TVA Partnership Awards MHS STEM Grant

NASHVILLE — The Tennessee Valley Authority, in partnership with Carroll County Electric and Bicentennial Volunteers Incorporated (a TVA retiree organization), recently awarded McKenzie High School, $5,000 for a STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) education project.

The grant award is a part of $800,000 in competitive STEM grants awarded to nearly 200 schools across TVA's seven-state service territory.

“McKenzie High School is thrilled to be awarded by TVA. We have just started our STEM Program at MHS and this money will be an important step in the implementation of our program,” said, Kelly Spivey, principal of McKenzie High School.

Across the valley, educators submitted projects large and small, to further their STEM education initiatives in the classroom.

The project McKenzie High School submitted will purchase a classroom set of VexIQ robots for the students to learn coding.

The competitive grant program provided teachers an opportunity to apply for funding up to $5,000 and preference was given to grant applications that explored TVA's primary areas of focus: environment, energy, economic and career development and community problem solving as well as pandemic related projects. Schools who receive grant funding must receive their power from a TVA distributor.

“Despite the new challenges Valley teacher's faced in 2020, they are still focused on providing the best STEM education possible and have adjusted to new ways of teaching,” said Community Engagement Senior Program Manager Rachel Crickmar. “I am proud of the partnerships we have built with these amazing educators across the Tennessee Valley over the past few years and are pleased to be able to provide some support through this program. Through the grants awarded this year, over 72,000 students will be directly impacted across the Valley.”

A full list of the grant recipients can be found at www.tvastem.com.

The Tennessee Valley Authority is a corporate agency of the United States that provides electricity for business customers and local power companies serving nearly 10 million people in parts of seven southeastern states. TVA receives no taxpayer funding, deriving virtually all of its revenues from sales of electricity. In addition to operating and investing its revenues in its electric system, TVA provides flood control, navigation and land management for the Tennessee River system and assists local power companies and state and local governments with economic development and job creation.

"To the parents and the community of the students that I have taught and will later have the opportunity to work with, thank you for allowing me to work with your child. One of my main goals as the high school principal is to foster a place of positive generational change for your children. This is an effort that we as a school district, from primary to high school, cannot do alone as we will need your help at home in order to accomplish this. I hope each student's entire school experience will foster positive skills and traits that they can take with them to be successful and that they will then pass those same traits on to their children thus creating generational success. Along this journey I'm sure I will make mistakes, but I want you to know that I will always have your child's best interest at heart with each decision that I make. Thank you so much in advance for your support; for that, I am forever grateful.

Director Dillahunt said the school's financial audit provided no adverse finding at the system level and a few finding at the school site level, mainly because teachers fail to submit student money daily to the bookkeeper and lack of segregation of financial duties due to the limited staff size.

Monica Heath, executive director of the McKenzie Industrial Board, will also serve as executive director of the newly formed McKenzie Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Her services will be funded by the Industrial Board. She noted the newly formed Chamber has approximately 60 members with a early goal of at least 100. Dues start July 1 when the Chamber's year begins. The interim board will work to serve to move the Chamber forward. Each member's contact information, list of services, and social media accounts will be listed on the Chamber's website. Each year, the Chamber's finances will be audited, said Heath.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

It Didn't Take A WHOLE Village

Me and Leon would get into an ugly staring contest by crossing our eyes and sticking out our tongues at each other. Mom would invariably say, "You boys stop that. You do it long enough and your eyes will stick that way!"

Well, time proved that old adage "mothers are always right" a wee bit of a misnomer...

Now when Mother said, "You keep at it, and I'm going to finish it for you!" she didn't mean she was going to wiggle her nose, cross her eyes and try to out stare us. Despite the abrupt ending, Leon still "declared" himself the winner the second we got outside—just because he was the oldest! I didn't look away, I didn't get tickled, there's no way I lost... When he said it again, I hit him with a rake handle. He threw me over the woodpile. I came up firing oak logs at him.

We hadn't even drawn blood when Mom stuck her head out the back door, "Do I need to finish that!"

She didn't need a whistle to keep order.

Her favorite line was, "Y'all be careful." She wore that one out! We'd be leaving for school. It was a simple half mile walk up Stonewall Street. There wasn't nothing that could possibly go wrong, unless Leon was still upset about that rake handle attacking him... Mom would follow along as far as Karen Webb's house, waving and "be careful-ling" us!

It was "some-more" embarrassing as the years rolled on.

Yogi and Buddy would come over, we're going out in the backyard to throw a baseball around or play Mumbley Peg. Mom would follow us to the door and remind teenagers, mind you, to, "Be careful."

Ye gads! I fainted dead away by reason of abject mortification on several occasions!

Can you imagine bringing the girl of your dreams over to the house for the first time! I was in college. Cathy and I stopped by for a lunchmeat sandwich on our way to the golf course. I'm being on my best behavior. I want Cathy to see how mature and grown up—

As I opened the door of the Corvair to seat her as royally and gentlemanly as possible, Mom ran out on the porch and fairly screamed, "Y'all be careful!"

Dad never used that line. His mantra was "be good and do right." It mostly was about work ethic; and thoughtfulness and respect and proper attitude. And he only said it one time to me in my whole life. He didn't figure he had to chew his cabbage twice.

He did, however, demand correct results. I learned (sometimes the hard way) over the years exactly what he meant! And he didn't teach as much as he expected. Today's TV psychologists refer to it as Observational Learning.

Back then we called it going to the store.

Dad would send us to the grocery up the road for some bread, a pack of Camels and a jar of mayonnaise. You'd better be back in the allotted time extending him the goods in one hand and his change in the other.

He always let you keep the change. If you offered it back. If you didn't—he didn't. It only took a couple of trips to grasp the deeper meaning.

Dad said "no" a lot. We'd ask if we could skip cutting okra and go to the baseball field and it was "no." If we wanted to spend the afternoon at the Melton's riding horses—"We will mow the yard when we get home"—it was "no." If we wanted to cruise Frank's Dairy Bar instead of shelling Purple Hull peas, we got the same answer.

It took a while to figure out there is a proper order in life.

If we wanted a "yes" all we had to do was finish planting the corn, stalk three rows of tomatoes, trim the mimosa tree, pick a hamper of Kentucky Wonders, chop the rest of the cotton, empty the truck and pull up a mess of carrots for supper.

It was easy to get on Dad's good side. Just do what you should do...

Mom would cook those carrots down and make us take a few bites declaring, "They are good for your eyes!"

I'd manage to get a small portion of the awful tasting things in my mouth for appearance sake. But I couldn't hardly swallow, silently thinking there is ABSOLUTELY no connection between carrots and vision...but I didn't say anything for two reasons.

One, it would cross Daddy's respect line by a country mile.

And you've got to give Mom a little slack. It was only the second mistake she ever made in her life!

Respectfully,
Kes

PS: As my eyesight worsens over the years, I'm not so dead certain positive anymore about that last mistake.

Throughout history God has used nations and political leaders to fulfill His plan. Dr. Holsinger looks at the six major Gentile world powers identified in the Bible and the last eight U.S. presidents and we see how their decisions have set the stage for the fulfillment of prophecy identified in scripture. Look at what is happening today: Wars, rumors of war, famines, earthquakes, shootings, riots, chaos, economic volatility, political unrest and immorality – Why is God allowing these things to happen? Join Dr. Don Holsinger to answer this question with this timely teaching on "Kings, Presidents, Politics & Prophecy."

After lunch come with us as we prepare for Easter with a pictorial, prophetic tour of Israel. Walk in the steps of Jesus according to the book of Luke and visit some of the prophetic sites identified in Daniel, Ezekiel and Revelation.

Huntingdon Police Reports

Aggravated Assault — Warrants were recently issued against Brandon D. Gilbert (age and address not provided) on charges of domestic assault and aggravated assault.

According to the report by Officer Carlton Cupples, officers responded to a domestic call at a Huntingdon residence on March 5. Coteschia Pearson told officers that her boyfriend (Gilbert) had assaulted her by striking her multiple times on the face and head with his fists, strangling her from behind, and throwing her down on the floor. She said Gilbert took her cellphone when she tried to call 911 but then gave it back when she started to walk to a neighbor's house. She then drove to the end of her street and called authorities. Gilbert had fled the scene on foot by the time officers arrived. EMS responders were called to the scene to check on Pearson, who is pregnant. She was then driven to the hospital by a family member.

Multiple Drug Charges — Bethany Amanda Middleton, 40, and Dain Cameron Hudson (age not provided) were both arrested on multiple drug charges on March 1 in Huntingdon. According to the report by Officer Joseph Hedge, the HPD received information that methamphetamine and heroin were being sold by Middleton and Hudson from a Huntingdon residence. Police officers and a parole officer went to the residence, and Middleton and Hudson arrived together shortly thereafter. After getting permission to search the home, officers found .2 grams of heroin, .2 grams of "China White" heroin, 62.6 grams of meth, and various items of drug paraphernalia. A total of $2,090 was found in Hudson's possession, and the cash was seized, along with Hudson's cell phone.

Drugs, License Violation — Taywone D. Hart, 44, of Savannah was charged with simple possession, drug paraphernalia, and driving on a suspended license, and Stephanie Klobucar (age and address not provided) was arrested on an outstanding warrant during a March 3 traffic stop in Huntingdon.

According to the report by Officer Angela Barker, she pulled over a vehicle driven by Hart with Klobucar as a passenger on Lexington Street because she had prior knowledge that Hart's license was suspended. While speaking with Hart, Barker detected the odor of marijuana and obtained Hart's permission to search the vehicle. During that search, she found a hand-rolled marijuana cigarette, a container of THC wax, and items of drug paraphernalia. A computer check showed that Hart had active warrants out of Henderson County.

Drug Arrests — James Brown, 50, and Candis Highsmith, 39, both of Huntingdon, were both arrested on various drug and drug paraphernalia charges on March 1 at Brown's residence.

According to the report by Officer Joseph Hedge, officers conducted a search warrant at Brown's residence after receiving information that methamphetamine was being sold there. Brown, Highsmith, and two other people were at the residence when officers arrived. During that search, officers found 28.1 grams of marijuana, a meth pipe with a small amount of meth in it, and various items of drug paraphernalia. A total of $630 in cash was found in Brown's possession. The cash and three cell phones were seized by officers. After coming to a stop, Toombs immediately got out of the truck, refused Hamilton's request to get back in the truck and became aggressive with deputies. Hamilton noted that he could smell the odor of alcohol coming from Toombs. Toombs also refused to provide deputies with a driver's license or submit to field sobriety, blood, or breath tests. Approximately .53 grams of a crystal-like substance, two syringes, and a set of digital scales were found in Winsett's possession.

Drug Charges — Lauren Brooke Rich, 30, of 120 Bridgeman Street, Lot #33, Huntingdon, was charged with drug possession on March 16 at her home.

According to the report by Deputy Jackie Wallace, deputies conducted a warranted search of Rich's residence in regards to an identity theft investigation and found 12 grams of a substance that field-tested positive for methamphetamine, a jar containing a small amount of marijuana, a bottle of miscellaneous pills, and several items of drug paraphernalia.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

War Eagles' Historic Run Ends With First-Round Loss to MAHS

MURFREESBORO (March 17) — The West Carroll War Eagles ended a historic season Wednesday with a 56-52 loss to Memphis Academy of Health Sciences in the first round of the TSSAA Class A State Boys' Basketball Tournament.

The War Eagles end the year with a 21-9 record. The state tournament loss ended a 12-game winning streak for the team dating back to February 1. MAHS would advance to the title game, where they were defeated 62-52 by Class A state champion Clay County.

West Carroll led for most of the first frame, up 14-10 at the buzzer. The MAHS Lions rallied in a back-and-forth second quarter, but the War Eagles took a 27-24 lead into the locker room for intermission. The Lions pulled ahead early in the third and never trailed again. After three quarters, the War Eagles trailed 38-31. West Carroll got the deficit down to as little as three points five separate times in the final minute, but the 21-18 fourth-quarter rally came up just short.
