Former Carroll County Sheriff's Office Correction Officer Pleads Guilty

A former lieutenant with the Carroll County Sheriff's Office plead guilty to a civil rights violation for using a taser on a restrained pre-trial detainee, announced U.S. Attorney Edward L. Stanton III of the Western District of Tennessee, and Principal Deputy Assistant Attorney General Vanita Gupta, head of the Department of Justice's Civil Rights Division.

Jeanette Sue Barnes, 48, of McKenzie plead guilty in federal court in Jackson, Tennessee, to one count of deprivation of rights under color of law. During the plea hearing, Barnes admitted that on March 22, 2015, she used her taser to drive-stun D.D.P., a pre-trial detainee, for 12 seconds, even though he was secured in a restraint chair and posed no threat to her or other officers. As a result of the assault, D.D.P. suffered pain and burns to his skin.

Barnes will be sentenced on February 18, 2016, and faces a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison.

Three-Vehicle Crash Sends Four to Hospital

By Ernie Smothers

ATWOOD (November 23) — Tennessee State Trooper Shane Steele reported that a three-vehicle crash on State Route 77 near Atwood last night resulted in the transport of four people to area hospitals.

Steele said, "Carrie Hollowell, driver of a Dodge Ram pickup, had stopped on State Route 77 and was preparing to turn onto Newsome Road as Jeffrey Clark of Atwood, driving a Nissan Altima, approached her vehicle from behind and was slowing to stop. A third vehicle, a Dodge Envoy driven by Timothy Daniel White of Milan, did not stop in time and struck the Dodge Ram, knocking it off the right side of the road. Continuing, the Envoy rear-ended the Dodge Ram as it was turning off the roadway."

Steele said that Mrs. Hollowell, driver of the Dodge Ram, and her three children were not transported from the scene.

Clark, the driver of the Nissan Altima, was transported by ambulance to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Huntingdon.

White, the driver of the Dodge Envoy, was transported by ambulance to Milan General Hospital.

Steele said that the two passengers in

HUNTINGDON (November 20) — During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, Carroll County Sheriff's Department Public Information Officer Becky Keith said that a late-night traffic stop by Carroll County Sheriff's Department officer Carlton and subsequent vehicle chase led to the seizure of a 22.4-pound brick of marijuana and a stolen 9 mm Luger pistol.

She said, "At approximately 12:55 a.m. on November 19, Sheriff's deputy Carlton performed a traffic stop on a vehicle at the red light located on the bypass after the car did not move after the light turned green. The officer said that upon approaching the vehicle, he smelled the strong odor of marijuana emanating from the car. He then observed the driver sleeping behind the wheel."

The driver informed the officer that he did not have personal

Area Residents Provide 1,152 Gift Boxes to Samaritan's Purse

It is the largest number of donated boxes of gifts in the eight-year history of the local churches contributing to Samaritan's Purse, said Ruth Carroll, who coordinates the local project.

Area churches and student athletes at Bethel University participated in collecting toys, school supplies, and other small gifts to pack in a shoebox-size box to be sent mostly other countries for ness fortunate children. This is the only gift many of the children will receive for Christmas.

Mrs. Carroll said 1,152 boxes were donated from individuals at First Baptist Church-McKenzie, Shiloh Cumberland Presbyterian, McLemoresville Baptist, Poplar Grove United Methodist, Long Heights Baptist, Bethel University sports, and First Apostolic of Gleason.

Ruth Carroll and Tommy Surber stand along side the 1,152 gift boxes to be shipped to less fortunate boys and girls.

First Cumberland Presbyterian served as the final collection point.

Along with the gift boxes, the donors also provided $7.00 per box to ship the items.

Tommy and Ben Thomas Surber transported the gift boxes to a collection point in Milan on Monday. The boxes will be sorted as to boy and girl and shipped overseas by Samaritan's Purse.

TN College of Applied Technology Nets 8,198 Cans of Food for United Neighbors

Tennessee College of Applied Technology at McKenzie hosted the annual food drive for the local United Neighbors of Carroll County. The school held a competition between classes to see which class could raise the most cans. For the second year, the Heating, Ventilation, Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration class, along with their instructor Terry Wilson, were the winners with a total of 117.96 cans per student, which totals approximately 2713 cans. Second place went to the students of Computer Information Technology class, who raised a total of 93.09 cans per student (approximately 1769 cans). Third place went to the Administrative Office Technology class with a total of 75.59 cans per student (approximately 1663 cans). The overall number of cans raised this year was 8198, which exceeded last year's total by approximately 2900! The food will be distributed back into the Carroll County community through the United Neighbors program.

TCAT-McKenzie thanks all the students and instructors for their participation. We are extremely proud of the students, faculty and staff for their help in making this year's food drive the most successful one yet.

TCAT-McKenzie Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary

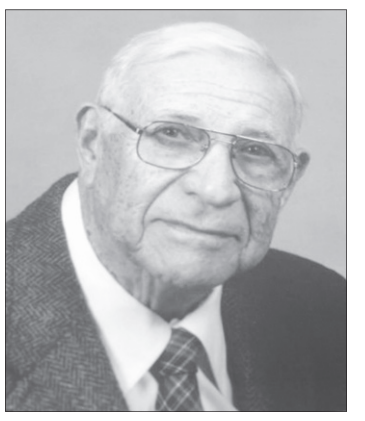

Installment One of a Two-Part Series

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

On December 4, 2015, Tennessee College of Applied Technology-McKenzie (TCAT), located at 16940 Highland Drive in McKenzie, celebrates its 50th anniversary with a reception from 1:00 p.m. until 3:00 p.m. The reception will include guest speakers, key points throughout the college's history, and light refreshments.

During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, TCAT-McKenzie Assistant Director John Penn Ridgway said, "I started at the school as a counselor before advancing to my current position. Through the years, I have seen our school undergo program changes and face challenges while retaining our overall principal of commitment to students. Since 1965, our school's core goal is to train people to make a good living and to aid in supporting vibrant communities throughout this region and beyond. Our success at TCAT-McKenzie is built on our ability to equip students with a solid education and strong people skills so that they can flourish in the business world."

He continued, "The demand for highly-skilled employees is always out there, and we are prepared to help our students daily to answer the challenge as upper-tier workers in a variety of vocations. We are blessed with enthusiastic, exceptionally-qualified instructors, state-of-the-art training technologies and curriculum, and the generous support of various industry-leaders in our relentless quest to train our people to thrive in today's complicated and ever-changing job market. Their success is why we are here-it is our driving motivation. Every student matters."

Guy R. Kirk, TCAT-McKenzie's first director.

Student Services Coordinator Daphne Brown added, "It is our forward goal to be the school of choice not only for this area, but for the entire state. Our vision is to grow this school in a relevant manner to accommodate our students with the skills and knowledge necessary to master their crafts and to benefit themselves, their families, and the communities that they live in. All of us at TCAT-McKenzie come to work every day excited and ready to do all that we can for these students. To see people happy and prepared to succeed in life is a wonderful feeling. I'm always glad to hear success stories from former students. It is inspiring."

Brown said that instructors for each course are evaluated, not only by their classroom performance, but by their success in helping place students into the job market.

She said, "Our instructors are committed to providing quality educational instruction and to helping their students to excel in the work place. Unlike other schools or universities, our teacher's commitment to their students does not end when those students receive their certificate. Our teachers are obligated to help our students find jobs and to excel at the next level. They go above and beyond to make sure our students succeed."

Thirty-six year TCAT-McKenzie maintenance technician Thomas Milam concurred, "I have watched a lot of people come through this school over the years and witnessed a lot of positive things happen. This place prepares people to make a good living for themselves and to provide for their loved ones. That is the thing people need to know about TCAT-McKenzie-when a person receives a certificate from here, they can work anywhere and do well. They can be confident in their ability."

Smiling, he continued, "I know for a fact that this school has been good to me. I have always had steady employment here. Whatever needs done, from changing a lightbulb to mowing the grounds, I do it. I'm grateful and proud to say that I put a child through college working here. My job provides me with a state retirement, an annual leave, and sick leave. To top it all off, I've worked all these years only a mile from my house. I honestly feel blessed to have made my career here. This place has been great to me and my family."

TCAT-McKenzie History

The Tennessee College of Applied Technology-McKenzie (TCAT), formerly named the Tennessee Technology Center at McKenzie, is one of 27 Technology Colleges in the State of Tennessee.

Construction of TCAT-McKenzie began in the spring of 1964 and was completed in 1965.

The school began operation under the local direction of Guy R. Kirk, who was appointed to the position of Superintendent of the School by then-Tennessee Assistant Commissioner of Vocational Education in Tennessee Charlie Dunn. Mr. Kirk served the school as director until 1978 when Kenneth Warren was named director and served until his untimely death in 1985.

The school enrolled its first students in July of 1965 in Automotive Mechanics, Drafting and Office Occupations.

The first students to graduate from the Center did so in 1966.

Courses in Industrial Electricity / Electronics, Machine Shop and Refrigeration were implemented in August of the same year.

The Center has undergone several expansions, renovations and additions of programs since it was first built. The first expansion in Industrial Programs came in July of 1966, with the employment of a second Office Occupations Instructor and the addition of a Welding Program.

In January of 1972, the Masonry Program began. A leased building off campus housed the program until 1978, when funds were made available to erect a building on campus.

The Livestock Production Program, operated by the Weakley County Board of Education, was taken over by the McKenzie school in August of 1972. The program was located off campus at a facility in Dresden, Tennessee. The program closed in 1982 due to lack of student enrollment.

In 1974, a 2,172 square foot Drafting Shop was added.

In 1981, a 3,475 foot Masonry Shop was added. The School was the prime contractor for the building project, with construction being completed as much as possible by the students. The building construction project was used for student training. The remaining construction of the building not related to training was subcontracted. The program closed in 1985 as a result of low enrollment.

In 1983, the name of the school was changed to the Tennessee Technology Center at McKenzie and fell under the governing body of the Tennessee Board of Regents.

In 1995, Brad Hurley was named interim director.

In 1996, Elizabeth Check was named director.

In August, 1998, the facility received a $1.8 million building renovation. That year, an Industrial Maintenance Program was added to the Center's offering.

In 1999 and the HVAC Program was re-opened and began enrolling students in the spring of 2002.

Also In 1999, the Center underwent a two million dollar renovation project. This project included building new shop classrooms and installation of a new heat and air system and an electrical system in the industrial building, renovation of the administrative building, and connecting of the two shop buildings to the administrative via addition of two new classrooms.

In November, 2000, the school chartered a National Technical Society chapter.

McKenzie Council Honors Youth, Police Officers, Garden Club

MCKENZIE (November 19) — McKenzie Mayor and Council lacked a quorum during its planned Thursday, November 19 meeting, however, it did take the opportunity to honor some outstanding students who competed on the national and international level, and the Morning Glory Garden Club for hosting the annual Christmas Luncheon for 45 years. Additionally, two police officers were administered the oath of office to serve on the city's police department.

Councilmen Jessie Townes, Charles Pruneau, and Gene Hale were in attendance at the meeting. Council members Kevin Gallimore, Cassie Allen, and David Hochreiter were absent. Gallimore was with his students at a BETA convention, Hochreiter had another meeting, and Allen was recuperating.

Mark Boaz and Cody Coleman were administered the oath of office by Mayor Jill Holland to join the McKenzie Police Department. The two previously worked as correctional officers for the Carroll County Sheriff's Department. They are both graduates of the Tennessee Law Enforcement Academy and completed the local department's training necessary before becoming patrolmen.

Members of the McKenzie Shooting Sports Team were honored for their outstanding performances at the National Team Championships of the Scholastic Clay Target and Scholastic Pistol programs, held in July in Sparta, Illinois.

Ellie Roditis, a senior at McKenzie High School was honored with a plaque for her outstanding accomplishments in clay target shooting sports in Tennessee, nationally, and in Italy. She individually won third in the ISSF World Championship Shotgun Trap Women's Junior competition in Italy. Her U.S. team, which she was a member, also earned third. She is a member of the World Cup Team. She is a member of the USA National Junior Team. She also won various contests throughout Tennessee and the U.S., and world competitions. She is the daughter of Spiro and Sandy Roditis, and the sister to Stafford.

Morning Glory Garden Club ended a 45-year tradition when club members decided to not host the annual Christmas Luncheon on the first Tuesday of December. Mayor Holland said the club members have raised funds and helped beautify the city for a number of years. The annual luncheon marked the opening of the city's Hometown Christmas celebration. A magnolia tree is being planted in honor of the club members and their contribution to the city.

The Christmas Luncheon continues and will various organizations and causes. This year, the event is moved to the Church of Christ and will benefit the Gordon Browning Museum.

In other business, Councilman Hale said the city Street Department employees repaired traffic signal lights and saved the city thousands of dollars. McKenzie Police Department provided traffic control during the repairs. Mayor Holland commended department supervisor Johnny Mercer for making the repairs. She said she is very proud of the skills of the personnel of the Street Department.

Councilman Pruneau said the Police Department was busy during October. A summary report indicated the department investigated 21 accidents, had 109 investigations, 83 vehicle stops, 12 reckless drivers, and 429 security checks of businesses, homes, or parks.

Fire Chief Brian Tucker said his department has 307 responses year to date and a total of 36 during October.

Visit vendors set up inside First Bank, including a Team Morgan booth where 100% of the proceeds will go to support Morgan Fuller. The Court Theatre will be showing "It's A Wonderful Life" at 3:30 p.m. with Free Admission.

The Dixie had approximately 1200 individuals attend the events in the Hal Holbrook Theatre last year. With this amount of foot traffic around the court square, it is a great way for a local business, church, family or fundraising organization to come out and give back to your community by spreading some Christmas cheer to all those individuals. If you are interested in becoming a vendor, you will need to register by contacting city hall at 986.2900. Once registered, you will be included in all future media promotions.

At 6:00 p.m., the town Christmas Tree will be lit and include a small ceremony with the community joining together to sing Christmas songs (lyrics will be passed out to the crowd). This event will happen rain or shine.

This year the parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. The Court Square will be open to traffic until just before the parade . At that time, streets will be blocked until parade concludes.

Parade entries will line up behind Carroll Bank & Trust. The parade route will begin on West Main St. and proceed to the square and East Main St., turn left on 5th Ave and left on Boundary to disassemble in the vicinity of the Farm Bureau building.. Parade entry forms may be picked up at the Huntingdon Police Station. Come enjoy an afternoon filled with Christmas charm and make Main Street Christmas and the Huntingdon Christmas Parade one of our best ever.

Best of Carroll County Returns

The Best of Carroll County –sixth annual contest – is in full swing. This year, for the first time, The Banner had two rounds of balloting: The first round was completed in October with the "nominating process." The Banner staff spent about 40 hours tallying the votes to advance the top nominees to Round 2, the final round.

The Best of Carroll ballot is live and available online at www.bestofcarrollcounty.com. The system will allow participants to log in up to three times and cast ballots on the system provided by SurveyMonkey. A complementary ballot is in The Banner this week. All voting stops December 11.

Businesses cherish the "winner" and "finalist" honors with great pride. Voters can help local businesses earn those honors during this sixth annual contest.

The Banner will announce the winners in January 2016 during a banquet. The winners will be interviewed for a special printed section in The McKenzie Banner.

identification before fleeing from the scene in the vehicle. The officer chased the car until the driver abandoned the vehicle on Jordan Avenue near Watson's lumber yard and exited the scene. The officer discovered a large brick of marijuana sitting in the front passenger seat of the vehicle along with a 9mm Luger pistol that was lodged between the front seat and the middle console. Also found inside the vehicle was a rental car contract signed by the vehicle's driver, Austin Atwater, 31, a felon. Although his current address is not known, he is believed to be living around the Jackson area.

Keith said that the gun recovered from the vehicle was entered as stolen by the Brownsville Police Department on August 27, 2015.

CCSD Sheriff Andy Dickson listed the offense against Atwater as possession of marijuana with the intent to resale.

Keith noted that the search for Atwater is ongoing.

White's Dodge Envoy, identified as Jonathan Massey of Trezevant, and Hunter Taylor of Trezevant, were transported to Baptist Memorial Hospital with head and rib cage injuries.

The officer noted that an air flight helicopter was summoned to the scene but was waved off when it was determined that none of the injuries were life-threatening in nature.

Steele noted, "I want to emphasize that the two passengers in the Dodge Envoy were not wearing seatbelts. One of them struck the windshield with his head and the other one also sustained injuries that could have been minimized or eliminated had they been wearing seatbelts. I see the difference that seatbelts make in vehicle crashes on a near-daily basis. Due to the crack-down on drivers not wearing seatbelts, wreck fatality numbers has decreased greatly throughout our state. People need to buckle up. Wearing seatbelts keeps people from being ejected from vehicles and being thrown around inside the vehicle compartment. Wear your seatbelts. They make a difference."

Hurrah for Thanksgiving Day

By Clayburn Peeples

Well, here it is the week before Thanksgiving, and what are we doing at our house? We're playing Christmas songs. I mentioned this at the courthouse the other day, and two or three people said they were already listening to Christmas songs at their houses too. Now that the Internet has invaded our lives, you can find, and listen to, any kind of music that suits your fancy, any time of the year. You can even choose specialty Christmas channels that play only classic Christmas music, or brand-new Christmas music, or even channels that play a hundred different versions of just one or two songs.

There's that much of a market for Christmas songs, but what about this month's holiday, Thanksgiving? What about those great old Thanksgiving hymns and carols? Why don't you hear them on the lead up to Thanksgiving?

Or a better question might be, where, and what, are the Thanksgiving songs? Are there any?

And the answer seems to be that it depends on what you call a Thanksgiving song, but even with a liberal interpretation of the term, you can't come up with many.

There are, however, many songs that bespeak a thankful heart, and if that isn't the spirit of the holiday, then what is?

Take the Irving Berlin song from the movie White Christmas, "Count Your Blessings." Surely that's a Thanksgiving song, and like most Berlin tunes, you don't have to sing like Bing to do a decent job with it either.

And speaking of Irving Berlin, he wrote one song specifically for Thanksgiving, called "I've Got Plenty to be Thankful For," from the movie Holiday Inn.

A great Thanksgiving hymn is "We Gather Together," and of course, the 19th Century English Christian harvest festival song, "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come," is another. And then there's "For the Beauty of the Earth."

Speaking of the beauty of the earth, many people consider Louis Armstrong's "It's a Wonderful World" to be a Thanksgiving song, and who could disagree with that?

My personal favorite Thanksgiving song is Johnny Cash's "Thanksgiving Prayer" which he introduced to the world on a 1994 episode of Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman.

But if your family is like most, neither you nor your children will be singing any of those songs at home this Thanksgiving week.

No, the only Thanksgiving song that has shown any real, nationwide staying power is ... Well, you know what it is:

Over the river and through the woods,

To grandmother's house we go.

The horse knows the way to carry the sleigh,

Through white and drifted snow.

That may be the only lines of the song you know, but I'll bet you know them. Everybody does, even though most people I've talked to aren't even sure of the name of the song.

Well, that's why you read this column, isn't it?

The original title was "The New England Boy's Song about Thanksgiving Day." It was first published in 1844 in a book of poetry called, "Flowers for Children," and the first version of the poem had 12 verses, all of which expressed excitement about going to the grandparents' house (Originally it was grandfather's, and not grandmother's, house that was mentioned.) for Thanksgiving.

As the poem became more popular, the name "Over the River and Through the Wood" (Note that the word "wood" is singular.) became attached to it, and at some point an unknown musician set it to music.

Interestingly, even in New England, they seldom have the vicious winter weather described in the song as early as Thanksgiving, but in 1844, when the song was written, they did. This was near the end of, but still in, what climatologists sometimes refer to as the Little Ice Age, appearing from about 1300 to 1850, when the earth was much cooler than it is now, and winters were much harsher.

At any rate, even people who sing the song these days usually know only three of the 12 verses and many have never even heard of the others, such as this one, the last stanza:

Over the river and through the wood,

Old Jowler hears our bells.

He shakes his paw with a loud bow-wow,

And thus the news he tells.

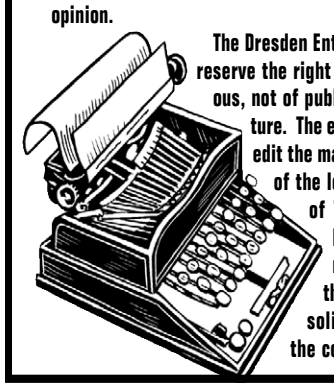

Still, even without the overlooked verses, it is a genuine American folk song, known by almost everyone, even though hardly any singers have recorded it. Its fame and popularity have been maintained primarily through an oral tradition of older family members teaching it to younger ones.

What a wonderful idea. Hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving.

Hunker Down with Kes

I Still See That Smile Everyday!

I'm thankful for Miss Floy Coleman. She taught our Baptist "Training Union" on Sunday evenings for years. She was twenty-one or thereabouts, all old people look the same to a seven year old. If I answered correctly, she gave me a hug and a pat on the back. If I answered Samson when it was really Barnabas... she gave me a hug and a pat on the back. She could only play one song on the piano, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus". We sang it every Sunday night for five years! I catch myself humming that tune till this day. And I now appreciate all the Sunday evenings a beautiful young lady gave up on my behalf.

I'm thankful the Russians didn't drop an atomic bomb on our elementary school while I was under the desk with my head between my legs.

I'm thankful for Tarzan, Stan Musial and the Lone Ranger. Every young person should have some positive role models to look up to.

I'm thankful for Colonel James T. (Birddog) Reed. He picked me up one afternoon hitchhiking to Paris. I was fifteen years old. He invited me to play with the men's baseball "town team". I was a bit young to suit up with the men but I jumped at the chance; and spent the next seven summers learning baseball, life, loves, jobs to avoid, big ears don't mean you hear better, the best meals to chew tobacco after and places to "stay out of" from my older teammates.

I'm thankful I grew up before people became enslaved to cell phones, ipads, Facebook and Neflix.

I'm thankful for John and Peggy Hankins. I was lost, lonely and frightened; and away from home for the first time in my life. That freshman year of college was hard. Football practice was hard. The "dear John" letter was short and to the point. Mrs. Hankins, who was sent from God to work at the school, found me walking around in a daze.

She and John took me in. They opened up their home. They gave me the support, encouragement and friendship that saw me through the pitfalls of higher learning. Hey, they even had a beautiful daughter! You'd think this could have a storybook ending... but Jan wouldn't give me the time of day! I think it was because I could beat her in basketball and I ate all of her brownies.

I'm thankful for Louis Jumonville. He came to the University of the South campus in the spring of 1968 and offered me a summer job in Nashville, working for the National Life and Accident Insurance Company. Listen, I had to make some money if I was going to return for my senior year! They paid me more than I was worth. And after just a few days, I also got a week-end job at one of their subsidiary companies, the Grand Ole Opry.

If it hadn't a'been for Mr. Jumonville, I wouldn't have met Marty Robbins or Chet Atkins or gotten that big hug from Loretta Lynn. I also might not have finished college...

I'm thankful for Paul Newman. Paul was a high school teacher and basketball coach in West Tennessee. He managed a swimming pool during the school break over at Trenton and hired me to teach swimming and lifeguard for him. He would even pick me up and drive me the thirty-four miles to work.

It was a fairly routine gig for me. I'd been working around swimming pools for years. I met a lot of nice people in Trenton. And one special young girl who came up out of that water wearing a blue suit with a yellow belt... and sporting the sweetest smile that I'd ever seen!

I'm thankful for Howard Rogers. He was there for me... three years before I was born. The combat on Biak Island in May of 1944 was more ferocious than anticipated. An entire American company was cut off, surrounded by the Japanese. They were taking a terrible beating. Mr. Rogers, along with every other available soldier, was fighting to break though the enemy circle and rescue the trapped men. It took seventeen days! Of the twenty men found alive and dug out of that hell hole... one was my father.

We'll all eat big this Thanksgiving; as it should be. We will give thanks for family, friends, God and country; as it should be. We will give thanks for a loving spouse, caring children, good health and a steady job; as it should be.

But you know, if we dig just a bit deeper in our memory banks, I bet we can all come up with a few people, an almost forgotten place, a couple of things that maybe we've pushed to the back burner... that we might ought to give a nod to this Thanksgiving season. I don't reckon any of us got here without a little help along the way.

It's sure something to mull over while we're shoveling down the turkey and dressing.

Thankful For You,
Kesley Colbert

I Am Thankful For.....

By Paula Watkins

I remembered being handed a coloring sheet with Pilgrims and Indians on it. Ms. Alta Connell, in her pleasant-speaking voice, would encourage us to paint the picture of the first Thanksgiving meal. I would look around the room at everybody's picture and give thanks that I didn't get a grade on my coloring ability. That lack of creativity would have certainly messed up my 3rd grade point average! Life was so simple "back then". You never dreamed anything bad could possibly happen in your little world. And here we are at the close of 2015, and our country is in a mess! No two ways about it! We have become distrustful of folks we meet on the street. We have developed an uneasiness that becomes fear when we hear or see a military helicopter fly over our community. What's happening down the road, or what is happening in the next county? What have we created?? What are we leaving behind for the generations to come?

Solution? I am certainly not that wise! But I do believe there are good factors that continue to exist in our world. We just have to uncover them from under all the clutters we have let build up. Look beyond the worldly clouds toward the silver lining of human love and kindness. Look at the positives we still believe in, or rather the uniqueness that we inherited long ago. So, today and especially during this time to pause and give thanks, I am thankful.

I am thankful that I can continue to enjoy watching our youth as they grow up. Man, they are special! And enough energy to drive a locomotive! I want so badly to provide a safe environment for them so they never have to fear walking down the street or voicing their opinions, however far-fetched they seem. I want them to be able to make mistakes as they grow up and the freedom to correct the wrongs in their world.

I am, and will forever be, thankful that I can enjoy worshiping at the church of my choice. You cannot possibly purchase this freedom – it's already been taken care of. Our church doors are not barred shut, our friends do not have to meet in secret, and we can sing as loud as we want to without fear of guns and unrest.

And of course, you and I do not realize what it would be like to have to stand in a line to get food for our family. We have plenty – actually more than we need. There are some folks in our world that are hungry, and they are in need of a hot meal. You and I can buy a newspaper to find out about the sales – we are not trying to get the paper to layer beneath our clothes to stay warm.

I am thankful for a group of senior citizens who continue to show a silent trust in our world by going every Tuesday night to the local senior citizen's center to play a game of Rook. I hear this group begins to gather around 5:30 or 6:00 p.m. every week to enjoy fellowship and enough competitiveness to make the gathering lively. I hope to join this group when I am not enjoying watching my grandchildren play basketball. I love Rook and the game is just what I need to keep what little brain cells I have active. On behalf of Charlie Cooper, you are invited to join this group and perhaps play a game or two. The choice of gathering for a few hours of fun is a privilege we ought not to take lightly. It's a freedom some folks cannot experience. And some of those folks fought for that freedom.

Finally, I will forever be grateful for Family. Mercy! How can you enjoy life unless you experience the roller coaster ride of parenthood? How can you really empathize with others as they fight the daily struggle of caring for aging parents? For trials and tribulations, for laughter, and for togetherness – I give thanks. And as our pastor said this morning: "For what we have faced together, I thank you. For what we will experience together, I thank you." Laugh loud enough to scare the doubters! Happy Thanksgiving!

Looking Back
From Our Archives...

10 YEARS AGO – The Dixie Carter Performing Arts and Academic Enrichment Center, home of the Hal Holbrook Theatre, made its stunning debut on the court square in Huntingdon with an entire weekend filled with art, music, and memorable events. Among the performers were The Chuck Wagon Gang, Carl Mann, The Nashville Symphony, Kellye Cash Sheppard, and, of course, Dixie Carter.

*Tornadoes and strong storms ravaged the area, destroying dozens of homes and injuring many in parts of Henry County as well as Bruceton.

*High School Playoff Football: Huntingdon surged to victory in the final minute over Milan in the Class AA quarterfinals. After leading all of the first half, the Mustangs fell behind in the third quarter but stormed back in the final three minutes to win, 31-21.

20 YEARS AGO – Over a dozen train cars derailed on the sharp curve near Walnut Street in McKenzie. The locomotive dragged the cars to the overpass of U.S. 79 before coming to a stop. The derailment was attributed to a broken axle. 800 feet of track and dozens of cross-ties had to be replaced.

*High School Playoff Football: Hollow Rock-Bruceton defeated Wayne County, 28-14, in the quarterfinal round.

*Methodist Hospital of McKenzie held a dedication service to name the hospital chapel in memory of Tom Caldwell, who served as chaplain at McKenzie and Lexington from 1984 until his death in a tragic automobile accident three months earlier.

50 YEARS AGO – Mrs. Nettie Witt Chandler, a widely known Carroll County church worker, died in a fire that destroyed her brother John K. Witt's historic McKenzie home.

The McKenzie Rotary Club presented a check for $1,573.17 to McKenzie Band Director Charles Pruneau and Parent Club President Thomas Cook, to assist in the purchase of new uniforms for the band.

Inglenook Book Club November Meeting

The Inglenook Book Club held its November meeting at the lovely home of Debbie Riley, assisted by Suzanne Russell, co-hostess. In the spirit of the Thanksgiving season, our hostesses served delicious pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, along with nuts and other "munchies," and assorted beverages.

President Zia Locke called the meeting to order and thanked the hostesses. Members stood for the Pledge of Allegiance and then recited the Club Aim and Motto.

The Recording Secretary called the roll and read the October minutes, which were approved as read. Treasurer Donna Ward reported the bank balance.

Under Committee Reports, Sunshine Chairman Shelia Rogers reported sending cards to Suzanne Howell and Juanita Finley. Shelia also took supper to each lady.

Our current membership is full and two people have expressed interest in joining whenever there is a vacancy.

President Zia Locke thanked Telephone Chairman Barbara Boyd for calling members each month to remind them of the upcoming meeting, and Carolyn Goodwin for publicity in The McKenzie Banner each month.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to Sally Sutton and Carolyn Goodwin.

Old Business: Zia Locke announced that a total of 170 pairs of shoes were collected and donated to the wheelchair lift project, and thanked the members for their enthusiastic participation.

Under New Business, Nominating Committee member Carolyn Moore announced that all current officers have agreed to serve another year. These officers were elected by acclamation. Zia again reminded members that book titles for next year are now due to be given to Mary Newman. Mary read the list of book titles she has already been given so far.

Vice President Victoria Ard introduced our speaker, Debbie Riley, whose subject was popular novelist, John Grisham. Long before his name became synonymous with the modern legal thriller, Grisham was working 60-70 hours a week at a small Southaven, Mississippi law practice. Before going to the office each morning and during courtroom recesses, John Grisham worked on his hobby-writing his first novel.

Grisham was born in 1955 in Jonesboro, Arkansas, to a construction worker and homemaker. As a child, he dreamed of becoming a professional baseball player. Realizing he did not have the "right stuff' for a pro career, he shifted gears and majored in accounting at Mississippi State University. After graduating from law school at Ole Miss in 1981, he practiced law for nearly a decade in Southaven, specializing in criminal defense and personal injury litigation.

One day at the DeSoto County Courthouse, Grisham heard the harrowing testimony of a twelve-year-old rape victim and was inspired to start a novel exploring what might have happened if the girl's father had murdered her assailants. Getting up at 5:00 a.m. each day, Grisham spent the next three years writing A Time to Kill and completed it in 1987. Initially rejected by many publishers, his novel was finally bought by a publisher who gave it a modest 5,000-copy printing and published it in 1988.

This might have put an end to Grisham's hobby, but he had already begun work on a second novel, which he entitled The Firm. When he sold the film rights to Paramount Pictures for $600,000, he suddenly became a hot property among publishers, and book rights were bought by Doubleday. Spending 47 weeks on The New York Times best-seller list, The Firm became the best-selling novel of 1991.

The successes of The Pelican Brief and The Client (both of which were Number 1 best sellers) confirmed Grisham's reputation as master of the legal thriller. His success renewed interest in A Time to Kill which was republished in hardcover by Doubleday and then in paperback by Dell, and it, too, became a best-seller.

Since that time, Grisham has written one novel a year, among which are included The Chamber, The Rainmaker, The Runaway Jury and many others, which have all become international best-sellers. There are currently over 225 million copies of Grisham's books in print world-wide, translated into 29 languages. Nine of his novels have become films.

Grisham married Renee Jones in 1981 and the couple has two children. The family splits their time between their Victorian farm home outside Oxford, Mississippi, and Charlottesville, Virginia.

Under announcements, our next meeting will be at the home of Gena Manner. Everyone was reminded to bring a wrapped present for the Christmas gift exchange.

Jean McKinnie reported that the C.P Church Women will hold their Christmas Bazaar on November 21 from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Casseroles can be pre-ordered no later than November 16 at a cost of $16. Crafts and baked goods will be for sale.

Carolyn Potts and Melinda Popplewell thanked all those who came to the Carroll Arts exhibit last Saturday evening. The Dixie will be presenting an art exhibit by Tuva Stephens from now until January 23 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. each weekday.

After the book passing, members recited the benediction and the meeting adjourned.

Members present were Victoria Ard, Barbara Boyd, Peggy Chappell, Carolyn Goodwin, Geneva Johnson, Zia Locke, Jean McKinnie, Sandi McMahen, Carolyn Moore, Mary Newman, Melinda Popplewell, Carolyn Potts, Marilynn Putman, Debbie Riley, Shelia Rogers, Suzanne Russell, Genia Sherwood, Cindy Summers, Sally Sutton, Donna Ward, and Elaine Williams.

Bethel Renaissance Performs with The Gaithers

McKenzie (November 23, 2015) — On Friday, November 20, the Renaissance Choir from Bethel University was in concert with Bill Gaither, The Gaither Vocal Band, and the Homecoming Tour at First Christian Church in Lexington, Kentucky. The choir opened the show and accompanied the artists on multiple songs.

"To be on the platform with some of our industry's top artists was an experience that our students will cherish for the rest of their lives," commented Steve Hurst, Renaissance Choir Director. "For me personally, this was one of those 'bucket-list' moments where I realized we were on the stage with the people who wrote and recorded the Gospel classics that I grew up listening to."

In addition to the Gaither Vocal Band, the students met and performed alongside Buddy Greene, The Isaacs, Charlotte Ritchie, and Gene McDonald.

"What a great night for Bethel University to have our Renaissance Choir as part of the Gaither Christmas Show," added Bethel University's President Dr. Walter Butler. 'We are so honored that Bill Gaither included Bethel University on the program. It was a night our students will remember forever."

Belote Announces Candidacy For D76 Representative

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebannner.com

MCKENZIE (November 20) — Before an assembly of friends and supporters, longtime Martin City Alderman and University of Tennessee at Martin Instructor of Leadership David Belote announced his candidacy for the District 76 Tennessee Representative seat currently held by Andy Holt.

Addressing his supporters, Belote, a Republican, began, "For many years, I have contemplated seeking the 76th district state representative seat. During those years, I put my desire to run on hold so that my wife, Dawn, and I could raise our six children. Now that our children are grown, the time has come. The number of people who have asked me to consider running had met critical mass, and their persistent encouragement has led me to run." Belote continued, "Our district, unfortunately, has gone through some very divisive and negative times. People of this district need a voice of unity. I am willing and ready to be that voice. People are fed up to the point where I don't think their party affiliation will make a big difference in how they vote in our election. Honestly, we can do much better, and I am determined to change the unappealing perception overshadowing our district. If elected, I will strive diligently to provide the people of this district with fair, sincere, and responsible leadership."

A 38-year administrator at UTM, Belote praised the influence Bethel University affords to McKenzie and the surrounding region.

He said, "It is great to see the impact socially and economically that schools like Bethel bring to communities by providing their students with quality education."

Belote said that during his 13 years as an alderman for the Town of Martin, great strides have been made to the municipality via enhancements in infrastructure and services.

He said, "Our board at Martin is not afraid to roll up our sleeves and work to benefit our community. You can't wait for good things to happen. Sometimes you have to go out there and be aggressive. You have to be willing to work for grants and know who to talk to and how to work within the system to make things happen. Leadership is not about people waiting on you to do something; it is about reaching out to people and striving to improve their lives and their communities. It is about establishing real relationships. My philosophy of service is this-'How can I help you?"

He concluded, "I am asking for your support as I move forward with my campaign. I will listen to your voice, and work consistently for everyone in the 76th District. I am from this area, and proud of it. My heart is vested in the people of this district."

Lakeside Annual Volunteer Banquet

Lakeside Senior Living of McKenzie recently hosted its annual Volunteer Banquet. The event honors the many friends and volunteers of Lakeside who have given of their time and talents to bring joy to the lives of the Lakeside Residents; by providing entertainment, fun events, and services of all types and so much more throughout the year.

The Volunteer Banquet is one way that Lakeside Residents and Staff have of saying Thank You to all these people. This year's event was one of the largest ever, with around 135 Friends/Volunteers attending. Attendees were treated to a delicious buffet meal prepared by the Lakeside Dietary Staff and enjoyed music provided by Mr. Ryan Griffin, of McKenzie.

Letha Basford, Lakeside Administrator, commended every one there for their dedication to the Residents of Lakeside. She noted that even though they may not always hear it, they should never doubt that they do make a difference.

National Gasoline Average Projected to Hit $1.99 on Thanksgiving; First Time Since 2009

GAITHERSBURG, Md. — (Nov. 23, 2015) – Americans hitting the road for Thanksgiving will certainly have something to be extra thankful for: the cheapest gasoline prices since March 2009. The low prices are showing up just in time for millions of motorists that are heading out, saving them $1.5 billion over the five days that GasBuddy's recent survey found most motorists will be travelling.

GasBuddy projects that by Thanksgiving Day the national average will be $1.99 per gallon, nearly 80 cents per gallon cheaper than last year and $1.29 per gallon cheaper than 2013. As prices at the pump have plunged, the number of states seeing average prices under $2 per gallon has more than tripled in the last two weeks, rising to 19 states, with nearly 60% of all U.S. gas stations now selling below $2 per gallon.

Lower gas prices could be a reason why more people will be spending more time on the road this holiday weekend.

According to GasBuddy's 2015 Thanksgiving Travel Survey (with more than 100,000 surveyed nationwide), 25% of travelers say their travel will begin on Thanksgiving Day; while nearly 30% say travel begins the Wednesday before Thanksgiving and another 23% say they'll hit the road 2 to 3 days ahead. That's an 11% decrease in the number of people who say they're heading out on Thanksgiving Day. In 2014, 36% said they'd travel on Thanksgiving Day; 30% said they'd travel the day before; and only 18% said they'd hit the road 2 to 3 days earlier.

"With gas prices plunging under $2 just in time for Thanksgiving Day, it's a perfect reminder-some folks automatically expect gas prices to rise in advance of a major travel holiday, that's become a popular misconception and this holiday exemplifies the point. November gas prices have slid significantly lower and holiday travelers will certainly be the beneficiaries," said Patrick DeHaan, a senior petroleum analyst with GasBuddy. "It's a trend we expect will continue through the end of 2015, so if you like the prices you see on Thanksgiving, you'll be delighted when Christmas arrives

On Monday November 23, 2015 Carroll Bank & Trust was the victim of a broad based text phishing scam. The scammers apparently sent mass texts to individuals all over West Tenn. These texts appear to come from CB &T and state that the "Card/Account is Locked for your security" the text contains a fictitious link to a fake Carroll Bank site and requests personal account information. The perpetrators then attempt to extract funds from the bank accounts. Carroll Bank & Trust is asking customers and non-customers to delete the text message and advising customers never to offer personal account information via email, text, or over the telephone. Carroll Bank's core system has not been compromised. The phone numbers appear to be a randomly generated list. Our employees are all aware of this situation; we have notifications on our website and have notified local authorities.

Central High School Veteran's Day Program

By Ernie Smothers
smothers@mckenziebanner.com

BRUCETON (November 6) — A large gathering of Central High School students, teachers and administrators joined local military veterans in the gymnasium for the schools' Veteran's Day Assembly.

Following welcoming comments by CHS Student Council President Peyton Hoffner and invocation by John William Ervin, members of the 212th Engineer Battalion performed the Presentation of Colors.

Jada Strickland led the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance prior to CES student Leslie Allen's beautiful vocal rendition of the Star Spangled Banner.

Shominique Pearson recited the Veterans Day Poem prior to the heart-touching Veterans Day Tribute by Ms. Miller's third grade class.

CHS Band Director Van Wadley led the CHS Chorus in a spirited rendition of the Lee Greenwood classic, "God Bless the USA".

The CHS Band followed with A Celebration of Taps prior to recitation of the Remembrance Table by Kayla Woods. Reverently, the CHS Band performed Hymn of the Fallen. As the gym fell silent, CHS Band Director Wadley played a somber yet beautiful trumpet rendition of Taps.

Introducing retired United States Army Major Jim Holder, Central Middle School Principal Joe Norval said, "I know that Mr. Holder is going to speak to you today about the group effort of military personnel to successfully implement their jobs. Before he does that, however, I want to speak about him as an individual. Mr. Holder served our nation with distinction from October, 1988 to November, 2010-a period of 22 years. He was a Special Forces member for 15 of those years, providing leadership amid extremely dangerous conditions in Iraq, Afghanistan, and Bosnia. His list of medals received is awesome. They include four bronze stars, two national service medals, U.S. Army Ranger and Special Forces medals, Legion of Merit medal, eight Army achievement medals, expert infantry medal, and countless commendations. This man has given everything for this nation. He stood in the heat of battle time and again risking his life to provide for the freedoms we have each and every day. I ask everyone in attendance to stand and give this decorated American soldier a round of applause.

CHS Veterans Day guest speaker Jim Holder, U. S. Army Major-retired.

Following a prolonged standing ovation, Holder began, "I can't begin to tell you how emotional it is to speak after the playing of Taps. So many memories come to mind of sacrifices by many. Please allow me a moment to pull myself together."

Pausing, he continued, "Let me start by expressing my gratitude to the veterans in attendance this morning. I am honored to be here with you and to be a part of this generous program presented by Hollow Rock-Bruceton School System. To my fellow veterans-your past and present service to this country has provided the essential values necessary for our country to remain free of tyranny. Courage, resolve, commitment to purpose, all of those attributes dwell inside each of you. Our nation has depended on you, and you rose to the challenge. Let us not forget those who paid the ultimate sacrifice for liberty. Former President George W. Bush noted in previous speeches that many who served America never lived long enough to be called veterans. He is right. Let me also take this opportunity to thank the members of the 212th Engineer Battalion for their patriotic Presentation of Colors today."

During his speech, Holder paid tribute to deceased Colonel Aaron Bank, an officer of the United States Army and founder of the US Army Special Forces, commonly called "Green Berets".

He said, "Colonel Bank served during World War II in Korea. He and a small group of men started America's Special Forces initiative by parachuting behind enemy lines into occupied France and convincing German soldiers of Jewish descent to fight against Adolph Hitler and the Nazi's. As you all know, Hitler eventually chose suicide to capture. After my many years of serving in Special Forces, I had the privilege of briefing Colonel Bank and introducing him to the modern equipment we utilize to carry on the Special Forces he started. Midway through my briefing, the Colonel stopped me and unleashed a blistering condemnation of past presidents and governmental leaders for down-sizing the military. He warned that down-sizing would render consequences. 911 proved he was right."

He concluded, "During my work with Special Forces in Iraq, I fought beside handpicked and highly-skilled Iraqi soldiers who were helping us to recapture their homelands. Thirteen of those brave souls perished in one of our missions, and we honored them in death the same way that we honored fallen American soldiers. They were our brothers. Anyone who is willing to fight for freedom deserves no less from any one of us."

Following his speech, Holder received a prolonged standing ovation.

History of the Thanksgiving Parade

Thousands of people line the streets of midtown Manhattan every year to catch a glimpse of the balloons and performers marching in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Millions more will tune in to watch it on television. The Macy's parade is intertwined with Thanksgiving, making it as much a part of the holiday as turkey and pumpkin pie.

The parade has evolved throughout the years, and the history of the parade is both interesting and informational.

Historians believe the parade was instituted by European immigrants who made up the majority of employees at the retail giant Macy's. In the 1920s, employees who were now proud Americans wanted to celebrate with traditions that were similar to traditions in Europe. This included a parade down the streets. Animals were borrowed from the Central Park Zoo, bands played and marchers wore different costumes.

In 1927, concern for children lining the parade route led parade officials to replace live animals with the signature helium balloons people now know and love. A dragon and Felix the Cat were some of the first balloons. The festivities continued to grow during the 1930s, when Santa was added to the parade's growing list of participants. 1933 was the only year that Santa led the parade rather than closed it.

During World War II, the parade was put on hiatus, as the rubber for the balloons and the helium was donated to the war effort. The parade resumed in 1945 and was televised only in New York. The 1947 film "Miracle on 34th Street" made the parade even more popular. NBC televised the parade nationwide the following year, drawing viewers from all over the country.

Sophie Taylor's 'Friends Bench'

MCKENZIE (November 6) — On Friday morning prior to the start of school, McKenzie Elementary School teachers and administrators gathered around a beautifully-constructed and vibrantly-painted "Friends Bench" donated by Glynn and Joan Mebane in honor of their granddaughter, Sophie Taylor.

During an interview with The McKenzie Banner, Joan Mebane said, "The purpose of the "Friends Bench" is actually two-fold. First, we wanted to honor our McKenzie teachers for being ranked in the top ten in the state. That is an absolutely phenomenal achievement, and it could not have been accomplished without their unified commitment and dedication to our students. We are so proud of them and thankful for their hard work on behalf of the children."

She continued, "Secondly, the "Friends Bench" is dedicated to our granddaughter, Sophie. She is a thoughtful, loving little girl who truly cares about the well-being of others. Sophie's "What can I do for you" attitude is always present. She was the one that came up with the bench concept. She wanted children that are lonely or sad at school to have a place to sit down so that fellow students, teachers, or administrators can sit with them and encourage them."

She concluded, "Sophie has a heart for God, and her love for others is genuine. She is always singing songs about the Lord and smiling. She is an exception young lady, and Glynn and I are so proud of her. We hope that Sophie's "Friends Bench" will bless and help every child at McKenzie Elementary School to understand that they are loved, because they are."

MES kindergartner Sophie Taylor affixes her fingerprints to the bench that was inspired by her kindness.

Carroll County Humane Society Annual Banquet Nets $19,000

By Brad Sam
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (November 14) — A sold-out crowd gathered at First Cumberland Presbyterian Church Saturday evening for the Seventh Annual Carroll County Humane Society Banquet and Silent Auction. The event featured dinner and desserts, a silent auction, a live auction, and a special video presentation.

In the end, a net of approximately $19,000 was raised.

After an hour of socializing and silent auction bidding, Dr. Sarah Kidd, banquet chairperson, welcomed everyone and encouraged them to "bid, bid, bid!" She then introduced CCHS founding member Patti Smith, who delivered a prayer. Aside from blessing the food and the event, she prayed that the hearts of those that inflict pain on animals would be changed and gave thanks for all of the animal rescue organizations around the world.

The delicious meal was provided by Showthyme Catering of Paris. An assortment of desserts were prepared by Patti Smith, a local cooking legend.

After dinner, Dr. Kidd again addressed the banquet, noting that the crowd was the biggest ever. She thanked many, including the church and Garrett Burns, Clara Weatherford, Wayne Bannister, the event organizers, and supply donors.

She thanked all of the sponsors and donors, including premier sponsors Huntingdon Animal Clinic, Dr. Daniel and Donna Holladay, and herself. She became emotional as she noted that her sponsorship was in memory of Daisy, who she called "my first foster-failure and the one who started my journey into rescue madness." Gold sponsors were Dimensional Swiss Products, Carroll Bank and Trust, and Kim Cash. Silver sponsors were Donald and Patti Hill, Diana Crawford, Bethel University, and Dr. Sidney and Sharon Ray.

She went on to thank the litany of donor sponsors, centerpiece donors, and auction donors.

Then, Dr. Kidd recognized CCHS's rescue partners, many of whom had representatives attending the banquet: Rural Animal Rescue Effort (RARE), Goofy Foot Rescue, Companion Pet Rescue, Nashville Humane Society, PAWS, and Wagging Tails Grooming.

She announced the new officers and introduced the board of directors: President- Dr. Jenni Marlow, Vice President- Beverly Wilson, Secretary- Lisa Langford, Treasurer- Ellen Nunnery, and at-large board members Catherine Clark, Susan Parsons, and Dr. Sarah Kidd. She recognized CCHS staff members Hannah Jeffrey and Cindy Hess. She noted that Hess is McKenzie's Animal Control Officer, saying, "You have no idea how lucky this town is to have her."

The special video presentation was then shown. It features slideshows of photos from the past year. The first segment was animals being adopted, followed by sick and injured animals that had been rescued from abuse and neglect. Then, the need for foster homes for new litters and their mothers was highlighted. Next, the audience was shown the transformations that many pets underwent once they received the care they needed and deserved. Finally, the video asked banquet-goers to "Please be generous. They are counting on us." and showed photos of the animals currently available for adoption.

Dr. Kidd spoke again, sharing the staggering amount of expenses the organization incurs on a yearly basis. She explained that, so far in 2015, a total of $108,594 had been spent, including nearly $30,000 in veterinary bills and $7,000 for vaccines alone.

As always, she emphasized as strongly as she could the importance of spaying and neutering, saying that it is the only way to successfully control the pet population. She used the point to segue into the live auction, from which the proceeds would go directly to CCHS's low-cost spay/neuter program.

Before beginning her duties as auctioneer, Dr. Marlow presented Dr. Kidd with a gift, a picture book of memories. Beverly Wilson interjected to add to that gift a pair of framed photos.

The auction began with two autographed prints by Amy Stubbs, Nashville's Best Pet Photographer and the official photographer for the Nashville Zoo and the Animal Rescue Corps. The first print, featuring a Boston terrier, was won by Beverly Wilson for $100. The second, featuring the band U2 in concert, went to Lisa Langford for $150. Dr. Jill Edwards, who donated the prints, also pledged to match the bids on her items. The $500 total for those items will be set aside for spaying and neutering dog breeds 40 pounds and up.

The next item was a handmade quilt featuring images of pitbulls and autographed by Tia Torres of the hit show, "Pitbulls and Parolees". Bidding on the quilt was fierce, but Kenneth and Billy Gene Stafford took it home for $1,500. That money, plus an anonymous $500 donation, will go directly to spaying and neutering pitbulls. Pitbulls have a 1-in-600 placement rate and are the most euthanized breed in the country.

Finally on the auction block was a trip to New York City to visit the set and meet the cast of the hit series Sex&Drugs&Rock&Roll as a guest of Elaine Hendrix, and animal ally and one of the stars. Another hot bidding war ended with Dr. Kidd topping out at a cool $2,000. Those funds will go to the creation of the Martha Highfill Memorial Cat Fund for feline spay/neuter. Highfill, a cat lover and active member of CCHS, passed away last month. When explaining the fund, Dr. Kidd tearfully declared that she had "never in my life met a woman who was so kind." Two donations of $500 were added to the fund by the end of the banquet, one anonymous and the other from Rick and Linda Schaffer.

Following the live auction, guests were given several minutes to make final bids in the silent auction, which featured hundreds of widely-assorted items from dozens of donors.

The Carroll County Humane Society is a No-Kill Animal Shelter and will not euthanize to make space, nor will they limit the amount of time an animal can stay. A 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, CCHS funding comes entirely from private contributions, bequeaths, fundraising and grants. The organization cares for approximately 250 animals at one time in the shelter and in foster homes. Its goal is to utilize adoption and spay/neuter as the community's animal population control - not euthanasia. CCHS volunteers hope to ensure that all companion animals have a warm, safe, loving home and to assist and educate the public about proper pet care, while also giving shelter to abused animals and assisting law enforcement to prosecute their abusers.

By Brad Sam

McKENZIE (November 19) — The Rebels hosted the Carroll Academy Jaguars Thursday for an afternoon boys' basketball contest. Every player on McKenzie's roster, depleted by the Rebels' continued football success, saw playing time in the game. Testing the team's depth yielded dividends as the bench shot well, a total of 13 Rebels scoring in the 84-25 victory.

McKenzie won the tip and Chase Kelley scored first on a long jumper, his toe just inside the three-point line. Rebel Tyler King was fouled on the next possession and hit one of two

Rebels Bow Out of Playoffs

By Jason Martin

McKENZIE (November 20) — After eight wins and three rounds in the playoffs, the McKenzie Rebel football season came to an end Friday night. The Rebels were unable to stop the TCA Lions in the 28-12 season ending loss.

Trinity Christian Academy won the coin toss and deferred to the second half. Cameron Oakley fielded the kick advancing the Rebel position to the 39 yard line. The Rebels were forced to go three and out. Michael Floyd punted the ball to the Lion 30 yard line.

The Rebels were able to force Mr. Football finalist, Andrew Goldsmith and the TCA lions to punt after three plays.

McKenzie had two first downs on the next drive. TCA's secondary broke up two passes preventing the Rebels from picking up the necessary yardage for the first down. Floyd pinned the Lions back to their own 20 yard line with a tumbling punt.

TCA marched 80 yards down the field for their first touchdown of the night. Goldsmith picked up 75 yards in five plays including the 24-yard touchdown run. Noah Holsinger added the extra-point as TCA took a 7-0 lead at the 1:50 mark of the first quarter.

As the Rebels started their third possession, Eric Robinson found running run for 31 yards and the first down. The McKenzie passing game did not gel for the first down. On third down, Jack Surber was sacked bringing the punt team onto the field.

In the final seconds, Greenfield won on a steal and a buzzer-beater, 50-49. The Yellowjackets controlled the night-cap, pulling away in the second and holding off a second-half War Eagle rally for a 52-39 win.

Lady Rebels' First Victory over Lady Yellowjackets in Eight Years

GREENFIELD (November 17) — McKenzie High School opened its season on the hardwood on the road in Greenfield. The Lady Rebels, under new head coach Lance McAllister, edged out the win, 28-26, beating the Lady Yellowjackets for the first time in eight years. The Rebels, with a roster of just eight, matched the intensity of the girls' contest with a 36-35 nail-biter over the Yellowjackets.

In the Lady Rebel victory, Anna Comer led the scoring with 10 points and had 3 assists. Jacey Davis had 6 points, 4 rebounds, and 3 blocked shots. Maddie Barker was a perfect two-of-two from three-point range for 6 points. Olivia Wright had 3 points, Emma McDaniel had 2, and Carissa Britt had 1.

Coach McAllister applauded his team for their resolve; senior guard Kelsey Spivey went down with a knee injury in the first half. The coach said, "Our back up guards came in and showed great composure closing the game out." The team is awaiting results of Kelsey's medical examination to determine how long she will be out.

In the nightcap, the Rebels were led by Tyler King with 10 points. Jamocus Johnson had 7 points; Brandon Baucum scored 6. Dajour Edmunson had 5 points, including a three-pointer. Austin Travis had 4, including a three-pointer; Bryce Wiggins also scored 4 points.

The Lions marched down the field a second time. Goldsmith peeled off 22 yards with Jake Trevathan making a touchdown-saving tackle. Goldsmith picked up a second first down on the drive with a pass to Tyler Thomas for 18 yards.

With a fresh set of downs, TCA continued their drive from the 31 yard line. The McKenzie defense dialed up the pressure as Sean Beck and Lorenzo Haynes came away with big tackles. The Lions turned the ball over on downs as Goldsmith failed to find an open receiver on fourth down.

The Rebels were able to score on a five-play drive for 75 yards and a touchdown. Surber picked up a first down and 13 yards after a huge block allowed him to run off the left end. Donavon Foley followed up the run with a one handed catch for 25 yards.

From 32 yards out, Surber rifled a passes into the hands of Tyler Spivey for a McKenzie touchdown. The Rebel PAT was wide right, as the Lions held onto their lead with a score of 7-6 with 5:24 left to play in the second quarter.

TCA responded with another touchdown. Starting at their own 31 yard line, Goldsmith picked up 6 yards on the ground. On third down, Goldsmith teamed with Sergio Pagoaga, son of former McKenzie physician Dr. Luis Pagoaga, for 25 yards through the air.

A facemask penalty against the Rebels gave TCA an additional 15 yards. The Rebel defense forced the Lions into 4th and goal situation. Goldsmith dropped his shoulder pounded his way across the goal line for the touchdown. TCA went up 14-6 with 1:42 left in the half.

The Rebel went three and out for the second time of the night. Floyd's punt pushed TCA to their 23 yard line.

Eli Parker started the Lion drive with a 42-yard run. Goldsmith threw two consecutive passes to Parker, one for 3 yards and the second for 31 yards.

With 11 seconds remaining on the clock, Goldsmith hit Thomas with a post route touchdown. The Lions closed the half with a 21-6 lead.

The second half began with the Rebels defense taking the field with a renewed swagger. McKenzie forced TCA off the field in a quick three and out that included a sack by Beck for a loss of 14 yards.

The Rebels took over near mid-field. The offense stayed on the field for over 5 minutes and 10 plays looking for a second touchdown. The score did not come to fruition as McKenzie turned the ball over on downs at the TCA 9 yard line.

Taking over on downs, the Lions began managing the clock. TCA held onto the ball to close out the third quarter before punting away their possession.

Pagoaga sacked Surber on first down. On second down, Thomas intercepted Surber stopping any McKenzie momentum.

In two plays, TCA crossed the goal line. Parker scored the touchdown, and Holsinger added the extra-point. With 10:07 left to play, TCA led 28-6.

The remaining minutes of the game were a back and forth battle between the Rebels and the Lions. Each play brought the clock closer to striking zero.

On what was the last possession of the season for McKenzie, Surber in his last play on the field as a Rebel scored from 21 yards out. The game closed with TCA advancing to the semi-finals defeating the Rebels 28-12.

The McKenzie offense did not sync up as it had in previous weeks. Total offense for the Rebels was 226 yards. Rushing yardage was limited to 115 yards and 111 yards passing.

The Rebel defense made adjustments at half time that limited Goldsmith, but it was too little too late. TCA accumulated 313 yards in total offense. Goldsmith picked up 103 yards of the Lions 182 rushing yards. In passing, Goldsmith was 6 of 14 for 131 yards.

In what was an emotional season ending loss, Coach Wade Comer gave his team positive words of encouragement. He told the seniors that they should take the lessons learned on the field this year and use them in life. Comer continued by telling his team how proud he was of their season, and as a team, they too should be proud.

from the line. Rebel Brandon Baucum did the same a minute later, then followed up by drawing another foul on a lay-up for a three-point play. Maurice Smith put Carroll Academy on the board two minutes in with a deuce. Kelley scored again a minute later, and Bryce Wiggins added a three-pointer soon after for a 12-2 Rebel lead. Baucum split a pair from the line, then Kelley drained a three-pointer. Wiggins and Austin Travis scored on the next two McKenzie possessions, then Jamocus Johnson scored on a put-back. Jax Warren ended the Jaguar drought with a three-pointer with two minutes left in the quarter. Another minute passed before Baucum scored on a fast break, and Rebel Dajour Edmunson ended the first with a put-back to make it 26-5.

Tyler King struck first in the second with a deuce. Jaguar Eric King answered, drawing a foul and hitting one of two. Baucum scored inside and also drew a foul. He missed the free throw, but Tyler King came down with the rebound and put it back up for two. Jaguar Joseph Riggs hit a second-chance shot on the other end, and Smith added a three-pointer on the next possession to cut the deficit to 32-11. Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Christmas Tree of Cash

100.9 The Farm is teaming up with Carroll Bank & Trust and City Drug Company again this year for the "Christmas Tree of Cash"! This Christmas many children in Carroll, Benton and Henry counties will wake up with very little or nothing under their tree. The Carl Perkins Center is gathering toys for needy families right now and here's how you can help. The "Christmas Tree of Cash" is on display through December 11th inside the Farm Studios, just off Highway 70 on Baker Road in Huntingdon at the Big Red Barn. Purchase a new toy valued at $5.00 or more and place it under the tree. When you do, you get cash in return! You can pick one envelope from the Christmas Tree of Cash! Each envelope contains $1.00 to $50.00. Everyone's a winner... the needy children of Carroll, Benton and Henry Counties and you! Plus, this year if you drop off a new children's bicycle, your name goes in the running for a grand prize cash drawing of $250.00 compliments of City Drug Company!

For more information please contact Kelly Green at 100.9 The Farm (986-0242) or visit the Farm Facebook page.

Only a Few Days Left to Get Bethel University Twinkle Ball Tickets

McKENZIE — Only a few days remain to get tickets to this year's Bethel University Twinkle Ball, said Myra Carlock, Director of Bethel University Events.

"Our bookstore will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week for the Thanksgiving holiday," said Carlock. "And then individuals can still get tickets from the bookstore on Monday, Nov. 30."

The Twinkle Ball is Wednesday, Dec. 2 from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Baker Fieldhouse Gymnasium on Bethel's McKenzie campus.

The Twinkle Ball gives young girls and their mothers (or someone who is motherly to them) the chance to dress up and celebrate the magic of the holiday season in the girliest ways imaginable. This year's theme is "Let Your Twinkle Shine" with most activities centered around reminding girls that their beauty comes from within.

"This is going to be a night of dressing up and feeling pretty, but underneath all these fun activities, our goal is to show girls that there are many things that make someone beautiful," said Carlock.

"It's going to have a Hollywood red carpet kind of feel to it, and we'll even have Miss Tennessee there along with some other young women who can interact with our guests."

Carlock said there will be all new fun activities with many take home items that will be made and presented to participants.

"There will be everything from a cookie decorating station to a station where the girls can make their own lip gloss," she said. "If you have a young daughter still in elementary school, I feel confident this will be an event to enjoy."

Tickets are $25 for a mother/daughter ticket. Mothers with more than one daughter can purchase additional tickets for $7 each. For more information about the Twinkle Ball, call the Bethel Bookstore at 731-352-4094 or Myra Carlock at 731-352-4090.

Time to Talk Turkey

Few foods receive the fanfare of turkey come the holiday season. The National Turkey Federation says Americans eat 46 million turkeys each Thanksgiving and another 22 million on Christmas. An additional 19 million enjoy turkey as part of their Easter celebrations.

Though turkey is enjoyed throughout the year, it is most popular during the holiday season. Some celebrants may want to know more about this beloved bird before sinking their teeth into their next holiday meal. The following turkey tidbits may surprise you.

Turkeys are large game birds that are closely related to chickens, pheasants and quail.

* The turkey's scientific name is "meleagris gallopavo," which is the wild turkey from which the domesticated turkey many people eat descends. There is another species of turkey known as the ocellated turkey, which is native to the Yucatán Peninsula in Mexico.

* By the early 1900s, the wild turkey neared extinction. Restoration projects have increased the number of turkeys from approximately 30,000 birds back then to nearly seven million now.

* Despite their size, turkeys can fly in the wild. They often perch in trees to sleep to protect themselves from predators. Some domesticated turkeys may not fly because they have been bred to be overly large to produce more breast meat.

* The heaviest turkey ever raised was 86 pounds.

* A male turkey is called a "tom" or a "gobbler," while female turkeys are referred to as "hens." Only the male will make the familiar gobbling sound, which is used to attract mates.

* A hen is smaller than a gobbler and does not have the distinctive beard of modified feathers that gobblers have on their breasts. Males also have sharp spurs on their legs for fighting.

* Male and female turkeys also can be differentiated by their droppings. Male droppings are spiral-shaped, while females' look like the letter J.

* Both genders of turkey have snoods (the dangling appendage on the face) as well as red wattles under their chins.

* A hen can lay about 10 to 12 eggs over a period of two weeks. The eggs will incubate for 28 days before hatching. Baby turkeys are called "poults."

* Turkeys and peacocks may look similar, but they are not closely related.

* Turkeys have excellent vision due to their eyes being located on the sides of their head. This gives the birds periscopic vision.

* The gizzard is a part of the turkey's stomach that contains tiny stones that the bird has swallowed. The stones facilitate the digestion process.

* Benjamin Franklin did not support the bald eagle as the nation's symbol, feeling the turkey would be a better choice. In a letter to his daughter, he wrote, "He [bald eagle] is a rank coward; the little king-bird, not bigger than a sparrow, attacks him boldly and drives him out of the district. For in truth, the turkey is in comparison a much more respectable bird, and withal a true original native of America. Eagles have been found in all countries, but the turkey was peculiar to ours."

* Turkeys will have 3,500 feathers at maturity. Rumor has it the costume worn by the "Sesame Street" character "Big Bird" is made of turkey feathers.

* The turkey shares its name with a country. But why? A turkey bears some resemblance to the guinea fowl. Though it is native to eastern Africa, the guinea fowl was imported to Europe through the Ottoman Empire and came to be called the "turkey-cock" or "turkey-hen." When settlers in the New World began to send similar-looking fowl back to Europe, they were mistakenly called "turkeys."

* Despite an abundance of turkeys being eaten between November and January, June is National Turkey Month.

Lexie Bolin Wins VFW Voice of Democracy Contest

McKenzie High School senior Lexie Bolin is the winner of the 2015 Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 4939 Voice of Democracy speech contest. Bolin is a repeat winner. The winner of the local contest advances to the regional contest, and then possibly to state and national contests. Bolin is the daughter of Stephanie Bolin and the late James Bolin.

The theme of the contest is "My Vision For America."

Bolin delivered her speech during the annual Veterans Day program at McKenzie High School. Bolin wrote and delivered the following speech:

Helen Keller once said, "The only thing worse than being blind is having sight, but no vision."

As a high school senior, I know that the endless opportunities that await me are there because those who came before me had a dream. Just as importantly however they had a vision of how to accomplish that dream.

This beautiful land that we love and call America began as a dream, and that dream became a vision. While others laughed at them and called them foolish, these brave people envisioned a new land- a land where they could establish freedom to worship as they pleased and a land of justice and opportunity.

Later in our history, those who we know as our Founding Fathers signed a great document declaring independence from the British monarchy and establishing a new nation of freedom-loving people. Though it took struggles, heartache, and bloodshed the free nation they had envisioned rose from the smoke and ashes of war. America was born! Though suffering through the travails of an infant nation the vision was always there; the dream never died!

My vision for America is one of strength in which we do not have to fear enemies from inside or outside our shores. I see a nation in which a child born of luxury and one born into meager means can aspire to the highest goals as long as he or she perseveres and stays true to his or her dreams. In my vision is an America that does not seek to build empires throughout the world, but is committed to protect and defend those who long for freedom. While not wanting a perpetual state of war, I see us as a nation ready and willing to help the light of freedom and democracy burn brightly when it is threatened.

We have long believed in an America where peace is best kept through strength. As long as those who would seek to harm us know of our strength militarily, our strength of character and faith, and the strength of our love of freedom, the less likely it is that we will have to use it. However, may God help us if our potential enemies ever perceive us as weak or indecisive.

In my dreams, I envision an American future that is filled with compassion. We have long been the envy of the world; in part because we show love to, "The last, the least, and the lost." I see an America that is at its best when everyone has a chance to ride the tide of opportunity and have a realistic chance at success. This opportunity should be limited only by the extent to which one is willing and able to strive and work. To those whose lives are filled with challenges we offer not a hand-out but a hand-up. Obviously there are those whose limitations physically or intellectually require our help and we eagerly offer it. In my vision compassion is not giving a man a fish, but teaching him how to fish. I strongly believe that if we make it possible for everyone who is willing, to maximize his or her potential America will continue to shine brightly.

Our forefathers planted the seed of democracy that they envisioned would grow strong if properly nourished. Generations of Americans, from those on horseback to those who flew a spacecraft to the moon and back, have cultivated the seeds that came from the vision of those who landed on American soil so long ago. It has not always been perfect. There have been struggles and our very existence has at times been imperiled. The one constant, however, from the time of the Pilgrims to the astronauts has been a vision of greatness for America. Wrapped in this vision, as in mine, has always been dreams of fathers and mothers for their children, and their children's children. May our dreams and visions never die.

I do not think it is possible to have a vision for the future without understanding the history of our past. God blessed us with the opportunity to be a great nation. But who made that dream possible? The answer is simple- those who put country above self, who put honor above glory, and who sacrificed their bodies and lives in order for us to fulfill our dreams. May we always bestow on them the honor they so richly deserve. Yet, I feel very optimistic about my dream of America as long as all of us wrap our vision in red, white, and blue.

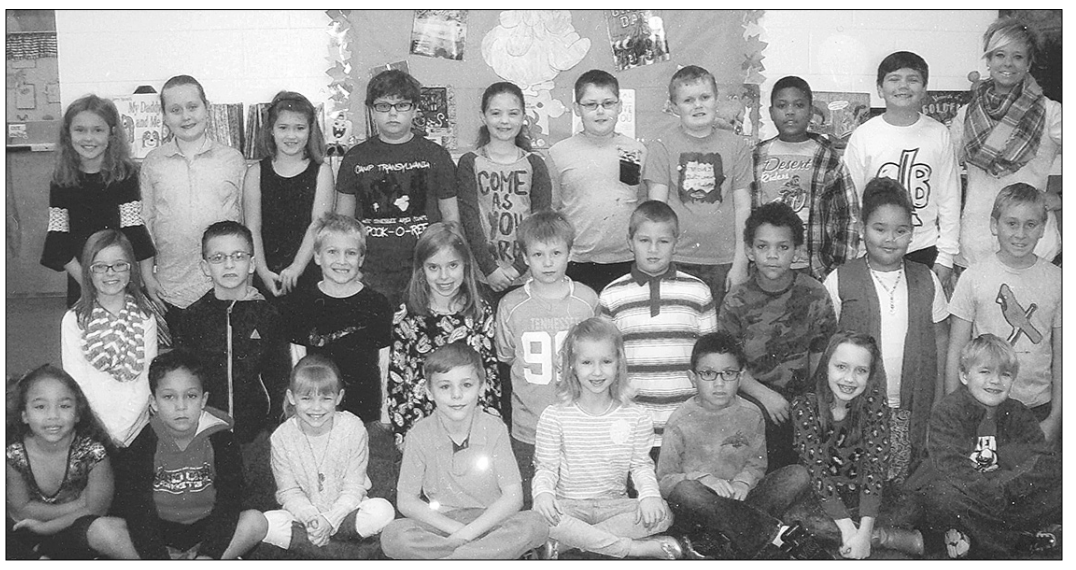

As President Reagan once said, "If you take away the dream, you take away the power of the spirit." I pray that God will bless our vision so that America will always be, "One nation under God indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

Deputy Scotty Davis charged Howard Glen Sanford, 28, of 20 Jesse Lane with simple assault and drug violations. According to Davis's report, Sanford was in an accident on Terry Road in McLemoresville. When law enforcement and emergency responders attempted to help him, Sanford began biting and striking at them. Sanford continued to be violent and ignore verbal commands. He was then tased. When he continued to resist, he was sprayed with a chemical agent. A taser gun, shotgun, and .05 grams of marijuana were found in his vehicle.

According to Tucker's report, McConahie was stopped for a violation of muffler law. He denied law enforcement permission to search the vehicle, at which time a K-9 unit was brought in.
