often provide the difference between surviving or perishing in an active shooter scenario. Be aware of your surroundings and do not allow yourself to take things for granted. Reaction saves lives. Someday, unfortunately, you or loved ones may face a situation like so many have faced recently and in years past. It is up to you to be ready. It is my hope that this seminar has prepared you for the unthinkable. " in Paris and their commitment to create more than 170 new jobs for Henry County. This expansion pushes us closer to our goal of being the No. 1 location in the Southeast for high quality jobs."

"Team Tennessee believes in the power of manufacturing, a sector that employs more than 332,000 Tennesseans and one that is continually evolving," Boyd said "Eurotranciatura is a global leader in that evolution and is constantly bringing new technologies to the table. We're excited Eurotranciatura is doing so right here in Paris and expanding operations in a major way. We welcome this new investment and Eurotranciatura's commitment to bring meaningful, highly-skilled jobs that will have a lasting impact on Henry County residents."

Eurotranciatura, a joint venture between Euro Group S.p.A and Kuroda Precision Industries Ltd., manufactures steel lamination products for electrical motors and generators. Eurotranciatura's Paris facility supplies the U.S market for companies such as Stanley Black & Decker, Franklin Electric, ThyssenKrupp, Regal Beloit, Generac as well as Tecumseh Products.

"Over the last 30 months, we successfully introduced the latest technologies available in the market to provide cost effective solutions for our customers," Eurotranciatura Chief Operations Officer Matteo Fassio said. "This was also achieved with the support of the local community and the state of Tennessee. This joint effort will secure the creation of additional jobs for Henry County in the near future."

In 2014, Eurotranciatura acquired the lamination division of Tecumseh, based at 2700 W. Wood St. in Paris. The company recently completed its purchase of Tecumseh's former building in Henry County.

Renovations to Eurotranciatura's existing plant are scheduled to be completed by the first or second quarter 2017. Construction of the new warehouse is expected to begin in August 2017.

Local elected officials and the Tennessee Valley Authority applauded Eurotranciatura's expansion.

"We are extremely pleased that one of our great local industries has decided to expand its footprint in our community," Henry County Mayor Brent Greer said. "They have been and will continue to be excellent corporate citizens for Paris and Henry County."

"The city of Paris is excited to partner with a great company like Eurotranciatura," city of Paris Mayor Carlton Gerrell said. "On behalf of the citizens of Paris, Tennessee, we want to thank Eurotranciatura for its investment and commitment to our community and look forward to its continued growth for years to come."

"TVA and Paris Board of Public Utilities congratulate Eurotranciatura USA on its announcement to create job opportunities in Henry County," TVA Senior Vice President of Economic Development John Bradley said. "It's always an exciting day when a company commits to growth in our rural communities, and we are pleased to partner with Paris-Henry County Economic Development Corporation, the city of Paris, Henry County and the Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development to celebrate this announcement and help further economic growth in the Valley."

Paris and Henry County are represented by Sen. John Stevens (R – Huntingdon) and Rep. Tim Wirgau (R – Buchanan) in the Tennessee General Assembly.

Sales Tax Holiday is This Weekend

NASHVILLE — Tennessee's sales tax holiday will now be one weekend earlier than it has been in the past, due to a 2016 law change. Starting this year, the sales tax holiday will be held during the last weekend in July, instead of the first weekend in August each year.

From July 29 through July 31, Tennessee shoppers can save nearly 10 percent on clothing, school supplies and computers, as students prepare for the back-to-school season.

"The sales tax holiday for back-to-school items is earlier this year. We encourage Tennesseans to mark their calendars so they don't miss this opportunity to save on important items," Gov. Bill Haslam said.

Under the new law, Tennessee's annual sales tax holiday will be held beginning at 12:01 a.m. on the last Friday in July and end at 11:59 p.m. the following Sunday night. This year, the sales tax holiday begins Friday, July 29 at 12:01 a.m. and ends Sunday, July 31 at 11:59 p.m.

The Readers Speak ...

Does Life Matter?

Dear Editor,

Do "black lives" matter? Absolutely! Do "white lives" matter? The "one" who gives "all life" tells us to "choose life." Does a "life" in a woman's womb matter? Absolutely!

Yet Americans in 1973 permitted abortion to become legal, and millions upon millions of babies have been aborted, which means murdered.

A major political party voted more than one time that they want no mention of god whatsoever in their national political convention platform.

We as a nation have told god, and are telling god, "we do not want, nor do we need you." Churches across America, "closed" and "half empty," verify this truth.

Someone once said, "When life is not sacred everywhere, it is not sacred anywhere." Today is "that" day. Just look at what has, and is happening in America, and around the world.

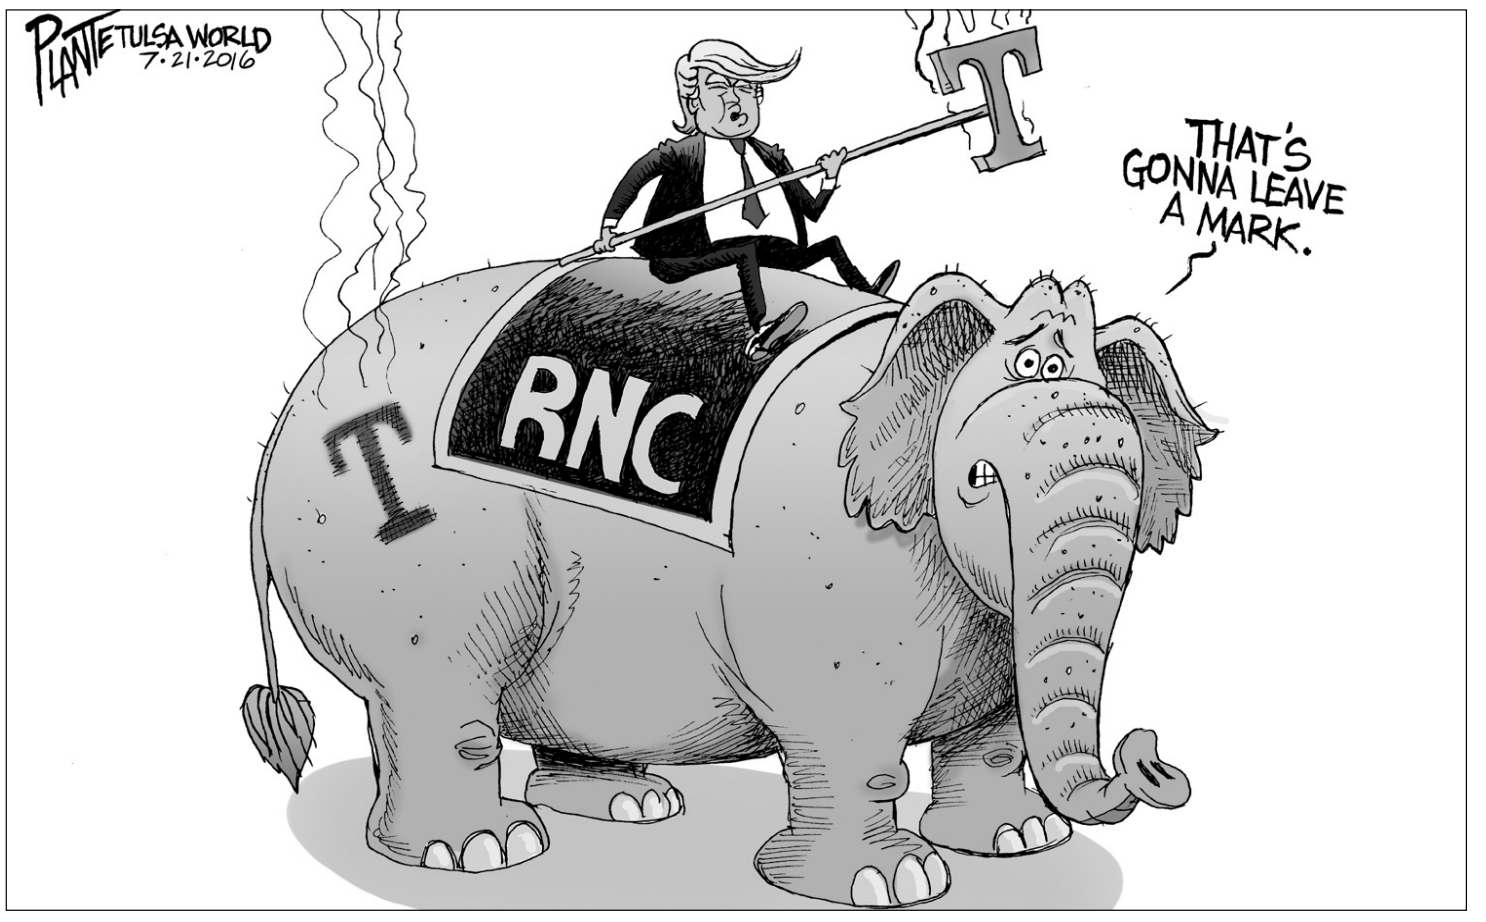
A nation and people that continue to ignore god continues to go down and down to total destruction.

Happy with the results?

I remain,
Sincerely yours,
Virgil Presley

Press Association Honors Three Lawmakers with Open Government Awards

FRANKLIN — The Tennessee Press Association has awarded three members of the state General Assembly its 2016 Open Government Award for their support of government transparency. Recipients include House Speaker Beth Harwell of Nashville, state Representative Bob Ramsey, who is in his fourth term representing House District 20 in Blount County, and Representative Bill Sanderson, who is in his third term representing the 77th House district, covering Lake, Dyer, and parts of Obion County in West Tennessee. The awards were presented by TPA President Jack McElroy at the organization's Summer Convention at the Franklin Cool Springs Marriott outside Nashville on Friday (July 22). McElroy is editor of the News Sentinel in Knoxville. "These three individuals through their leadership, service, and courage have advocated for and defended the principles of open government," McElroy said. "Preserving transparency is an important part of the mission of TPA and its 122 member newspapers. We could not do this alone and must rely on the commitment of our public officials and civic leaders." TPA has previously made the award 14 times. McElroy lauded Ramsey and Sanderson for their courage and commitment as committee chairs to ensure bills affecting open government get a thorough review and aren't too broad. Ramsey chairs the House State Government Committee. Sanderson leads the State Government subcommittee. McElroy praised Harwell's "leadership by example" during her three terms as Speaker. He noted she had weighed in to stop crippling amendments to the state "sunshine law" and cited her unprecedented policy of requiring committee chairs s to give notice of unscheduled meetings. She insisted the Attorney General's report the sexual harassment investigation of Rep. Jeremy Durham be made public. Harwell incorporated more transparency in a new legislative workplace discrimination and anti-sexual harassment policy than was in the previous policy. Harwell is the first female to be elected Speaker in Tennessee and the southeast. She represents House District 56, which includes a part of Davidson County. A college professor by profession, with a PhD from Vanderbilt University, she is in her 14th term. Harwell has been a strong advocate for tougher sexual abuse laws, victims' rights, welfare reform, and children's issues and has been the prime sponsor of many of the state's education reform laws. Rep. Ramsey is a dentist by profession and has a long record of public service. He served 19 years on the Blount County Commission and was chairman for eight years. He has served as interim Blount County Executive and was appointed acting County Mayor in 2006. Sanderson, of Kenton in northwest Tennessee, is a Lambuth University graduate. He is a farmer and entrepreneur having established a working vineyard and winery in Obion County called White Squirrel Winery.



Hunker Down with Kes

Riding Back With Lee Van Cleef

I woke Saturday with no place to go. I skimmed through the morning paper but every article sounded alarmingly similar to what I'd read the day before. I tried the Western Channel but it was a spaghetti saga with Lee Van Cleef I didn't like the first six times I saw it. The circus no longer comes to town. The nearest movie theater is forty miles away. And my bike riding skills have waned greatly over the years.

It didn't used to be thus. I can remember when Saturdays bounced with excitement and anticipation. Shoot, we'd leap out of bed! No school. No church. No worries. We weren't inhibited by a television set or any hand held devices.

The only limits were what our minds couldn't think up with a fresh whole day in front of us...of course, we weren't going to ride in an airplane. We didn't have an atomic bomb to put in Mrs. Boaz's mailbox. And there was a good chance no cruise ships were going to pick us up down at Archie Moore's pond. I reckon we weren't completely free.

But we sure saw the glass as half full. We would race the quarter mile to the railroad tracks passing up by Bethel College and lay a penny on the track. The morning westbound to Memphis would smash that thing to smithereens. We couldn't spend it, and this was back when a penny would actually buy something, but we figured it was pretty cheap entertainment.

We'd play Tarzan down at the big ditch. Race each other across the foot log spanning the small stream behind the Manley place. Fight Indians in the field between us and Aunt Jessie. And roll old tires off the high bank beside George Sexton's house.

Some Saturdays we'd take off early for the haunted house over on Magnolia Avenue. We'd pedal by on our Western Flyers nonchalantly like we were only interested in getting over to Kee's Grocery for a root beer. But we'd secretly cut our eyes toward the austere three story dwelling searching for a light or any movement behind the huge bay windows. We knew it was haunted. We just weren't sure by whom or what or how many.

Leon said they weren't as big as you'd think and they had flashing eyes and floated across the floor. He had seen them lots of times. Leon was the luckiest brother I ever had. He also saw the flying saucer that hovered over Mr. Brooks' cotton field, talked Elvis into going down to Sun Records, shot a blue squirrel (which he accidently dropped into the Obion River before he got home with it) and was once captured by aliens.

We'd take an old hoop rim and roll it with a stick from Joe Gooch's house all the way to the elementary school. We'd clear off a spot in the dirt and shoot marbles from can to can't. We'd pitch pennies at a crack in the sidewalk. We'd fire BBs out of our Red Ryder rifles at those small green army men hiding in the grass.

The Saturday baseball games were legendary. We'd play for two hundred innings, till someone got knocked out by an errant throw or until it got too dark to see. In wintertime, it was all day football in Billy Gwaltney's side yard. We played tackle and kept score by most bloody noses, deepest bruise, blackest eye or worst tangled limb.

You could go anywhere in town. Folks waved and smiled and mostly left you alone. They figured it was kids out on a Saturday...being kids. If we weren't on fire or jumping off of Bailey Moore Wrinkle's Hardware store, everything was hunky-dory. Mom just expected you to be home for supper. She figured if something went bad wrong, one of the neighbors or somebody passing by would take care of it.

The Park Theatre topped my all time Saturday list. If we had a quarter—that was fifteen cents for the admission and a dime for the popcorn—it was the grandest way on earth to spend a Saturday afternoon. Aside from the Rocket Man serial, it was mostly all westerns and Lee Van Cleef was the bad guy back then. Roy, Gene and Hoppy ruled the day; followed closely by Lash LaRue, Rocky Lane and Whip Wilson.

You might think it simple or archaic. But let me assure you, it was nothing of the sort in 1955! It was an adventure to sit and cheer for the good guys. And sure, we had an inkling that Roy might catch the villainous banker and his dastardly gang and "save the day" before the first fight broke out, but we didn't care. We wanted to see exactly how he was going to do it this time!

It was worth the all afternoon double feature just to walk out afterwards and squint up at the brightness of the day...find your bike left against the wall of the movie theatre and make your way toward home, dreaming of saving the ranch, getting the girl and riding off into the sunset.

You can't imagine how alive you felt!

Respectfully,
Kes

New Toastmasters Club Formed, Meets at Paris Campus

In keeping with Bethel University's Mission Statement of creating "opportunities for members of the learning community to develop to their highest potential as whole persons," the university is forming a Toastmasters Club that will meet at the nearby Paris campus.

Toastmasters International is the world's oldest and largest communication and leadership organization, with more than 332,000 members in 135 countries. Much more than just a place to give speeches, members receive valuable feedback, lead teams, and guide others to achieve their goals in a fun, supportive atmosphere.

The new club meets from noon until 1:00 p.m. on alternate Thursdays in Room 104 at the Bethel campus across from the Henry County Medical Center. The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, July 28.

Adults are invited to bring a lunch, meet new friends, and see how Toastmasters builds confident leaders during the free, no-obligation meeting. Space is limited. To RSVP, email Cassie Pence at pencec@bethelu.edu.

From Our Archives...

10 YEARS AGO — Court resumed at the Carroll County Courthouse in Huntingdon after a million dollar renovation that took several months and was ongoing even as regular activity began to recommence in the building.

*Ole Miss senior Patrick Willis was the only unanimous selection to the preseason All-SEC team. The 2002 Hollow Rock-Bruceton graduate was also named first-team All-American by multiple outlets.

*Tosh Farms of Henry began construction of an enclosed "wean-to-finish" operation to house 2,400 hogs on Joy Sparks Road near McKenzie.

20 YEARS AGO — Jessica Andrews of Huntingdon had one of her dreams come true when she met and sang with country music star Billy Ray Cyrus. Andrews and her family traveled to Land Between the Lakes in hopes of being extras in Cyrus' music video for "Trail of Tears." The star overheard Andrews singing and joined her for a duet of "Amazing Grace" before offering her a spot as an extra in the video.

*Tennessee Metal Specialty in Huntingdon announced that it would be closing, displacing its 130 employees.

*The Bicentennial "Spirit of Tennessee" train made stops in Milan, Bruceton, and Paris, where visitors could tour the 627-foot mobile museum of Tennessee history free of charge.

50 YEARS AGO — Governor Frank Clement threw out the first pitch at the All Star Game between Huntingdon and Camden at the Huntingdon Little League Park. The governor, in the midst of a campaign for United States Senate, also addressed a crowd of around 1,000 at Huntingdon's court square.

*Showing at the Park Theatre: Spy in Your Eye starring Dana Andrews, Secret Agent Fireball starring Richard Harrison, The Silencers starring Dean Martin and Stella Stevens, and The Spy with My Face.

Local Resident Graduates from WestStar Leadership Program

MARTIN — Dr. Brock Martin of Carroll County graduated as a member of the University of Tennessee at Martin WestStar Leadership Program's 2016 class during a ceremony held June 22 in Jackson.

Martin is the owner of Southern Chiropractic and Acupuncture in Huntingdon and has also successfully completed both the Henry and Carroll County leadership programs.

The WestStar Leadership Program, created in 1989, is the state's oldest and largest regional leadership program. Boasting 768 graduates, WestStar continues to serve West Tennessee by offering leadership development and education for selected participants. The 2016 class is the 27th in program history.

For more information about the WestStar Leadership Program, contact Virginia Grimes, program coordinator, at 731-881-7298 or by email at vgrimes@utm.edu.

Bethel/Eastside FCE Met

Bethel/Eastside met with seven members present and two visitors at the Carroll County Complex. The meeting was called to order by the president, Pennye Mays at 6:08 p.m.

The club Collect was read in unison. The inspirational moment was given by the hostess, Mary Mays, using Helen Steiner Rice's " It's a Wonderful World." The secretary report was given by Danita Laman in the absence of Gail Eubanks, our secretary. Roll call was answered with, "What is your favorite park?" Motion made by Mary Mays to accept as read and seconded by Betty Meggs. Report was accepted with no changes.

The treasury report was given under old business. The report was given by Jean Wininger on the Halls trip to see the museum and air show on August 13. The cost to visit the museum in $5.00. The ribbon ceremony begins at 1:30 with the air show from 2-4. Bring your own chair or be prepared to stand. Cost of the air show is $10.00 in advance or $15.00 at the gate. It was agreed to meet at the complex parking lot at 9 am on Saturday, August 13 to carpool. Under new business: The County Council meeting is July 18. We are to provide refreshments. The meeting was adjourned and a potluck ensued. Next month's hostess is Gail Eubanks.

Inglenook Book Club Celebrates 116 Years

The Inglenook Book Club celebrated its 116 year history at the regular monthly meeting in July at Lakeside Assisted Living Center. Hostesses were Geneva Johnson and Shelia Rogers, and all enjoyed delicious cherry cobbler with vanilla ice cream and assorted beverages.

After the usual club business, Vice President Victoria Ard introduced our program presenter, Gena Manner, whose subject was the history of the Inglenook Book Club.

Gena and her "cast members," all dressed in period costumes, read from a script which depicted the club founders sitting in the yard of the old Cumberland Presbyterian Church in McKenzie and discussing the need for a ladies' "literary society." The time was July of 1900.

There were about 40 ladies present for the first meeting of the club, and after much excited and sometimes "heated" discussion (to the delight and amusement of the audience), a name for the club was chosen and officers were elected.

The word "inglenook" means chimney corner, which is a perfect, cozy spot in which to curl up with a good book. The ladies chose that name for their club and colors were selected: lavender, a pretty and serene color; and orange, which is bright and perky. The Club's Aim is: "To keep in step with the world's best thoughts in music, literature, art and history." The Motto adopted is: "All study is a quest for something. Let ours be the quest for the beautiful."

"Cast members" were Geneva Johnson, Gena Manner, Melinda Popplewell, Marilynn Putman, Shelia Rogers, Sally Sutton, and Donna Ward.

Gena's mother, Mrs. Virginia McDade, was also a long-time member of the club, and fortunately she had saved many photos, meeting minutes, and yearbooks throughout the years. Gena had them on display and all enjoyed browsing among the artifacts. Included was a photo of the original club members, and also a club yearbook dated 1905-1906.

It was noted by the writer that the early club rolls, and even into the 50s and 60s, listed the members by their married names; i.e., Mrs. John Doe, Mrs. James Black, etc. It also has not been many years since less formal attire at the meetings was acceptable. Hats, gloves and "Sunday best" seem to have been a requirement.

Meeting minutes and club rolls were hand-written in pen and ink—in beautiful cursive writing, it should be added—in old-fashioned leather-bound ledger books. We imagine that the ladies who sat beneath the trees in the churchyard in 1900 would be shocked (and perhaps somewhat dismayed) to see all the changes that modern times and technology have brought about.

We are indebted to Gena for allowing us to re-live the history of our club. It is rather unique, in that it is undoubtedly, at age 116 years, the oldest on-going club of any kind in McKenzie, be it civic or social. It has lived on throughout the decades during two World Wars, a devastating Depression, world conflicts and skirmishes, and many other significant events. We are very fortunate that so much of our history has been preserved, thanks to Gena and Mrs. McDade..

After the book passing, members recited the benediction which reads "We thank you, Lord, for friends, for books, and time for each." This benediction was written by President Zia Locke and adopted by the club last year. Following the benediction, the meeting adjourned.

Members present were Victoria Ard, Juanita Finley, Carolyn Goodwin, Suzanne Howell, Geneva Johnson, Zia Locke, Gena Manner, Jean McKinnie, Sandi McMahen, Carolyn Moore, Mary Newman, Melinda Popplewell, Marilynn Putman, Shelia Rogers, Cindy Summers, Sally Sutton, Donna Ward, and Elaine Williams.

Lane Speaks to McKenzie Rotary

Matt Lane, owner of Block City Pizza in McKenzie, was the featured speaker at the July 19 meeting of the McKenzie Rotary Club.

Lane graduated from Hollow Rock-Bruceton High School in 2008 and UT-Knoxville in 2012, and built and owns the McKenzie location of Block City Pizza.

The Lane family has a legacy in the pizza business. His grandfather started in the business in Tennessee Ridge and expanded to Hollow Rock. Now his father and mother, own and operate Hollow Rock and Huntingdon locations and Matt owns and operates McKenzie.

The three stores in Carroll County use a family recipe for their homemade dough and sauce. The cheese is a special blend of cheeses formulated for their pizzas.

Before he opened the McKenzie store, he worked at his parents' stores.

The local stores are built on a reputation of supporting the communities and schools, said Lane. Matt said he loves to bring young school-aged kids in to view the make-ready table, the walk-in refrigerators, and the ovens. He also lets them attempt to hand toss the dough.

Gleason Rotary to Build Helipad

By Jason Martin
jmartin@mckenziebanner.com

GLEASON (July 18) — During the regular meeting of the Gleason Rotary Club, Kent Martin of Air Evac Lifteam presented information on construction possibilities for a helipad. The club was recently awarded a $2,500 matching grant from Rotary International to go towards its construction project of a helipad.

Martin, a senior program manager, explained the requirements and cost possibilities of building a helipad in Snider Park. The average cost for a 40-foot by 40-foot pad at approximately six inches in thickness would cost $6,000 to $8,000. Air Evac would provide the lighting and wind sock.

Martin spoke openly about the purpose of helicopters in medical emergencies. He explained how emergency medical services (EMS) make the determination if an individual needs to be airlifted. Having a quality helipad helps in the response time when minutes matter.

Kent Martin of Air Evac Lifeteam fields questions from Rotarians on the construction of the helipad.

The construction of the helipad will belong to the community and help build community pride. The more volunteers and donations the club receives will help cut the construction cost. Imerys Ceramics (K-T Clay) has pledged to hold 2 BBQ fundraisers to build funds for the project.

Currently, the park is considered a pre-existing helicopter landing area (PELA) and is used regularly by Air Evac. The exact location of the pad was discussed and will need to be approved by an Evac pilot. Approval from the FFA will not be required.

The use of Snider Park for the helipad was approved in the July meeting of the Gleason City Board. Board member Jerry Connell urged the city to consider aiding in the construction of the helipad.

Four Honored at Usher Appreciation Luncheon

By Joel Washburn
washburn@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (July 20) — Four volunteer ushers at The Dixie Carter Performing Arts Center were honored for outstanding service during the annual event held on the second floor of the downtown Huntingdon performing arts center.

Lori Nolen, executive director, said the annual event is a time to pause and show appreciation for the volunteers and staff. The volunteers and staff are great, said Nolen, noting they are the first face patrons see when they enter the building.

Mayor Dale Kelley complimented those who serve the patrons. There are few small communities that have a facility such as The Dixie. "On behalf of the Town Council, I thank you," concluded the mayor.

Nolen said volunteers provided 1,607 hours of services during the past year and approximately 29,000 estimated hours over the 11 seasons The Dixie has operated.

Following a lunch catered by Mallard's Restaurant, Nolen and Kelley presented three awards.

The Mayor's Award was presented to Karen Spotnagle. The award is for good humor and patience with the arts. She serves during some of the less popular shows and always offers a smile.

The Carter-Holbrook Award was presented to Karen Hilton for her leadership and quiet, easy demeanor.

The Volunteer of the Year Award was presented to Frank and Debbie Hartman, who volunteer during daytime school shows and help direct buses and students, teachers, and parents safely in and out of the building. The weather is sometimes cold, windy, and rainy.

'Last Annual Vol State Road Race' Passes Through McKenzie

Local Volunteers Provide Aide Downtown

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (July 14-15) — Two feet, 314 miles, ten days.

That's what is in store for runners from all over the country and abroad when they gather each July for the Last Annual Vol State Road Race.

The 500-kilometer ultramarathon begins in Dorena Landing, Missouri, and ends in Castle Rock, Georgia, winding through Tennessee by highway and country road. Its route through mostly small towns is deliberate.

The creator of the grueling race is Gary Cantrell, better known as just "Laz," who says, "I like small town Tennessee, and it turns out, they've embraced our runners all across the state."

One of those small towns is McKenzie, approximately 56 miles into the course. This year, some fans of such events took an interest in Vol State and decided to organize a rest station for runners. Stephanie Watkins, office manager for Bethel University's Athletic Training Program, her husband, Ray, a martial arts instructor for Bethel, and their friend Al Everett, sought resources and volunteers and put together quite an oasis for the athletes.

The City of McKenzie provided the farmer's market building for the station, with ample room to sleep, a working bathroom, and electricity. Across the street, the fire department offered the use of the water spout and hose. Save-a-Lot donated much of the food provided, which included peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, bananas, and bottled water.

Several departments at Bethel made contributions. The Athletic Training Program provided equipment, the football program provided towels, Sports Medicine provided coolers, and students from the Nursing Program provided first aid. Those and other students, along with the Watkinses and Everett, volunteered large chunks of their time as runners trickled through over the course of several days.

This year, the race began at around 8 a.m. on Thursday, July 14 with 82 crossing the Mississippi River by ferry and hitting the ground running. Of the 82, 28 runners were "crewed" by a team with a vehicle providing aid periodically, but 54 were what Vol State insiders call "screwed." These runners are at the mercy of the elements and what they call "road angels," people along the way that provide runners with the things they need. Word spread in the lead-up to the race that McKenzie was planning a station, and screwed runners rejoiced on social media.

As is the case every year, the pack spread out quickly once the ferry ride was over. The McKenzie station saw its first runner at 4:50 p.m. that afternoon. John Cash of Washington, Missouri, 43, a crewed runner, took a breather to chat with the road angels (and The Banner) in the shade. A competitive runner since high school, he's been running ultras for eight or nine years. He says he runs the Vol State, "for the challenge, and the new places and adventures. I love the chance to see the great state of Tennessee."

Cash said he planned to run about 125 miles that day, and was soon on his way. Hot on his heels was the two-time defending "King of the Road" Greg Armstrong, who ran through about ten minutes later, slowing just enough to turn his head and wave to the volunteers.

Armstrong's tenacity would pay off again, as he not only won his third Vol State in a row, but set a new (and mind-blowing) course record of three days, seven hours, nine minutes, and 49 seconds. Cash would finish nearly six hours later, but still had the third-fastest finish all-time.

Arriving in McKenzie an hour later to check out the station was Laz himself. In an interview with The Banner, he said, "McKenzie is a star in this race. People love coming through this beautiful little town."

He noted that the course had changed a lot over the 30-plus years since he created the race. For many years, the route went from Dresden through Paris, but now runs through McKenzie to Lexington.

The twists and turns on an unmarked course can be a problem at times for runners, even when they start the race with maps and directions.

One runner, 56-year-old Rick Caffy of Murfreesboro, found himself in quite a predicament when both his phone and paper maps were damaged and unusable. He lost contact with nearby runners, and soon made a wrong turn in Dresden.

In the early hours of Saturday, the volunteers received a report of a runner off course between Dresden and Gleason. Zachary Buehler and Manuel Pineda, both of the Bethel Athletic Training Program, set out and tracked Caffy down. They brought him to the McKenzie Best Western to get some much needed rest and regroup.

Caffy spoke with The Banner Saturday afternoon at his hotel room as he packed his gear, anxious to get back on the road. When he was picked up in a vehicle, he officially went from being a screwed runner to a crewed runner, but it was a distinction without a difference until he could find a crew for the rest of the race. As he packed, plans A and B went up in smoke with a flurry of incoming phone calls, including one from Laz.

Caffy has run for more than a decade, and has completed a 50k trail run in Tennessee called Strolling Gym, another Laz creation and the second oldest ultramarathon in the U.S. Caffy says that Laz "wants his events to be very difficult, but very accommodating, particularly for older people."

This year's Vol State is Caffy's first multi-stage race. He praised McKenzie's volunteers, saying that there's no way to express his appreciation for the students who came and found him. "If there's a theme to this, it's good people."

Caffy got back on the road shortly after the interview, but would eventually have to tap out. He says the loss of almost a whole day just took him out of it mentally.

When asked in a follow-up if he would come back next year and try again, he said, "Well, I never said I was the brightest guy..." If he does run again, he'll probably start with a crew. He added that he looked forward to seeing the incredible people of McKenzie, and reiterated his appreciation for their support.

A total of twenty of the original runners would drop out at some point, but the rest would reach the finish line before the end of the tenth day.

The McKenzie volunteers look forward to serving the runners even more effectively next year, having gotten tons of input from the dozens of grateful runners they assisted.

In last week's McKenzie Banner sports section, an article containing inaccurate competition results for the McKenzie Shooting Sports Team at the 2016 National Scholastic Shooting Championships in Marengo, Ohio was printed by mistake. The Banner regrets the error.

In response, Drew Beeler, a member of McKenzie's CABA Coyotes, provided the Banner with accurate McKenzie Shooting Sports National Championship results.

The McKenzie Banner thanks Mr. Beeler, Mr. Lance Rider, and all members of the McKenzie Shooting Sports Teams and their families for admirably representing our community and all of Carroll County both locally and nationally in competitive shooting sports.

Lions Club Upgrades Stadium Scoreboard

The McKenzie Lions Club has made a major contribution to the McKenzie school football program, providing new LED lights for the scoreboard and new end zone timing clocks, along with helping to arrange for renovation of the original scoreboard and securing new graphics (provided by the Booster Club). McKenzie Lions Club's gift of $6000 is its centennial gift, honoring 100 years of community service by Lions across the world.

McKenzie Lions members and Lisa Vaughn, Lions District Governor, Coach Wade Comer and MHS Principal Tim Watkins viewed the improvements to the main scoreboard on Monday, July 25.

The numerals display in red and are much brighter than the former incandescent bulbs.

Vaughn said the local Lions Club project creates such a legacy. McKenzie is the first club in the Lions district to choose a project and complete it.

THP Seeks Applications for Trooper Cadet Class

NASHVILLE — The Tennessee Highway Patrol (THP) announced it will soon begin accepting applications for the next Trooper Cadet Academy.

Men and women interested in a career as a state trooper can begin the application process online only, beginning at 12:01 a.m. on Wednesday, August 3, through 11:59 p.m. Tuesday, August 16.

The THP anticipates the agility test and interview appointments to begin mid-September, at the Tennessee Department of Safety and Homeland Security Training Center.

Individuals interested in applying for the position of state trooper must be at least 21 years old, a U.S. Citizen and have a high school diploma or equivalent. No applicants with felony convictions will be considered.

Legislation enacted in October 2012, called the Tennessee Excellence, Accountability and Management Act (TEAM Act), revised the hiring method to incorporate an interview process that tests an applicant's knowledge, skills, abilities and competencies.

As a result, selected applicants will be required to successfully pass the physical agility test prior to being admitted for an interview. There is no longer an examination portion to qualify for the state trooper position.

If hired, individuals must obtain a valid Tennessee driver's license prior to class start date January 28, 2017, and are required to successfully complete a Level II background investigation, which includes a credit check and polygraph test.

Recruits must also pass a psychological and medical examination, including a drug screening.

Those interested in and qualified for the position of state trooper should submit an employment application to the Tennessee Department of Human Resources.

All applicants must apply online at http://agency.governmentjobs.com/tennessee/default.cfm beginning at 12:01 a.m. on Wednesday, August 3.

Applications will not be accepted after August 16. Once approved by the Department of Human Resources, applicants will be notified of their qualification status via email.

There are currently 621 authorized commissioned trooper positions within the THP. Trooper cadets will be assigned to vacant positions across the state upon graduation.

The starting salary for a trooper cadet during the training academy is $2,859 per month.

Upon graduation and commissioning as a Tennessee state trooper, the salary will increase to $3,163 per month and include a pension plan, health insurance and paid holidays.

Troopers are also provided a uniform, equipment and patrol vehicles. With regular pay increases, a state trooper can earn $56,412 per year after 10 years of service under the current pay structure.

For additional information on becoming a state trooper, visit http://www.tn.gov/safety/article/trpqualifications.

For more information about applications, interested individuals are encouraged to contact the Tennessee Department of Human Resources Applicant Services Division at (615) 741-4841.

The Tennessee Department of Safety and Homeland Security's (www.TN.Gov/safety) mission is to serve, secure, and protect the people of Tennessee.

McKenzie's Bridget Neisler Signs With Wildcat Archery Program

Dave McCulley
Bethel Sports Information Director

McKENZIE (July 20) — The Bethel University Wildcat Archery program signed McKenzie High School alumnus Bridget Neisler.

The daughter of Tommy Neisler and Sonya Eaton of McKenzie, Bridget's major is Fitness and Wellness Promotion.

An excellent student, Bridget is an Honor Roll student and President of Delta Phi Nu. She is a member of Bethel's Star Leadership program.

Bridget is also a valuable member of the Sports Information Office where she has served as a Student Assistant for three years.

Bethel Coach Kenny Louden commented on the signing. "We are thrilled to add Bridget to our squad. She is a great young lady. We look forward to working with her this season."

Bethel University Nursing Graduates Achieve 100 Percent Pass Rate

McKENZIE — Bethel University's May 2016 nursing graduates achieved a 100 percent pass rate on the NCLEX, the nurse licensure examination that determines nurse readiness. The national average pass rate is around 86 percent. This is the third time in the last four years the school has achieved the perfect 100 percent pass rate, according to Mary Bess Griffith, program director.

"I cannot say enough about the effort of all of our faculty as well as of the students in accomplishing this outcome," Griffith said. "We've all set high standards – not just because we want only the best for our students but because we want to ensure that all future patients get the highest level of nursing care."

Griffith also pointed out that all May 2016 graduates are already employed.

"They will be working in McKenzie, Paris, Union City, Jackson, Memphis, Knoxville, Murfreesboro and in Florida and South Carolina," she said. "We are so thankful for this group of new nurses who have committed to the nursing profession and who will be making a difference in the lives of their patients."

"Our nursing program is a really good example of what we want to accomplish for our students," said Bethel University President, Dr. Walter Butler. "They leave with the knowledge to make a difference in the world, and they are able to land desired employment."

The Bethel University Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program prepares its graduates for entry level Registered Nurse positions in primary, secondary, and tertiary health care settings and for entry into graduate studies which lead to advanced degrees in nursing.

Bethel University also offers an online RN-BSN program that accomplishes the same outcomes as the on-site BSN program.

For more information about Bethel University's Nursing program contact Kim Hammonds at 731-514-1410 or at hammondsk@bethelu.edu.

Bethel University is one of the oldest institutions of higher education in the state of Tennessee. In 2017, the school, which is affiliated with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, will celebrate 175 years of service. Bethel University offers bachelor's, master's and associate degrees through a variety of learning platforms including traditional face to face instruction and online as well. Of late, the school has been recognized for a number of its programs. The Bethel University Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies program (which is a face-to-face program) was recently recognized as one of the top 6 programs in the nation for employment in rural settings.

West Carroll Finalizes Budget, Tax Rate

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

ATWOOD (July 19) — The Board of Education for the West Carroll Special School District held a special called meeting Tuesday for the second and final reading of the 2016-17 budget and tax rate.

The new budget was approved unanimously at $6.9 million, up just slightly from the previous budget, and the tax rate is unchanged at $1.3486 per $100 assessed property value.

The budget accounts for a three percent raise for all district employees and a six percent insurance increase beginning in January. Also included are the cross country program, an art teacher, and an additional nurse.

In other business, the board approved a request to seek bids on a Combi Oven for the junior/senior high school. Interim Director of Schools Betty Wallace said that grant money could cover the majority of the cost of the oven.

Bids were approved for the Child Nutrition Program for Prairie Farms and HPS.

Wallace also presented board members with the newest draft of the brochure to be used in the director search. Additions were made by district officials to the brochure's "Community" section, highlighting nearby recreation and entertainment options.

The meeting adjourned after seven minutes.

Dixie to Hold Photography Workshops

Jim Veneman is offering two photography workshops next month at The Dixie. The first is Thursday, August 18 from 6:30–9 p.m. and the cost is $25.00 per student. This is for those just starting out and might be interested in trying our program. We will discuss digital camera basics, along with an introduction to seeing a storytelling image. Then join us for a Photo Scavenger Hunt Saturday, August 20 from 9–11:30 a.m. This workshop is FREE and is for anyone of any level. You will be on a hunt for specific subjects that will not require any familiarity with the downtown area. We will meet at The Dixie where you will be given your list of visual challenges. When the hunt is over we will meet to take a look at what was found. There is no age limit but students are recommended to be in Middle School or above.

The classes are in the Lower Level of The Dixie and participants will use the Academic Enrichment Entrance. Applications and class schedules can be found at www.Dixiepac.net or at The Dixie Box Office. The instructor, Jim Veneman is a visiting professor of photojournalism at California Baptist University in Riverside, Cal.. He is the former assistant professor and director of visual communication at Union University. Before coming to Union he was photojournalist for LifeWay Christian Resources in Nashville for 14 years. He continues to shoot assignments, covering the efforts in Iraq, Baghdad and on board the U.S.S. Harry S. Truman aircraft carrier. From these assignments, the book "A Greater Freedom" was produced.

Veneman also covered the days immediately following the World Trade Center attack in New York City, meetings in Cuba with Fidel Castro, mission challenges in Asia, and several international gatherings. His photographs also provided the visual content for the book, "The Inklings of Oxford." In addition to assignment work and teaching, Veneman assists in the direction of the Southwestern Photojournalism Conference held each spring in Fort Worth.

This is a wonderful opportunity for those interested in understanding more about photography and how to see a photograph in a new and exciting way. It does not matter what type of camera you have, whether it be a point and shoot, cell phone, or DSLR camera, you can be a part of this class!

For more information, please call the box office at 731-986-2100.

Creativity Camp participants perform a song for parents and family, led by music instructor Joanna Turner. Photo by Brad Sam/The McKenzie Banner

Carroll Arts Hosts Creativity Camp

McKENZIE (July 18-22) — Carroll Arts hosted its annual Creativity Camp last week at First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Each day, 29 youngsters learned skills in the areas of music, visual art, creative writing and drama.

Instructors for the camp were Glynda Rich (art), Denise Sam (drama), Joanna Turner (music), and April Corbin (creative writing). Also assisting were Victoria Motheral, Sarah Freeman, and Melinda Poppowell.

On Friday afternoon, the camp wrapped up with a Celebration of the Arts, where the students presented what they had learned to parents and family members.

In music, they learned to sing several songs and play instruments. In creative writing, they wrote stories, poems, and skits. In art, they learned about famous artists and styles and created their own impressions of those styles. In drama, they learned about improvisation and body language.

Each participant was awarded a Creativity Diploma. Carroll Arts president Glynda Rich told the parents gathered, "Our future is in good hands with these talented, delightful children."

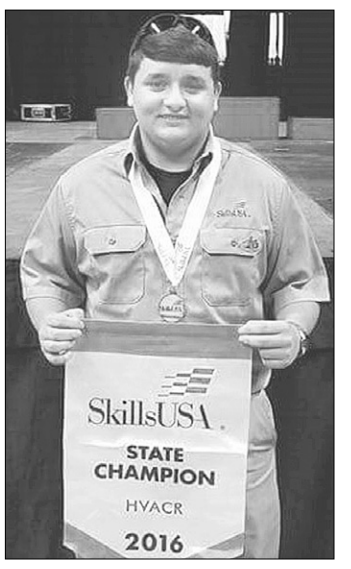
Dresden Senior Wins Rees Scholarship for HVAC/R Training

The Clifford H. "Ted" Rees, Jr., Scholarship Foundation, a 501(c)(3) charitable foundation, announced that Tennessee College of Applied Technology-McKenzie and Dresden High School student James Smith was awarded a $500 scholarship in recognition of his successful participation in the recent SkillsUSA Championships in the HVAC/R category.

Smith finished as a finalist at the championships, held June 22-23 in Kentucky. Students who won local and statewide competitions qualified to compete on the national stage.

James "Bubba" Smith is a senior at Dresden High School and a dual enrollment student in the HVAC/R program at TCAT-McKenzie.



The Clifford H. "Ted" Rees, Jr. Scholarship Foundation was established to assist with the recruitment and competency of future HVAC/R and water heating technicians by awarding scholarships to qualified students enrolled in an institutionally accredited school. Eligible students must be preparing for a career in either residential or light commercial air conditioning, heating, water heating, or commercial refrigeration.

Rees scholarships are aimed at helping students continue studying to become technicians in the HVAC/R and water heating industry.

"We are proud to help these qualified and dedicated students, and promote careers in the HVAC/R and water heating industry, to help close the employment and skills gaps we currently face," said AHRI President & CEO Stephen Yurek. "We wish them success in their programs and look forward to welcoming them into the industry."

Since the Rees Scholarship Foundation was founded in 2003, it has awarded almost $440,000 in scholarships to more than 250 deserving students and instructors.

TCAT-McKenzie is extremely proud of James and his accomplishments.

Huntingdon Police Reports

DUI, Resisting Arrest — A Huntingdon man was arrested on June 17 after a traffic stop. Officers charged William H. Hollowell of 1153 Green Oaks Drive with DUI, driving on revoked #1, and resisting arrest. According to the report, officers received a call about a reckless driver on Northwood Drive. When officers arrived, they found Hollowell trying to leave the scene of the accident. A witness said that Hollowell had almost hit him before hitting two mailboxes. Hollowell told officers that his brakes had locked up. After failing multiple field sobriety tests, Hollowell was placed under arrest. Once he was handcuffed, he became combative and refused to get in the police car. Once placed into the car, Hollowell attempted to break the handcuffs and continued to be uncooperative with county jailers.

Domestic Assault — A Huntingdon man was arrested on June 17 after a domestic dispute. Sergeant Brad Allen charged Tyler Xavier Moore of 10830 Lexington Street with domestic assault. According to Allen's report, Moore's girlfriend was found crying outside of the police station. Officers could see red marks on her neck. She told officers that she and Moore had been arguing and things turned physical, and that he had left the mark on her neck. She gave a written statement saying that he had also tried to remove her from the home by her wrists and ankles. Officers then went to the residence and arrested Moore.

Underage Drinking — A Huntingdon man was arrested on June 17 after a traffic stop. Sergeant Chris Cole charged Jacob Blake, 20, of 162 Skyline Drive, was charged with underage consumption of alcohol, open container, and speeding. According to Cole's report, Blake was stopped for speeding. As Cole was speaking with Blake, he noticed the smell of alcohol. Blake admitted to drinking beer and that there were more behind the seat. One of the containers was open.

Theft — A McKenzie man was arrested on June 19 after allegedly stealing from a local store. Investigator Joey Hedge charged Leonard G. Fox of 135 Forrest Circle with theft under $500. According to Hedge's report, Fox took $59.64 worth of items from Wal-Mart without store permission.

Driving on Revoked, Drug Possession — Two Henderson County men were arrested on June 15 after a traffic stop. Investigator Joey Hedge charged Thomas Quinton of Wildersville with driving on a revoked license and Michael Wilmont II of Lexington with possession of drug paraphernalia. According to Hedge's report, Quinton was stopped for speeding and a computer check showed his license to be revoked. After getting consent to search the vehicle, Hedge found a bag with a glass pipe containing methamphetamine residue. A passenger, Wilmont, said the bag was his.

Driving While Suspended — A Gibson County man was cited into court on June 15 after a traffic stop. Patrolman Paul Hugueley charged Ryan C. Bateman of 104 Gibson Highway with registration violation, driving while suspended #1, and speeding. According to Hugueley's report, Bateman was stopped for speeding. A computer check showed his license was suspended and the temporary tag on his truck was expired.

Driving on Revoked — A Gibson County man was arrested on June 15 after a traffic stop. Investigator Joey Hedge charged Shawn Carter of Trenton with driving on revoked license #2. According to Hedge's report, Carter was stopped while driving due to Hedge having prior knowledge that his license was revoked. A computer check confirmed that.

McKenzie Police Reports

Driving on suspended license — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Jeff Winberry, the officer, while on patrol, observed a 2008 Chevrolet S-10 pickup truck driven by a male with a female passenger inside pull into Little General Convenience Store to get gasoline. Upon exiting the store, the female passenger got into the driver side of the vehicle and drove away. As the vehicle entered the roadway, the officer observed that one of the vehicles tail lights was not working. After stopping the vehicle, the officer asked the passenger, identified as John W. Walker, 35, Campbell Lane, McKenzie, why he switched from driving the vehicle. At that time, Walker advised that his driver license was suspended. A computer check verified that Walker's license was suspended for failure to pay a violation in Clarksburg City Court in July, 2014.

Financial responsibility / driving on suspended driver license — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Jeff Winberry, on June 26, the officer responded to a hit vehicle call at a residence located on Florida Court. Upon arrival, the office was informed by vehicle owner Mark D. Cunningham, 58, Knox Street, Huntingdon, that a person identified as Jillian Amber Finch, 25, Florida Court, McKenzie, hit his 1998 Plymouth Voyager with her vehicle and drove away. Upon contacting Finch, she admitted to hitting the vehicle and not having proof of insurance for her vehicle. Finch was cited into Carroll County General Sessions for driving on revoked driver license, no proof of insurance, and for failure to pay for a violation in Rutherford City Court in January, 2016.

Arson of personal property-real estate — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Kyle Beauchamp, the officer responded to call on June 21 at 10:41 a.m. regarding a trash can on fire at Mulberry Park. Per Carroll County 911 protocol, McKenzie Fire department was paged to the scene. The officer, accompanied by MPD patrolman Savannah Bigham, located a blue-colored, plastic trash barrel the fully-engulfed in flames. MFD arrived and extinguished the blaze. It was presumed that the fire was started by someone lighting a firework inside the barrel. The barrel, estimated at $50 in value, was completely destroyed. Investigation into the matter is ongoing.

Driving on suspended / revoked driver license — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Cody Coleman, on June 21 at 10:41 a.m., the officer responded to a call from dispatch regarding a reckless driver that had nearly struck another vehicle. According to the caller, the vehicle that nearly struck the other vehicle was a red-colored, 1998 Toyota Solara that was traveling down Winchester Street heading toward Witt Street. MPD Patrolmen Coleman and Frank McGee responded. Coleman stated in the report that he observed the vehicle, registered to Jacquelyn Jones, Winchester Street, McKenzie, stopped in the middle of the road as the male and female switched seats and the female drove away. Upon initiating a traffic stop after observing the vehicle swerving and crossing the white line on the right side of the roadway, the driver identified herself as Jacelyn Jones and the passenger, Dossie L. Wright, 35, Winchester Street, McKenzie. An NCIC check revealed that Wright, the initial driver of the vehicle, was driving on revoked for DUI. The report noted that due to Wright having slurred speech, he was asked to perform field sobriety tests. Results of the tests revealed that Wright was not under the influence of any intoxicants. Wright, however, was arrested for driving on revoked #5 and transported to Carroll County Jail.

DUI / driving on suspended license — According to a report filed by MPD Sergeant Nick Lowe, on June 21 at approximately 6:15 p.m., the officer responded to a call regarding a reckless driver entering town from the direction of Greenfield on Magnolia Drive. The caller stated that the red-colored, 1998 Toyota Solara had struck a cone located off the roadway and was swerving all over the road. Upon encountering the vehicle, Sergeant Lowe observed the vehicle traveling outside the travel lane before almost striking the front of the United Neighbors building. Activating the patrol vehicle's blue lights, Sergeant Lowe was able to finally stop the vehicle on Broadway. The driver of the vehicle, identified as Jacquelyn Jones, Winchester Street, McKenzie, reportedly smelled of intoxicating beverage and her eyes were glassy. Having Jones only perform the finger count exercise and recite the alphabet due to her being six months pregnant, the Sergeant noted that the subject performed poorly. Jones admitted to drinking a 24-ounce Strawberita and taking two, two-milligram valiums before driving. A computer check of Jones' license revealed that they were revoked for DUI #1 in Carroll County. After being read the implied consent form and submitting to blood alcohol testing, Jones was arrested for the listed offenses and transported to Carroll County Jail with bond set at $1,250.

Driving on suspended / revoked / registration decal removal / financial responsibility — According to a report filed by MPD patrolman Cody Coleman, on June 20 at approximately 8:59 a.m., the officer, while patrolling behind a green-colored, 1994 Jeep on Highland, observed the driver of the Jeep looking back at him in an unusual manner. After running the vehicle tag number and determining that it belonged to a black-colored Chrysler vehicle, Patrolman Coleman initiated a traffic stop. A computer check of the license of driver April M. Vestal, 29, Big Buck Road, Trezevant, revealed that her license was revoked for failure to satisfy a fine in Carroll County General Sessions Court. Vestal admitted to switching the tags from a friend's vehicle before failing to show proof of insurance on her vehicle. Upon learning that the passenger inside the vehicle did not have valid driver license, Vestal was advised to have someone with valid driver license pick up the vehicle. After being cited into Carroll County General Sessions Court for the listed offenses, Vestal and the passenger walked away from the scene.

Domestic assault — According to a report filed by MPD Patrolman Billy King, on June 19, a citizen came to MPD to report that a fight was occurring between two males on the corner of Linden Heights and Hamilton Street. Responding, Patrolman King spoke with a shirt-less male that appeared to be preparing to enter a vehicle if he was involved in the fight. The male, identified as Breman McCuiston, 22, Highway 436, McKenzie, said that he and his friend, identified as Andreus Adams, 23, Green Allen Springs Road, Huntingdon, had been in an altercation but that everything was okay. With the assistance of MPD Sergeant Adam Bailey, Patrolman King brought the two males to MPD for further investigation. The witness to the fight stated via written statement that after Adams exited a vehicle, McCuiston started hitting him. After Adams' statement confirmed the witness' statement, McCuiston was arrested for the listed offense and transported to Carroll County Jail.

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Assault on Police Officer — A Henry County woman was arrested on June 18 after a high speed chase through Clarksburg and Huntingdon. Deputy Ethan Parham charged Heather Westling, 28, of Buchanan with felony evading arrest, resisting arrest, assault on a police officer, and reckless driving. According to Parham's report, Westling was driving 80 miles per hour through the 40 miles per hour zone in Clarksburg. When Parham attempted to pull her over, Westling continued to speed away. Another deputy engaged in the chase, and when they reached Huntingdon, a city police officer was able to block her. When she finally stopped, Westling was uncooperative and tried to pull away from deputies. She then twice struck Parham with a fist in the face.

DUI — A Huntingdon man was arrested on May 28 after a traffic stop. Deputy Michael Krause charged Matthew Ramsey, 38, of 1005 Morning Side with driving under the influence. According to Krause's report, Ramsey was stopped by a state trooper and Krause stopped to assist. Ramsey smelled of alcohol and failed field sobriety tests. Several drinks were found in the vehicle.

Vehicle Theft — Authorities are investigating a case of vehicle theft. Dustin Taylor of Huntingdon reported to deputies that his Tahoe was stolen from his home some time on June 18.

Public Intoxication — A Bruceton man was arrested after a domestic dispute. Deputy Michael Mulligan charged Robert Harris, 48, of 945 Bobbitt Road with public intoxication. According to Mulligan's report, deputies received a call about a domestic dispute. As they were responding, they found Harris, the alleged perpetrator of the assault, walking down the road. He smelled of alcohol and was unsteady on his feet.

Drug Possession — A Henderson County man was cited into court on June 18. Deputy Dennis Adkins charged Demetrius Phelps of Lexington with possession of a schedule VI drug. According to Adkins' report, deputies responded to a call about a truck sitting at the old Dollar Hill sales building. Deputies arrived and soon another truck arrived as well. Deputies noticed that the vehicle smelled of marijuana, and Phelps, the driver, surrendered 6 grams of marijuana.

Theft — Authorities are investigating a case of theft. Brian Allen of Trezevant reported to deputies that the license plate was stolen from his vehicle while it was parked at his sister's house sometime between June 16 and 17.

Fraud / Theft — Authorities are investigating a case of theft. Colton Smith of Huntingdon reported to deputies that his debit card was used to make $1,297.56 in purchases with a company called Lenovo Group without his permission.

Theft — Deputies are investigating a case of theft. Matthew Nicholas of Humboldt reported to deputies that someone had broken into a home in Cedar Grove and stolen three items. There was no sign of forced entry.

Driving on Suspended License — A Trezevant man was arrested on June 18 after a traffic stop. Deputy Eric Sawyers charged Dennis Parker, 51, of 315 Wingo Circle with driving on a suspended license #3. According to Sawyers' report, Parker was stopped for speeding and a computer check of his license showed that it was suspended.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

See solution in next week's edition.
