READY OR NOT

Carroll County Schools Start Tuesday

CARROLL COUNTY — The five special school districts of Hollow Rock-Bruceton, Huntingdon, McKenzie, South Carroll (Clarksburg) and West Carroll all start Tuesday, August 4. The following is some general information about the three school districts — McKenzie, Huntingdon, and West Carroll in The Banner's immediate service area.

McKENZIE

Lynn Watkins, director of McKenzie Special School District, said classes begin at 8 a.m. at the three school sites. Students will be dismissed at 11:15 a.m. Masks are required for everyone, including students, entering the building. In the event schools must close due to an outbreak of the COVID-19 virus, the school has enough computer devices for every student to take home to complete their homework. Tennessee's public schools are required to provide a full year of education, whether in person or through computers off-site.

Huntingdon

Huntingdon Special School District returns to school August 4 as reflected in the 2020-2021 calendar. School officials believe students will be excited to return to school, see their classmates, and resume their educational journey.

Election is August 6 in Tennessee

Next Tuesday, Tennessee voters will select a party nominee for U.S. Senate, U.S. House of Representatives, Tennessee House of Representatives and State Senator. In Carroll County voters are also selecting a chancellor (general election), school board members, and a District 5 County Commissioner.

During the first seven days of early voting in Carroll County, a total of 1,387 voted compared to 409 in the first seven days of the year 2016. That's a 239 percent increase. Early voting ends August 1.

Polls in Carroll open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. on August 6. Voters will report their respective polling places of Lavinia, Trezevant, McLemoresville, Cedar Grove, Clarksburg, Carroll County Recycling Center, Civic Center, Huntingdon Police Department, Hollow Rock Fire Department, Bruceton Fire Station, Atwood City Hall, McKenzie Senior Citizens Center, Westport Fire Department, McKenzie Church of Christ and McKenzie City Hall.

Republican candidates for U.S. Senate include: Clifford Adkins, Natisha Brooks, Bryon Bush, Roy Dale Cope, Terry Dicus, Tom Emerson, Jr., George Flinn, Jr., Bill Hagerty, Jon Henry, Kent Morrell, Glen Neal, Jr., John Osborne, Aaron Pettigrew, David Schuster, and Manny Sethi.

David Kustoff is running uncontested for the Republican nomination for U.S. House of Representatives.

Incumbent John Stevens is challenged by Casey Hood for the Republican nomination for Tennessee Senate District 24.

Tennessee House of Representatives District 76

Five Republicans are seeking the party nomination to fill the seat now held by retiring Representative Andy Holt. They are Tandy Darby, Dennis Doster, David Hawks, John McMahan, and Keith Priestley.

Tennessee House of Representatives District 79

Two Republicans are seeking the party nomination. Incumbent Curtis Halford is challenged by Christine Warrington.

In the Democratic Primary, there are candidates vying for U.S. Senate and U.S. House.

Homeschooling Draws Increased Interest Amidst Pandemic

BY BRAD SAM

brad@mckenziebanner.com
© 2020 Tri-County Pub., Inc.

When the COVID-19 pandemic forced the closure of schools in March, many parents began considering alternative options for education. With the beginning of the new school year approaching and the uncertainty of the situation persisting, many families are opting to educate their children at home.

While most schools offer a virtual option during the pandemic, some families are turning to homeschool associations in search of established, organized systems for at-home learning.

Shalyn Priestley of McKenzie transitioned her children to homeschool four years ago using the Martin campus of Classical Conversations, a global organization with a bible-based curriculum. Two years ago, she became a tutor for the program, and, this year, she is the director of the seventh-eighth grade program.

Martin Classical Con-

sations serves Pre-K through eighth grade. Priestley is joined by Ellie Holt, director of grades six and below, who is assisted by five tutors.

Priestley told The Banner the Martin campus serves just over 40 children, and five new families have enrolled in the last week. She says she's spent countless hours on the phone with interested parents in the last few weeks. "People are realizing they do have an option."

She emphasized that she and her colleagues are "not against public schools. We are pro-school choice. Each family has to do what's best for them."

She noted that the situation at the end of the last school year, when the pandemic hit and forced everyone home, "that's not what homeschooling is for us. It's community, extracurricular activities, music lessons, 4-H, field trips. Being stuck at home is not a good indication of what homeschooling is like. We're busy. We get our school lessons in, but we do fun things too. We have a lot of freedom. It's not just 'school at home,' it's cultivating a love of learning."

Priestley explained that to participate in Classical Conversations or another homeschooling option, students need to be registered with an umbrella school or a local school district.

The state of Tennessee requires 180 days of instruction per year, and, for Classical Conversations, a day includes four hours of instruction. A parent or guardian must be available to facilitate the curriculum.

Both Priestley and Holt say they are more than happy to provide information and answer questions about not just Classical Conversations, but about homeschooling in general. Those interested can call Priestley at 731-514-2062 or Holt at 731-819-2261 or visit classicalconversations.com or the Martin Classical Conversations Facebook page.

Class begins for Martin Classical Conversations students on August 4 for seventh and eighth grade and August 11 for sixth grade and lower, but students can join the program at any time during the year.

High-Speed Chase Ends in County

McKenzie Police Officer Cody Coleman charged Mondarius D. Helms, 21, Jackson with evading arrest and reckless driving on July 26.

According to the report, Helms was fleeing from Milan police, who broke off the chase. The McKenzie officers, Coleman, Boucher and Lowden set up on Highway 79 near Oak Manor Road. A Carroll County deputy was in pursuit. Boucher and Coleman were positioned in the northbound lane in an attempt to initiate a rolling stop. The car made a u-turn and started traveling south on U.S. 79. A second county deputy was positioned along U.S. 79 between McKenzie and Trezevant and the first deputy was pursuing the subject back toward Trezevant.

MPD stopped its high-speed pursuit and continued south. Carroll County Sheriff's Deputy deployed a stop stick on the vehicle, which eventually stopped near Wingo Circle. The subject refused to exit the stopped car and officers forced him to the ground and placed him in cuffs. He had charges by Milan, McKenzie, and the County of Carroll.

Henry County Attorney Under Investigation

PARIS (JULY 24) — An attorney in Henry County is under investigation by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation.

The documents, filed July 23, indicate TBI Special Agent Ronnie Faulkner conducted the investigation and a special prosecutor needs to discuss the finding with Faulkner and determine whether or not to file charges.

According to court documents filed with the Henry County Circuit Court, the Honorable Jody Pickens, DA in Madison County, was appointed to serve as district attorney general pro tempore after D.A. Matthew Stowe recused himself.

Circuit Court Judge Donald Parish requested to be excused since the matter involves one or more lawyers in the 24th Judicial District.

McKenzie to Install New Playground Equipment

McKENZIE (July 23) — Through a special called meeting via the Internet application ZOOM, the McKenzie City Council approved the bid from Custom Recreation for the installation of new playground equipment. The $31,924 bid consists of furnishing all labor, tools and concrete for the installation of play equipment, recycled plastic border panels and musical equipment for the new Harmony Park, located adjacent to McKenzie Station Splash Pad.

The Hendersonville, Tennessee company provided the only bid. Included in the bid package was a factory installation certification certificate from Little Tikes Commercial Play System, a reference list of customers with whom they have installed Little Tikes playgrounds, the State of Tennessee Contractors license, a Certificate of Liability Insurance along with a W-9.

Included in discussion were questions from Custom Recreation in regards to a confirmation the Harmony Park playground equipment will be installed near the splash pad.

wood carpet (mulch) was being provided by the McKenzie Rotary Club and if city personnel would spread the wood chips. They were advised the Rotary Club had agreed to furnish the specially treated mulch and city personnel or club members would provide labor. A representative from Mid-South Recreation asked if there was a lay down area that would be fenced in to drop the equipment prior to installation. Mayor Jill Holland said it would be provided. Both Custom Recreation and Mid-South Recreation will work with the parks department in regards to marking designated areas where the grass would be scraped and herbicides sprayed before the wood chips would be spread.

McKenzie Postal Service Changes Window Service Hours

McKENZIE — The United States Postal Service at McKenzie is changing its window service hours effective August 22, 2020. This is the service area with window clerks. The new hours are Monday to Friday, 10 a.m. to 12:15 a.m. and 1.15 p.m. to 4 p.m., closed for lunch. Saturday window hours are 10 a.m. to noon.

The self-serve, walk-in lobby, is still open around the clock every day.

Jonathan Hampton said the reduction in service hours was implemented at smaller post offices several years ago. The August 22 changes in hours affects area post offices such as Paris, Martin, Huntingdon, Camden, Dresden and Milan.

CHANCELLOR

★ COMPASSION ★ INDEPENDENCE ★ COMMITMENT

Attorney Benjamin S. "Ben" Harmon of Savannah, Tennessee is asking for your vote in the August 6th Election for Chancellor of the 24th Judicial District.

Ben is a lifelong resident of the 24th Judicial District which is made up of Benton, Carroll, Decatur, Hardin and Henry counties. His personal and professional relationships across the district and his dedication to an independent judiciary make him the best candidate for Chancellor.

Ben's love of the law and his desire to serve the public are the driving force behind his decision to embark on this campaign. Ben gives his parents credit for instilling these fundamental values in him.

His mother, Karen Moore, served as a devoted social worker for thirty-five years. His father, the Honorable Ron E. Harmon, was the respected former Chancellor of 24th Judicial District. Ben's own service to the community as Chairman of the Historic Zoning Commission in Savannah and as a Commissioner of the Savannah Housing Authority demonstrate his commitment to public service and the betterment of his community.

Ben humbly asks for your support on this journey. He intends to uphold the high standards set by his family and mentors. He will serve this community with compassion, independence, and commitment.

Please support Ben with your vote for Chancellor on August 6, 2020.
Early voting period continues through August 1.

Trio Appears in Weakley County Court In Connection with McKenzie Shooting

DRESDEN (July 22) — Three individuals allegedly involved in a shooting that critically injured a McKenzie man in May appeared in Weakley County General Sessions Court Wednesday, July 22.

Malcolm Lee, Jr., 18, of McKenzie, is charged with attempted first-degree murder; 20-year-old Mary Beth Lyles of Martin faces charges of filing a false report, and 22-year-old Katie Nicole Smith of Martin is charged with being an accessory after the fact.

According to Weakley County

Sheriff's Investigator Captain Randall McGowan, the shooting took place shortly before 8:30 p.m. May 27, 2020, in the 1500 block of Union Church Rd. in the McKenzie area of Weakley County. McGowan states the victim, 18-year-old Canon Magourik of McKenzie, was shot at least seven times.

Lee, who fled the scene in what witnesses described as a sport utility vehicle, was captured May 29, 2020, in McEwen, Tennessee.

The victim was treated at the scene by Weakley County's Emergency Medical Services and transported to Jackson-Madison County General Hospital. Magourik was then flown to a Nashville hospital, where he was treated and released.

Weakley County General Sessions Judge Tommy Moore rescheduled the preliminary hearings for the three defendants to August 19.

Lee remains jailed in lieu of a $250,000 bond.

Bond for Lyles and Smith remains at $10,000 each.

Mental Health Group Rescinds Offer on Church Property

BY JASON R. MARTIN
jmartin@mckenziebanner.com

MCKENZIE (July 21) — After a firestorm of unfavorable opinions and documented concerns, the residents of David Street no longer have to worry about a mental health facility in their backyard. Kenny Carr, pastor of Long Heights Baptist Church, informed the City of McKenzie Board of Zoning Appeals of MSHN Enterprises' decision to rescind their offer to purchase the 95 Doug Street property.

On July 15, the board heard MSHN's request for a variance of an occupancy or use permit within the R-1 (single-family residential) zoned area adjacent to David Street. Appeals Chairman Bill Davis provided the mental health facility a set of stipulations they would be required to agree to before receiving a decision from the board.

Chairman Davis stated within a few days of sending the stipulations he received a phone call from Carr informing him MSHN had pulled their offer for the former church thus the board did not need to meet.

During the initial appellate meeting, residents of the neighborhood questioned the use of the property. The majority of comments and concerns focused around location serving primarily a residential area and worry about the safety of the subdivision. Requests were made that certain parameters were set for MSHN to operate on the site and provide assurance that no patients would live at the Doug Street location.

Two members of the audience expressed their concerns stating they had worked with individuals such as those treated at MSHN and knew from experience that sometimes when clients are being counseled, they tend to become agitated and snap.

Given a chance to respond following the rescinded offer, MSHN representative Shea Chandler, said, "We understand the neighbors' concerns and appreciate everything everyone tried to do to help make this happen. We are sorry it didn't work out." MSHN Enterprise has

City of McKenzie Mayor Jill Holland, an ex officio member of the appeals board said, "The property on 95 Doug is in a residential district, and of course the church was given a variance while it was located there. The area is not zoned for business, however, the Board of Zoning met and heard from MSHN and the residents on David Street. It was their decision to allow MSHN to locate to the property, providing stipulations conducive to the quality and livability of the neighborhood be followed. This agreement would be renewed each year by the Board of Zoning as long as MSHN continued to own the property, and was continuing to follow the stipulations as set forth in the agreement. MSHN was given a draft of the proposed agreement and stipulations for their review."

Chairman Davis added to his comment saying the stipulations were put into place as a safeguard for the neighborhood. He was made aware of the discontent of the residents and wanted to "put teeth" in the stipulations preventing the facility from using the property as a housing facility and/or along with additional traffic to the residential streets.

The intended purpose of the property would serve as offices, staff training and housing facility for visiting families.

According to its website, MSHN Enterprises is a supervised group home setting for individuals enduring severe and persistent mental illness, providing therapeutic psycho-social rehabilitation groups, community outings, medication management.

In McKenzie, the group owns six properties used as supported living facilities; two on Everett Road and four on Old McKenzie Road including the former Gaines home.

Carroll

According to the school's website, "Plans to return to school have not been made without keeping what is best for students as our focus. We constantly consider guidelines from the CDC and our state and local health departments to ensure our students are as safe as possible under the current circumstances.

It is our intent to serve all students academically. We are hopeful for in-person traditional classes. Plans to implement this include:

- Clean/disinfect daily,
- Strongly encouraging but not requiring students and staff wear face mask,
- Daily temperature checks all students, staff, visitors,
- Limit visitors in building,
- Limit sharing of resources,
- No visitors at lunch, parties, etc. until further notice,
- Changes to cafeteria protocol and eating arrangements,
- Social distancing will be maintained to the greatest extent possible and strategies will be implemented by school administrators based on the feasibility of the unique space at each school and each classroom.

The school is offering a virtual education for students who choose not to attend in-school classes. The school contracted with Educere to provide the virtual classroom with classes running concurrently with the traditional school calendar. Students in grades 3-12 will receive a school-owned Chromebook. Students in grades PK-2 will receive a school-owned Samsung Tablet. Students must complete assigned work and mandatory attendance policies.

West Carroll

West Carroll begins Tuesday at 7:50 a.m. and dismisses at 11 a.m. The school opens under Phase 3 of the COVID-19 plan.

COVID-19

from this pathogen on November 3, 2020 seem more unlikely every day.

One month ago, on Monday, June 29, 2020, Tennessee had 42,297 cases of COVID-19, 592 dead from the disease, and 2,599 hospitalized. On Monday, July 27, 2020 (today), there are 96,489 cases in the state, 978 dead, and 4,280 hospitalized. In four weeks, that's a difference of 54,192 cases, 386 more Tennesseans dead, and 1,681 more hospitalized. Just in the last 7 days, Tennessee has tacked on 16,735 positive cases, 131 have died, and 568 more were hospitalized.

In Carroll County one month ago, there were 39 cases, today there are 139 cases, with two deaths. Of the 139 total cases in Carroll County, 89 are active (infected and contagious right now). Carroll has reported 59 new cases in the last seven days.

In Weakley County one month ago, there were 56 cases, today there are 165, with two deaths. Right now, there are 103 active cases in Weakley County. Weakley has reported 64 new cases in the last seven days.

A confined facility in Dresden reported four positive residents and two positive staff, one resident died and three recovered. A confined facility in Martin reported two residents and two staff with COVID-19, both residents have recovered.

In Henry County one month ago, there were 42 cases, today there are 115 with one death. Of the 115 cases, 56 are active right now. Henry County has reported 52 new cases in the last seven days.

A confined facility in Henry County reported two residents and six staff that tested positive; according to the Tennessee Department of Health website, both residents have recovered.

In the United States, 4,225,687 cases have been reported with 146,546 deaths. Globally, 16,114,449 cases have been reported since December 31, 2019, and 646,641 have died from the disease.

State and health officials urge citizens to wear face coverings in public places; keep 6-foot distance from others; wash your hands for 20 seconds; use hand sanitizer when you can't use soap and water; don't touch your face — especially after touching potentially infected surfaces; wipe down high-touch areas with disinfectant often; and avoid heavily congested public places whenever possible.

Some places require guests to wear face coverings while in their facility.

On December 31, 2019 China reported a mysterious pneumonia to World Health Organization officials. The mysterious disease was identified as a coronavirus on January 7, named Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) on February 11 and declared a pandemic (meaning worldwide spread) on March 11, 2020. Tennessee reported its first case on March 5, 2020.

It may seem like just numbers, but behind those numbers, are real people struggling to breathe, missing their loved ones or unsure about whether to buy future-dated food. The pandemic has affected every person on the planet in some way: financially, economically, physically, or emotionally. The only way to end it is to work together. Please protect yourself and stay well.

Plan

The plan includes phased guidelines based on the amount of spread of COVID-19 in the community as well as a virtual program offered to families who do not wish to have their children in schools.

In Phase 4 (low/no spread), schools will operate with no restrictions. In Phase 3 (minimal spread) and Phase 2 (moderate spread), students will attend school with precautionary measures in effect, including daily temperature checks, social distancing, hand sanitizing, enhanced cleaning and the restriction of visitors. Masks will be recommended, but not mandatory. In Phase 1 (high/substantial spread), schools will be closed and all students will utilize the virtual program.

Supervisor of Instruction Regina Alred explained to the board that the virtual option would be a "serious commitment" for parents and students. "You're assuming responsibility for educating your child. All we can do is provide access."

The full plan, along with information and applications for the virtual program, is available at wcscd.org.

Board members discussed the plan at length before the vote, touching on a plethora of topics of concern. Ultimately, the plan was approved unanimously as the general consensus was that students would be best served in the classroom, though admittedly there would be both expected and unforeseen issues to navigate.

Just prior to the main vote, the board voted unanimously to disallow students on the virtual option from participating in sports and other extracurricular activities.

Also approved was a resolution for the emergency suspension of board policies during the 2020-21 year to provide flexibility during the pandemic. The measure was recommended by the Tennessee School Boards Association.

Board member Kyle Foster was absent.

The meeting adjourned in just under an hour.

Celebrating McKenzie's oldest business and historical record

Steve McCadams (Part I)

McKenzie’s Renaissance Man

Growing up in McKenzie, it is commonplace to learn how to fish and hunt long before you become school age. Like most of my counterparts, I have a love for the outdoors and can think of no place better than in boat bass fishing. Needless to say, if you are from McKenzie the name Steve McCadams brings to mind an image of a man living the dream. Growing up in his father’s store, McCadams Implement Company, he developed a love for music and being out in nature hunting and fishing. “You could always hear a good fishing or hunting story there,” Steve said, referring to his father’s store. The business, started by Steve’s father, Doug, and uncle, Rom, was a gathering point for farmers and other men who enjoyed sharing their stories. Doug kept bird dogs and a Labrador for hunting, and when Steve was small he had a beagle he used for rabbit hunting. He grew to enjoy hunting that involved the companionship of a dog, especially a lab. “I’ve always had a lab, and I guess always will.” In school, he was a member of the band, but soon his interest in music expanded when he along with Kenny Melton, Ronnie Russell and Tommy McDonald formed the band “The Counts.” Steve was responsible for the trumpet and keyboard. As time progressed, Steven joined “The Authority” traveling in the Southeastern United States playing colleges and other functions. Kenny Melton joined Steve with Glynn Mebane and John Waddle to form the group. “We kept a lot of people in McKenzie up nights practicing in Daddy’s old shop. They put up with us pretty good through the years,” Steve recalled in an interview about his musical career. In 1976, the “The Authority” was no more as the bandmates went in different directions, some graduated, others got married and began families. Steve finished high school in 1972 and earned a biology degree from Bethel College in 1978. Through his college years, hunting and fishing still held an important role in his life. Carroll Lake and Kentucky Lake is where he spent much of his time learning to be a fisherman. This led to him starting to work as a guide in 1972. “I couldn’t believe somebody would pay me to go hunting and fishing,” he said. Steve found his way to the Paris Landing area. “I used to live at the lake in my single days.” Soon he would give up his single days. His duck blind was next to another man’s who happened to have a daughter who was used to living with an outdoorsman. At the time, Steve was working at

Uncle Lee’s in Paris, which was a sportsman’s paradise. Linda Williams, whose father was his duck blind neighbor, came into the store Steve fell under her spell. The couple dated for several years before marrying in July 1980. “I’m lucky, I’ve got a good wife; she puts up with me. She accepted all those crazy things (in a hunter and fisherman). She’s been very supportive of me through everything,” he added. His lifestyle was one of transition from coming home from a musical gig at 3 a.m. to waking at the same hour to start his day as a guide. As Steve gained notoriety as a skilled guide, he found himself writing for major hunting and fishing magazines and speaking at seminars over the country about his expertise. Other sportsmen were eager to learn from his years of experience. Steve credits his rise in the world of hunting and fishing to his friend, Tommy Akin, of Greenfield. As a part of his business, Akin Promotions, he connected Steve with writers and media in outdoor sporting publications. As his writing flourished, he was able to appear as a guest for nationally syndicated TV shows that came to the area to tape shows featuring local sportsmen. During the months of January, February, Mark and April, Steve has kept busy traveling to Boats, Sports and Travel Shows across the country. He is there with the invitation to conduct seminars to educate and provide ideas to help other fishermen and hunters. “That time of year they have cabin fever. They have huge events up there (northern states) and they’re yearning for information. They don’t get to do it as much because of the harsh winter season and it makes them hungry for it. I guess the less you get to do something the more you want to.” If Steve wasn’t busy enough with his guide business, speaking engagements and writing for publications like “Sportsman’s Digest”, “Field and Stream” and “Crappie World” he took up the mantle as a television host. “In Pursuit” a syndicated series on the Outdoor Channel brought him new travels. “Tommy opened that door for me, too,” said Steve. One of his goals for hosting the program was to not only entertain but to get children involved. He recalled, “I had a great time when my father took me fishing and hunting. A lot of kids don’t have that option. They’re hungry for the outdoors, and the sad thing is they never get the opportunity. They might like to fish and hunt if somebody just spent a little time with them.” That soft spot for children shows the kind heart and humanitarianism of Steve McCadams. Next week we will continue the career of Steve McCadams and his venture enhances the lives of children while helping humanity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Message From McKenzie Special School District’s Director

I hope all are looking forward to starting a new school year. I wanted to make sure that all understand that the State Board of Education has mandated that schools in Tennessee provide 180 days of instruction for all of their students. What does that mean? How is that different? Last spring due to the pandemic we closed our doors, and for the most part instruction stopped. This year that will not be allowed. If once again the pandemic causes us to remove students from our campuses we will continue to teach. Our teachers and staff will continue to provide daily instruction and support. The participation by our students will not be optional. They will receive grades, work toward credits required for graduation, and will by some means be held accountable for attendance. My personal opinion is that this places a hardship on most of our parents. Our parents work hard and should not have to come home and make sure that schoolwork has been done. For our younger students, it can’t be done without adult support. Sadly, many of our students will fall behind. We want to teach our students in our buildings. We are the teachers. We have the training. It is what we like to do. The quality of face to face instruction cannot be matched with distance learning. We need to have an opportunity to provide the social and emotional support each child needs. School-age children need to be around other children. They need the school experience. How can you help us? Practice social distancing. Teach your children to practice good hygiene. Make them wash their hands often. Practice wearing face coverings. By experience, I have learned that the more I wear a mask the easier it becomes. Support the changes that we have made to our school days. Let your child know that while it may seem tedious, it is how we will get to continue to have school that is best for them. The only way to get through this is together. Can’t wait to see the kids, Lynn Watkins Director of Schools Mask Requirement at McKenzie Schools To adhere to guidelines from the Tennessee Department of Health, all staff, students, and visitors will be required to wear masks in our facilities. We understand that mask wearing might not be feasible for young children or those with certain medical conditions. Thank you for your cooperation. Lynn Watkins Director of Schools

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Smiling Through the Adversity

I’m supposed to be writing happy stories about growing up back home. You know, like running barefooted through fields of clover. Splashing around with boyhood friends at the swimming hole. Riding bikes to town on Saturdays to watch Lash LaRue chase bad guys across the silver screen. Holding hands with Ann Carol McCaleb, the Homecoming Queen, in the pale moonlight... Those happy yarns are getting harder to spin in the world in which we find ourselves today. When we were cruising Main Street in that ‘56 Chevy with the top rolled down everybody liked Ike. It was way more than just a slogan! I’m not so sure it is the same with any president today. If Congress was fussing and fighting, we didn’t know it. You couldn’t tell a Republican from a Democrat in our little town. Mayor Y. D. Moore kept electricity and water running out to the house. And if something went bad wrong, Aaron Pinson, who was about the nicest Police Chief in the whole United States, would amble over and take care of it. We didn’t have pandemics back in those days. Nobody got quarantined unless you had the mumps or German measles. And you most always got ice cream while you were laid up. If you coughed, somebody’s mother would throw a double spoonful of SSS Tonic down your throat. Now, I don’t suppose any of you are old enough to remember SSS Tonic. The taste would gag a maggot! But let me tell you, one swig of that stuff and you didn’t cough again for the next three years! I wonder if anyone of these medical chemist gurus searching for a Covid-19 vaccine has thought about SSS Tonic... Listen, if I tell a good story today, how can you know if anyone is laughing behind all those masks? I heard of a couple that went grocery shopping over the weekend and the wife brought the wrong husband home! A guy drove by the house this morning with his mask on and he was the only person in the vehicle. I reckon he was afraid he was going to give the virus to himself... Of course, we all agree (silently), there are lots of folks out there that look a heap sight better with a mask covering their face. But back to the point of this epistle—it is hard for a simple minded scribe like me to think about one thing...and write about something else. Ann Carol ain’t the most up-permost thing on my mind this morning. Nor is running down some idyllic country lane singing “May the Bird of Paradise Fly Up Your Nose.” I’m worried about my friends. My wife. My children. Me! I’ve been torn like this before. It was after a high school football game in 1964. We got beat us 42 to 0. The opposing team showed no mercy. They tackled me with extra special ferocity. And, to add insult to injury, while they were unpiling after another hit, they’d remind me how ugly my girlfriend was. After the contest, as per custom, we would meet on the fifty yard line, shake hands and congratulate each other on a game well played. The coaches made us do it! Now folks, I wasn’t smiling but I was trying with all my might to get a couple of “good game y’all” out for appearances sake... But I didn’t mean it! I was thinking in my heart “if they were tied to a brick wall with their backs turned on a dark and stormy night I could show them what a blindside tackle really felt like!” Splitting your attention is a tough deal. Daddy put it succinctly the night we pulled behind a car where the girl appeared to be glued to the driver. He was hugging her neck and driving down the road at the same time. Dad followed along behind for a few minutes watching that car weave back and forth before assessing the situation. “Son, that’s an almost impossible task—driving down a public highway half doing two jobs!” It is just difficult to write down silly stuff when you don’t feel silly. But you know what, that might just be when the world needs it the most... And I can end on a sad note to maybe get us back on track as to the troubles that beset us on every side. I might have exaggerated just slightly about how well I knew Ann Carol McCaleb. I have never actually held hands with a Homecoming Queen in my entire whole life! Respectfully, Kes

Carroll County Senior News

BY SUSAN SLOAN, DIRECTOR

It has been a long time since we have had anything to put in the newspaper. Carroll County Senior Citizens Center shut down in March and remains closed. Governor Lee's order has senior centers closed to the public through August and with the increase in coronavirus cases it may be longer than that.

With the coronavirus taking over like it has, we all search for things that will make us feel better about life in general. I have a feel-good story that I would like to share with you. Once this virus took over our day-to-day lives our home-delivered meals began to increase tremendously. Before the pandemic, we were providing meals to approximately 40 senior citizens in Carroll County each week. We are now providing around 150 meals. Each Monday, Valley Foods in Milan drops off the meals at our office. We bag the meals and get everything ready to be delivered. Then the volunteers show up and take the meals all over Carroll County to the senior citizens that need them. We have a total of 42 volunteers we can call on when we need them. The volunteers use their own cars and are not compensated in any way other than a thank you. What would we do without these volunteers!

This past Monday, the center presented each volunteer with a gift bag. It wasn't enough for all they do to help us, but we wanted them to know how much we appreciate their help. Our office provided some of the goodies for the gift bags. Tim and Natalie Jordan with Modern Woodmen provided gift bags and Block City Pizza presented gift cards. Thank you Tim and Natalie for helping us recognize our volunteers! A special thank you also goes to Lacey Yeley with UT Ag Extension for providing reusable bags to deliver the meals.

The world seems to be full of bad things happening, but there is a lot of good happening also. We are blessed to live in Carroll County where we truly care about each other!

Tennessee Banks Ask Consumers to Deposit, Use Spare Change Due to Coin Shortage

NASHVILLE (July 17) — Time to empty out the piggy banks to help small businesses. Tennessee banks are asking consumers to deposit their spare change at their local bank or coin-cashing machines as the pandemic-related shutdowns has created a coin shortage.

When COVID-19 restrictions went into place, establishments like retail shops, bank branches, and laundromats — the typical places where coin enters society — closed, it significantly slowed the normal rate of coin circulation. Consumers then migrated to shopping online or, if in person, using debit and credit cards to avoid physical contact associated with using cash. The coins that they would have received in change were then not being circulated back into the system.

Rachel Foster of the McKenzie branch of Carroll Bank and Trust said the bank received several transactions last week of customers bringing their spare change into the financial institution.

The lobby is now open to customers. Foster said customers may bring in loose change, which is easier for the employees to process through coin sorters, as opposed to already-rolled coins. She said the local bank prefers customers to conduct that type of business inside the branch. Those who are not current customers are charged a 10 percent fee for transactions.

She added masks are not required to enter the branch, but customers are encouraged to wear them at their discretion. "In the beginning of 2020, more than 4 billion coins were deposited — or recirculated — each month," said Colin Barrett, president and CEO of the Tennessee Bankers Association. "Those numbers dropped to less than 2 billion beginning in April," he added.

As businesses are reopening, demand from merchants to stock their coins at higher levels is increasing, but a large number of coins remain with consumers. This is creating a critical issue because recirculated coins represent more than 80 percent of the supply, with the remaining amount being new coins produced by the Mint.

"There is adequate coin in the economy, however the slowed pace of circulation means that a sufficient amount of coins is not readily available where needed," said Barrett. "If you have spare change, we encourage Tennesseans to check with their local bank to see if they are accepting rolled coins, use exact amounts when purchasing items, or deposit them in grocery store coin-cashing machines."

As of April 2020, the U.S. Treasury estimates that the total value of coin in circulation is $47.8 billion, up from $47.4 billion as of April 2019.

The Federal Reserve projects the gap between supply and demand between 2.3 to 3.5 billion coins each month through the end of 2020.

Carroll County Graduate Among UTM Award Winners

MARTIN (July 14) — A Carroll County native is part of an award-winning communications team for the University of Tennessee at Martin.

In a press release issued last week, it was announced the University of Tennessee at Martin student-run radio station WUTM-FM 90.3 "The Hawk" won 13 awards at the Tennessee Associated Press 2020 College competition. The awards included four first-place awards and Best of Show in radio.

Team member Jillianne Moncrief, a spring 2020 graduate from McMoresville, earned a first-place spotlight in the radio reporter category. She also received the title of Best in Show for radio.

Moncrief garnered a second-place award for the use of sound category of the Tennessee Associated Press 2020 College competition. In addition to her first- and second-place designations, Moncrief picked up a third-place award in the category of radio sports reporting.

The UT Martin graduate recently began her career in broadcast communications as an associate news producer and social media manager for WPSD in Paducah, Kentucky.

"The AP college awards are open to all schools in Tennessee and honor the best work by college journalists working across all platforms — television, radio, print and digital. The competition is pretty fierce, and this year's results show UT Martin is producing some of the state's best young journalists," said Adam Yeomans, southern regional director of The Associated Press. "It's a credit to their drive and talent, not to mention the direction and guidance they receive from the school's instructors," he added.

Other first-place award winners include Kayla Brooks, of Dickson, in the radio newscast category; John Thornton, a spring 2020 graduate from Ato-ka, in the radio sports reporting category; and Thornton, Jordan Taylor, of Medon, and Davis Gregory, of Knoxville, in the radio sports coverage/program category.

Brooks also earned a second-place award for the radio news story category.

Third-place recognitions include Brooks in the radio newscast, radio news story, radio feature story, and television videography categories; Thornton, Taylor and Davis in the radio sports coverage/program category; and Thornton in the radio sports reporting category.

WUTM competed against universities in Tennessee including UT Knoxville, UT Chattanooga, University of Memphis, Middle Tennessee State University, Lipscomb University, Belmont University and more.

Of the award recipients, a recent UT Martin graduate and a current student have already begun their careers in broadcast communications. Thornton has accepted a position as the lead sports play-by-play announcer for Union City sports at Froggy 99.3 radio station, alongside Taylor who will serve as the lead sports analyst and sales specialist. The other recipients will return to UT Martin in the fall to continue their education.

With the 13 awards from AP, WUTM has also received an additional 30 awards this year from news and broadcast organizations, including the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, Collegiate Broadcasters, Inc., and the Southeast Journalism Conference.

For more information about the 2020 Tennessee Associated Press collegiate awards, contact WUTM-FM 90.3 "The Hawk" faculty adviser Dr. Richard Robinson at rrobin@utm.edu.

Cemetery Day at Olive Branch Cemetery is Friday, August 7. There will be no potluck meal due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The fellowship hall will be open from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. to accept donations. If you cannot attend, mail donations to Earl Davis, 1800 Highway 140 N., Cottage Grove, TN 38224.

SURVIVORS OF
SUICIDE LOSS
SUPPORT GROUP

A support group for survivors of suicide loss meets the first Saturday of each month from 8:30-9:30 a.m. at Baptist Memorial Hospital, 631 R. B. Wilson Drive, Huntingdon. The loss of a loved one is shocking and painful. The grief one experiences is complex and no one person experiences the same grief. Survivors often struggle with the reasons of "why" the suicide occurred and what they could have done to prevent the suicide. It is never too early to start healing. Contact Christy Blount at cblount2@utm.edu with questions.

CARROLL COUNTY
DEMOCRATIC WOMEN,
COUNTY COMMITTEE
MEET MONTHLY

The Carroll County Democratic Women and County Committee meet the third Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Carroll County Office Complex in Huntingdon.

JOY CLUB MEETS
TWICE MONTHLY

The Joy Club meets at McKenzie First United Methodist Church on the first and third Thursdays of each month from noon-2 p.m. Bring a sack lunch and enjoy fellowship, games, guest speakers and movies. All are welcome.

CCHS CAT SPAY,
NEUTER VOUCHERS

The Carroll County Humane Society provides low-cost cat spay/neuter vouchers for $40. Come by the shelter 8 a.m.-1 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Saturdays. Call Paris Vet Clinic and set up your appointment. Take your cats in one morning and they come home the same day. That's all there is to it.

Here's all the information you need about these vouchers: Your city of residence or income doesn't matter, anybody can buy these vouchers. You can buy as many as you need. All vouchers must be used at Paris Vet Clinic. Vouchers expire one month from purchase.

You can use these for your cat or the neighborhood stray. You can buy the vouchers for others to use for their cats.

This is an ongoing program. Cats just need to weigh two pounds, which is usually at around eight weeks of age.

COLEMAN PICNIC,
FAMILY REUNION

The annual Coleman picnic and family reunion, usually held at Big Buck School, will this year be in an open-air venue at the home of Dale and Gaye Lynn Coleman, 8765 Highway 140 South, McKenzie on Saturday, August 1, beginning at 11 a.m. An add-a-dish lunch is at noon. Barbecue and lemonade will be provided. Bring your favorite side dish and a donation for the barbecue and family cemetery maintenance through the year. RSVP 731-535-9593.

Carroll County Farmers Have Until August 3 to Submit FSA
County Committee Nominations

HUNTINGDON (July 27) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) reminds farmers and ranchers they have until August 3, 2020, to nominate eligible candidates to serve on local FSA county committees. Agricultural producers who participate or cooperate in an FSA program, including the current Coronavirus Food Assistance Program, may be nominated for candidacy for the county committee. Individuals may nominate themselves or others as a candidate.

Dione K McDaniel, executive director for FSA in Carroll County, said each year an election is held in a Local Administrative Area (LAA), where a committee member's three-year term is expiring. For 2020, an elections in LAA 1, which includes Clarksburg, Westport, Yuma, Cedar Grove. "The August 3 deadline is quickly approaching," said McDaniel. "If you know of a great candidate or want to nominate yourself to serve on your local county committee, contact your FSA office before the deadline to submit the nomination form. I especially encourage the nomination of beginning farmers and ranchers, as well as women and minorities. This is your opportunity to have a say in how federal programs are delivered in your county."

Nationwide, more than 7,700 dedicated members of the agricultural community serve on FSA county committees. The committees are made of three to 11 members and typically meet once a month. Members serve three-year terms. Producers serving on FSA county committees play a critical role in the day-to-day operations of the agency.

To be eligible to serve on an FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in an agency administered program and reside in the LAA where the election is being held. A complete list of eligibility requirements, more information and nomination forms are available at fsa.usda.gov/elections.

To be considered, a producer must sign an FSA-669A nomination form. All nomination forms for the 2020 election must be postmarked or received in the local FSA county office by August 3, 2020. Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters beginning November 2, 2020.

McKenzie School Board Agenda

MCKENZIE — McKenzie Special School District Board of Education meets Tuesday, August 4, 5:30 p.m. at the Board Office, 114 Bell Avenue.

On the agenda is: budget amendments, first amendment to the Title IX and Sexual Harassment policy and food service bids as follows:

Produce, Volco/HPS/GFS
Milk & Milk Products, Volco/
Prairie Farms
Ice Cream Products, Volco/

Turner Dairy

Food/Non-Food Supplies, Volco/HPS

Bread, Flowers Baking Co.

The final item on the agenda is Director Lynn Watkins' report.

State Extends Deadline for Pandemic Food Assistance

NASHVILLE (July 24) — Tennessee parents have additional time to apply for an important program designed to help them feed their families during the COVID-19 pandemic. Applications are accepted online for the Pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer (P-EBT) program until Friday, August 14, 2020 at 4:30 p.m.

This extension provides the Tennessee Department of Human Services (TDHS) with more opportunity to continue outreach efforts with community organizations.

P-EBT provides parents with $5.70 in benefits per child for each day that child qualifies. These benefits can be used to purchase food at any establishment that accepts EBT or online with Amazon and Walmart.

To be eligible, children must receive free- or reduced-meals at school or attend a Community Eligibility Provision school. The program is designed to replace meals lost during the months of March, April and May due to COVID-19 school closures.

"Hundreds of thousands of children currently have access to additional nutritional support through our P-EBT program and we want to make sure more families are aware of this opportunity," said TDHS Commissioner Danielle W. Barnes. "These families depend on the meals their children get at school and immediately faced an unexpected financial burden when those schools closed. By providing these families with the support they need now we are taking important steps to build a thriving Tennessee when the pandemic passes."

TDHS initially launched P-EBT June 12, 2020 by providing the benefits to qualifying families that take part in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program. These families already have an existing EBT card and P-EBT benefits were automatically applied to those cards.

Families who do not currently receive SNAP or TANF need to apply for the program and will receive a P-EBT card in the mail after approval. Approval times can be delayed by inaccurate or incomplete information on the application so families are encouraged to double check all names and addresses to make sure they match what their children's schools will have on file.

Individuals who need assistance completing their P-EBT application or have general questions about the program are encouraged to call the TDHS Family Assistance Service Center at 1-866-311-4287.

Families can also download applications in Spanish, Somali and Arabic languages to complete and email to P-EBT.DHS@tn.gov.

The Families First Coronavirus Response Act authorized the U.S. Department of Agriculture to approve states for Pandemic EBT (P-EBT). Approved state agencies may operate P-EBT when a school is closed for at least five consecutive days during a public health emergency designation when the school would otherwise be in session. Tennessee is among the more than 40 states that have received P-EBT approval.

Carroll County Sheriff's Reports

Assault Suspect — Joseph Joyner, 41, of Big Sandy is being sought by authorities as a suspect in the recent assault of a Hollow Rock woman.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he responded to a residence on Ephesus Church Road on July 23 regarding an assault. Upon arrival, Scott spoke with Angela Reinhold, who said that Joyner had been at her home and had assaulted her outside the residence before leaving in a white Chevrolet pickup truck. Scott observed that Reinhold had marks on her nose and what appeared to be scratch marks on her neck and wrist. Scott noted that Reinhold gave a report to the Benton County Sheriff's Department on June 21 saying Joyner stole her SUV in Big Sandy.

License, Plate Violations — Douglas Adam Royal, 40, of 1855 Buck Ditch Road, Huntingdon, was cited for driving on a revoked license (fifth offense) and altering a registration plate during a July 22 traffic stop on Smyrna Road.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he conducted a traffic stop on a vehicle driven by Royal after observing the vehicle parked in the road with two males standing at the rear of the vehicle. Royal told Scott they had been working on a speaker in the trunk of the car. A computer check revealed that Royal's license was revoked for a prior DUI conviction. Scott also found the tags on the vehicle's license plate were expired and the plate did not match the vehicle's VIN number.

License Violation — Misty Myers, 39, of Milan was cited for driving on a revoked license during a June 21 traffic stop in Clarksburg.

Deputy Tommy Decanter reported that he pulled over a white four-door vehicle driven by Myers on Highway 22. A computer check showed that Myers' license was revoked for a prior DUI conviction.

Evading — Christopher Robert Harris, 30, and Chadwick Stallone Jordan, 30, both of Bruceton, were both issued citations for evading following a July 19 incident near Buena Vista.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he was patrolling on Buena Vista Road when he observed three yellow four-wheelers traveling in the opposite direction. Scott turned his patrol vehicle around to pursue but was no longer able to see the four-wheelers, though he could hear them. After turning onto Green Allen Springs Road, Scott spotted the four-wheelers and activated his blue lights and siren. Only one of the drivers stopped, while the other two kept going. Scott identified the driver who stopped as Daniel Harris, who told Scott he didn't know the full names of the other two drivers. Another deputy found the other two four-wheelers on the side of Smyrna Road, but the drivers had fled on foot. They were later identified as Robert Harris and Chadwick Stallone. Scott contacted them both by phone on July 22, and they both admitted to being the drivers of the four-wheelers.

High-Speed Pursuit — Anthony Wayne McBride, 35, of Bolivar was arrested following a high-speed pursuit on July 18 near Buena Vista.

According to the report by Deputy Christopher Adams, he and other deputies responded to 7240 Buena Vista Road to do a welfare check, and upon arrival, they observed two vehicles pulling away from the residence. Deputies followed the vehicles, and a high-speed pursuit ensued after both vehicles failed to stop at a stop sign.

Adams pursued one of the vehicles on Highway 114 South and then on Highway 424 and Yuma Road with speeds reaching up to 80 mph. The pursuit ended when the vehicle ran off the road on a sharp curve. McBride, the driver, told deputies that he had come to Carroll County to help a friend whose car was stuck in a ditch and that he did not want to go back to jail. A computer check showed that McBride's license was suspended. A passenger in the vehicle was identified as Donovan Burton of Mercer. Burton told deputies that he had called 911 during the pursuit, and deputies confirmed this with dispatch. McBride was transported to the Carroll County Jail.

Assault, Vandalism — Amber Cheyenne Walker, 26, of 711 North Main Street, McKenzie, and Marlena Flores, 26, of 845 Northwood Drive, Huntingdon, are both suspected of assaulting a McKenzie woman and vandalizing her home on July 18.

According to the report by Deputy Steven Scott, he responded to a call about a vandalism at 60 Hilltop Drive and spoke with Brittany Hill, who said that Walker and Flores had come to her house and beat on the door. Hill said she told them to go away, but they refused, and when she opened the door, the two women pushed their way into the house and started assaulting her. Scott observed that Hill had blood on her shirt and two swollen black eyes. Hill said that Walker and Flores also damaged her TV by knocking it over and damaging the screen. The TV was valued at $300. Walker and Flores had not yet been charged at the time of the report.

Huntingdon Police Reports

Public Intoxication — Christopher Michael Bennett, 40, was charged with public intoxication on July 19 at a Huntingdon residence.

According to the report by Officer Brad Allen, he was dispatched to the Skyline Drive area regarding a suspicious person. Upon arrival, Allen found Bennett standing at an address where he did not live, and Bennett seemed to be under the influence of a narcotic. Bennett told Allen he was not sure where he was going or what he was doing at that address. Allen then took Bennett into custody and transported him to the Carroll County Jail.

Public Intoxication — Orpah Dianne Anders, 64, of Huntingdon was charged with public intoxication on July 18 at a Huntingdon business.

Officer Brad Allen reported he was dispatched to Little General in regards to an intoxicated person. Upon arrival, Allen spoke with Anders, and while speaking with her, he detected the odor of an alcoholic beverage and noticed that her speech was slurred. Anders was transported from the scene to the Carroll County Jail.

SUBSTITUTE TRUSTEE'S SALE

Sale at public auction will be on August 17, 2020 at 10 a.m. local time, at the east door, Carroll County Courthouse, 99 Court Square, Huntingdon, Tennessee pursuant to Deed of Trust executed by Stepheni Estok, to Susan Voss, Trustee, as trustee for Regions Bank d/b/a Regions Mortgage on October 30, 2018 at Trust Deed 674, Page 763, Instrument No. 175441; conducted by Shapiro & Ingle, LLP, having been appointed Substitute or Successor Trustee, all of record in the Carroll County Register's Office. Default has occurred in the performance of the covenants, terms, and conditions of said Deed of Trust and the entire indebtedness has been declared due and payable.

Party Entitled to Enforce the Debt: Regions Bank dba Regions Mortgage, its successors and assigns.

The real estate located in Carroll County, Tennessee, and described in the said Deed of Trust will be sold to the highest call bidder. The terms of the said Deed of Trust may be modified by other instruments appearing in the public record. Additional identifying information regarding the collateral property is below and is believed to be accurate, but no representation or warrant is intended.

Street Address: 8460 Hwy 77, Huntingdon, Tennessee 38344
Parcel Number: 075 035.00
Current Owner(s) of Property: Stepheni Estok

This sale is subject to, without limitation, all matters shown on any applicable recorded plat; any unpaid taxes; any restrictive covenants, easements, or setback lines that may be applicable; any statutory right of redemption of any governmental agency, state or federal; any prior liens or encumbrances including those created by a fixture filing or any applicable homeowners' association dues or assessments; all claims or other matters, whether of record or not, which may encumber the purchaser's title and any matter that an accurate survey of the premises might disclose.

The following parties may claim an interest in the above-referenced property to be affected by the foreclosure: any judgment creditor or lien holder with an interest subordinate to the said Deed of Trust or any party claiming by, through, or under any of the foregoing. Such parties known to the Substitute Trustee may include: None.

Terms of Sale will be public auction, for cash, free and clear of rights of homestead, redemption and dower to the extent disclaimed or inapplicable, and the rights of Stepheni Estok, and those claiming through him/her/it/them.

Any right of equity of redemption, statutory and otherwise, and homestead are waived in accord with the terms of said Deed of Trust, and the title is believed to be good, but the undersigned will sell and convey only as Substitute Trustee.

The right is reserved to adjourn the day of the sale to another day, time, and place certain without further publication, upon announcement at the time and place for the sale set forth above. If you purchase a property at the foreclosure sale, the entire purchase price is due and payable at the conclusion of the auction in the form of a certified/bank check made payable to or endorsed to Shapiro & Ingle, LLP. No personal checks will be accepted. To this end, you must bring sufficient funds to outbid the lender and any other bidders. Insufficient funds will not be accepted. Amounts received in excess of the winning bid will be refunded to the successful purchaser at the time the foreclosure deed is delivered.

This property is being sold with the express reservation that the sale is subject to confirmation by the lender or trustee. This sale may be rescinded only by the Substitute Trustee at any time. If the Substitute Trustee rescinds the sale, the purchaser shall only be entitled to a return of any money paid towards the purchase price and shall have no other recourse. Once the purchaser tenders the purchase price, the Substitute Trustee may deem the sale final in which case the purchaser shall have no remedy. The real property will be sold AS IS, WHERE IS, with no warranties or representations of any kind, express or implied, including without limitation, warranties regarding condition of the property or marketability of title.

This office may be a debt collector. This may be an attempt to collect a debt and any information obtained may be used for that purpose.

McKenzie Police Reports

Three Charged on Separate Charges — On July 22, officers Raspberry and Beauchamp charged Whitney Kirkpatrick, 26, 717 Main Street, with failure to appear after failing to report to Carroll County Jail for booking procedures during a 10-day cite-in period. Going nearby at 711 Main Street, officers arrested Marlena Alexis Flores, 26, 711 Main Street, on active warrants out of Carroll and Henry counties. The officers allowed Flores to make arrangement for her child. While on the phone, Flores mentioned another person, Amber Cheyenne Walker, 26 of 711 Main could not care for the child because she was working at a nearby restaurant. With the assistance of officers Townes and Boaz, MPD went to the restaurant and arrested Walker on an active warrant. Both Flores and Walker were transported to Carroll County Jail.

Violation of Order of Protection — Officer Trey Boucher arrested two persons on separate charges on July 25. According to a report, Boucher and Patrolman Jeff Lowden located Tracy Allen Borum, 38, at her Magnolia Avenue home and arrested her for contempt of court. At that residence, the officers located Billy Borum, 47, who had an order of protection that prohibited him being with Mrs. Borum.

Driving on Suspended License-Fourth Offense — Officer Dalton Raspberry charged James Paul Henry Gibson, 41, Euclid Avenue with driving on a suspended license and expired registration on July 19. The officer noticed the expired tags and initiated the traffic stop. A check of Gibson's license revealed the suspended status. He was charged with driving on suspended-fourth offense. Due to the COVID-19 situation, Gibson was cited into jail instead of being transported. A driver with a valid license was allowed to remove the car.

Driving Under the Influence — Officer Cody Coleman charged Christopher Dakota Terry, 21, Highland Drive, McKenzie, with driving under the influence, simple possession, and driving on suspended license after a traffic stop on July 21 on Woodrow Avenue. MPD received a call about a car behind the McKenzie Middle School. When Officer Coleman arrived, he spotted the car traveling on Woodrow in the wrong direction. The officer indicated he smelled marijuana and an intoxicating beverage. Terry reportedly did poorly on a field sobriety test and was charged with DUI-first offense.

A juvenile was in the front seat and produced a bag of marijuana. He was cited into court.

Driving on a Revoked License — Officer Jeremiah Brooks charged Jamie R. Taylor, 33, Charity Lane, Huntingdon, with driving on a revoked after a traffic stop for illegal window tinting on July 22. Taylor had one prior conviction for driving on revoked. Taylor was cited for too dark of window tinting.

Aggravated Assault — Officer Jeff Winberry charged James E. Spranger, 52, Highland Drive, McKenzie, with aggravated assault, possession of a handgun while under the influence, and simple possession after a road rage incident on July 25.

According to the report, a driver of a second vehicle attempted to overtake Spranger's car, which angered Spranger. The other driver indicated Spranger was all over the road. Spranger reportedly pulled a gun and drove up beside the other driver and his passenger.

The officer reportedly found marijuana in a sunglasses case and some empty and full containers of alcohol.

Reckless Driving, Evading Arrest — Officer Cody Coleman charged Mondarius D. Helms, 21, Jackson with evading arrest and reckless driving on July 26. According to the report, Helms was fleeing from Milan police, who broke off the chase. The McKenzie officers, Coleman, Boucher and Lowden set up on Highway 79 near Oak Manor Road.

A Carroll County deputy was in pursuit. Boucher and Coleman were positioned in the northbound lane attempting to initiate a rolling stop. The car made a u-turn and started traveling south on U.S. 79. A second county deputy was positioned along U.S. 79 between McKenzie and Trezevant and the first deputy was pursuing the subject. MPD stopped its high-speed pursuit and continued south. Carroll County Sheriff's Deputy deployed a stop stick on the vehicle, which eventually stopped near Wingo Circle. The subject refused to exit the stopped car and officers forced him to the ground and placed in cuffs.

Bethel Lady Wildcats Basketball Adds Graduate Assistant to Staff

MCKENZIE (July 14) — Bethel Coach Chris Nelson announced Tuesday the addition of Emayne Robertson to his coaching staff. The former UT Martin standout will serve as a graduate assistant with the Lady Wildcats.

Before attending UTM, Robertson was a TSSAA All-State performer at White Station High School in Memphis. Robertson excelled with the UT Martin Skyhawks, being named MVP of the team in 2019. She was named to the OVC First Team and captured the OVC Defensive Player of the Year. Robertson was also named to the league's all-tournament squad.

She is a member of the White Station and UTM 1,000 Point Clubs.

"We are excited to add Emayne to our coaching staff. She is a proven winner and comes from a championship program where we know fundamentals and mental toughness is held to a high standard," Coach Nelson said.

Smith Named Coach of Women's Golf at Bethel

MCKENZIE — Larry Joe Smith is the co-head coach of the Bethel University Women's Golf program. Smith will work alongside John Austin until May 2021 and then assume the role as head coach of the Lady Wildcats.

Bethel Associate Athletic Director Brad Chappell stated, "I am really excited about the direction our golf programs are headed. The hiring of Larry Joe Smith for the women and John Austin for the men will continue that upward trend. Coach Smith and I have had many different relationships - teacher/student, coach/player, colleague, mentor and friend. Both are tuned in to the local golf scene and know what it takes to win. They are invested in our community and passionate about golf. I am really excited to bring these two guys on board and expect BU golf to continue finding success both on the course and in the classroom."

Smith commented, "You never know when the good Lord will open a door of opportunity for you. As I end one career in public education, I look forward to the challenges of recruiting and coaching young ladies who not only love the game of golf, but are also eager to improve their game, while representing Bethel University with class and integrity."

Longtime educator and coach, Smith, has 38 years of teaching and coaching experience, with two years at Desoto Academy in West Helena, Arkansas, and the last 36 at his high school Alma Mater, McKenzie High School.

During his coaching career, Smith was an assistant football coach, head boys' and girls' basketball coach, head baseball and softball coach, and the head boys and girls golf coach for 28 years, two in Arkansas and the last 26 at McKenzie.

Smith has amassed over

Larry Joe Smith

1,000 career wins as a golf coach that includes seven state tournament appearances with teams and multiple other state tournament appearances with individuals. He's also was named West Tennessee Golf Coach of the Year three times, as well as a three-time club champion at Carroll Lake Golf Club in McKenzie.

Smith was a former student and golfer at Bethel University having played for former Bethel Golf coach, Dr. Jerry Wilcoxson. Smith is a graduate of Murray State University and also holds a Masters Degree from Trevecca Nazarene University in Nashville.

With a degree in Education and a minor in radio and television, he has served as the long time play by play and public address announcer for the McKenzie football program.

Smith has been married 36 years to his wife, Tiffany, a Bethel graduate, and a current 4th-grade teacher at McKenzie. They have three sons, Marshall, Kendall, and Collin, five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Austin Named Golf Coach at Bethel

MCKENZIE — John Austin was named Men's Golf Coach at Bethel University. Along with Larry Joe Smith, Austin will also serve as co-coach of the women's program. Smith will assume the role as head coach in May 2021.

Bethel Associate Athletic Director Brad Chappell said, "I am really excited about the direction our golf programs are headed. The hiring of Larry Joe Smith for the women and John Austin for the men will continue that upward trend. I have known both of these men for decades. John and I attended Bethel together. Both are tuned in to the local golf scene and know what it takes to win. They are invested in our community and passionate about golf. I am really excited to bring these two guys on board and expect BU golf to continue finding success both on the course and in the classroom."

Austin commented, "This will be my first year as the coach of the Bethel University Golf teams and I am really excited about this opportunity. I am a 1991 graduate of Bethel as well as a four-year member of the Wildcat golf team. I was an all-conference player and had the privilege to be part of the first team to participate in a national tournament for Bethel in 1991 in Oklahoma City. I met my wife, Natalie Surber at Bethel in 1991 and we were married in 1992. We have two sons, Reed and Ben."

Austin added, "I look forward to continuing to grow the golf programs and growing men and women into champions both on and off the course."

Austin is a native of Jackson, Tennessee but has called McKenzie home since 1991 with a brief stint in Memphis for a few years. He has the last 29 years in the private sector business world dealing with medical, engineering and production.

Marching Rebels Prepare for Unique Season

BY BRAD SAM

MCKENZIE (July 20-24) — The McKenzie High School Marching Rebels spent last week at band camp preparing for the upcoming field show season, though it will be a very different fall for the band due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

MHS Band Director Keith Breeden, like many other directors in the area, announced earlier this month his band would forego competition this year. Still, with every effort being made to have a football season, Breeden is preparing his band to give fun, crowd-pleasing audiences on Friday nights.

The 42-member band has prepared two shows, Motown hits and the music of Journey, and may work on a third consisting of modern pop hits. There will be almost no marching, but the color guard has a full routine. The percussion will utilize more electronics than usual.

Breeden told The Banner, “There will be less pressure, but we’ll still play well. It’s going to be a good experience for everyone. You can make a plus out of a minus most of the time if you try. I never thought that we would be dealing with something like this in today’s society... We’re all in it together. We’re learning together. We’re going to make mistakes together. That’s all of us.”

The Marching Rebels will perform at home games, but Breeden isn’t sure yet about away games. Band members split up into their sections for the camp, utilizing different areas of the school in order to social distance.

One thing that didn’t change was Breeden bringing in a staff of former students to serve as instructors at the camp: Tremayne Johnson and Dylan Cary for percussion, Brian Finley and Annias Haney for woodwinds, Michael Keenan for trumpets, Michael Carter for low brass and Nina Phifer and Kyla Steele for color guard.

West Carroll Elementary School Beta Club Places in National Competition

TREZEVANT (July 22) — The last few months, National Beta members from West Carroll Elementary School worked to submit their entries for the National Beta Virtual Convention. In late July, they were able to celebrate that hard work when announced as winners of the following competitions:

10th Place Club Trading Pin, Jack Robinson

NATIONAL CHAMPION 2-D Design, Zac Fowler, Jace Hammett, Jack Robinson

10th place, Marketing & Communications, Piper DePriest, Aubrey Hammett, Alyssa Morris

3rd place, Service Learning, Piper DePriest

5th place, Visual Arts Sculpture, Brayden Arnold

10th place, Living Literature-Leah Cherry, Sawyer Jackson, Gunner Martin, Brady Johnson

9th place, 4th Grade Math Aubrey Hammett

6th place, 4th Grade Social Studies, Carson Cooper

4th Grade Social Studies, National Runner Up, 5th Grade Math, Jack Robinson

West Carroll Elementary School Beta Club originally competed and received awards during their State Convention in Nashville, Tennessee in November. Their victories at the state level provided an opportunity to compete at the national level. The National Convention, originally planned to be held in Fort Worth, TX, was cancelled due to health and safety concerns stemming from the Coronavirus pandemic. However, over 12,000 Junior Beta (grades 4-8) and Senior Beta (grades 9-12) students were able to represent their schools in the first National Beta Virtual Convention. Although students were unable to attend the National Convention in Fort Worth, all students eligible to compete at the National Convention celebrated at a Swimming Watch Party on July 17th.

West Carroll Elementary School Beta Club began in 2018 with sponsors Brittany Fowler, Beth Bridges, and Michelle Robinson. In addition to earning multiple State and National awards this school year, WCES Beta Club earned multiple state awards during the 2018-2019 school year.

Carroll County Library Offers Hotspots, Technology Classes

COURTESY JENNIFER THORNTON
Director, Carroll County Library

While keeping busy offering curbside services, children’s grab-n-go meals, virtual and in-person programming and computers by appointment, the Carroll County Library staff have also been tirelessly working to bring patrons new materials, programming and technological access.

Most recent materials acquisitions include extensive additions to all graphic novel collections, the introduction of pop-up books for all ages and hotspots-devices used to extend internet access to remote areas. All of these items are currently listed in the library database and available for check-out.

In addition to regularly-scheduled programming, the library will join Discovery Park of America and other regional libraries in creating a socially-distanced Storybook Drive in which participants remain in their cars and simply drive through a fun retelling of the classic book The Three Little Pigs Saturday, July 25, 9-10 a.m.

Also coming soon to the library are technology classes in the following areas: Adult/Teen Resume Building; Online Job Search and Application Process; Computer and Online Basics; Computer and Online Privacy and Security; Social Media Basics; Digital Presentations/Sharing - Google Docs/Drive, Office Suite, “The Cloud,” etc.; Internet Searching Basics; Digital Design Basics; and Library Resources - Online Database and Beyond.

Please call the library to be placed on the class list. These classes will be offered virtually and in-person. Exact dates and times will be announced at a later date.

As always, the library provides free 24-hour access to wi-fi, including parking lot access for social distancing and after-hours needs; current event notifications and online programming through social media, including Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and YouTube; and online access to their database <https://tenv.agverso.com/dashboard?cid=tenv&lid=carrollco>. To browse and request materials, simply log in with your library card number and personal password.

For more information on any of these programs and services, stop by the library in Huntingdon, call us at 731-986-1919 or message us on our Facebook page, Carroll County Library.

HUNTINGDON (July 23) — Ollie Otter visited the Carroll County Library Thursday as part of the summer reading program. Ollie teaches kids and parents about seat belt and booster seat safety.

Ollie Otter and West Tennessee Coordinator Jennifer Tyler presented the program, which emphasizes the importance of proper seat belt and booster seat use, refraining from using phones while driving and slowing down when road workers are present.

After the program, kids were given packets of Ollie Otter goodies.

The Ollie Otter Seat Belt and Booster Seat Safety Program was developed by the Tennessee Road Builders Association and Tennessee Tech University to educate children with interactive programs through sponsorship with the Tennessee Highway Safety Office.

TSSAA Adopts COVID-19 Regulations, Fall Sports Contingency Plans

BY BRAD SAM

© 2020 Tri-County Pub., Inc.

MURFREESBORO (July 22) — The Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association (TSSAA) Board of Control met Wednesday and approved an outline for the football and girls’ soccer seasons and adopted COVID-19 guidelines and procedures required of all member institutions who wish to compete in all athletics in the 2020-21 calendar school year.

“The regulations and guidelines the Board passed today go into effect immediately for all sports,” said Bernard Childress, Executive Director of the TSSAA. “We’re hopeful that the prohibition on contact sports will be lifted before August 29, but if it’s not, the Board of Control has put some policies in place to help keep our kids and communities safe and lay out a roadmap to the start of our football and girls’ soccer seasons.”

Tennessee high schools and their athletics programs cannot begin practices and/or games in contact sports under Governor Bill Lee’s current State of Emergency Order. Executive Order No. 50 promotes “social distancing and avoidance of large gatherings” and limits activities in contact sports.

“We are working hand-in-hand with the Governor’s Office,” Childress said. “Everything presented today has been vetted by the Governor’s Office, agreed upon by their legal counsel and by our legal counsel.”

“The governor’s [executive order] is still in place. We cannot do anything right now other than weightlifting, conditioning, heat acclimation periods with no contact. This is not TSSAA vs. the Governor’s Office. Everything has been a joint effort and we are not in conflict. Our goal is to have an ordinary season as much as possible.”

For football’s “Option 2 Hybrid” plan, the state preserves the potential for an ten-game regular season and full playoff format, but also lays the groundwork for what could become an eight-game season with a reduced playoff field for Division I.

On August 4, if the State of Emergency declaration still stands, region games originally scheduled for Week 1 of the prep football season will be moved to later, common dates that TSSAA already has modeled. As each week passes where no contact is allowed, the next week’s region games are rescheduled.

With the Option 2 Hybrid plan, there is a potential start date in place and a plan for the season to begin as early as August 21 or as late as September 18.

“As of this past Monday, football teams were permitted to begin their heat acclimatization, which can be done without contact,” said Richard McWhirter, TSSAA Assistant Executive Director. “Understanding though, that heat acclimatization is ‘per athlete,’ I recommend that schools get students’ acclimatization done as soon as possible. Athletes that have completed acclimated by the time the contact order is lifted are then ready to begin full contact practice.”

The board also addressed how COVID-19 outbreaks will be handled for both the regular and postseason competition. A regular-season game becomes a win for seeding purposes if the opposing team can’t play due to COVID-19, but the team struck with illness would receive neither a win nor a loss. If both teams confront outbreaks of the virus, it is considered a “no-contest.”

Additionally, for all sports and not merely the upcoming fall divisions of cross country, golf, volleyball, football and girls’ soccer, the TSSAA and its board voted unanimously to allow students whose school systems are beginning with remote instruction to still be allowed as full participants in all sports.

For girls’ soccer, the TSSAA adopted a plan to begin the season on September 7 granted the governor’s order is lifted after the current August 29 expiration date. The regular season would last eight weeks with championships set for November 11-14. If the order is lifted prior to August 10, the season and championships will proceed as usual with no changes.

COVID-19 regulations for all sports include regular temperature and symptom checks for all players and coaches before every practice and contest. Spectators at TSSAA events will be required to have temperature checks, wear face coverings and socially distance. Member schools are encouraged to limit attendance and discouraged from offering concessions.

Band members and cheerleaders are also required to undergo temperature and symptom checks before entering practices and contests. The TSSAA discourages the use of bands altogether.

See the complete sports regulations, rules modifications and contingency plans on the Tennessee Returns To Play page at tssaa.org.

McKENZIE — E.W. James and produce manager Kristie Wainscott were recently awarded Honorable Mention in the national Idaho Potato Lover's Display Contest.

The annual contest challenges grocery retailers to create unique displays featuring Idaho Potatoes, Hormel bacon toppings and Fresh Gourmet products.

Wainscott constructed her Star Wars-themed display in February with help from produce associate Dennis Reed. The store ordered a variety of products for the display, and Wainscott gathered Star Wars items to include from friends and family.

She and the store were notified in early July of their selection to the Honorable Mention list in their store category, which is based on the number of registers.

Wainscott told The Banner, "It's good news for the community. It's something fun and different to hopefully get people to shop locally." She credited store manager Jason Sellers with his support.

Sellers told The Banner, "We're always trying to promote talent from within. Kristie has made a great addition to our E.W. family here in McKenzie. We try to cultivate creative ideas that help our associates grow and learn."

(L to R) Marsy's Law for Tennessee State Director Bonnie Brezina honored State Senator John Stevens of Huntingdon with the Champion of Victims' Rights Award for sponsoring the bill (Marsy's Law) that advocates more rights for victims of crime. They were joined by Victims Outreach Director Marianne Dunavant.

Senator Stevens Honored with Champion of Victims' Rights Award

NASHVILLE (July 16) — Last week, Marsy's Law for Tennessee presented State Senator John Stevens of Huntingdon with the Champion of Victims' Rights Award for his dedication to protecting the rights of crime victims in the Tennessee General Assembly.

State Representative Patsy Hazlewood of Signal Mountain also received the award.

"We couldn't ask for better advocates for Marsy's Law in the General Assembly than Senator Stevens and Representative Hazlewood," said Marsy's Law for Tennessee State Director Bonnie Brezina. "Their passion and concern for victims and their commitment to ensure crime victims have equal rights to those accused means so much to the thousands of survivors and families in Tennessee who fall victim to crime every year."

Brezina, Victims Outreach Director Marianne Dunavant, and other Marsy's Law for Tennessee team members presented the award Thursday afternoon in the lawmakers' offices in the Cordell Hull Building in Nashville.

Senator Stevens and Representative Hazlewood have both endorsed Marsy's Law for Tennessee — a law that will ensure that victims of crime have equal, constitutional rights on the same level as those accused and convicted of crimes — and sponsored the bill in the 111th General Assembly that was cut short due to COVID-19.

"It's an honor to be recognized as championing a cause that's so important to Tennesseans," Stevens said. "We will do everything in our power to see that victims of crime have equal, constitutional rights," he added.

Adopting Marsy's Law in Tennessee will provide victims with the ability to assert the critical rights to which they are promised including:

- The right to be treated with fairness for the victim's safety, dignity, and privacy;
- The right, upon request, to reasonable and timely notice of, and to be present at, all criminal public proceedings and all juvenile delinquency proceedings involving the accused;
- The right to be heard in any proceeding involving release, plea, sentencing, disposition, and parole, as well as any public proceeding during which a right of the victim is implicated;
- The right to be free from harassment, intimidation, and abuse throughout the criminal justice system, including reasonable protection from the accused or any person acting on behalf of the accused;
- The right, upon request, to reasonable notice of any release or escape of an accused;
- The right to refuse a request by the defendant, the defendant's attorney, or any other person acting on behalf of the defendant for an interview, deposition, discovery request, or other communication with the victim;

- The right to full and timely restitution from the offender;
- The right to a speedy trial or disposition and a prompt and final conclusion of the case after the conviction or sentence;
- The right, upon request, to confer with the prosecution;
- The right to be fully informed of all rights afforded to crime victims.

For more information, visit marsyslawfortn.com.

Marsy's Law is named after Marsalee "Marsy" Nicholas of California, who was stalked and killed by her ex-boyfriend in 1983. Only one week after her death, Marsy's mother and brother, Henry T. Nicholas, walked into a grocery store where they were confronted by the accused murderer. The family, who had just come from a visit to Marsy's grave, was unaware that the accused had been released on bail.

In an effort to honor his sister, Dr. Nicholas made it his mission to give victims and their families constitutional protections and equal rights. He formed Marsy's Law for All in 2009, providing expertise and resources to victims' rights organizations nationwide.
