MCKENZIE SPECIAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

Approves Budget with No Property Tax Increase, Allows Early Graduation

MCKENZIE (June 13) — Members of the McKenzie Special School District Board of Education met Tuesday, June 13 to approve the proposed budget for the 2017-2018 fiscal year.

During the meeting, Direct of Schools Lynn Watkins informed the board there would not be an increase in the property tax rate. The tax rate will remain unchanged at $1.277 per $100 assessed property value. The tax rate is distributed as follows: $.7256 to the General Fund and $.5514 to Debt Service. All local tax revenues – property, sales, etc., generate $2,310,621, with additional revenues of state at $7,479,838 and federal at $1,292,820, and other at $199,345 for an estimated total of $11,282,624.

Expenses are expected to exceed revenues by approximately $266,347 and necessitates the school system dipping into its fund balance by that amount.

The $11,548,968 budget includes additional step raises for educators' years of service up to 20-years. Teachers will receive an increase in pay based on their level of education beyond a bachelor's degree. The average wage is $48,743 for educators at McKenzie, excluding administrators. Director Watkins said the average cost to add one educator is $65,000 including wages and benefits.

Starting pay for a first-year teacher with a bachelor's is $36,865. After 20-years, a teacher with that level of education earns $45,870 annually for a 200-day annual contract. Additional benefits include retirement and health insurance. Overall, the increases in salary and the step raises will increase the budget by $171,000.

Of the 105 teachers, 35 have 20 or more years of experience. McKenzie also has approximately 50 substitute teachers, who work on an as-needed basis. The annual cost of substitutes is approximately $80,000.

Watkins said there will be no increase in school meal prices for the students. Rita Brandon, food service supervisor, was successful in writing a grant for $30,000 to replace the food service line at McKenzie Elementary School.

Watkins noted, Dianne Anderson, technology coordinator, purchased three sets of Chromebooks and carts for the school system.

Prior to accepting the proposed budget, Board Member Brad Davis requested an amendment allocating money to non-revenue generating sports, baseball, softball and soccer. Davis asked for $15,000 from reserve funds to go towards field improvements. The motion failed without receiving a second.

By a unanimous vote, the board approved the budget amendments, property tax rates, and the 2017-2018 fiscal year district budget.

In other business, on the second reading, the board approved amendments to the school system's policy manual. The amendments pertained to early graduation and student wellness.

Students with the necessary 28 credits may graduate in December without the school being penalized by the Tennessee Department of Education. The early graduates would be allowed to attend prom and the May graduation ceremony. The policy prohibits students from participating in any school activities (sports, band, clubs, etc.), visiting students or staff during school hours, and be on school property during school hours except to see the guidance counselor.

The student wellness policy changes focus on record-keeping requirements and minimum student daily/weekly physical exercise mandates. The Carroll County Coordinated School Health will assist all public schools in Carroll County to meet the requirements.

The board approved the General School Fund Expense Accounts for the three schools, approved Watkins as the school district's fiscal agent, approved the food service bids, approved the FY 18 Consolidated Application, and accepted the director's report into the record. Board Member Norman French was not present for the meeting.

TREZEVANT

Struck Hydrant Causes Five-Hour Water Outage

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com

TREZEVANT (June 12) — A vehicle struck a fire hydrant on Highway 79 near Little General last week, causing residents to lose access to water for over five hours.

According to Mayor Dennis

Mitchell, the accident occurred just before 5 p.m. Monday. The vehicle not only damaged the hydrant, but broke the water main underneath, causing most, if not all, of Trezevant's customers to lose water.

Mitchell declined to identify the driver.

Workers from the water/sewer and street departments responded and repaired the main, restoring service to normal by around 10:30 p.m.

According to Town Recorder Kathy Edwards, the outage coincided closely with the water department's typical time for cutoffs due to nonpayment, adding to the confusion among citizens as they discovered the issue.

Bethel Wildcats Release 2017 Football Schedule

BY DAVE MCCULLEY

Bethel University Sports Information Director

MCKENZIE (June 6) — Bethel University's 2017 Wildcat football schedule includes five home games with the 2017 Homecoming date being against Georgetown on October 7th in Wildcat Stadium.

The Cats open the season at home against Edward Waters College on August 26th with kickoff slated for 1:30 p.m. The Wildcats travel to Southeastern University in Lakeland, Florida the following week with kickoff is slated for 6 p.m. On September 9th, Bethel hosts the University of the Cumberlands at 1:30 p.m. before an early season off date on September 16.

On September 30, the Cats resume the season by hitting the road to northern Georgia to battle Reinhardt University in Waleska with action beginning at 12:30 p.m. Two consecutive home games are next for the Cats as Bethel hosts Campbellsville University on September 30th and Georgetown on October 7th. The Georgetown game is Homecoming for Bethel. Both games are scheduled for 1:30 kick-offs. Two straight road games follow the Wildcats next as they travel to Cumberland University in Lebanon on October 14th with kickoff at 1:30 p.m. On October 21, Bethel travels for the second straight season to the Queen City of Cincinnati to face Cincinnati Christian with kickoff at 12:30 p.m.

On October 28th, Bethel observes Senior Day with their last regular season home game on hosting Lindsey Wilson at 1:30 p.m. prior to closing out the regular season in Grayson, Kentucky on November 4th with action beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The 2017 season brings a new look to the Mid-South Conference. The Conference includes 20 teams competing in three divisions. The new, expanded football conference allows three teams to earn an automatic bid to the NAIA Football Championship Series.

The new conference includes the Mid-South Conference's 13 members: Bethel (Tenn.), Bluefield (Va.), Campbellsville (Ky.), Cincinnati Christian (Ohio), Cumberland (Tenn.), Cumberlands (Ky.), Faulkner (Ala.), Georgetown (Ky.), Kentucky Christian, Lindsey Wilson (Ky.), Pikeville (Ky.), Reinhardt (Ga.), and Union (Ky.).

They are joined by six teams from The Sun Conference: Ave Maria (Fla.), Edward Waters (Fla.), Point (Ga.), Southeastern (Fla.), Warner (Fla.) and Webster International (Fla.).

St. Andrews (N.C.) is scheduled to begin football in 2017.

"This merger strengthens our commitment to our football institutions and their student-athletes," said Mid-South Conference Commissioner Eric Ward. Ward said the expanded football conference will make it easier for schools to schedule football games, as well as bring together institutions with similar values.

Founded in 1987, the Mid-South Conference split into East and West football divisions in 2005. The expanded football conference's divisions will be called the Appalachian, Bluegrass and Sun. Each division will have its own identity, producing a division champion that will earn an automatic bid into the NAIA Football Championship Series.

When the new football arrangement takes place in 2017, teams will play each school within a division once and play four non-division games against other Mid-South Conference teams.

The Mid-South Conference's new football divisions are:

Bluegrass Division: Bethel (Tenn.), Campbellsville (Ky.), Cincinnati Christian (Ohio), Cumberland (Tenn.), Georgetown (Ky.), Kentucky Christian, Lindsey Wilson (Ky.), Union (Ky.).

Sun Division: Ave Maria (Fla.), Edward Waters (Fla.), Faulkner (Ala.), Southeastern (Fla.), Warner (Fla.), Webber International (Fla.).

Relay for Life 2017 Honorary Co-Chairs

Six local cancer survivors were named as honorary co-chairs for this year's Relay For Life event.

Glendon Rich

Glendon Rich was diagnosed with prostate cancer in March 2007 and leukemia in 2012.

"I was shocked at first [when diagnosed] but then I thought, 'Why not me?' as cancer has affected so many people," Rich said.

Rich said all of his family supported him during his battle with cancer, especially his wife. His friends and pastor were also supportive.

To keep a positive attitude during his illness, Rich focused on his faith and was grateful for good doctors and medical care and support from friends and family.

Rich underwent surgery and 37 radiation treatments until feelings of sickness subsided and he was able to resume daily routines.

Rich's advice for anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer is to "put your faith in God and your doctors and never give up."

Judy Gooch

Judy Gooch was diagnosed with breast cancer in July 1996.

"I guess like most people I viewed it as a death sentence at first. Then I accepted it. I didn't pray for God to heal me. I just prayed for strength from God to face whatever was to come," Gooch said.

Gooch said her family, church, neighbors and friends all supported her during her time of need.

She enjoyed listening to stories from former cancer patients about their success, and she was relieved that her children were grown as she fought cancer. She knew that other people might be in worse shape and that thought made her keep a positive attitude.

Gooch underwent radiation and chemo treatments, and she took the tamoxifen pill for five years.

"Don't look at cancer as a death sentence. There are a lot of survivors around today, and with help from Relay for Life, maybe we will have enough money for research to whip cancer someday," Gooch advised.

Darrell Ross

Darrell Ross was diagnosed with stage 2 colon cancer.

"It upset me at first but just said 'God, you will have to take care of this' and God did," Ross said.

Ross found support and comfort from his family, friends, and Enon Baptist Church members.

He underwent several tests and procedures to remove the cancer and did not have to undergo cancer treatments.

"I was found to be in remission from the stage 2 cancer. By the grace of God, I am cancer-free for now," Ross said.

Ross advises cancer patients to pray and never give up.

Mary Lou Hicks

Mary Lou Hicks was diagnosed with breast cancer in April 2007 and again in November 2016.

During her first round with cancer, Hicks continued to work as she underwent treatments.

"When you're told you have cancer, you can't get it out of your mind no matter what you are doing," Hicks said.

Her family was very supportive, and she was appreciative of prayers, cards, and visitors during her first round of cancer.

Now she is taking chemo pills to fight her second round of cancer.

Hicks advises, "Please go for your yearly physicals and if something does not feel right with your body, go see about it."

Ann Drewry

Ann Drewry was diagnosed with cancer five separate times during a 29-year period. In 1988 and 1990, she was diagnosed with Hodgkin's cancer, kidney cancer in 2002, and Squamous cancer in 2011 and 2014.

"I don't look at my life as being worse because I've had cancer. It has enriched my life because I've learned not to take anyone or anything for granted," Drewry said.

She is very appreciative of her family, church, and the Relay for Life teams.

Her cancer journey has included surgeries, chemo, and radiation.

"I attribute my recovery from cancer to my faith in God, prayers of many people, good medical treatment and support, my positive attitude, and support from friends and family," Drewry said.

Brenda Spencer

Brenda Spencer was diagnosed with stage 2 breast cancer in August 2007.

"I was a little scared, but hopeful," Spencer said.

She received support from many friends and family who mailed her cards, mowed her yard, called, and made her food during her fight with cancer.

She underwent chemo treatments for six months and 35 radiation treatments.

"I kept telling myself that the outcome was up to God and that I wanted to live for my family. I would tell people with cancer to pray a lot and never quit trying to live," Spencer said.

Huntingdon Man Arrested After Robbery, Chase

BY LOGAN WATSON

Courtesy Mirror-Exchange, Milan

A Huntingdon man is currently in custody after a daylight robbery at the Milan Walgreens last Thursday. As he attempted to escape authorities, he turned into a dead-end road in McMoresville.

According to Milan Police Chief Bobby Sellers, Douglas Wayne Wells, 53, currently of Huntingdon, entered the store around 6:30 p.m. armed with a knife.

"He went in right as they were closing," Chief Sellers said. "He was attempting to get hydrocodone."

Wells was reportedly seen getting into a van parked behind Save-A-Lot and speeding off just before police arrived at the scene. A quick bulletin from MPD Dispatch alerted Trooper Johnstone of the Tennessee Highway Patrol, who had clocked Wells traveling 80 mph through the Atwood bottoms. Trooper Johnstone stopped Wells at the Country Oasis near the county line, followed closely behind by MPD Lt. Kelvin Whitney. As soon as Lt. Whitney and Trooper Johnstone approached the vehicle, Wells sped away.

Douglas Wells

As he attempted to evade law enforcement officials, Wells turned onto a dead-end road, then into a cornfield in McMoresville.

"He drove blind through the cornfield for about half a mile, then crashed into a 20 foot ravine," said Chief Sellers. Sellers stated that the THP's helicopter happened to be in the area, and used its FLIR unit to find Wells as he attempted to escape through the undergrowth-filled ravine. Wells was taken into custody without incident.

Chief Sellers added that while Wells was residing in Huntingdon at the time of his arrest, he was originally from the Cook County/Chicago area, where he has a "lengthy history of violent crime."

Wells was charged with one count of Aggravated Robbery, four counts of Aggravated Assault, one count of Theft Under $10,000, four counts of Especially Aggravated Kidnapping and one count of Possession of Schedule II. Wells was released to the Gibson County Sheriff's Department.

Inglenook Book Club June Meeting

The Inglenook Book Club met in June at the home of Marilyn Putman with Victoria Ard and Barbara Boyd (in absentia) serving as co-hostesses. All enjoyed Marilyn's delicious homemade strawberry dessert along with Cheezit crackers, nuts, and assorted beverages.

President Donna Ward called the meeting to order and thanked the hostesses. Members recited the Club Aim and Motto.

The recording secretary called the roll and read the May meeting minutes. Treasurer Sandi McMahan reported the bank balance.

Sunshine Chairman Shelia Rogers sent a sympathy card to Bill and Geneva Johnson on the death of his mother, Mary Lou Johnson, as well as a get-well card to Barbara Boyd.

A report was given on Barbara Boyd who is doing very well since her surgery. Donna Ward expressed appreciation to Suzanne Howell for filling in for Barbara on the Telephone Committee.

Celebrating June birthdays are Carolyn Moore and Debbie Riley.

Vice President Victoria Ard introduced our speaker, Jean McKinnie, who gave a most interesting program on writer Nora Roberts, who has written many novels under her own name as well as quite a few suspense novels under the name of J. D. Robb. Nora Roberts was born Eleanor Marie Robertson in 1950 in Maryland, the youngest of five children and the only girl. Her mother, a trained nurse, was a stay-at-home mom while her father, an electrician, traveled often with ABC News as a "lighting man." She recalls him helping Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy, and Johnson "look good" on television. He later started his own business, R & R Lighting, which is still in the family.

After an early marriage, against her parents' wishes, she gave birth to two sons, Dan and Jason. Roberts began writing during a blizzard in February of 1979 while housebound with her two boys, then six and three years old. She fell in love with the writing process and quickly produced six manuscripts which she submitted to Harlequin, the leading publisher of romance novels. Harlequin rejected all six, saying they were well-written and entertaining, but they already had their American writer in Janet Dailey.

In 1980 a new publisher, Silhouette Books, formed to take advantage of the pool of manuscripts from the many American writers that Harlequin had snubbed. She found a home at Silhouette where her first novel, Irish Thoroughbred, was published in 1981. She used the pseudonym Nora Roberts, a shortened form of her birth name, because she assumed that all romance writers had pen names.

Between 1982 and 1984, Roberts wrote 23 novels for Silhouette, and in 1987 began writing for Bantam Books. Five years later she moved to Putnam to write hard cover books and moved to the best-seller lists with her fourth release in 1996, Montana Sky. She has since been a very prolific writer with many best sellers.

As J. D. Robb, she has published a series of futuristic science fiction police novels. These are all part of the "In Death" series featuring New York Police Detective Eve Dallas and her husband, Roarke, set in a mid-21st century New York City. It was not until the 12th book of the series, Betrayal in Death (2001), that the publisher fully revealed that J. D. Robb was a pseudonym for the best-selling powerhouse Nora Roberts.

Roberts and her husband, Bruce Wilder, also own an inn, a book store and café and gift shop in Boonsboro.

After the book passing, members recited the club benediction and the meeting adjourned.

Members present: Victoria Ard, Juanita Finley, Carolyn Goodwin, Geneva Johnson, Gena Manner, Jean McKinnie, Sandi McMahan, Carolyn Moore, Mary Newman, Melinda Popplewell, Carolyn Potts, Marilyn Putman, Shelia Rogers, Suzanne Russell, Genia Sherwood, Sally Sutton, Donna Ward, and Elaine Williams.

McKenzie Industrial Board
Developing Strategic Plan

BY FRANK TATE
Executive Director, McKenzie Industrial Board

McKenzie Industrial Development Board (MID) is developing a strategic plan for the community as well as industrial development. Through a series of meetings with individuals and groups, the plan is being developed and will be released later this year.

There is a saying that failing to plan is planning to fail. Strategic thinking is strategic planning, and at some point in life we have all mapped a path to our future, so it is safe to say the community should do the same. That is what we are doing. We are revisiting the old plans and determining if those are working.

During President Roosevelt's time entering the office, it was in the middle of the desperate years of the Great Depression. However, he set the standard for what new presidents needed to do to make their marks within their first 100 days.

Now, chances are if you're coming on board in the business climate today, there are some unstable and questionable things to be aware of, not like the Depression but worth considering, especially if the economy is growing at a steady pace. The reason for that is to determine how to prepare for the uncertain times when the economy hits its peak.

After this previous recession, many cities across the country have taken that into consideration and have become strategic in their growth efforts. That is why many communities periodically revisit their economic and strategic plans.

With many changes taking place, it is only appropriate to refresh and consider what our standard procedures should be and how to determine the path to our long-range goals.

In the last 100 days, representatives of the McKenzie Industrial Development have been meeting with business leaders to learn the needs and ways to improve business flow.

During many conversations, leaders have asked about workforce assistance in order to develop the workforce.

The workforce is a global concern, and rightfully so. The greatest generation is retiring with knowledge and experience and the new millennials don't have the decades of that work ethic. Businesses are changing the way they operate to meet the needs of the new workforce.

However, all this doesn't address the labor shortage or skills gap. All of these are matters to consider while determining how best to grow a community and region. Attracting young talent is something we are not entirely geared to do. It is something that is being discussed, and during the think-tank session being conducted, we will develop a strategy for it.

The think-tank sessions can be addressed a myriad of ways, but we have chosen to involve different individuals across the community. These individuals are not directly related to politics, one service entity or one industry. By doing it this way, we get a different poll of concerns and interests that should be considered, allowing MID to determine the best course of action and how to work on projects across the community and county efficiently. After our final session on June 26, we will have identified goals and opportunities - ones that we will utilize to measure our successes and to help prepare our community for a better way of living.

Just as President Roosevelt set the stage in history for having successes during an economic crisis, we want to build a local economy that can withstand similar occurrences but also persevere through them by being proactive and preparing for future growth.

Frank Tate is the executive director of the McKenzie Industrial Board. He started work in the community on March 1. He previously worked for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, where he served as a regional economic development manager for the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development. In that role, Tate was involved with business recruitment, development, job creation and assisting business and industry with location and expansion opportunities across Western Kentucky. He served his country in the U.S. Navy.

Clarification: Election Commission
Consulted After Appointment

On June 8, McKenzie City Council approved a person to serve as councilman of Ward II only to rescind the appointment after city officials learned the appointee resided outside the boundaries of Ward II. A news article in The Banner indicated the Carroll County Election Commission was consulted.

Peg Hamlett, administrator of elections, said her office was contacted after the appointment was made.

In an e-mail, Hamlett indicated, on June 9, 2017, the day after the McKenzie City Council appointment was made, a city representative phoned the Election Commission office asking in what ward is 155 Blackburn?

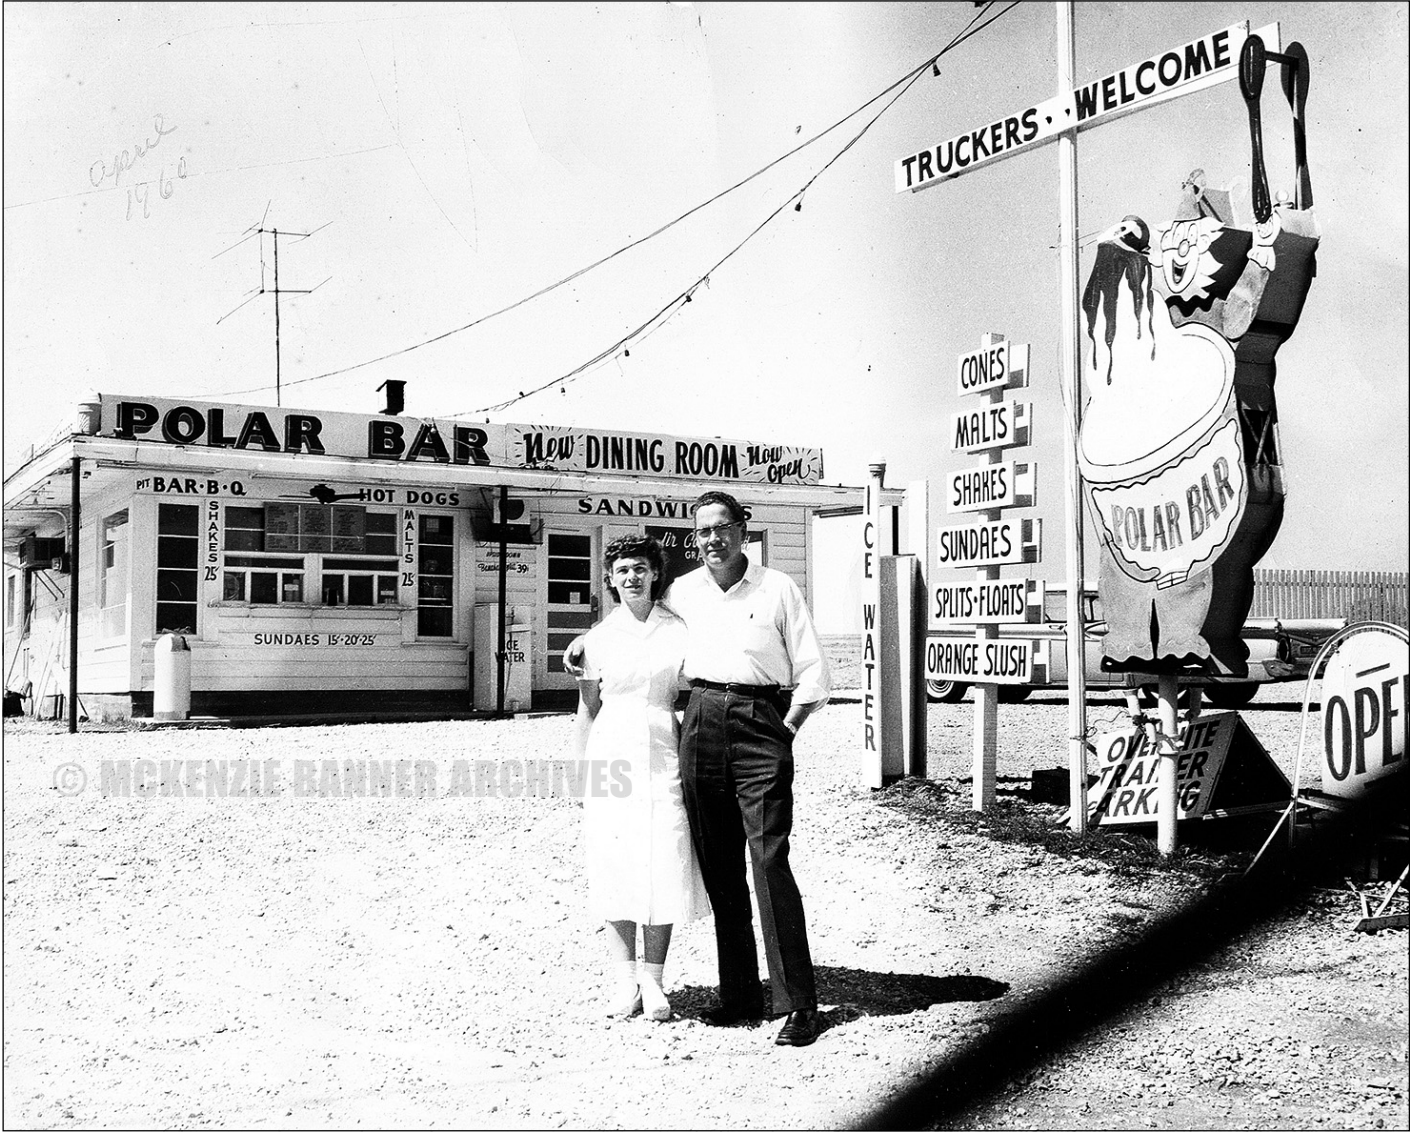

"Our office looked it up. She was told Ward 2. After we hung up, not satisfied, we researched more through several data options to discover that the line between Ward 2 and 3 is Blackburn. We discovered that Ward 2 is on the even side of the street and Ward 3 is on the odd. So, actually that address is in Ward 3."

Within five minutes of the initial call, we called back with the correct information. Hamlett said any political subdivision can request assistance in determining the qualifications of a candidate for public office.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Heartaches By The Number

My chest has been hurting me for over a week now. That can be a little disconcerting. And annoying. To say nothing of the runaway thoughts as you self analyze the probable causes...

It is, however, not the first time my chest has dealt with a pain issue. The initial ache came because Leon was sitting on it. I can't remember what I had done to receive such punishment. Maybe it was just a slow Thursday out at the end of Stonewall Street. He considered it a big brothers' prerogative. I would kick and scream and fight to no avail. I couldn't get my breath and the pain was shooting out of my aorta valve.

When he'd finally tire of this game and move on to something else, I'd be so mad I'd tackle my little brother and throw myself on his tiny chest. SOMEBODY ought to know how it feels to have your esophagus and lungs smashed in!

I finally caught Vicki Fields one day at recess and she hit me so hard in the chest I couldn't eat my peanut butter and banana sandwich for lunch.

Mr. Joe Gooch worked at the telephone company. He had these giant wooden spoons which were undoubtedly once filled with ready to be strung telephone wire in his backyard. Joe, Jr. and Richard would roll one down to the house and we'd take turns "riding" that thing.

It was a balancing act to climb upon the cylinder in the middle. And it was higher than it looked! Once they gave you a shove, you could keep it rolling with your feet. The faster you moved your legs, the faster you could get the spool turning. That field behind Mrs. Boaz's house was a little downhill...

I was flying toward Aunt Jessie's backyard when I realized my feet couldn't keep up with the spinning wheel! It literally ran out from under me. I was airborne "for a while"! The small of my back hit the rock hard field with a thunderous thud! When I came to, my chest felt like it had been run over by a gravel truck! Best I could figure I had knocked my spinal column plumb through my heart.

Listen, I'm a near 'bout expert on chest pain.

And you ain't heard nothing yet! I was standing too close behind Uncle Clifford's milk cow one cold December morning. I didn't touch her mind you. I just leaned in to see where all that milk was coming from... She kicked me into the hayloft! Cape Canaveral never had a better lift off! I couldn't speak or draw a breath for two days.

Seventeen years later, on our wedding night, Cathy asked me about the hoof print on my chest.

The grapevine swing across the big ditch got me once, or twice. Tarzan made it look so easy at the picture show. He'd swing across a fifty foot ravine with Jane under one arm! We naturally had to try that...sans Jane of course. Ricky Hale almost made it on the first try.

I figured if I started a little further back and ran harder, this would be duck soup. I grabbed the grapevine with a full head of steam and hurtled into the abyss. I didn't get high enough on the vine, or I slid down a tick...

Ricky declared later it was the best crash landing he'd ever seen. My chest bounced off the top of the far wall sending me careening backwards into the depths of the gulley. I came to a sudden stop in the small stream at the bottom and lay motionless, staring up at the trees and sunlight above trying to catch a glimpse of the guy beating on my heart with the baseball bat!

Bill Johnson weighed 240 pounds on a light day. And he was the fastest player on our college football team. It was maybe my third day of practice my freshman year. He didn't even know my name. I came running up to tackle him on the first scrimmage of the season. He lowered a shoulder and hit me so hard he knocked me into the middle of the next week! I saw stars. I didn't think I'd ever walk again. My little chest was concave. You can not believe the pain! Four years later, as I was walking down that graduation aisle, my heart muscles were still barking at me from that collision.

Here's the bottom line. I'm accustomed to a little upper torso pain. I can tolerate it as well as the next guy. But this pain today is altogether different...

Leon is not here. I haven't ridden a spool in years or been kicked by a cow. I'm way past my grapevine swinging prime and I haven't suited up for a football scrimmage in fifty years.

I didn't see this one coming.

Respectfully,
Kes

The McKenzie Banner Offers two levels of death/obituary notices

Paid obituaries are printed in The McKenzie Banner and placed on the newspaper's website prior to newspaper publication and many times prior to the funeral services. Depending on the day of death, the website notification might be the only notification prior to the funeral services. The printed version provides a permanent memorial to your loved ones. - $45.00 includes the loved one's name, age, city, day of death, survivors - only spouse, parents, children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, place of burial, funeral home in charge of arrangements, and a brief biography. No photograph.

Obituaries must come from the funeral home or other verifiable source. Sorry, obituaries older than 30 days after the funeral services will not be published.

Deadline for the print issue is 10 a.m. Mondays. In most instances, The Banner works to accommodate late submissions by the family until press time. Submitted copy is accepted by e-mail, fax, or printed forms delivered via U.S. Mail or hand delivered to our offices at 3 Banner Row, McKenzie, Tenn. 38201. Dr. A.L. Spivey and Mallory Robinson pose with optometry equipment.

Robinson Externs with Spivey Eye

BY LIBBY DAYHUFF
McKenzie Banner Intern

Mallory Robinson, a 2010 Greenfield High School graduate, is bringing a pair of fresh eyes to Spivey Eye Clinic in McKenzie this summer.

Currently in her fourth year at the Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, Robinson is required to complete three external rotations with different eye clinics. Spivey Eye is her first rotation, where she began in mid-May.

At Spivey Eye, Robinson works closely with Drs. A.L. and Scott Spivey, who are adjunct faculty members of the college.

Dr. A.L. Spivey said, "We have many goals for her while she's here. The main thing we want to teach her is how to make a living and learn all the things she needs to know to run her own practice one day, such as dealing with insurance, charts, everything."

He continued, "She's doing a great job and patients say she has a great bedside manner."

Aside from being "close to home," Robinson said she enjoys working at Spivey Eye Clinic because there is a variety of things to do and learn.

"I didn't expect to see so much in such a short amount of time, from glasses to eye disease to just run-of-the-mill stuff," Robinson said.

She first became interested in optometry at a young age.

"When I was much younger, my cousin was diagnosed with amblyopia and I always enjoyed going to the pediatric optometrist with her and seeing what the doctor did at her visits," Robinson said.

Over the years, Robinson shadowed and worked for different optometrists. Her coursework in biology at UT Martin also increased her interest in optometry, and upon graduation in 2014, she decided to pursue a career in the field and attend the Southern College of Optometry.

"I've wanted to be an optometrist for as long as I can remember," Robinson said.

She spent her first three years of optometry school in classrooms and labs where she learned about eye disease, lenses, glasses and other various optometry subjects.

"I am excited to be able to put everything I learned in my first three years to use and gain more hands-on experience," Robinson said.

After Robinson's rotation at Spivey Eye ends on August 18, she plans to marry her fiancé, Jacob Harris, on August 19 in Martin.

She will complete two more rotations at clinics before graduating optometry school in May 2018.

Robinson is the daughter of Greg and K.K. Robinson of Greenfield.

Summer Readers Learn Healthy Habits from Fast Pace

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com

MCKENZIE (June 15) — McKenzie Memorial Library's Summer Reading Program continued Thursday with a presentation in the Park Theatre by Fast Pace Urgent Care Clinic.

Chelsea Wynn, marketing representative for the company, spoke with the kids about making healthy choices. Helping her drive home her points was Fast Pace mascot, Stitches.

Chelsea emphasized the importance of a nutritious, balanced diet, daily exercise and plenty of rest to physical and mental health. She said the key to a healthy life is "a balance of all aspects of life," and that living well "affects not only how our bodies perform today, but our health for years to come."

She named a litany of habits and healthy choices the kids could make:

- *Cut back on sugary drinks and drink more water.
- *Instead of junk food, eat colorful fruits and veggies for snacks.

*Look for foods with whole grains and no added sugar.

*Fill out your diet with healthy fats instead of saturated or trans fats.

*Eat a nutritious breakfast every morning.

*Be active at least one hour each day.

*Limit screen time to two hours or less daily.

*Get plenty of sleep each night.

She concluded by noting that sweets are okay every once in a while and treated the summer readers to freshly-spun cotton candy.

McKenzie Memorial Library's Summer Reading continues at the Park Theatre Tuesday at 1 p.m. with Movie Day. Then, next Tuesday, June 27 at 1 p.m., representatives from the Carroll County Health Department will speak to the summer readers.

The program will wrap with an annual favorite, Super Science with Mr. Richee on Friday, June 30 at 1 p.m.

We had 82 children register for the program on the first day and we had 31 children come see Magician Bruce Amato!

We are doing our backpack drawing again this year to encourage children to read throughout the summer. The Library will be giving away ten brand new backpacks filled with school supplies and books! In addition to the backpack giveaway, our top reader this summer will be entered into the Tennessee First Lady's Statewide Summer Reading Competition! The top 100 readers in the state will be treated to a celebratory dinner in the Governor's mansion.

Our next Summer Reading event is Wednesday, June 21 at 11 a.m. We will be touring the County Complex and riding the train around the community afterwards! WBBJ Meteorologist Tom Meiners will be at the Library Friday, June 30 at 10 a.m. for a fun program about weather!

Area Cub Scouts Enjoy Fun-Filled ‘Bug Hunters’ Day Camp

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

McKENZIE (June 5-9) — Nearly 50 Cub Scouts from five counties learned new skills and made new friends at the annual Bedford Forrest District Twilight Camp held at First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. This year’s theme was “Bug Hunters”.

Each day of the week-long camp offered fun activities, crafts and competitions for the campers, and three times the scouts were joined by special guests. McKenzie’s summer food program provided dinner each night. Along with many adult volunteers, the staff included six teen volunteers, Kyle Brown, Kaitlyn Johnson, Haylee Kamholz, Kylie Otis, Leah Jackson and Bailee Christman.

The event kicked off Monday with the scouts honing their skills with a slingshot and competing in outdoor bowling. They created bug jars (to catch frogs and bugs), bug bands (with citronella to ward off pests), and homemade slime.

On Tuesday, the shooting sport was archery. Campers made their own “button bugs,” wooden tic-tac-toe boards and dirt cakes for dessert. Special guest Kenny Herndon, UT Extension Agent, spoke to the campers about bugs.

Wednesday, campers practiced shooting BB guns and competed in “spider” races. They made “armpit fudge” and constructed harmonicas. The guest was beekeeper Curt Taylor of Huntingdon, who spoke broadly about the lives of honeybees. He addressed some myths about bees and talked about how to safely interact. He showed campers some of the equipment he uses and some of the hives he cultivates. Each scout was treated to a taste of honey directly from the comb.

Thursday, the camp was held at the Park Theatre, where scouts watched the animated film, A Bug’s Life. Friday was the final and busiest day of the camp. Scouts opened by raising the American flag on a makeshift pole crafted by camp volunteer John Kamholz. The campers then recited the Pledge of the Allegiance and the Scout’s Oath and Law.

The special guests were members of the Murray State Herpetology Society. Jordan Allen, Tyler Paschall and Chad Thomas (Assistant Scoutmaster, Troop 426, Paris) brought several reptiles to show the campers, including two musk turtles, an Eastern box turtle, a red-eared slider (turtle), a crescent gecko, two corn snakes and two redtail boas. The scouts learned about each animal and had the opportunity to see and touch them up close. The three guests also talked about identifying venomous snakes and how to react when encountering a snake.

Campers also enjoyed competing in the obstacle course and sliding down the slip-n-slide. They crafted clothespin critters and popsicle stick picture frames holding a picture of each camper’s den.

The scouts were joined Friday night by family members to show off what they had learned and created over the week.

Each camper was awarded a certificate for participating, their Twilight Day Camp “Bug Hunters” patch, and a patch for shooting sports. They also received numerous prizes for an excellent week of camp.

The event wrapped up with the kids enjoying snow cones before departing.

Kim Hudgins, Day Camp Director, told The Banner, “Camp this year was amazing. We had an outstanding group of men and women that took time from their busy schedules to work with boys from all over our district. They pulled off what I would describe as a very memorable camp. Each camper was able to make memories that will last them an entire lifetime because of the activities they did and the friends they met at camp. It was all smiles and laughter, which makes all of us adults come back every year and pushes us to do better each time. I am blessed to have the scouting community that I have.”

Rotary Hears About Red Cross

McKENZIE (June 6) — McKenzie Rotary Club members heard a program on the American Red Cross on Tuesday. David Hicks, executive director of the Mid-West Tennessee Chapter, spoke about the mission and services of the organization.

The Mid-West Tennessee region includes Carroll, Weakley, Henry, Gibson, Crockett, Henderson, Haywood, Chester, Decatur, Hardeman, McNairy, Hardin, and is headquartered in Madison County.

Hicks and Heater Carbajal are the two persons in the Jackson office.

Hicks said 91 percent of every dollar donated to the American Red Cross goes to disaster relief. Any government subsidies are used exclusively to serve the military.

The Red Cross serves as a first responder for communities in case of a disaster or individual house fires.

Hicks said the volunteers are always needed to serve in the local community, throughout the states, or overseas. Donations make their services possible.

For more information, contact David Hicks at david.hicks2@redcross.org or phone 901-208-0152.

McBroom is New McKenzie High School Soccer Coach

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

Hannah McBroom, a 2017 Bethel University graduate, is the new head coach of McKenzie High School's soccer teams.

McBroom was a scholarship defender for the Lady Wildcat soccer team. She was named to both the Lady Wildcat and Southern States Athletic Conference Champions of Character teams in three of her four seasons, 2014-16. In those years she also served as team chaplain. She was named to the All-Academic Team from 2015-17 and was a Scholar Athlete in 2015.

She is a 2013 graduate of Trinity Christian Academy in Jackson, where she played four years of soccer and was named to the All-West Tennessee team three years. Her team advanced to several regional tournaments and made a substate appearance her junior year.

McBroom has played soccer since she was six years old. In eighth grade, her travel ball team won a state championship.

In an interview with The Banner, she calls herself “defensive-minded,” but notes that before college, she played some minutes at midfielder and striker.

On her new position, she says,

“I am extremely excited about the upcoming seasons. I truly believe that McKenzie Soccer is just at the beginning of something great. I can't say ‘thank you’ enough to coaches Bailey, Bilger and Barker for getting the program where it is. I'm thankful for the opportunity to be a part of it. It's a blessing.”

She recently had the opportunity to attend tryouts and a parent meeting for the two teams and has had a chance to interact some with the girls, who will play in the fall.

Her hiring comes as Coach Jarrod Bailey departs to take an unrelated position at the University of Tennessee at Martin. He has served as a volunteer coach for the last several years, along with Jeremy Bilger and Greg Barker, who will remain as assistant coaches.

Coach McBroom will teach Algebra II and Bridge Math at the high school. She's in the process of relocating to McKenzie to reside full-time.

Trezevant Finalizes New Budget

BY BRAD SAM
brad@mckenziebanner.com

TREZEVANT (June 13) — The Board of Mayor and Aldermen for the Town of Trezevant carried out a second and final vote to approve a budget for fiscal year 2017-18 at Tuesday's regular monthly meeting. Aside from that key vote, the board had little other business, but discussed several matters.

The new budget, approved unanimously by the full board, projects the General Fund to have revenue of $388,870 and expenditures of $452,216, which will eat into surplus funds that have built up over the last several years in order to complete some important and overdue projects.

The State Street Aid Fund will have revenue of $23,000 and expenditures of $30,500. The Solid Waste Fund is projected to have revenue of $75,000 and expenditures of $66,417. The Drug Fund is expected to bring in $400 with expenses of $1,410. The Water and Sewer Fund is expected to have total income of $753,630 and expenses of $744,566.

Citizens will see the property tax rate remain unchanged at 71 cents.

During the May meeting, Mayor Dennis Mitchell informed the board that four of the town's seven aerator pumps at the sewer facility had stopped functioning. Aldermen approved a $13,000 amendment to the current budget and, at a special called meeting on May 23, accepted a bid in that amount from Vaughn Electric of Union City.

In another followup from May, Town Recorder Kathy Edwards, acting on the wishes of the board, purchased at a May 19 auction a vacant lot at 135 Johnson Street. Edwards won the property on behalf of the town with a bid of $2,000, the maximum she was authorized to spend. Vice Mayor Bobby Blaylock accompanied Edwards with the authority to increase the limit if it had become necessary.

The mayor and board intend, if possible, to transfer the lot to the Industrial Development Board and use it to build a home for Habitat for Humanity.

During the June meeting, Mayor Mitchell relayed that he's received several complaints that Dollar General is selling cold beer despite a verbal agreement between management and a previous mayor. Mitchell said he wasn't sure how the town could enforce the deal given that other local businesses sell their beer cold. He has also been unable to find any written record of the agreement.

The mayor directed aldermen's attention to the General Fund bank balance, which finally surpassed the benchmark of $400,000. He told the board with a laugh not to get too excited about achievement. He announced that since that figure had been calculated, the town moved to pay off its lone outstanding debt. The early payoff on the fire truck saves the town several thousand dollars over several years.

Funds to make the scheduled payments on the truck remain in the new budget, and Mitchell suggested leaving that money as is, citing the inevitability that a new truck will be needed at some point.

Before the meeting ended, Alderman Pam Joyner took the opportunity to relay from her sister, Madeline Lumpkin, praise for Police Chief Mike Mulligan. Lumpkin found herself stranded on a hot day with a flat tire, and Mulligan stopped and changed the tire himself. Joyner gave Edwards a thank-you card from Lumpkin and her husband to deliver to the chief.

The meeting adjourned after 20 minutes.

Huntingdon School District to Rewrite Sports Approval Policy

Courtesy Carroll County News-Leader

HUNTINGDON (June 15) — Huntingdon Special School District Board of Education members tabled action during Thursday night's school board meeting to allow a high school track and field team to be formed until the Sports Approval Policy is rewritten.

“A task force needs to be set up with a minimum of two board members along with Ms. Pat to rewrite the policy and bring it back to the school board,” said Board Chairman Lee Carter.

Board member Jerry Morris suggested Board Vice Chairman Jason Culbreath and board member Tim Tucker, along with Director of Schools Pat Dillahunty serve on the task force.

The present policy is very stringent about allowing any new sports teams to be approved. Several items have to be presented to Dillahunty before a team is officially approved by the board.

One of the rules indicates a team will only exist if an appropriate coach, who is a certified member of the Huntingdon Special School District, can be employed.

Additionally, a budget, approved by the school, which includes all costs associated with the sport, including transportation, equipment, coaches, umpires, etc. must be submitted to the director of schools at least four months prior to the start of the season. Any collected funds not used in the year would be carried over to the next school year.

The sports team would have to have financial support by donors in place four months before the start of the team to participate that season.

All decisions concerning schedules, practice, rules, team members and participation are the responsibility of the principal and/or the head coach.

Following board approval, the coach will annually submit several documents to the director of schools on or before the close of the school year. Those include: a financial statement for the current year, proposed budget for the following school year, proposed schedule for the following school year, roster of players and a list of fundraising activities.

School board members postponed action on purchasing an additional vehicle to transport sports teams to far away games and immediately after school dismisses in the afternoon. Transportation for these teams presents a problem since regular school buses are not off their routes at the time the teams need to leave the school.

Dillahunty said she had priced a new vehicle at $80,000 and $85,000. A used one with 21,000 miles was priced at $60,000, she said.

However, she said purchasing a vehicle would probably be easier than finding a driver.

“Only one person on staff was interested in driving,” she said. “I thought there would be two or three. It's hard to find someone to drive the first year.”

The cross-country, baseball and softball are the problem since they have to leave at 3 or 3:30 p.m.

Special licenses are needed to drive the vehicles as well.

“I'll look for other used buses and check with other drivers,” she said.

Board member Paul Stokes suggested retired truck drivers might be interested in driving a bus.

In other business, board members:

- Approved the School Nutrition Program Agreement for the 2017-2018 school year.

- Agreed to a required statutory bond for Dillahunty as fiscal agent for the system.

- Approved the 2016-2017 budget amendments.

- Decided on food service bids for the 2017-2018 school year.

- Approved the 2017-2018 Consolidated Application for IDEA/ ESEA.

- Acknowledged the employment of Jenifer Matte as an educational assistant at the high school.
- Acknowledged the retirement of art teacher Penny Smith.

- Decided to operate on a continuing budget until next month's meeting.

- Approved the 2017-2018 school district's Student and Parent Handbook. The testing schedules that came from the state Department of Education were added.

- Agreed for the school district to pay $47.72 in unpaid student lunches.

- Amended the school district's Tobacco-Free School Policy so that absolutely smoking will not be allowed on any of the properties owned by the school district. Dillahunty said signs have been ordered to post throughout the district, and especially at each ticket booth for sporting events, plus an announcement will be made at sporting and other events. Morning Glory Garden Club News

The Morning Glory Garden Club met June 6 at the exquisite home of Robbie Barker with Joan Gibson serving as co-hostess.

President Gena Manner called the meeting to order and thanked the hostesses. Members then recited the Club's “Collect” and the “Pledge of Allegiance”. In the absence of both Club Chaplain Donna Pruneau and Co-Chaplain Debbie Riley, Gena Manner recited the following poem provided by Sally Sutton as the “Thought for the Day”: I got up early one morning and rushed into the day. I had so much to accomplish I didn't take time to pray. Problems tumbled around me and heavier became each task. Why doesn't God help me, I wonder. He answered, you didn't ask. I wanted to see joy and beauty, but the day toiled on, gray and bleak. I wondered why God didn't show me. He said, but you didn't seek. I tried to come into God's presence. I used all my keys to the lock. God gently and lovingly chided, my child you didn't knock. I woke up early this morning and paused before entering the day. I had so much to accomplish, I had to take time to pray.

Gena then asked for the roll call and a reading of the minutes. The May minutes were read and approved with one change regarding the butterfly larvae. Treasurer Judy Davis reported the bank balance.

Corresponding Secretary Donna Hodge read a thank you note from Linda Ford of Racheff House and Gardens in Knoxville (the State Headquarters for the Tennessee Federation of Garden Clubs) for our donation made in honor of Gena's presidency of the Club for the past two years and continuing for another two years. Our Club's name will be inscribed on commemorative plaque #5. (Each plaque contains 76 names.)

Happy Birthday was sung to members with June birthdays: Joan Gibson, Leslie Lewis, Sharon Ray, Diane Stafford, Judy Winters, and Debbie Riley (in absentia).

Civic Committee Chair Donna Hodge reported that the geraniums were planted in the downtown Veterans Park, and the memorial tree for Angela Hugueley's mother was planted at the hospital lawn.

Yard-of-the-Month for June was awarded to Ray and Shirley Nanney on Paris Street.

Photographer Judy Winters presented photographs of our meeting with the McKenzie Garden Club to Historians Donna Hodge and Leslie Lewis for inclusion in this year's scrapbook.

Sunshine Chair Robbie Barker will send a get-well card to Mayor Jill Holland who was in a car accident.

The Club budget for April 1, 2017 through March 31, 2018 was presented and accepted by all members.

New Business:

Jill Warren has received a grant for a summer reading program at the elementary school. As part of the condition for receiving the grant, she asked if we would come to the school to read to the students. We agreed and will meet at the elementary school at noon on Tuesday, June 13. All members are asked to attend.

We will once again decorate the downtown Veterans Park for the 4th of July.

We do not meet during July and August, although several activities will continue throughout. Group I will select the Yard-of-the-Month for July, which should feature 4th of July decorations. Group II will select the Yard-of-the-Month for August. Happy Birthday in August to Robbie Barker!

Horticulture was presented by Leslie Lewis.

Gena Manner presented a very informative and interesting program regarding the “History of the Morning Glory Garden Club” beginning with the formation of the first garden club in 1891 by 12 ladies in Athens, GA. In 1927, 34 charter clubs formed the Tennessee Garden Clubs, whose name was changed in 1942 to the Tennessee Federation of Garden Clubs (TFGC). In 1929, representatives of 17 federations, including the Tennessee Federation, went to Washington DC and formed National Garden Clubs (NGC). The Morning Glory Garden Club is a break-off of the McKenzie Garden Club which was chartered in 1927. Gena's grandmother, Mattie Manley, was a charter member. She became Vice President of the Club in 1929 and President in 1930. Gena's mother, Kathleen McDade, later became an active member. In 1932, National Garden Clubs was divided into 7 regions. Tennessee is in the Deep South region. There are 49 international affiliates in the National Garden Clubs, including Peru, Brazil, Puerto Rico, etc. In 2009, the national convention was held in Memphis at The Peabody Hotel. On the last night, the international groups were dressed in beautiful native costumes of their countries. The TFGC is divided into 4 districts. We are in District 1 which is the Memphis area. District II is Nashville, District III is Chattanooga, and District IV is Knoxville. Annual state conventions are hosted by districts. The 2018 state convention will be held at the Reed House hotel in Chattanooga where the first garden club was formed in 1891. Garden Therapy was introduced in 1945 by the NGC for Veterans Hospitals to help with the rehab of World War II veterans. Garden Therapy now includes hospitals, nursing homes, schools, prisons, etc. Our Club's Garden Therapy projects include the butterfly garden at Lakeside, various other projects with the residents of Lakeside, planting at Oak Manor Nursing Home, and the butterfly release at the elementary school where we also maintain a butterfly garden. The Blue Star Memorial Highway Project is sponsored by the National Garden Clubs. Gena was instrumental in getting the Blue Star marker installed in McKenzie on Highway 79 with attendance by Mayor Bob Putman, the Blue Star Memorial national chairman, and representatives of the NGC, the TFGC, and our District, as well as the National Guard color guard. The ceremony was also attended by Representative Roy Herron, through whom Gena worked to procure the highway designation. The first meeting of the Morning Glory Garden Club was Tuesday, April 1, 1952 at 10 a.m. There were 25 members, and dues were $1 per year. Our flower is the morning glory and our tree is the magnolia. We were also federated in 1952. Gena has been an active member since 1956. She was President in 1962 and served on the City Beautification committee at that time also. That committee was responsible for preventing the downtown park being converted into a parking lot. The first Christmas luncheon was held in 1970 and tickets were $1.25. The first Yard-of-the-Month award was given in 1972. TFGC's headquarters in Knoxville was donated in 1970 by Ivan Racheff and included a house and 6½ acres. Every District shares in financial maintenance of the grounds. The Morning Glory Garden Club has a fern garden there. Our annual donations include the following:

- Racheff House and Gardens donation goes toward maintenance of the grounds
- NGC Permanent Home in Saint Louis houses the national records
- Tennessee Land Trust maintains the Cumberland Trail and river gorge (Gena's son Mark is President of this Land Trust). TFGC has donated more than $24,000 to this Land Trust during the past two administrations. (Each TFGC President can designate her own project.)
- Scenic America controls “billboard blight”
- Tennessee Executive Residence provides fresh flowers and furnishes a dozent for the Governor's social events

The Great American Cleanup is a TFGC project, and Gena has been the Carroll County chairman for 15 years. All 95 counties in Tennessee have participated in the Great American Cleanup, and we are the only state to have that honor. This year's conservation camp is sponsored by District III and will be held at Fall Creek Falls.

Gena is a lifetime member of the Morning Glory Garden Club, TFGC, Deep South Region, and NGC. Present at the June 6th meeting were Robbie Barker, Judy Davis, Joan Gibson, Diane Harvey, Donna Hodge, Angela Hugueley, Leslie Lewis, Gena Manner, Sharon Ray, Lucille Russell, Diane Stafford, and Judy Winters.

After the meeting adjourned, members went to Gena's home to make 5 flower arrangements in honor of National Garden Week and delivered them to City Hall, Lakeside, McKenzie Hospital, McKenzie Health Care, and Oak Manor Nursing Home. Thank you to all who participated.

According to Smith's report, Scottie Owens of Hollow Rock reported to deputies that he was driving down Big Buck Road with two other people when a black Cadillac SUV passed him and slammed on his brakes, causing him to come to a quick stop and almost hit the Cadillac. Knight then exited the Cadillac with a gun and threatened Owens, telling him he did not belong on Big Buck Road. Two other witnesses arrived and assisted Knight back to his vehicle. Owens got the tag number on Knight's Cadillac, and he and witnesses identified Knight as the aggressor. Knight surrendered his weapon when deputies arrived at his home.

Animal Cruelty — A Huntingdon man and woman were cited into court on June 10. Deputy Christopher Adams charged Serena A. Bates, 21, and Cody Rimmer, 26, 79 Humphrey Road, with animal cruelty. Adams reported that deputies received a report of animal cruelty at aforementioned address. When Adams arrived, he found three emaciated dogs that did not appear to have access to food or water. One of the dogs was on a twisted chain and unable to reach his doghouse. When deputies got in touch with the dog's owner, Bates she said she had recently had surgery and her stepbrother Cody Rimmer was supposed to be caring for them. Bates and Rimmer agreed to surrender the dogs, which were taken by Animal Rescue Corps.

Drug Possession — A Saulsbury woman was cited into court June 13. Deputy Michael Krause charged Ruth E. Fink, 50, with drug violations. According to Krause's report, Fink was the passenger in a car stopped for a light law violation. Fink appeared nervous and Krause got permission to search the car. He found a small amount of marijuana and some rolling papers in Fink's purse.

Multiple Charges — A Halls man was arrested June 10. Deputy Michael Smith charged Phillip Evan Reaves, 19, with public intoxication and indecent exposure. According to Smith's report, Reaves was seen urinating on Paris Street. When Smith told him to stop, Reaves made a derogatory hand gesture, got into the back of a truck, and left. Smith then stopped the truck. The report noted that Reaves smelled of alcohol.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
