Arrow Paving Selected to Repair University Drive

McKENZIE (October 29) — In a special called meeting, the McKenzie City Board of Mayor and Council accepted the bid by Arrow Paving Company, Inc. of Lexington, Tenn. to repair University Drive. A second bid was provided by Martin Paving Company of Medina, Tenn.

The sealed bids were opened with Martin Paving supplying the lower of the two bids at $94.80 a ton for the asphalt versus Arrow Paving's $95.90 bid. The council requested an approximate start date for the project. Arrow stated they could begin the project in or around the next two weeks depending on the cooperation of the weather. Martin Paving could not give a definitive date to start or even a promise to begin before the close of the 2018 calendar year.

City Attorney Laura Keeton advised the council of its right to select or reject the bids due to the ambiguity of the time

BOO BASH WAS GREAT SUCCESS

McKENZIE — The annual Boo Bash, sponsored by Bethel University and the City of McKenzie was Monday, October 28, 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. on the downtown McKenzie square. It was originally scheduled for Thursday, October 25, however, heavy rains created the delay.

Children came from near and far to be part of the annual downtown event.

Each year, hundreds of children line up to visit the many trunk or treat stations along Broadway Street. The stations are provided by various Bethel University organizations and local clubs and churches in support of the community.

Along with the candy and other treats, children and families participated in a costume contest in Veterans Memorial Park downtown. Age categories for the children were 0-2, 3-5, 6-9, and 10-14.

The haunted train also ran in downtown McKenzie during the festivities. Since the event was after deadline on Monday, watch for photos in the November 6 issue of The Banner.

Carroll County Electric Board Discusses Fiber Repair, Audit

HUNTINGDON (October 25) — The board members of Carroll County Electric heard a report on the new "smart meters" system to be installed in the first half of the year 2019.

Danny Brawner, manager, said the equipment should start arriving in December 2018 and all electric meters in the county will be converted to a "smart" meter that reports the customers' usage of electricity through radio signals and a fiber network system. The new system will eliminate the monthly readings by one of four human meter readers.

Earlier this year, the board approved $2.35 million for the conversion to "smart" meters that will report the usage back to the department every 30 minutes. The meters communicate with each other and the routers through a mesh system and transmit the data back to the Huntingdon office over a system of fiber optics, installed at each of the substations, except the Trezevant substation, which will report back over a cellular network.

Brawner said the department currently using a contractor to splice any breaks in its fiber network, however, the system can purchase its own splicing equipment and allow its own technicians to make the repairs.

He said the repairs require an air-conditioned trailer, electrical generator, and a clean environment to make the splices to the hair-thin fibers. He said a few other companies lease bandwidth from the department which makes repairs crucial.

Recently, fiber was damaged over several weekends by squirrels chewing into the cables near McKenzie. The department had to wait for a contractor from another area to come make the repairs. To date, three staff members have requested training to splice fiber optics, said Brawner. Additional cost analysis will be preformed before bringing the issue back to the board.

In other reports, Brawner said the department is performing maintenance on some of the department's high voltage 69 kV lines. The poles taller than 70 feet will have repaired or replaced by TVA.

Ryan Drewry, office manager, said the department received a financial audit with no adverse findings for the fiscal year 2017-18.

Attending were: Terry Howell, chairman; board members Jerry Atkins, James Halford, Lori Nolen, and Marty Hurley along with attorney Robert Keeton, Jr.

West Carroll Holds Manufacturing Day

ATWOOD (October 25) — West Carroll students participated in Manufacturing Day on Thursday, October 25 at the school. The message was opportunities are available for students available for those prepared to work and learn.

Banks, manufacturers, post-secondary schools each had booths set up in the practice gym for students to learn more about what is available once the students complete their high school careers.

In the main gymnasium, Carroll County Mayor Joseph Butler and Jeremy Keymon, a graduate of West Carroll, spoke to students about their future.

Butler said the future of Carroll County is bright. He said the people want you to be happy, productive, and successful. Carroll County recently closed two deals for new industries and recruiting continues. All companies need educated and skilled workforce. Butler told the students to pursue their passions and realize their dream.

Jeremy Keymon, a 1994 graduate of West Carroll, said he and two friends graduated from West Carroll. He pursued college immediately out of college and the two friends became welders and traveled as part of their trade.

He said he was too immature to handle college and returned to work with his dad. He then joined Dura Automotive in Paris and went to Bethel University as part of the SUCCESS program. He was promoted at Dura and later at a separate company, North American Container in Martin. He worked in South Carolina and became the operations manager of six manufacturing facilities.

Keymon offered the sage advice to the students: show up and do your best in any occupation.

WCJH/WCHS Principal Tim Stratton said the message is to show up and work hard. Following the assembly, students were dismissed to visit with the individual manufacturers and schools.

Mona Batchelor Awarded Tennessee Librarian Award

Mona Batchelor, librarian at McKenzie High School was recently awarded the most prestigious honor bestowed by the Tennessee Association of School Librarians: The Clara Hasbrouck Award. It is awarded annually to a TASL member who has demonstrated dedication and commitment to furthering the cause of school libraries in Tennessee by contributing time, leadership and effort to numerous TASL activities over a period of years.

Krista Grace, TASL Awards Chairperson said Batchelor is always ready to help anyone who in need and is an experienced leader within TASL. Mona is the librarian at McKenzie High School. Mona has served on numerous TASL committees. She is TASL past-president 2014 and past AASL Assembly chair 2016-2017.

Mona has contributed greatly to the organization over the course of many years, beginning by serving on the Awards Committee and then as Western Plains Regional Representative to the Board. For several years, she served as conference registrar.

When the TASL board decided to mount its own website, Mona was the one who worked with the company to design and implement it. For several years following, she served as web manager.

When the Kentucky Association of School Librarians invited the TASL board to participate in their summer conference, Mona was one of the first to sign up. She was part of a group that brainstormed the idea for Camp TASL, the forerunner to today's TASL Road Trip. She even wrote lyrics to a crazy song that she and Karen Haggard led at Conference to promote Camp TASL. She was an important part of the planning and she travelled statewide the first year to assure everything was ready for our first event.

When Batchelor was asked in 2012 to serve as TASL President-Elect and Conference Chair, she served willingly. She went on to serve as TASL President in 2014.

Since leaving the TASL Board at the end of her term, Mona has continued to represent Tennessee well by serving as the American Association of School Librarians Affiliate Assembly Chair. And, she has never stopped serving as a mentor and a sounding board to the school librarians in Tennessee.

Batchelor is a graduate of McKenzie High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Murray State University and a Master of Science in Library Media Education from Western Kentucky University. She and her husband Steve reside in McKenzie and have one grown son, Max.

The Readers Speak ...

Healthcare Should Not Be a Partisan Issue

I am reminded of an inscription above the arched doorway of a hospital I once read--“The wealth of a nation lies in the health of its people.” No one can argue with that. You can be the richest person on the planet; if you don't have your health, you have nothing. That makes accessible affordable healthcare the single most important issue we face as a nation.

To date Tennessee has led the nation in rural hospital closures per capita—11, with several others currently in jeopardy. Six of the closures are in West Tennessee—Brownsville, Somerville, Selmer, Trenton, Humboldt, and most recently, McKenzie. Bolivar survives for now only because it is a part of the West TN Healthcare system. Decatur is on life support. When hospitals leave an area, so do jobs, not only medical personnel but support staff. In general, people do not want to live in areas that don't have medical care nearby. All of these hospital closures were due in great measure to the inability of the hospital to absorb the cost of uncompensated care.

In the past, hospitals were reimbursed, at least in part, for uncompensated care through the “Disproportionate Share Fund” from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services. This kept especially smaller hospitals afloat. The Affordable Care Act then channeled that same pool of reimbursement money at no cost to the states, to expand Medicaid providing lower income people with insurance to pay for their care. To date, 38 states have either expanded Medicaid or are in the process. Tennessee is not one of them. Our Republican-led legislature even turned down Gov. Haslam's plan, Insure Tennessee, leaving to date almost 6 billion of our tax dollars on the table--sent to other states who expanded.

Two years ago, my husband and I, strong advocates for healthcare held two information events in McKenzie. We invited the mayor, the state representative, and the community. Our message was simple. Your hospital is in jeopardy of closing. Please support Governor Haslam's Insure Tennessee plan to keep it open. There was very little interest. Your state representative, Andy Holt, told my husband that he did not support Insure Tennessee. Consequently, the Republican-led legislature in 2015 killed Insure Tennessee in committee. It never even came to the floor for a vote. And three years later, your hospital closed.

Healthcare should not be a partisan issue; it is simply a moral issue. However, there are only four candidates on your ballot this election who will support Medicaid expansion. They are Phil Bredeesen, Karl Dean, and Dean Arganbright. Just remember-- no matter how much money you have, no matter how great your insurance is, whether you are black or white, rich or poor--if you are an hour away from the nearest hospital when you have an accident or a heart attack, you die just the same. Vote like your lives depend on it, because they do.

HUNKER DOWN WITH KES

Pickled Peaches Safer Than Bathtub

Well, I reckon I can check riding out a major category 4 hurricane off my bucket list. I sure won't do it again! Hurricane Michael carried a little more punch than I realized—until I saw the uprooted trees, garbage cans and small parts of out buildings flying thirty feet in the air across my backyard.

A million people have asked, “What goes through your mind at a time like that?” I can't speak for anyone else of course; but mostly I stood there with my mouth open and thought about Aunt Beatrice's storm cellar.

We didn't get one single hurricane in McKenzie, Tennessee, when I was a boy. We couldn't even get a good tornado. They all went over to Huntingdon. But we prepared like the dickens for one anyway! We didn't have a cellar like some of our neighbors. Mom thought the safest place in the house was the bathtub. She allowed if the “big one” was coming, we'd head there.

We never had need of it you understand, but I have lived my whole life trying to picture Mom and Dad, me, Leon and David Mark all huddled on top of each other in our regular sized bathtub with a mattress piled on top of us.....as the wind whistled hard overhead.

Aunt Bea lived in the big house on the hill. The storm cellar was underneath the house. Now, I know we are splitting hairs here—a real storm cellar would be an underground bunker located a short distance away from the main house. The idea was to hurry out to it before an approaching tempest could engulf you. Most folks would call Aunt Bea's underground cavern a basement, but she and Uncle Womack never referred to it as such. It was the place they were going at the first sign of a serious storm!

Raymond White was the forerunner of the Weather Channel in our little town. He came on WHDM radio every morning with the latest meteorology report. Mostly, he'd tell us how the current day's temperature ranked against the record high set in some long ago distant year. He seemed more preoccupied with past conditions and setting records than whether it was going to rain that afternoon.

And he had no way to predict a big storm..... unless he looked out the window. By then, it was too late to get any type warning out to the end of Stonewall Street. What I'm saying here is, by the time we could get word a bad wind was brewing in our direction, it was probably too late to dive into the bathtub!

But let me tell you, that didn't stop lots of older folks from preparing for one! I reckoned they'd been caught off guard once somewhere back in the '30's. Aunt Bea's was kind of a multiuse storm cellar. She had rows of shelves lined with Mason jars full of tomatoes, green beans, sweet potatoes, rutabagas, beets and all sorts of jams and jellies. She undoubtedly thought the storm was going to last for six months.....and everyone in town was going to be down there with us!

Me and cousin Charles would break into a jar of pickled peaches and eat near 'bout all of them at one sitting. We figured Aunt Bea wouldn't care, and if she did, she surely wouldn't miss one tiny jar amongst the hundreds lining these walls.

I remember how cozy it was down there. I remember the wooden steps you used to descend into its depth. I remember the single light bulb hanging from the ceiling. I remember the dust, the cobwebs high in the corners and I remember how the quiet seemed to permeate into the far reaches of the room. And I also remember never feeling safer.

We did have one potentially bad storm back in my junior high days. The wind had really picked up and the rain was coming in torrents. Leon asked if he could drive out to Frank's Dairy Bar. Dad looked at him like he'd lost his mind....but managed to ask fairly calmly, “Whatever for in this kind of weather?”

“Well,” Leon always acted like he'd thought things out when he hadn't, “if this big wind blows us all down to Gleason, I at least want to go with my friends!”

I am so thankful Mom never made us do a bathtub storm safety drill.

And you understand my thoughts as Cathy and I quietly watched Hurricane Michael roar past, our silence broken only when I turned to her and asked if we, by chance, had any pickled peaches.....

Respectfully,
Kes

Rotarians Learn About AirEvac

McKenzie Rotarians learned about the services and subscription model of AirEvac Lifeteam and its fleet of air ambulances stationed in the geographic area.

Rick Perry, the local membership sales manager, spoke to Rotarians on Tuesday, October 16 as a guest of Rotary member Bob Denison.

Perry said the AirMedCare Network is the largest in the nation and has bases in Martin, Paris, and Troy, which are some of the busiest of the 300 bases in the states. Generally, severe trauma patients are transported to Nashville or Memphis while many of the cardiac patients are transported to St. Thomas in Nashville. If the patient is in the hospital, generally the attending physician will determine the destination hospital for the patient.

The closing of McKenzie Regional Hospital has spurred an interest in air ambulance service in this area, said Perry. The typical aircraft has a pilot, paramedic, and nurse on board. Most insurance will pay a portion of the cost for transportation by air. The minimum cost is typically $50,000.

ATWOOD (October 20) — Mack's Camo Connection hosted its eighth annual Duckapalooza Saturday. It's the sports outdoors store's big yearly event to kick off waterfowl season. The street festival featured many vendors and giveaways. Vendors included Higdon Decoys of Paducah; Purple Hayes Guide Service of Gates, Tennessee; Ramsey Russell's GetDucks. com of Brandon, Mississippi; Chubby Bearded Guy's Workshop of Savannah; South Fork Duck Blinds of Brownsville; Mossy Oak Properties of Milan; and the local chapter of Hope Outdoors, a nationwide charity that provides individuals with special needs with meaningful outdoor experiences. A BBQ fundraiser was held to support youth activities in the community. Southern Pride LLC of Alamo provided the cooker, and Precision Body Shop of Medina supplied the propane. Inside Mack's, duck call competitions were held with Youth, Novice and Open-Class divisions. Prizes awarded included Lacrosse waders; Hobo duck calls; guided hunts with Purple Hayes; and Higdon decoys, gun cases and blind bags. The Mack's family of businesses began in 1945 with Mack's Hardware. Mack's Camo Connection was the first expansion. Mack's Casual opened in 2016 and Mack's Camo Cafe in 2017.

The next planned expansion will provide hydrographics and Cerakote services, primarily for guns. Hydrographics is a water transfer process; Cerakote is a wear resistant coating similar to powdercoat. Mack's is owned by Dale Nelson, Sr. and sons Dale Nelson, Jr., and Cody Nelson.

McKENZIE (October 5) — For the second straight year, students at McKenzie Middle School held a Service Day to learn the value of public service. Each student, along with the faculty and staff, spent the Friday before Fall Break participating in a variety of helpful activities both on the school campus and across the community. Students painted, cleaned and organized the school's band room. In the library, they cleaned, constructed new bookshelves, weeded out old books and packed treat bags for the upcoming Red Ribbon Week. In the cafeteria, students helped bake cookies and brownies to be given to first responders in appreciation of their service. The boys bathrooms had inspirational saying painted on the walls (just as was done in the girls bathrooms last year). In classrooms, kids packed boxes for Operation Christmas Child to be taken to First Baptist Church and First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Some middle schoolers crafted magnets for every locker in the building bearing the school's motto: "I am a respectful student. I am responsible, resilient and ready to learn. I will focus on what is important: my academics and being the best that I know I'm supposed to be." Across town at Christian Care Center, students played games and visited with residents, helping some train for the upcoming Senior Olympics. Outside, some did outside work, watering plants and filling bird feeders. At the VFW, some kids did landscaping work, while others helped bag cornbread and cake for an upcoming fundraiser. At the Carroll County Humane Society, students helped clean and organize and socialized with the shelter's many cats. At Bethel University's Wildcat Stadium, they scrubbed the bleachers clean just in time for this month's Homecoming. At the city park, the kids picked up litter and cleaned the playground equipment, bleachers and tables. At city hall, they washed five fire engines, two police cars and a fire and rescue truck. They picked up litter at the historic train depot and decorated a new wooden structure at the Farmers Market with corn stalks. At McKenzie-Carroll County United Neighbors, students cleaned, worked in the food pantry, filled boxes for Beating Hearts and washed windows. At the Gordon Browning Museum, the kids cleaned display cases, dusted, swept and took a few minutes to appreciate the memorabilia on display. Students cleaned at Bethel's Vera Low Center and helped label items as "Bethel University property." They pulled weeds on Waldren Street downtown. At McKenzie Head Start/Early

Head Start, the middle schoolers read to the kids and played with them outside. At Beating Hearts, they helped sort diapers and bottles and cleaned. At Lakeside Senior Living, they visited and played games with residents. Some of the girls painted the ladies' nails. At McKenzie Health Care, students visited and played games with residents and sang for them. When everyone had returned to the school, they enjoyed lunch, then gathered in the gymnasium for a special guest speaker. Matt Lane, the owner and operator of Block City Pizza, spoke about the importance of giving back to the community. He started by asking students what they did to serve and commented on each answer he got. He shared some of the ways he has served with the Rotary Club. He noted that you don't serve and volunteer for praise and glory, but said that it does feel good to help others and makes you want to keep giving back. He also pointed out how the community helped him tremendously when Block City was flooded a few years ago. He brought t-shirts to give away. He asked each grade a question and threw a shirt to the students when they answered. The event was organized by teachers Amanda Morris (fifth grade Math) and Jean Holloman (Reading Intervention). As the students made their way back to the school, Morris spoke with The Banner about the day. "We think it's important to teach the whole child, not just academics, but also how to be citizens of their community. Several children in our community are often on the receiving end of help and volunteer work, and this gives them an opportunity to see that they can also give back, that they can jump in and volunteer and help others the way they have been helped."

Rebel Season Ends On Homecoming

McKENZIE (October 26)

— Homecoming 2018 and a possible playoff berth on the line made for a busy Friday night at Rebel Stadium. Prior to the contest, five young ladies were escorted by Rebel seniors to find out who would be crowned the 2018 McKenzie Homecoming Queen. The Homecoming court included Bailey Sawyers, Chloe Williams, Olivia Wright, Libby Oakley, and Ruby Garza. The Rebel Football team elected the Homecoming Queen which turned out to be Olivia Wright.

It all came down to the final game of the season for the McKenzie Rebels to have a shot at advancing to the state playoffs after not getting in last year. Despite losing their first five games, the Rebels put themselves in position to make the playoffs by winning three of the last four contests. The opponent was Gibson County's Pioneers who were also in the same situation needing a win to advance to the playoffs.

Gibson County got the ball first to start the game and McKenzie's defense left them with negative yardage for their efforts. Stephone Haynes sacked Pioneer quarterback Payton Lamberson on second down while third down was also a tackle for loss. Their punt snap went bad and McKenzie recovered the ball at the Gibson County 6-yard line. Two plays later, Eli Surber kept it and ran it in for McKenzie's first score with 9:31 left in the first quarter. Diego Calderon nailed the extra point good for a 7-0 McKenzie lead.

That lead was short lived as the Pioneers got decent field position from a short kickoff. Gibson County's quarterback called his own number and got loose for a 65-yard touchdown on first down with 9:18 left in the first quarter. They McKenzie got off to a slow start themselves only scoring 8 points but it was enough to have the lead at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter was a lot closer with the Lady Rebels scoring 10 points and the Fillies 9 but due to not scoring at all in the first quarter. The Lady Rebels held an 18-9 advantage at halftime.

The second half is when the points really started coming with the Lady Rebs scoring 12 in the third quarter and 14 in the final quarter to pull away and win by 21 points. McKenzie held Huntingdon to 14 total points in the second half scoring 8 in the third quarter and 6 in the final quarter.

Rebels 46 Mustangs 16

The Rebels built a 33-14 lead by the end of three periods and tacked on 13 more points in the fourth period winning 46-16. Huntingdon managed only 6 points in the second half scoring 4 in the third period and just 2 in the final period.

attempted a 2-point conversion which failed leaving the Rebels with a 7-6 lead.

McKenzie got moving quick on their next possession with Surber finding Joseph Miller on a 40-yard pass. The Rebels got down to the Gibson 11-yard line and got into a fourth and long and went for a 28-yard field goal which was good by Calderon with 5:30 to go.

The Pioneers answered nearly immediately with another big scoring play on second down when Lamberson got loose for the second time on a 65-yard touchdown run. The two-point conversion was good giving Gibson County a 14-10 lead with 4:31 left in the first quarter.

McKenzie got the ball back and began a drive which used up the remaining four minutes of the first quarter and carried over into the second quarter. The big play in the drive was a Surber to Logan Lyles pass covering 31 yards down to the Gibson County 30. Two plays later Surber converted a fourth and long play into a first down on a 16-yard run. Joseph Miller scored on an 8-yard touchdown run on the opening play of the second quarter. Calderon's extra point was good with 11:53 left in the second quarter.

After five possessions between the two teams that resulted in points, things got quiet as McKenzie's defense forced a Pioneer punt on their next possession.

The Rebels started at their own 7 and drove to Gibson's 24-yard line and faced a fourth-and- four play. The pass went incomplete with the ball going over on downs. Gibson County took over and took the ball back the other way on several plays mostly through the air. Lamberson found Dante Holder for a 33-yard touchdown with 29 seconds left in the half. Their 2-point conversion attempt failed but the Pioneers regained the lead 20-17 heading into halftime.

The third quarter turned into more of a chess match with both teams getting stingy on defense. The Rebels got the ball first and went three and out. Gibson County got a little farther than that but their drive was stopped by two big defensive plays. Hunter Stafford deflected a pass on third down that forced the Pioneers to punt from near midfield. Chris Barnett, who had just returned to action after an injury sidelined him earlier in the year, made his presence felt blocking the fourth down punt.

McKenzie wasn't able to capitalize on the good field position and the two teams kept swapping possessions for the rest of the third quarter. The defenses stayed after it into the fourth quarter with McKenzie getting backed up deep in their own territory. They had to punt from their own 3 yard line which gave the Pioneers excellent field position at the Rebel 37. Gibson County's quarterback Payton Lamberson took it the distance on first down for a touchdown with 8:07 left in the final quarter. Their 2-point conversion failed opening the Pioneer lead to 26-17.

McKenzie got a scoring opportunity two possessions later when Murphy Watkins recovered a Pioneer fumble at the Gibson County 29. The Rebels got it down to the 12 where they fumbled it back to Gibson County. Time was becoming the Rebel's enemy by this point. They got one more good possession and got the ball to the Gibson County 30 before throwing an incomplete pass on fourth down. The Pioneers ran out the clock extending their season into the playoffs while McKenzie's 2018 season was over.

Coach Wade Comer told the team following the loss that he was proud of the way they played this year and proud of the way they finished. He had preached all season that it wasn't how you started that mattered it was how you finished.

As far as this game, Comer said. "We couldn't get anything going on the ground. Gibson County took advantage of big plays which is something they've done all year."

The Rebels say goodbye to a solid group of seniors that played a large part in the success that they did have this year. They include: #1-Dashun Woodson, #6-Bryston Diggs, #7-Tyler Spivey, #9-Jaiden Butler, #11-Murphy Watkins, #17-Larson King, #18-Hunter Stafford, #30-Nicholas Bills, #57-Stephone Haynes, #61-Drew Seiber, and #67-Chase Allen. They also had three senior managers: Will McBride, Dayana Gilbert, and Lajada Edmonson.

The rain reduced to a mist and tapered off early in the game. Greenfield received the opening kickoff, which sailed out of bounds to start the Yellowjackets at the 40. Grant Huffstetler ran for a short gain, then quarterback Nyrail Jackson kept for a long gain across midfield to the 34. War Eagle Luke Blankenship stopped Huffstetler for no gain, then Jackson kept to move the chains again. Next, Keylon Thomas was stopped at the line of scrimmage by Armoni Bonds. Jackson was nearly sacked on the next snap, but slipped free and scrambled for 13 yards to set up first-and-goal at the 4. Huffstetler was met at the line by Blankenship, then Jackson pressed inside for a couple of yards. On third-and-goal, Huffstetler broke through for the touchdown. Ryan Dunning kicked the extra point, and Greenfield led 7-0 with 7:28 to play in the opening frame.

The Yellowjackets' first kickoff also went out of bounds to give the War Eagles good field position at the 40. The defense jumped offense on first down for a five-yard boost, and War Eagle Jarrius Weatherford ran for nine across midfield to move the chains. Weatherford repeated for five yards, then had another gain negated by a holding penalty. He lost a yard on the next play to bring up third-and-15. Quarterback Trace Fuller kept for eleven yards, then West Carroll went for it on fourth down. Jeremiah Bryant ran for the first down, but then fumbled the ball to Yellowjacket Seth Davidson.

Starting at the far 27, Thomas ran on the first play for a 73-yard touchdown. Dunning's kick gave Greenfield a 14-0 lead with 4:43 to play in the first quarter.

The War Eagles started at their own 26 but went three-and-out, losing yards to a pair of holding penalties. A bad snap resulted in a low punt that was downed at the West Carroll 18.

Huffstetler started with a four-yard run, then Thomas carried for nine to set up first-and-goal at the 5. A false start moved the ball back to the 10, then Jackson kept for two yards. Greenfield was flagged for a hold on the next play to back up the line of scrimmage to the 18. Huffstetler gained five on second down to end the first quarter. On the first play of the second, Yellowjacket Kelly Ricketts fumbled but recovered at the 20. Dunning attempted a field goal on fourth down, but the kick sailed wide.

Taking over at the 20, Weatherford gained four, then Fuller kept for three. Fuller kept the next snap, breaking away for 30 yards. Weatherford ran for a short gain, then Fuller threw incomplete. Weatherford followed with an eight-yard run. On fourth-and-one, Fuller kept for a first down, then kept again for three. A false start cost five yards, but Bryant gained it back on the next carry. Weatherford gained eight to move the chains, then Fuller kept for five. Weatherford ran for six yards and a first-and-goal at the 8, then again for the touchdown. Devin Nash kicked the PAT, and the Greenfield lead was down to 14-7 with three and a half minutes until intermission.

A low, bouncing kick gave the Yellowjackets a start at the 43. Jackson fumbled briefly, then scrambled for a five-yard loss. He threw incomplete, then kept and lost four yards on a stop by Zach Perry and Darrell Williams. On fourth-and-19 from the 34, Greenfield lined up to punt, but the snap sailed over Dunning's head. He scooped it up but was immediately swarmed by Nash and a host of War Eagles at the 21.

Taking over with just over two minutes to play in the half, Fuller ran for 13 on a keeper. Weatherford ran for five, then Fuller kept for a touchdown. He ran it in for two to give West Carroll a 15-14 lead with just over a minute on the clock.

Greenfield received the kick and ran two plays before halftime.

The War Eagles received the second-half kickoff, but a pair of penalties stifled the drive for a three-and-out. Nash's punt was downed at the Yellowjacket 27.

Greenfield went three-and-out on the ensuing possession, and Dunning's punt was downed at the War Eagle 41.

West Carroll again went three-and-out, going for it on fourth but coming up just short.

The Yellowjackets took over on downs at the War Eagle 49. Huffstetler gained four, then Jackson kept for a first down. A personal foul penalty against West Carroll advanced the ball to the 14. Huffstetler ran twice for a net gain of one yard, then Jackson kept for nine. On first-and-goal at the 4, Jackson was stopped at the line by Garrett Brooks. Huffstetler scored on the next play. Dunning's PAT was blocked, and Greenfield regained the lead 20-15 with 1:34 remaining in the third quarter.

The War Eagles suffered another three-and-out, and Nash's punt was downed at the Yellowjacket 28.

Thomas gained four on the final play of the third, and Jackson kept for four on the first play of the final frame. Thomas ran for a first down at the 49, then Huffstetler crossed midfield to the other 49. Jackson kept twice, but gained just a yard total and Dunning punted to the West Carroll 31.

The War Eagles quickly faced fourth-and-one, but drew the Greenfield defense offside for a first down. Weatherford gained five, then fumbled on the next play. Yellowjacket Landon Brock recovered at the West Carroll 48.

Greenfield kept the ball on the ground, hoping to run down the clock. After one first down, it was quickly fourth-and-eight. Jackson kept, but was stopped just short of the first down by Fuller.

The War Eagles took over at their own 29 with just over three minutes to play, needing a touchdown to take the lead. Bryant ran for 12 to move the chains, then Fuller kept for no gain. He tossed to Shae Crocker for four yards, then Weatherford ran for five. On fourth-and-one, he gained another five for a fresh set of downs at the Greenfield 44 with 1:09 on the clock. Fuller threw to Perry for nine, then threw incomplete twice. West Carroll was called for holding and then for a false start to make it third-and-16 at midfield with 32 seconds to go. Bryant scrambled and made an off-balance throw, which was picked off by Yellowjacket Traon Watkins and run back for a touchdown. Dunning kicked the extra point, and Greenfield led 27-15 with 15 seconds remaining.

The War Eagles ran two plays before time expired.

Greenfield and West Carroll each finish the season with a 7-3 record. With a Region 7-1A record of 5-1, the Yellowjackets claim second place, while the War Eagles finish in third place at 4-2.

The Yellowjackets will host Memphis Academy of Science and Engineering (7-3); the War Eagles will travel to Memphis to face Hillcrest (5-5). Both games kick off Friday at 7 p.m.

Underage Driving Under the Influence — McKenzie Police received a call last Wednesday, October 24 from a concerned citizen in reference to a person at the gas pumps at Casey's General Store appearing to be intoxicated. Two officers responded and found a red Camaro at the pumps parked crooked. The driver, identified as James Wray Leadmon of Henry, stated he was waiting on someone but they apparently ran off.

According to a report filed by Officer Cody Coleman, Leadmon was asked if he had consumed any alcohol or drugs to which he replied he had taken night time medicine and some Nyquil. He performed poorly on field sobriety tests and was placed under arrest for underage driving under the influence due to him not being 21 years of age. He was transported to the Carroll County Jail under $750 bond.

Sale/Delivery of a Controlled Substance — Last Monday evening, McKenzie Police were contacted by Tarra Page with the Tennessee Department of Corrections Probation and Parole for assistance at a Forrest Circle residence due to them finding drug paraphernalia. Officers arrived and found the state corrections officials speaking with Thomas Goss about a glass smoking pipe found in his bedroom. He told officers the pipe was not his that he shares the trailer with his nephew.

According to the report filed by Officer Mark Boaz, the nephew gave consent to a search of his portion of the trailer. The search revealed a plate of marijuana found in plain view on a bed in one bedroom and in the back bedroom a half-smoked marijuana cigarette was found in a black lockbox. Corrections officials found more marijuana in a dog food bag located in the kitchen. One bag weighed 67.7 grams and a larger bag weighed 185.9 grams.

Officers told Mr. Goss he was under arrest for the marijuana he started getting nervous and requested they test it. He began resisting while cuffs were being put on. He was warned he would be tased if he pulled away again. He did pull away and had a taser fired at him as he got out of the back door. He was caught a short time later near another trailer and was tased multiple times before being subdued and taken to Baptist Hospital in Huntingdon to be checked out for possible injuries. The juvenile nephew was cited for possession of marijuana.

Vandalism — Officer Kyle Beauchamp was called to a verbal altercation at a Forrest Avenue residence Friday afternoon where Ms. Kaitlyn Smothers told him her ex boyfriend Joshua Leaver was threatening to take her children. According to an interviewed witness, Leaver showed up prior to Smothers being there stating that he was taking his children while she was not at home. According to Beauchamp's report Smothers arrived just before him and stated she did not want the children going with him. Leaver reportedly caused damage to photographs and agreed to pay for new ones. A information request revealed that Leaver did have an active Mitimus to serve 10 days in Henry County jail and was taken into custody and later turned over to a Henry County deputy.

Assault — Multiple officers responded to a 911 call of two subjects were fighting outside of a Bertha Street residence last Monday, October 22. Ms. Tandi Conway advised officers that she was staying at this residence with her grandmother and the previous night (Sun.) while she was giving her children baths, her daughter told her she overheard a conversation between her grandmother and her boyfriend Freddy Travis during which Travis said that Conway should hold her children under water until the bubbles stop. Conway repeated the story to her boyfriend, James Fail.

According to the police report. Fail confronted Travis when he arrived with a tree cutting crew to remove a problem tree from the property line. Travis picked up a stick and began swinging at Fail. Both parties decided not to prosecute each other but a routine information request revealed that Fail had an active warrant in Henry County for animal abuse and neglect and was taken into custody and turned over to a Henry County deputy.

DUI/Implied Consent Law — A two-vehicle accident Thursday, October 25 at the intersection of Cherry Avenue and University Drive resulted in an arrest for DUI and Violation of the Implied Consent Law. Nan Russell of McKenzie was found to have slurred speech and had an odor of an intoxicating beverage on her. She attempted field sobriety tests and performed poorly and also refused a blood alcohol test. Russell was arrested and charged with driving under the influence and violation of the implied consent law.

Domestic Assault — Officer Paul Eddleman responded to a call regarding a fight at a Cherrywood Avenue residence between an adult and juvenile. The victim told officers that his brother Joseph Stockard had punched him in the top of the head during an argument over some account. The juvenile stated he told Stockard he was calling the police and when he got up Stockard kicked him in the groin area. Stockard admitted he had done what the juvenile said because he was mad.

Stockard was arrested and charged with domestic assault and placed under 2500 bond due to a history of domestic assault and transported to Carroll County Jail.

Assault — Friday Morning, October 26, Officer Kyle Beauchamp along with several other officers responded to a 911 call at a Winston Avenue residence regarding an assault. Kasey Crossno of Paris was found in the street in front of the residence wiping blood from his nose and face. He told officers he had spent the night with Tisha Pollock and was asleep in her bed when her significant other, Matthew Fourman came in and started hitting him in the face. Crossno attempted to defend himself and freed himself and was then attempting to stop the bleeding to his face in the bathroom when Fourman came at him again this time with a knife.

After further investigation, Fourman was arrested and charged with assault and taken to Carroll County Jail.

Sale/Delivery of A Controlled Substance — A phone call from a concerned citizen to Officer Mark Boaz resulted in a juvenile being arrested outside of a North Main Street residence after a search located two bags of marijuana and drug paraphernalia in a vehicle parked outside the residence. The bags had a combined weight of 19.3 grams of marijuana and a glass pipe was also found during the search. MATTER OF RECORD

Carroll County Sheriff’s Reports

Aggravated Assault — A Benton County woman was arrested October 18 during an incident in Bruceton. Alexa Shea Lashlee, 19, of Camden was charged with aggravated assault. Deputy Steven Scott reported he responded to 675 Hillcrest Drive in Bruceton after receiving a call about a fight. Upon arrival, Scott spoke with Bruceton resident Drew Jordan, who told Scott that Lashlee, his ex-girlfriend, had tried to box his vehicle in with her car, and, at one point, she struck his vehicle with her car. Jordan said he managed to get out and drive away, but she followed him to a church parking lot on Hillcrest Drive. Two witnesses at the scene told Scott that Lashlee walked up to Jordan at his vehicle and repeatedly tried to strike him. Burglary — The Sheriff’s Department is investigating the recent theft of items from private property in Lavinia. On October 20, Rebecca Sanford McLemore of 1660 Johns

Creek Road told officers items were stolen from her property some time between October 12 and October 14. Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Veterans Day is right around the corner. The Office on Aging will honor Carroll County's Senior Veterans with a luncheon at Mallard's Restaurant on Monday, November 5, 11:30. If you would like to attend this luncheon you must register by Thursday, November 1. You can sign up by giving us a call

We are pleased to have Ms. Sylvia Whitaker back with us as a volunteer teaching the acrylic painting classes during November and December. These classes are Monday mornings, 9 to 11.

‘Never Quit’ Organization Assists Local Cancer Patients

“Never Quit”, a non-profit organization founded in memory of the late Lori Pearson, is working to provide direct support to local cancer patients and to further the healing ministry of Christ. Pearson was a former teacher at McKenzie Middle School and a softball coach for MHS. She resided in Huntingdon and was very active in the church.

Never Quit's goal is to help as many families in the Carroll County area as possible. However, the organization needs support from the community to accomplish this.

A gala is Monday, November 26 with tickets $100 for individuals or $650 for a table of eight.

Never Quit is hosting two 5K runs - one on Thanksgiving morning in Huntingdon and the second on December 8 in McKenzie. A county T-shirt is for sale until November 10.
