Weakley County Couple Charged With Child Abuse

Austin King

Katlinn Hutson

A Weakley County couple has been arrested on child abuse charges after county authorities received a call about drug-endangered children.

Arrested were Katlinn Hutson, age 22, and Austin King, age 23, for felony child abuse and theft.

On Thursday, investigators from the Weakley County Sheriff's Office and child protective services caseworkers from the Department of Children's Services went to a residence on Seminary Road near McKenzie in Weakley Co.

While at the residence a 19-month-old child was observed to have numerous bruises on her face, hands, back, and throat and bite marks on her arm.

Hutson is the mother of the child and King is her boyfriend.

According to Tennessee State Law abuse to a child under the age of 8 is a felony and any parent or custodian of a child under 8 years of age who knowingly fails to protect such child from abuse is

Error Causes Tax Shortfalls

HUNTINGDON — A miscalculation in tax liability will cause three governmental entities a shortfall in tax receipts for the 2015-16 fiscal year.

The Carroll County Property Assessor's Office and the State Property Assessor's Office incorrectly applied a PILOT – payments in lieu of taxes to some commercial property inside Huntingdon's city limits.

This was a reappraisal year and each of the taxing entities established new tax rates according to the certified tax rate issued by the state and based on information from the local Tax Assessor's Office and reviewed by state authorities.

Where are two of 12 Exemplary Schools in Tennessee: Carroll County. That is what brought Dr. Candice McQueen to McKenzie and Huntingdon to learn more about the successful educational efforts of the school districts.

McKenzie has twice earned the distinction of an Exemplary School. Huntingdon once, and Hollow Rock-Bruceton once.

Arriving early, Commissioner McQueen visited with Lynn Watkins, director of schools, and Doretha Royle, McKenzie Middle School principal. The commissioner visited several classrooms to get the feel of educational initiatives in McKenzie.

Her visit took her to the McKenzie Middle School classroom of Amanda Morris and Gretchen Boucher, who team teach math. She also visited the classrooms of Sarah Page, Haley Glapa, and Zach Renfro.

Dr. McQueen said she loves to visit schools and visit with teachers and administrators to learn how they are motivating students and preparing the students. Often times, she likes to hold roundtable discussions with teachers to

Breaking News

Manhunt Alarms McKenzie Citizens

McKENZIE (November 3) — McKenzie citizens were alarmed Tuesday morning after a domestic situation between a man and his ex-girlfriend grew a bit intense. After about a four-hour manhunt, the suspect was apprehended by authorities.

The event started early Tuesday morning. According to Jackie Wallace, investigator for the Carroll County Sheriff's Department, Kevin Melton, a white male, reportedly of the Big Sandy area, followed his ex-girlfriend from Jackson to McKenzie, where she was living in the Best Western motel. He followed her vehicle, then passed her and "brake checked" her several times. She was able to again pass his vehicle while stopped at a signal light. He was driving erratically as he followed. An alert motorist phoned McKenzie Police Department and said the vehicle was approaching McKenzie.

Melton had previously issued some threats via text message to his former girlfriend, Christine Denton. When she stopped at Best Western-McKenzie, he pulled in behind her and McKenzie Police Department was also there. Melton fled on foot. Officers from MPD, Carroll County Sheriff's Department, Trezevant, THP, and others were searching in drainage ditches, exterior buildings, and through streets in McKenzie.

A relative of the wanted man was stopped by authorities behind the Best Western motel around 11:00 a.m.

Craig Moates said some schools and businesses were alerted and some chose to "self lockdown." Area schools were on soft lockdown.

There are active warrants for his arrest on drug charges in another county. He was apprehended shortly before noon.

Melton's truck was towed from Best Western by authority of the McKenzie Police Department. Ms. Denton moved from the motel on Tuesday following the incident, said Investigator Wallace.

Dr. Candice McQueen was sworn in as Tennessee's commissioner of education on January 17, 2015. Previously, she served as senior vice president and dean of the college of education at Lipscomb University. McQueen began her career as a classroom teacher, teaching in both public and private elementary and middle schools. She also served as a higher education faculty member and department chair before being named dean in 2008. While at Lipscomb, McQueen served as a member of the university's executive leadership team and oversaw both her college and the 1,300 pre-K-12th grade students in three schools at Lipscomb Academy. Under her leadership, Lipscomb's college of education and teacher preparation program were consistently highlighted as one of the top teacher training programs in the state of Tennessee for quality and effectiveness based on the Tennessee Report Card on the Effectiveness of Teacher Training Programs and was most recently pointed out as the second highest ranking program in the nation by the National Council on Teacher Quality.

Lynn Watkins, in an advertisement inside this issue of The McKenzie Banner, wrote, "Our school district is an exemplary district. We are one of only two systems in the state that have twice received exemplary status. We are that because of our community support. "It takes a village to raise a child." Congratulations to you, the citizens of McKenzie Special School District."

He continued, "A special thanks goes to our school board. They are seven individuals that donate their time. Our board understands the importance of good instruction and continues to make decisions that put our students first.

"The central office staff manages 155 employees with an almost 11 million dollar budget. It is a year round endeavor. They have a huge role in our academic success.

"Our classroom teachers deserve this award more than anyone. They are on the front lines each day. Teachers do the preparation and create the relationships that allow for high level instruction. We are blessed to have the talent and dedication held by our teachers and educational assistants.

"Our building administrators, including our guidance counselors are essential to our success. They make tough decisions daily. They work many unseen hours. They support our employees and students while providing avenues for growth.

"Thanks to the support staff throughout our system. Front office staff, secretaries, bookkeepers, and nurses keep our buildings organized and make them welcoming for our students and stakeholders. No one should underestimate the importance of an efficient food service program when it comes to have a good school. Our custodial service keeps our buildings inviting. In order to have academic success you must have a place that students feel good about. Our maintenance staff has an overwhelming job. I can't thank them enough for their tireless commitment.

"The parents and guardians of our students equally claim ownership for our achievement. They are most important in the education of their children. I can't begin to list the many things that we ask of our parents. I know that without them we are not exemplary.

"The city of McKenzie provides safety and security measures for our schools. The local media recognizes and publishes accomplishments. Our local businesses provide goods and monetary support. The civic clubs of McKenzie make many physical and monetary donations. Bethel University provides facilities use, tutoring, dual credit offerings, and multiple day time programs in any year."

Time After Time – After Time

By Clayburn Peeples

My family and I were on a Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona recently (where, amazingly, everyone we met referred to themselves as "Indians" and not "Native Americans") and we got completely confused about time.

We were visiting Canyon de Chelly, which is deep in the heart of a Navajo Indian reservation, in the middle of the afternoon, but we had a dinner reservation later that evening in Winslow, Arizona. We were trying to decide whether we had enough time to hike to the bottom of the canyon and back (a two and a half hour trip) and still get to Winslow in time to make our reservation.

We also wanted to stop and visit the Hubbell Trading Post on our way, and we worried that it would be closed before we got there.

Now we knew Arizona is in the Mountain Standard Time Zone, so we thought it would be an hour earlier there than our Tennessee time, but when we entered the state we found that Arizona does not observe Daylight Saving Time, so it was actually two hours earlier there.

But the Navajo Nation, we discovered, being under federal authority, does observe Daylight Saving Time, so it was only one hour earlier there.

I asked the young Navajo woman at the visitor center desk for assistance, and while she knew what time the trading post closed, she didn't know whether it was on the reservation or not, so she didn't know what time it was there. She also wasn't sure what time it was in Winslow.

We finally ended up calling both the trading post and the restaurant find out what time it was in each of those respective places and were able to make it to the bottom of the canyon and back in time to both visit the trading post and make our dinner reservation, but if I go back to Arizona I'll try to be more chronologically literate when I arrive.

I thought about our time zone confusion over the weekend as I was resetting the 17 clocks and electronic devices in our house to accommodate the end of Daylight Saving Time for the year.

Arizona and Hawaii don't observe Daylight Saving Time, but every other state in America does. Utah is probably going to do away with it, however, because a government survey done there recently showed an overwhelming percentage of the population there is sick and tired of having to adjust their clocks backward and forward. Furthermore, a Utah State economist has estimated that the total cumulative cost of those few minutes everyone in America spends changing their clocks twice a year adds up to a whopping $1.7 billion in lost opportunity costs.

Americans in other states are fed up with Daylight Saving Time too. At least two thirds of us tell opinion surveyors it's just not worth the effort.

The "experts," are divided. Some say time changes cause accidents, others say they cause heart attacks, and still others still others say Daylight Saving Time actually causes more energy to be used, not less.

Of course, still other "experts" are on the other side of that argument, and who knows what's true?

One thing is for sure though, and that is, as in every other political issue, there are winners and losers after all is said and done and Congress has spoken. The athletic equipment and outdoor activity industry loves Daylight Saving Time. The golf industry, for example, has estimated that each additional month of Daylight Saving Time adds $200 to $400 million to their revenue. The barbecue equipment industry says each extra month of Daylight Saving Time is worth 150 million in increased profits to them.

The television and movie industry, on the other hand, hates to see Daylight Saving Time come, because every spring, as regular as clockwork, movie attendance and television viewership drop between 10 and 15%, even for popular shows, as soon as Daylight Saving Time begins. It seems that when you give people an extra hour of daylight after work they are much more likely to spend it getting out of the house and doing something outside.

This year, the proponents of Daylight Saving Time got a powerful new agreement. At least two recent studies have shown that when Daylight Saving Time begins in the spring, crime rates go down. On the first day of Daylight Saving Time robbery rates fall 7% overall and drop 27% during the last hour of sunlight.

Robberies, it seems, are most likely to occur between 5:00 and 8:00 P.M. when the most people are commuting or going out for the evening. The lighter it is during that time, so the theory goes, the less likely robbers, muggers and carjackers are to strike.

For whatever reason, there is a corresponding increase in robberies and assaults in the fall, when we return to standard time. Morning Daylight Saving Time changeovers do not affect crime rates at all.

But whether it is a good thing or bad, whether you love it or loathe it, you can bet that some form of Daylight Saving Time is here to stay. It's too profitable for businesses; Congress will never do away with it, but if we have to have it, why not just extend it to the entire year. Personally, I wish we didn't have it at all, but if we have to, then let's have it all year; I'm tired of resetting timepieces.

Not to mention the fact that I still haven't figured out how to change the time on my truck clock.

And It Begins With 'Yes, Please'

By Paula Watkins

Are you tired of all the negativity surrounding us everywhere we turn? Well, allow me to be the bearer of good news. We fuss all the time about how rude our young people are and some of us as well. We have come to expect the worst from those we meet when we go to the store. Well, I am here to tell you that the majority of our young people are respectful and willing to go the extra mile if you need them.

Most of you remember being reminding to say "Yes sir, no sir, no mam, and yes mam". My grandchildren and a lot of their friends call me Mam. Poor Caleb was asked a question and he replied, "Yes". Miss Betsy corrected him, and asked that he say, "Yes mam". Again he said, "Yes". She called him to her desk and inquired why he refused to say mam. He looked at her with those innocent eyes and told her that she was not his Mam. Gotta' love that baby!

Halloween night was just more proof that somebody is continuing to instill good manners in our young people. I cannot tell you how many times I heard "thank you". It sure did make me proud to look out at parents, grandparents, aunts, etc. who were waiting at the road for these sweet goblins. I wanted to run and hug their necks! (And I would have, but my running shoes have been retired for a few years.) I was handing out treats, but I was receiving verbal gifts that you cannot put a price on. Love those babies!

We cook supper every Wednesday night at our church. Our young people and visiting young people never cease to amaze me. I do not know what they do when they go to their table but I do know that they are the sweetest, most mannerly kids when they come through the kitchen to get their meals. Maybe it's because we are a church family – I do not know. I just know the smiles we see makes all the tiredness go away. I do love these young'uns!

Yep, I still encounter a few sweetie-pies that need some time-out, and that's okay most of the time. I try to tell myself that I do not know what happened prior to my meeting this child. What had caused this negative attitude?? I just smile while wanting to hold that young person's face and ask, "Why exactly are you carrying around such a spiteful feeling??" And then I am reminded, rather painfully, that I am not exactly the personification of good manners every day. We adults often wonder what in the world has happened to our youth. We are what happened to our youth!

With the holiday season beginning and Thanksgiving on the horizon, it's never too soon to let our young folks know how much they mean to us, and how much we appreciate them sharing their love of life. It just makes you feel good to see our children, grandchildren, and young friends with so much energy. This liveliness is the only confirmation I need to know that God is good, and that there will be young folks who will step up and lead this country.

And thanks, young man, for holding out your hand to help me down the last few steps at the ballgame last Friday night. Bless you and yours!

The Library Lines

By Nikki Cunningham

November is Picture Book Month. Picture books strengthen relationships, increase empathy, promote reading and learning, and send children on a path of success. Picture Book Month founder Dianne de Las Casas says, "Picture Book Month is all about the exaltation of picture books. This world wide literacy initiative touches lives and inspires people." The Carroll County Library is celebrating Picture Book Month by kicking off two new early literacy initiatives, 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten and Tot Time Story Hour, a new story hour offered to children birth – kindergarten. Through the 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten initiative the Library hopes to promote reading to newborns, infants, and toddlers as well as encourage parent and child bonding through reading. Materials for 1,000 Books can be picked up at the library. Our first Tot Time Story Hour begins Wednesday, November 18 at 10:30 a.m. and is designed specifically for children still at home with caregivers during the day; the Story Hour promotes reading and learning, an early love for the Library, and community involvement through play with other children.

The Library has new hours! The Library is now open from 8:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, 8:00 a.m. – 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, 8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. on Friday, and 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Don't Miss our Turkalicious Story Hour Saturday, November 14th at 10:30 a.m. Our October Saturday Story Hour was a huge success and we welcome everyone to come again this month and enjoy stories, songs, crafts, and refreshments.

The Good Folks of Lennox Valley

Lady preacher's visit upstaged by election

It had been almost three months since the members of Lennox Valley Methodist Church learned their pastor, Rev. Glynn Vickers, was being moved in June of 1998. And it had been four weeks since that fateful moment on May 4 when Diane Curtis, chair of the Methodist Church Pastor/Parish Committee, received the call from the Springfield district superintendent to inform her that Sarah Hyden-Smith was being appointed as the new minister in Lennox Valley.

It's funny how something can seem so important at one moment, then be almost forgotten the next. That's kind of how it was with the news of Rev. Hyden-Smith. When word first broke out that Lennox Valley was about to get its first clergywoman, the news was so hot that Iris Long published The Hometown News a day early, something that hadn't been done since August 16, 1977, when news broke Elvis Presley had died.

During my growing-up years, I was often reminded there is one thing that trumps just about everything else in small towns: Politics. And the good folks of Lennox Valley had just been surprised by the biggest political announcement since Helen Walker decided to run against her husband, Mayor Jay Walker, in his bid for reelection in November 1976.

Just four days earlier, on June 2, during the Tuesday edition of his daily radio program, "Renderings With Raymond," the audience was divided between shocked and delighted to hear Raymond Cooper announce his "willingness" to acquiesce to the will of his listeners and run against "Silver Tongue" Dick Bland in the upcoming November election. Suddenly, news of a new woman minister took a back seat to the sizzling political announcement.

Just the same, Diane Curtis had arranged a meeting of the Pastor/Parish Committee at 4:30 that Saturday afternoon. Originally, word of the meeting was the talk of the town as Methodists and others who weren't even members of the committee called Diane to ask if they could attend.

Some had heard stories of a female Pentecostal minister in the 1930s who came through town as part of a "Holy Ghost Revival." The evangelist, it was told, dressed in a police uniform, sat in the saddle of a police motorcycle and blew the siren over and over. Next, old-timers like to reminisce, she drove the motorcycle, with its deafening roar, across the access ramp to the pulpit, slammed on the brakes, then raised a white-gloved hand to shout "Stop! You're speeding to Hell!"

Sixty years had passed since the "Holy Roller Traffic Cop" came through town, and the idea of an honest-to-goodness woman pastor living right here in Lennox Valley was more than many folks could imagine.

So it was that Sarah Hyden-Smith, innocently enough, pulled into a parking space at the Methodist Church, expecting cake, punch and a lovely meeting with her new flock, probably around a Sunday School class table. Diane Curtis, who had been watching out the window of the fellowship hall, rushed out to greet Sarah to her new church. Diane seemed friendly enough to the new pastor, albeit a bit nervous.

Expecting the usual six or seven members who normally make up a Pastor/Parish Committee, Hyden-Smith was quite surprised to walk into a room with more than 60 folks seated in four rows across the fellowship hall.

Following a brief introduction by Diane Curtis, Sarah told the group she was thrilled to be appointed to Lennox Valley and asked the eerily silent congregants if they had any questions or thoughts they would like to share.

Looking back, I'm not sure why anyone was surprised when Elbert Lee Jones raised his hand and asked, "What's your stand on the Federal Reserve System?"

Leaning back in his chair, near the end of the third row, Raymond Cooper grinned an almost evil grin as he sat, quite pleased with himself.

Singer, Songwriters Share 'The Heart Behind the Music' at The Dixie

HUNTINGDON — Join some of the music industry's best and brightest singer/songwriters for an evening of music and storytelling at The Heart Behind the Music, the second installment of the 2015-16 Dixie Live Concert Series.

Billy Dean, Larry LeBlanc, Linda Davis, Chloe Channell, and Brandon Lay take The Dixie stage Saturday, Nov. 7 at 2 p.m. to perform their biggest hits and give fans a behind the scenes look at songwriting.

Billy Dean gained national attention on Ed McMahon's Star Search in 1988. In the early '90s, fans fell in love with songs like "Only Here for a Little White," "Somewhere in My Broken Heart," "Billy the Kid," and "If There Hadn't Been You." In 2000, Dean charted his first No. 1 hit, joining Alison Krauss on guest appearances of Kenny Rogers' "Buy Me a Rose." It was Rogers' first No. 1 single in 13 years.

Lenny LeBlanc was an integral part of the phenomenon that became known as Muscle Shoals Music. His hit ballad "Falling" was a staple of late '70s radio. He was booked on a national tour with Lynyrd Skynyrd in 1977 when the infamous plane crash put LeBlanc's tour plans on hold. During that time, LeBlanc reconnected with a friend who sent him a Bible. LeBlanc joined a church that he loved but felt no connection to the music he heard. He started writing again, and his songs "Above All" and "There Is None Like You" have become beloved classics of the church.

Linda Davis won a GRAMMY Award for Best Country Vocal Collaboration for her No. 1 smash hit "Does He Love You," recorded with superstar Reba McEntire. She is a member of the Texas Country Music Hall of Fame and known in music circles as a "song stylist" with a unique ability to interpret a song. Her daughter, Hillary Scott, is a member of the hugely popular band Lady Antebellum.

Chloe Channell has performed across Northwest Florida, Southern Alabama, and Georgia, opening for Little Big Town, Craig Morgan, John Conlee, and Rhonda Vincent. She is starring with Billy Dean in "The Toy Shoppe," a musical presented by Kenny Rogers.

Brandon Lay is a "home" boy with strong connections to The Dixie having performed here last season. The Jackson, Tenn. native began his musical career as a student at Union University. He has toured with Brantley Gilbert, Darryl Worley, Ronnie Milsap, and the Randy Rogers Band.

Tickets to this unique show are $22 each and are available at the Box Office in downtown Huntingdon, by calling 731-986-2100, and online at dixiepac.net. Don't miss this chance to get up close and personal with some of the music industry's most talented artists.

See you at The Dixie!

Set in a Western Indian territory just after the turn of the century, the high-spirited rivalry between the local farmers and cowboys provides the colorful background against which Curly, a handsome cowboy, and Laurey, a winsome farm girl, play out their love story. Although the road to true love never runs smooth, with these two headstrong romantics holding the reins, love's journey is as bumpy as a surrey ride down a country road. That they will succeed in making a new life together we have no doubt, and that this new life will begin in a brand-new state provides the ultimate climax to the triumphant OKLAHOMA! This performance is sponsored by Friends of The Dixie and Carroll Bank & Trust. Tickets are available at The Dixie Box Office for $15 including tax. McKenzie Garden Club October Meeting

The McKenzie Garden Club convened for their October meeting at the Lakeside Retirement Center. President Marlene Kreuter called the meeting to order and Donna Hodge presented the devotional, reintroducing members to the character called Johnny Appleseed. His real name was John Chapman, a nurseryman, specializing in apples and traveling around the country planting trees and giving away seeds. At the same time he also spread the Gospel as he traveled across the country. The focus verse for Donna's devotional was Mark 4:26, 27: "The kingdom of God is as if someone would scatter seed on the ground, and would sleep and rise night and day, and the seed would sprout and grow, he does not know how." We need to remember that God calls us to be passionate to spread the seeds of faith in Christ wherever we go, even if we may not understand or see the results.

The members then answered roll call by reading wonderful and witty quotes about Halloween. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. In the absence of the club treasurer, no financial report was given.

Following committee reports and business, Myra Sasser presented this month's program. She chose as her topic the Habitat for Humanity. This organization began in 1976 as the brainchild of Millard and Linda Fuller, and gained national visibility in 1984 when former President Jimmy Carter and his wife Rosalynn became involved. Today thousands of low-income families have new hope of affordable housing through Habitat for Humanity, with churches, individuals and community groups adding their efforts. Myra then removed several common myths regarding the operation of Habitat for Humanity such as:

1. They give houses away to poor people. Fact: Low income recipients make a $500 down payment, monthly payments for the costs of material, attend homeowners' classes, and contribute 300 - 500 hours of "sweat equity" to the construction of their home or someone else's.

2. Habitat homeowners are on welfare. Fact: Many are working people with incomes less than half the local median in their community.

3. Habitat is an arm of the government. Fact: Habitat is an independent, nonprofit organization. They do accept some government funds, but with guidelines to avoid dependency or government control.

Myra ended her program with information on how to apply to Habitat for Humanity for housing, and how to contact them to be a volunteer.

Following the program, the meeting was adjourned with the reading of the collect. This month's "birthday girl", Glynda Rich, was not in attendance. She is sent the clubs prayers and best wishes.

Insurance Leader Web Maddox Celebrating 40 Years of Success

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

HUNTINGDON (October 29) — For nearly a half-century, the name Web Maddox has been synonymous to Carroll Countians with premium insurance coverage.

Providing a vast umbrella of insurance coverage options, Web and his dedicated staff of 15 employees work diligently for the benefit of their customers from businesses located in Huntingdon (21290 East Main Street); McKenzie (15035 Highland Drive); and Camden (120 Highway 641 South).

Origins of Success

Maddox Insurance was established in 1947 by Web's grandmother, Mrs. Maynard Maddox, after the unexpected death of her husband, Dwayne D. Maddox.

During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, he said, "At age 47, grandfather died of a massive heart attack while sitting in his law office. My grandmother, who worked for some time in the cafeteria at Huntingdon High School, began selling insurance to make money to raise her three children."

He continued, "Grandmother was a remarkable lady. In those days, it was basically unheard of for a woman to step out into the business world. World War II had just ended, and the nation was trying to recover. She stepped forward with confidence and commitment and worked very hard to be successful. Fifty-eight years later, here we are carrying forth what she started. I'm so proud of her."

A 1972 Huntingdon High School graduate, Maddox began his insurance sales career in the family-owned business on January 1, 1975 following two years of college at Jackson State Community College and one semester at the University of Tennessee at Martin.

From there, the friendly and hard-working businessman toiled relentlessly to sell home, auto, motorcycle, and boat insurance policies and commercial policies primarily focused on small businesses.

In 1980, He and Huntingdon mayor and entrepreneur Dale Kelley merged forces to form Maddox and Kelley Insurance.

He said, "Dale and I merged businesses successfully for eleven years. Those were good years."

Today, Web and his dedicated staff have transformed Maddox Insurance LLC into the top producing agent in Tennessee representing Auto Owners Insurance Company and Penn National Insurance.

He said, "I want to emphasize that the success that this company has achieved is due in no small part to the tireless and dedicated efforts of our employees past and present. You have to get up every day and work hard to be successful in the business world, and we have done what was required to obtain success. Personally, I believe that success hinges on a person being fair and honest and treating others as they would like to be treated. I am grateful to every person and business that chose to allow Maddox Insurance to provide coverage for them. There are not enough ink pens in the world to write down the names of all the family members, friends, and mentors that have helped me along the way. I am blessed with many precious memories. Above everything, I give all glory and honor to my Lord and savior, Jesus Christ. I talk to him often every day. Life would be meaningless to me without the Lord."

Voice of the Mustangs

Since 1991, Web, at the request of then-Mustang football coaches Mike Mansfield and Jimmy Pritchard, has served as the public address announcer for Huntington High School's home football games.

In 2003, Web's announcing job with the Mustangs took on an added thrill when he watched his son, Andrew, now vice-president of his Huntingdon insurance office, helped lead Huntingdon to a state football championship.

He said, "The night that the Mustangs beat Milan to advance to the state championship, I sat in the press box for a while before everything set in on me. Realizing the magnitude of what these boys had just accomplished overwhelmed me, and I began to cry. I had a special relationship with all those boys from the time when they were very young. I coached them in teeball and had the privilege of watching them play junior high and high school sports. It was an honor for me to serve as Quarterback Club President during that time."

Web Maddox manning the mic for his beloved Mustangs.

Pausing, he said, "I have a gift from all of them that I cherish sitting on my desk here at work. A few weeks after the Mustangs won the state football championship, I was sitting in the audience at the football awards banquet when Coach Mansfield asked Andrew to come to the podium. I can't recall all that Andrew said, but I remember him looking at me and asking me to come up to the podium. I was stunned and speechless when Andrew handed me an actual game ball from the championship game with the signatures of all the players and coaches on it. It still makes me emotional. That moment will forever be etched in my heart."

Lead by Example

Diagnosed with colon cancer on October 13, 2013, the ever-optimistic and determined Maddox elected to do what he does best-lead by example.

As co-chair of the 2015 South Carroll Relay for Life, Web's impassioned speech at the annual rally held inside the Carroll County Civic Center inspired the capacity crowd of cancer warriors, care providers, family members, and friends in attendance.

After emotionally thanking his wife, children, siblings and friends for their heartfelt prayers and tenacious support, he said, "I cannot even begin to express my sincere thanks to my angel-wife, my children, and the countless loved ones for all of their love, prayers, and dedication to me during this battle."

Pausing, he continued, "On November 8, 2013, Dr. Joe Sturdivant of Memphis removed a portion of my colon. He told me after the surgery that he was almost certain that he had removed all of the cancer, but that there still might be one cell that might be out there somewhere. On October 14, 2014, a CTA scan revealed that cancer in my colon had spread to my liver. Because of the size of the tumor, surgery was not an option."

Battling for composure, Maddox elicited laughter, tears, and thunderous applause moments later from the crowd when he described the bedside exchange between his doctor and his daughter, Rachel.

He recalled, "That day, the doctor told me that an average person with the type of cancer I had would only live about 2 and 1/2 to 3 years. Immediately, Rachel, my warrior-angel, looked the doctor in the eyes and responded, 'Well-I guess you don't know my Dad. My dad has never been average'."

Emotionally, he concluded, "To my friends with cancer, I want to say this; someday, cancer may take our physical abilities and even our lives, but it will never take our hearts and souls. We have hope from our friends, family, doctors, and the Lord God. Cling to that and don't let go. New drugs are being created every day. Although these new medicines may not be available in time to save us, they may save our children. Legendary basketball coach Jim Valvano, in a speech near the end of his fight with cancer, implored people to never give up. That is what I leave you with tonight-love those that love you, fight the good fight, and never, ever give up."

"faint, kind of drained, and unsteady on my feet."

He sure didn't feel like going for a ride with his wife on their Harley.

"I feel so much better and this was so easy."

- Larry Forbess

He chose Dr. Shawn Baldwin, an electrophysiologist with West Tennessee Heart and Vascular Center's Heart Rhythm Clinic, where they inserted a tiny balloon in a vein to freeze electrically active tissue in his heart.
This minimally invasive procedure decreased Larry's symptoms and risk of stroke.

Larry and his wife now have more trips planned.

Rebels Declaw Tigers

By Jason Martin
jmartin@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (October 30) — It was Senior Night at Rebel Field as McKenzie picked up their sixth win of the regular season. The Rebels piled on the points as they defeated the Halls Tigers 61-7. The win over Halls placed the Rebels in second place in Region 6-2A, which means they will host in the first round of the TSSAA Playoffs.

The game began with Halls winning the toss and electing to receive. Forced to punt after three plays, the Rebels took over on their own 37 yard line.

McKenzie proceeded on a 17-play drive for their first touchdown of the night. The Rebels used ground and pound type offense. The series opened with Tyler Spivey coming across in motion picking up 3 yards. Jack Surber dumped a pass off to Eric Robinson for the first down.

Robinson busted up the middle for the next first down and 11 yards. The Rebels found a weakness in the Tigers defensive line. Robinson continued to pick up the necessary yards for first downs. Halls anticipated another Robinson carry, but they were mistaken. The Tigers bit on the fake handoff and Surber picked up another Rebel first down.

With a fresh set of downs, McKenzie was on the Halls 15 yard line. Surber repeated the fake handoff to Robinson for 9 yards. Then a screen pass to Donavan Foley brought the Rebels to the 6 yard line.

McKenzie, running out of the "I" formation, chipped away at the Halls defense. Sitting 3rd and goal from the 1 yard line, Surber crossed the goal line on a quarterback keeper. Lucas Waddell's point after attempt was good. McKenzie took the first quarter lead, 7-0 with 4:50 on the clock.

McKenzie's kickoff went out of bounds in an attempt to keep the ball away from speedster Tyrese Johnson. Halls started on their own 35 yard line after the illegal procedure call. Andrew Harris began the series with a pass to Addison Meeks for 4 yards. McKenzie's Lorenzo Haynes and Sean

Defeat Defiant Tigers, 50-6

By Ernie Smothers

HUNTINGDON (October 30) — On all-hallows eve, the playoff-eliminated Hollow Rock-Bruceton Central Tigers (5-5) momentarily "spooked" the capacity crowd at Paul Ward Stadium by stopping the Huntingdon offense cold on their opening drive before capping their 73-yard, six-play drive via Zayveon Johnson score to lead the Mustangs, 6-0.

Recovering, Huntingdon's revamped backfield settled in behind their veteran offensive line to score 50 unanswered points via the production of Keeton Bailey (nine rushes, 103 yard, three touchdowns, one fumble return touchdown) and Zach Dodson (12 rushes, 138 yards, three touchdowns) to defeat the Tigers, 50-6.

Prior to the contest, HHS senior football players, managers, cheerleaders, band, and AB Club members and their parents were honored.

On their heels of their 9-1 overall, 6-1 region record, the state fifth-ranked and Region 6 1A runner-up Mustangs

West Carroll Falls to South Fulton

SOUTH FULTON (October 30) — The War Eagles finished the season with a road game against the Red Devils Friday night. West Carroll struck first with a second quarter touchdown, but South Fulton countered with 33 unanswered points en route to a 40-14 win.

South Fulton received the opening kickoff and began from the 35. A total of 8 plays, including runs of 12, 15, and 5 yards by Kody Davidson led to a fourth-and-6 at the War Eagle 24. Going for it, Red Devil quarterback Gevin Courtney's pass was picked off by War Eagle Patrick Becker.

Tristan Fuller ran for a short gain as West Carroll took over. Becker ran for a yard, then followed with a large gain for a first down. The War Eagles were flagged for a personal foul, moving the ball back 15 yards. Jace Williams and Becker each rushed to move the chains, then Fuller ran for 6. Williams was stopped for no gain, but Fuller managed 4 yards for another first down. Jacob Bullington took a double reverse for a

McKENZIE (October 27) — The MHS Lady Rebel Soccer Team held a banquet Tuesday evening at McKenzie Church of Christ to celebrate the 2015 season. Players, coaches, and parents gathered to enjoy a meal catered by Big Daddy's Bar-B-Q and reminisce on the highlights of the year.

As they ate, guests enjoyed a photo compilation of moments from the season. After dessert, head coach Jarrod Bailey spoke about the year, beginning with how proud he was of the players for a phenomenal season. "It's been a joy," he said. He noted with excitement that the team was losing just one senior and had the largest freshmen class ever for the program. He commended the team for what they accomplished with a mix of experienced players and beginners. He also thanked parents, saying, "We couldn't do it without you. We appreciate everything you do."

Coach Bailey presented participation awards to each player, then recognized the district accomplishments of Hannah Bilger

Rebels

...From Sports Front

Beck came away with big stops forcing the Tigers to punt.

McKenzie's next drive resulted in a quick three and out. Halls had a little success on the next drive as they gained 21 yards off a pass play from Harris to Johnson. The Rebels looked for a block in back penalty, but the officials did not agree. Harris-Johnson combination for 11 yards and a first down as the first quarter came to a close.

The drive came to an end as Beck stepped in front of Harris's pass for an interception. McKenzie looked to capitalize off of the turnover, but they were forced to punt after four plays.

Starting near mid-field, Halls gained a quick first down. Once again, Harris found Johnson open, who sped down the field for 26 yards. At the Rebel 30 yard line, the Tigers were shut down. DeJan McNulty, Cameron Oakley, and Noah McEwen came away with key stops that forced Halls to turn the ball over on downs.

Two drives later at the 3:40 mark of the second quarter, McKenzie passed into the end zone for their second score of the night. The scoring drive started with great field position after Ray's punt went out of bounds at the Halls 30 yard line.

Eric Robinson picked up 20 yards on the ground. On a play action pass, Surber zipped the ball into Foley's hands for 10 yards and the touchdown. Waddell's PAT was good, and McKenzie was up 14-0.

Halls punted away their next possession, and McKenzie took over at their own 44 yard line. On the third play of the driver, Robinson ran 43 yards to the end zone for touchdown. Followed by a successful extra-point, McKenzie was leading 21-0 with 1:52 left to play in the first half.

After playing keep away for a third time on the kickoff, Halls began the drive from the 35 yard line. Gaining only 1-yard, the Tigers punted to the Rebels.

McKenzie had no intention of running the clock out for the half. The Rebels crossed mid-field in three plays and had a fresh set of downs at the Halls 37 yard line. Surber hit Foley for 29 yards as he streaked down the field. On 1st and goal from the 2 yard line, Surber's pass was intercepted as the defender kept one foot in the end zone for the touchback with 5 seconds remaining.

Halls closed the half with a dump pass up the middle to Johnson for 26 yards.

After halftime, the Rebels came onto the field looking to redeem themselves after the turnover. On the kickoff, Noah McEwen gained 74 yards as he ducked and dodged his was down the field before going down at the Halls 1 yard line. Robinson punched the ball across the goal line for his second touchdown. Waddell's kick was good increasing McKenzie's lead 28-0.

Michael Floyd intercepts the Halls pass for a 100-yard pick six.

Halls seemed to have a renewed vigor on their next drive. Starting at their own 25 yard line, Harris passed to Meeks for 13 yards. Harris looked to Meeks for a second pass, but Oakley was there to break it up. On a third attempt, Meeks was wide open for the pass and the 62-yard touchdown. Chris Bell's extra-point split the up rights cutting into McKenzie lead 28-7.

McKenzie continued to tack on the points with their next drive. The Rebels traveled 64 yards for the touchdown. The score was Surber's second on the ground after faking the hand off to Robinson from 7 yards out. The two-point conversion was no good as McKenzie went up 34-7 with 8:45 left to play in the third quarter.

Harris looked for the magic he had the previous drive, but the Rebel defense tightened up. Halls was three and out as McKenzie took over on the Tiger 35 yard line.

The Rebels were still on fire as Surber passed to Foley. Foley dropped his shoulder breaking a tackle and charged 65 yards down the field. The touchdown pass brought the McKenzie lead to 41-7 after a successful PAT.

Halls as three and out on the next drive as Jake Trevathan came away with a huge sack on third down.

McKenzie began making substitutions on their next offensive drive. Zach Jarrett came in at quarterback, and Mitch Merrick took over the rushing responsibilities. From 29 yards out, the Rebels gave the pigskin to Merrick. He was able to pound his way across the goal line in four plays. The Rebel lead increased to 48-7.

Halls kept to the air on the next drive. Harris's third pass could be considered part of the play of the game just not for the offense. As the pass flew deep down the field and across the goal line, Michael Floyd leapt high into the air coming down with the interception. Floyd then ensued on a footrace as he rambled down the field breaking a host of tackles and crossing into the end zone for the 100-yard pick six. McKenzie led Halls 54-7 at the end of the third quarter.

The Halls team seemed deflated at the start of the fourth quarter. Trevathan and Merrick lead McKenzie's defense forcing the Tigers to punt.

The Rebels continued to rotate players into the game. In what was McKenzie's last offensive drive of the game, the Rebels ran 13 plays on the series. For over six minutes, Deaaron Diggs and Bryston Diggs pounded away at the Halls defense. Bryston made the 6-yard touchdown, and Waddell capped off the drive with the extra-point. McKenzie's lead was 61-7 with just over minutes left to play.

Halls had the final possession of the game, but was unable to score as the game came to an end.

Looking at the statistics, McKenzie accumulated 473 yards total offense. The Rebels rushed for 282 yards; Robinson led the ground attack with 22 carries for 170 yards. In passing, the Rebels had 191 yards; Surber was 11 of 23 for 165 with Jarrett 3 for 5 with 26 yards.

The Halls Tigers gained 227 yards of total offense. 209 yards came by way of passing and only 18 yards on the ground. Harris was 14 of 29 for 209 yards passing.

The Rebels won the game in a dominating fashion, and according to Head Coach Wade Comer, "they are getting on a roll at the right time." The Rebels will host the rematch against the Riverside Panthers in week 1 of the TSSAA Playoffs; the winner will face the winner of Waverly-JCS game in round 2. Game time is 7 p.m.

Ticket prices are $8 under the TSSAA guidelines. The only passes accepted under the TSSAA guidelines are "Championship Event Cards" and "TACA Cards". Press passes are limited to "the daily and weekly newspapers from the areas representing the towns of the participating teams."

Mustangs

...From Sports Front

host Region 5 third-seed Trousdale County this Friday night at Paul Ward Stadium.

Via TSSAA mandate, all playoff contests statewide start at 7:00 p.m. local time. Admission for all contests is $8.

Mustang Tristan Norwood returned Tiger Thomas Wortham's game-opening boot to the Mustang 45 before being tackled by Zayveon Johnson. Unveiling their revamped offensive, Huntingdon's first offensive play netted minus-five yards via quarterback Bailey's fumble recovery. On the ensuing play, Mustang speed merchant Zach Dodson was dropped behind the line for a loss of one by Tiger defender Dylan Caswell. Facing third-and six, Bailey was tackled for no gain by linebacker Dalton Davis to force Huntingdon to punt via three-and-out as Bailey's rugby-style boot was downed at the Tiger 27.

Playing for pride, the Tiger offense's first two plays from scrimmage netted little as Sadarius Hutcherson stopped Central signal caller Chase Bratton for no gain and Ryan Cole battled inside for a tough two yards. Rolling in the pocket behind solid pass protection, Bratton fired a strike to fellow senior Logan Belew behind Mustang defenders for a first down at the Tiger 48. Following an offside markoff against the Tigers, Central caught the Huntingdon secondary off-guard again as receiver Grant Davis took the pitch and unleashed a deep arcing spiral to quarterback Bratton to move the chains at the Mustang 11. After Dustin Wade stopped Johnson for a loss of two, Huntingdon was flagged for pass interference, moving the ball to the Huntingdon 8. Bratton kept to the 6 before being brought down by Jonah Davis. At the 8:41 mark of the first frame, Tiger running-back Zayveon Johnson took the third-and six pitch right side and raced to paydirt. Ryan Hughes' PAT kick was no good as Central led Huntingdon, 6-0.

Central's short kickoff was recovered at the Huntingdon 39. Responding, Mustang quarterback Bailey raced left side before weaving across midfield down to the Tiger 22. At the 5:38 mark of the first canto, Dodson raced left side before weaving around Tiger defenders to score. Jayden William's PAT boot was no good as the Mustangs tied the Tigers, 6-6.

On the ensuing play, Johnson recovered a fumbled pitch for a loss of five. Spreading the field, Central shifted two linemen wide on each side of the line as Bratton's pass attempt under pressure was nearly intercepted by Travious Gordon. Rolling right, Bratton fired a pass completion to Belew to bring up fourth-and three. With nothing to lose, Central gambled as Bratton's pass fell incomplete and Huntingdon took possession at the Central 22.

Seizing momentum, Huntingdon utilized a two-yard rush by Bailey and Williams bulled to the six before Huntingdon was penalized for holding with the ball being moved back to the 22. At the 3:35 mark of the first period, Dodson erupted 22 yards to score. Going for two, Bailey took the shotgun snap and scored as Huntingdon took the lead, 14-6.

Pulling out the stops, Tiger Johnson fielded the Mustang kickoff and fired a pass right side to Isaiah Donald who was tackled at the Central 21 as penalty flags flew. Following discussion, game officials waved off personal fouls on both teams. Three plays into the ensuing drive, Mustang Bailey scooped up a Tiger fumble and scored. Williams added the PAT as Huntingdon extended their lead over Central, 21-6.

Johnson returned the kickoff to the Tiger 23. Struggling against Huntingdon's front seven, Central earned a first down via Bratton keeper at the Mustang 34. Johnson raced to the 39 before being tackled by Davis. Continuing to have success in the aerial department, Bratton fired a completion to Cole to bring up third down and five. On the next play, Donald battled up the middle across midfield to move the chains at the Mustang 45. Bratton fired a three-yard completion to G. Davis before a wide-open Belew dropped a deep pass behind Mustang coverage. On the next play, Belew snagged a Bratton pass for a gain of six at the Huntingdon 37. Rolling left, Bratton fired a deep pass attempt to Belew that was defended by Bailey at the Mustang 18. Facing fourth-and four, Johnson was stopped short of the first down marker as the Tigers turned the ball over on downs at the 7:28 mark of the second canto.

Showcasing his speed, Bailey kept leftside and raced to the Tiger 39 before being tackled by freshman defensive back Zane Mebane. Williams bulled to the Central 27. On the next play, Bailey fired a strike to Dodson who was tackled at the one by Mebane. At the 6:31 mark of the second quarter, Bailey scored up the middle and added the two-point conversion as Huntingdon began to pull away, 29-6.

Huntingdon stopped Central's next drive and lit the scoreboard at the 3:16 mark as Bailey scampered 26 yards to score and Williams booted the PAT as the Mustangs led, 36-6.

As hitting intensified and tempers boiled, Central and Huntingdon were assessed unsportsmanlike conduct penalties.

With 42 seconds remaining in the second frame, Huntingdon added to their lead as Bailey scored from the 7 and Williams added the PAT boot to give the Mustangs a 43-6 lead at the half.

Leading 43-6, Huntingdon opted to provide their revamped first team with additional reps as Central's down-but determined squad continued to battle relentlessly. With 36 seconds remaining in the third canto, Dodson scored via ten-yard scamper as the Mustangs led and eventually defeated Central, 50-6.

West Carroll

short gain, then Williams combined a pair of runs for another first down. An offside penalty against South Fulton and a run by Williams gave the War Eagles a first down in the red zone. Williams and Fuller each ran as the first quarter ended.

Starting the second quarter on third-and-6, Fuller rushed for 7. He capped off the drive with a 1-yard touchdown. The PAT was good, and with 10 minutes remaining in the second, the War Eagles led 7-0.

The Red Devils returned the ensuing kickoff to the 37, and ran the ball on first down, breaking through the defense for a 63-yard touchdown. A good kick tied the game at 7-7 with 9:45 left in the first half.

South Fulton doubled down on the change in momentum with an onside kick attempt, securing it at the War Eagle 44. A West Carroll penalty, a run by Red Devil Chris Morris, and a 12-yard pass by Courtney gave South Fulton a first down in the red zone. Davidson ran for 5, then Morris 10 for the touchdown. Another good PAT gave South Fulton a 14-7 lead with 7:21 remaining in the half.

The War Eagles began near midfield and, in 3 plays were at the South Fulton 25. The next snap was fumbled and picked up by Red Devil Jacob Adams.

A pair of penalties brought the Red Devils back to their own 8 yard line. After an incomplete pass by Courtney, Davidson ran 24 for a first down. Jalen Scott ran twice to move the chains again, then Morris ran for 7. The Red Devil offense stalled, but on fourth-and-7, Courtney kept for a 29-yard score. The PAT was no good, and South Fulton led 20-7.

The War Eagles fumbled the kickoff and the Red Devils recovered. Courtney kept again on first down for a 23-yard touchdown run. Another missed PAT made the score 26-7 with 2 minutes remaining in the first half.

West Carroll went three-and-out on the ensuing drive, punting as time expired. At the half, South Fulton led 26-7.

The War Eagles received the second-half kickoff, but went three-and-out again.

Facing a short field, Davidson ran 5 yards for the Red Devils on first down, then 35 yards to paydirt. This time the PAT sailed true, and South Fulton led 33-7 2 minutes into the third quarter.

Williams led the War Eagles on the next drive, including a pass to Becker for 12 yards and runs of 30 and 17 yards. The latter was good for a touchdown, and a good kick cut the West Carroll deficit to 33-14 with 4:48 left in the third.

South Fulton answered with a 8-play drive capped off with a 20-yard touchdown run by Davidson. The PAT was good, and South Fulton led 40-14 near the end of the third quarter.

West Carroll made 2 first downs in a 9-play drive, but turned the ball over on downs.

South Fulton threatened on the ensuing drive, but a red zone fumble was scooped up by War Eagle Chase Nash.

West Carroll managed 3 quick plays to pick up a few yards before time expired with the score 40-14 in favor of South Fulton.

War Eagle senior Jace Williams had 18 carries for 104 yards in his high school finale. Tristan Fuller rushed 16 times for 68 yards and had 7 tackles.

According to Davis' report, officers responded to a call about an accident on Highway 79 and found that Houston had run off the road in a 1995 Nissan Pathfinder. Davis reported that Houston smelled strongly of alcohol and she was barely able to stand on her own. Houston told officers that she thought she was in Chester County. Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Central Elementary School Harvest Carnival

By Ernie Smothers

BRUCETON (October 29) — A large gathering of ghosts, ghouls and goblins, accompanied by parents and friends, roamed the hallways during the annual Central Elementary School harvest carnival.

Prior to announcing CES Harvest Carnival Royalty and Best Costume winners, Central Elementary School Principal Deborah Martin thanked attendees for supporting the event.

She said, "Year after year, the school faculty and I are so impressed by the support of our communities for this event. All of the money collected is used for the children. This year, due to the efforts of our 13 royalty contestants, parents, siblings, grandparents, aunts, uncles and friends, $2,028 was raised. We are very pleasantly surprised by the amount of votes and money our royalty candidates received. The royalty money collected is a good start to funding the Christmas movie trip." Wal-Mart provided gift cards to royalty and costume contest winners.
